Labor Day Parade And Drill

By Reeve Conover

FIRE AND WATER

Unfortunately, this years parade and drill on Labor day was a washout. Old weatherman Mr. Nygren really gave it to us this year. It was rained out on Sept. 6, Labor day, and was moved up to Saturday, Sept 11. Everything was O.K. until after the second event Sat., when it rained. With three events cancelled, there wasn't much left to see. Despite all the confusion, trophies were given out for the Parade and part of the drill. To the winners of the trophies, the Hicksville Explorers Club members say congratulations; with a special CONGRATULATIONS to the Hicksville Fire Dept. Ladies Auxiliary for their fine first place showing in the parade.

The other side of Labor day was a smoky house fire at 12 Lantern La. at approximately 4 P.M. Labor day afternoon. At that fire, many of the H.F.D.'s fine apparatus responded, as well as many Explorers. Special praise to 1st Asst. Chief Mertz for his fine rescue at that fire.

Later that same week, another bad House Fire erupted at 70 W. Cherry St. at 12:30 A.M. on Sunday the 11th. The house was abandoned at the time and was almost completely destroyed by the blaze.

Detectives Commended

Nassau Police Commissioner Louis J. Frank today commended Second Squad Detective Richard McGuire and Burglary Squad Detective Victor DeVeaux for clearing 30 burglaries occurring in Jericho, Syosset and Plainview over the past several months with the arrest of three Queens men.

Charged with Burglary third degree, the defendants, all heroin users are: Louis Balletta, 24, of 90-03 184 St., Hollis. Frank V. Raspanti, 18, of 90-59 186 St.,

Hollis. Joseph Azzara, 19, of 107-30 126 St., Richmond Hill.

The detectives' first break in the case came when Raspanti and Azzara got careless during a burglary at 28 Sally Lane, Plainview, on August 12, and discarded some material which contained a fingerprint. The officers then began searching identification records and interviewing persons, and on September 7 they went into Queens and made the arrests.

The School Board Meeting

By Shirley Smith

Tuesday night was a long night at the High School. Over one hundred people went to a School Board meeting that started late, was interspersed with three executive sessions, a lengthy and emotional public portion and ended up the next morning.

The new superintendent's contract, the salary freeze and whether or not we will have individualized instruction this year were some of the reasons so many people stayed up so late.

The suggested contract, as presented by School Board attorney, Harry Goebel, called for three years with an option to extend it nine months (to June 30, 1975) and another option to extend it one more year, to June 30, 1976. State law requires a minimum of three years, but no more than five and Dr. Jerome Niosi, the new superintendent, was requesting a five year (actually, four years and nine months, since the effective date is October 1, 1971.)

Harry Kershen said he is opposed to long-term contracts regardless of the person involved. He also felt the expiration date should be firm, leaving no options written into the contract. Dr. Kershen moved that the Board enter into a contract with Dr. Niosi for three years, nine months, until June 30, 1975, and delete the option for a year's extension. The vote, seconded by Neil McCormack, was defeated--Kershen and McCormack voting yes; Zindulka, Pappas, Bello, Clark and Muratore voting no.

Included in the proposed contract was a stipulation that the superintendent have a physical examination once a year (at his own expense) and present the results to the Board. This portion was agreeable to Dr. Niosi but was deleted by a 4 to 3 vote--voting yes: McCormack, Kershen, Pappas, Bello; voting no: Zindulka, Clark, Muratore.

Thomas Clark moved to approve the superintendent's contract as recommended by the attorney, but after an executive session changed his motion to accept a contract for three years, nine months with no options for extending the expiration date. The contract would be up for review and possible renewal during the final year, anyway. Frank Zindulka and Edward Bello voted against the motion because it deleted the Board's options. Mr. McCormack abstained from voting. He explained that it was not a reflection on Dr. Niosi nor disapproval of him as superintendent, but rather disapproval of the Board's action in dismissing the former superintendent, Donald Abt. Mr. Clark's motion carried, with Kershen, Pappas, Clark and Muratore voting yes.

Dr. Kershen's request for a declaration of unanimity was not accepted, however.

During the public portion of the meeting, several parents asked why their second-grade children individualized instruction, classes (formerly Project PLAN) did not have their supplies yet. Dr. John Cadden, Assistant Superintendent, said the Board had directed Administration not to order TLU's (teacher-learning units) this summer and as yet had not changed that directive.

There was confusion as to whether the School Board had stopped the ordering of supplies for individualized instruction or Administration had misinterpreted what was to be done. Thomas Muratore, Board president, announced (after a second executive session) that the "Board of Education has never stopped what was known as Project PLAN." He said the individualized program will continue this year and there will be an evaluation in March or April. The Board authorized Administration to order TLU's and other needed supplies for the first and second grade students. Dr. Cadden said it should take about one week for the supplies to be delivered.

The Brillboard

The Israeli army chief of staff General Haim Bar Lev said this week that there would be no long haired hippies among that country's forces. That's a tough edict.

Should Ceylon bar hippies, yes. Or Japan, okay. But Israel?? A young Israeli joining up just could create decisional disorder.

'Name??' he might be asked. 'Abba Me,' he'd answer.

'Me??' I never heard that name before, the sergeant would say. 'I changed it from Meir,' he'd answer.

'Age??' he'd be asked. '24,' would be the come backer. 'You look older,' the sergeant would remark.

Men Wanted

Men are Wanted for the Nassau Mid-Island Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

'Audition For Admissions' will be at 8:30 PM on Tuesday, September 21 at the K or C Hall Post Ave in Westbury.

