Sec. Related To Oscar Nominee

Harriet Carlin is a Secretary at John F. Kennedy High School, in Plainview. She informed the Herald that she is the sister-in-law of Lynn Carlin who won an Academy Award nomination for Best Supporting Actress in FACES for 1969. It was her first acting experience.

Lynn Carlin was working as a secretary at Screen Gems in Los Angeles. John Cassavetes, the producer, became friendly with her boss because he had taken a suite of offices near hers, and casually asked if she would read for a part in a picture called "Faces". She won the part, but was fired from her secretarial job because she spent too much time rehearsing. She had never acted professionally before. Needless to say, the Oscar nomination has given her instant industry recognition.

Lynn is the mother of two children, Daniel 4, and Ansley, 2. They just moved into a lovely new home in Toluca Lake, California. Her husband is head of an advertising agency in California.

Lynn appeared on "Tuesday Night at the Movies" on December 16th on Channel 4, and also appeared in a segment of "Marcus Welby, M.D." as well as a segment of "Medical Center." Her next motion picture is starring with James Brown, Arthur Kennedy and Fredric March, called "Tick, Tick, Tick," (the story of a negro elected to the office of Sheriff in a southern town.)

Harriet Carlin and her husband, here in Plainview, are very proud of their sister-in-law's success. Harriet Carlin's specialty is needlepoint, for which she is renowned in Plainview, and of which one-half dozen framed pictures have been on display in the lobby of a local theatre.

Dear Friends

CHRISTMAS 1969 and all its delightful traditions and ceremonies is now a memory, but we'd like to add just one more happening connected with this season. This year at Manetto Hill School, members of the total staff, instead of exchanging various holiday gifts, gave this money to a children's charity which was selected by the staff. They selected the children of Biafra. So, off the "gift" money went to help feed those far away whose need right now is so great.

THE SPIRIT IN WHICH THIS WAS DONE reminds me of the aims of the new organization named FISH, who are organizing in all areas of the County, to help those in the areas who need any kind of assistance (except financial). So, if you are interested in participating in this new organization contact your Pastor, Minister or Priest. . . he'll tell you how to go about it. There is one here in the Hicksville-Plainview areas.

A FINAL CHRISTMAS REPORT ON OUR EXCELLENT POST OFFICE. . . Post master Ralph ascende told us today that all mail received by Tuesday, Dec. 23rd was delivered in time for Christmas. "This was made possible by our patrons cooperation in mailing early and using ZIP codes," said Mr. Cascardo. "Not only that, but for the first time in the history of the Hicksville Post Office, well in excess of one million Christmas stamps were sold," he concluded. How about that? I'm very proud of our post office and feel that they are doing an excellent job under the leadership of Mr. Cascardo, who came up through the ranks and really takes his job very seriously. You have a great group of employees helping you too, Ralph, which I know you are aware of. The best for 1970 to all of you!

ARE YOU MAKING ANY NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS? We are, but ours is a continuing one. . . we will try each week to see that THE HERALD covers more and more and more local news for our fine subscribers. . . and we hope you'll all help us to do this.

THAT'S ALL FOR THIS WEEK, we close with best wishes for a Happy New Year to all,

Sincerely,
SHEILA H. NOETH

Local Athlete Making Good

Bruce David Cerone of Hicksville says, "I'm going to play professional football." And you believe him.

The Kansas State Teachers College split end holds practically every record for college ends. Last year he led the nation in pass receiving with 91 catches for 1,479 yards and 15 touchdowns. He also broke three national NAIA records for most receptions, yards gained in a season and pass receiving average per game. On the basis of those feats he was selected first team Little All-American for both the NAIA and NCAA small college division while playing for KSTC in Emporia.

"I don't want to think there is an end in college football today that is any better than I am," Cerone says.

He is an intense individual but in a quiet sort of way. He demands perfection for himself and is never satisfied with anything less. "You don't become Number One in the nation by making excuses or by not giving your best," he comments.

