Local Boys Donate Labor And Time To Gregory Museum

It's unusual for a museum to receive a valuable gift from a group of teenage boys. But then, it's an unusual group of boys who would enthusiastically donate a full day's work, in their own spare time, to a museum.

The recipient is the Gregory Museum for earth sciences, which will move from its present quarters at 207 Cottage Boulevard to the 77-year-old Heitz Place Courthouse, at Heitz Place and Bay Avenue, Hicksville, when the renovations and restorations are completed.

The gist of a Saturday's worth of manual labor was made by Paul Caglione, 15 Utica Place, Hicksville; James Livolsi, 43 Rosewood Lane, Wantagh; Bruce Paterno, 33 Montana Street, Hicksville; Mark Hervan, 14 Boblee Lane, Hicksville; Steven Jaklitsch, 4016 Anne Drive, Sanford; and Charles Ruddy, 39 Fork Lane, Hicksville. They are students in the building trades program at the BOCES County Center for occupational education in Westbury. The County Center, which enrolls more than 1600 Nassau high school students in more than forty occupational education courses, is operated by the Nassau Board of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES).

The six boys attend the County Center half of each school day and take their regular academic courses at their local high schools the other half-day. In addition to donating their own time, the boys are also working during the school day with forty County Center classmates on the renovation and restoration of the former courthouse under the direction of their instructor, Charles Palmer. They are installing doors and hardware, making the building light prior to turning on the heating system.

In the carpentry shop at the County Center, the students are rebuilding the exterior doors of the former courthouse which were badly damaged by vandals while the building was unoccupied. After the doors are rebuilt, the boys will install them. They also plan to build display cases for the museum and do carpentry work as it is required.

The Gregory Museum, which now serves children from 65 school districts on Long Island as well as teachers, scientists, and the public-at-large, is open by appointment only in its present location. In its new facilities, it will be open seven days a week and will be able to enlarge its displays and expand functions.

Hicksville Petitioner's Letter to Commissioner

January 17, 1972
Ewald Nyquist, Commissioner
The State Education Department
Albany, New York 12224
Dear Commissioner Nyquist:

I have received the rebuttal memorandum submitted by counsel for the respondents in the Matter of Loisono, at si V The Hicksville Board of Education. Since I am satisfied that the legal precedents cited apply to this instant case, I will make no rebuttal concerning the counsel's attempt to obfuscate their applicability.

I offer the following observations, however, so that some perspective might be gleaned from the onslaught of words:

An attempt is made, ex post facto, to show that Mr. Abt is earning his salary as consultant. The claim is that he has been made responsible for three tasks: a review of the Policy Manual, class size, and individualized instruction (Project Plan).

I made a personal study of the Hicksville Policy Manual this day. Besides containing a record of administrative staff and Board members, and a copy of the collective bargaining agreement, the bulk of this manual contains records of policy matters passed on by the Board. To offer a review of this manual as justification for retaining the highest paid employee in the district would be ludicrous if this matter were not so serious.

As for class size, suffice it to say that class size is fixed by agreement with the Hicksville Classroom Teachers Association and is negotiable during collective bargaining. If one were genuinely interested in the extent in which that limitation were being honored, I dare say the teachers' association would make detailed records available.

The claim that a review of class size and the Policy Manual are bona fide reasons for spending about $100,000 of the district's money might be described as a clumsy attempt to justify that expenditure, but to claim that a review of individualized instruction was a task conceived as part of the consultant's function, rather than an afterthought offered in an attempt to cover the Board's tracks when the need for the consultant's job was challenged, is dishonest.

Erwin Rozran, administrative assistant to the superintendent, is conducting an evaluation of individualized instruction. On November 3, 1971, as part of this evaluation, Mr. Rozran sent a memorandum soliciting the opinions of the principals of the seven schools involved in the program (A). Four weeks later, on November 30, 1971, in answer to a reporter's inquiries, Mr. Abt revealed that at that point he had not been assigned to be involved in such an evaluation. Indeed, he is quoted as saying, "... I am not working at present." (B) He was, however, being paid. On December 7, 1971, in response to a question by the commissioner, counsel for respondents, the man who had prepared every detail in his attempt to justify the Board's action, could not tell what Abt was doing to earn his salary. Counsel implies on pages 10, 11, and 12 of his memorandum, that he should not be held accountable for what he said or did not say because he was not under oath. That plea casts aspersions on the character of the hearing, and diminishes the stature of all those involved.

