Judge Charles H. Stoll, left, the only living original director of the Long Island National Bank, founded in 1917, and William A. Kielmann, right, a founder of the bank, congratulate William E. Koutensky, the bank's president at ceremonies honoring Mr. Koutensky's completion of 50 years of active service to the bank. Judge Stoll is a former director and secretary of the bank and prominent attorney. Mr. Kielmann was the man who hired the young Bill Koutensky way back in June of 1920. In the old days the bank was known as the "farmer's bank." Promotions included lining windows with sheets of $5 bills, a rare sight in those days. Mr. Koutensky started as an assistant cashier. Some of his duties during those early days included: carting coal, cleaning up, taking out ashes, sweeping the sidewalk and emptying all baskets.

Councilman Doolittle Speaks On Town Government and Hicksville

The Ernest Franke Republican Club of Hicksville heard Warren Doolittle, Town Councilman from Hicksville on the Town government and Hicksville. Mr. Doolittle was introduced by Assistant District Attorney Steve Scaring the clubs program chairman. His especial concern was for the recently approved Town Youth Bureau, the planned parking facility near the Hicksville Railroad Station, the recent acquisition of property for a Hicksville Community Park, and the recent appointment of a firm of Master Planners for Oyster Bay.

The Town Youth Bureau will operate in 11 districts, corresponding to the eleven school districts which make up the Township. In each of these districts a council, made up of two representatives from each recognized group in that area, one over 21, and the other below 21. These representatives would have to decide what youth problem they wished to grapple with. The groups within the district would then raise money to pay for expenses which they would have in meeting the problem. Whatever was raised, up to $2500 would be matched by the Town, dollar, for dollar. One-half of this, at the year's end, would be refunded by New York State, permitting fiscal growth for the Youth Bureau. The problem dealt with, and the modes of operation, would be entirely in the hands of the community's representatives, the members of each of the 11 boards—½ of which are young people. Councilman Doolittle in noting this program, also revealed that Supervisor Burke, and the Town Board had asked him to take the key role in implementing the program. Councilman Doolittle noted that the garage facility, on the southside of West John Street should be in operation by autumn of 1971, tripling the number of cars at the site. He also reported that the Town's purchase of the multi-acre site just west of the intersection of Old Country Road and Plainview Road, was being given special priority in the New Master Plan, to develop its recreation potential. Doolittle noted that the recent recommendations of the Hicksville Advisory Committee on Transportation and Development will be being given high priority, as will Hicksville in general in the new master plan which will soon be developed.

Also at the meeting, Miss Carol Budnick, President of the Hicksville Teen Age Republicans reported that the organization was ready itself for campaign activities, and was to have a barbecue on July 17th. Mr. Jerry Trota, Hicksville Republican Executive Leader, announced that on August 1st Republican Headquarters would open, on Old Country across from the International House of Pancakes.

It was also reported that the journal for this year, to be published by the Hicksville Republican Committee already has selected several thousand dollars, and the tickets to the Committee's Cocktail Party are rapidly being sold.

Further Attempts To Reduce Nations Narcotics Problem

Congressman Lester L. Wolff, in a further attempt to reduce the nation's narcotics problem, last week sponsored legislation which authorized the President to suspend military or economic assistance to any country which fails to take appropriate steps to prevent illegal drugs from entering the United States.

In filing this legislation, the Long Island Congressman said: "In far too many instances we are financially assisting countries, which despite our help, have done nothing to curb illegal production of narcotics.

"In the United States, the narcotics problem is virtually of epidemic proportion, yet we have been unable to fight a considerable proportion of this problem due to foreign supplies of drugs. Turkey alone, which receives a $40 million development loan from the U.S., produces 80 percent of illegal opium which finds its way to the U.S.

"Solving the drug problem must be very high on the list of our national priorities. Moreover, it is essential that we impress upon other nations their responsibility in not contributing to this appalling national problem which confronts us."

Under this bill, the President would also be authorized to provide assistance in controlling unlawful narcotic production to countries which require assistance.

"A world-wide effort must be undertaken to bring this problem to a halt," Wolff said.

He added that "every citizen is effected by the narcotics abuse which flourishes in this country. It is, in effect, a national epidemic with world-wide implications.

"This legislation, I am hopeful, will insure that all allies join us in a concentrated effort to end this scourge of society."

New On-The-Job-Training

Governor Rockefeller announced that the State Labor Department's Division of Employment has developed three new on-the-job training programs, under the State Manpower Training Act, to train 12 Nassau and Suffolk Counties persons in skilled occupations. Seven will be hired from the ranks of the unemployed.

A Message From HAD

What can be done in our community to eradicate and prevent this sickness that grows larger every day? Become an active member of Hicksville Against Drugs. Discuss, inquire, help and be helped. Combating drug abuse isn't an easy job. We need each other's concern, talents and knowledge.

Hicksville Against Drugs, Box 405, Hicksville, N.Y., 11802.

In Nassau County, Cabco Corp., Hicksville, is sponsoring a project for four unemployed and four present employees in four different occupations: cabinetmaker, woodworking machine operator, sheetmetal worker and sheetmetal fabricating machine operator. Training will last 26 weeks in each occupation.

Under the State Manpower Training Act, the State will reimburse the firms a total of $7,987 as a portion of the total training costs. The firms will assume the remainder of the costs, including trainee wages.

Employers wanting information on how to establish a job training program may write to the New York State Department of Labor Division of Employment, Office of Manpower Development, State Office Building Campus, Albany, New York, 12201.

On Austerity ... In Roosevelt

Question: How do you feel about the approval of the school budget and the end of austerity in Roosevelt?

MRS. PATRICIA JONES, 140 Mirn Ave., Roosevelt: "I'm relieved, although they had to cut it down to get it passed. The improvement that we will have will be a relief. I am hoping this will be a turning point for budget approval in future years."
MRS. ERLEEN BETHEA, 84

Bainbridge, Roosevelt: "For the most part I am happy that it was passed. I voted for the budget because I know it doesn't make that much difference in our taxes. On the other hand, I think a district like this should show its need for funds. We have an overabundance of foster children and welfare children. Someone other than the taxpayers should be responsible for educating them. I have three children; welfare families often have six, seven or eight. For the kids to go another year on austerity wouldn't be good for them. We're going to have to find a new system to support the schools because it is getting to the point where real estate taxes aren't enough. People can't take the burden. We also have a lot of tax exempt property in Roosevelt."
MRS. FRANCES GOODSON, 236 Beechwood, Roosevelt: "I'm thrilled, but on the other hand, I hope next year they will do better. I am more than happy for my children and the other children of Roosevelt. Last year was hard. I had to drive my child to kindergarten and back every day, and had to pay $10. for textbooks. I can't imagine what textbooks there are in kindergarten."

