Research Unit To Probe Cost Of Local Government

JERICHO, L. I.-- Continuing studies of local government by the Long Island Association's Bureau of Government Research will be broadened in 1969 to include expenditure trend analyses and per capita cost studies in such areas as highways, parks and recreation, police and assessing, BGR director, John Brewer, announced today.

"Much of the initial research will be carried out by Dennis Plendak who will join the BGR staff in January for a two-month period," Brewer said. "Although only 22 and a senior at Bard College (Annandale-on-Hudson, N.Y.) where he is majoring in government, Plendak is widely experienced in government research."

Plendak served on the staffs of the West Hartford, Conn. town manager, the city manager of Cape May, N. J., the research staff of the Connecticut Public Expenditure Council, and on the administrative staff of Connecticut's U. S. Senator, Thomas J. Dodd. Plendak is a native of New Britain, Conn. "Plendak's research responsibilities will help lay the groundwork for the new thrust of BGR programs in the year ahead," Brewer said.

The purpose of the studies is to find out the extent of duplicated and over-lapping service, why it exists and the feasibility and method of eliminating all or some of it--a basic step in the process of modernizing and streamlining government.

Most of the research work Plendak will do will be conducted at the town, city and village levels in both Nassau and Suffolk counties. Since its inception last summer, the unit has primarily engaged in budget and tax studies.

BGR policy, formulated by the association's 60-man board of directors, will be implemented by a newly formed eight-man BGR advisory panel headed by chairman, Fred C. Eggerstedt Jr., vice president of finance and treasurer, Long Island Lighting Co.

Other panel members include: James Agnew, senior vice president, Security National Bank; Stanley M. Blauser Jr., Nassau County general manager, New York Telephone Co.; Harry Eschbach, budget director, Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp.; Robert Kerley, controller, Allstate Insurance Co., Huntington Station; Robert Mitchell, president, Mitchell Cadillac-Oldsmobile Inc., Huntington Station; Dr. John Toll, president, State University of New York at Stony Brook; and A. Richard Willis Jr., president, RFE Dynamics, Mineola.

The new panel plans to issue a preliminary report on the need for reorganization of Long Island governments at mid-year.

Ecumenical Series Starts February 20

A course titled "Our Neighbor's Religion" and highlighting talks by leading Protestant ministers in the mid-island area will be one course in six to be offered by the ten sponsoring parishes of Our Lady of Good Counsel Deservy of the Diocese of Rockville Centre, according to Rev. Ocker look over the railroad crossing at Stewart Avenue in Bethpage that would be, along with other similar crossings through the town, beneficiary of a bill introduced by Assemblyman Ginsberg that would eliminate any additional state money spent for railroad grade crossing elimination projects that intend to elevate railroad tracks instead of depressing them. Ginsberg and Ocker are both in favor of depressed grade crossings which would enhance the beauty of the community, retain its residential character and improve safety.

SPORTS

By
Howard J. Finnegan

Hicksville High's Rick Kowalchuk won his 13th and final match of the regular season to complete the wrestling agenda undefeated.

It is the single major individual accomplishment for an Orange and Black athlete of the year. Operating in the 157-pound class he bested his final Plain-edge opponent 8-0.

His victory was part of a Comet 99-11 league verdict over the Red Devils. Coach Steve Tomani's basically sophomore and Junior team turned a surprising 6 won and 7 lost for the season.

With Kowalchuk and Tony Giacomaggio returning the Orange look forward for productive 1970 campaign.

Giacomaggio won his last match with a sudden 35 second pin in the 168 pound class.

Other victors were Jack Davis by forfeit in the 98 pound set. Hicksville had three straight victories by pins in the 106, 123 and 130 classes. John Mackin, Charles Indudili and Lou Chido were the respectful recorders.

Tom Merendini won a 9-6, 136-pound, decision.

Greg Reilly really raised the roof in his 141-lb match. He was in all sorts of entrapment during the match. The points were clicking off against him and totaled 14 as the final minute started.

He completely recoiled against his aggressor and forced him to the mat. The official had slapped the signal for a pin and it was just two seconds later that the horn went off.

The other Hicksville winner was Bill Mueller by a 3-2 count.

