HERALD REPORT SCHOOL DISTRICT 17 HICKSVILLE

By Shirley Smith

The School Board set August 10 as the date for resubmission of the 1971-72 budget. As yet, no decision has been made about what revisions, if any, will be made.

The Board unanimously approved a $7500 summer recreation program. It will be conducted for four weeks at six elementary centers. An alternate plan of three elementary centers with field trips, a dramatics group and choral productions was turned down, because the board felt more children would be able to participate in a program with six centers. The money for summer recreation is provided by the Town of Oyster Bay, which last year gave $15,000 for this purpose.

For a brief time Tuesday night, the Board of Education refused to pay the bills. In a 4-3 vote (voting yes: McManus, McCormack, Kershen; voting no: Clark, Muratore, O'Donnell, Zindulka) payments for almost $8,000,000 worth of equipment, services, social security and withholding taxes, payroll, etc. were not approved. Mr. Muratore moved that checks for certain audio-visual equipment be deleted from the list. His motion, seconded by Mr. Clark, was ruled out of order by Board president, Harry Kershen. Mr. Kershen explained that the Board was obligated to pay the debts it had incurred. Mr. Clark felt that he had to vote no on payment, he had voted no on accepting bids for the same items. However, Mr. Kershen further explained that once bids are accepted by a majority vote and equipment delivered, or services rendered, the Board of Education acts as a corporate body and must then pay for these services or equipment. Following a long discussion and explanation of what constitutes audio-visual equipment and whether or not such equipment would be used for individualized instruction in the Hicksville schools, the Board went into a lengthy executive session. At its conclusion, Mr. O'Donnell moved that the previous vote on payment of bills be rescinded and that all such payments be approved. This motion passed unanimously, and the Hicksville School District remains in good standing with its creditors for another month.

The School Board set the same school hours for 1971-72 as have been in use this year. The only exception is at Willet Avenue School, where there will be two kindergarten sessions, instead of three.

Dr. Fred Hill, Assistant Superintendent, announced that last week our district received approximately $600,000 in state aid for the BOCES program. He also gave percentages on work completed so far at the Junior High: plumbing - 40 per cent, heating - 25 per cent, electrical - 40 per cent, general contractor - 40 per cent. All work is scheduled to be finished by the first of September.

Permission was given to various organizations (Little League, CYOs, St. Ignatius Cadel Corps, Gregory Museum) to use school buildings and grounds this summer, even though the district is on austerity, as of July 1.

July 6 will be the organizational meeting for the Board of Education. At this meeting, new Board members will be installed and officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

"Transportation Changes Coming" Caemmerer Tells

In an address before a meeting of the Freight Users Association of Long Island at the Salisbury Club (June 24) Senator John D. Caemmerer (R, East Williston) Chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Transportation warned his listeners that unless "we supply a transportation climate to keep businesses and industries here that provide work for our people and continue our economy, Long Island and New York State are in desperate trouble."

The Nassau lawmaker, who heads the Senate Standing Committee on Motor Vehicles and Transportation and recently was named successor to the late Senator Edward Speno as Chairman of the JLC on Transportation, went on to say that he can "foresee the day when the State will have to take over at least the maintenance and operation of every mile of railroad track. Trackage will be the same as our highways—built, owned and maintained by the State or local government. Nobody likes to see this happen because we've been very proud of our free enterprise system but government has so regulated the railroad industry that it has driven it to the wall and it is in danger of collapse."

Senator Caemmerer then

John D. Caemmerer stressed the importance of the new $2.5 billion bond issue for transportation being offered for public approval in November. A large portion of this, he said, will be used to acquire existing roadbeds that are now abandoned or are about to be let go by the railroads. "This is an invaluable public resource that must be secured now because, for the most part, these rights-of-way can never be replaced," he emphasized.

A specific benefit to Long Island industry and commuters, Senator Caemmerer stated, is that diesel equipment now lacking might be forthcoming upon passage of the new transportation bond issue.

"Electrification of the L.I.R.R. to Port Jefferson would release some existing diesel rolling stock by replacing it with electrified equipment."

The Senator then contrasted the L.I.R.R. which moves large amounts of freight and 180,000 commuters, to the plight of many upstate communities now entirely without rail service. He said this was attributable to the foresight of NYS in purchasing the L.I.R.R. to preserve and enlarge its service.

Senator Caemmerer said "we have to plan for the future when the motor vehicle is no longer the major means of transportation in the Metropolitan Area, despite how many new bridges we might build across Long Island Sound or how many additional highways we construct."

Emphasis instead, he said, must be on mass transportation systems designed to handle passengers and freight both efficiently and in large quantities.

By solving mass transportation problems with improved railroad equipment, roadbed and better commuter train service, the freight problems are bound to be resolved also, Senator Caemmerer promised.

Board Reserves Decision On Abortion Clinic Ban

The Town Board of Oyster Bay reserved decision Tuesday at Town Hall after an emotion-packed one-hour public hearing on a proposed local law to prohibit the performance of abortions elsewhere than in accredited hospitals in the township.

The hearing had a stormy postlude later when William Baird, who runs an abortion clinic in Hempstead, went through a better exchange with the members of the Town Board. Mr. Baird, who was unable to be present at the time of the public hearing because he was attending a similar hearing in North Hempstead, was allowed to speak after the calendar was finished.

While the more than 20 speakers expressed a cross-section of approval and disapproval for the law, many addressed themselves more to the moral question of abortion and the validity of the abortion legislation passed by New York State last year than the direct matter at hand. Supervisor Burl said several times that the question at the hearing was not whether abortions should be performed, but where they should be performed. After one such explanation to an anti-abortion believer, she suggested the best place would be "in the pits of hell."

Those in favor of abortions for women who want or need them opposed the proposed law, primarily because they felt it would limit the availability of abortions to the poor and would also limit the number of abortions available because of lack of hospital space in the county. One of the most vocal of these was Beatrice McClintock, of Upper Brookville, who was subjected to catcalls from the audience during her presentation which included several quotes from authorities in favor of making abortions easy. Mrs. McClintock is a member of the National Association to Repeal Abortion Laws and several other organizations. Another was Mrs. Virginia Latham, of Plainedge, who had also spoken at a similar public hearing in Huntington prior to the passage of its ordinance banning abortion clinics. She protested that such laws were made by men, whom they did not affect, and controlled the fate of women.