For a 23-Cent Tax Difference

Roosevelt Found Austerity An Expensive Hardship

Soon after the voters of Hicksville defeated their school budget, a tough year of austerity was ended in the mile-square, five-school community of Roosevelt, when a resubmitted budget of $6,401,781 was passed on July 9th by 1,639 voters.

Austerity turned out to be personally expensive and fraught with hardships for residents of Roosevelt, according to school officials, a P.T.A. spokesman, and several parents.

The margin of 171 votes by which the 1970 budget was passed was ironically the exact number which defeated the first budget of $6,419,781 — $18,000 higher — on June 10th.

The new budget will increase the tax rate by $1.49 to $12.76 per $100. of assessed valuation.

Last year's budget of $5,885,797, which was defeated twice would have raised the tax rate by $3.50. The tax rate did not go up proportionately as much this year because the district has been able to obtain increased State and Federal funds which subsidize a good portion of instructional items on the budget, according to Anthony Stable Assistant Superintendent for Business.

A costly 23 cents

Richard Olcott, Community Relations Director for the Roosevelt Schools, points out that most residents are under the misapprehension that a voted down budget means no increase in taxes. This just isn't so, he says, because 85-90 per cent of any proposed budget is for necessary instructional materials or staff, which are required by law. This part of the budget goes through, and taxes are raised accordingly, whether the voters say "yes" or "no" to the budget.

The additional 10-15 per cent, he says, are non-instructional items which we want least to give up. "Whether the State knows it or not," he says, "the schools render more than just instructional services to their children. There are psychological and social services; community services, and other services which the schools apparently did not render at the time the State Law was formulated."

What, then did austerity mean to Roosevelt? It meant that instead of an increase of $3.50 per $100. of assessed valuation, taxes went up by $3.27 per $100. Therefore, for 23 cents Roosevelt did without school lunches; required parents of all children in Kindergarten through sixth grade to pay $10. per child for textbooks; did with decreased bus service; added no new volumes to its library; could purchase no audio-visual equipment; could not use school facilities for community groups; and, if not for a very active Dad's Club, would have done without after-school athletics.

Finding Ways

Mr. Olcott said, "One benefit of austerity, if indeed any benefit can be found, is that we all became very ingenious in trying to provide what we felt were necessary services which are forbidden by State Law in regard to contingency budgets without actually breaking that law."

Hence, Roosevelt's Dad's club went out and raised $50,000. to support the high school athletic programs. Coaches were paid, but sometimes worked nights and Saturdays on a volunteer basis.

In addition while the schools did not have a hot lunch program, they were able to provide a breakfast program with the help of $20,000. donated by the Long Island Council of Churches, the Catholic Dioceses in Rockville Centre and the American Jewish Committee which made them eligible for government surplus food and other benefits. According to State law, the schools are not permitted to put up the initial money for such a project.

Because of the establishment of grade level schools rather than neighborhood schools, bussing money came from the New York State Integration Fund, so that transporting children was not as big a problem as it might have been. One mother consulted, however, found it a hardship that there was no bus for her kindergarten child, since she had a small baby at home.

Mr. Olcott said the number of children who had to do without lunches under austerity was very small, which was surprising in view of quite a lot of poverty in the community. In cases where children did not have lunch, principals and school nurses had a supply of peanut butter sandwiches or another minimal lunch to tide them through the school day.

Personality Expensive

Mrs. Rose Marie Scoby, knowledgeable and charming President of the Roosevelt P.T.A. Council, said that residents of Roosevelt found austerity more expensive personally than the increase in the tax rate. "Parents with five children in elementary grades has to pay a total of $50. for textbooks. One mother complained that her child broke three thermos bottles in one month and that the cost of 30-35 cents for a school lunch was less than that of putting together a sandwich, milk, fruit and dessert for a box lunch."

Mrs. Scoby expressed concern that because of a year on austerity, the Roosevelt schools would continue to be behind in many areas for some time. When no new books were put into the library in one year, there ought to be twice as many the next year, she said but it doesn't work that way. Other great losses which must be recouped, she said are in the area of audio-visual materials and equipment for the science department.

Mrs. Scoby felt the lack of school lunches was a particular hardship on the high school students. "There are no luncheonettes in the vicinity of the schools which can accommodate a lot of students," she said. They bought potato chips and pretzels and generally "ate a lot of junk," she added.

The lack of the use of the schools for girls scouts boys scouts and other community groups was another great hardship she felt.

"This is an extremely varied community," she said. Not only in ethnic groups and socio-economic status, but purely and simply in the way people think. The district is small but complicated. Remember, it takes in not only Roosevelt but also goes in to part of Freeport and Baldwin Woods. People just don't think the way you'd expect them to."

Concerted Effort

James Galloway, whose appointment as Acting Superintendent of the Roosevelt Schools becomes effective August 1st, was gratified at what he called "a concerted effort on the part of the community to pass the budget." It is a minimal budget he said, but that was not as significant as the change in attitude on the part of the community which brought the people together to get it passed.

Mr. Galloway hoped that this was a sign of continuing solidarity in attitudes for Roosevelt which will help gain improvements in other directions.

During the year of austerity, Mr. Galloway was administrative superintendent to the Superintendent of Schools. He said that austerity placed great limitations on the operations of the schools, but that the help of the community was the determining factor in getting through a very difficult year.

From Our Postmaster...

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount today ordered a new patriotic poster - "This Is Our Flag - Be Proud Of It!" - supplied to all of the nation's post offices.

The poster, developed by the Post Office Department, came to the attention of Government Printing Office officials. They asked for and received permission from the Department to reproduce the poster in quantity for public sale.

The poster measures approximately 11 x 15 inches. It is printed on paperstocks suitable for framing. The poster was done by Randy McDougall, an artist on the Public Information staff at the Post Office Department in Washington.