The pro requirements of size and speed don't seem to bother Cerone in his drive to become a professional football end. At 5'11" and 193 pounds, he has surprising strength and he has cut almost one full second off his 40-yard dash time from last year.

"I'm not very big," he admits, "but after working with weight lifting, my strength has vastly improved. Many of my receptions have come when I've had to fight for the ball and strength has been the difference between a reception and an interception."

Pro scouts have watched Cerone and were concerned last year about his speed. "I was only running the 40-yard dash in 5.3 seconds," he talked with coach Phil Delavan (track coach at the Kansas State Teachers College and a coach on the U.S. Olympic team) who worked with him. He now runs the same distance in 4.5 seconds.

"Night after night, from the time football season ended until the beginning of this season I ran, ran, ran. Coach Delavan was wonderful. He didn't have to take time to show me what to do and he was so busy with the cross country and regular track teams," Cerone ran 110 yard dashes, high stepping all the way, for two hours every night. "I hated it. It was the most painful thing I've ever had to do but the end results have been worth it."

While in high school, Cerone played football, thought about what he was going to do after school, or on the weekend. After school, he worked part-time as a plumber's helper. He had no thoughts of college, and after graduation worked a year in the same job.

There were offers from several colleges to play football, but he just didn't know. He asked his high school coach, Mr. Stan Kellner—a basketball coach at that—to handle everything for him. The best offers came from New Mexico Highlands, and from Yankton, South Dakota. "My grades weren't good enough to attend a large institution."

After phone conversations with Head Coach Ron Blaylock at Yankton, Kellner thought Cerone could do very well there.

"Before I left, I told my father I was going to make the team the first year. He laughed and said to be thankful I was getting the opportunity to play and to attend college. Then I told him I was going to make all-conference my freshman year. He laughed again."

The rest is history. Cerone was ranked 15th nationally in scoring his freshman year and was third in pass receptions (yardage) his sophomore year.

Blaylock, the man he had grown to love and respect, left at the end of Cerone's freshman year, to become Head Football Coach at KSTC. Cerone continued to play at Yankton because coach Al Kouneski was there. Then Kouneski left to join Blaylock.

"Then I decided I wanted to play football at a big school. The people at Yankton had been very good to me, and I was grateful for all they had done. But I wanted to move to a bigger league."

"Coach Blaylock was at KSTC, and he said he would have a place for me," Cerone laid out a year, red-shirted. He watched the games from the press box in agony and anxiety, wanting to be down on the field playing. He had to be content just to sit and watch.

"That was the worst year of my life. I'll never advise anyone who wants to play football as much as I did to lay out a year. But, at the same time, it really helped me. I watched films and I learned and my desire to play increased."

What about playing professional football? Is it really possible?

"I am going to play pro ball. The one thing pro clubs are looking for is someone who can catch the football and that is my talent. Some people have great musical talent or become famous writers, but my talent is catching footballs."

"Ray Berry (of the Baltimore Colts) is the greatest receiver ever in professional football. He got there even though he was a little slower and smaller than some of the big ends in the game at the time. He got to be the best by working long hours and perfecting his moves. That's what gives me hope—I can move well now and with increased strength and speed I think I can make it with any professional club."

Cerone was indeed offered an opportunity to play for the Continental League this year. He decided, however, that he should finish his college education first.

"It's so easy to say that you can come back to get your degree, but then how many really do? Money was another reason. With scouts from both the AFL and the NFL looking at him there is every possibility that he will be offered a bonus and good sized contract to sign."

Meanwhile Cerone continues to play college football. Although faced by adversity this season, he continued to make fantastic catches, set records, score touchdowns and pile up yardage. He scored 13 touchdowns, made 77 receptions and gained 1,315 yards this season in nine games for an average of 146 yards per game. He will start at split end for the North squad in the annual North-South Shrine All Star game to be televised nationally on December 25 by ABC.

