Fred Noeth: An Appreciation

As the days pass since the death of Fred Noeth, reflection gives one an opportunity to assess the meaning and importance of such an editor and loyal resident to a community like Hicksville.

He knew so many people—community leaders and ordinary citizens alike—that there must be many impressions of him which remain with people. . . . For me, aside from the friendliness and cooperation I invariably received from Fred, there are the greater reasons for appreciating him.

In a time when progress and change disintegrate or drastically alter the community appearance and life of Long Island's old villages, Fred Noeth strove, as only a good journalist can, to moderate the jarring alterations, the diminished old-time atmosphere.

I shall remember Fred Noeth for his efforts to hold together a Hicksville of which he was very fond.

The pages of files of the Herald reflect so many good fights in which Fred fought to keep Hicksville a community and a distinctive entity in the mushrooming suburbs all about us.

There was his leadership back in the 'fifties of a vigorous effort to obtain home-rule and incorporation for Hicksville as a village. Later, he campaigned continuously for long-range and sensible planning by the State, County and Town governments regarding: downtown parking; railroad elevation; underground electrification; responsible street sanitation; water supply; fire and ambulance service.

While he tried to arouse sensible programs among political leaders and to stimulate community concern for future needs and the immediate problems, Fred was resistant to unnecessary landscape changes. Many of us appreciated his alertness to road-widening plans which encompassed the destruction of beautiful tree-lined streets. Defeats are all too common in these efforts by the general public, efforts to save Jerusalem Woodbury Roads trees failed. Fred endured the chagrin of most people as Jerusalem Avenue and Newbridge Road's shaded avenues were uncovered and rendered cityfied for a generation of years to come. Still, Plainview Road remains a lovely arbor to remind us of old-time tree-lined streets and of the interest of those who fight to preserve our greens and shaded roads.

Fred Noeth also recognized the importance to a community of its historic sense of tradition, of continuity with the past by fostering an interest among residents—old and new—in Hicksville's history. Who will forget his co-chairmanship of the Tercentennial Committee Celebration in 1948, his charming inserting into the Herald's pages of old-time photographs and feature articles relating the community's past and providing comparisons in our history with current problems and events? Yes, for those who wanted reminders of the founding and development of this grand farming and crossroads community, Fred was a storehouse of anecdote, of contacts with Who's Who hereabouts, of photographs and old documents.

While the past was dear to Fred, who was sentimental beneath a business-like exterior, he never lost sight of the needs of the current generation to make the most of the community as it is today. One sees in his newspaper so many issues advancing the work of our churches and community groups; the Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, Masons and Knights of Columbus. Especially faithful and keen was Fred Noeth's support of Hicksville's veterans groups. The associations of ex-servicemen had a particular appeal to Fred who lost a brother during the Italian Campaign in World War II. No Memorial Day, Veterans Day or drive to honor the growing numbers of Hicksville's men who have made the supreme sacrifice was ever neglected or even given secondary interest by Fred.

Fred's interest in fostering an appreciation of the deeds and accomplishments of our young people was sustained over the years. He and his sports writers followed our school and club teams' seasons with spirit and regularity. He was proud of our youths in service, of our college graduates, winners of scholarships and awards and our Boy Scouts. He encouraged the programs and competitions of the Boys Club, the C.Y.O., the Little Leagues and all our young peoples' doings. Fred did not indulge in the type of sensational reporting of teenage scrapes and excesses which mark the daily papers. He preferred to stress the positive accomplishments of our teenagers.

If he was always somewhat conservative on school financing, Fred Noeth's heart was in the right place where our children's schooling was concerned. His support of school budgets and his help in the great building programs of the 'fifties attest to his support of our schools.

We in Hicksville—natives born and raised here and those of us who chose to make our homes here—will sorely miss Fred Noeth. He made it fun and worthwhile these recent decades to be a part of a fine community, to share the nostalgia of old times dimmed by change but proud of their village's past and to work with contemporary residents striving to keep Hicksville the wholesome place it has always been.