Speaking in favor of the proposed Tobay law were representatives of the Catholic church and also representatives of hospital facilities. Dr. Raymond J. Murray, regional director of the State Bureau of Hospitals and Related Facilities, was the speaker with the most facts. He said that the three county hospitals here had performed 4400 abortions in the first six months after the new abortion law came into effect. Of these, 92 per cent of patients were from out of the county, and over 80 per cent were from out of the state. He said there was no overcrowding in the maternity facilities at the hospitals at the present time. He also stated that the hospitals had provided more charity service on abortions than the clinics now in operation.

Several representatives of the Catholic Church and Catholic organizations spoke of the horrors of abortion and many expressed the belief that the State law would be repealed. They were in favor of the proposed law, with the hope that it would limit the number of abortions available and the total number of abortions performed. One of these was Timothy Sullivan, of East Norwich, Chairman of the Concerned Citizens of Oyster Bay, and representative of the Human Life Coordinating Committee of the Diocese of Rockville Centre. Another was Thomas Jordan, of the same committee at Our Lady of Lourdes and representative of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Robert Gulheil, of Syosset, pastor of All Saints Church in Upper Brookville, and a declared candidate for Tobay supervisor, stated that while he was personally opposed to abortion, he nevertheless opposed the proposed town law primarily because of the poor family or person who wanted an abortion and could not afford to go to a hospital.

Town Board Acts On Local Matters

In addition to a lengthy hearing on a proposed town law relative to abortions, reported elsewhere in this issue, the Town Board of Oyster Bay dealt with several matters of interest to residents in the Hicksville, Jericho and Plainview areas of the town.

Leading off the agenda was the petition of A. Schenke, Inc. for a change of zone from Residence D to Business F District for an interior parcel 200 feet south of Old County Road and 150 feet west of Plainview Road. The parcel in question, behind the Plainview Theatre, would be used for additional parking according to William Niles, attorney for the petitioner.

The petition was opposed in a letter from the Greater Plainview Community Association and in person by Mrs. Carol Fishman, of Plainview, representing the association. She stated that this parcel had already been in use as a parking area for the theatre for ten years. She said her organization did not object to its being used for parking, but did most violently object to a change in zone.

The Board later approved a change in zone from Residence D to Business F for a one-acre plus parcel on the north side of West John Street. Hicksville, east of Maple Ave. There was no opposition to the petition of Jerry Spiegel at its public hearing on October 6, 1970, prior to which the petitioner had gained the approval of 18 nearby property owners. Proposed at the time was a 21,000 square foot office building with parking for 71 cars.

The Board also approved the withdrawal of the application of Mid-Island Child Park for a day-care center on the property of Mid Island Shopping Plaza. The petition was protested strongly by nearby residents at a night hearing on March 9th, primarily on the grounds that the location was not safe for children.

In Jericho, the petition of Carnation Properties for a change of zone from Residence to Business G for a parcel on the corner of Burke Avenue and Broadway was turned down by the Board on Tuesday. The public hearing on the petition, originally scheduled for April 13th, was held on May 25th by reason of the fact that petitioner had not been able to send out sufficient notice of the hearing, as required by law. Owners of residences on Burke Ave. spoke in opposition to the petition.

The application of 828 Astro Corp., a motel on South Oyster Bay Road Grumman, to expand its present facilities was on the agenda but tabled at the meeting. Councilman Warren Doolittle, of Hicksville, later said the matter was tabled in order to give petitioner time to submit a corrected site plan.

Hearing Dates Set

At the meeting, the Town Board also set a date of July 13th for a public hearing of Grandor Equipment Corp. for a special permit use to park and display general contracting equipment for purpose of sale, rental, service and storages on the southwest corner of the intersection of the South Service Road of the Long Island Expressway and Newton Road.

The date of July 27th was set for the hearing on the petition of Myron Nelkin for a change of zone from Residence A to E-1 Apartment House District for a parcel on the North Service Road of the L.I. Expressway west of the land of the Meadowbrook Club. If granted the petition would permit 900 luxury garden apartments on the 68-acre parcel at rents ranging from $260 to $410, representing the largest apartment development on Long Island. Nelkin is the contract vendee of the property, owned by the family of the late Herbert H. Lehman, former New York Governor and U.S. Senator.

SCHOOL DAYS

by Claire Levandov

The Hicksville High School Class of '71 has been graduated; the class gift was presented and accepted; the combined choruses were inspiring with their renditions, and the strains of the Symphonic Wind Ensemble's professional and recessionary are but lingering melodies, Edward Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance" and Richard Wagner's "Lohengrin" are not all that lingers on. No wind-up of the school year would be complete without mention of a few of the heretofore unpublicized deeds of groups of Hicksville youngsters.....

THE VERISAGE CHAPTER of the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY of HICKSVILLE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL has received a Certificate of Appreciation from SAVE THE CHILDREN FEDERATION for a contribution of $147.00 to be used in the Federation's program of assisting the underprivileged among the American Indian population. Mr. Ruth K. Lambert, junior high school social studies teacher, and Honor Society advisor, forwarded the money to the Federation. The approximately 75 members of the Verisage Chapter voted to donate this year's fund raising proceeds to the American Indian. In the past, money was donated to the underprivileged of South America, Vietnam, and to the CARE organization.....

Independence Day

These are troubled times to celebrate our independence from English domination. In 1976 we will be celebrating 200 years of independence. But there is more to independence than pride and patriotism. From fledgling colony-states we have grown to a union of 50, one of the world's greatest powers. In 1776 we set an example for the oppressed everywhere. We fought for our independence against superior odds. Since then we also have fought for the independence of other countries. No other nation on earth can measure up when it comes to spending blood and money for freedom - ours and that of other nations. Also, no other country has expended such large sums of money to improve conditions around the world for the poor and the oppressed.

Revelations in the New York Times, Washington Post, Boston Globe and other newspapers are disquieting and shocking. They reveal that for the past decade Washington has been less than candid about what we are doing in Vietnam. The present administration inherited the Vietnam mess with a promise to end the war. President Nixon has succeeded in tamping some of the fires of anguish which have swept and sundered this nation. He has brought home thousands of troops and has succeeded in winding down the war. We are grateful for this. Now if we can get all of our prisoners back, few will object if we pull out body and soul from the war. More than $100 billion dollars and 50,000 deaths after 10 years is enough.

Statements from Washington in the past decade leave a slightly bitter taste. Attempts to muzzle the press, as to its responsibilities to the American public, do not sweeten the sour flavor. It is time for the government to cooperate with the Press instead of trying to muzzle it. Unless news would really be detrimental to our troops on the battlefield, it should be printed. A free press is one of the bulwark of freedom, independence and democracy. And this newspaper will not now, or ever, stand for censorship of LEGITIMATE news from local, state or national officials. Freedom to print the truth is a basic right of a free press in a free society, providing that it's publication can not harm our country. The choice is clear. We opt for the American way.

