Healey Replaces Angelo Roncallo

Philip B. Healey has been designated by the Oyster Bay Town Republican Executive Committee as the candidate to be submitted to the Town Board to fill the councilman vacancy created when Councilman Angelo D. Roncallo was elected Nassau County Comptroller, Michael M. D'Auria, town GOP chairman, made the announcement Dec. 21.

Roncallo will resign from the town board on Dec. 31 and will start his duties as Nassau County Comptroller Jan. 1.

At a special meeting of the 20-member Executive Committee held Dec. 20 at the Garden City Hotel, Healey, who is a special investigator in the town attorney's office whose duties include pre-trial preparation, was unanimously recommended to the councilman vacancy. He will run for election next November to fill the unexpired term and then be eligible to run for a complete four-year term in 1969.

Healey, 46, was graduated from St. John's University in 1952 with a bachelor of business administration degree. He attended St. John's University Law School for two years and is currently studying for a master's degree in government and business at C. W. Post College in the evenings.

Prior to his appointment to the town attorney's office on January 24, 1967, Healey was assistant claims manager for Pacific Insurance Company, a pre-trial adjuster for Continental Insurance Company and a Group Insurance Consultant for Metropolitan Life.

Active in community affairs, Healey is a founder, former president, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Biltmore Shores Civic Association; a member of the Massapequa Exchange Club; former officer and member of the Holy Name Society of St. Rose of Lima Church in Massapequa; past coordinator of the Catholic Youth Organization Program for St. Rose Parish; Chairman of the Town of Oyster Bay Advisory Committee on Housing for two years and a member of the Massapequa Elks and Knights of Columbus.

A native of Brooklyn, Healey has lived in Massapequa for 15 years. He is married to the former Geneva Musalo. They live with their two children, Laurette, 13, and Philip, 10, at 32 Frankel Rd.

"We are pleased that the Executive Committee has seen fit to designate such a qualified individual as Mr. Healey," said D'Auria. "The Committee is confident that he will serve the Town Board and the people of the Town of Oyster Bay in a highly efficient, conscientious and responsive manner."

Patricia A. Quinn

The Very Rev. Monsignor Gerald J. Ryan, Executive Director of Catholic Charities, Diocese of Rockville Centre, has announced the appointment of Miss Patricia A. Quinn, of Long Beach, as supervisor of the Agency's Family Service Office in Hicksville.

Miss Quinn is a member of the National Association of Social Workers, and a member of the Academy of Certified Social Workers.

A native of New Bedford, Massachusetts, she received a B. A. degree from Mount St. Vincent College in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada. She attended Boston College where she was awarded a Master's in Social Work.

The new Family Service supervisor came to Catholic Charities in 1961 under a two-year scholarship program. She had been on the staff of the Division's Mineola Office since 1963.

Patricia DeMatteis

In Honor Society

Miss Patricia DeMatteis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeMatteis, 44 Bruce Ave., Hicksville, has been selected for membership in the State University College at Oneonta Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national education honor society.

Election to Kappa Delta Pi is based on a combination of high scholastic average, personal qualities, leadership ability and intention to continue in the field of education.

Miss DeMatteis, a 1965 graduate of Our Lady of Mercy Academy, is a junior and a general elementary education major at the College.

Gloomy Picture for 1968: West Side Story Murky Mystery

The Hicksville version of the West Side Story which has few positive elements -- save the conversion of some of the most valuable local real estate into a total waste land extending five blocks -- appears to be a big question for the new year.

Less than a dozen buildings, including the substantial LI National Bank Building, remain standing today and may all be gone in a matter of days. What the future holds is a murky picture. One thing appears positive: little will be done in the nature of rebuilding until the state Dept. of Transportation (formerly Dept. of Public Works) has finished the widening of Broadway by another 44 feet.

Research by the HERALD came up with some rumors and a few meager facts. The Chamber of Commerce which had initially demonstrated some interest in leadership and planning for this day has gone into a kind of limbo. If there is a positive Chamber program, it is not generally known.

The State has acquired or is acquiring title to 44 foot depth from Herzog Pl. south to Old Country Rd. At this point the widening swings over to the east side of Broadway and will be the subject of another contract. In addition, the State has acquiring a 10 to 20 foot working easement on the wide side to be held until the actual road building is finished.

