

Herald Report School Board Dist. 17 Hicksville By Shirley Smith

Most of the Hicksville School Board meeting, Tuesday, Apr. 8 was devoted to discussion of relocatable classrooms for the Junior and Senior High Schools. At the Junior High, two class-rooms would be used to enlarge the cafeteria facilities, one classroom for vocal music and one for 7th grade guidance. The unit at the High School would be used for centralization of Pu-pil Personnel Services, moving the guidance counselors, clerks, psychologists, speech therapists and reading consultant into one location. Mr. Telesca of the W.F. Parley Company presented sildes showing the steel construction of the units, various places and the various ways in which the mo-dules have been used. The found-ations and construction of the units are considered part of the purchase price of the relocatable classrooms and the work would be done by whatever construction firm is selected by the School Board (through a bidding pro-cess.) The district would then be responsible for furnishing a flat site for construction, After many questions affa lawyers from existing school structures. After many questions and answers from all those present at the meeting, the Board voted to place a re-forendum on the ballot to cover classrooms for both Junior and provide the second 250,000. This first the screed 250,000. This first is a screed 250,000. This

Mr. Donald Abt, Super-intendent of the Hicksville School District, urged the Board to con-sider this move as it would give administration more time to pre-pare a budget brochure which could adequately answer the pub-lic's questions about the finan-

Our proposed school Lax shows an increase of 56 cents per $100 of assessment. This is before we know our increased casts from negotiations or our decreased costs from a rising assessment. The proposed tax rate increase has been reduced from 65 cents to 56 cents because the Board, on Tuesday, April 8th removed $90,000 from the proposed budget. This money will now be part of a separate referendum on portable structures. The people will vote directly on this referendum.

Students To Help Pass Library Budget

Thirty five Hicksville High School students met at the Hicksville Public Library on Tuesday evening, April 1st to

Tuesday evening, April 1st to discuss ways and means to pass the library budget in May. The library which has had only one modified budget passed since 1964 serves nearly 50,000 residents of the school district and is currently operating on a budget which provides about one-half of the book collection. Library Director

Kenneth S. Barnes stated that the group most affected by budget defeats has been students who use the library by the thousands use the library by the thousands each year to complete school assignments. Janet Dodson of 71 Scooter Lane and David Satran of 2 Adetphi Road were elected co-chairmen of the Student's committee. The next mesting of the group will be at the library on Wednesday evening, April 9th at which time the campaign will begin. Volunteers are welcome.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Library Budget Questions And Answers

Uses the last library budget approved by the taxpayers?
A curtailed versiond thebudget... bmitted in May 1966 was approved in June 1966. Otherwise, no increase has been granted since May 1964. Because we revert to the previous year's budget when defeated we are operating with a budget nearly 5 years old.
What has been the effect of successive budget defeats?
We are able to purchase less than one half of the current titles and replacements needed in spite of increased demand by students, professional men and general readers. In 1963 we added more than 21,000 volumes, last year less than 6,000. Since our main task is to provide books, the base of effective library service has been badly, damaged. There has been insufficient personnel since 1966 when the new extension opened. This has caused an undesirable effect on public service in the reference, periodical and circulation areas.
What is the future of the Hicksville Public Library?

A What is the future of the Hicksville Public Library? If the budget is not approved, more drastic and basic cuts in service and materials will be necessary. If we cannot add sufficient books to maintain current needs plus added copies and replacements, we will simply cease to function as an effective public information center. In a few years our book budget will practically cease to be.

4. What will be new budget provide? For the library to resume normal purchasing in 1969-70. We expect to add over 12,000 volumes to the collection. Also curtailed services will be restored, opening hours will be increased and special programs will be presented once more.

5. Who uses the public tibrary? Over 35,000 men, women and children are listed as registered borrowers. Extensive use of the library's reference collection is made by students of all ages, by housewives, homeowners, professional and businessmen throughout the community. We serve the schools in many ways, lending films (over 800 a year), scheduling class visits and cooperating with leachers in providing materials for class assimments. class assignme mle

6. What is the projected tax rate? 33 cents per $100.00 of assessed valuation. Most homeowners will pay great ones achieved by the Or-ange and Black in its interschol-astic sports competition. It was definit goal tending by Hicksville's Ron Greguski that kept the Comets in the running. East Meadow came on in a storm as the game started and swept to two early goals. Hicksville was mirred in the first period but Greguski, he had 13 saves in the game, turned back diffi-cult shots that would have paved the way for an East Meadow rout. Greguski's stand enabled coach Bill Meyer to organize his club and set the stage for a scoring attack generated by the capable Rich Kowalchuk. With the Orange down 0-2 it was kowalchuk who rushed in with a balzing solo effort at siz3 of the second period. In the last minute of the half he caught Pat Dowling cutting across and he nailed him with a quick pass. Dowling flipped it into the nets and the score was 2-2 at half-time. Traffic Light At Merry Lane