In conclusion there is one other freedom we mention in passing: that is freedom of the road and the right to survive, which carries with it the responsibilities of observing all road laws, and driving carefully. This long weekend is a traditional start of the holiday season. While driving, remember that conditions will be abnormal because of numberless cars on the road. Long weekends are like that. But the start of the holiday season multiplies the number of cars on the road and hence the number of accidents may skyrocket. We urge our readers to drive carefully, avoid strong refreshments when driving, and please observe the rules of the road. Stay alive so that you and your loved ones can be with us to celebrate, not only our country's independence each year, but also its continued progress in its never-ending job of creating a better country and a better world. You can help by doing your share.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

An Open letter to the
Hicksville Board Of Education

Gentlemen:

As a taxpayer in the Hicksville School District, and as a witness to your circus-like performance at your meeting of June 29, I find many people deeply resentful of the action taken in regard to the continued usage of our school grounds. By democratic process, the majority of the people in this community voted to defeat the 1971-72 school budget, therefore bringing about austerity conditions. These conditions include the closing of ball fields and other school district property, except in certain situations wherein the cost of the operation of the property is carried by the user. Mr. McCormack, although he tried, fooled no one with his hocus pocus and mumble jumble remarks regarding the duties of our presently employed groundsmen. The patronage of his "special interest" groups was obvious to all. Since many of our buildings are lighted and cleaned for safety and security reasons, just as the fields are kept in good repair for safety reasons, we can assume that when application is made for the building usage, it too will be granted.

Can we also assume, since the individual members of our Board of Education have left themselves open to personal lawsuits brought about by the taxpayers, that you are men of affluence as well as influence?

(Name withheld on request)

Dear Sheila,

As Chairman, and on behalf of the Ernest F. Francke Republican Club of Hicksville together with other Civic, Benevolent and Veteran Cosponsors I sincerely thank you. Your participation and contribution had made the 2nd Annual Flag Day Tribute a tremendous success.

Sincerely,
William Gaborow
Chairman

Dear Mrs. Noeth,

I would like your help in giving some favorable publicity to our St. Ignatius Drum and Bugle Corps to help them to draw a big crowd to their Seventh Annual Pageantry in Brass, a marching and maneuvering contest that will include competing corps from neighboring states as well as Poughkeepsie, N.Y. The show is to be held under the lights at Hicksville High School on Saturday evening, July 24th at 8:00 p.m.

I really feel that the people of Hicksville may not know how great these girls are. At the present time they are the top All-Girl Corps in the Greater New York area which includes New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. They practice very hard to get where they are from 10 to 15 hours a week all year round.

This summer they are planning to enter the World Open in Lynn, Mass. as well as the United States Open Championship in Marion, Ohio. For this reason they must raise $13,000.00 in the next few weeks to cover expenses of transportation, motels etc.

This past winter the Huntington Thunderers, a similar group, were able to raise $25,000.00 to go to the Rose Bowl Parade thanks to the publicity they received from their hometown newspaper and the townspeople.

I am sure with your help and the cooperation more of our people, we can help the cadets to meet their goal to bring greater laurels back to Hicksville.

The Corps Director, Mr. Thomas Costa or myself will be glad to furnish you with any further details that you may desire.

I know that the more than two hundred girls who comprise the St. Ignatius Drum and Bugle Corps will deeply appreciate any publicity that you will give to their show. It is their one big fund raising event of the year, and this will be the very first time anything has been held under the lights at Hicksville High School. We all want it to be a big success.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Emily Goodman

Editors Note: This is something you won't want to miss! Good luck, girls.

Mrs. Michael Petito To Head Drug Abuse Central Agency

On Tuesday, June 28 Town Supervisor John W. Burke handed a big task to a diminutive Adeline Petito when he announced the creation of the first Town Drug Abuse Control Agency in Nassau County and named the widow former Oyster Bay Supervisor Michael N. Petito as its head.

"It's a big job, maybe the biggest in this Town", Burke said at a press conference Monday afternoon in Plainview. "We've been searching high and low for the right person to head this new agency and are delighted that Mrs. Petito has agreed to accept the challenge."

Burke said Mrs. Petito will serve as Drug Abuse Coordinator in the program which will be run by State funds dispensed by the Nassau County Drug Abuse and Addiction Commission. Her salary has been set at $15,000-Burke said that $64,700, has been allocated for the program by the New York State Narcotic Addiction Control Commission and has already been earmarked for Oyster Bay. The balance will mostly be used for salaries so that the agency will be effective.

The Drug Abuse and Control Agency (DACA) will operate under the general administrative control of the Department of Recreation and Community Activities and Mrs. Petito will be charged with co-ordinating all existing and future drug programs into a comprehensive plan for narcotic and drug abuse control.

Burke said that he thought that Mrs. Petito, who has a rapport with youngsters, would work closely with the Oyster Bay Youth Bureau and Youth Advisory Board, both of which were established by Burke last year, and are under the supervision of Councilman Warren Doolittle. She will also work closely with James Arvenitis, TOB Director of Recreation and Community Activities.

The Supervisor said he felt it was the Town's responsibility to conduct, assist and coordinate programs in the prevention and education of youthful drug offenders on the local levels. He said that DACA would enable the Town to avoid duplication of services and provide concerned groups with leadership and direction in meeting the needs of youth in the area of drug abuse.

"We want to insure complete, coordinated support for drug abuse programs being offered throughout the 110.8 square miles of the Town," Burke said. "We hope to enable small groups and organizations to share in services which would otherwise prove too expensive or difficult to provide by themselves."

The Supervisor said he thought DACA could serve the community best by development of drug programs for local youth councils, providing a speaker's bureau, conducting adult education programs, co-ordinating ongoing programs and informational releases, continuing preventive education programs in schools, providing assistance to various "hotlines" now in operation, offering counseling and information or referral services and by adequately maintaining records in accordance with guidelines established by the Nassau County

Governor Signs Drunk Driving Law

Governor Nelson Rockefeller has just signed into law (Chapter 495) a bill introduced by Senator John D. Caemmerer (R-East Williston). Chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Transportation, that establishes stiff new standards for determining if a driver has been operating his motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition.