In this scramble to establish a response to the petitioners' assertion that the consultant's post is a boondoggle, the Board has been hoisted with their own petard. Counsel presents "Appendix B" as proof that the district needs a consultant. The date of this document is January 6, 1972.

The first paragraph of "Appendix B" describes six different surveys conducted by individual consultants, management consultant teams, the State Education Department, and the Commission of Secondary Schools. These surveys span ten years between 1962 and 1971. Impressive indeed, considering that these surveys, conducted under Abt's superintendence, did in-depth studies of school plant needs, the entire educational program, administrative and business operations, the instructional program, Hicksville High School, and facilities requirements of the district—and all for a total cost of $39,000. In the paragraphs that follow this revelation, an attempt is made to justify paying Abt $47,566.35 annually for conducting trampled up reviews that, in view of the previous ten years' experience, seem criminal at the price.

Yet, this futile attempt to justify the need for a consultant flies in the face of the very motive counsel presents for establishing the post, as well as the rationales he presents for the Board wanting to get rid of Abt.

"The change was made because the Board, in its majority, felt it did not have confidence in Mr. Abt. He neither respected that majority, nor did that majority respect him." (p. 13)

How then, in the name of logic, could that same Board have enough confidence or respect in Abt to pay him $47,566.35 annually to study the Policy Manual? Or can that job be done without mutual respect? Or should respect not be the determining factor in signing or honoring contracts?

Counsel provides the answer: "... the establishment of the position was to make a quid pro quo for the continual payment of a salary" (p. 6)

There we have it! The position was created not because there was a need, but to make payment of a salary possible. A Boondoggle!

Having admitted this, why does counsel offer arguments to the contrary? Sophistry!

What appears on pages 14 and 15 with regard to Abt's salary raises smacks of Alice in Wonderland.

Abt is condemned for accepting pay raises voted on by the Board, accused of repudiating his agreement because he agreed to accept those raises, censured because the Board is "disturbed and concerned with the failure to attempt to 'hold the line'." This became "ground for their discontent with Mr. Abt." So what did they do? They hired him at this "disturbing" salary to study the Policy Manual.

On page 15, counsel claims no threat was made to "roll back" Abt's salary, a mere mention of "the possibility was discussed with Mr. Sullivan (Abt's attorney)." The newspaper clipping I have enclosed tells a different story. (C)

To sing the praises of Mr. Abt's attorney (p. 13), and conclude, therefore, that if such a fine attorney advised his client to agree to a "quid pro quo" arrangement that then all things should be right, is to turn face on the obvious fact that this attorney's job was to protect the livelihood of his client not to protect the rights of the Hicksville taxpayers. That the petitioners are trying to do.

To recapitulate, according to respondents' counsel, this is what happened:

The Board had no confidence or respect in Donald Abt, they were disturbed by the fact that he accepted salary raises given him by the Board, so they entered into a quid pro quo arrangement so it would be possible for them to pay him the same salary for a job that didn't need doing. Therefore, it was not necessary to have confidence in him. However, since this action was challenged, it became necessary to attach importance to this new job. That presented a problem with the "no confidence" theory, since why should the Board have someone in whom they have no confidence do a job they claim is important. Besides, how important could they make the job sound when six different consulting jobs were done over a ten-year period at a cost of some $60,000 cheaper than Abt's contract as a consultant?

The answer was simple. Claim that Abt agreed, therefore no one could be aggrieved.

Perhaps—if Abt and the Board answered to each other and no one else. But they do not. They must answer to the people, the commissioner and the law.

Of all the topsy-turvy logic in the rebuttal memorandum, one sentence stands out. On page 17, counsel recognizes Abt's right to tenure. "The claim of limited tenure is not questioned."

With this agreed upon, the wisdom of the appellate court comes to the fore to tip the scales in favor of the petitioners. For their ruling in the matter of Boyd denies either party the right to waive tenure for a quid pro quo, and makes such an arrangement, where it involves public money, a violation of the New York State Constitution.