'I changed it from 29!!' he'd answer.

The sergeant would mark down all of the statistics. 'I'm afraid that you'll have to cut your hair. Chief of staff directive,' he'd say.

'Cut my hair?? I can't.'

'Never say can't. Why can't you cut your hair??' the sergeant would ask.

'I'm a rabbi,' he would answer. 'Rabbis can have short hair,' he'd be told.

'But I'm a rabbi at the Tel Aviv Concert Hall!'

'Then what you're saying is you're a long hair rabbi.'

"Summer and Smoke" To Be Presented

Obedience Trial in conjunction with this show, which will be considered their specialty, offering generous cash awards and lovely trophies.

'Precisely. And the beard stays, too,' Abba'd say.

'The beard can stay. He said nothing of that.'

'But they're a matched set. How about the paws??'

The sergeant would scratch his face in wonderment. 'I guess side burns are okay. But you can understand that hair as long as yours could get in the way of close order drill.'

'I'll have it set and it won't get in the way,' Abba's return.

'No choice. You must have your head shaved.'

'What about the coastguard??'

'We have no coast so we have no coastguard,' he'd answer.

'Maybe if they took guys with hair, they'd have a coast.'

'Then can I have you sign this form to enlist??' the sergeant would say.

Abba would find relief by moving. He had been sitting on his hair. 'If that's the only way to join, I guess I'll have to.'

'Welcome to the army,' would say the sergeant.

Abba would get up to leave. They'd shake hands and dejectedly Abba and his hair would progress toward the door moving his head from side to side and saying, 'An Israeli soldier without locks. Unheard of, and he'd head for the barber.'

Questions and Answers

Q: My doctor doesn't accept Medicare assignments for direct payments to him. He has sent me a bill that I can't pay right now. What can I do about it?

A: You can send the itemized bill to Medicare before you pay it. You are responsible for the first $50 in doctor bills each year. After that amount is deducted, Medicare will pay you 80 percent of the reasonable charge for the services shown on the bill. Then you can turn this money over the the doctor and you will only owe him the balance.

Q: I am 65 and about to retire. Since I will receive a company pension and some income from investments, can I wait 4 years and get the whole 4 years of social security benefits at one time?

A: No. When you apply for social security retirement benefits, payments can be retroactive for only 1 year.

Town Approves Equipment Co.

The petition of Grandor Equipment Corp. for a special permit use to carry on a contracting equipment operation in Plainview was approved by the Town Board of Oyster Bay at its meeting on Tuesday.

Grandor, now located in Albertson, plans to "park and display general contracting equipment for the purpose of sale, rental, service and storage on the parcel of land located on the southwest corner of the intersection of the South Service Road of the Long Island Expressway and Newtown Road.

The petitioner proposes to use the existing building on the property and to construct an additional building.

At the public hearing on July 13th, protests were raised by owners of commercial buildings surrounding the property, based on expected noise, pollution and noxious gases; unsightliness; and traffic and congestion on Newton Road.

Hearing Date Set

On the same calendar was a resolution directing the Town Clerk to advertise notice of a re-scheduled hearing on the petition of the William J. Devore Columbus Club for a special permit use to maintain a private club (Knights of Columbus Meeting Hall) on the south side of Old Country Road west of Hope Drive.

NEWS
from Your Congressman
JAMES R. GROVER, JR.

2nd CONGRESSIONAL Dist.

Having returned to Washington after the recent recess, I've had some opportunity to digest the views, the opinions and the moods of our Second Congressional District and I'm not at all sure that Congress is completely aware of everything that's bothering the American public.

During my stay on Long Island, I had the opportunity several times to take part in radio telephone talk shows, programs in which callers dial a studio and grill the person who is visiting that day. The phones kept ringing and there were quite a few questions about Vietnam and the economy but another persistent note was sounded, this about violent protest and crime.

One woman said something like this. "Frankly, as a woman, I'm terrified. You hear more and more about violence against people and few of these criminals are caught and even fewer get more than a slap across the wrist from the courts." The lady was right but she wasn't telling the whole story about the problems faced by the courts.

The problem starts not with the courts but in our homes and in our growing populations. More people can generally mean more crime but recent FBI statistics show a dramatic rise in violent crime. Such crimes as robbery, rape, assault, murder rose 11 per cent in 1970 over 1969. The 1969 increase was 12 per cent over 1968.

Rootlessness in our society is part of the cause. Amoralism, permissiveness and disregard for others can also be blamed. Our police and our court rulings in favor of defendants. Our prisons aren't doing any sort of job on rehabilitation which means that many felons keep returning to jail.

And too many people, be they working against discrimination or fighting some other real or fancied injustice, seem to think that lawbreaking and violence are justified. It's a dark picture and an area to which Congress will have to pay increasing attention.

REPORTS

The ravages of Doria, our visitor from the tropics last month, are still evident throughout Oyster Bay Town. Surveys by the Nassau County Department of Civil Defense show that it was the hardest hit area in the county.

The Town Highways Division, which has done a tremendous job in clearing obstructed roads and sidewalks, still has special crews working on the cleanup of the storm damage. Highways Division Superintendent George Kunz tells me it could be another two or three weeks before the job is completed. Almost all of the downed trees along the Town roads have been cleaned up, he reports, but now the crews are picking up the limbs and trees that homeowners have cleared from their own property and placed at the curb.

Doria's damaging ways were also costly ones. Estimates indicate that the cost of cleanup crews and equipment, plus the replacement of trees and damaged curbing and roads, will total about $200,000. We have contacted the U.S. Department of Interior and hope to get some reimbursement from the Federal government under the National Disaster Act.