The new law which goes into effect on September first mandates that if a chemical test administered by a qualified person shows there is a .12 percent of one percentum or more by weight of alcohol in the person's bloodstream, this would be prima facie evidence that he is intoxicated. On the other hand, if the blood alcohol figure ranges somewhere between .08 percent and .12 percent, this would constitute prima facie evidence that the driver is in an impaired condition.

"The .12 percent blood-alcohol level is the equivalent, for a 150 lb. man, of 8 ounces of 80 proof liquor consumed within four hours on an empty stomach, or 10 ounces following a full meal," Senator Caemmerer pointed out. The tough new Drunk Driving Law replaces the .15 percent level established last year by a bill previously introduced by Senator Caemmerer, who has long been a foe of drunk driving. "With estimates of alcohol-related traffic deaths running as high as 35,000 of the country total annual highway death toll of nearly 60,000, we are faced with a national problem of disaster proportions. Alcohol-related traffic injuries claim another one million people yearly and our annual economic loss from these unnecessary accidents exceeds $8 million!" Senator Caemmerer stressed.

"Drunk driving is by far our country's worst killer outside of natural causes. It tops our murder rate and Vietnam death toll by a considerable margin," Senator Caemmerer concluded.

JERRY BRILL

The Bare Foot Girl sounds like it should be a camping supply house in West Nyack. But it's not. It's a rummage in West Hempstead and the bartenders are pretty ladies.

There's Thea—who's between the Teachers' and the Tequila—there's Marge—who's between the Dewar's and the Dubonnet—and there's Sharon—a graduate of Nassau Community College, and 4 credits short of a Liberal Arts Degree. Her 5 ft. 7" frame and Peter Pan haircut didn't fool me. I knew, right away, she was a girl.

The 22 year old cutie was pouring about 3 fingers of Cutty for me one night last week. I asked her about the job.

'Look, Mister,' she lost me here. It's no different than in college where you're always around people who drink!'

'How about a pitch? How do you handle that?'

'I usually ignore it and just play it cool. Here I still have to go to learn and the other girls really help me.'

'Your parents,' I said. 'What'd they say when they learned of your new job?'

'Guess I'm thankful I wasn't home when my mother told my dad. When you live at home as I do, you learn to respect reaction,' the tall, thin youngster said. She effected her point beautifully.

The place was filling and the girls worked steadily. Sharon, whose father is in air conditioning, spoke as she worked—pouring, glass washing and smiling.

I wanted to know how she felt when asked for her first mixed drink.

'You sure do have to learn fast. I just walked down the other end and asked the girls. Either that or I'd have to look it up!'

'Do you drink?' asked I.

'No,' she answered, 'not very much at all.'

'Well, I do. I'll have another.'

We both smiled.

'This job is not for a shy girl if only for the typical thoughts that a lot of guys think about barmaids. But I'm here 6 weeks and I learn every day. You can't have a short fuse. That's very important in this kind of work.'

I asked how it is working for a woman, since a lady name of Helen is boss.

'It's different. A woman talking to another woman is more free in what she says—like about clothes or reaction to someone at the bar. So it's different,' she said as she smiled.

I ordered another. She was getting older.

'Any proposals?' asked I.

'No, but I sure do get asked out on a lot of dates.'

'Are you saving your money?'

Sharon smiled. 'Yes,' she said, 'and at the same time paying off a car and spending more money. Probably because there's more of it.'

'Suppose a customer is finicky with a drink. Amounts—or stirring—or just plain obnoxious. What do you do?'

'I usually let it just pass by,' she said and I realized that I made no journalistic history with that foray.

'Need any change in wardrobe since you're here?'

'Well,' she laughed, 'I now wear hot pants and earrings which I never did before. I must make myself look a little bit older.' She did, I assured her, she did.

Sharon had been a cashier at a Chinese restaurant in Woodmere, a salesgirl, a security guard in a department store and a student-lady.

I continued to drink as we spoke and she worked. 'Ever cut a customer off?'

'No,' she said and stopped right in front of me, 'not until at least tonight!!' Great sense of humor, I figured.

I smiled weakly, asked for the tab and made my way to the car.

Sharon may be four credits light—but it sure isn't in pouring or in answering!!!

Police Comm. Reminds Parents Of Services

Nassau Police Commissioner Louis J. Frank reminded parents throughout the County that the police department's "Anonymous Analysis" service and "Call For Help" program are available to the public 24 hours a day, every day.

Both the police "Anonymous Analysis" service and "Call For Help" program enable a person to ask for, and receive, professional or medical aid for a drug related problem without identifying himself.

Concerned parents can call 535-5145 and explain their problem to an experienced narcotics officer who will direct them to the best source of help. The caller does not have to identify himself.

If a parent should find a pill or suspicious substance they suspect may be a drug, it can be placed in an envelope and left at the desk at any precinct stationhouse or police headquarters. Again, the person leaving the envelope does not have to identify himself; but he should place a code name or initials on the envelope. In four days the person can call the Narcotics Bureau giving the code name or initials, and receive a report on the results of the laboratory tests.

"Our narcotics arrest figures point to an increase in the use of hard drugs," Frank said.

Church and Community

Like most things and people that quietly go about doing their jobs, churches and synagogues do not always receive real credit for the work they perform in a community. This doesn't mean they are particularly looking for praise or "thank you's," but let's take a moment to see some of the ongoing contributions houses of worship make to any community including our own!

First of all, they add to and support the stability of the community. Untold thousands of men, women and yes children have found moments of solid lasting peace and tranquility in the various houses of worship. To the clergyman come families with a wide variety of problems, seeking aid and counselling. In the various communities there is continually going on a supportive therapy. People find for the most part, genuine acceptance in churches, acceptance that is often not available anywhere else in society. As our different religious faiths meet these and hundreds of other needs they generate an ongoing sense of confidence in the lives of people in the community.

Secondly, the moral character of any community is influenced to a high degree by churches and synagogues. All religious faiths are constantly trying to improve their techniques so that greater numbers can be reached yet even within the lives of those who do receive religious education certain ethical precepts are planted which bear useful fruit in the adult years. It has been said that language is a conveyor of culture. In a somewhat similar way, the established religious faiths of a community are conveyors of God's commandments and laws for all people. It is rare to find a leader in any area of our society who did not as a youngster receive religious education.

Finally, they bring to any community a sense of conscience. Few people would quarrel with the thought that our welfare system needs rather desperate overhauling. Yet, at the same time the basic rationale behind welfare, giving aid and comfort to those in need has always been an acceptable premise in our country. As houses of worship continually lay upon people's hearts the need to express God's love in concrete action there is evidenced the unique role of the church and

All churches and synagogues need and deserve all our support. The problems of one should be of real concern to all men of good will. They do a solid ongoing job often without fanfare or applause. They see it as their mission and do this work gladly. They bring to any community and should be treasured by that community.

