

Hicksville • Jericho

Vol. 24 No. 10 March 4, 1971 COPY 10c

IN PRAISE OF JOHN MCGOVERN: Hundreds of Hicksvillians joined many celebrities, on the evening of Feb. 25th at the 18th annual Founders Day Dinner of the Hicksville Council of P.T.A. units, to honor John McGovern, the principal of the East St. School, who had been selected as their honored guest this year.

Representatives of the P.T.A. Council stated: "The Council is proud of John McGovern, this year's Honored Guest, for his continuing support of all P.T.A.'s, both on the local unit level and on Council. The Objects and Goals of P.T.A. have been furthered, thanks to John's active involvement."

When he was teaching at Dutch Lane this man started his climb up the P.T.A. ladder by serving as Legislation Chairman. His time at Burns Avenue School found him a most informed Parliamentarian. The nine years of the McGovern Principalship of East Street School continues to point out his dedication to the welfare of children and youth. He has actively held the Legislation Chairmanship, School and Community Chair, helped physically with the Polio Drive, supported and campaigned for Study, Inc. and had the foresight to encourage the formation of four new chairs on his Executive Board, all designed to help our youth.

He has served well on Council, Founders Day Dinner Committee, Trustmaster, Legislation Chairman and a stimulating Program Chairman. His enthusiasm for the welfare of children and youth is very contagious - anyone coming in contact with him is bound to "catch" some of his wonderful spirit! His firm belief in P.T.A. is shared by his entire staff with the end result being a united effort that brings together the home, the school and the family. John, his lovely wife, Ada, and his married daughter, Nancy, are all Life Members of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers Association. The Hicksville Alumni Association awarded John a variety "H", for his "consistent loyal support of the Hicksville students and teams."

We, of Hicksville, benefited greatly by having this man in our District. For fourteen years of diligent service to P.T.A., Community affairs, for his guidance and encouragement (when it's needed most), we of Council say, "Thank you, John."

THE HON. MARTIN GINSBERG: who will be the speaker on Thursday, March 11, at the Lee Avenue School P.T.A. meeting which is scheduled to start at 8:15 p.m.

"Assemblyman Ginsberg will discuss State Aid To Education," said P.T.A. President Mary Carton. "I'd suggest that you attend this important open forum. Bring your questions and problems in the area of state aid. You will have the opportunity of having them answered by our speaker, who is representing us so ably up in Albany. We must all do our utmost, in these trying times, to see that the quality of our children's education is not lessened and that each tax dollar is wisely invested. I'm sure we can all gain by an exchange of ideas with Mr. Ginsberg," she concluded.

Jericho Library Board Meets With Public

by Carol Finerman

The Jericho Board, their attorney Ira Hyams and the Bentels, architects for the new building, met with the public on Feb. 23 to explain the need for purchase of additional land to provide adequate parking space when the new building is opened. Mr. Bentel explained that although this addition would provide space for a total of 85 cars (including space already assigned), in other libraries of this size parking facilities go up to 130 cars.

Mrs. Florence Irving, Board President, detailed the expenses of the additional land. Total price was estimated to $110,350, of which $55,975 would be for purchase of the land and $54,375 is allocated for improvements including paving, edging, bumpers, line painting, dry wells, gate and fence, landscaping, etc. The land has been appraised, bonding attorney fees have been included in the estimate. The appraiser gave the price including an increase factor if the zoning is changed.

Mrs. Irving explained that when federal funds were cut off because of escalation of the Viet Nam war and other factors arose which delayed progress, when the bids were finally let the costs were too high due to rising prices in the interim. The Bentels were hired as new architects to plan a building that would come within the existing bond issue and not to exceed it.

It was then stated that in order to acquire the property for parking space, which has been repeatedly requested by patrons of the library, they had to call a special vote. Since the Library Board has no power to do this on its own they had to go through the School Board, to ask that they call a meeting so the public could vote on whether or not they wished to acquire the additional land. When that meeting took place, Mr. Mayhew and Mr. Greenberg cast dissenting votes even though it was pointed out by their attorney for the School Board and Ira Hyams that this action was illegal. The Library Board took the issue to court and had just learned prior to this meeting that the court rendered a decision in favor of them.