Where land acquisitions by the state took 40 percent or more of a structure, the entire building was demolished and the owner reimbursed. When the taking was less than 40 percent of a structure, the balance was removed upon the request of the owner.

The only positive sign of rebuilding at this point is a signed erected by Max Staller, owner of considerable property from Nicholas St. north on the west side, offering to "build to suit".

A number of land speculators have been approaching the owners of property not taken by the state project.

The office of Town Supervisor Michael N. Petito is not prepared to say what the town's official position is in regard to the waste land and its future use. Town Councilman A. Carl Grunewald has stated there is consideration being given to a potential Senior Citizen housing project on a part of the property.

Some property owners with sufficient remaining depth of land have or are planning to rebuild. Attorney Jules Schwartz has built a new law office in the rear of his structure at Broadway and Cherry St. On the next block, Chroma Paint Shop has moved back into a new building. Botto Bros. south of Old Country Rd., has moved back on the east side.

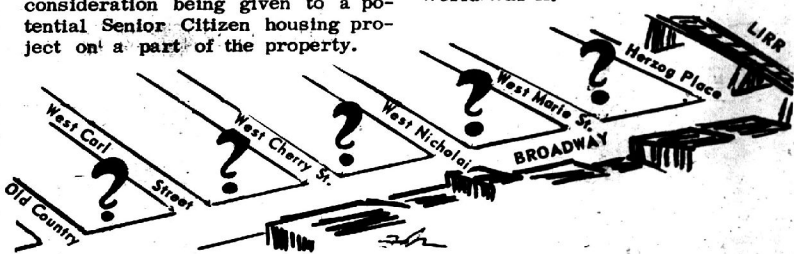

Favored in some quarters is the construction of tax-producing office space, rising two, three and more stories, to meet the growing demand for such facilities in the mid-Island region.

Urban Renewal projects, making use of federal money, have been mentioned from time to time but have been generally discarded in view of the slow progress of such efforts in other municipalities. Hicksville being an unincorporated part of the Town of Oyster Bay has felt the absence of any local, authoritative municipal machinery to tackle the problem. The town government with its seat in Oyster Bay, if it has considered the situation, has not come forward with a plan.

Proposed widening of Broadway, a state highway, has been known for more than ten years. Business began to relocate, vacate and close permanently for more than a year. Concern is now being voiced that it may be more years, before anything is attempted on an official level to rebuild.

The actual property taking and demolition was proceeded by months of fruitless effort to get official expression on when the axe would fall. The prolonged lack of information and absence of leadership led to the decision by some long-established business firms to close their doors permanently.

Broadway, Hicksville, once the throbbing hub of retail business for the mid-Island region competing for trade with such places as New York, Jamaica, Hempstead and Huntington, appears to have lost its prominence in the economic life of Long Island. Even before the service of eviction notices and the crunch of bulldozers, regional shopping centers and discount operations had begun to siphon off the home town trade which blossomed from the Civil War era until a decade after World War II.

STATE SENATOR JOHN CAEMMERER, was host at Carl Hoegl's Westbury Manor to newspaper editors and publishers as well as assemblymen of his senatorial district, recently, to discuss the forthcoming session of the State Legislature which opens in Albany next week. A long session was forecast. From left are Senator Caemmerer, Sheila Hoegl Noeth, publisher of the five Beacon newspapers; Fred J. Noeth, editor and publisher of HERALD, and Assemblyman Joseph Reilly of Glen Cove. (Photo by Drennan)

Town Adopts Tougher Litter Law

A carelessly dropped candy wrapper, a discarded newspaper, soft drink container or other debris takes on new meaning in the Township following passage of a new law passed at the Dec. 19th meeting of the Town Board.

As proposed by Supervisor Michael N. Petito the new town law, authorizes certain officials, officers and employees of the Town to issue and serve summonses in connection with the performance of their duties, especially in cases of littering. The action caps a three year effort by Petito to strengthen the Town's anti-litter ordinances, he said.

The law authorizes a number of Town officials to issue summonses, including Building Department inspectors, dog wardens, the Superintendent of Sanitary Services and his foremen, and Day Wardens. The law tightens controls considerably and requires land owner's to keep their property clear of debris, prevents littering and destruction of beachfront property, forces property owners to keep abandoned buildings in sufficient repair to prevent injury to children and would authorize the issuing of summonses in the control of dogs.