You've just got to admit that e Traffic Control Division in the Traffic Control Division in Albany, New York set some kind of record for the installation of a traffic light. Ladies and new trainc light. Ladtes and gentlemen, parents of young ones, we speak today of the new traffic control signal on the corner of Merry Lane and Jericho Turnpike. Last July there Jericho Turnpike. Last July there was a fatal automobile accident involving a thriteen year old resident of Jericho. A letter was immediately sent to Albany by the Library Board of Trustees, and the parents of the child. Petitions were drawn up by the Library and circulated for signatures. The head of the Traffic Control Division was contacted along with County Executive Nickerson and Governor Rockefeller. Four months later the first word arrived. In essence it said that the Traffic Control Division has reviewed the situation at that reviewed the situation at that corner and the points made in the various communications regarding the necessity for the traffic light. The light would be installed but no date could be

Carbon copies of letters sent by various departments and private various departments and private individuals aliced through the mail-slot at the Library. The file got thicker and thicker as the traffic at the corner became more impossible and more dangerous each day. The parent of the fatally injured child fired off another letter to the Governor. Action! In what must be a new record for this over-hurdanad record for this over-burdened department the trucks began to arrive and great gaping holes appeared in the oddest places. They seemed so unrelated to the installation of the traffic light that for weeks speculation was rampant, leaning heavily to the installation of sewers that rightly belonged somewhere in Sulfolk County. The trucks disappeared. We thought they'd discovered were slinking away, hoping the great gouges in the road would go unnoticed until the Spring rains. Then one violently rainy day a crew with two trucks arrived; Then one violently rainy day a crew with two trucks arrived; one truck bearing two aluminum, phallic-type supports, on its bed. One crew took one pole and banged the devil out of it on the north side of Jericho while the second crew did likewise to its mate on the south side. Large metal plates appeared over a deep hole in the sidewalk that heretofore had gone unnoticed. Once again the trucks disap-peared. Days of suspenseful waiting passed. Obviously these men find it difficult to work in any weather other than a torrential downpour. The very next rainstorm found the boys back on the corner, trailing lakes next rainstorm found the boys back on the corner, trailing lakes and waterfalls, cables, and (at last) several traffic control signals. All are in good working order. They function well and in the same way most traffic lights do for six of the seven days. On Sunday they blink red coming out of Merry Lane, and caution on the of Merry Lane, and caution on the Turnpike. It's still a corner to be dealt with very carefully. Approach it with apprehension. Warn your children to use utmost caution in crossing Jericho at this juncture. We wish to thank all those people who helped to bring about the addition of the traffic light to the Library's corner. We pray that no other accident will occur at this dangerous intersection. Residents of Jericho Park should Residents of Jericho Park should find it a good deal simpler to leave their development now that a break in the traffic flow will occur regularly. Good things come in enormous packages.

Traffic Signals Installed

The traffic signal installation The traine signal mistantion al the intersection of Merry Lane and Jericho Turnpike is finally a reality. After eight months, the combined effortis of the Jericho Public Library, the Birchwood Civic Association and two local officialis Assemblyman Ion Civic Association and two local officials. Assemblyman Joe Reilly and Councilman Ralph Diamond, came to fruition on Thursday. April 3rd, when 4 sets of lights began operation. This is the second set of traffic signals which have been installed in the East Birchwood area in the past 5 months; a set of lights at Robbins Lane and Birchwood Park Drive was erected last issue of July 25th, together with two pictures of the accident scene. Then, shortly thereafter, the Library wrote to the Com-missioner of Motor Vehicles at Albany about the accident and circulated petitions in the area calling for the installation of a traffic light. At the same time, the B.C.A., through its Health. Welfare and Safety Committee, requested the State Department of Public Works to conduct a traffic survey at the intersection as its initial move for the even-tual erection of the signal light. Both of these actions were reported in the August 8th Villager. issue of July 25th, together with Villager. Then, an alert reporter of the the leading Suffolk Sun, the leading newspaper of Suffolk County, read both Yillager articles and sensed a good story. Inasmuch as sensed a good story. Inasmuch as the Sun was looking for expanded Nassau County news coverage, Jim Swartz, staff writer of that newspaper, contacted Hy York, president of the Library board, Harry Seaton, Chairman of the B.C.A. Health, Welfare and Safety Committee, and your Villager editor. The result was a feature article on nage 1 of the feature article on page 1 of the Sun on August 16th. Swartz also contacted the State Department of Public Works and the State Department of Transportation to press the issue. Long Island's largest newspaper, Newsday, which had been "scooped" by the Sun's article, finally got moving and printed a report of the situationon the following day, August 17th. Reporter Swartz kept on top of everything and on September 4th advised your editor that John McGrellis, District Engineer of the State Department of Tran-sportation, had recommended that Albany approve installation of a traffic signal at the Merry Lane intersection.