But those statistics have not come without some difficulty. First there were key injuries to both the offensive line and KSTC's top quarterback, Bob Leahy, who broke his hand. "We are a combination," Cerone says. "Bob and I worked for hours after practice and during the off season, perfecting pass patterns, learning to anticipate each other."

Then Leahy was declared ineligible under a retroactive rules change by the NAIA concerning the number of college credit hours that constitute a semester in determining an athlete's eligibility.

As if that wasn't enough, the squad played in a freezing snow blizzard in Pueblo, Colorado, in a game almost reminiscent of the Dallas-Green Bay game of a few years ago. It was impossible for junior quarterback Bob Janesko to throw the ball, let alone have anybody catch it. But Cerone did catch two that day, in a losing cause.

One believes that if determination, talent, and college playing experience determine who will be tomorrow's pro football stars, then he also believes that Bruce David Cerone will be taking somebody's place in the Sunday starting squads.

The Hicksville bid for its biggest prestige victory in two decades was repulsed by Uniondale, 45-40, on the victors home court.

The Comets entered the lair of Nassau's most distinguished basketball school in a cool and deliberate manner. The composition lasted 12 minutes until the Orange became heated, unsure, frazzled, cool, dogged and finally panic-stricken.

Hicksville worked surely to split the famed zone defense of Uniondale. The rapid passing lead to for crisp shots from the corner by Rich Miracola which lead to a 21-12 Comet lead midway in the second period.

At that point coach Buddy Bryan had to lift center Don Massey from the contest. He had been tagged with his third personal foul.

With Massey on the bench Uniondale stormed in 16 points to one for Hicksville and the half-time advantage belonged to the hosts, 27-22.

Uniondale's trademark of firmness prevailed in the third period. The fourth quarter started with Hicksville down 39-28.

The South Shore school stuck with its style in the last eight minutes. It strove for absolute ball control calculating the holding would frustrate and torment Hicksville into errors.

Instead The Comets went after the ball and stole it eight times.

When possession was attained Hicksville split the zone again with snappy passing. Massey was found twice in the corner all alone and he netted a brace of baskets.

Continuing to overload one side

Hicksville had Joe Zuckerman strike from underneath. Paul Masciello and Rich Berg countered from the key and the score stood 43-40 with three minutes and 5 seconds remaining.

As coach Bryan implored his chargers to proceed with patience, Hicksville suddenly lost its head completely.

Massey was free in the corner but a cross court pass instead of a circle of the zone's perimeter resulted in an intercepted pass on a Uniondale basket.

In the final minutes Hicksville

BOB ULLRICH: a 6-4 junior is expected to see a lot of action for the Marist College varsity basketball team this year. Bob has played freshman ball at Marist and last year as a sub he averaged around 5 points per game.

A late bloomer, Bob has improved tremendously over the past few years. He is one of those rare ballplayers who didn't make the varsity team in high school, but will see a lot of action this year at Marist.

Ullrich possesses a fine turn around jump shot and he can be used at either center or forward. He will probably be the first substitute if he doesn't gain a starting berth. A smart ballplayer, Bob is just realizing his potential this year. He is tough off the boards and a solid defensive player. He fools opponents with his shooting, but he is always around the basket and especially tough from the key area.

Bob is active on campus at Marist and is a mathematics major. He lives in Hicksville, with his parents. The Marist basketball season will depend heavily on Bob Ullrich.

To Head March Of Dimes

The March of Dimes fund-raising campaign to prevent birth defects will benefit from first-string leadership, according to Mr. Ray Heatherton, 1970 campaign chairman.

Named as community campaign directors were Mr. Rudy Bouse of Hicksville and Mrs. Martin Weinberg of Old Bethpage.

"Mr. Bouse and Mrs. Weinberg bring to the drive a wide measure of skills, talents and experience," Mr. Heatherton said. "Such people represent a community force that is essential to the year-round success of our programs."