One may only hope that the Providence which has seen fit to take Fred Noeth from his labors in our community will provide the means of sustaining his family in their sorrow and the wherewithal for the continuance of a newspaper which means so very much to this mid-island area.

Sincerely,
Richard E. Evers

I Remember Fred Noeth

by Gilbert B. Stein

1st Managing Editor and Past Editor, The Villager

We met twelve years ago at his Mid Island Herald office, then located near what was to become the Mid Island shopping plaza. About 600 homes were up at East Birchwood Jericho; our charming general store and combined Post Office next to the Milleridge Inn reminded us new homeowners that we were living in the country, and Broadway was in the process of being torn up to make way for a modern highway.

The officers and directors of our Birchwood civic association had just voted to publish THE VILLAGER and our neighbor and friend Irv Herskowitz arranged our first meeting with Mid Island Herald Publisher Fred Noeth. As the first managing editor and then editor of the Villager I met with Fred Noeth almost every week for the next three years. Then, as later, his office was a conglomeration of papers, copy, proofs, layouts and memoranda. Every time we talked, Fred had a smile. There were his mild jokes and he always managed to insert a sort of gentle needle, with that gleam in his eyes, when this novice to Jericho and the newspaper profession made one of his frequent errors of omission or commission.

The Mid Island Herald then was a struggling small town newspaper. Of course, we of the Villager staff tried to get ads for Fred. But mainly he wanted and prodded us for news. Time and again, he stressed that folks were already buying the New York Times and Daily News to get national and world coverage and that what the Villager needed was the local story, the human interest yarn and picture, lots of them.

When we wanted to know something about Jericho and Hicksville, Fred was at his best. He loved this community. He took pride in its colorful past and was a one man encyclopedia on local history and folklore. Fred was upset about waste of public funds, red tape, passing the buck and the decline of morality. He was impatient with folks who, while living here, cared nothing about our community. He himself showed time and again a rare sense of identification with people, their aspirations and feelings.

Through these early years and later, when problems of business and personal tragedy challenged this man so greatly, he took that, of which he had so little, time... to help, to suggest, to explore and to seek out answers to our problems. He gave of himself unstintingly and he did so without being spectacular or obvious about it. He was a great and gentle man. If this be the time for prayer at his having passed away, let us thank the almighty for the years during which Fred Noeth and the residents of Jericho were good neighbors and friends. His untimely passing leaves us saddened. But his life had purpose and his accomplishments will remain. Thank you and good bye Fred Noeth. Jericho shall both remember and miss you.

Dear Friends:

This week I received two articles on Fred and wanted to share them both with you, at the risk of using so much space. Especially because through the years, Fred dedicated his newspapers to his communities, not to himself, I hope he too understands. But this week, at least, let us have the exception that proves the rule.

One more item, Mrs. Elaine Arnstein writes to tell us that more flags are needed at the Kennedy Memorial. At least four are needed each year. In Fred's name I would like to give one of these flags, Elaine. Hopefully we may find three more residents or organizations to complete this community need.

Until next week, do your best.

Shella Noeth

Ten More Acres Donated To Nassau

Nassau County will receive ten additional acres of land in Muttontown from Mrs. Alexandra McKay, County Executive Eugene H. Nickerson announced today. The parcel completes the 49 acres which Mrs. McKay agreed to donate to the County over a five-year period beginning in 1964. The County will eventually receive the remainder of her 100-acre estate including the manor house.

"Mrs. McKay has set a wonderful example of generosity, love for the land, and concern for future generations of Long Islanders," Nickerson said. "I hope others who have sizeable land holdings will investigate the advantages of a scenic easement arrangement," he added.

The County received 12 acres of the McKay property in 1964, 3.6 acres in 1965, 10 acres in 1966, and 9 acres in 1967. The agreement calls for the land to be used as a nature preserve. A shelter for nature classes, orientation and administration is nearing completion.