The legal fees for this action are not yet known. The Library Board asked for a March 3 vote in hopes of keeping the cost of the land down, and in order to keep the present building and have it functioning while the new one was under construction. (The new building could have been set back on the newly purchased property, allowing continued service in the present building.) This is no longer possible. The existing library will have to be moved at a cost of $15,000 and service discontinued for at least eight weeks.

Mr. Greenberg then spoke to defend his "no" vote at the School Board meeting. His point was that he voted "no" because he did not want to be forced to vote "yes" when he was directed to do so. Hy York reminded Mr. Greenberg that he was not voting on acquisition of the land, only to allow the public to vote for or against acquiring that property.

The Board is going ahead with plans for the new building whether or not the new land is purchased. They indicated that they would inform the public shortly when a new date would be set with the School Board to allow a vote to be called.

Burns Ave. School PTA Circulated Petitions

To dramatize the plight of the over-taxed homeowner the Legislative Committee of the Burns Avenue School's P. T. A. has circulated petitions addressed to State Assemblyman Joseph Reilly and State Senator John Caemerer calling for prompt action to (1) increase the ceiling on state aid from the present $860. per pupil to $1,050 per pupil in 1971 and $1,250 in 1972. (2) Freeze the local share at $13.50 per $1,000 of full valuation and (3) increase the flat grant (minimum state support) from $310. to $450. in 1971 and $550. in 1972.

The effect of this legislation, which has been formulated by the N. Y. State Educational Conference Board and the N. Y. Congress of Parents and Teachers, would be to relieve the local homeowner of the unfair burden of bearing the total costs of education costs. The proposed legislation is in response to the fact that the property tax base is not growing at the same rate as other economic measures and is no longer adequate as the main funding of schools.

Dr. Lee Finster, Legislative Committee Chairman, presented the background of the committee's activities and "kicked off" the petition signing at the February 18, 1971 P. T. A. meeting. Committee members Mrs. Robert Harris and Mrs. Bernard Hochman constructed miniature cardboard houses to represent the homes which could be lost to forced sale or foreclosure if no property tax relief is forthcoming. The sheets of signed petitions and the miniature houses were mailed on Mon. 3/1/71. Thus far, 440 signatures have been collected, and many more are anticipated.

The Brillboard

JERRY BRILL

The young-oriented restaurant in Suburbia is a new late-night scene. A sidebar of the sixties. It's the blaring jukebox with a modern cornucopia of stentorian sounds and bell-bottom everything.

I visited one of these for a sandwich and/or a martini on Thursday night. I moved to the bar through the mounds of mounds and muscle.

I asked the bartender for his draft card. He grinned at my advanced years.

"Any special consideration for senior citizens?", I asked him. "What kind of beer would you like?", he replied.

I smiled the smile of the age where life begins. It was apparent that he was jealous because I had new sneakers.

"I'd like a very, very dry martini," I told him, "with Tanqueray".

He shook the milk bottle under the bar and poured my drink.

The couple next to me just sat and stared at each other's tee shirts. The juke box was playing "In the Ghetto", and this was their song.

The place was crowding. It was an 'in' spot, alright, with some attributing the popularity to a recent night when a sock manufacturer came in, looked around, and was never seen again.

They were three deep at the bar, and standing so close to one another that they were going steady before they said "hello". Matter of fact, I heard that there was one couple at the end of the bar that broke up before they met, though this was never confirmed.

"Wild looking kerchief you're wearing, Mister", said the brute standing with the little filly on my right.

"That's a tie", I said, with some alacrity.

They laughed. "A tie", the filly commented, "What does it do, match your spats?"

"Keeps the stains off my shirt", I answered promptly.

The six guys who had moved in to my left ordered theirs. They had latinos which I always considered significant — especially when they are on the face. I smiled at them and remarked on the chord structure of the tune that was playing. It was up there on the charts and title "A Guy Named Sue". They gave me the look usually reserved for the teacher who opens the door on a crap game.