The March of Dimes helps to support more than 100 Birth Defect Centers across the country, including the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at the North Shore Hospital.

Research projects into the causes, cures and prevention of birth defects are carried on throughout this network, as are treatment for thousands of small patients, and professional and public health education programs.

"It should be noted here," said Mr. Heatherton, "that campaign contributions from our state directly benefit our own centers."

The 24-hour schoolday.

It's happening at the Tenth Avenue Plant Training School for New York Telephone. The 24-hour schoolday. Classes round the clock five days a week. And Saturday and Sunday classes, too.

Here, new recruits learn telephone installation, repair, splicing and frame operation, as well as other types of basic skills needed to maintain and expand telephone communications.

This year alone, we've added almost 4,000 plant craftsmen in the metropolitan New York area... 6,000 since the beginning of 1968. The number directly responsible for installation and maintenance of equipment downstate is now more than 23,000.

Incidentally, we're far from finished hiring. If you have mechanical ability and want a job with a future, stop in at the nearest telephone employment office listed under "New York Telephone" in your phone book, or call (212) 370-3700.

There's still a big job to be done. And it's up to New York Telephone people—the thousands already on the job and those coming out of training school every week—to get it done as quickly as possible.

Ramblin' Rose

By Rosemary Walsh

Ramblin' Rose is really ramblin' again—along with 48 enthusiastic skiers we are up in beautiful frozen northern New York. Yesterday was spent at Gore mountain and last evening and today at White Face in snow-covered Lake Placid. If you think we had snow last week-end in Hicksville—would you believe 30 inches up here?

While I ramble 'round here our courtsters scrambled out for the Annual Holiday Tour-namment. The winners in the first round were Woodland, Dutch, Fork and Lee. These teams will now move into the semi-finals as we write this. The finals will be held this coming Saturday, January 3, after which we hope you have celebrated a Happy New Year!

After our Tournament was played there was the "Time Out For Christmas" performance which was a warm success.

Well—I must ski away now—Happy New Year!

On Friday, January 2nd, Screen Features for Teens will present a showing of one of Danny Kaye's best comedies, "The Court Jester" co-starring Basil Rathbone, Angela Lansbury and Glynis Johns. Time: 3:00 p.m. This is the story of Hubert Hawkins, an ex-circus clown, who joins a band of outlaws attempting to oust the tyrant King and replace him with the true King. Misadventures befall Hubert, until he is suddenly knighted, and the tyrant King is overthrown. This is one of Danny Kaye's most popular films. In addition, "The Time Piece" - a sophisticated comedy short will be shown.

The Children's Story Hour will be held as usual on Friday, at 4:00 p.m.

A film for children will be shown on Saturday, January 3rd, at 2:00 p.m. entitled "The Dog of Flanders" starring David Ladd, Donald Crisp and Theodore Bikel. This is a story of how a twelve year old Belgian lad of the 1830's and his lame grandfather nurse back to health a dog left to die by a cruel drunken peddler. This is a heart-warming story that appeals to a wide age range.

Tickets are not required for the teen film, but are required and available at the main desk for "The Dog of Flanders."

LIBRARY NOTES

MULTIVOLUME SPECIAL ENCYCLOPEDIAS, OLD AND NEW

As well as the general encyclopedias, the BRITANNICA, the AMERICANA, the WORLD BOOK etc., the library also maintains special encyclopedias. These are encyclopedias that confine themselves to special subject fields or that are written from a special point of view.

Most of these special encyclopedias are one, two or three volume affairs. There are others, however, that run to many volumes.

For example, the NEW CATHOLIC ENCYCLOPEDIA, published in 1967, consists of 15 volumes. Although it concentrates, of course, on Catholic subjects, its range is broad and there are also many articles on secular subjects from a Catholic viewpoint. The NEW CATHOLIC ENCYCLOPEDIA supercedes to a great extent the CATHOLIC ENCYCLOPEDIA, published early in the century, but not entirely. So we keep both sets on the reference shelves.