The North Shore championships will be held at Locust Valley High School Friday, February 21st and Saturday the 22nd. The County championships will follow the next week-end.

Hicksville High's basketball team lost 59-53 to Hericks and came back to whip Farmingdale 76-48. The single hope remaining is a second place finish and a more improved position in the upcoming playoffs.

The season still presents a chance for a major headline. Hicksville visits Syosset this Friday night. Syosset is undefeated in 14 contests and Hicksville would dearly love to soil that record.

Coach Bud Bryan's team now carries a 10 won and 3 lost record. A victory over Syosset would enhance the appreciation of the mark. Hicksville lost in overtime to Syosset, 50-48, in the first outing. It matched the Hericks game for a high in poor shooting.

It will require a complete team game to win Friday. Hicksville isn't capable of it.

HICKSVILLE 53, SYOSSET 66

Hicksville parents, friends, students and alumni will be on the short end again as far as tickets are concerned for Friday night. When Hicksville operated, as all other Nassau County schools do, with a full strength Athletic Directors office, advance tickets would be secured and sold at HHS. This prevents students and others from going to a major game only to be left outside because the home team has sold the gym out.

A great deal of trouble can erupt outside the gym as the ticketless mill around. It was a thing that could not happen when there were concerned people at HHS.

The complete recovery and return of Athletic Director Lou Millevotte cannot come too soon.

Parceled out responsibility in this respect is a snowball downhill.

And those who have sat in the Hicksville gym any of the last seven games know it.

Our announcement last week that Hicksville will play a Lacrosse game under the lights of Hofstra College in May has resulted in a lot of interest for the sport.

A review of the immediate records has attracted attention (Continued on Page 15)

Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Ralph G. Caso, right, has a few questions answered by Grant Davidson of Toronto, Canada, during a demonstration of STOL (Short Take Off Landing) aircraft at Mitchel Field. Davidson piloted an 18-passenger DeHavilland Twin-Otter that took business, industrial and governmental leaders on flights which gave the observers a birds-eye look at the feasibility of installing a STOL-Port in the Mitchel Field complex. Caso and the Town of Hempstead played host to the demonstration which was staged by the Aviation Council of Long Island.

Dear Friends:

As we go to press, this part of our country is still trying to dig itself out of one of the worst blizzards in eight years. Most of our columnists do not have their news in and, we certainly cannot blame them for that....I'm sure you can understand the problems they have had to contend with...as you probably have similar transportation problems yourselves.

Well, there will just be that much more local news for you next week.

In the meantime, we hope that, in spite of the weather problems which we all have to put up with, you are all well and happy and ready to assume your pleasant community duties once more next week.

Cordially,

RONNY RICE, a 10th grade student of English teacher Frank Bohl at Hicksville High School (pictured with him above), has had his article, "The Natural Law," accepted for publication in an anthology of student writing. The assignment was part of his regular English coursework.

The Cooperative Extension Association of Nassau County and Nassau Community College are jointly sponsoring this 3-lesson series, BE A BETTER SHOPPER. The program is designed to: develop and improve shopping skills; help shoppers stretch their super-market dollars; point out the values and rewards of planned spending; emphasize the importance of participation by all members of a family in deciding on money matters.

BE A BETTER SHOPPER examines: supermarket specials; store brands versus national brands; labels and packaging; size and cost relationships; record keeping; buying beef, pork and poultry to get more meat for your money; games and gimmicks; and trading stamps.

This series is open to the public, and it is designed especially for consumers who are interested in getting the most for the money spent in the supermarket.

Caemmerer Auto Owner Privacy Measures Given Green Light

The influential Senate Standing Committee on Motor Vehicles and Transportation, headed by State Senator John D. Caemmerer (R., East Williston) has given the go ahead to a pair of bills, authored and introduced by the Senator, which would protect the right of privacy of auto owners.

Caemmerer, who also is Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on right of privacy, has long opposed the practice by the Motor Vehicle Bureau of selling the lists of registered vehicle owners in NYS to the highest bidder. In turn, the bidder leases the lists to soliciting organizations which address large quantities of unwanted mail to the auto owners.

One of the Senator's bills would put a halt to it all by forbidding the sale of names and addresses by the MVB to outside organizations.