P.O. Offers Advancement Classes

Alex Conyers, Secretary Equal Employment Opportunity Committee, Ralph G. Cascardo, Postmaster and Viater Lopes, Chairman, Equal Employment Opportunity Committee

The Hicksville Post Office and Sectional Center has successfully instituted a "first" in Nassau County by working with Nassau Community College to give courses which help their employees pass tests, enabling them to qualify for higher positions. Through the efforts of our Post Office, these qualifying courses are also available for the personnel of all Nassau County post offices, at the Nassau Community College. Some of these courses are already in session.

Professor Sam Sorgin addressing the preparatory Supervisory Examination class.

In line with the announcement by the Postmaster General on June 12, 1968, concerning promotional opportunities in the Post Office, Postmaster, Ralph G. Cascardo directed his Chief Personnel Officer, Sam C. Ostreicher, to seek out ways and means of implementing this announcement.

On May 22, 1968, the Chief Personnel Officer had contacted Dean Robert Gwydr Jr., and his associate, Dr. George R. Bremer of the Nassau Community College, Garden City, New York, concerning a preparatory supervisory examination course. The reason for the course by an outside agent was because regulations of the Post Office Department prohibit postal people from giving instructions in Civil Service Examinations. On June 12, 1968, a joint meeting was held by the Equal Employment Opportunity Committees of the major Post Offices in Nassau County to develop this program and a meeting held on June 28, 1968 at the Nassau Community College finalized the program. The effective date for the beginning of the class would be July 16, 1968.

At present there are two classes held on the campus of Nassau Community College for this course and one class is held in the Lunch Room of the Sectional Center Facility, 260 Engineers Drive. The Nassau Community College has furnished a very able instructor, Prof. Sam Sorgin. The class at the Sectional Center Facility is attended by 46 postal employees. The course is designed for twelve weeks, two hour sessions and at a cost of $30.00 per student. The instructor provides the necessary materials for each session. The basic material involves mathematics, reading interpretation, reasoning problems, English, supervisory instruction, etc.

The date of the Supervisors Examination is September 23, 1968. It is interesting to note that we also have women in this class and other employees who are at present ineligible to take this examination because of short time in the Post Office. However, the instruction is designed so that anyone who finishes the course will have enough training and knowledge to take other Federal examinations. The Postmaster expects that more than 90% of those taking the examination will pass.

Credit is due to the Chairman and Secretary of the Equal Employment Opportunity Committee, Mr. Viater Lopes and Alex Conyers. The entire program got off the ground due to the untiring efforts of Mr. John W. MacKay, New York Regional Equal Employment Opportunity Co-ordinator.

Professor Sam Sorgin, Ralph G. Cascardo, Postmaster and Sam C. Ostreicher, Chief Personnel Officer.

Mrs. Josephine T. Rigali, Distribution Clerk and Professor Sam Sorgin.

State Signs Contract With American News Co.

New York State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy today announced that an agreement has been signed between the State Tax Department and the American News Company under which that company will sell State lottery tickets through its more than 500 retail outlets in the state.

According to terms of the agreement, American News Company also will act as lottery ticket distributor and will carry out supervision, accounting and promotional activities for ticket sales.

Mr. Henry Garfinkle, American News Company president, said sales under the new agreement will begin within the next ten days. They will be carried out at such company outlets as newsstands, restaurants, gift shops, drug stores, institutional feeding establishments, food service concessions at stadiums, restaurants operated by the company along the New York State Thruway, and through its coffee cart service in major buildings in the New York metropolitan area.

American News Company owns the nationwide Union News Company and Savarin Restaurant chain. It operates food service and various retail facilities at major air, rail and travel terminals throughout New York State.

"By opening new outlets not presently involved in lottery ticket sales," Commissioner Murphy said, "American News Company is expected to reach a vast new group of ticket buyers throughout the state. The agreement could result in the sale of an additional 8 million lottery tickets over the next 12 months. This would mean another $3.3 million for New York State educational needs."