The wording "This Is Our Flag - Be Proud Of It!" is printed prominently beneath a handsome portrait of the flag in color.

An initial press "run" of 100,000 of the posters has been made to sell at 25 cents each (with lower per copy prices when ordered in quantity). The poster is a "best seller" for GPO, which is predicting total sales will exceed half a million.

In appreciation, Public Printer A.N. Spence presented the 100,000th copy of the poster to Assistant Postmaster General Frank J. Nunlist in an 11:00 a.m. ceremony Thursday (July 2) at the Printing Office.

At the same time, the Postmaster General announced enough copies are being ordered from GPO to supply all post offices.

The poster may be ordered by the public from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Planview Band Wins First Place

"Jeffrey," a four-piece group from Plainview, walked off with first-place in the semifinal round of the Town of Oyster Bay's Battle of the Band contest held at Plainview-Old Bethpage Community Park.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Edmund A. Ocker said that the group, led by Mickey Cernigliaro of 79 Elmwood Street and featuring Rod Morgenstein, Glen Brode and Richie Hinz, would appear in the final round at the Bethpage Community Park on Friday, July 17.

Also entering the finals will be "Opus 70," a seven-piece band featuring Marc Kriegel, Larry Field, Wayne George and Russ Gieselman of Plainview as well as Mike Maisel and Mark Costopoulos of Old Bethpage and Mark Gaude of Hicksville. "Opus 70" finished in second place. Other groups competing but failing to win a berth in the finals were Berlin, Poor Man's Wealth, Soap, Crackle and Pop, Pandemonium Carnival and Green Spots.

Expansion OK For Dentist

At the public meeting of the Oyster Bay Town Board Tuesday, the Board approved the petition of Norman H. and Adele Leefor for a modification of a resolution granting them a special permit use and to extend the existing dental office at the corner of Holyoke Road and South Oyster Bay Road, Hicksville.

No one opposed the petition at its public hearing on April 28.

The recreation program is in full swing. Attendance at the playgrounds is rising each day. Usually, at this point of the season, attendance begins to level off but the late start is causing an opposite effect.

Theatre companies are in full rehearsal, the film workshop is moving out of the planning phase and into shooting, appointments for tennis instruction are coming in and trips are on the move. Many other things are happening. For information please call We 5-9000 extensions 200 and 201.

The highlight for this week-end is the performance of the Stage Band at the Jones Beach Band Shell. It will take place at 4 P.M. on Sunday. Come down and hear some Glenn Miller style music typical of the big band era and cheer for the Hicksville musicians.

Trips scheduled for next week are: Fork and Lee goes to Adventure-Land on Monday; Woodland, East, and Willet are off to Rye Playland on Wednesday; and Dutch and Burns will be at Tobay Beach on Friday. For details check with your local playground leader or give us a call.

It's a pleasure to watch the recreation leaders swing into action starting with the volunteers all the way up to coordinators. Each year more of our former participants find themselves in leader posts. These people have gone through the ranks from student leader and returned armed with college degrees and ended up in leader positions. Steven Weinblatt, Roni Lipton, Joan Cacciola, Bob Winkel, Bruce Duncan and Ruth Bongiovanni are some of them. Some are still in college and are working as assistant leaders such as Pat Foley (who was Miss Kraft until about two weeks ago). Kitty Johnston, Marianne Murray, Janet Ripa, and Barbara and Lois Tedesco. This once more points up that this old Recreation Department is like one big giant family, and like all families really pulls together at a time of crisis. But as I said last week I'm sure that everything will be settled in the end. Loves ya and I sure loves my big old family.

Charles Flood Named Outstanding Senior

Charles Flood, 76 Lantern Road, Hicksville, received the Alumni Association's award for the "Outstanding Male Student" of the Class of June, 1970, during the 51st annual Commencement Exercises which saw a record-breaking number of seniors, 1300, receiving their diplomas.

Besides receiving this singular honor, Mr. Flood also had the distinction of presenting, on behalf of the graduating class, their annual class gift and a farewell salute to the College.

The Hicksville graduate, who received an Associate in Applied Science degree in Community Assistant, has been a most active member of the College community in all aspects of student life. He was a member of the Student Senate in his Freshman year, as well as the first Freshman Vice President of the Senate during the second semester. During his Senior year, he was President of the Student Senate.

He has been on the Dean's List for the last two semesters, a member of the Future Social Workers of America Club, on the Faculty Student Association Board of Directors, as well as a member of Chancellor Gould's student cabinet. He was also Chairman of the 1969 Freshman social Orientation Committee, organizer of Student Senate receiving their diplomas. Charles graduated from the University of N.Y. Agricultural and Technical College in Farmingdale.

For all his hard work, he was elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges for 1969-70. He has represented our college at various state meetings, due to his position as Student Senate President. Besides his work for Senate, he was also involved in other student activities that involved the campus.

As commented by the College President, Dr. Charles W. Laffin, Jr., "Charles Flood has been one of those rare species of students who is always available for campus activity and worked extremely close with the faculty and administrative staff. He served as a wonderful liaison of the Student Body."

LOCAL GRADUATE HONORED: Charles Flood, Hicksville, is shown presenting, on behalf of the Senior Class, its annual award and salute to the College.

Michelle Lorraine Peter of 21 Edgewood Drive, Hicksville, was graduated from Human Resources School in Albertson, in June. A unique school for physically disabled youngsters from pre-school through high school, founded by Henry Viscardi, Jr.

Described in her yearbook as a "look alike for Shirley MacLaine," Michelle was very active in extra-curricular programs such as DECA, National Honor Society and chorus. She was Art Editor of her yearbook and Salutatorian of her class.

Michelle will begin training in the fall at the famed workcenter Abilities Inc. for a career in computer programming. Abilities and Human Resources School are part of Human Resources Center, which also includes a Research and Training Institute for the disabled and retarded.

Among the winners of the fourth annual self-starter challenge grants for the Sophia and William Casey Foundation was Patrina Mannino from Hicksville Junior High School. Patrina is going to use her $200 grant for music and other expenses of a summer choral group for girls.