Howard J. Finnegan

The Hicksville School District has been on austerity because of school budget rejection since July 1.

The full impact on the community has not been felt since the board, at its last meeting, undertook certain actions to placate more powerful groups and continue a selected program of athletic facility usage.

Ignoring administration's honest designation of additional costs in upkeep of grounds for Little League, Connie Mack, Police Boys Club baseball etc, it came up with a unanimous vote to open the gates, maintain the fields and allow the games to continue!!

Everyone is glad the leagues may continue to operate and the boys and girls will have an outlet for their athletic activity. It, however, opens the Board to a taxpayers suit over its summary dismissal of "identifiable costs."

The selection of some groups for a favored position compromises austerity, softens the eye-opening rigidity of the circumstance, and desperately hurts the conversion of "No" to "Yes" votes.

At the meeting, Hicksville sports fans will be glad to know, the Board designated August 10th for a second vote on the budget.

The exact status of the budget to be submitted will be determined within the next few weeks.

Those who genuinely want to save a full program or even a part of the Hicksville Athletic program had better start to marshal their forces now.

It's going to take a concerted effort to save the sports program.

A limited summer recreation program for six elementary school sites was recommended by Administration and was adopted by the board. It will allow the broadest number of children to participate for the greatest period that the available $7,000.00 can provide.

A favorable sign was the board's vote to authorize, on a conditional purchase approval, the material and equipment for the physical Education classroom and Interscholastic Athletics for the 1971-'72 year.

This comes as additional good news for Hicksville athletes. The sum was modest compared to the great number of students involved.

It indicates that economy is in order but not vindictiveness to the Athletic program.

The defense was lead by Bob Carlucci, Pete

McLoughlin, and Kevin Sullivan. The Softball Team also defeated a team from Burns Avenue Area on Monday night under the lights at Cantique Park. The final score was 8-7 for the Explorers, with hitting again supplied by Bob Shaaf, with the defense lead by Bob Hammond.

WASTE DISPOSAL DISCUSSION: Oyster Bay Town Councilman Ralph Diamond, left, Chairman of the Town Board Committee on Environmental Control, discusses the proposed county-wide solid waste disposal program with D. Gordon Eastwood, center, project coordinator for the New York

State Department of Environmental Conservation; and Stephen D. Teeter of the engineering firm of Teeter-Dobbins. The discussion followed a recent public meeting at Oyster Bay Town Hall to air the plan, which is the result of an 18-month study by Teeter-Dobbins.

Plan For 900 Jericho Apartments Reported; BCA Asks Hearing Delay

What would be Long Island's largest apartment complex is about to be proposed for Jericho. The site would be the Lehman estate, just beyond the junction of the Long Island Expressway and Jericho Turnpike, east of the new State College campus, where the small YMCA office now stands.

It is reported that Myron Nelkin, the builder who sponsored the controversial Fairhaven Garden Apartments on Jericho Turnpike at the Oyster Bay Expressway, has requested a July 27 hearing. The Birchwood Civic Association has asked, in a letter to the Town Board, that the hearing be postponed until early Fall to give residents the opportunity to look into the proposal. The BCA feels that this biggest vacation week of the year is a poor choice for the hearing, at least from the residents' viewpoint.

The area is now mainly zoned for residences on two acres, with one portion being zoned to accommodate the YMCA Center, the plan for which has been abandoned. In all .68 acres are involved. According to Newsday, town building and zoning director, Edward Gaynor said, "If it's not 900-plus apartments, I'll eat the application."

Newsday also stated, "Despite the stormy history of virtually all Oyster Bay apartment proposals in recent years word of (the builder's) plans drew no direct criticism from Jericho civic leaders. The sparsely-populated location may, in part, explain the absence of immediate opposition in Jericho."

A partial explanation for the impression of disinterest on the part of Jericho may be that members of local organizations do not speak for these organizations before facts are known and before discussion can be had. The Birchwood Civic Association was approached by Newsday but had no official statement to offer.

In fact, this 900 apartment complex would have far-reaching effects on Jericho. It would increase the School District's total population by 2,700 (assuming three to an apartment). That's an instant 20 percent explosion. How many children might be involved depends on the size of the apartments. Certainly local services; water, fire protection facilities, garbage and sewage disposal, would feel the impact of this major population expansion as would local shopping facilities.

And, of course, local traffic would be affected. This same area had been studied by the Town Planning Committee of the BCA more than a year ago when downzoning to Business G was requested for a small site that is contiguous or a part of the planned complex property. A letter from the BCA to the Town Board then stated, "Traffic density and traffic flow generated by 'G' zoning for the property would add to traffic problems already acknowledged to be in store for the area. To the best of our knowledge, no plan to alleviate this potential problem has yet been approved."

That downzoning request was rejected by the Oyster Bay Town Board.

Birchwood Residents Open Second Office

East Birchwood Residents, Horace Bernstein and Allen J. Kaplan, partners of Berkap Realty Corp., have announced the opening of their second Real Estate Office. Berkap's new office will be located on Old Country Road in Plainview. The office was formerly Gwen Lower Realty. Berkap is affiliated with the Long Island Real Estate Board, The National Real Estate Board and the New York State Real Estate Board.

Mr. Bernstein is currently

Chairman of the Zone for the Long Island Real Estate Board's Multiple Listing Service, Secretary of the North Shore Chapter of the Long Island Real Estate Board, a Director on the Board of Governors for the Long Island Real Estate Board, and Delegate to the New York State Real Estate Board.

With the opening of their second office, Berkap states they will be able to give complete coverage to most of Nassau County.

Many of our residents inquired as to the actual tally of the second vote on the Syosset School Budget which was held on June 23rd.

The budget was passed by 1071 votes; there were 3640 Yes votes against 2569 No votes (total votes - 6209).

This represented quite a turnaround since the Budget was originally defeated by a mere 148 votes.

East Birchwood Girl Accorded High Honors

Completing high school in a year less than other students, Meryl Cohen graduated from Syosset Senior High School on June 27 with the highest academic average among the 737-member senior class.

Originally a member of the Class of 1972, Meryl assumed an accelerated schedule and graduated ahead of her class. Traditionally the student with the highest average throughout four years of high school is selected as the valedictorian of the particular graduating class. Since Meryl will be graduating after attending high school for only three years, she was not eligible for this honor.