The second Caemmerer measure would prohibit the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles from requiring the social security number of the auto owner on applications for registration or re-registration of the vehicle.

"On the face of it, the sale of names or the listing of social security numbers might appear to be trifling matters," the Nassau lawmaker said. "But there are serious ramifications."

Caemmerer went on to say that mailing lists have led to public annoyance, inconvenience, and even damages through misleading advertising and solicitation.

As for social security numbers on auto registrations, the Senator warned that "with automated data processing systems now so widespread, there is danger of virtually instantaneous access to vast personal information banks. And the security controls on these data pools often leave much to be desired."

Now that the Committee on Motor Vehicles has reported out the two bills, they are to be scheduled on the Senate calendar for open discussion and a vote.

In the Assembly, a similar measure to halt the sale of car owner lists by the MVB has been introduced by Assemblyman George J. Farrell (R., Floral Park) and multi-sponsored by Assemblyman Joseph M. Reilly (R., Glen Cove). The bill to prohibit the social security number requirement on applications for auto registration was also introduced by Mr. Farrell. Both measures have been referred to the Assembly Committee on Transportation for further study.

Awarded Numerals

Jeff Doolittle of HICKSVILLE has been awarded his numerals for playing on the Columbia freshman football team this past fall.

Doolittle, a quarterback, is a 1967 graduate of Hicksville High and 1968 graduate of Deerfield Prep. The 5-11, 180-pounder earned four letters in baseball, three in football, and two in basketball before entering Columbia. He was voted all-Long Island quarterback and given all-America honorable mention in 1966, and in 1967 he was New England's all-prep quarterback. He is considered a prime contender for the starting position left vacant by the graduation of all-Ivy quarterback Marty Domres.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Doolittle of 19 Alexander Ave., Hicksville.

The Lion cubs enjoyed their most successful season since 1958 and were considered one of the strongest freshman clubs in the Ivy League.

Playing under new freshman coach John Cheska, Columbia had a 3-3 record, defeating Yale, Brown and Rutgers and losing to Princeton, Penn and Harvard. Columbia was the only team to defeat Brown this fall.

Cheska expects several members of the freshman team to be in the thick of competition for starting varsity berths next fall.

Check With Better Business Bureau Before Making Charity Contributions.

JERICHO, N. Y. -- How much of the funds raised for Charity actually reach that charity?

In some cases, very little, says the Better Business Bureau of Long Island. The lion's share of the money could go into operational expenses of the fund-raising organization.

Firm To Institute Freeze-Drying In High Schools

HICKSVILLE, N.Y. -- A drive to make the technology of freeze-drying a part of the science programs of secondary schools throughout the nation has been launched by Thermovac Industries Corp., major manufacturer of freeze-drying equipment, now used in countries around the world.

According to Kenneth Rivlin, executive vice president of Thermovac, the firm initiated an Educational Division after the Henley School, a private college preparatory institution in Holliswood, Long Island, ordered a portable freeze-drying machine and announced a freeze-drying studies course to be added to the school's physics and biology curricula.

Two Henley faculty members, Dimosthenes Triantafyllou, a biologist, and Lloyd Kahn a physicist, are developing the course in freeze-drying and are testing the machine's ability to simulate outer-space conditions. They said the curricula outlines would be made available to other schools interested in the subject.

Mr. Rivlin, who will head the new division, said the Henley project was the first of its kind anywhere in the country--and probably in the world--for a school below the university level.

"To put this educational division in perspective," Rivlin said, "just imagine that someone started acquainting high schools with computers 25 years ago. To the public, it was like science fiction; and to all but a few scientists, the machines were utterly strangers. It's the same today with freeze-drying: we're in the middle of it, so we can see very clearly that a revolution, especially for the food industry, is coming soon."

Rivlin also said he anticipates no problems in relating, with help from the Henley curriculum, what the machines do and will do in the future.

He cited the possible use of freeze dryers in standard courses, such as home economics, biology and physics, where specimens including food, blood plasma and animals can be perfectly preserved for an indefinite time.

In addition, Rivlin noted, special courses and advanced studies can be designed around the units, which may be used to simulate the vacuum and severe temperatures of outer space.

The machines, which can be operated on ordinary house current, range in price from $375 to $50,000.