Other multivolume religious encyclopedias, of excellent quality although of considerable vintage, include the JEWISH ENCYCLOPEDIA and the NEW SCHAFF-HERZOG ENCYCLOPEDIA OF RELIGIOUS KNOWLEDGE (Protestant). Each of these encyclopedias consists of more than ten volumes.

Another vintage religious encyclopedia, but broader in scope, is Hastings' ENCYCLOPEDIA OF RELIGION AND ETHICS, 13 volumes, the classic in its field. This encyclopedia has wonderful background articles on, for example, moral issues, dealt with both historically and comparatively.

Certain subjects in Hastings' may find updated interpretations in the new ENCYCLOPEDIA OF PHILOSOPHY, 8 volumes, 1967. This encyclopedia takes a broad conception of its field, expounds on subjects marginal as well as central to philosophy and is generally enlightening and lucid on subjects that are often basically abstruse.

A similarly relaxed attitude is apparent in the broad scope and informative nature of the long articles in the old ENCYCLOPEDIA OF THE SOCIAL SCIENCES, 16 volumes, 1930-34. By design, this is not true of the new INTERNATIONAL ENCYCLOPEDIA OF THE SOCIAL SCIENCES, 17 volumes, 1968, which is more rigorous, more professional, more "objective" and "scientific" and therefore more directed to the scholar and the relatively advanced student. For this reason, it can be said that the new encyclopedia complements rather than supplements the older one.

The best multivolume encyclopedia for adults in the general science field is undoubtedly the MCGRAW-HILL ENCYCLOPEDIA OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY, the second edition of which came out in 1966. It is kept up to date by yearbooks and is written so that non-scientists can understand it without feeling that they are being written down to.

In the arts the great encyclopedia is the ENCYCLOPEDIA OF WORLD ART, the 1st volume of which was published in 1959 and the 15th and last in 1968. This is a work of tremendous scope, with articles that are of appeal to the layman as well as the specialist.

FOR THE RESIDENTS AT BIRCHWOOD PARK AT JERICHO

Organizational, community and general interest news should be submitted typewritten or printed, double-spaced, in duplicate. Either drop off or mail to Editor, 13 Millpond Street, Jericho. Deadline for insertion Monday noon. Telephone WE 8-1965.

BCA Letter Regarding Jericho CC Downzoning

Printed, in its entirety, is the letter recently sent to the Town Board of Oyster Bay by the Board of Directors of the Birchwood Civic Association, regarding the request placed before the Town Board for the downzoning of the Jericho Country Club property.

Town Board
 Oyster Bay
 New York

Gentlemen:

The Board of Directors of the Birchwood Civic Association at Jericho, representing one thousand families, opposes strenuously the request for downzoning from "Residential C" the property located on Jericho Turnpike just east of Merry Lane, known as the Jericho Country Club.

Our opposition to this downzoning reflects, in our opinion, the sentiment of the majority of the residents of Birchwood Park. We believe this opposition is valid, logical, and practical.

1. The property, because of its location, size, and shape, can be developed successfully as a residential area.
2. Commercial structures of any type that we can envisage would negatively affect the resale values of homes in the immediate area.
3. Downzoning would open the way for additional downzoning, turning the "green belt" of Jericho Turnpike into a row of office structures stretched above Jericho and visible from much of the residential areas of Jericho. A traffic created by the anticipated building complex would further aggravate a traffic situation which is bad now and already committed to becoming worse.

Therefore, we urge the Town Board of Oyster Bay to preserve the existing "Residential C" zoning.