However, other honors have been pouring in for Meryl, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cohen, 22 Flower Lane, Jericho.

She is winner of a New York State Regents Scholarship and was selected as a semi-finalist in National Merit Scholarship Competition. She was also winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award, and was one of only 300 students throughout the country named to the honors group of the Westinghouse Science Scholarship and Awards Program. She is also a member of the National Honor Society.

Meryl was accepted by six of the most respected schools in the country and following graduation, she has decided to attend John Hopkins University.

Syosset Hi Teacher Awarded Doctorate

A Syosset High School business education teacher, Charles D. Nadler, has been awarded the degree of Doctor of Education by St. John's University.

Dr. Nadler has been a teacher at Syosset High School since 1959, following fourteen years with the American Express Company in various management positions. After inaugurating a company-sponsored typing school for that firm, Dr. Nadler turned from company management to education and obtained a teaching position in business education with the Syosset School District.

In 1960, he resumed part-time studies at St. John's University for his doctorate, which he has just been awarded.

In addition to being a member and officer of local teacher organizations, Dr. Nadler has addressed numerous teacher organizations on Syosset High School's innovative business education program. He has published six articles on various aspects of business education in leading educational journals and periodicals.

In 1967, Dr. Nadler received the outstanding business teacher award from the Administrative Management Society of Nassau and Suffolk counties.

Dr. Amchin To Get Diplomate Degree

Syosset School District psychologist Dr. Abraham Amchin has been scheduled to receive the diplomate degree in school psychology, one of the highest professional honors accorded by the American Psychological Association.

The diplomate degree will be conferred in a convocation of the association next September. At present, less than 100 individuals in the country have received the highly coveted professional award.

CHATTING: Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Case, right, chats with Mr. and Mrs. John Vanneck at the scenic Bailey Arboretum which the county owns in Laitingtown. The arboretum was given to the county in 1968 by the Frank and Marie Louise Bailey Foundation. Mrs.

Vanneck's parents. The estate has a magnificent collection of trees and plants and the main house has been redecorated for use by the garden clubs and other conservation related organizations. The arboretum is open daily, except Mondays, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

LILCO Concerts

County Executive Ralph G. Case announced that the Long Island Lighting Company will co-sponsor three professional symphony concerts at Eisenhower Park this summer. This will make the seventh year that the utility has participated in the program and the tenth year of free symphony concerts.

The first performance will be held on Friday evening, July 9, and include: Prelude and Liebestod from Tristan and Isolde by Wagner and Three Songs for Voice and Orchestra written by Gabriel Frontier. Both Wagner's and Frontier's works will be sung by guest soloist Jean Snow. Handel's Water Music Suite and Symphony Number 8 by Beethoven will also be on the program. Paul Elisha will again conduct all three concerts.

Case stated, "I am happy that LILCO and the Musicians Performance Trust Funds have agreed again to provide a free professional symphony series of this caliber for the residents of Nassau County."

The remaining performances will be given on August 6 and 20. All concerts will begin at 8:30 p.m. at Eisenhower Park's Lakeside theatre. Spectators are urged to bring their own blankets or folding chairs due to limited seating capacity.

Dear Friends ...

IT IS ALWAYS PLEASANT TO REPORT PROGRESS....and, as all who drive by can see, the parking lot of the notorious Milk Store on Division Avenue and Old Country Road, has finally been black-topped, which is a step in the right direction. Also, on Monday, June 28th, the six other charges against both Milton M. Sobel, as manager of Mini-Mark Milk Store, Inc. AND, the Mini-Mark Milk Store, Inc. (reputedly owned by Mr. Nestor Alvarez, Jr.) were finally brought to court. The above-mentioned pled guilty on all six charges and were fined $150.00. The six charges were 1. noise violation— 2. sign violation— 3. fence violation (the fence must be at least 6' and it is now 5')—4. No certificate of occupancy— 5. Sanitation ordinance regarding rubbish containers. A spokesman for the Town of Oyster Bay who gave us this information also explained that the owners have promised to take steps in the near future to correct these violations. We are happy to hear this. For the past two years, that is all that those concerned with this potential slum have been asking. Not that they go out of business, but that they conform to all ordinances and regulations that all other businesses are subject to.... especially those regarding cleanliness, as this store is, selling food. We wish them well and hope that the conditions will be corrected in the near future, as we understand they have promised.

HERE AND THERE: The NAACP suit against the Town of Oyster Bay comes up on July 24th....another TOB regulation which affects many whom might augment their incomes with boarders or roomers is that this practice is only permitted in a "G" zone with a special use permit. Frankly, to me, this seems just a little strict. But it is the law at present, and if we should want it changed to permit one or two roomers, we would have to suggest this to our Town officials.

IN CASE YOU HAVE FORGOTTEN....today is the first day of austerity in Hicksville School District 17. However, as you will read in both Mrs. Smith's article and Mr. Finnegan's Sports column, a date has been set for a second vote on this budget.

THAT'S ALL for this week...have a happy Fourth, and stay well. Sheila

Cycling Safety Stressed

Town Councilman Sal Mosca said that owners of bicycles should obtain a safety "checkup" inspection of their bicycles to insure that all mechanical parts are in proper working order during the "sun 'n' fun time" ahead.

Mosca said, "A visit to your local bike repair shop to replace broken or wornout parts will insure safer bicycle riding and more enjoyment."

Cycling is one of the most efficient and yet least harmful forms of transportation. The bicycle adds no pollution to the atmosphere. It does, however, provide one of the best forms of exercise, aside from walking.

Cycle safety can be accomplished by applying common sense rules and the same judgment used when behind the wheel of the family car. Smart bicyclists should walk their bikes at busy corners, give hand signals where required, utilize bicycle paths wherever provided and be courteous to others.

Copies of a bicyclist's book of rules and suggestions are available to residents by writing to: Lt. John Blenn, Accident Prevention Bureau, Nassau County Police Headquarters,

Jericho Youth Council Opens Coffee House At Jackson School

How does a community help its young people establish a suitable place for socialization and meetings? The problem of finding and furnishing a location for Jericho's youth center required the mutual cooperation of students, parents and teachers, with the assistance of Town of Oyster Bay officials. As a result of meetings throughout this school year, the Jericho Youth Council realized a primary goal on June 11, with the opening of a Coffee House in the George A. Jackson Elementary School basement.