I ordered another drink and that, too, was bell-bottomed.

There was a tap on my shoulder. Without turning and without hesitation, I said, "I'm sorry, I don't do these kind of dances!"

The big guy with the filly next to me said he didn't mean to frighten me, but would I please move, because I was standing on his girl's hair.

I moved quickly, saying with unqualified predilection, "They certainly do wear it long. Sorry".

"That's okay, sir", said the filly, thereby eliminating herself from my life forever. "I think you'd have less trouble if you traded in those sneakers for a pair of sandals. More maneuverable, you know".

I smiled again. At least she noticed. "Sorry. May I buy you both a drink?"

"Sure", they said in tandem and ordered imported brandy on the rocks. The old step-on-the-hair-and-get-a-brandy caper. And I fell. But at least I was still in tact.

With the juke box easily winning the sound battle over the conversation and the dishes, the night had folded into yesterday. My two friends had departed for the quiet of their motorcycle, while the six guys on my left had found themselves six gals.

I was alone, as the bartender stacked his glasses with the sleepy eyed pretty waiting patiently in the corner.

I put on my kerchief, ruffled my hair, and fell into my rod and double-cammed it all the way home.

Mid-Nite Hearing

Residents Say "No, No, No!" To Gas Station / Car Wash

That good old Plainview spirit and stamina came on strong on Tuesday evening at Town Hall, Oyster Bay, when more than 100 residents showed up to oppose the petition of Saveway Glenmore Inc. which, if granted, would allow a new gas station plus car wash emerge on the southside of Old Country Road between Grohmann's Lane and Margaret Drive where the Hamburger Square Restaurant now stands.

Stamina they had, as they waited three hours while an even more populous hearing contesting a temporary entrance road to the Sunrise Mall, Massapequa wore on until about 11 P.M., preceding the Plainview matter. It was 1 A.M. when the hearing was declared closed and the decision reserved.

The property in question fronts about 211 feet on Old Country road, running about 63 feet deep with an area jutting out which could provide access to Grohmann's Lane, but which petitioner says will be used for a play area. The petitioner's request was for a change of zone from Business F to Business G and special permit use to erect and maintain a gasoline filling station and automatic car wash.

Coincidentally, the property is across the street from the residence of Edmund A. Ocker, Councilman, who was seen to admit in sympathy with a resident that the lights from McDonald's on Old Country Road also shine into his windows.

According to Attorney Michael J. Ricigliano, attorney for the petitioner, the station would not do repairs, not change tires or oil, but would only sell gasoline in addition to the car wash. The car wash, he said, would wash 40-45 cars in average hours, but could go to a peak of over 80 cars on busy hours. There is stock up room for 38 cars waiting, he said, and as a safety measure, a "no left turn" sign would be placed at the exit, forcing all traffic east

OPPOSITION to proposed service station-car wash operation on Old Country Road, Plainview, was discussed by neighboring residents with Charles Mattingly, of Old Bethpage, attorney for the Greater Plainview Community Association, before night hearing on Saveway Glenmore down-zoning petition at Oyster Bay Town Hall on Tuesday, March 2nd. From left are Mrs. Elaine Zaremsky, Mr. Mattingly, Anthony Incalcaterra, and Mrs. Madeleine Kaplan.

The exterior car wash, to be accomplished in a brick and masonry building to be placed on the easterly side of the property, would be open 7 A.M. to 8 P.M. Monday through Thursday, and 7 A.M. to 9 P.M. on Fridays and Saturdays. Nassau County doesn't allow car washes to operate on Sundays. The gas station operation would be open 24 hours.

Ivan Gabel, a spokesman for the applicant, was surprised to learn there are no sewers in Plainview after he said that rinse water would not be re-used, but would "run into the sewer system." There were subsequently many who opposed the petition on the grounds of inadequate drainage facilities which would bring the excess water onto their property. The (bio-degradable) soapy water would be reclaimed with the use of a large, covered reclamation pit, he said.