Therein lies the nub of the matter. The Board tried to dupe the people, but the people called them to task. Now, the Board has tried to dupe the commissioner. It is our hope that the commissioner calls them to task.

Sincerely,
Charles Loisono

ENTERTAINED: Children at the Hicksville Public Library were entertained by Shelley Pazer in a creative dramatics program on Saturday afternoon, December 18. Mrs. Pazer did her own improvisations, and then involved her audience in the presentation by having the children act with her. In the rear of the stage we see the different costumes Mrs. Pazer used during her performance. The children also had a chance to masquerade with those on stage while they acted out various roles of their own creation.

"For the good that needs assistance
For the bad that needs resistance
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

Dear Mrs. Noeth:
After reading your account of the Board of Educations' "hectic" meeting of January 11th, and Barbara Rosman's "Call for Action" in your January 20th edition, I decided to attend the Board meeting of January 25th.

Mrs. Rosman stated in her letter that the "Board was out to destroy the education of our children" and that two teachers were not being replaced in dictating to Mrs. Rosman that this was the beginning of our school programs. Well as it turned out seven teachers were leaving, five of which have been replaced, and only two would not be. Dr. Niosi, our Superintendent of Schools, calmly stated that many High School classes consisted of only a few students and in many instances with as few as four students in a class. This created an imbalance which he was obligated to correct. Dr. Niosi was so persuasive on the subject that not one teacher took issue and only two students inquired about the reduction of teachers and received direct answers putting to rest any fears.

I might add that a large percentage of those attending this meeting were teachers and students, an ideal lobbying maneuver. Perhaps, Mrs. Rosman helped to spread this mis-information concerning this fake issue of "Teacher Reduction"? If Mrs. Rosman wishes to act as a spokesman or champion of any group, then she must adhere to the principles of restraint and be articulate in gathering the facts, not incite for the purpose of inciting the taxpayers of Hicksville on flimsy information.

Why can't we act like mature adults and treat each other with respect, we all have our common concern for the education of our children. It is easy for us to criticize, slur, or make empty charges, in the heat of discussion. Let's end this polarization between liberal and conservative, and respect each others rights. Perhaps this year we do not have an entirely "liberal" Board, but they were elected by the majority of the electorate. And we did have many previous Boards that were predominantly "liberal" and had to accept their policy's, selections, and appointments of that day. Now it is your turn to accept our current Board and their views. So let's practice our democracy and work together.

Sincerely,
William P. Bennett

To the Editors:
We have all read many articles in this paper about the fantastic costs to this nation, in individual lives, and in money, of the hard drug problem. Now, for the first time the average person, student and parent alike can DO something to stop this cruel trade in blood.

According to the respected Association of American Physicians and Surgeons almost the entire worlds supply of heroin is grown and processed in Red China under the direction of a Cabinet level officer. This constitutes the largest export of the Mao Regime and is distributed principally thru Communist controlled seaports in France, Italy, and Turkey.

As the AAPS points out now is the time to write to Mr. Nixon and ask him to cancel his trip to Peking until we can be assured with confidence this drug traffic is stopped. Write today or blame yourself in years to come for the generation of "Walking dead" that will follow any official opening of trade with Red China.

Very Truly yours,
William F. Dowling, Jr. D.D.S.

Dear Friends:

OLD TIMERS will be sorry to hear of the passing, on Nov. 28th, of Professor Raymond C. Bowman, a former Hicksville resident and former owner of the Hicksville Clinical Laboratory located on Old Country Road. Professor Bowman, who was 64 at the time of his death, sold the Lab to its present owner, Mr. James E. Brown, in 1950. Previous to that Mr. Brown had worked for Mr. Bowman, from 1945, when he was discharged from the U.S. Navy.

In 1955, Professor Bowman became founder and chairman of the photographic technology department at the State University College of Agriculture and Technology in Farmingdale. There he introduced a course in modern methods of photographic technical service.

While he lived in Hicksville Professor Bowman was a member of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club and was active in community affairs. He is survived by his widow, the former Ann Weber, a son, Richard J., two daughters, Mrs. Joan Choyce and Gayle E. Bowman, two sisters, Mrs. Orrie Kruck and Mrs. Freda Evans, and eight grandchildren.

