Banks Distribute Olympic Team Supplement

As a service to the U.S. Olympic Committee, banks on Long Island have launched a campaign to distribute more than 100,000 free copies of a magazine-size supplement describing the U.S. Olympic Teams.

The distribution, co-ordinated by two bank presidents, James G. Smith of Franklin National Bank and James C. Dinkelacker of Long Island National Bank, hopes to reach all interested persons through Nassau and Suffolk bank branches.

The publication, "Olympics 1972 - A Salute To The U.S. Teams" includes sports stories by top newsmen; TV schedules; and score cards on the Summer Games to be held in Munich, Germany, from Aug. 26 to Sept. 10. It also contains a call for public support, for the U.S. Olympic Teams, by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, Honorary Chairman of the New York State Olympic Committee.

After one-million copies were distributed by The New York Times last month, the Long Island Olympic Committee was successful in convincing the Schick Razor Blade Co. Div. of Warner Lambert Co. to underwrite the cost of printing 125,000 extra copies for free distribution on Long Island. The Banker's Division of the L.I. Olympic Committee then volunteered to do the distribution.

Keith W. Berry, Co-Chairman of the L.I. Olympic Committee, said that persons who miss acquiring copies from their local banks may write to the Committee, at 400 Shames Drive, Westbury, N.Y. 11590.

One-Man Stir At Town Hall

An unexpected stir surrounded the appointment and swearing in Tuesday at Town Hall of Greg Carman, of Farmingdale, as Oyster Bay Town Councilman replacing Ralph Diamond, who was appointed a District Judge soon after his own swearing in January.

The stir was caused by Lewis J. Yevoli, the Town Board's only democrat, who voted 'nay' to the appointment, not, he said, because he had anything against Mr. Carman, but because he felt the procedures were incorrect.

Mr. Yevoli maintained that Ralph Diamond never really served as Town Councilman after his recent election; hence a general election within the town should be held to replace him, rather than an appointment by the Republicans controlled Town Board.

Mr. Diamond actually served three days after his swearing in on January 2nd, although he didn't make it to a Town Meeting this year.

Said Supervisor John Burke in ushering Mr. Carman on to the Town Board: "I expected to be speaking to you here today after what I thought was a routine appointment of a new Town Councilman. We all know this was not so: Ours is a government where the voice of the majority will always prevail, but the voice of the minority will always be heard. It is rightly so in our democratic system. We come to expect the unexpected, and find the extraordinary becomes commonplace."

The ceremony included the swearing in of Mr. Carman by his father, Judge Willis B. Carman. Present to share the joy were his mother, Mrs. Willis B. Carman, his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Willis B. Carman, Jr. and his three sons, Gregory, John and James; and many noted persons of Tobay.

After the ceremony, while an approximate hundred persons enjoyed coffee and snacks, councilman Yevoli boycotted the party and spoke to newsmen in his office.

The Carmans are from an old Long Island family, dating back to the early beginnings of this area, and figuring importantly in the historic records of Nassau County.

H.A.D. Representatives Address Hicksville Democratic Club

In a continuing program of presenting community discussion groups on problems relevant to the Town of Hicksville, The Edward J. Giannelli Regular Democratic Club of Hicksville under the direction of its Program Chairman and 1st Vice President, Fred Hagemann presented an open forum on drug abuse at its meeting on Thursday Evening February 17, 1972 at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 45 Heitz Place, Hicksville, L.I., N.Y.

Representing the H.A.D. Group (Help-Aid-Direction) were Mr. Bob Losche, Senior Vice President and Mr. Lou Laurenti and Richard Gomez, group counselors.

During his presentation Mr. Losche stressed the urgent need of funds for the continuation of the program since federal funding had been cut-off. Citing idle time, lack of family direction, respect for others, experimentation and lack of faith as some of the more common causes of drug addiction, Mr. Losche called for more community and parental awareness towards the problem.

Both Mr. Laurenti and Mr. Gomez, teenage counselors to the group discussed the positive approaches and help that the group was offering in relating and identifying with those youths who were confronted with the problem of drugs. It was disclosed that of the total drug arrests in the Township of Oyster Bay 12 percent were attributable to the Town of Hicksville.

H.A.D. which has store front offices at 75 Broadway, Hicksville is open from 3 to 11 P.M. daily and has installed a hot line that is open 7 nights a week from 11 P.M. to 6 A.M. to help anyone in trouble or with a problem. The telephone number is WE 5-6858.

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL PLANET EARTH: Rev. Kenneth E. Hoover, President of the Rotary Club of Farmingdale, greets Mr. Stuart Levine, ecology teacher of the Plainview-Old

Bethpage School District at a recent meeting. Mr. Levine spoke about his present environmental education program in the school district.

Oyster Bay Organizes Youth Volunteer Service

A Youth Volunteer Service is being set up by Oyster Bay Town's Youth Bureau to fill a need for a wide variety of voluntary services to the needy, Town Supervisor John W. Burke announced today.

"The youth of our Town has often expressed a desire for greater involvement in community issues and problems," Burke said. "This program will fulfill a real need and at the same time give young people the opportunity to act on some of the critical social issues in which they have demonstrated a deep concern."