Traffic expert George Byerling, when asked how those who wished to turn west after having been faced with a sign forcing them east, gave this reply: "The driver would turn right and proceed east, and then try to figure out how to get back." Resident Sandy Apt later proposed that such drivers would probably turn right (south) on Margaret Drive, right again on Frederick Drive and right again on Grohmann's Lane, all residential streets, to get to the traffic light at Old Country Road where they could turn left. At peak hours, he estimated, if half the cars wanted to go west, there could be as many as 60 cars an hour making this trip.

Heated Opposition
Attorney Charles Mattingly, speaking eloquently in behalf of the Greater Plainview Community Association, at whose behest the night hearing was held, said he questioned the expertise of the experts testifying for the petitioner. He said he had heard nothing of mothers and children in the area, of the firehouse down the street or the school entrance in the vicinity, of the fact that there were already 31 gas stations in this community of 30,000 people. He submitted petitions in opposition which he

Dear Friends

ALONG WITH MANY OF YOU, the staff of The Herald was lessened, temporarily by the 'flu which was so prevalent throughout the area. Shirley Smith was not able to do her usual fine coverage of the School Board Meeting of District 17 Hicksville, and yours truly missed two "Dear Friends" columns for the same reason. However, take a look on the top of page three and see what we are planning for you next week and in the near future. We hope you'll be pleased. Also, don't forget that "Letters To The Editor" column is YOURS! So, let's hear from you...

THIS CHANGING SCENE: Last Saturday saw the end of a scene well known to all Hicksvillians, when John and Gus Econopouly sold their Sweet Shop on Broadway. Their father started this popular ice cream parlor, many years ago. We wish them well, whatever their plans for the future may be.

Cordially,
Sheila Noeth

From Our Postmaster

Ralph Cascardo

The Postal Service plans to adopt a suggestion from major mailers to shorten the forwarding time for mail from two years to one and provide carriers with more time to devote to their regular route deliveries.

The plan will reduce daily time-consuming duties of letter carriers who must now "mark-up" mail for forwarding to persons long-gone from their routes to other addresses.

The one-year forwarding period will allow a reasonable opportunity for those who have moved to notify all of their regular correspondents of their new addresses, postal officials explained.

The proposed rules also shorten the period for which mail may be retained at the post office by addressee's request from 60 to 30 days to free needed space that may hamper daily operations.

Both actions are expected to increase efficiency by reducing the elaborate filing procedures required for forwarding and by minimizing use of space for "retained" mail needed for other postal operations.

Postal officials said most mail is forwarded within the first year after a change of address, so there is little justification for the two year forwarding time.

An effective date for the new procedure has not been set. However, it is being published in the Federal Register and comments will be accepted by the Postal Service for 30 days.

ON BEHALF OF MYSELF, MY CHILDREN AND OUR FAMILY, I WISH TO THANK HIS EXCELLENCY, BISHOP KELLENBERG, THE REVEREND CLERGY, THE SISTERS, GOVERNOR ROCKEFELLER, MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE AND OTHER PUBLIC OFFICIALS, THE NASSAU COUNTY POLICE DEPARTMENT, THE ROCKVILLE CENTRE POLICE DEPARTMENT, THE NORTH BELL MORE AND EAST MEADOW FIRE DEPARTMENTS, RELATIVES AND FRIENDS FOR THEIR KIND EXPRESSIONS OF SYMPATHY AND THOUGHTFULNESS DURING OUR RECENT BEREAVEMENT.

From Congress

Rep. James R. Grover, Jr.

Here we are, with Congress in its second month, and its committees barely organized.

And, very quickly, we are coming to the crossroads where we will get the answer as to where this Democratic-dominated Congress is going. Will this Congress approve President Nixon's programs, try to prove that these programs are ill-conceived or offer solid alternatives? Will the Congressional posture be a political one or a statesman-like one? Or will Congress duplicate its performance of the past two years, assuming a partisan defensive posture and spar with the President while preparing for the Presidential elections of 1972?