A FEW LINES to remind those of you who write us "Letters To The Editor" that they must be signed and contain your address and telephone number. If you request it, your name will be withheld. We cannot consider unsigned letters or articles even though, the ideas and opinions expressed may be worthy of publication. So, please, let us know who you are. Thank you.

Until next week stay well.

Job Opportunities Open in Many Fields

Although unemployment on Long Island is up to record levels, the world still has need for strippers...ebenistes...patissiers. Strippers are not the kind who take off their clothes. They're people who work on mechanical plates in advertising agencies, print shops, and publishing houses. And they can get jobs paying $250 a week. Ebenistes are custom cabinet designers and finishers whose work is in constant demand and who can earn at least $300 every working week. Patissiers—or pastry chefs—are sought after by fine restaurants where the going salary rate is about $15,000 a year. You can learn these and many other trades in one of the 60-plus adult education courses offered by the Nassau Board of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES). Among the variety of courses from which you can choose are auto body repair, cosmetology, data processing, offset printing, flower design, medical assistant, and air conditioning service. The adult education courses, designed to help men and women prepare for better jobs and new careers, are given in Freeport, Hempstead, Mineola, North Bellmore, Syosset, and Westbury. For additional information, call 997-8700, extension 281, or write to the BOCES Adult Education Office, 125 Jericho Turnpike, Jericho, New York 11752.

REPORTS

January 28, 1972
Last week, at my direction, a representative from the Town Attorney's office appeared before the Public Service Commission to oppose a rate increase requested by the Long Island Lighting Company. This is the third request within a period of a year by Lilco—all of which were less than 2.5 percent which precludes the requirement of a public hearing. In June 1971 Lilco was granted a $2 million revenue increase. In October of the same year the firm applied for another rate hike of almost $6 million. And now, only three months later, Lilco would like another boost of close to $6 million. These periodic, piecemeal rate increases would seem to be a slow bleeding method designed not to excite the consumer. I also question the rather archaic procedures followed by both the PSC and the utility in ascertaining what is a reasonable charge to the consumer for electricity. The procedures should be modernized to meet more realistically the present and future plans of the company and be presented in a form readily understandable to the average consumer. I have asked, therefore, that the PSC postpone any increased rates until a more understandable projection of rate increase scheduling is made over a foreseeable period of time. TOWN NOTES: I am pleased to report that the Town Board has taken action on the establishment of a Town Hall annex in Massapequa, making it more convenient for our south shore residents to obtain many of the services offered by the office of the Town Clerk.

Town Receiver of Taxes Solomon Newborn asked me to remind all senior citizens who applied for and received the special tax exemption on their real estate in 1971 that they must reapply for their 1972 exemption. For more information call Mr. Newborn at 922-5800.

Hicksville Public Library

The Spring Cinema Series of the Hicksville Public Library will begin on Wednesday, February 9 at 8 p.m. with a three part Tod Browning Classic Horror Film show. The first film will be "The Mark of the Vampire" starring Lionel Barrymore. The second film on Wednesday, February 23 will be the famous "Freaks," and the third of the showings will be "The Unholy Three" starring Lon Chaney.

Quoting from critics of the Golden Age of Hollywood, "The morbid cinema of Tod Browning seems to have been ahead of its time on some levels and out of its time on others. 'Freaks' is memorable chiefly because of its impassive confrontations of the most monstrous deformities. By contrast, Dracula seems dully static in its elaborate expressionism. Browning's career is meaningful in terms of personal obsession. Also Freaks may be one of the most compassionate movies ever made."

The Hicksville Public Library Spring Cinema Series is in two parts, the first is "Horror" and the second part, beginning on March 22 will be the greatest foreign films not yet shown in theaters or on television. France's entry will be "The Baker's Wife" on March 22; April 5 will be the Russian classic "Potemkin" directed by Eisenstein. Emil Jannings in the "Last Laugh" is the German entry, to be shown on April 19. The last film of the series will be an early Hitchcock (1929) English film "Blackmail."

The film programs are all held on Wednesday evenings in the library auditorium, and all the community are always welcome to attend.