New York State

"South Pacific" at the Jones Beach Theatre is winning plaudits and earning accolades far and wide. The Guy Lombardo production of this Rogers and Hammerstein spectacle is drawing a large out-of-state audience and, of course, spotlights the summer theatre season in the metropolitan area.

Jerome Hines' impressive voice is at its best, its volume probably capable of filling the beach theatre without amplification. Kathleen Nolan is delightful in the female lead.

With the show now past its half-way mark time is beginning to close in and shorten for those who have not yet enjoyed this entertainment opportunity.

The entertainment package offered is one which cannot be duplicated: a drive along famous Long Island parkways and causeways; buffet supper in the restaurant adjoining the beach theatre; "South Pacific" itself, and to cap the evening free dancing in the Schaefer Dance Tent to the music of Lombardo's Royal Canadians.

The opportunity for an evening's relaxation at the theatre after a day at Jones Beach is indeed tempting for never has "South Pacific" been produced with such lavish props and scenery, and in a natural language setting made possible by the off-shore stage in Zachs Bay.

LILCO Stock Up

Long Island Lighting Company, in its second quarter report released today, announced earnings for the 12 months ending June 30, 1968 of $1.31 per share, 2¢ above the previous year despite an 8¢ per share reduction due to recent increases in federal and state tax rates. Revenues for the 1968 twelve month period totaled $248,193,000, a gain of $18,071,000 over last year. Electricity required by customers in the LILCO territory in the first half of 1968 was 10% higher than in the first six months of 1967 while gas requirements climbed 8% over a year ago.

The Company expects higher earnings for the calendar year 1968 than in 1967 in spite of the recent tax increases, the report stated.

The LILCO report also announced that two new Company milestones were reached during the second quarter as the 750,000th electric customer mark was passed and the total investment in utility plant exceeded $1 billion. It was noted that while it took nearly 50 years for LILCO to reach the $500 million investment mark, less than 10 years were needed to add the second half-billion dollars.

Dry Well Installation Outlined

After reading the article in last week's issue, some of our readers did not understand the manner in which the dry wells would be placed in the New York State Recharge Basin (sump) behind Hazelwood Drive near Holly Lane. Here is an artist's conception, showing how each dry well (also called diffusion well) will be lowered into a hole in the porous ground of the sump by the large crane. Upon completion of the installation, when drainage is received, it will be allowed to percolate or seep away. Thus, the present stagnant watery condition now existing at the sump, which permits insect breeding, will be eliminated.

Jericho Public Library Seeks Traffic Signal For Merry Lane Intersection

As a result of the tragic auto accident on Saturday, July 20th, which took the life of a 13 year old Jericho girl, the Jericho Public Library has sent a letter (printed below) to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles regarding the urgency for the installation of a traffic signal at Merry Lane and Jericho Turnpike. The Library is also circulating petitions among the residents of Jericho in an attempt to secure as many signatures as possible to back up its request. Each resident is urged to sign this petition when approached.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles
 Bureau of Motor Vehicles
 Albany, New York
 Dear Sir:

On July 20th 1968 a thirteen-year-old girl, Kim Arstark of Oyster Bay Road in Jericho, was struck and killed by an automobile traveling east on Jericho turnpike (N.Y.S. Route 25) at the intersection with Merry Lane. This has always been an extremely dangerous corner with many serious accidents occurring over the past ten years and near misses daily. The Library Board of Trustees wishes to petition the State Motor Vehicle Bureau to install a traffic control light at this intersection as soon as possible and before additional lives are lost. It urges the Commissioner to seriously consider this request for the following reasons:

1.) The Public Library of Jericho is located approximately 100 feet from this intersection on Merry Lane, south of Jericho Turnpike.
 2.) Within the year a new and larger library facility will be constructed on the same site as the present building thus attracting many more children and adults to this specific corner and area.