Upon passage of the new Local Law, Petito said: "This is something we've needed for some time to assure that our Town is kept clean. People who reside here are generally very conscious of the neatness of their own properties and we must make certain that commercial interests are also given the direction to maintain neat shopping areas. I intend to fully enforce this new law to keep high standards of cleanliness where they are already in effect and to incorporate them in those areas where litter and debris have been a community eye-sore for much too long."

Dear Sheila:

With the arrival of January, the HERALD starts its 20th year of publication as a community newspaper. A look back at the files brings into sharp focus the changes which have taken place around town during the decade. We plan to highlight some of these points of interest. For example, the present Hicksville Senior high school property (formerly the BERGOLD farm) on Newbridge Rd was bought for exactly $3,000 an acre. There were 21.43 acres and the price was $64,290....A Hicksville man, home a few weeks from Viet Nam, received a parcel this week from the Charles Wagner American Legion Post which had followed him halfway around the world and back again. It took the parcel, still intact although somewhat battered, took a shade under 30 days for the round trip....Town Park Superintendent JERRY TROTTER, guest of Town Councilman A. CARL GRUNEWALD at Hicksville Kiwanis last week will become a Kiwanian shortly....

Santa really gets around. Hicksville Kiwanian GENE SCHILLINGER who visits the Club as the bearded gent attended a Kiwanis meeting in Appleton, Wisconsin, Nov. 1....WALTER BECKER of 21 Library Lane, Plainview, has been elected for his second term as treasurer of the Alumni Assn. of the State University of NY Agricultural and Technical College in Farmingdale. The Alumni Assn. has over 10,000 members....Sorry we would not take advantage of the kind invitation to join the CHARLES FETAS at their home, 54 Smith St., Hicksville, to help decorate the Tree on Dec. 23. Guests were invited to bring an ornament or two for the tree and join in a song fest....

Hicksville Fire Dept elections of chiefs does not take place until April, but companies are now starting to nominate their choices. There may be four candidates for third assistant chief, including RED MERTZ according to the Firebug....You can see the coming path of Newbridge Rd north of the LIRR. Buildings have been demolished in the new route from the south corner of Mid Island Plaza parking lot diagonally behind the present post office.

CLARICE and HERB JOHNSON spent Christmas with their son, Bob, and his family in Arizona....JULIUS SCHWARTZ has moved into his new law office on West Cherry St., just off Broadway. We like the idea of changing the name of that street. More about this later....Registration for the new Adult Education program takes place at Hicksville High School cafeteria on Jan 15, thru 18, from 7 to 9 PM and classes start on Monday, Jan 22....Ask PIERRE CHARBONNET how he got Lions President MAURICE PAUL at the community tree lighting ceremony....Nothing so new about bidding on insurance in Hicksville School District. The School Board on Nov. 30, 1960 (that's right, 67 years ago) opened bids on $1500 worth of insurance on the Nicholas St. School (before it was enlarged). WILLIAM SIMONSON had the lowest bid of 74 cents per $100....Among golden wedding couples to be blessed by BISHOP KELLENBERG at St. Agnes Cathedral, Rockville Centre, will be Mr. and Mrs. JOHN MISTRETTA of Hicksville, Mr. and Mrs. FELIX MALINOWSKI of Bethpage, and Mr. and Mrs. JOHN ZULKOFSEK Sr of Jericho....JOSEPH MARGIOTTA, Uniondale Republican leader and assemblyman, has been unanimously elected to fill out the term of Senator EDWARD SPENO as County Republican Chairman. It happened yesterday (Wed) at Garden City Hotel....

Supervisors Clarify Stand On JFK Cultural Center

Presiding Supervisor Ralph G. Caso has issued a statement to clarify the position of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors in disapproving initial steps in the construction of a $58 million cultural center at Mitchell Field.

"The decision of whether or not to go ahead with a tremendously costly cultural complex for Nassau County has revolved around one issue: money."

"This is the crux of the problem."

"This issue, however, has been totally befogged by emotional outpourings, some reflecting sincere concern for the cultural maturity of the county and some mirroring purely selfish, money-making motives of a few impresarios of the commercial arts."

"First, what are we talking about in terms of facilities? We're talking about a museum of fine arts, a museum of history, science and technology, a concert hall, a theater, a social center, coliseum and central reference library."

"This compound, 17 times bigger than Lincoln Center and bigger in fact than Vatican City, would stretch over 189 acres of high-priced land -- some of the most desirable land in the county."