"Establishing the coffee house has been a uniting theme for our Youth Council," said Robert Stevens, President of the Youth Council and Senior High School Social Studies teacher. "Now that the Coffee House is in operation, there is a place of their own for Jericho's high school students to hold discussions on such topics as politics, unemployment and community action programs. Under adult supervision, there could even be the development of a crafts or music center or a boutique." Mr. Stevens added.

With the cooperation of the Town of Oyster Bay Department of Recreation, Jericho's students, parents and staff organized the Youth Council last fall. A constitution and a slate of officers were formed: joining Mr. Stevens were students Celia Felsner (Vice-President), Elise Goldstein (Recording Secretary), Carol Sloane (Corresponding Secretary) and parents Mrs. Jacky Friedrich (Treasurer), Mrs. Linda Abraham (Chairman of Projects Committee), Mrs. Arline Cohen (Personnel Committee) and Mrs. Bernyce Shimbelt (Publicity Chairman).

Following a community-wide fund raising campaign which included cake sales, paper drives and car washes, and aided by $350 in unsolicited contributions from such organizations as Friends of the Jericho Public Library, West Birchwood Civic Association, Birchwood Civic Association and the Jericho Junior-Senior High School PTSA, the goal of the Coffee House became a closer reality. The Youth Council ironed out the assorted problems of finding adequate space, insurance regulations and the equipment for the Jackson School site. The Jericho School District donated the use of the room in the Jackson School.

"Thanks to the many generous contributions from people in the various neighborhoods, the coffee house has carpeting, refrigeration, air conditioning, coffee urns, stereo, sofas, a desk, disposal cans. The students painted the walls of the center and worked together to furnish the coffee house as they wanted," remarked Mrs. Shimbelt.

"Now, with the leadership and supervision of our professional coordinator, Mr. Richard Fink, the newly opened center will be able to tap a lot of resources of the youngsters and members of the community, to really be of interest to our young people," added Mrs. Cohen. A grant from the Town of Oyster Bay makes possible the assignment of Mr. Fink as coordinator. Mr. Fink's background in counseling and as Director of Youth Services Programs and Executive Director of Family and Children's Services in Pennsylvania and neighboring Long Island areas promises success in the further development of activities for Jericho's youth.

One summer project for Youth Council members will be to collect newspapers for recycling on the last Saturday of each month. This began in June 26.

Hicksville Public Library

On July 6 an Art Exhibition by Jess Wright will be on view at the Hicksville Public Library. Mr. Wright, a resident of Huntington, started his art career at the age of sixty-five. As a boy in Pittsburgh he showed a flair for drawing, but after the death of his father, a prosperous architectural builder, young Jess chose a career in petroleum. This varied field led him into operating one of the first "car laundries" in the country. While

I know it was promised that nothing more would be said about our new proposed building until we saw something happen. So I'm a liar. A special Association meeting was held Monday June 21. A vote was to be taken to finalize the construction of the new edifice. After much pro and con the vote was in favor to build. Thank heaven we have cautious members, who look on the dark side, as to what could happen. This tends to tone down the devil may care optimist. We need bother to find the right way. But who is to say what is right, and what is wrong. The cautious see nothing but gloom, and believe it to be wrong. The optimist feel its right, except we didn't go far enough. Its a big nut to crack, and only time will tell which one is right. One thing is for sure we'll need a lot of help from as many members as can participate in any activity that comes up. So please do your bit to give a helping hand. We need a little of your time. As soon as the steel comes, you'll be seeing things move. All we need now is for steel to go on strike, and with our luck it will probably happen. Now who is the pessimist.

A leak party was had, and turned out very nicely. Even the rain couldn't dampen the appetites or the fun. Rock Parrella, and a few others were barbecuing in the rain. Just the sight of that should be a barrel of laughs. Oh yes, Harry Wurth was chairman, and made the report.

We had a new coffee urn, being carried back and forth to Northport Hospital, but was never being used. So, in order for them to use it we decided to donate it to them. It also saves trouble to tote it to and fro.

The picnic comm. reported progress, and expect a real smashing time. Please don't forget to send in your books. Give them enough time to figure what will be needed so they can start ordering early.

The campfire girls were without flags, so we decided they shouldn't be without them, and will see to it they get flags at our expense.

Singing boys of L.I. send their thanks. Mike Hermiak sends his thanks from Vietnam, for packages. Seems each time Mike gets a package, he sends a letter back.

Rita Aug sent a letter of thanks for poppies, and mentioned the Aux got rid of them all, and the donations were gratifying. Our Aux. also helps in our packages to our young men over the hot spot.

An American Legion in Minnesota sent a sample of stickers to free prisoners of Viet Nam. We ordered several thousands of them so you see, we do fraternize and not against the law.

Everytime a comm. does a job, you always hear the chairman give thanks to Tom McCabe. Tom doesn't chair any Comm., but he sure puts out a lot of time and effort. Anu post is fortunate to have the different Toms in their midst.

Last but not least a trophy was donated to the Fire Dept., for the Labor Day festivities.

working hard to care for his family, he pursued a second hobby...music. His rich baritone voice was heard by millions on radio when he appeared on James Melton's Dutch Masters program and also with the tenor, John Charles Thomas on his programs.

When Mr. Wright was able to find time for leisure he went back to his first love...art. A prolific self-taught artist he has been exhibited in many showings on the island and in Manhattan. He is represented in private collections as well as in several executive offices and restaurants on Long Island. However, this busy man is still pursuing an active career in the oil industry.

It is indeed an honor to have an Art Show of this caliber on display at the Hicksville Public Library. The library viewing hours are from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Social Security Questions And Answers

Ques: I am a 68 year old dentist and my wife has convinced me to reduce my practice by taking off the months of February and August. In February, I will go to Florida and in August, I will spend the time at my son's mountain cottage. Is it possible for me to get social security benefits for those two months?

Ans: Yes. As a self-employed individual you are entitled to benefits for any month you do not perform substantial services. It would certainly appear that you will not perform substantial services for the two months you are away.