TOWN NOTES: As you have probably read elsewhere in this newspaper, I am proposing a Town budget for 1972 that should result in no increase in Town taxes. This is doubly rewarding to me in that we will be able to continue to supply essential services to the homeowner without adding to his financial burden, and it more than justifies the many hours spent in reviewing our financial needs.

It is very disappointing to see that the packaging industry continues to shirk its civic and social responsibilities. The industry not only ignores its contributions to the growing solid waste disposal problem, but also continues to flood us with newer, bigger, fancier, bulkier "convenience packaging" which must be disposed of. I should think that an industry that prides itself on its advances in "disposable" packaging should have some responsibility for its product reaching that ultimate goal.

Attention aspiring teenage actors and actresses: Auditions for the Town's Teen Repertory Theatre will be held September 22, 23 and 24 from 3:00 to 5:00 PM at the Syosset-Woodbury Community Center. Those of you who saw one of the group's performances this past summer can attest to the interest, dedication and talent of the group.

With the end of another swimming season on Labor Day, I am very pleased and gratified to report that there were no deaths due to drowning at any of our Town Beaches despite record crowds at some of them. This is an excellent testimonial to the skill and devotion of our lifeguard force, and we are very proud of them.

Professionals Restricted

In a unanimous vote, the Oyster Bay Town Board approved a resolution eliminating the right of professionals working in their homes to continue their operation after they have moved from the premises.

A public hearing was held on the matter on July 27th, and much advance notice was given, particularly by Councilman

Ralph Diamond of Jericho, who notified professional organizations of the Town's intention to impose the restriction.

Should a professional wish to continue operating in a residential neighborhood after he and his family have moved, he must apply to the Town Board for a change of zone in order to do so.

Councilman Warren M. Doolittle issued a casting call to aspiring teenage actors and actresses in the Town of Oyster Bay to try out for the Town's Teen Repertory Theatre.

Doolittle said audition dates have been scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 22, 23 and 24 from 3 P.M. to 5 P.M. at the Syosset-Woodbury Community Center.

The Teen Repertory Theatre, guided by drama coach Marilyn Rosen, offers a free training

Following the training program, the company will prepare a fully-costumed children's production which will tour the Town schools on Saturdays this winter.

Teens must be Town residents between the ages of 15 and 18 and must obtain a letter of recommendation from a high school English or drama teacher or professional drama coach. They must also prepare a two-minute scene or monologue for the audition.

Applications may be obtained from Mrs. Rosen, c/o Oyster Bay Department of Recreation, 7800 Jericho Turnpike, Woodbury, N.Y., or by calling 921-5944.

Information Program For Buses Is New

The public was urged to "Try It" by Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso who announced an extensive marketing and information program for buses.

"Very simply, our goal is to get more people to try buses for daily transportation," Caso said. "The program is designed to give the public more information about bus service, make bus riding more comfortable and attractive and to survey the transportation needs of Nassau residents."

Caso and Nassau County Commissioner of Transportation Andrew G. Schiavone outlined the following steps to make traveling by bus easier:

-Modern showcases with bus and train information will be erected in over 75 locations, including shopping centers and railroad stations.

-Over 3,000 new bus stop signs will be installed throughout the county, replacing and supplementing existing signs.

-New mini-shelters are being installed.

Standard format has been developed for all printed bus timetables for passenger's easy reference.

Schiavone said that under the new program, information and marketing will now go hand in hand. A marketing group will study the needs of the public and propose possible new and altered routes to increase ridership. This new group will be tied in with the TRIP Center (Transportation Reporting Information Program). On August 30, the county took over operation of TRIP, under an agreement with the Tri-State Regional Planning Commission.

In addition to data received from TRIP, the marketing group will survey the public through personal interviews at shopping centers or homes, telephone interviews and direct mail. The marketing group also will seek to increase ridership through promotions and newspaper and radio advertising. Presently, they are concentrating on alleviating traffic congestion and parking problems in the Mineola area by means of a direct bus service from two test areas, Baldwin and East Rockaway.

Caso introduced the county Department of Transportation's new trademark, to be used on all future projects and to be shown on the uniforms worn by the marketing staff. The county executive also displayed the red and white "Try It" buttons being distributed to help generate interest in bus riding.

Under an agreement with the Tri-State Regional Planning Commission, the county will spend $30,000 on bus marketing and information programs between August, 1971 and August, 1972. The county had originally agreed to allocate this amount for the operation of TRIP, which will now be funded instead by Tri State during this period.

AAA Leaflet

Whether your child is just starting school or is an "old timer" only one route to school can qualify as the "safest" for a child.

This is the advice given in a leaflet prepared by the Automobile Club of New York for parents.

Titled "THE BEST ROUTE TO SCHOOL", it is being distributed as an aid to parents in teaching traffic safety rules to kindergarten and first and second grade students. More than 526,000 copies are being sent to schools throughout the metropolitan area.

The local AAA Club also suggests that children be instructed to obey police officers, school crossing guards and members of the School Safety Patrol stationed at intersections. In addition, parents are advised to train their youngsters to make a habit of the following safety rules:

- Cross only at corners
- Look both ways before crossing
- Watch for turning cars
- Keep from between parked cars

DESERVED AWARD: Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso presents official county medallion to former County Executive A. Holly Patterson at open house ceremony held at the A. Holly Patterson Home in Uniondale.