We got a Presidential proposal for postal reform through the last Congress. This year, we've been offered Presidential plans for welfare overhaul, for revenue sharing, for Social Security improvements, for governmental efficiency, among others. We have seen various individual Democratic leaders moving forward with counter-proposals to the President's plans - Wilbur Mills on Social Security and Ted Kennedy on a cradle-to-the-grave health program, but there seems to be no willingness on the part of the controlling party in Congress to seriously pursue Nixon-sponsored programs, reach a favorable decision on them and then to fund these programs. We can expect more proposals from individuals going far beyond what the President has asked but I fear we'll get little affirmative action.

Over these past two months, it has become distressingly obvious that the Democratic leadership in Congress is more interested in political posturing than in actively pursuing programs which the country desperately needs and which have been sidelined for far too long.

OPERATION VFW

William M. Rouse, Jr., Post No. 3211

By Lou Polladino

If you attended our last meeting you would have met another of our young members Dick McGee.

We finally had Vinny Esposito, the county chaplain visit us. He gave us a little talk, and a few questions were asked, that put him in a quandary. It had to do with taxes. He was surprised that we haven't sent a record book to State Department of the V. F. W. to enlighten them on all the activities we have accomplished, and undertaken. He was surprised that we do so much each year, and the only record is our own, except for one loudmouth, me. If Vinny has the time or the inclination, he can go a long way in the department.

Another cocktail party is coming up, and the date is April 25. Harry Wurth mentioned quite a few future parties, but this is the closest. They were so successful at the last one, that a second one just had to be had. If I'm not mistaken, the price is the same as the last time $6.00 a head, on a Sunday afternoon.

Friday night, March 3rd the awards will be given to the winners of the Voice of Dem. Jim Sotille reports, and would like to see members there to help receive these people, and make them feel at home.

Naturally Frank Lotti made his report on the dinner dance, and gave his thanks to Mike Snack and Cmdr. Frank Aug for all the help they were, and for his causing them to lose sleep. Official count, 314 people attended. Quite a crowd huh? Heard Harry Wurth say, about 35 people went to his house after. Not to eat or drink? My gosh how could they have room for more?

We also got a Journal report from Ed Chwalisz, and this too sounded very good. Ed extended his thanks to all the comrades that helped him and especially to the good people giving their ads to help us. This too, is a tough job, and takes a lot of time.

More donations were in the offering. First was the Dan Cassidy memorial Foundation. Dan was very helpful to all V. F.

W. members while working at the V. A. in N. Y. C. on 7th Ave. Also to Friends and Parents of Human Resources. And so we keep doing our bit to help others to help themselves.

At this particular time Tom McCabe's mother is in the hospital, and not doing too well.

Bob McGovern reports our packages to vets in Vietnam and Korea are still moving out, at the usual pace. Don't let a brother, a son, or even a friend lose out, on what should rightfully be coming to him. Notify Bob, or at least some member in the Post, that will.

Most everybody has paid their dues already, but there are a few who have neglected to do so. Ed Chwalisz would like very much to get it finished so he can devote his time to other projects. Ed says thank you. Me too.

Lucky winners of the raffle was again Jim Sotille. This guy wins so often, I think its fixed.

Come on out to the next meeting.

Presents Community Service Awards

A gala affair was held recently at the Galaxie Caterers in Plainview by the William M. Gouse Jr. Post 3211, Hicksville Veterans of Foreign Wars. It was attended by approximately 315 people.

Commander Frank J. Aug Jr. Presented 2 community service awards to local residents. The 2 recipients were the Hon. Martin Ginsberg, N. Y. State Assemblyman and Alex Kriegel of the Hicksville Jewish War Veterans. The awards consisted of a citation and a VFW citizenship medal. The post Quartermaster, William Frohnhoefer also received a distinguished VFW service plaque for the many hours he has worked for the post.

The affair was a huge success through the efforts of the chairman Frank Lotti and his co-chairman Michael Znack.