Other grants were given to Stuart Bender, from Plainview - Old Bethpage H.S., for his project of two sculptured human figures in clay, to be cast in plaster; Marc Drier from Hicksville H.S., for his study of assimilation of underprivileged foreign born children into American society; Pamela Lambert, also from Hicksville H.S., for her research culminating in a projected illustrated manuscript of crafts and games for children; and Valerie Ribaro of Hicksville Junior High School for her creative writing program in which a child learns to express himself.

Church Women Unite

An interested meeting was held at the home of the President Mrs. Harold Shryver of Plainview. It was amazing what had been accomplished for donations and gifts to the Nassau County ill at Kings Park.

Even the Camp Fire Girls from Plainview had a sale, and made gifts, also turned over $16.24 for supplies. This was a splendid gesture.

The Churches represented were, St. Stephen, Parkway Community, St. Francis Episcopalian, Methodist United Hicksville, Redeemer Lutheran, Holy Trinity Episcopal, St. Martin of Tours, Bethpage, Roman Catholic Plainview Methodist, also United Methodist.

This group are planning to entertain 25 patients at Sunken Meadow Beach on July 23.

The members are urged to attend and cooperate to spread sunshine in the lives of these less fortunate and needing the love we can give.

The officers and men of the Hicksville Fire Department wish to remind all our residents, that with Summer upon us and much time spent in relaxation, not to let down your guard in relation to safety. At this time of the year home repairs are in full swing. Please use caution when storing paint and cleaners, use caution and avoid distraction when using electric or power driven tools such as lawn mowers. Hedge clippers, keep your hands clear of the moving parts. Swimming pool owners use care when handling chlorine, no matter what form it is in. This past week a home was damaged as a result of a minor explosion of chlorine when a small amount of water set it off. We cannot stress this enough. This handy, helpful solution can be a killer. Follow instructions on the container. Be on guard when the children are in the pool, be sure someone is there to see that they are safe from accident. Be sure the pool electrical system is protected and properly grounded. Use care when using the liquid char-coal lighter fluid. Don't use on an open fire. Don't use gasoline. Don't play with fireworks. Already this year several people have been crippled or killed playing with fireworks. Stay alert and make this Summer a happy one. And a safe one.

Hicksville Library NOTES

From Aida to Zarzuela, the Beatles to Buxtehude, Albee to Shakespeare, and Judy Collins to Elisabeth Schwarzkopf, — the Music Room at the Hicksville Public Library is jam-packed with goodies for summertime (and all-year-round) listening. With almost two thousand records — covering the complete range of music, poetry, drama, speeches, foreign language lessons, music and more music — the Library offers records to meet any borrower's tastes.

New records (and new copies of older recordings) are added to the collection almost daily, and the Library is always happy to buy records requested by its patrons. Putting in a purchase request assures the borrower of first crack at the record he requests. (Forms can be found on top of the card catalog in the Music Room.) Among the latest entries to the Library's collection are: Judy Collins singing WHO KNOWS WHERE TIME GOES (Pop. W-best appearing department in the 9th Battalion. The Ladies Aux. won 2nd place in competition with the other ladies Aux. of the 9th Batt. The 9th Battalion consists of the following departments: Bethpage, Carle Place, Farmingdale, Hicksville, Jericho, Plainview, Westbury, So. Farmingdale. The Parade was Sat. July 11, the drill was July 12.

The Hicksville Department recently added small flag pins to their official uniforms. Many favorable comments were heard. The "Hicks" Drill team won 3rd place in the motor Hook & Ladder C contest on Saturday at the Annual County Drill, held in Westbury. That drill was won by the Oyster Bay F. D. "Rough Riders". The "Hicks" came in 4th place in the battalion drill held on Sunday winning 1st place in the efficiency and Bucket Brigade contests. The Ladies Aux won 2nd place in the Ladies Bucket Brigade contest. The Battalion Drill was won by the Westbury "Turtles".

This Saturday the local departments will take part in a parade and drill in Oceanside. The drill starts 11 am the parade will start at 7pm.

New Piece of Fire Apparatus Received

The Hicksville Fire Dept. received a new 1,000 gallon per-minute pumper from the Maxim Co. of Mass. The Dept. will begin training this week in the operation of the new pumper. The traditional color of red was not selected. It is all white. It was decided to try this color, as many leading authorities claim white is much more visible to the eye, thus making this an important safety factor. The department already has a white chief's car and a new rescue truck, which will arrive late September, will also be white. As soon as possible we will have a photo of the new pumper published.

THE ANNUAL HOUSE TO HOUSE WELFARE FUND DRIVE IS NOW IN PROGRESS. PLEASE LEND YOUR SUPPORT AND MAIL IN YOUR DONATIONS. THANK YOU.

Operas At Eisenhower

The Lyric Theatre of New York will present six operas at the Eisenhower Park Lakeside Theatre this summer. Public Works Commissioner Herbert J. Simins announced today. The schedule, all on Sunday evenings at 8:30 P.M., is as follows:

- July 26 "Tosca"
 - Aug. 9 "Forzo del Destino"
 - Aug 16 "Madame Butterfly"
- (sponsored by American Consumer Insurance Co.)

Aug. 23 "Aida"

"The Lyric Theatre brought great opera to the Park last year", Simins said. "We welcome this talented troupe back and urge that all opera lovers come out and enjoy these fine voices".

Simins suggested that spectators bring their own blankets and chairs since the demand for seats exceeds the supply.

Choral Society Appoints New Director

The Chairman of the Mineola Choral Society's Candidating Committee, announced the appointment of Richard P. Barry of Hicksville, as the society's director/conductor for its 1970-71 season.

Mr. Barry is presently choirmaster at Hempstead's historic St. George's Episcopal Church, and music director of the Brooklyn Festival Chorus and the St. George Choral Society.

The next program of mixed music under Barry's direction will be held on January 16, 1971. First rehearsal is Monday, September 14 at the Mineola High School on Armstrong Road.

Anyone interested in joining the group may call Mrs. Jane Davis at P17-6700, ext. 726, or just show up at the first gathering.

Senior Citizens Contests Held

Senior Citizens' Horseshoe Pitching and Lawn Bowling Tournaments will be held at the Eisenhower Park Senior Citizens' area during late July and early August.

The Horseshoe Pitching tournament will be held on Saturday and Sunday, July 25 and 26, between the hours of 1 and 5 P.M.

