TOB Leases Court House To Gregory Museum

The Town of Oyster Bay, represented by Mr. Arnold Hauptman, their attorney, recently presented Mr. Gardner Gregory, president of the Gregory Museum Inc., with the lease, for 25 years, to the old Heitz Place Court House in Hicksville. Rental fees for the building were set at $1.00 per year.

Mr. Gregory, Mr. Joseph Catalano, attorney for the museum corporation, Board of Trustee members and various committee chairman met recently to discuss and sign this long awaited document.

The responsibility for completely renovating the court house, which is in a sad state having been abandoned and vandalized over a period of years, lies wholly in the hands of the museum corporation according to the terms of the lease.

Acquisition of this building has been sought so that the museum—operating since 1963 from Mr. Gregory's home—can expand its educational and scientific programs. The larger and historic quarters will enable many more people to take advantage of the activities of the museum which include: teaching courses in mineralogy, geology, and the lapidary arts. It will allow the museum to better display the thousands of unusual specimens of rocks, minerals, butterflies, and moths etc. that to date have brought over 20,000 people to the Gregory home.

In addition to the lease-signing, other business was conducted at this same meeting. Interesting items include the election of Mr. Robert Fischer, assistant district executive of the Nassau County Council of the Boy Scouts of America, to the museum's board of trustees; the appointment of Mr. Kenneth Barnes, Director of the Hicksville Public Library, chairman of the museum's historical committee; and Mrs. Mary Cordier, chairman of the special events committee.

Since this is a non-profit venture many volunteers are needed to serve in a variety of ways to help convert the court house into a museum the people of Hicksville will be proud to call their own. Labor is needed to clean and convert the building; to serve on fund raising and membership committees; and to publicize this very worthy community project.

TOB Denies Two Local Petitions

Exclusive to the Herald
By Nassau News Service
At its executive session on Tuesday, March 24th, the Town Board of Oyster Bay denied two petitions in Hicksville, one to use a building for a fraternity house and the other to construct a two-story office building on West John Street.

The site of the denied-fraternity house is on the east side of Jerusalem Avenue, about 75 feet north of the corner of Old Country Road. At the October 14, 1969 hearing on this, three persons were present to speak in favor of the application for the special permit for use of the structure as a "boarding and lodging house for a fraternity," on the Business G-zoned land. They were Robert Scharing and David Blizard, representing Epsilon Sigma Fraternity; and Father Dominic

K. Giannella, Rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, 124 Jerusalem Avenue.

Opposing were Mrs. Lorraine Corcoran, of Jerusalem Avenue, and William Saltzman, Esq., 120 Old Country Road, representing Rolling Oakes Corp.

Office Building
No one appeared in opposition to petition of Herman Kanfer & Burton Altschuler for a change of zone on the north side of West John Street in the vicinity of Mid-Island Shopping Plaza at its hearing on December 16, 1969. The application requested the change of zone in order to construct a two-story brick and masonry office building on the site. Attorney Eric Roedel of Hicksville represented the applicant. The application was denied Tuesday by the Town Board.

Dear Friends

United For Hicksville

For the past three months, a large group of community leaders, including those from government, education, our churches and temples, all the presidents of local organizations, and, in fact, any concerned and interested citizens, have met, on the first Thursday of each month, not only to hear speakers about current community projects and problems, but also, to ask pertinent questions of the speakers, and, most important of all, to go back to their respective groups with additional knowledge they have received, about their own community.

This group, (and you have all been invited to these meetings) has elected a committee pro-tem to bring back the necessary constitution and by-laws under which they, this proposed Hicksville Community Council might operate. On Thursday, April 2nd, this will be presented for the group's consideration. Then again in May it will be re-read and voted upon. We hope you will be present. Remember, the first Thursday of every month, beginning at 8:30 sharp, our Community Council meetings are scheduled at the Hicksville Library. May we suggest that you put that down on your calendar now and join us?

Each month there will be two or three speakers on important LOCAL subjects and you know how many matters large and small affect our community of Hicksville in the course of each year! Particularly now so much is in the process of being planned for our central business area which can affect not only for our community's future tax structure, but also its appearance and the number of positions available.