Ceremony marked the 10th anniversary of the opening of the Home which the former county executive helped found. The Home today is one of the nation's leading long-term health-care facilities for the elderly.

Blasts Revolutionaries

Would you believe that there would be a "civil rights" movement of a different type even if there were no Negroes in the United States?

Charles Smith, Negro editor from the Watts area of California believes exactly that. He claims that "the subversives and conspirators who have divided Americans over race would have divided us over something else - because they know that division is necessary before they can conquer us."

Charles Smith will speak here in Levittown, on Monday, Sept. 20, at Levittown Hall. His speech, entitled "What's Behind The Street Revolution?" begins at 8:00 PM. The public is invited.

Dedication Of Carillon At St. Stephen's Church

Dedication of the "Coronation" Carillon which was recently installed at the Lutheran Church of St. Stephen will be held on Sunday, September 19th. This announcement was made by Reverend Roland J. Perez who said that the bells are a gift to the church and community by the Stiehler family in loving memory of John and Margaret Stiehler.

This Carillon is an exclusive development of Schulmerich Carillons, Inc. of Sellersville, Pa. It consists of 25 miniature bell units of bronze bell metal which are struck by metal hammers, producing exact true bell tones almost inaudible to the human ear. These bell vibrations are then amplified over 100,000 times by means of specially designed electronic equipment, producing true bell tones which are far superior to the tones of traditional cast bells of massive proportions.

The instrument which was installed in St. Stephen's provides the tonal equivalent of 79,462 pounds of cast bells tuned to the finest English standards. The range is G below Middle C to G two octaves above and it is interesting to note that the low G bell is equal in tone to a cast bell weighing 13,250 pounds.

The "Coronation" Carillon will be played from a special keyboard located at the organ, by Mr. Richard Gaggin, organist at St. Stephen's.

24 Hour-A-Day Patrol Service

Fishermen, duck hunters and winter boating enthusiasts were informed by Nassau Police Commissioner Louis J. Frank that units of the county police Marine Bureau will be providing 24 hour-a-day patrol coverage throughout the autumn and winter fishing and duck hunting seasons.

Five boats will be operating in North Shore waters and six on the South Shore. Later in the season this will be reduced to three on the North Shore and four on the South Shore. Personnel will be manning stand-by boats during evening hours to assist regular marine patrols after the main seasons are over.

At the same time, Commissioner Frank made the following safety suggestions:

"On a fishing tip or a duck hunting trip by boat be sure a capable and responsible person is along, and leave word where you will be going. Take along sufficient emergency equipment; and, life saving devices should be available for each person in the boat or blind."

"Clothing and footwear should be warm, but easy to discard in the water should you fall overboard. Know the weather forecast before you leave and keep alert for indications of threatening weather."

"If a fisherman or a duck hunter has not returned home within a reasonable length of time, call the police precinct so that the Marine Bureau units may be alerted and necessary action initiated to determine the cause of the delayed return home."

Purcell Invites Off-Track Betting Proposals

Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell, Chairman of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors' Off-Track Betting Committee, this Monday (September 13th), asked New York City's Off-Track Betting Corporation, Roosevelt Raceway, Inc., the New York Racing Association and five computer companies to submit preliminary off-track betting proposals to him for presentation to the Nassau Board of Supervisors.

In letters to OTB's Howard Samuels, Roosevelt Raceway President George Morton Levy, and officials of the New York Racing Association, All-States Computer Corp. of Albany, N.Y., General Instrument Corporation of Washington, D.C., Bering Computer Services, Inc. of Philadelphia, Control Data Corporation and Graphic Sciences, Inc., of New York City, Purcell noted that the County's off-track betting law, which takes effect 45 days from today unless petitions for a permissive referendum are filed. "There are no indications at this time that such petitions will be filed," stated Purcell, "and in the interest of avoiding unnecessary delay, would like to have proposals from all interested parties prepared."

"By setting an October 10 deadline the members of the Board of Supervisors will be able to give due consideration to all the proposals submitted to us. We will weigh each prospectus with an eye toward economy of operation and potential of financial success," Purcell added.

All those parties contacted by the supervisor have either written to him or expressed interest publicly in operating off-track betting in Nassau.

"We, of course, invite proposals from any other qualified parties," said Purcell.

In a report issued last March 9, Purcell and the members of the Off-Track Betting Committee: Nassau County Comptroller Angelo Roncallo, Deputy Nassau County Executive Joseph H. Driscoll, Jr., and real estate executive Sidney A. Wien of Hewlett Bay Park recommended that Nassau take a cautious approach to off-track betting by "expending a minimum of county-supplied funds until it is evident that the anticipated public interest exists and desired financial results can be achieved."

Murphy Bicycles

Responding to the "phenomenal increase" in the use of bicycles on Nassau County roads, Hempstead Town Councilman George Murphy today announced a four point program aimed at both protecting and aiding the bicycle riding public.

Murphy, chairman of the town's traffic safety committee, stated that government has not responded adequately to the massive resort to the use of the bicycle as a means of both transportation and recreation.

"Hundreds of county residents of all ages are taking to the streets without knowing if those streets are safe for bicycle traffic," stated Murphy.

His program deals directly with the education of the public and the surveying of existing traffic arteries. Specifically, Murphy proposes that:

1. A concentrated effort be made by Nassau County through the Police Department to educate school children and their parents on the laws, rules, regulations and safety standards that apply to bike riding.

2. The various levels of government should survey existing laws and even examine the need for new laws that would provide for better controls and safer riding conditions.