The Lawn Bowling Contest will take place on Saturday and Sunday August 8 and 9, beginning at 10 A.M.

Both events will consist of singles and doubles play with trophies going to the winners in each category.

Applications are now available at the Eisenhower Park Field House.

Retarded Children Visit Raceway

A group of 20 retarded children from the Smithtown Area were recently taken on a Saturday morning to visit the Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury. It was a joint effort between the Joseph F. Lamb Council No. 5723 Knights of Columbus, Plainville, which provided the drivers and cars for transportation, and the "Smithtown Junior Auxiliary for the Help of Retarded Children", which organized the event and had 22 teenagers on hand to care for these children.

The free program, which is provided by the Management of Roosevelt Raceway every Saturday morning for various groups and organizations, included a guided tour of the stables, a program of (8) qualifying races for trotters and pacers and free soda, peanuts, etc.. Many of these children had never seen horses or stables close-up before and they all expressed delight and enjoyment. Needless to say, if a little joy can be brought into the lives of retarded children, then a project such as this is very worthwhile.

Contract Awarded

A $46,250 government contract for electronic supplies has been awarded LAD Electro-Systems, Inc., 7 Commercial St., HICKSVILLE, by the Defense Supply Agency's Defense Electronics Supply Center in Dayton, Ohio.

The contract calls for 50 pulse transformers to be manufactured in accordance with Army Ordnance specifications

Hicksville Bond Drive

The Post Office Department has just completed the 1970 "Savings Bond Campaign" in which all postal employees participated.

The Hicksville Post Office under the guidance of Postmaster Ralph G. Cascardo is proud to announce that 298 employees either signed up for new allotments or increased their present allotments for the purchase of Savings Bonds.

Credit should be given to the employees who unselfishly gave of their time and efforts to serve as bond salesmen.

The theme of the Hicksville Bond Drive was "Go - Go with U.S. Savings Bonds"

Chemical Bank Reports Earnings

Chemical New York Corporation, parent of the $10 billion Chemical Bank, reported record first half 1970 income of $37.1 million before security transactions. This is an increase of 4.6 per cent over the $35.5 million earned during the six month period last year. Per-share earnings rose 4.5 per cent to $2.77 per share, on the average number of shares outstanding, from the $2.65 per share of a year earlier.

Net income, for the six months period after security transactions, was $32.6 million, up 3.6 per cent from the $31.4 million earned a year ago.

Results of the second quarter showed that income before security transactions rose to $18.5 million, a 1.5 per cent gain over the $18.2 million recorded in the comparable period of 1969. Second quarter net income increased 36.9 per cent to $18.4 million from $13.5 million last year. This gain was attributed to substantially smaller losses on the sale of investment securities.

William S. Reschard, chairman of both the holding company and the 147 year-old bank, noted that "virtually all areas of the Corporation's activities continue to post revenue gains over the preceding year."

Total revenues rose 25.4 per cent to $332.7 million from $265.3 million in the first half of 1969. Nearly three-quarters of this increase was represented by an advance of $48.4 million to $248.9 million earned income from loans.

Principally, as a result of higher interest payments, total operating expenses in the first half rose to $274.7 million from $203.8 million. Interest expense amounted to $170.3 million, compared to $116.6 million last year. The cost of borrowed funds needed by the bank to support loan demand eased during the first quarter and then rose somewhat during the second quarter.

The Corporation's total resources were $18.3 billion at June 30 compared with $9.8 billion one year earlier.

Total loans reached $6.2 billion, up from $5.7 billion a year earlier. Total gross deposits rose from $7.8 billion in 1969 to $8.3 billion on June 30, 1970.

These figures are subject to audit.

Jericho Board of Education Report

From Office Of Supt. Of Syosset Schools

June Report Excerpts

Reasoning of new homes east of Route 106 (the Kent, Urin and Bush properties) to attendance at the George A. Jackson Elementary School. Present residents located east of Route 106 will continue to attend the Robert Seaman School. The Board's decision will allow students presently attending Seaman School to continue their education without interruption. New children from the Route 106 area will attend Jackson School, in keeping with the Board's original intent and the Citizens Advisory Committee's recommendations to maintain equal educational facilities and balanced class size at the elementary schools.

Request from Jericho Library Board - The Jericho Public Library Board requested that the Board of Education reject all bids received on June 15, since bid costs are above the AVAILABLE AMOUNT OF FUNDS. The Board therefore rejected all bids pertaining to the construction of the new library building.

Athletic Insurance - The Board adopted a resolution to secure a ten day grace period which will provide insurance coverage for students participating in interscholastic athletics at the beginning of the school year.

Acceptance of Gifts - The Board approved the acceptance of the following gifts: Gift to the Robert Seaman School of a KLH stereo set from the Seaman PTA; gift of a barometer from the 6th graders. Gift to the George A. Jackson School of two gum trees for the front of the Jackson School from the Jackson PTA.

Gift of a Bell and Howell cassette tape recorder presented to the Robert Williams School by the Williams PTA.

Gift of an original oil landscape presented by the Williams' 5th and 6th grade social studies classes; gift of an abstract wood carving of the continents of the world from the Williams' 6th grade class; a check for $759 from the Williams' 6th grade for expenses of a recent outdoor education experience.

Gift of $141 from the Cantiague School 6th graders to help support a young person who is a victim of the Vietnam conflict. The money donated will help defray the costs for Ha Kim for clothing and educational trips. Ha Kim attends the Stony Brook Boys School and his goal is to become a doctor or a teacher.

Gift from Mrs. George Shelton, Vice President of the PTA, of a mimeograph machine for the Jericho High School. Enrollment Report - David Nydyck, Superintendent of Schools, reported that student enrollment for the month of June was 3933, a decrease of three pupils from the previous month.

Correspondence to the Board - Among the communications received by the Board was a letter from Dr. James Collins, Superintendent of Meadowbrook Hospital, in appreciation for the donation of $2300 from the Jericho Junior High School, to be used for the purchase of a Kidney machine. The Board expressed its admiration for the Junior High's action and dedication.

A letter from the American Youth Performs musical organization congratulated both students and the music staff for their part in the success of the recent concert held at Carnegie Hall.

A certificate of appreciation was awarded to the Robert Williams School for participation in the Nassau Music Educators Association's Elementary School Music Festival.