Recently the Wm. M. Gouse Jr. Post 3211, VFW Hicksville, presented John Dugan (Pictured above) with an engraved watch at their annual Dinner Dance held at the Galaxie Caterers in Plainview. He had just returned from his fifth tour of duty in Vietnam and is scheduled to return for his sixth tour at the beginning of March. He is serving in the U. S. Air Force.

said, contained over 700 signatures.

Leonard Steinsaltz, of 16 Margaret Drive, estimated that the car wash would sluff off over 50,000 gallons of water per day, interfering with the operation of cesspools. Another Incalcaterra, 6 Margaret Drive, said people were moving out because they didn't like the changing character of the neighborhood, that the lights of present business establishments were already shining in his windows, and that furthermore, a representative of the petitioner had told him over the phone that "if he didn't like it he could move."

Potential safety hazard of the gas station car wash was pointed out by Mrs. Carol Fishman, 6 Cranford Road, who said the strip between Grohmann's Lane and the Seaford Oyster Bay Expressway was heavy in accidents. Mrs. Elaine Zaremsky, of 8 Margaret Drive, and Mrs. Madeleine Kaplan, also of Margaret Drive, expressed fear of danger to children. Mrs. Zaremsky said the petitioner's representative had told her the company had been turned down by two town boards.

Mrs. Muriel Hobel, whose property abuts the area which is designated as a play area, said she would like to buy the piece of 1 and from the petitioner. Mrs. Hobel spoke at the morning session. Others who spoke were Fred Sauter, 15 Grohmann's Lane, Mr. Potonides, who said bewan of Greeks bearing gifts, regarding the play area; Sid Hart, operator of the gas station across the street, and Jame Maunt, of 6 Sylvia Lane.

SPORTS

By

There is still such an individual as the "Hicksville kid".

As they did all season, Kirk Jurgelevich and Lou Chiodo demonstrated all the attributes associated with that athletic designation in winning North Shore Wrestling Championships last week-end.

Both won four matches on the mats of Syosset to annex the 138 and 148 pound titles under the direction of coach Steve Tomaini.

The competition came from the best wrestlers from all the thirty schools on the North Shore. Jurgelevich boomed his 1971 undefeated string to 14 matches. Chiodo was reversed only once in a non-league match.

Both boys will carry the Orange and Black into the Nassau County championships starting this Friday at Clarke High in South Westbury.

No matter what the final results you won't find anyone at Clarke asking "What's happen to the Hicksville Kid?"

With the three minutes to go the promise was not fulfilled as a very game Fork Lane team was pressing East Street 23-26 in the finals of the elementary school tournament.

However Pete Sludar bouyed East from the foul line and the school went on to win its first Boy's basketball banner.

With victory came the first relaxation for East Principal John McGovern in three months.

We secretly believe that with all the honors and awards he has been the recipient of his educational and community work for Hicksville students that this triumph pleases him mostly.

East beat Willet in the opening game 24-14 and got past Woodland 31-24.

In the championship game 5' 11" center Sludar blocked many shots and he fed his other mates in the well rounded scoring.

He gained 8 points as did Tony Colamussi. Tony did some rugged rebounding and played a fine defense.

John Bergen also starred on defense and got his share of rebounds along with 4 points.

Chris Phillips and Frank Principe did some excellent ball handling while also contributing 6 and 5 points.

Danny Fyfe, Larry Berman and Roger Sakenis also saw action in the crucial playoff game.

Coach of the team was Mr. Bob Hilsky other team members were George Vahamonde, John Murphy, Jim Pakaluk, Tim Bradley, Gary Holzapfel, Mathew Capelli, Mark Polli, Robert Despenza and Henry Hendlene.

Gutter Ball Gossip

By Herb Mahler

It was the Jericho version of the Wailing Wall this week as most of us floundered through three games. There were, of course, some Doubles and a couple of good high games but for the most part frustration took over.

The King is dead. Long Live the King! The Mill Hoffmans with steady bowling from the entire team topped the Lungs 7-4 to take undisputed possession of First Place. Mill seems to have made his team a solid unit in this half and they may go all the way.