Many fine local residents and businessmen are working with our Town Board on the preparatory planning for these major changes to the face of our town. They have already been part of the Hicksville Community Council's program, and as their plans go forward, will be with the Council in the future. Other matters, large and small, put together, make up HICKSVILLE TODAY. And that is what the Hicksville Community Council hopes to bring you information about, so that we will all have a better understanding of local affairs. Come down and join us. The programs are always local and interesting. There are always opportunities to join with others on local projects, if you so desire. And there is also an opportunity to present your own local projects or problems if you want to. Hicksville never needed you more...and your understanding of Hicksville will never be more important to you than right now.

Our Post Office

As you can see by the pictures on page one, along with those throughout our nation, our post office has gone through the first strike in its history. We are glad that it has come to a close and that our postal employees are to receive the raises to which they are entitled. And we are also proud of the way in which our supervisory personnel handled this sensitive situation. For no matter what is right or wrong, the law of the land must be obeyed until it is changed, or the result would be anarchy...which we are sure no one involved

Funeral services have been set for Saturday, March 28, for Nassau County Family Court Judge Michael Petito, a resident of Syosset, who was attacked and shot early Tuesday morning during a vacation in Puerto Rico. Services will be held at 10 A.M. at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, Route 107, in Jericho. Interment will be at Pinelawn Cemetery, E. Farmingdale, following the services.

Mourners may pay their respects to the late Judge Petito on Thursday and Friday, March 26 and 27, at the Beany Funeral Home, Berry Hill Road in Syosset. The visitation hours are 2:00 to 6:00 P.M. and 7:00 to 10:00 P.M.

The 43-year-old jurist, who spent seven years as the first Democratic Presiding Supervisor of the Town of Oyster Bay intended. Anyway, welcome back. Also, we'd like to thank those who helped us to distribute THE HERALD last week. It was a job well done.

Michael Petito

Although we did not know Judge Petito well, we are aware of what a fine public servant he has been for many years and of the tragedy and loss to our Town, which is exceeded only by the great loss to his family. There are really no words to express the sympathy, the shock and the loss experienced at such a tragic occurrence.

Barry Liebowitz

Barry Liebowitz of Hicksville, the American Legion Oratorical Champion of Long Island and Staten Island, placed fourth in the New York State finals competition this past Saturday evening at Pittsford, New York. Handicapped by a cold and confronting equally strong contenders for the championship of the American Legion's Department of New York, Barry was unable to continue his winning streak. Manhattan's Anthony Herring of Loyola High School took the contest and will go on to contend for national honors in three contests this coming month. The winner was presented with a $2500. scholarship.

This contest closes Barry Liebowitz's two years of competition under the sponsorship of the Charles Wagner Post 421. The Hicksville High senior ends his forensic campaigns with a record of six triumphs and two losses, a local record only approximated by Gene Nye in 1957.

We are very proud of Barry's record and his great ability. We are sure he will go far in whatever he chooses to do in the future.

At This Season

All Christians rejoice at this Holy Easter Season and their faith is again renewed as they take part in the services and prayers which bring them to a greater realization of the beliefs upon which their Christian Faith is based. May your Easter be not only happy, but joyous in your renewed faith.

Sincerely,
Sheila H. Noeth

from 1963 through 1969, lived with his wife, Adeline, and their four daughters, Peggy, 13, Barbara, 12, Caroline, 7, and Catherine, 5, on Knollwood Drive in Syosset. The family formerly resided in Plainview.

News came to Town Hall in Oyster Bay shortly before the regular public hearings of the Town Board. The Town Councilmen filed in shortly after 10 A.M.

Supervisor John Burke stated that it was a great sorrow for the people of Oyster Bay to learn the news of the terrible tragedy which had befallen the former Supervisor early that morning. "However," said Mr. Burke, "we have a commitment to hear the matters scheduled before this Board today, and we shall meet that commitment." He later issued a formal statement of tribute and condolences which appears in this newspaper.