"Unlike Lincoln Center, which has been constructed on a combination of grants, private donations and city contributions, the building and maintenance of this city-sized center would be paid totally by you -- the taxpayer -- and by your children."

"This purely and simply, is the reason for my strenuous opposition to the authorization of initial funds for the project. This, too, is the reason why the other Supervisors have given me their full support."

"The matter arose in connection with passage of the county budget for 1968. Every penny was cut out of that budget that possibly could have been by my colleagues and me in an effort to give the heavily burdened local taxpayer relief."

"I am not against culture. I am not against recreation or education or artistic enrichment. But I am against breaking the backs of our taxpayers."

"We have other commitments which cannot wait."

"We are committed to a massive sewer construction project for Eastern Nassau County. Cost: approximately $335 million."

"We are committed to the expansion of Meadowbrook Hospital to provide a general dynamic care facility and medical center for our growing population: Cost $48 million."

broke our previous years records of Xmas cards by receiving a few short of 200 cards. The card that came the longest route was from Saigon. Viet-Nam and others from all over the United States.

Last year a card mailed on Dec. 17th. from Hicksville was received by this columnist in February. This year I received one card with just Jimmy Cooley, Bethpage, New York and the other one addressed to Mr. AmVets Alley, 32 Grant Ave., Bethpage. A lovely Xmas card from Father John and his "ill" Indian orphans from Sisseton, South Dakota. The card says... "Merry Xmas From The Black Hills of S. D." It is this Orphanage that receives hundreds monthly of cancelled stamps from AMVETS, Danny Zinkham and myself. I also had sent stamps to Northport VA hospital, and in return obtained copy of their Christmas Edition of the VA newspaper.

DID-JA-KNOW... That many people asked me why the USS Arizona is still listed as a Commissioned ship?... it's because it still carries a crew of over a thousand men who went down when it was attacked by the Japanese. That there is still oil slicks coming to the top of the area in which it rests, and it has been 26 years since its sinking. Before I close let me write this poem for all servicemen...

"Dear Santa Claus"

Dear Santa please don't bring me toys
I want you now to promise me
To bring my Daddy home.
It's been so long since he has gone

I can't recall his face,
I miss him sitting down to lunch
And asking God for Grace.
My Mommy feels the way I do
You see she loves him too,
So that is why I thought I'd write

This little note to you.
There seems so much I'd like to say
But you are busy too,
So I will close with loads of love

And kisses all for you.
And when the morning light appears
Beneath the tree with care,
I hope I find my Daddy there
Awaiting for us there.
Merry Christmas and the happiest of New Year's to come.

Plantings on the south or southwest side of a house often need more winter protection than those on the north because the winter sun causes fluctuating temperatures resulting in a loss of moisture.

Entrance Exams Jan. 11 For Space Age Studies

Education for the Space Age may be available to all students in Nassau and West Suffolk Counties if they can meet the entrance requirements, including the passing of a written test. This entrance examination will be held on Thursday, Jan. 11, at 9:30 a.m. at the W. Tresper Clarke H.S., in the auditorium. Clarke is located on Edgewood Drive (south of Old County Road) in the Birchwood area of Westbury.

Clarke High School and East Meadow High School of the East Meadow School District both offer a comprehensive high school course in the industrial and technical areas. The industrial program includes auto mechanics, boat - building and cabinet - making, machine shop, radio and electronics at East Meadow High and practical nursing, dress design, beauty culture, metal fabrication (including auto body and fender repair), and building trades at Clarke High School.

The technical program, which is college preparatory and aimed especially towards students interested in engineering, mathematics and science offers architectural, electrical and mechanical areas of specialization. All of these courses are dual-purpose in nature; they afford (1) the opportunity to earn a high school diploma leading either to college entrance or (2) to work in highly skilled and well-paying positions in industry. With the emphasis on skilled workers in today's labor market and the need for engineers, scientists, and mathematicians in our space age, this is an ideal program for qualified students to consider. All three technical courses will include a sequence in computers and programming. For further information call Matthew M. Graham, Director of Vocational Education, at IV-anhoe 5-7000, extension 237, on any school day.

The event was sponsored by the Jericho Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America and the White Hall Student Council. The Youth Service Program of the Family Service Association of Nassau County cooperated in arranging transportation and other details.