3. Nassau County should review and survey existing bike routes in order to determine whether these routes are still safe and should recommend new routes to be established.

4. Bicycle manufacturers, distributors and retail outlets should be required to provide literature for the bike purchaser to make him familiar with the "rules of the road" before using his bicycle.

"I can envision," Murphy added, "the possibility of a bike route to Jones Beach along the Meadowbrook and Wantagh Parkways so that young people could have an easier access to this fine facility without resorting to hitchhiking."

Murphy has sent letters to Nassau Police Commissioner Louis Frank, John Peters, Nassau County Commissioner of Public Works and A. Holly Patterson, Chairman of the Long Island State Park Commission, explaining his program.

Increased Equalization Rate

Town Supervisor John W. Burke reported recently that despite a strong case backed up by factual data supporting an increase in the equalization rate, the State Board of Equalization and Assessment ruled that it was insufficient to warrant an increase from the proposed 25 percent.

Although the State Board conceded a number of items in the data presented by the Town task force, the increase was calculated using a statistical "weighting factor" and the resultant equalization rate amounted to 25.42 percent.

"Needless to say, we're very disappointed that only 8/100 of a point prevented an increase in the rate to 26 percent, which would have meant an additional $1-million or more in state aid to Oyster Bay Town school districts," Burke commented.

"Since school districts have no legal standing before the State Board of Equalization and Assessment," Burke pointed out, "the Town marshalled its forces on their behalf."

Equalization rates are established for cities and towns throughout the state by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment as a means of apportioning state aid to school districts.

A spokesman for the State Board again praised the Town on its presentation, Burke said, and indicated that certain of the corrective measures that were proposed will definitely be applied to next year's computation.

"For example, I would expect that the Board will substitute for some of the six parcels to which we objected in the current sampling used in the 1970 computation," Burke explained, "particularly that parcel acquired by the County and removed from the tax roles."

SPORTS

By

Howard J. Finnegan

Bruce Cerone provided the receiving fireworks as the Long Island Chiefs, of the Eastern League, defeated the Huntington Eagles, of the New York League 24-14 Sunday.

The game was played in the torrent of rain Sunday in the Freeport Stadium.

Fortunately one of the daily papers was on hand and its photographer made a picture study of Cerone's aerial grabs which appeared in Monday editions.

They show the amazing pass catching of the All-American from Kansas (Little) who picked off seven with one a 31-yard touchdown.

The picture display has stirred interest in the Long Island Chiefs and no doubt there will be many Hicksville fans at Freeport Stadium for the Chiefs next home game.

In the meanwhile Bruce has gone into the Floor Covering business and has established himself right in his home town. The Cerone Floor Covering Company is on the west side of Broadway on South Broadway. Chris Coletta has always been one of the most admired Hicksville High athletes.

Since he left the Orange & Black he has pursued a professional baseball career. He never made the big leagues as he is caught in the very talented Boston Red Sox Chain.

He has however always been amongst the leaders of the International leagues hitting brigade.

This year he made a courageous second half comeback to again finish over .300.

He dipped down to the .250's in early August. He then picked up to come in with .31 hits in 287 at bats for a .303 average.

He also hit 7 home runs for Louisville, Kentucky and notched 42 Runs Batted In.

Hicksville second scheduled football game with Plainville is still a matter of question.

Three budget rejections has left the Plainville district on a sinking.

Hicksville opens a week from Saturday with a league game at Hericks.

The Orange certainly looked to advantage with its ground game in a recent scrimmage against Sewanhaka.

The scheduled date of the ninth game with Levittown Division is for Thanksgiving Day morning.

Hofstra Coach Howdy Meyers has lost interest in Hicksville quarterback Jeff Doolittle. He has been repeated, quoted in the press as stating he does not like Doolittle's roll-out style of play.

Last year Hofstra had a dismal start until Doolittle came along with his style and rolled the Dutchmen and Meyers to a respectable 5-5 record in a difficult schedule.

Doolittle has not responded happily to Meyers downgrading and is currently rated as the Hofstra quarterback.

The first result for the Dutchman was a 28-0 posting at Lehigh Penna. last week.

This Friday nights game at home against Northern Michigan should boil the pot even harder.

Could anyone answer us a question; why is it impossible to get a release of the list of HHS 1971 graduates who received scholarships or grants-in-aids that are connected with athletic participation.

This information is community property and should not be censored or locked in some narrow bureaucratic draw in the Hicksville High School.

Polo At Bethpage

At this time the line-ups and teams for the September 19th game at the Bethpage State Park Polo Field have not been decided upon, the match scheduled for the 19th to have been the Dover House or the Shaw W. Robinson Memorial Tournament, but if, due to weather conditions, the practice fields are not playable during the week to allow a playoff for the semi-finals of either of these tournaments it will probably be another League Match for the Sunday afternoon polo game at the park.

The week-end downpour washed out the polo game at Bethpage Park on Sunday September 12th, the Metropolitan League Match between Aiken and Westbury scratched. The special game at Hickox Field for the benefit of the Tom Dooley Foundation on Saturday the 11th did make it for only two chukkers, the rain killing the action.

What the weather will be is a meet question but there's never a question about the show put on at 3:30 P.M. every Sunday afternoon at the Bethpage State Park Polo Field and it's a sure bet that each chukker is crammed full of exciting and colorful action. With admission only $1.50 and youngsters under twelve accompanied by an adult admitted free families enjoy a fun-filled afternoon relaxing in the comfortable stands or on the spacious grounds around the polo field, the children especially eager to participate in the fun and to meet the players and horses. The games meet everyone's expectations and there's no generation gap around a good time had by all! And the park with its lovely area surrounding the field is in itself a pleasure to be in.