Amvet's, New York State Service Foundation, was revealed to have used 74% of the total contributions it received through the collection of used clothing for fund-raising expenses.

This disclosure was made by John Sullivan, Executive Director of the Long Island Better Business Bureau, based on a survey of the latest financial report of that company.

Amvet's solicits used clothing in a door-to-door campaign. The proceeds realized from the sale of this clothing allegedly goes to assist veterans of World War II in Korea, and their dependents.

"Of the total of more than $44,000 raised through the collection of used clothing," said Mr. Sullivan, "only $11,231.03 remained after fund-raising costs were met. A total of $6,574.29 was spent providing the specific services for which the organization was formed, in addition to $935 spent for nurses' scholarships and $637.80 donated to veterans' hospitals."

"The contributing public," Mr. Sullivan emphasized, "needs to realize that there are necessary fund-raising expenses incurred by virtually all charitable organizations. There is doubt, however, if in this particular case, the contributing public is aware of the disproportion that exists between the amount of money collected and the amount ultimately benefiting veterans."

Although the public should be generous in supporting charity, it is urged to check with the Better Business Bureau before contributing any money, clothing or merchandise to charities about which it has any questions. The Bureau's files contain information on countless charitable organizations soliciting funds from Metropolitan residents.

While the Better Business Bureau will not recommend that persons either contribute or not contribute, it will provide the public with pertinent data including the amount collected by the organization during the year, the amount which went to professional fund raisers, and the amount spent in providing the specific services for which the organization was formed.

This was a direct benefit to Nassau residents, Mr. McConnell points out.

Scenes such as this were prevalent on Monday morning which found snowdrifts almost completely engulfing driveways, walks and steps. It was not until late afternoon that most of the residents managed to partially clear those areas.

HUMANITIES COURSE

"My son would gladly take the Humanities course if he didn't have to worry about his grade lowering his final average" was the remark offered by the concerned parent of a Jericho High School senior at the Board of Education meeting on January 30. The parent continued by explaining that her soon-to-graduate son might have elected a course such as Economics or Humanities, but chose Study Hall instead of "risking" a possible "poorer" grade in a "tougher" course.

How many students are missing the election of challenging, worthwhile courses because of the grade or the effect a single grade might have upon an overall scholastic rating?

One way Jericho will try to encourage participation in valuable electives for seniors is by removing the often discouraging numerical grade. From now until June, Jericho seniors will have the opportunity to elect either Humanities or Economics on a receive either a "P" or "F" for their efforts. All regular courses and other electives will be graded in the conventional manner.

The Jericho Board of Education approved a proposal presented by Robert Manheimer, Senior High Principal. Manheimer reported that a student-faculty committee had proposed a trial program to him, under which the non-required Humanities and Economics courses would abandon the conventional grading system and substitute a "pass-or-fail" basis for the seniors' second semester. The student-faculty committee's careful research included conferences with many college admissions officials who indicated such grading would not interfere in any way with admission. Many colleges are moving to similar grading systems.

As Manheimer stated: "The faculty and students feel that the current system of grading these electives might be inhibiting the intellectual growth of some students. In many cases, in spite of his interest, a student will not take one of the more challenging courses because he is afraid that the mark he might receive could lower his average." The committee and principal also concurred that a "P" and "F" basis might allow the teacher more flexibility in selecting learning activities.

The criteria for a passing grade in both electives includes independent effort and participation, thereby encouraging students to exhibit greater individual control and responsibility.

The "P-F" scale will be evaluated during the five month trial period and a final report will be made.

SENIORS ASK: 'WHAT CAN WE DO?'

"I never heard a black man speak to me before" was the reaction of a Jericho Senior to the appearance on January 31 of Larry Patrick at the Senior High School. Patrick, from the Westbury Office of Economic Opportunity and a member of the Black Panthers occupied center stage at the forum which drew excellent reaction from the student body. Speaking on the topic "Racism," Patrick maintained that the pessimistic outlook of the black community could be changed if given top priority by whites. At the conclusion of his 25 minute address, a spirited exchange between speaker and audience was held during 1 1/2 hours of questions and answers. One of Patrick's answers stressed plans for advancing black capitalism.