Opening of Summer School: The 1970 summer school session, under the direction of Principal Melvin Fried opened on schedule on July 1st. A new mail-in early registration system and a revised on-site registration procedure proved to be effective in eliminating crowded and disorderly registration procedures which had occurred in previous years.

Registration figures for the 1970 summer session were recorded as follows: 10 subject area courses, 35 academic teachers, 1 librarian, and 23.5 driver-education instructors. 1,096 resident registered students and 276 non-resident students totaling 1,372 enrolled students.

Additional registrants will be added as a result of late registration opportunities offered to students during the first two days of July.

schools by the school nurse teacher. The Nassau County Department of Health will provide all necessary materials, guidance, professional education and supervision.

The specifics for both these programs will be spelled out in greater detail at a later date.

BUSINESS OPERATIONS

LIBRARY CONSTRUCTION: The administration is very unhappy over the progress of the punch-list on the Syosset Public Library. A meeting was held on July 1st with all parties concerned in which it was agreed that the contractor will complete all outstanding items by August 1st, 1970. The District has withheld payment on all outstanding items in order to ensure the satisfactory completion of same. The architect's office and the general contractor have been notified of additions to the punchlist for unsatisfactory items completed since the development of the original punchlist. These items include the landscaping, the seeding, and the painting. A mechanic's lien against the job filed by a subcontractor has been satisfied. It is hoped that completion of the building will be finalized within a thirty-day period.

FACILITIES:

The sanitation audit of Syosset High School has been conducted by the consultant firm of Sanitation Systems, Inc., and their report received by the District. The report outlines methods and procedures in order to improve the standard of housekeeping of Syosset High School.

STATE AID:

The District has been informed by the Board of Cooperative Educational Services that State Aid for services rendered by BOCES will not be paid during the 1969-70 fiscal year. The amount of $70,000 is currently outstanding and will affect our cash balance for the end of the fiscal 1969-70. This matter has been reviewed by BOCES and they have assured us that payment will be received as soon as the State releases the funds. The payment was delayed due to the Department of Audit and Control's questioning the concept of shared programs which took place during the 1967-68 year with school districts on the south shore.

INSTRUCTION GRADUATION STATISTICAL REPORT:

Despite the postponement of graduation exercises from Sunday, June 21st to Tuesday evening, June 23rd, the Syosset High School graduation proved to be a successful and happy occasion. A class of 663 students earned diplomas after having fulfilled local and State requirements. A total of 34 students failed to graduate because of a variety of subject deficiencies. Of this number, 28 are expected to complete graduation requirements as a result of summer school make-up work.

SECONDARY CURRICULUM WORK UNDERWAY:

Summer work has begun in the junior and senior high school subject areas in curriculum development revision. Secondary classroom teachers selected by departmental chairmen are planning academic units in the following areas:

- Junior High School English
- Junior and Senior High School Health
- Cinematography
- Ecology
- Sociology
- Consumer Economics

NEW HEALTH PROGRAMS:

During the 1970-71 school year, two new health programs will be initiated in our school district. One program is designed to detect kidney disease, while the other is aimed at detecting tuberculosis. Both these programs will be voluntary in nature with parental consent a requisite for student participation.

Essentially, the kidney test consists of a home detection kit and a business reply card. The test is a simple one which is administered in the home and the results are forwarded directly to the Kidney Foundation. Where indicated, the Kidney Foundation follows up the results of the test with the parent and the family physician.

The Child Centered Program of Tuberculosis Control involves the use of a time testing procedure which will be administered in our Officers Elected By Syosset Board of Ed.

Mr. Simeon A. Wittenberg was re-elected president of the Syosset Board of Education at the annual organization meeting conducted at South Woods Junior High School on Tuesday, July 7, 1970.

Re-elected vice-president of the Board was Mr. C. Nicholas Penna. Joining the Board were two new trustees elected at the district's annual meeting last May, Mrs. Gertrude Kaplan and Mr. S. Marvin Freeman. Re-elected at that time were Mrs. Alice Willets and Mrs. Elizabeth T. Babeck. Other members of the Board of Education are Messrs. B. William Cooper, Sidney Schachter and Peter W. Naranjo.

Appointments made at the Board's organization meeting include Mrs. Elizabeth Kapstatter as District Clerk; Mrs. Elizabeth Cheshire as Secretary to the Board of Education; Mr. James J. Farven as District Treasurer; Mr. George Pratt as Attorney for the district; Sommerfield, Hermie & Schwartz as Auditors for the district; Mrs. Shirley Dworkin as School District Internal Auditor. The Oyster Bay Guardian was again designated the official newspaper of Central School District No. 2, Syosset.

BCA Director Pass Motion on Minibikes

At its last monthly meeting, the Board of Directors of the Birchwood Civic Association passed the following motion:

Believing that minibikes are dangerous to children and adults, and with the knowledge that their use on public sidewalks and roads is illegal, we intend to initiate an educational campaign by all concerned community organizations and to encourage stricter law enforcement to eliminate this menace to our community.

Reminder to BCA Officials

All Birchwood Civic Association Officers and Directors are requested to be at the Town and Country Diner by 8:45 p.m. for the regular monthly meeting scheduled for Tuesday, July 21st.

If unable to attend, please notify President Don Becker beforehand (681-3069), or contact any other fellow officer.

Boy Scouts Attend Camps

The Nassau County Council Boy Scout Camps opened this past week for the eight week season with a record number of Scouts attending. Camp Wauwepex, the 600 acre camp at Wading River, hosted 750 Cub Scouts and their dads prior to the arrival of 368 Scouts.

Among the troops in Camp are: 508 and 591, Hicksville; and 315, Levittown. The 4100 acre Onteora Scout Reservation at Livingston Manor opened with some Scouts and Leaders from the following Troops: 159, Bethpage; 378, Hicksville; 319, 323 and 513, Levittown; and 432, Plainview.

The second period at both camps opens on Saturday, July 11 with 56 Troops and 1506 Scouts signed up. The 1970 Camp Season will close on August 22.

Semifinals Round of Battle of the Bands

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Warren M. Doolittle announced that a four-piece group, "Lucian Littlefield," captured first place in the Syosset-Woodbury Community Park's semifinal round of the Town's Battle of the Bands contest. "Possum" placed second and will also advance to the finals at Bethpage Community Park on Friday, July 17.