With Capt. Hy Shapiro absent, Bernie Kaplan with a 219 sheared the fur of Irv Simes 11-0 to drop his team 6 points out of first. It was nice up there for a while, Irv, but those two weeks coming at the Doral should ease the pain.

Tied for second are the Sussmans although they lost the series to the Gershens 7-4. Capt. Julie rapped a 207 in the last but, ironically, that was the only game he lost. The new man for the Sussmans, Bernie Haut is some kind of a bowler. He exploded for a 254 and 202 for a 606 series. He is now at 177. Looks like we found a new Capt. Murray did his part with a 200.

With Henry Dockswell's 201, the Sachs smothered the Goldsteins 11-0. Sam Briendel hung in for a 202 but the sexy Sachs were not to be denied.

Leo's Lions showed their muscle by whipping the Warrens 8-3. The Geyers bowled as if they were at the top with Leon exploding for a 220, 211 and 189 for a 620 series. Al Urbont performed an Emergency Operation for the Warrens with a 201 and 207 but, alas, the patient died.

Lewis Marks the boy wonder with goodness on his side vanquished the Brodys 7-4. Capt. Herb returned to action with a 201 to save the last game for his men. In a see-saw battle, the Goldenbergs topped the Rothmans 6-5. Sam Springer did it again with an exciting 242. They now refer to him as Sam the Man.

FLASH!!! The Simons took a series. They now give the rest of the League fair warning, they are on their way; until next week at least. Norman Ney with a 213 in first got them off to a fast start to go on to beat the Vladems 8-3.

In the marshmallow contest of the night the Holtzmafs tickled the Flanders and laughed to an 8-3 win. Buddy's Bombers had a 707 in one game. Inspirational bowling!

Although it seems a long way off, I would like to say a few words about our weekend. Every year, we get about half the League attending, with just about the same faces. I don't understand how you can bowl with the same men for 36 weeks and not want the pleasure of a few days of vacation with them and the rest of the boys. If you have never attended Irv Simes' Friday night bash, then indeed you are missing something. Now is the time to plan to attend. Perhaps next year we'll take your advice and go to Europe for three days; visit Six Countries; but meanwhile here's where it's at! See you at the Nevele, I hope.

New Chamber Orchestra Ready For 2nd Concert

On Saturday, March 13th, the New Chamber Orchestra of Jericho will give its second concert at the Robert Williams school. The premiere concert was held by this group last May at the same auditorium.

The response to last year's concert was truly gratifying. Those present on this memorable occasion recognized that a major cultural happening had occurred. Miss Cora Gordon, accompanied by The New Chamber Orchestra, gave an exciting performance of the Four Seasons and followed this with a virtuoso performance of the Bach D minor Sonata for Unaccompanied Violin. Miss Gordon, in private life Mrs. Murray Silbermann, is the orchestra's founder, guiding spirit and principal violin soloist. Last year, she persuaded a number of her musical colleagues to participate in a concert which she had long wanted to perform: The Four Seasons of Vivaldi. Another colleague, Clayton Westermann, conductor of the Suffolk Symphony, agreed to lead the group. Through these entrepreneurial endeavors, Miss Gordon succeeded in collecting the necessary ingredients that make for fine orchestral music — top-flight professional players and an outstanding conductor.

Mr. Westermann received his musical education at Yale University where he studied with Paul Hindemith. Following further study with Pierre Monteux, he became assistant conductor of the Robert Shaw Chorale. His debut, conducting the New York Sinfonia at Town Hall in New York City in 1956, was hailed by critics as "little less than phenomenal" ("Musical Courier") in which "his interpretation made a profound impression... (Musical America). On a Fulbright Grant, he led such orchestras as the Vienna Symphony, the Netherlands Radio Orchestra and the Santa Cecilia of Rome. Conductor of the Suffolk Symphony since its inception eight years ago, Mr. Westermann also held conducting positions with the Huntington Symphony and the Orchestra da Camera of Hofstra University.