Individually addressed gifts were given each of the visiting children and they were served refreshments of ice cream, cake and cold drinks. Speech and drama teacher, Burton H. Wolfe entertained with a puppet show and 11th grader Kenneth Kopelman played Christmas music on the electric organ. Keep Our Village Beautiful

Ten Pin Talk

By Henry Duckwell

Let's sit back during this Christmas and New Year's recess and contemplate what's happened in the league these past 15 weeks.

First and foremost was that unprecedented string of 6 consecutive shutout weeks that Julie Gershen's "Terrors" compiled at the outset. It seemed there for awhile that they would never lose a game. Sy Bruckner's "Murder Inc." almost kept pace with them though. They too started with a string of 4 shutouts but the fifth week saw these two juggernauts meet head on and the "Terrors" are 15 1/2 points ahead of Irv Simes' "Spoilers". In 9 weeks no team has put a dent in that lead.

From 2nd place to 6th the chief pastime of the week-to-week tenants has been the game of musical chairs. When Bruckner's "Murder Inc." fell, Sid Simon's nameless ones moved in. When they got knocked off, Gittelman's "Guzzlers" took over. Soon it was Herb Brody's "Charley Browns" turn to drink from that 2nd place cup but not for too long as Irv Simes' "Spoilers" rushed in to take their seat.

There are 18 teams in the league but we'll list the standings of only the first 6:

	Won	Lost
1-Gershen's Terrors	115	50
2-Simes' Spoilers	99 1/2	65 1/2
3-Simon's (Nameless ones)	97	68
4-Brody's Charley Browns	95 1/2	69 1/2
5-Gittelman's Guzzlers	92	73
6-Bruckner's Murder, Inc.	88	77

It was in the 1st week that Sy Bruckner came up with a triple, a 211, a 222 and a 247 for that tremendous 680 series that is still tops for the year.

Sid Sachs had a roaring start too. He established a 190 average for the first 3 weeks and at the end of 6 weeks he was still up at 189. Now, however, he is at 181 and tied with Sid Simon and Robbie Goldstein are right on their heels at 180 and Herb Brody is 5th at 179.

The race for Most 200 Games is always close and although it's kind of early to make a precise prediction you can bet your bottom dollar that the winner will be one of the following: Leo Geyer-----who has 11 now Herb Brody-----who has 10 now Sy Bruckner-----who has 8 now Irv Simes-----who has 8 now Milt Hoffman-----who has 7 now Sid Sachs-----who has 7 now Rob Goldstein-----who has 7 now Norm Ney-----who has 7 now Murry-----who has 7 now Kowlowitz Sy Bruckner's big game of 247 that 1st week held up until Bill Kellerman came along just 3 weeks ago and crashed a 256. That's a big one to shoot at but there are guys in the league that can do it.

There are 3 bowling weeks left to the end of the 1st Half, with the third and last one being a position night. The job of bring-

Season's Greetings

By ED PETZHOLT, President Birchwood Civic Assn.

I welcome the opportunity this holiday season gives me to express my sincere appreciation to my fellow officers, committee chairman and board members for their cooperation, good work and loyalty in accomplishing our objectives of keeping this lovely community such a desirable area to live in.

I extend my sincere wishes to all of our BCA members for a most enjoyable holiday season and a very happy, prosperous and healthy New Year and to all of our vacationing neighbors who are traveling a safe and enjoyable trip.

Looking forward to the coming year, it is my sincere hope that our Civic Association will continue to be the active and helpful community organization it has been and that the community will continue to support us with increased interest and membership without which the BCA could not exist.

SANITARY VIOLATIONS in our community was the topic when James A. Gildersleeve, superintendent of sanitation for the Town of Oyster Bay, was guest speaker at the BCA Board of Directors meeting on Dec. 19. He said the dept. is ready to "put into effect a program whereby violators of garbage and refuse regulations will be issued summonses. This was welcome news to the Board as it has long advocated such a program." From left, Art Rosenthal, chairman of the health, sanitation and safety committee; Mr. Gildersleeve and BCA President Ed Petzholt.

ing the "Terrors" within reach of the second place team on position night falls to Gittelman's 5th place "Guzzlers" and then to Robbie Goldstein's "Robbers". After that, you second placers, whoever you may be, you're on your own.

Have a Happy New Year and we'll see you on January 8th, 1968.