Three Sea Cliff boys, leader Andy D'Amico, Bobby and Steve Levine, and Steve Silverman of Old Brookville, made up the "Lucian" group.

Mark Lubin led three fellow Hicksville teens, Frank Campbell, Christ Nash and Neal Fergesen, to the runner-up spot.

"A Chinese Fantasy" Presented By Teen Repertory Theatre

Tobay Councilman Warren M. Doolittle, announced that the Oyster Bay Teen Repertory Theatre is now mid-way through a schedule of eight performances of "A Chinese Fantasy", at locations throughout the town. The Theatre is sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts Division of the Towns Department of Recreation and Community Activities, is not only a free training ground for talented teens, it is a source of entertainment for children throughout the Town.

The troupe of eight youngsters, under the direction of Marilyn Rosen, a drama coach, are selected at auditions. They attend a twice weekly, two hour class to study acting and stage techniques, practice speech, body and stage movement, improvisation, costume design and the creative writing of their own scripts.

After their final performance of "A Chinese Fantasy", the teens will be completing their final rehearsals for the production of "The Plain Princess", which will be presented in late July and August.

Admission is free to park district residents and show time is 10:30 A.M.

Performances of "A Chinese Fantasy", are scheduled for the Wednesday, July 22 - Cantiague Park, Hicksville.

Doolittle added that special group discussion will be held and chess players will receive lessons from some experts.

For additional details on this program contact Addie Attard, Recreation Supervisor for the Town's Senior Citizens Division at 921-5770

"Country Rock Bar-B-Q"

The "Friends of Waldemar will hold a "Country Rock Bar-B-Q", on the grounds of the Woodbury institute August 9, to benefit the cancer research, cancer detection, and science education programs of the Waldemar Medical Research Foundation.

The Country Rock Bar-B-Q will feature music by the winner of the Battle of the Bands. An art show on the lawn of the Institute will feature paintings by Long Island Artists. The Junior Committee will be in charge of the children's games, fortune telling booths, kiddies rides, puppet show, and "old Bag" auction, cotton candy and a pie eating contest. There will also be Flea Market booths, and keeping in with the country theme, cowboy hats will be given to all attendees.

On the Ladies' Committee as a co-worker, Mrs. Howard Green of Plainview will be one hand and also serving as co-chairman will be Mr. Pat Miola one of Plainview.

Tickets at $5.00 for adults, and $2.50 for children under 12, may be obtained from the Waldemar Medical Research Foundation, Waldemar Road and Sunnyside Boulevard, Woodbury, (506) 433-2500.

Plan Visits For Weekdays

Public Works Commissioner Herbert J. Simins today urged families intending to visit the Old Bethpage restored village this summer to plan their visits for weekdays due to overcrowding on the weekends.

"This past weekend we were forced to turn away people at the village because capacity was reached", Simins said. "Others had to endure long waits. To avoid inconveniencing or disappointing anyone we suggest that, wherever possible, people try to visit during the week. If this is not practical, they should try to arrive early on Saturday or Sunday morning before the crowds."

The restored village, which is open daily from 10 AM to 5 PM, charges $1.50 admission for adults and 75 cents for children under 15.

Childrens Films At Library

Chug! Chug! Chug! Here comes "Mike Mulligan and His Steam Shovel" to the School Children's Special Story Hour at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library Friday, July 17 at 2:00 P.M. The charming film "Little Blue and Little Yellow" will also be shown on the library's silver screen and the story "Madeline and the Bad Hat" told.

"The Golden Fish" will be shown July 24. All Plainview-Old Bethpage 5 to 7 year olds are invited.

Invitation From Easter Seal Day Camp

This year Bonnie Salander from Hicksville and many other physically handicapped children from your neighboring communities will be attending the Easter Seal-sponsored Summer Day Camp on the grounds of Human Resources Center in Albertson. In all, more than 140 severely disabled boys and girls from nursery age through eighth grade attend this remarkable camp.

We would like to thank you and your readers at this time on behalf of these children, and others, who benefit from Nassau Easter Seal programs. Without the enthusiastic support of your newspaper and that of the residents of your community who responded to our mail and volunteer appeals, these children, so in need of this unique camping experience, could not be served.

Despite a set-back caused by this spring's postal strike, our campaign has gone ahead of last year through special events and the efforts of so many groups and individuals who gave their volunteer support to Easter Seal programs.

We hope that you and your readers will plan to visit the Summer Day Camp to see our programs for handicapped children in action. The camp is open from 10:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. June 29th through July 24th. Please telephone me Mrs. Terry Danziger Executive Director, at 747-2700 for a tour reservation.

Girl Scouts Council Opens Resident Camp

On July 11, Mid-Island Council Girl Scouts, Inc. officially opened their new Resident Camp.

Westdale Farm Camp, located on 400 beautiful acres in West Kill, New York, will feature a summer camp for all eligible Scouts under the jurisdiction of Mid-Island Council Girl Scouts, Inc., 395 Central Avenue, Bethpage. Mid-Island Council encompasses fifteen (15) neighborhoods, stretching from Jericho and Syosset on the North to Seaford and Wantagh on the South Shore.

The professional assistance of Planning Associates, 291 Hempstead Avenue, West Hempstead, has resulted in a phased building program which will ultimately provide a year-round camping facility which encompasses all phases of Scouting.

Phase I, to be completed by this summer will serve approximately 250 Girl Scouts and 20 professional and semi-professional staff members embarking on a unique "Girl Planned" summer camp program". Four units and a Staff House will serve as a "base camp" for a wide variety of programming such as nature study, arts and crafts, backpacking, hiking, animal husbandry (a herd of sheep on the property), historic exploration of the area, the arts (music, drama, folk) and an appreciation of our natural resources.

Since Mid-Island Girl Scouts strongly believe camping is an all-year activity, there will be areas for weekend troop camping, sites for winter sports (winterized troop house available), and eventually development of lagoon for boating, pools for swimming, and an amphitheater for entertainment.

The opening of Westdale Farm and the continual development of the site marks the fulfillment of a decision by Mid-Island Council to provide a new Girl Scout Camp which will offer a unique girl planned program to match the challenge of the 70's.