Library Has Microfilm

The Hicksville Public Library has recently contacted to purchase the microfilm issues of the New York Times from 1920 to 1933.

When this purchase arrives, the library will have a complete run of the Times from 1914 to the present.

The library also has the microfilm issues of the Times for 1861-1865, the Civil War years.

The library now has the Mid-Island Herald complete on microfilm from 1949 through 1970, except for the "lost" year of 1955.

Cinema Series

On Wednesday, September 22 at 8 p.m. the Hicksville Public Library will begin its 1971-1972 Cinema Series with Ingmar Bergman's "Wild Strawberries." The 1971 segment of the series, consisting of eight film classics is sponsored by the New York State Council on the Arts by a grant to the Nassau Library System. This program will run through December 22.

In the offerings will be such greats as the Marx Brothers "A Night at the Opera," "King Kong" and the Garbo version of "Anna Karenina".

At the library desk will be found a complete listing of the Hicksville Cinema Series. There also will be a list of the New York State Council on the Arts films at other libraries in Nassau County for those who are unable to make the showings at Hicksville.

All our film programs are held in the Library auditorium and the community is welcome to attend.

Day Care Center Petition Re-Hear

In contrast to a night public hearing held on the same subject a little over six months ago, no one was present to protest the petition of Mid-Island Childpark, Inc. at Town Hall Tuesday morning. A wholly owned subsidiary of Melville Shoe Corp. (Miles, Thom & McAn) the petitioner, proposes to construct a building on the grounds of the Mid-Island Shopping Plaza to house a day care center for children ages 3-5, where their mothers may leave them for one hour or a full day at a cost of $1.25 per hour.

The aspect of the building and its location were changed from the previous application; otherwise, the petitioner's specifications were identical with those of the first hearing. The building, which Supervisor John Burke said looked something like a Playskool toy in its first version, is now to be white stucco with three balloons in primary color, the trademark of the corporation; as its sole decoration in addition to the name.

The location, which was the core of reasons for opposition, has been changed from proximity to access roads or sump to the dead-end area near Agway and the Twin Theatres where kiddie rides are now located.

Psychologist Dr. Phyllis Katz, who will direct the center's activities, spoke in addition to attorney Owen MacBride, of a Hempstead law firm. According to Dr. Katz, the center will be open 8 A.M. to 6 P.M. Monday through Saturday, and will provide supervised creative and play activities under the direction of a professional and certified staff.

Parking Questioned
The greatest static came from members of the Town Board and the Town of Oyster Bay Building Department, who could not determine whether the parking for the child care center would be adequate, since nearby parking spots are available for use by all the tenants of the shopping center.

Mr. MacBride said that a more definite parking site plan would be submitted showing the spots allotted to the child care center. He did say, however, that should these spots be fully occupied by shoppers, customers for the childpark would be forced to park elsewhere in the center. He said its dead-end aspect and distance from Gertz and Klein's made this a less trafficked parking area than some others.

On a motion by Councilman Warren Doolittle, the hearing was closed and the decision reserved, with no comment from a very sparse audience.

Town Board Approves G-1 Zone for Hicksville

After delaying decision for two weeks to await the opinion of the Nassau County Planning Commission, the Town Board of Oyster Bay approved the definition and establishment of the new G-1 (Central Business) zone for Hicksville as designated by the Board despite recommendations for changing it in a resolution delivered to town Hall from the NCPC near the close of the regular meeting.

The G-1 zone, designed for a transportation center such as Hicksville, was developed by the planning firm of Raymond, Parrish & Pine to provide for attractive growth of Hicksville's downtown area. Buildings are allowed to reach five stories in height with restrictions as to lot coverage, greenery and parking.

Apartment, included in the original plan, had been eliminated from it following protests by residents and civic associations at a public meeting in Hicksville. A day-night hearing was held on the zone change at Town Hall following the Hicksville meeting.

The planning commission's objections included lack of inclusion of apartment dwellings; insufficient retail space allowed and eight other objections concerning parking, setbacks, proximity of buildings and the existence of lots not conforming to the 20,000 square foot size, giving the Zoning Board of Appeals discretion for planning for the area, according to the NCPC.

The feeling of the Town Board in over-riding the planning commission was that it had done exhaustive studies of the area, had received expert advice from planners and residents and felt confident in making the decision.

GUTTERBALL GOSSIP

By Herb Mahler

The faces were scrubbed, shirts pressed and everyone bubbling with enthusiasm. If you had books in your hand, you would think it was opening day at school, but it was just another season starting for the B.C.A.

This time, however, the conversation was dominated by our new scoring system, and after countless explanations, some of us, including myself, still missed a few of the finer points. This, however, will be cleared up in time and as the last of the big time spenders, bowling proprietor, Howie, said good luck, the balls started to roll and the pins started to fall. The maximum points for a team is 30 - so here is how some of us did. Rapid Robbie Goldstein continued where he left off last season as his team rolled over the men of the "Brookville Bomber" Sam Springer 28-2. As in most games of the evening, the bowling on the average ranged from poor to pathetic. A notable exception was our part time physician, Alex Urbont, who left the tennis court unattended long enough to roll a fine 204.