Cordially,
 Donald Becker
 President

Former Israeli Arab Rep Slated By Temple

Mr. Bastuni, a former Arab representative to the Israel Parliament who is visiting this country, has been invited to address the congregation of Temple Or Elohim at an Oneg Shabbat discussion on Friday night, January 16th. Mr. Bastuni has addressed a number of groups since arriving in the United States and has been saluted for his intelligent discussion of the problem now facing Israel and the Arab countries.

Since there is a great interest in the condition of the more than 1,000,000 Arabs under Israeli control, as well as treatment of the Arab refugee problem, this discussion comes at a timely moment. A question and answer period will be held after the presentation and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Ten Pin Talk

By Henry Dockswell

This article was scheduled for last week's edition but due to the advanced deadline, it could not appear.

What some guys won't do for money! Take Phil Wasserman and Dick Wolfeld for instance. No sooner did League President Irv Simes announce that "Tonight, first prize of a $20.00 gift certificate for Lorrys will be given to the man bowling the highest game including his handicap and a second prize of a $10.00 gift certificate to Lorrys will be given to the man bowling the second highest game including his handicap," then they both went out and locked up both prizes in the very first game. Phil was the hungerier of the two. He blasted a 255 to take over Hi Game of the year, and, added to his handicap of 32 easily locked up the 20.00 prize with a 297. Dick's appetite brought him a beautiful 225, which, added to his handicap of 48 gave him a 273 and the $10.00 prize.

Next week there will be two more prizes: for highest individual series including handicap and second highest series including handicap. The week following will have prizes for Highest Individual Game and Highest Individual Series both including handicap. The final week of prizes will be the last week of our First Half and the team lat racks up the Highest Team Series will win the one prize given away that night.

The only sour note for both Phil and Dick was that not only were each of their respective teams beaten on the night but the game in which they threw their big ones was also lost. The Hy Shapros (Phil's team) lost that first one to the Sid Holtzmans when Mel Corwin blasted a 227 and the rest of the Holtzmans came through. And even though Capt. Hy cracked a 201 in the last game the Holtzmans won 7-4. Dick's big one was not enough for the Simes crew and they lost to the Bill Sussmans 6-5.

Last week's goats, the Leo Geyers, who bowled a team game total of 650 (including a 33 pin spot) redeemed themselves this week by shutting out the Lew Marks' and setting a new Hi Team Hdcp Series of 2665. Les Goldstein fired a 201, Cap't. Leo rolled a 200 and even though Lou Vladem boomed a 234 (he had a 611 series) for the Marks' the Geyers were too hot. The Geyers took over 2nd place and are only 2 1/2 pts. behind the league leading Bill Kellermans.

The Murray Kowlowitzs are in 3rd place 6 pts. out and the Julie Gershens are in 4th only 6 1/2 pts. behind. It's still a very close race.

Here is a list of the other show-offs of the night: Herb Brody 214, Ralph Diamond 212, Elliot Spencer 211, Dave Mark 210, Norm Ney 208, Hal Goldenberg 203 and Dave Dembart 201.

TRADITIONAL CHRISTMAS. Seventh grade Spanish class students at Syosset's South Woods Junior High School wait for Debbie Maake to break pinatas filled with Christmas candy while teacher Mrs. Mary Bedard looks on. The students constructed their own pinatas, which are a traditional Mexican custom for observing Christmas.

As once again across our vast nation, the Holiday season has settled upon our homes and families, let us reflect on the past, the present and the future, and welcome with joy this season of goodwill towards all men.

The spirit is one which should be present throughout the entire year and this is especially true in these times when all mankind is desirous of peace on earth.

It is in this spirit that we extend to our friends everywhere the hopes for a New Year filled with the meaning and promises of this most special season.

Roslyn Savings Bank Deposit Insurance Raised To $20,000

Deposit insurance at the Roslyn Savings Bank has been increased to $20,000 for each depositor, announced Floyd N. York, Roslyn's president. This increased coverage by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation was made possible by the passage of recent legislation which eliminated the previous limitation of $15,000. The insurance feature is provided through the assessment levied on the individual banks which are members of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Over the years, assessments and revenues have been sufficient to cover operating costs of the Corporation and to build a reserve fund which amounted to $3,749,000,000 as of December 31, 1968.