Both snapshots and polaroid pictures may be submitted for use in THE HERALD, but they must be clear. THE HERALD deadline is Wednesday at noon.

Library Exhibits Ceramics & Sculpture

On display in the glass showcase in the lobby of the Hicksville Public Library is an exhibit of ceramics and sculpture that is truly magnificent from the artistic viewpoint ... but from the humanistic viewpoint it cannot be measured. All the pieces in that case and the hanging exhibit in the lower level of the library were done at the Burwood Day Center in Cold Spring Harbor, a division of the Industrial Home for the Blind. Every piece on display was made by a blind person.

Mrs. Rhoda Franck, the supervisor of the Day Center, who collected the items for the display, is also the teacher of all the crafts done by these happy productive people. The love that these people have for themselves and their families can be seen in the lovely work they have done for others to see. What more can a person do than produce beauty for people to enjoy and admire.

when they themselves can only feel the love and admiration of their art or handiwork?

This display will be at the Hicksville Public Library for the entire month of February. Last year this display was at the Brooklyn Museum for six weeks.

Also in the lower level of the Library is an exhibit by the Art Classes of the Hicksville High School. The students have examples of every media used in the school in the show. The students arranged the entire show and have done all the labeling and hanging themselves. They are to be judged this week. Next week's paper will have the names of the winners.

Come to the library this month to see what we as Hicksville School District taxpayers should be proud of, and also to see what our sightless neighbors have done for us to enjoy.

We had our first meeting of the year, and started off with a bang. The first was a transfer from the Korea Post, John Sullo. How many of us knew we had a post there. And a new member Earl Gross a W. W. II Vet. Very good fellas, and welcome to our post. Be active and enjoy the fruits of whatever success we may achieve. We also have Pat Buckley a lifetime member from the Panama Post visiting. Pat has now retired and took up residence in Hicksville. He also promises to be seeing quite a bit of us. We got a transfer from Korea, and a member from Panama. Talk about opposite ends of the world Wow. And both at the same meeting.

Hate to break your back, but Ed. Chwalisz our Cmdr. is a bit concerned about what few members haven't yet paid dues. We had hoped to complete it before the year came to the end, but such not being the case, we would like to have the rest, so we can set that part aside, and forget it for the year. There are so few, so if you are one of them, please don't hold us back any longer than is necessary. Thank you. Mike Monteleone gave the date for the L. I. Ducks hockey game. The ages are from 13 to 17 and set for Sunday, February 6. The bus leaves the clubhouse at 2:00 pm sharp, and should return by 8: pm. If you received your letter you know there are only 37 seats available, and it's first come, first served basis. If the bus is filled, don't be concerned, because another game is already being planned for those youngsters being shut off. Hockey is getting to be quite a thing now, and the youngsters are really going for it. It should be enjoyable for them.

Also in the same envelope are the bi laws of our post. It was decided, every member of our post should have a copy to understand and our association a little bit better.

Very soon the ski trip will take place, and we had a drawing for a free trip for two. The trip as told before was sold out completely, but one couple will go for free. So who was it, but young Bob Keck. The post raffle was won by Al Kreigle.

Don't forget the young men in Vietnam. We are still waiting for their names, until every one of them are home.

ON TARGET!

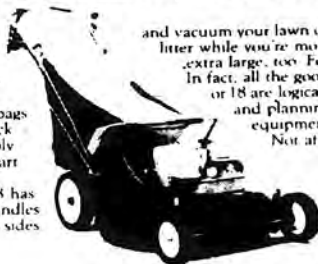

If you were going to design a lawn mower, where would you put the grass catcher?

On the right side, so it bumps into whatever's sticking up on your right? On the left side, so it does the same there?

The fact is, most grass bags are afterthoughts. They stick out to one side. They simply weren't designed to be a part of the mower.

The Snapper V21 or 18 has its grass bag between the handles. You can close trim on both sides and vacuum your lawn of pine straw, leaves and light litter while you're mowing. We made the grass bag extra large, too. For less emptying. In fact, all the good things about Snapper V21 or 18 are logical. The result of sound design and planning by people who make lawn equipment and only lawn equipment. Not afterthoughts.