Just coming from a successful engagement at Nathans, the fine song and dance act of Murry and Norm Kalowitz, combined to overwhelm the harrassed Holtzmanns 26-4 to go into second place. In third place, "Muscles" Geyer strangled the crew led by Lew Vliedem 21-9. Our "Frantic Furrier" Irv Simes rapped a solid 225 but it was the doing of their secret weapon, Ted Freudenthal, as he gave his team a solid three points with his 3 game sweep over our Ballet Master, Morris Gardick. This may be the year of change after all as our Mr. Warmth, Herb Brody, visited with this team all evening and cheered them on to a 20-10 victory over the now famous "Simple Simons." Sid Langs 202 was the big push for the winnes, and all Capt. Simon could do was a 214.

Bernie Kaplan's Klopplers won their case over the Rothmans 19-10. Eli Goldstein was their ace in the hole with a fine 213 to sweep his three games. Genial Julie Gershen tried with a 204.

In an effort to dispute their name, Flanders Flunkies treated the Warrens badly as they hurt them 19-11. Buddy was the nastiest as he hit with a 224-211 for a solid 616.

It was a pleasure to see Mary Kahn shaking the hand of his Capt. Red Karbel as they beat the crew of Lewis Marks 18-12. Mr. Goodness, Lewis, fought back with a 203 but being loved by everyone was not enough.

The Sussmans and the Hoffmanns huffed and puffed but they could come up with was a tie 15-15.

Wild Bill Kellerman exploded with a 207 as his team trapped the Sachs 17-13. Slippery Sid's double 201 still was not quite enough. He took a shot of laughing gas and drove home hysterically.

In an exclusive interview with some of our bowlers on our new system, the comments were mostly good. One said, "It stinks," but the fact that he had a rousing 316 series had nothing to do with it, of course.

The word from Puerto Rico on the condition of Jerry Reichgott is that he is making fine progress toward recovery and will be home at the end of this month.

Next week there will be no bowling and I want to extend to the league, in fact to all the world, a most happy and healthy New Year. Drive carefully as we all depend on each other for this exciting season ahead.

See you at the Nevele!

Jericho Youth Council News

The Jericho Youth Council held its monthly meeting on September 9. The council had one of its most productive meetings at this time. It was well attended, and many new and interesting ideas were formulated. Anticipation was high for the coming school year.

The nominating committee will bring in next month, the new slate of officers to be approved by the council.

Mr. Stevens, the present president of the Youth Council, suggested, besides the job of Council President, a new position, that of Coffee House Advisor, be offered. The suggestion was well received. The Coffee House had been the major objective of the past year, but now it will continue to be just an arm in the larger body of the Youth Council. Various youth projects are underway and the more students who become involved, the more projects will be undertaken.

The aim of the Youth Council is to have the Coffee House opened four evenings a week and have trained personnel, not parents, working with the students.

Fund raising for the coming year was discussed since the Council wants to retain an advisor in a professional capacity.

The next meeting of the Jericho Youth Council will be held on Thursday evening, October 7th at 8 P.M. at the Coffee House at Jackson School. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Highest Honor Awarded Syosset Psychologist

Dr. Gerald H. Palter, Syosset School psychologist, became the second psychologist on the Syosset staff to be awarded Diplomat status. Diplomat status is the highest professional honor awarded by The American Board of Professional Psychology, and a candidate for this degree must display special competence in his field of endeavor.

Dr. Palter, who is assigned to Syosset High School, has participated in research projects on tracking, in the development of psychology courses at the high school and has been a member of the district's Elementary Curriculum Council for the past three years.

Concerned with the narcotic problem in the community, Dr. Palter is presently serving as a professional member of the advisory staff of SCAN.

Jericho Schools Open 1971-72 School Year

"Each year as we get together for the opening of school we seem to face even greater challenges than during the prior year," stated David Nydick, Superintendent of Jericho Public Schools, in his opening Day Address to the Jericho staff on September 7.

In discussing new directions in which Jericho will lead, Mr. Nydick explained: "Just before the close of last school year, we were chosen as one of the redesign districts specifically appointed by Commissioner Nyquist. What does this mean? It means that in the past we have demonstrated the kind of educational leadership that has contributed to improvement. Now, for the next ten years, we are to contribute leadership in curriculum and program modification which will be the prototype for other school districts in New York State. This provides our goal for the coming years. We must seek long range plans and still maintain our short range accomplishments. We must seek those changes which are properly a part of a changing society and reject those changes which are merely reshuffling and purposeless."

Staff members were urged by the superintendent to "look at every one of your students to determine if you are doing the best for his education. If there is more to be done, we must make the effort. The difficult challenge to a professional educator is not the outstanding student who learns by his own efforts, but the odd ball, the reject, the student who despises us and everything we stand for. He is the one I want; the potential student who doesn't seem to have potential. When we reach him, we then are truly educators."

Howard T. Jankowitz, President of the Board of Education, welcomed the Jericho staff on behalf of the community and the Board. Other speakers at the Teacher Orientation activities were Robert Manheimer, Assistant Superintendent, George Batjaka, President of the Jericho Educational Administrators Association, Emil Voigt, President of the Jericho Teachers Association, and Ernest Savaglio, President of the Jericho Supervisors Association.

Following the orientation and planning sessions for teachers, students returned to the Jericho Schools on Wednesday, September 8. The professional staff of 245 teachers welcomed the approximately 3900 students in attendance at Jericho's six public schools. The schools reopened with a full complement of class room teachers, guidance counselors, specialists, psychologists, administrators and members of the non-professional staff.

Registration Set For Cultural Arts Program

Town Supervisor John W. Burke announced the dates and times for in-person registration for the Cultural and Performing Arts Fall Program at the Syosset-Woodbury Community Center. Park district residents can register from September 13 through 16 during the hours of 10:00 A.M. to Noon and 1:00 to 3:00 P.M. in the first floor office of the community center.