The members of the orchestra, most of whom played with the group last year, are among the finest musicians on the island. The concert mistress, Carol Feuer of Rodyn, who has established a name for herself by playing with numerous chamber music groups, will join Miss Gordon to play the Bach Double Violin Concerto. The not-often-heard Concerto for Harpsichord, op. 4, no. 1, by Handel will be performed by Sonia Gribbs of Smithtown, who has been soloist with many orchestras on the island, including the Suffolk Symphony where she is also the regular harpsichordist. The solo group, which will be heard in the Vivaldi Concerto Grosso in D minor, will include, in addition to Miss Gordon, Ira Lieberman of Port Jefferson, and Alexander Goldfield of Hauppauge. Dr. Lieberman is chairman of the string and theory departments of the Brentwood High School. Mr. Goldfield is principal cellist of the Suffolk Symphony and is a familiar figure in Long Island chamber groups.

The program notes for the March 13 concert will be prepared by the well-known musicologist, Joseph Braunstein, who for many years has been associated with the Musica Aeterna concerts and has been a member of the faculty of the Mannes College of Music where Miss Gordon first studied with him.

Aiding Miss Gordon to prepare for the next concert and place the orchestra on a permanent footing is her husband, Murray Silbermann. A staff member of the United Nations Secretariat, he is also chairman of the Board of Education of the Solomon Schechter Day School in Roslyn, which two of their four children attend. He has worked indefatigably to promote the idea of a resident orchestra in the Jericho community. Creating an artistic venture of this sort, Mr. Silbermann observed, is an enormous challenge. Community support, he noted, is vital to the success of this venture.

Hicksville Firemen Responded to a record 20 False Alarms in February. At a time when a dollar doesn't go too far, its shocking to see money wasted this way. Every time the apparatus responds it costs the taxpayer money. A recent article in a national fire service report questions the expense of a fire alarm box system in the suburbs. The writer stated that fire insurance rating bureaus force many departments to install street boxes to get a lower fire insurance rate. The Fire District is then saddled with the expense of maintenance and false alarms.

Very few fire departments have anything good to say about street located fire alarm boxes, and their efficiency. Fire alarm systems are useful in industrial areas and schools, although the fire alarm equipment in Hicksville Schools is abused by the very people it has been put there to protect, plus the systems are trouble plagued and action to repair these problems is slow.

The writer, a fire chief, states that the street fire alarm boxes have outlived their usefulness. A review of records in Hicksville seems to back this up. 80 percent of all alarms received are by phone, of the remaining 20 per cent which come in by alarm box - 18 per cent are false alarms. The problem is self evident, the solution is a difficult one, but we should not forget the risks the unfazed men must take every time a false alarm is sounded. A study should be made to stop this waste of money, before we lose a fireman. What's your opinion?

False Alarm Can Be A Fireman's Last Alarm Do Not Cause A False Alarm

We ask our residents to caution their children of the hazards of a false alarm and the penalty involved. It's not good to cry wolf too many times.

New Men For Fire Service

Explorer Post No. 778, sponsored by the Hicksville Fire Dept. is now underway. The group of over 30 boys is headed by President Jeff Larkin and advisor ex-chief John Specht. The purpose of Post No. 778 is to train new blood for the fire service, to give the youths training in leadership and responsibility.

The young adults will meet on the 2nd and 4th Thursdays of each month at the fire house. They will receive training in the different fields of fire fighting and rescue. The post will appear in the local parades with the fire department. The age limit is 14-20 yrs.

The maximum number of members is 50. There will be no waiting list. The cost for each youth is $4. to cover registration and insurance.

The post will be trained by the advisors who are ex-chief Specht, Lt. Don Hudson, Lt. John Keyer, Lt. Owen Magee, ex-Capt. Henry Hawkins, and fireman Tom Pasquerelli and Bill Sarnelli.

The officers and men of the Hicksville Fire Dept. congratulate the elected officers and wish them success. There are some openings left. Leave your name at fire headquarters on E. Marie St.

Hicksville Fire Chief Mel Voorhies congratulates the president of the department sponsored Explorer Scout Post no. 778, Jeff Larkin. L. to R. Advisor-Ex-Chief John