3.) Merry Lane is a major means of entrance and exit to and from the streets of a densely populated development in which the Library is located. These local cars triple the number of automobiles making use of this intersection daily.

4.) There are no traffic control devices for 1.5 miles to the west of this intersection and .8 miles to the east. Automobiles pick up and maintain high speeds between the points at which these control devices are located, a total distance of 2.3 miles. By the time traffic reaches Merry Lane it is usually traveling at excessively high speeds.

5.) There is no reasonable safe way a pedestrian or cyclist can cross from either side of Jericho Turnpike at this point.

6.) An additional complicating factor to the traffic pattern is the existence of an exit ramp leading from Routes 106/107 eastward onto Jericho Turnpike and joining the Turnpike at a distance of 50 feet from the corner of Merry Lane. A diagram of this confluence is enclosed.

BCA Summer Bowling League

Results of Mon. Aug. 5

Herb Brody's 207 led the rumpaging Section B front runners, Brody-Rosenthal, to a 7-0 victory over a stubborn Gluckman-Bruckner outfit. The first two games were real squeakers and all three games were decided in the last two frames with the winners storming from behind. Sonia Rosenthal's 180 aided her team materially and they now have a season total of 57 points, leading the second placers by 16 points.

Sachs-Dockswell moved into second place with a 5-2 triumph over Warren-Diamond, despite a 205 by Ralph Diamond. Reichgott-Stein climbed to third place, 1 point behind Sachs-Dockswell by Stunning Simes-Geyer 6-1; the losers dropped to fourth place.

Other games in Section B saw Leon Newman fire a 219 (high for the night) but Newman-Koplik were edged by Stolberg-Cushing 4-3. Meadow-Mahler and Baumman Goldstein each won by 5-2 over Ladner-Levine and Lang-Schuman, respectively.

In Section A, Minoff-Luxemburg broke a 3-way tie for first place and took over sole possession of that spot (although it is a precarious perch) by defeating Faltek-Lowenthal 5-2.

Leiberman-Dembart were held to a tight 4-3 decision over Petsholt-Barth which dropped them into second place, 1 point behind the division leaders. Rose Gaft came up with a 188 in leading Simon-Gaft into a third place tie with Eisman-Lemberg whom they defeated 5-2.

The two third place teams now trail the leaders by 3 points and are 2 points to the rear of the second placers.

The remaining action in Section A had Cohen-Keller sweeping Green-Jacobs 7-0; Sam Springer's 215 led Springer-Goldenberg past Truchit-Gershen 5-2 despite a countering 214 by Julie Gershen; and Kahn-Kaye could only gain a 5-0 verdict over non-appearing Batterman-Kaplan as they could not beat the other team's average in one of the games.

Extra Masses Set For Assumption Day Aug. 15

Catholic Churches on Long Island will schedule extra daytime and evening Masses on Thursday, August 15, a holy day commemorating the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

According to Catholic authorities, the doctrine of the Assumption states that the Mother of Christ was "assumed" (taken up) into heaven, body and soul, at the end of her life on earth, by the power of God.

Belief in Mary's Assumption dates back to early Christian days. It was defined as a dogma (required belief) of the Church by Pope Pius XII on November

1, 1950. Mass schedules for R. C. Churches in the Herald areas are as follows:

Jericho Public Library Seeks

7.) Children living north of the Turnpike have no safe way of crossing the Turnpike in order to get to the Library or to visit friends in the development south of the Library's location. The same is true of children wishing to cross the northern side of the Turnpike.

8.) Both the senior and junior high schools are located north of the Turnpike. During months when school is in session many children walk home and use Merry Lane to reach their homes. They must cross Jericho Turnpike at this dangerous intersection.

9.) With the completion of the new and larger library building there will be a safety problem immeasurably graver than the already horrendous one that exists now.

10.) Jericho Turnpike, in this area, has been widened to six lanes with a median. Pedestrians will now have to cross six lanes of traffic instead of the former and formidable four lanes.