Out-of-district residents may register on September 17 at the aforementioned place and times.

The program, provided by the Town's Cultural and Performing Arts Division, is designed to meet the educational physical and social needs of all age groups from 3 to 80 and is based on the anticipated as well as expressed needs of the community," Burke said. "We're proud of having one of the most widely diversified such programs in the state," he added.

A general fee of $12 is charged for most of the courses to keep the program on a self-sustaining basis.

The cultural arts program includes workshops for adults, teens and children, plus the Teen Repertory Theatre and a pre-kindergarten program. Some of the new courses this year are cooking and Yoga for adults and watercolor for the teenagers. A course in photography, very popular with teenagers last year, will be repeated.

Another popular program for the adults repeated this year is a series of six trips by chartered bus to Manhattan places of interest, including Lincoln Center and the Museum of the City of New York, for which a fee of $24 is required.

Special sports and recreation programs are provided for grade school and junior high school students, handicapped children and senior citizens. Other programs include skin and scuba diving, ice hockey and figure skating.

For additional information on the program, contact James C. Arvanitis, director of the Department of Recreation and Community Activities at 921-5944.

The horizontal bar texture of the 1972 Thunderbird grille extends to the sheet metal behind the dual headlights. The center grille and both headlight areas are framed in bright metal, and the traditional Thunderbird emblem is displayed above the center of the grille. This and other new Ford models will be seen at BOB-KEN FORD in Hicksville soon.

School Board Meeting

regarding the salary freeze. Although the Board had previously granted the teachers' raises (at the September 7 orientation meeting), Mr. Goebel recommended that the salary be returned to the 1970-71 level. Mr. Goebel said he did not feel that all teachers were entitled to the raise, even though the guidance counselors had been paid the new rate during the summer, before August 15. He said the fact that the counselors work on an eleven month basis and the teachers on a ten-month, puts them in separate categories, as far as the freeze is concerned.

Harry Kershen disagreed with Mr. Goebel's memorandum. He said the Public Employees Relations Board places guidance coun-sors and teachers in the same bargaining unit. Therefore, if any employees in a unit have been paid at the 1971-72 rate, all are entitled to the increase. Mr. Goebel agreed this was the case with the Administrators unit because they all work on an eleven month basis. But he still maintained this did not apply to the teachers.

Murry Goldstein, president of the Hicksville Classroom Teachers Association, asked the Board to follow Dr. Kershen's advice and pay the teachers at the new level. He reminded the Board that Mr. Muratore had told the teachers at the orientation meeting they would receive their raises. At that time the teachers had agreed to pay back any rate increase if an order came from Albany or Washington not to grant the teachers' salary increase.

Following a suggestion from Herbert Bachman, District Treasurer, and another executive session, the Board decided to pay the teachers at the 1971-72 rate for this pay period. The September 30 paycheck will be at the old rate, unless new information is received. The October paychecks will depend on what the School Board and HCTA attorneys can find out about the salary freeze.

At Tuesday's meeting, the Board of Education also voted to apply for federal funding for a remedial reading program for Hicksville students in non-public schools in the district.

The next Board meeting is Tuesday, September 28 at 8 p.m. in the Administration Building.

Patterson, Nickerson, And Carlino

Family Service Association of Nassau County (FSA) will present its First Annual Distinguished Service Award to former County Executives A. Holly Patterson and Eugene H. Nickerson and former Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino at an awards dinner to be held on Thursday evening, September 23, 1971, at the new Holiday Inn, Hempstead, New York.

Ten years ago, the three officials played key roles in launching New York's first youth program - FSA's Youth Service Project - in Freeport - cooperatively funded by the State, County and a private agency.

Since then, the Youth Service Project has expanded to serve over 800 children yearly from low-income families. It has provided them with recreation, guidance, family counseling, and academic and leadership development. It has helped the community cope with the critical problems of family breakdown, school dropout, delinquency, and racial tensions.

Thomas W. Lapham, President of FSA, in announcing the awards said, "The pioneer efforts of 1961 have resulted in a meritorious program which has received national recognition. We are tremendously pleased that the first FSA award will honor three of the County's finest leaders who have always shared a dedication to serving the citizens of our County in the highest tradition of public service."

Leonard W. Hall, first President of the United Fund of Long Island, and Mrs. Edward H. Gerry, Vice-President of FSA, will serve as Dinner Co-Chairmen. The following distinguished Long Islanders are serving on the Dinner Committee: Mrs. Hugh A. Brown, Jr., Mrs. Thomas H. Choate, M. Hallsted Christ, Patrick J. Clifford, Hon. Marvin D. Cristenfeld, Turner Davies, Mrs. John J. Enright, Irwin Fleischer, Mrs. George W. Frank, Warren Freeman, Sidney Friedman, Mrs. John A. Gambling, Harold Gleason, Mrs. John L. Grose, Morton Haves, Milton Hendrickson, Moses Hornstein, Arthur Hug, Mrs. James Knott, Thomas W. Lapham, William Levitt, Hon. Joseph M. Margiotta, Mrs. Herbert D. Merrick, Mrs. Richard W. Meyer, J. Kevin Murphy, Mrs. George D. O'Neill, Mrs. Adrian F. Persico, Mrs. George L. Popkin, Mrs. Arthur E. Poole, Mario A. Posillico, Mr. and Mrs. David Starr, Mrs. William I. Stoddard.