IN TRIBUTE

SUPERVISOR JOHN BURKE, Town of Oyster Bay, said:

"I am shocked to learn of the tragic death of Judge Petito. It is an immeasurable loss, not only to his family, but to the people of Oyster Bay and Nassau County to whom he had devoted years of unselfish service. It is an especially tragic loss for those with family problems, to whom Judge Petito had dedicated his efforts in the Family Court. He was a man of great sympathy and human understanding. No man was more ideally suited to be a Family Court Judge. I have known Judge Petito for years and came to know him particularly well in his final months as Supervisor of Oyster Bay, a post in which he served with distinction, good humor and grace. Typical of his interest in good government and people, he spared no effort to help me in many ways to make the transition as his successor, despite numerous other demands on his time.

I would like to extend my deepest sympathies and the condolences of the entire Oyster Bay Town government to Judge Petito's devoted wife, Adeline, and to other members of his family in this time of tragedy.

The Town Board has declared the week of March 24 to March 31 a period of official mourning for former Supervisor Petito. During this time all flags at Town installations will be flown at half staff."

Ramblin' Rose

By Rosemary Walsh

I know that we are amid a Holy Season—leading to a joyous holiday but came the tragic news this morning of the death of a very wonderful and dedicated person, servant of the people—and more than that a dear friend, Mike Petito, has left me with a very heavy heart. I find it hard to write at this time but if you will bear with me I shall make every effort—seems to me I've asked this before, but why oh why? Where are we going? Well, I must not neglect—and we know life must go on. Speaking of giving life, the Nassau County Cerebral Palsy Center is planning a 53 minute march on April 4th and 5th for their Center at Roosevelt—I know you will be generous.

Many things are still buzzing not the least of which is our "Wizard of Oz" Show to be held on April 2nd at the Junior High School Auditorium at 2 P.M., as always admission is free and all are welcome. We hope all the Easter vacationers will come on over.

DR. ALEXANDER R. MULLIGAN, Communication Consultant of Farmingdale, New York, and an Adjunct Professor of Public Speaking at Nassau Community College will present his new demonstration of CREATIVE THINKING for the members of the New York State School Food Service Association when they meet for their Annual State Convention at the Concord Hotel, Kiamesha Lake, New York on April 2, 1970.

Dr. Alexander R. Mulligan has been invited to address the convention members and involve them in CREATIVE PROBLEM-SOLVING as the result of his educational research and practical application of CREATIVE PROBLEM-SOLVING to management and school problems.

Dr. Mulligan's unique presentation will consist of a series of colorful thought provoking slides, and a dynamic demonstration of CREATIVE THINKING which involves the entire audience in "Brainstorming" and "Ideation" sessions.

only other time we had such mass shopping for clothes was just before school—and of course at Christmas with the toys. In my house it now seems all I do is trip over shoes, sneakers, loafers, and chukker boots. I can't even find a pair of patents among them—would you say I'm getting old? Or has the scene changed? Are many of you looking for the right shade of pink in straw to match the pink in the coat?

Well I ramble slowly off wishing you all Happy, Happy Holidays and I still loves ya all!

STONY BROOK SCHOOL SEEKS MEDIC VETS

The School for Allied Health Professions, which opens this August at the State University of New York, Stony Brook, Long Island, will give military medics and corpsmen special consideration for admission to the school this year. The school will offer courses in respiratory therapy and cardio-pulmonary technology in its first year and then expand to other programs the following year.

For further information interested veterans and military personnel should contact: Robert O. Hawkins Jr., Assistant to the Dean of Allied Health Professions, State University of New York, Stony Brook, N.Y. 11790.

V.F.W. WASHINGTON REPORT

DATELINE WASHINGTON: The Army Times, in a recent editorial, called the first session of the 91st Congress, the Ninety Worst.

"What it should have done was not done. What should not have been done was."

It stated that several of the public bills passed last year benefited the legislators. Starting with a 42 percent pay raise for themselves, congressmen voted a costly civilian retirement bill for themselves. They increased their office staffs, provided more free trips home for themselves and increased their telephone allowances.