SNAPPER

Snapper has developed a great attachment for vacuuming grass, leaves, pine needles and light litter.

We call it the grass catcher attachment. But it takes care of a lot more than just grass clippings.

And it's mounted in the back, to offer easier handling and greater maneuverability as you vacuum clean your lawn.

- Optional grass catcher fits all 26" or 30" Comets.
- Holds six bushels. • Unloads in seconds.

Wheelchair Basketball At Plainview H.S.

There'll be a clanging good time at Plainview High School on Friday evening, February 4th, when representatives of student body and faculty will challenge the Eastern Paralyzed Veterans Association to a wheelchair basketball game, with both teams battling it out in wheelchairs.

Tickets for the game, which begins at 8:00 P.M. in the school gym, are $1.00 in advance or $1.25 at the door. They are on sale at the school and some local shopping areas, or can be purchased by calling the chairmen of the event, sponsored by the school's key club, who are: Lee Cort, at WE 8-1682 or Elliott Lefkowitz, WE 8-5122.

Among the home team stars will be Mr. Dennino, faculty advisor to the Key Club. Refreshments will be sold and faculty cheerleaders are expected to add to the fun.

All proceeds of the game will go toward furthering programs of the Nassau (Easter Seal) Society for Crippled Children & Adults, whose activities in behalf of the handicapped in Nassau County highlight summer day camp for over 150 severely disabled children; physical therapy; recreation, field triparticular care, and many other programs.

The game is part of a series of wheelchair games and other events during the current school year sponsored by the youth of the county who comprise the "Torch of Hope" youth movement, guided by the Nassau Easter Seal Society and dedicated to heightening communication and friendship between handicapped and able-bodied youth.

Home court for the EPVA is Nassau Community College. The wheelchair team has been an active participant in Easter Seal events this year.

President at The Lincoln in 1971. Prior to joining The Lincoln in 1960, he served in the Real Estate Department of the Chase Manhattan Bank and is considered one of the top mortgage men in the country.

He is now a member of the American Society of Real Estate Appraisers and a Director of the Mortgage Facilities Corporation.

Senior Citizens Must Re-Apply for Tax Exemption

Town Receiver of Taxes Solomon Newborn announced today that senior citizens who applied for and received the senior citizens' tax exemption on their real estate taxes in 1971 must re-apply in 1972.

Applications must be filed with the Nassau County Department of Assessment at 240 Old Country Road in Mineola. As a convenience for taxpayers, they may also be filed at the Town Hall Annex, 65 Broadway, Hicksville.

"In general, eligible persons are those over 65 years of age, with a deed made out in the name of all the owners, and who have income of less than $5000," Newborn said.

The exemption applies to town, county, school and general municipal taxes, including village taxes. It does not apply to special district levies or assessments such as those imposed by water, sewer, light or fire districts.

Residents who have not filed before or who become eligible this year, are likewise urged to file for the tax reduction.

The last date for filing is May 1, 1972. More information can be obtained from the office of the Receiver of Taxes, 922-5800.

Congratulations. You just saved $5 by doing your own income tax. And all it cost you was three long, sleepless nights.

And a slight case of heartburn.

If you had gone to H & R Block, on the other hand, you could have relaxed while someone else figured out your return. Quickly and confidentially. Probably unlike any way you've ever done it before.

And, when you figure your own, you may be entitled to deductions you're not taking and taking deductions you're not entitled to. For instance, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? Or, that if your income increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to go about "income averaging" to begin with? Probably not. And there's no reason why you should. After all, you're an amateur when it comes to doing income tax.

You see, when it comes to income taxes, amateurs should depend on H & R Block. We have over 6,000 conveniently located offices manned by thousands of specially trained personnel. They're warm and friendly people who are anxious to help you. They'll sit you down over a free cup of coffee and show you some things about your income tax that you might never have known existed.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

This means that H & R Block is ready to offer you year 'round tax service for just one low fee a year, with no extra charge for audits and estimates. H & R Block's charges start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for the 7 million families we served last year.

Which is somewhat less than what you paid. Not to mention the fact that aggravation isn't tax deductible. And we are.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO H&R BLOCK'S JOB.

H&R Block.

The income tax people.