The Library Board of Trustees is alert to the present and potential danger of this intersection and is taking steps to enlist the support of all local residents and groups in making this request. We strongly urge you to act on this petition as soon as possible and before more lives are lost. The cost of installing a traffic light at this intersection should not be a factor when the lives of children are at stake.

An immediate and positive reply from you would be greatly appreciated and is anticipated.

Very truly yours,
Hy York, President
Board of Trustees

DM August 1st 1968

(Editor's Note: Just before going to press, we were notified by Harry Seaton, Chairman of the Safety Committee of the Birchwood Civic Association that, in answer to the R.C.A.'s request, the State Department of Public Works in Babylon has advised him that a traffic survey of Jericho Turnpike from the Long Island Expressway eastward to Marian Lane, is being undertaken by the Police Department to determine the feasibility of a traffic signal at the aforementioned intersection.)

However, Jericho residents are implored not to let up in the determination for the traffic light; assistance is still required from other groups and individual residents, as well.)

Sure Beats Smoking!

An easier way to satisfy your tobacco hunger... control your appetite, too.

It's happened to almost everyone who's tried to cut down on smoking. You smoke less, but you blow up like a balloon, because you eat more. You reach for a candy instead of a smoke. You nibble between meals. You raid the refrigerator at night. You smoke fewer cigarettes, but put on more pounds.

Proven way to cut down on smoking and without gaining weight

Now there's an easier way to break the cigarette habit—and control your appetite, too. Doctors have seen it happen and reported the results in a scientific journal. All you have to do is use a pleasant-tasting cherry-flavored lozenge called Nikoban. It's medicated with a clinically-tested smoking deterrent that helps satisfy your tobacco hunger—reduces your desire to smoke, and eat! If you really want to stop smoking, you can with Nikoban.

Scientific Journal Reports
4 out of 5 helped by doctor's plan

In a carefully controlled test, as an article in a scientific journal reports, the Nikoban plan, created by a doctor, helped 4 out of 5 smokers tested cut down on their smoking. Some actually stopped completely, and surprisingly, most of those in the test did not gain weight.

So you see, if you really want to break the cigarette habit (and without gaining weight) you can with Nikoban. Get a package of Nikoban lozenges at any drugstore. Start using them today. You'll feel like a new person.

Your Voice Could Be Out Of This World

Nassau telephone subscribers who call overseas may not know it, but their voices are traveling by satellite with increasing regularity these days.

Communications satellites, supplementing the longer-established undersea cables, are carrying a steadily growing number of telephone calls to parts of Europe and the Pacific. But satellites are just beginning to cast their shadow across the globe.

According to a New York Telephone spokesman, satellite telephone service will be available before long to Africa, South America, the Middle East and Asia. The construction of new ground stations in these distant lands and the launching of higher-capacity satellites will make this expansion possible.

Some of the countries planned to open ground stations within the next few years are Nigeria, Morocco, Argentina, Brazil, India, Pakistan, Greece, Singapore and Korea. Stations will be opened this summer in Panama and Chile. At this end, ground stations are being built in West Virginia, California, and Puerto Rico. They will be used in conjunction with the 1,200-circuit Intelsat facilities planned for launching later this year. "This expansion of satellite facilities will make additional overseas circuits available and it will enable us to improve the quality of telephone service to some areas now reached only via high frequency radio," the telephone company spokesman said.

"Satellites, operating alongside existing high-quality cables, are making it as easy to call around the world as around the corner."

The Bell System, which is the world's largest commercial user of satellite facilities, operates about 250 satellite circuits to route calls to and from the United States. It anticipates that more than 2,000 satellite circuits will be needed in the early 1970's. In fact, a point will be reached in the next decade when satellite circuits carrying overseas conversations will outnumber cable circuits.

AT&T's Long Lines Department, which is the Bell System's overseas and interstate operating unit, leases satellite circuits from the Communications Satellite Corporation (Comsat) for handling calls between the United States and points abroad.