Asked the Army Times: "And how fared those who have served or are serving their country in war?"

"One can count the service bill on the fingers of one hand and veterans bills on the fingers of the other," it answered.

Well, now that Congress had taken good care of itself during the last session, maybe they will act favorably on impending veterans and servicemen's legislation at hand during this session.

DENTAL CARE: Servicemen who are being asked by Army doctors to wait until after discharge to seek dental care shouldn't count on it too much. A mammoth back-log of applications for dental examinations at VA facilities exists today. The reason for the Army's request for the serviceman to wait for dental care until after discharge, is due to a shortage of dentists in the Army - BUT and a big BUT it is - there is also a shortage of dentists and monies in VA facilities.

The back-log numbers some 25,000 veterans and it is expected to grow to nearly 41,000 in the fiscal year, 1971 - that is unless Congress appropriates a larger budget for dental care.

Hicksville: The Threshold of Change

Central Transportation Facility: What & Where?

Exclusive to the Herald
By Nassau News Service

Article V of this series will appear in two weeks. Next week we will bring you a special message from the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, relevant to "Planning for Hicksville."

This is the fourth in a series of eight articles based on the 48-page brochure, "Hicksville: A Framework for the Future," which is the work of the Hicksville Citizens Advisory Committee for Transportation and Development, working in cooperation with the Nassau County Planning Commission. A follow-up to the present brochure, which is a survey and analysis, will be published in May. Readers are invited to send in comments and queries regarding this series.

The Metropolitan Transit Authority has announced that Hicksville has been designated as the location of a major transportation center, which will be built as part of the second phase of the MTA's comprehensive plan for improvement.

The fact that Hicksville's Railroad Station has the heaviest use of any on Long Island (4,700 commuters daily) was one factor in this decision. Significant, also is the fact that about half this number of commuters come to Hicksville's Rail Road Station from communities other than Hicksville—Plainview, Syosset, Woodbury, Levittown, Jericho, Locust Grove, Bethpage, Brookville area, and Woodbury. Many who would use the Syosset and Bethpage stations are attracted to Hicksville because of better parking facilities, slight fare reduction and more frequent service.

From the point of view of general coming and goings on Long Island, Hicksville is also ideal for a massive and comprehensive transportation complex because of its convenient location as to access roads.

Where to locate this facility, and what it will consist of is the major concern of the Hicksville Citizens Advisory Committee for Transportation and Development, which along with the Nassau County Planning Commission has analyzed these questions.

Four alternate locations were suggested. The first straddles the Long Island Railroad, running west from Newbridge Road between Duffy Avenue and John Street. The advantages of this location is that it utilizes existing station facilities and is located in an area where land is available for expansion.

However, this location presents problems as far as East-West traffic movements are concerned, and is away from central commercial activity. It also serves a minimum of users of the Rail Road station, which, it has been shown, arrive on roads generally from the east.

The second is south of the Long Island Rail Road, running from the Rail Road between Jerusalem Avenue and Broadway to Marie Street. This location is near the commercial center in land available for expansion. However, it omits Newbridge Road as an access artery and presents problems with platform extensions.

The third alternative is bounded on the north by Barclay Street, on the west by Broadway, and on the south by the south arm of the Rail Road's "Y" at this point and Marie Street. This location would serve commuters from the east, and the maximum of all users of the station. In this case, the curve of the track creates engineering problems.

The fourth alternative again straddles the Rail Road, running south from John Street between Newbridge Road and Jerusalem Avenue to Marie Street. This location would allow good cir-ulation patterns in and out and is near the traditional commercial center, but would present problems as far as East-West movements are concerned.

Composite of Choices

The location selected by the planners, although not exactly designated by street boundaries, looks on the map like a composite of these choices. It is horizontal in shape, running well east of the Rail Road's "Y". Including access from Broadway, Jerusalem Avenue and Newbridge Road, it becomes wider from north to south as it goes west, running, by appearances, about to Strong Street.