Roslyn's three savings bank offices are in Roslyn, West Hempstead and Farmingdale.

Long Island Landmark Series

THE WISTERIA HOUSE. Built in 1660, it is said to be the oldest mansion in Oyster Bay. It played its part in the webs of intrigue during the area's hotbed of revolution in 1776. The house got its name from the vines that cover it.

Police Ambulances

Nassau Police Commissioner
Francis B. Looney today advised the residents of Nassau County that eight fully equipped ambulances have been added to the police emergency ambulance fleet.

The new Econoline ambulances are now on patrol in each of the county's eight precincts. They supplement the emergency services rendered by 15 other police ambulances which standby in the precincts and headquarters.

In 1968, the County Police Emergency Ambulance Service

answered 17,017 calls and transported 17,101 injured and other emergency cases to hospitals. To date this year, police transported more than 20,000 emergency cases to local hospitals.

The police emergency ambulance service does not transport patients to hospitals for scheduled operations, observations, or similar medical services. In any medical emergency, however, residents may call their local precinct or police department for police ambulance service.

SPORTS (Continued from Page 5)

had the ball five times but lost it mainly on over dribbling. The contest ended without any additional scoring.

The game had been originally sold out as a night event. It was changed to the afternoon and a rain and sleet storm held attendance to under 400. A fourth of the crowd was comprised of Hicksville fans.

The game concluded the Orange's pre-league campaign.
The 4 won and 2 lost record is respectable. There were those at the outset who thought the best it could be was 2 and 4 at this point.

Hicksville will confront its league schedule in North Shore Section One starting January 4th with an afternoon game at Herricks in Garden City Park.

The championship of the division is already conceded by the experts to powerful Syosset. We can see no reason to dispute that evaluation. Syosset is simply awesome.

The interesting battle will be to see Hicksville and Plainedge fight it out for second place and a tournament berth.

Our selection: Hicksville 66,
Hericks 59.

Driver Ed Taught In Spanish

MR. ROBERT SKLARZ (l) and Mr. Eric Hirst (r) seen with some of the foreign students.

"Pare!", "Vire!", "Cambie!".
These are driving directions that can be heard in Driver Education Car "E" at Hicksville Senior High School these days. A group of Spanish-speaking students in the adult education course is learning to drive safely in the United States.

Eight students, all from the Republic of Columbia, South America have enrolled in the driver education course sponsored by the Board of Education.
The brainchild of Robert Sklarz, social science instructor in the high school and coordinator of the Americanization program for the foreign born, the course will teach the safe handling of a motor vehicle on the highway as well as the necessary information on New York State motor vehicle laws and regulations. When Mr.
Sklarz first had his idea for a driver education course for Spanish speaking residents of Hicksville, he approached Mr.

John Ash, Director of Adult Education for the district. He outlined his plans to him and asked for approval of the plan.
Mr. Ash enlisted the aid of Mrs.
Vera Galante, foreign language supervisor who gave her enthusiastic support. Eight students have enrolled in this initial course. After completion of eight hours of lecture instruction, they will receive eighteen additional hours of instruction in the car. Students are: Miss Clementine Ortiz, Miss Rosalba
Villa, Luis A. Ramirez, Mrs.
Isabel Giraldo, Mr. and Mrs.
Francisco Torres, Mrs. Claire
Herrera and Miss Ligia Flores.
The instructor of the course is Eric A. Hirst of the Hicksville
Senior High School faculty.

Town Offers Ski Trips

Edmund A. Ocker, Majority Leader of the Oyster Bay Town Board, said today that the Town's Department of Recreation and Community Activities would continue its programs of one-day ski trips for junior high school students this winter.