Follow-up discussions were held in all Social Studies and English classes. Among the topics discussed by students and teachers were individual reactions to the speaker, the causes of militancy, reasons for racist division and implications for social improvement.

The Patrick appearance was one in a series of forum-type activities planned to offer Senior High students opportunities to listen to and question differing viewpoints and philosophies which exist in today's society. Within a few weeks, a member of the N.A.A.C.P. is expected to appear at the High School. Other speakers will be invited to focus student attention on contemporary issues; thus enabling pupils to evaluate various outlooks and ideologies.

15 Inches Of Snow Thwart Columnists

Unplowed streets - abandoned cars - no mail or milk deliveries - schools, libraries, banks, stores closed - was the order of the day earlier this week. The weatherman reported that 15 inches of snow were dumped on Long Island during last Sunday's snowstorm. The accumulated drifts of snow in East Birchwood made it appear that 3 or 4 feet would have been the correct estimate.

The literary efforts of our regular columnists were also hampered by the complete standstill of the community. This accounts for the absence in today's issue of TEN PIN TALK, ETCETERA and FICTION AND FACT. Hopefully, Henry Dockswell, Nadine and Mitchell Klein and Dottie Mills will renew their columns in next week's issue.

HERMAN LUBITZ, prominent Jericho resident, will be Guest of Honor at Jericho U.J.A. Cocktail - Buffet Dinner Dance to be held at the Jericho Jewish Center on Saturday evening, March 1, 1969.

March First Is Jericho UJA Day

by Henry Dockswell

On Saturday evening, March 1, 1969, our Jericho community will culminate its annual United Jewish Appeal drive with a Cocktail-Buffer Dinner Dance.

This year, the affair will be held at the Jericho Jewish Center and as in the past, there will be plenty of food, liquor, music and dancing.

The Jericho U.J.A. has chosen to honor this year a man that our community knows, loves and respects, Herman Lubitz.

Herman has given unstintingly of himself to whatever the cause, Judaism, the community, the Temple or just people.

Invitations to the affair are in the mail now and reservation cards will also be enclosed for you to fill out and send back. The cost per couple is only $12 for the evening. This is far less than it would cost you for a similar evening anywhere else, so don't delay. Send back the reservation card and a check for $12.

Tables will be set and made up, so get your friends together and make up your own table. The committee has been working for weeks and someone will be contacting you.

Jews all over the world are desperately in need of help. This was never more dramatically illustrated than two weeks ago when Iraq committed its horrible crime under the guise of punishing espionage.

If you had stopped for a moment, as you looked at the pictures in the newspapers, and thought that "There but for the Grace of God, go I", the feeling of extending a helping hand would have been multiplied tenfold.

U.J.A. is the way. Let us all meet Saturday night, March 1, 1969, honor Herman Lubitz and help him further the cause of saving lives, not only in Israel, but all over the world.

Ginsberg New Bill Would Help Taxpayer

A bill which would move back two of the filing declaration dates for estimated tax and payments so that taxpayers can collect bank interest on the money has been filed by Assemblyman Martin Ginsberg of Plainview, it was announced today.

Assemblyman Ginsberg explained the bill this way: "Taxpayers may pay their estimated income tax payments four times a year. Under current law, the dates for doing this are January 15, April 15, June 15 and September 15. The interest dates at banks, where the money with which a taxpayer is going to pay his taxes reposes, are December 30, March 30, June 30 and September 30. Therefore, on two occasions when tax payments are due, the taxpayer has to take his money out of the bank before his interest is compounded. My bill changes the June and September filing dates to the fifteenth of the next month, allowing payment of bank account interest."

Mr. Ginsberg said his bill is one of several designed to "help the consumer and taxpayer, and to lighten the burden wherever we can on the individual citizen".

Local Student In Europe

Miss Judith H. Berman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Berman of 11 St. Lawrence Place in Jericho, will study at the Madrid center of the Institute of European Studies. Miss Berman is a junior at C. W. Post College, majoring in Secondary Education.

At all Institute centers (Freiburg, Madrid, Nantes, Paris, and graduates have the opportunity of studying at a European university with European professors. The Institute, based in Chicago, is one of the oldest and largest American programs of foreign study.