Nature of the Facility

Buildings such as Grand Central Terminal, Pennsylvania Station, the Port Authority Terminal in New York city are examples of specialized transportation centers with accessory transportation facilities to move people in and out of the center. These facilities contain everything in one structure.

At the suburban level, say planners, a transportation facility should be all encompassing and consist of many coordinated structures, facilities and services. It must provide an area to load and discharge passengers from automobiles, taxis and buses. It must provide waiting space, ticketing facilities, off-street parking. Parking will undoubtedly be on the level, and above and below ground level.

The center must also provide room for facilities serving the needs of transportation. These would be wire services, certain business and personal services—anything that would be helpful and on the spot for commuters and travelers using the transportation facility.

Central Focus

It cannot be over emphasized that this transportation facility is a key factor in the over-all planning of Hicksville's growth. Because of pressures which will be brought to bear on Hicksville by growth on Long Island, the transportation facility must be effectively designed to prepare for tremendous growth in the use of the Hicksville community by Hicksville's own residents and by those from other areas on Long Island.

ST. JOHN CHAPTER 17

VERSES 1 THROUGH 5

THESE WORDS SPAKE JESUS and lifted up His eyes to heaven, and said, "Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify Thee:

"AS THOU HAST given Him power over all flesh, that He should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given Him.

"And this is life eternal, that they might know Thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom Thou hast sent.

"I have glorified Thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do.

"And, now, O Father, glorify Thou me with Thine own self with the glory which I had with Thee before the world was.

Nominations For BCA Submitted

By Art Rosenthal

The Nominating Committee of the Birchwood Civic Association has completed its slate of officers and directors for the coming year, effective with the Annual Installation Night Dinner Dance on Saturday, May 16th.

The B.C.A.'s Constitution requires that the Nominating Committee meet and select members to run, without spelling out how many should be selected to run for the existing vacancies. Therefore, the Nominating Committee felt that only the exact amount of candidates should be selected for the amount of vacancies available.

The officer nominees are, as follows (one year term): President Don Becker; 1st Vice-President Sam Saitz; 2nd Vice-President Art Rosenthal; Financial Secretary Harry Seaton; Treasurer Mike Hauptman; Recording Secretary Annette Brill; Corresponding Secretary Irv Herskowitz.

For members of the Board of Directors to fill the existing vacancies (two year term): Bernice Baiman, Ralph Diamond, Henry Dockswell, Sid Gerchick, Dr. Lester Goldstein, Martin Goodman, Phil Roggen, Lotte Stein and Dick Wolfeld.

The retiring members of the board are Fred Rothman and Dot Petzholt, 1st & 2nd Vice-President; respectively, Aaron Mansbach and Dr. Arthur Meadow, Directors, and Morris Mishkin, Treasurer.

Messrs. Gerchick, Goodman and Roggen and Mrs. Brill represent new faces on the board; all other nominees have previously served on the board in some capacity.

Presently, there are nine other members of the Board of Directors whose terms do not expire until next year: Sy Bruckner, Leo Geyer, Jerry Gold, Arlene Locker, Milton Mensch, Ed Petzholt, Bill Siegel, Bernyce Shimberg and Erwin Soroka.

The slate was submitted to the Board of Directors at its regular monthly meeting held last week at the new Syosset Public Library.

The Constitution of the B.C.A. does provide for other means for any member resident who desires to declare himself (or herself) a candidate. Any resident wishing to run for office needs only to file a petition with 25 names of B.C.A. members expressing that desire and designating the particular office sought. Interested residents can get the necessary information and assistance by contacting the Editor or any Board member.

HIGH STYLE

by Arturo's

It's O.K. to use an electric curling iron to make small curls...but carefully - too much heat scorches hair, breaks it. And use a bit of conditioner first; it will keep hair from frizzing.

Another tip for a big, big lovely eye: instead of drawing line under eye (which can "close up" the eye) stipple tiny dots of eyeliner among lower lashes. Weak fingernails? Use a clipper... It makes a thicker edge, and the nail is less likely to chip or break.