"The Town will sponsor a dozen, one-day trips to the Pocono and Catskill Mountain areas," Ocker said.

The first trip took place on December 20 at 6 a.m. from the Syosset-Woodbury Community Park for junior high school student residing in that district. Trips from that location will continue on the alternating weeks of January 3, 17 and 31 and February 14 and 28.

Ocker said ski trips will leave from the Southedge Junior High in Plainville on January 10 and 24, February 7 and 21 and March 7 for the students in grades 7, 8 and 9 in the Massapequa-Plainville school districts. Approximate departure time is 6 a.m. with an anticipated return at 8:30 p.m. The actual skiing site will be determined by the prevalent weather conditions.

Cost of the trip will be $8.00 for transportation and an extra dollar for mandatory insurance fees. Equipment rental, which is optional, is $4.00. Ski-lift and entrance fees will be extra.

Information concerning these trips can be obtained by contacting the Recreation Department at WA 1-5875. Ski-Trip Supervisor is Leroy S. Frank.

Tobay Offers Skin Diving Course

A course in Skin Diving, one of the nation's fastest growing sports, is being offered to beginners by the Town of Oyster Bay.

The Town's Department of Recreation and Community Activities will begin the program on January 10, for those age 15 and up, at Syosset High School and continue the program for eight sessions with tests being offered at the conclusion.

Besides a $20 registration fee for the eight three-hour sessions, students must be able to swim 600 feet, tread water for 15 consecutive minutes and surface dive to a pool bottom and swim underwater the width of the pool (maximum 50 feet and minimum 25 feet). In addition, a signed doctor's certificate is required.

Felix J. Alfino, Assistant Recreation Director in charge of the program, said the purpose of the course is to acquaint and educate the new diver so he or she may enjoy this booming sport with safety and confidence. The course will cover the use of mask, fins, snorkel, tank diving, rate of ascent, decompression, recompression and regulator operation, etc.

An advanced Scuba Diving program is scheduled to begin on March 21, and students should contact Alfino at 921-5875 for further information.

Plainview JC News

The Plainview Jewish Center is pleased to announce that the Rabbinical Advisory Council of the United Jewish Appeal has chosen its spiritual leader, Rabbi Julius Goldberg, to participate in its second Rabbinical Study Mission to Israel.

The United Jewish Appeal invited 140 rabbis from all over the country to participate in this program. Of the 140, forty are Conservative rabbis and Rabbi Goldberg was one of the forty chosen.

The Rabbinic Study Mission will leave New York on January 4, and will return January 13.

During their stay in Israel, the rabbis will be able to observe new immigrants and see how they are being absorbed into the fabric of Israeli life. When Rabbi Goldberg returns to his own community, he can tell his congregation the facts of every day life as he saw it.

Mr. Albert Fink, President of the Plainview Jewish Center, stated that "the selection of our Rabbi for this mission reflects honor upon him and upon the congregation of the Plainview Jewish Center."

Skate Exchange

Those outgrown ice skates gathering dust in the basement or attic may at last prove useful if residents take advantage of a service offered by the Nassau County Department of Public Works.

"We are aware of the cost of equipping children with ice skates that they rapidly outgrow," said Public Works Commissioner Herbert J. Simins. "So we have set up skate exchange boards at the three County artificial ice rinks." The boards, available for use by County residents free of charge, are located at the Catiague Park rink, Hicksville, Grant Park rink, Hewlett and at Christopher Morley Park rink in Roslyn-North Hills.

Anyone wishing to sell or exchange a pair of skates need only fill out a card and have it posted on the board. The cards will remain up for a period of two weeks or until the advertiser notifies rink personnel that the skates have been sold or exchanged. Those who wish to use the boards and not skate will not be charged rink admission. The skates should not be brought to the rink, Simins pointed out, adding that "any transactions must remain on a personal basis between the owner and the person wishing to obtain skates."