More Hicksville Parking

There was no opposition at the public hearing at the Oyster Bay Town Hall Tuesday when the matter of the expenditure of $4,434,000 for a three-and-a-half tier parking garage came up. The Board unanimously approved the expenditure for the 1,270 commuter garage, on which construction is expected to begin in September. It is expected to be completed in December, 1971.

Mrs. Shirley Lang, of Woodbury, representing the Joint Civic Council questioned methods in keeping parking to Town residents. Supervisor John Burke said it would be run in the same way as the Town's other parking facilities.

The site for the new parking facility, on Duffy Avenue near the railroad station, is presently in use as a 450-car commuter parking field for the Long Island Rail Road's busiest station.

Increasing the present usage of the site by 850 cars, it also brings up the number of Hicksville Parking spots provided by the Town to 2,356, according to Supervisor John W. Burke.

Construction will be in precast, prestressed concrete. The Supervisor explained at the original announcement of plans for the facility that the Town will realize a savings of $1.75 million if it utilizes this modern multi-level construction concept. He said that the purchase of approximately seven acres of land would have to be purchased to accommodate the same number of cars.

Councilman Warren M. Doolittle, of Hicksville, who worked closely with Burke and the consulting engineers, Sidney B. Bowne & Son, on the study, said the additional parking stalls were necessary to meeting anticipated parking needs which will be created when the Hicksville Line is electrified.

Doolittle said the parking proposal had the full support of John Calbreath Burdis, Director of Planning for the Nassau County Planning Commission. "The location of this site and its need is in keeping with the findings the Commission staff has made in its studies of Hicksville," Doolittle said.

"The present plan being developed could easily support additional parking as the future development of Hicksville as a major transportation center continues," Doolittle added.

Burke said the survey showed that 4,700 commuters presently use the Hicksville station each day and that approximately 46 per cent park cars.

"We feel that as many as forty (40) per cent of these pre-7:15 AM commuters will be able to take later trains if the additional parking locations are made available," Burke commented.

Burke said this project is only the first of many steps the Town will be taking in Hicksville. "We are also looking into the possibility of similar multi-level sites in the area of this and other commuter centers and are advocating construction of additional parking facilities by other interested organizations such as the Metropolitan Transportation Authority.

SPORTS

By Howard J. Finnegan

Football news is starting to trickle in. The first is very depressing.

Bruce Cerone won't appear at the training camp of the Minnesota Vikings, who drafted him, to get his long sought crack at professional football.

Hicksville High's all metropolitan End, who went on to college all American ranking for three seasons, has been inducted into the U.S. Army.

The two year hitch leaves his long sought goal in questionable status.

West Point fortunes on the gridiron aren't rated very high for next season.

According to the pre-season forecast magazines reaching our desks, it is underscored that only a solid passing game could give the black Knights a passable record.

In that regard Hicksville High's All-American All Scholastic is counted on for a pivotal role in his senior season.

He made quite an impression with his 14 season receptions for 745 yards during the 169 campaign.

That diving endzone catch for the second touchdown against Navy in the annual classic at Philadelphia lifted his stock in the Army coaching ranks also. Tackle Ralph Sontag, Hicksville High All Metropolitan for two years who played varsity at Maryland, came out of the Washington Redskins rookie instructional camp with flying colors.

The more serious aspect started, or was supposed to, when the Redskins regular Training Camp for Veterans and rookies alike was to open this week.

The best news of the year is that Fred J. Sutter of Field Avenue is making a good recovery from a very serious home accident suffered some two weeks ago.

Fred has been a long time benefactor and supporter of all Hicksville athletics. He is always on hand to get an enterprise off the ground. His financial generosity has gone a long way towards organizing teams that would not exist if it had not been for him.

His long associations with such service clubs as the Hicksville Alumni and Hicksville Kiwanis, as well as many others, are a superior example of unselfish civic contribution.

Fred's real pride has long been his Connie Mack baseball club, which he sponsored, and its

Sunday Afternoon games. Sutters monumental works has had a hard year on the diamond this summer. However if it takes a tip from its ace roter and sponsor, Fred J., it will make a gritty comeback in this second half.

We understand that the Hicksville Knights of Columbus team has rattled off seven wins in a row in the Nassau County K of C league. The Club had a dismal start but is making a good recovery.

Burke went on to say that he thought the new parking facility would relieve nearby residential areas of some of the all-day parkers they must contend with, open up the local business district for short-term parkers and save valuable time for commuters who will not have to take an early train just to be assured of a parking space. Burke said that the construction phase would take 10 months and the Town hoped to have the project completed in December, 1971, if it is approved. Temporary parking arrangements will be made during the construction period with the possibility of buses transporting commuters from more distant locations.

Polo At Bethpage Park

On the polo field at Bethpage State Park on Sunday July 19 Bethpage and Meadowbrook will have it out, whipping up a "free for all" for the polo fans. It's a welcome back to the Bethpage team for Dave Rizzo, out of the game this season till now because of a leg injury, the Bethpage line-up Fred Braunstein, John Gayer, Dave Rizzo and Fred Guest. Meadowbrook will team up with John Whittemore, Allen Jerkens, Alan Corey III and Fred Zeller, this quartet rarely giving an inch no matter who their opponents.

In the game at the park on the 12th the scheduled Bethpage-Brookville match had to be changed near game time, several of the players lined up unable to make it to the polo field. It was Brookville with Peter Henderson Sr., Peter Henderson Jr., Alan Corey III and Al Bianco against Westbury with John Whittemore, John Gayer, Ted Shapiro and Fred Zeller instead, young Peter Henderson, making his debut on the polo field, smashing in the winning goal for Brookville-a six to five thriller after five minutes of sudden death, Alan Corey rounding up the five that had it tied at five all when the final bell rang.

It's a thrill every week at the polo field at Bethpage State Park much to the delight of those who come to watch and to cheer, the park itself one of the most beautiful spots on the island. Relaxing and entertaining for everyone, the polo games every Sunday afternoon starting at 3:30 P.M. are especially welcome by families as youngsters under twelve accompanied by an adult are admitted free and the admission to adults only $1.50. No one is too young or too old to enjoy this most colorful and exciting of all sports and the spacious grounds available, the roomy stands plus a refreshment stand nearby all add to everyone's comfort. Bethpage State Park is a plus for Long Island and should be a must for all to visit and enjoy.