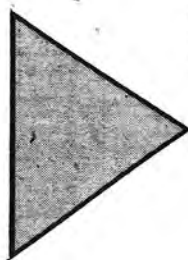

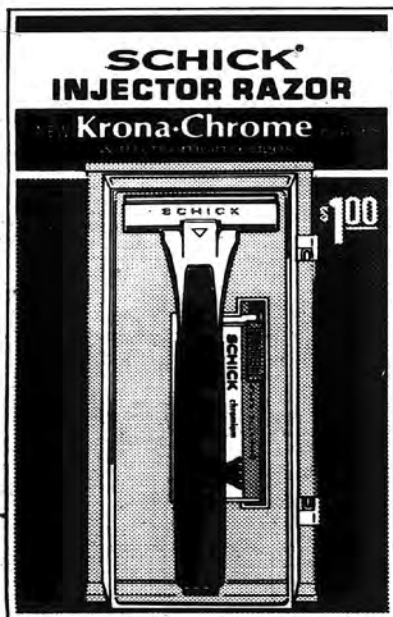

In early centuries, Chinese women went to bed in a face mask made of tea, oil, rice flour... which they scraped off in the morning.

Get a mini-facelift with 15 minutes on a slant board. Blood rushes up through arteries to face and neck. No slant board? Put ironing board against bed, lie down upside down.

makes him think he could sell new homes? Attorney Ballin gave the light mortgage market as a reason, and also the rising costs of materials, which prohibited the developer from selling homes at the price originally set. He mentioned the expense of maintaining an unimproved piece of land as reason to grant permission for improvement of it.

School District Objects
Letters in opposition were received from several parties, including individuals, representatives of Central School District No. 4, the Greater Plainview Civic Association, and the Morton Village Homeowners Association.

The Nassau County Planning Commission sent a communication stating that it had "no comment" to make on the application.

Attorney Marx presented a petition signed by "2300 voters" in the Plainview area. Assembly Ginsberg, zeroed in on burdens suffered by local school districts and the fact that apartments are "foreign to Plainview." He said the apartments would change the complexion of the village to the extent that no one could tell what the future would hold. He asked for a "firm denial" of the application.

Joseph Campanella, attorney representing Central School District No. 2, said that Attorney Ballin was weighing the number of school children in apartments against those in private homes, whereas the school district was "weighing against zero," hoping that no homes or apartments would be built to increase the school population. He said there are about 3,000 children from Kennedy High School and the Junior High School walking in this area, and the school district was also concerned for their safety. He said the district wanted to "avoid the position of having zoning control the operation of the schools."

George B. Beierling, of Edwin S. Voorhees & Son, Massapequa, spoke in behalf of the opposition, saying the development would create "hazardous movements and congestion in the area."

"11-Acre Restaurant"
Arnold Fishman, president of the Greater Plainview Civic Association, said the parcel should be made into an 11-acre restaurant to complement the many other eating places along Old Country Road. Lewis Silverman presented a brief history of the parcel and the area, describing petitions for downzonings and variances which the civic group had fought, winning and losing some. One of these was an application for a garden apartment in 1965, which was denied.

Mr. Silverman read letters from persons who had contracted or inquired into buying homes in the previous 40-home development proposal. The letters showed that the persons had been genuinely interested in purchasing homes in this development, but had been put off by the developer.

Charles Mattingly, of the Old Bethpage Civic Association cited "fallacies in statistics" on the part of the applicant, and said he "never saw an application with less merit except for the shopping center across from my home." Michael Javits, of the Greater Plainview Civic Assn. expressed concern for property values, should the application be granted.

Levity was brought into the opposition's case in the person of Mrs. Rose De Mayo, who said she "never saw a 1.3 child and never hopes to see one," and said likewise about a 1.7 car. Michael Cook spoke in favor of a comprehensive plan and against spot zoning, which he called this case.

Matthew Cummings was the only person in the fairly orderly case for the opposition who had to be cautioned to watch his manners by the Town Board, after he seemed to imply that they weren't familiar with the case. Councilman Ocker took some umbrage in behalf of the Town Board at the implication, and