Institute students attend university courses - supplemented by the Institute's own classes and tutorials - taught by European faculty in their native languages.

Central objective of the Institute programs is to strengthen the students' educational experience through exposure to a different intellectual tradition and to integrate this experience, through credit transfer, with their American college program of studies.

The Institute of European Studies regularly draws students from over 300 colleges and universities across the country. Since its founding in Vienna, the Institute has provided more than 3,000 students the opportunity of studying in a regular academic program in Europe. as Hicksville readys for the 1969 campaign. Hicksville's water-mark in wins came in 1966 with 11. 94 goals caught the nets in 1968 for that high and the least allowed was 62 in 1965.

Tom Cara holds the record for coach Bill Meyers club's with 23 in 1965. He had the most in a high school career with 46. Don Thompson and Bruce DaCosta share honors for most goals in one game at 5.

In 1963 Richard Medina had 26 assists and his 15 goals and 26 assists made him the top point getter in a season with 41 in 1963.

In 1966 Len Casalino repelled 262 shots on goal and in one contest was required to turn back a high of 30.

Individual honors have come to the Comets. Vince Hoosak was All Nassau County on defense in 1964 and 1965. Goalie Joe Sarrio was All Division in the same years and Casalino got rewarded for his stand against the 1966 bombardment when he was selected All Nassau County.

Don Thompson and Mike Bernstein were All North Shore at Midfield and Defence in '67 and '68. Just this past year sophomore Rich Kowalchuk was all Division at Midfield.

PPR Set For Tobay Pools

Oyster Bay town residents will now have the convenience of permanent personal registration at the town's four community swimming pools this year, Councilman Edmund A. Ocler, Board Majority Leader announced today.

Ocler said the program is a result of a recommendation made by Councilman Ralph Diamond last September and would be instituted this year. Diamond said the plan was conceived to give the residents greater convenience and to save the town money in administrative costs.

Under the old plan, residents were required to fill out a long application form annually and submit it to the parks department together with photos and fees. With the permanent personal registration plan, once a resident has filed an application with all pertinent information, such as section, lot and block number, it will go on file permanently in the town. All that would be required every year from members already in the plan would be a simple form indicating any changes made during the year, plus their proper annual fee.

As an added convenience, each of the four community parks, Syosset-Woodbury, Bethpage, Plainview-Old Bethpage and Marjorie R. Post, Massapequa, would be equipped with a photo machine.

"In this way residents will be required to take photos only once every three years and be spared the annoyance of having to go through the same process annually", said Diamond.

L.I. Boat Show
Opens Feb. 15th

The 12th annual Long Island Marine Recreation Boat Show with nearly 200 power boats and sailing sloops on hand will open Feb. 15th for a nine-day tour at the Island Garden in West Hempstead.

"About 95 per cent of the boats shown are of fiberglass construction," show director Eddie Van Nostrand declared. In addition to the established boat builders, many of the new boat manufacturers that emerged the past year are represented at the show. More than 40 different makes are on exhibit. A number of new models are being displayed for the first time anywhere. Boat prices range at the show from $109 for a six foot dinghy to more than $30,000 for a 34-foot cruiser.

This year is a precedent setting one in the boating industry. For the first time in the 59 year history of the National Boat Show in New York, a sailboat was chosen Queen of the Show. And for the first time in the 12 year history of the Long Island show, a houseboat topped the coveted honor.

LILCO Earnings
Increase

Long Island Lighting Company in its release of preliminary income for 1968 reported today an increase in annual earnings for the 16th consecutive year. Earnings for 1968 were $1.86 per share, 8¢ above the previous year. Net income totaled $38.4 million, up $2.7 million from 1967.

LILCO reported, too, substantial gains in both gas and electricity sales for 1968. A 10% rise in system sales of electricity was aided by a hot, humid summer, and record increases in the average use of electricity by existing customers. Gas sales were up 6% despite warmer winter weather which affected heating use. A new mark for maximum electric demand was set in July, the first time in LILCO's history that peak electric use in the summer was not exceeded during the following winter.

The utility also stated that shareowners were informed that 31% of the 1968 dividends on LILCO common stock was non-taxable for federal income tax purposes. This is the second consecutive year that a portion of the utility's common dividends has received such tax treatment.