CADETTE GIRL Scout Troop No. 2 of St. Stephens Church recently enjoyed a camping trip to Tobay Beach. On Saturday night the Scouts joined Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts from Plainedge at a campfire. All enjoyed skits, jokes and songs. On Sunday the scouts packed up early in between the raindrops and headed home wet, tired, and sandy but happy. It was an experience all will never forget. Sunoco vs Gertz-Gertz by a score of 12-6. Game started out great for Shawn with a 4 run jumpson Gertz but a combination of 3 walks & 8 hits by Gertz in the third inning led to Shawn's defeat. High spots for Shawn were the three hits a piece for D. Epstein, C. Lusco & M. Roethel. Plus the relief pitching of C. Lusco...For Gertz They had to overcome a 4 run first inning by Sunoco & came out on top 12-6. Mark Anastasio was the big gun with 2 triples & a single for 3-3. Jim O'Brien had 3-4 with a double. Richard Rath was the winning pitcher walked 5 striking out 6 & giving up only 4 hits while Gertz had 14 hits & only 4 strike outs. 33 men batted in 5 innings. Gertz vs Sunoco—Again Gertz taking it 3-2. For Sunoco—A very good game M. Giummule pitched a terrific game of 5 innings. In the sixth inning when Giummule loaded the bases with an error 92 walks. J. Marrone came in & ended the inning without allowing a run to be scored.

For Gertz: This was a well played game by both sides. Sunoco had 4 hits, the best Gertz could do was 2 hits. The game was tied 2-2 for 4 innings. In the fifth Mike Humphreys got hit by the pitcher with one out, stole 2nd, took third on a ground out & Mark Anastasio got our 2nd hit, a single up the middle to put Gertz in the lead 3-2. Banno Kreisher pitched 6 innings, giving up 4 hits, striking out 7 & walking 4. Gertz five top hitters this year was: Madine 509, Anastasio 442, Rath 432, Humphreys 431 O'Brien 333... Andy Lopedote who has doubled his batting the second half, knocking in the winning run, WITH a line drive double to right center field.

FIRESTONE was forced into a playoff with Gertz by losing to Agway 6-2. Poor pitching & fielding in the first inning, led to Firestone downfall is the first inning. Presidents Message

As of this writing, both the race in the Major league and "AA" league are undecided, and it looks like it will go down to the wire to decide who will win the championships in these two divisions.

In the "A" league it was Circle Texaco edging out Newberrys for the championship. Congratulations to Ben Pamillonio and the boys of Circle Texaco for winning their league, championship. I feel at this time that credit for a fine effort must also be given to Jim Dema and the players of Newberrys. Jim lost the first half when he lost to Circle Texaco 1-0 in the final game of the first half. He then proceeded to win the second half by beating Dodge Chargers 2-1 in the final game of the second half. In the playoffs to decide the "A" league championship, Newberrys lost another heartbreaker to Circle Texaco. Ben Pamillonio remarked to me after the game that it was a pleasure to compete against a manager like Jim Demas. Although Jim must have been disappointed, he took the loss gracefully.

I would like to thank Charlie Rollins, Mike Pakaluk and Bob Cassagne for their excellent coverage of our ball games. Unfortunately, a few of our managers were too interested in winning to take time out to send in their game reports. A lot of time and effort were put into this project and I must admit I am disappointed. I feel that publicity is important to our league's success, but evidently some of the managers disagree. We all like to win, but certain managers placed too much emphasis on winning. Fortunately, the majority of our managers teach our boys good sportsmanship and the proper way to play baseball, which, after all, is the principal concept of little league baseball.

Our candy drive was very successful and I would like to thank all of the boys and their parents for their wonderful cooperation. I realize that fund raising is a necessary evil, but we made enough money to cover our umpire expenses. Any additional profit will be used to subsidize our dinner awards night which will be held in October. We plan to have a major league ball player as a guest speaker. More about our dinner at a later date.

Our top three salesmen were Ken Branham of V.F.W. and Billy Dolan of Newberrys who were tied for first place, selling 72 boxes apiece. Each will receive a $25 Savings Bond. Next was John Poggioni who sold 61 boxes. John will receive two box seats in a Met Game. We have also decided to award Billy Barone of Shawn Sunoco and Bob Moneete of Mid-Island Plaza the third prize which is a pair of spikes. Both of these boys sold 60 boxes. We wish to thank these boys and all of our members who helped to make the candy sale successful. We still have candy and or money outstanding. As soon as we get it all back, we will raffle off the bike and the two free dinners.

PLEASE RETURN ALL UNIFORMS TO YOUR MANAGER OR TO 108 Wilfred Boulevard or 152 Ohio Street

The Major League

by Mike Pakaluk

Last rites for Nathan's have just been announced as the ex-league leader with a 4-0 record is heading on path to Shang-La. VFW, exploding like a demolition cap, has taken the League lead in the stretch. Gilson, whose percentage has decreased the way the sun sets in the horizon is affixing in last place.

ON June 22, Gilson and VFW met and played to a 4-4 tie. Stars of the game included J. Byrd, S. Pisani, M. Valli, S. Tuturo, and B. Shner of Gilson and J. Pizzo, K. Lohsen and K. Braham of VFW.

The same day, J. Poggioni, T. Slone, B. Damm, and J. Goldstein delt a loss to Nathan's 3-3. B. Damm and J. Poggioni shared pitching chores.

R. Flannagan broke out of his slump in a 6-4 victory of Gilson over LINB on Wednesday, the 23rd. Both M. Hamilton and S. Tuturo tripled for the winning run. F. Barbaro and J.D'Angelo fielded well for Gilson T. Koppas, A. Kappel, and J. Poggioni excelled for LINB.

The fourth game of the week was played on Thursday with VFW practically wrapping up the half by beating Gilson 11-1. D. Mezzapapa pitched six innings and hit a grand slam. M. Byrnes went 3-4. Tony Viggiani, in the fashion of Ty Cobb, Luis Aparicio, and Willie Mays made the most spectacular play of the Little League sason. While trying to score from second on a single, he was confronted by the opposing catcher waiting to make the tag. This didn't stop Tony, who leaped 4 feet into the air, spun around in flight, and landed belly-down near the plate, which he promptly reached for, scoring a well deserved run.

The final game of the week was played between LINB and Nathan's J. Poggioni in this last game hit his 10th homerun. This figure can be appreciated by the fact that if he played a 162 game season at this rate, he would have a homerun total of 90. C. Roberts went 2-3, helping with the 13's victory over Nathan's.

stereo, went to Charles Gabrus of prize, an AM-FM radio, went to going to third place winner, Mrs.

For Youth Board

Nassau County Executive
Ralph G. Caso said that it now appears that the county will receive most of the money lost to the youth board in the state budget originally adopted.
Caso praised Assemblyman Joseph M. Margiotta for successfully leading the fight in Albany to have the Legislature restore $2 million for youth programs throughout the state.
Based on an initial analysis of the bill, Nassau County expects to receive a large portion of its original $827,000 state aid allocation. Prior to the restoration of funds, state aid to the county's youth board had been reduced to $399,000.