The program will operate through the Group Workers in each Youth Council. Calls for assistance will come into the Town Youth Bureau where they will be consolidated. Bulletins will then be forwarded to the Youth Workers who will contact volunteers from the respective Youth Councils to provide the requested services.

"Requests for volunteer help come from all over the county," Burke noted. "There is no shortage of projects; it is finding enough dedicated people with the time and concern to respond to these calls that is the problem."

Volunteers are being sought for such services as tutoring homebound students incapacitated by illness, assisting emotionally disturbed children in arts and crafts projects, and providing transportation to clinics for needy outpatients.

More details on the volunteer program can be obtained from the Youth Bureau by calling 921-5715.

School Board Elections Approach

The time for School Board elections is fast approaching. As concerned citizens of Hicksville, do you know the qualifications for a good School Board member?

To find out, come to a meeting in the Hicksville Public Library, Thursday, March 9 at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Seymour Weiner, Vice-President of the Nassau-Suffolk School Boards Association and former member of the Glen Cove School Board, will outline the qualities necessary to serve on a Board of Education. He will also answer your questions.

Moderator for the evening will be George Jackson, former president of the Hicksville School Board.

This meeting, sponsored by a group of concerned citizens and taxpayers, will help you in your choices for future Hicksville School Board trustees. Give yourself the background for a wise choice.

L.I. Youth Orchestra To Present Concert

The Long Island Youth Orchestra, under the direction of Martin Dreiwitz, will present its second concert of the season on February 26, 1972 at 8:30 P.M. in the Jericho High School Auditorium on Cedar Swamp Road (Route 107), Jericho, Long Island.

On this occasion the orchestra will perform one of the most challenging works of the orchestral literature, Gustav Mahler's Fifth Symphony. This emotional, beautiful symphony has probably rarely, if ever, been performed by a youth orchestra. The concert will open with an overture by Vaughan-Williams, "The Wasps," followed by C. M. von Weber's Konzertstueck for Piano and Orchestra opus 79. The soloist will be 17-year old Michael Lewin, one of Long Island's most promising young pianists.

Tickets are available at $3.00 for adults or $1.50 for students. For information call 883-2242.

Members of the orchestra from your community are: Hicksville: Richard Holly, Percussion and Jeffrey Schlegel, Leader of Brass Section, French Horn, Plainview: Michelle Breger, Cello, Roy Cohen, Bass, Sue Kaplan, Bassoon and Jesse Levine, Trumpet.

CP Telethon Sets Record

Harold Jay Greenberg, president of United Cerebral Palsy Association of Nassau County, has announced a total pledge "exceeding $165,000 from the citizens of Nassau County" was made during the recent 21st annual Cerebral Palsy Telethon. The money will be used to support a growing complement of services at the association's world famed Center for Living, Roosevelt.

Greenberg praised the people of Nassau County for what he termed "a sympathetic understanding and heartwarming generosity." In pointing out that only monies specified for receipt by DCPA Nassau are received by the local health agency, he said contributions still may be made by sending check or money order to the association's headquarters at 380 Washington Avenue, Roosevelt, New York 11575.

REPORTS

These past few weeks I have been privileged to attend the installation of officers of a number of the volunteer fire companies serving the communities of Oyster Bay Town. These dedicated, competent men ready to risk their lives for their neighbors and their community deserve our unending gratitude.

There are 15 fire companies in the Town of Oyster Bay all of which meet the highest standards set by the American Insurance Association. They are equipped with some of the most modern fire-fighting equipment available.

But the most important factor is the force of 1750 trained firemen who serve without pay in their commitment to the protection of our lives and property. They spend many hours of their free time in training and are ready, willing and able to respond to an emergency call at any hour and in all weathers.

Another aspect that many of us often overlook is the savings to the taxpayers of millions of dollars every year because our firemen are volunteers - in fact, it is estimated to amount to $28 million for Oyster Bay Town residents alone. This also permits the fire companies to use the funds which might be otherwise appropriated for salaries for the purchase of new, more effective equipment.

However, those of us who have had to call upon their services know that no amount of money could buy the devotion to duty that makes a firefighting unit an outstanding one.

TOWN NOTES: Nassau County has set up a special "hotline" to handle consumer complaints of senior citizens who are often the victims of fast-talking sales and service sharpshooters. The number to call, according to Consumer Affairs Commissioner James Picken, is 535-3282 to report complaints.

H. C. C. To Hear Local Residents

The Hicksville Community Council which meets nine times a year, on the first Thursday of each month except July, August and Sept., will hold its March meeting next Thursday evening, March 2, at 8:15 p.m. at the Hicksville Library on Jerusalem Avenue.

The program which is set up under the guidance of the group's program chairman, Mr. Elery Bean, will be divided this month between speakers for two local groups, who are both interested in either presenting or backing candidates for the local Board of Education...the League for Intelligent Financing of Education (LIFE), and a spokesman for a new coalition of Concerned Citizens, have both accepted the Council's invitation to explain their group's philosophy and purposed and to answer question.

Mrs. Lurana M. Spanier, Director of the County of Nassau Vocational Center For Women will also speak on the aims and purposes of her Center which is designed to help women re-enter the working world. As usual, the final part of this meeting will be dedicated to hearing any matters which pertain to Hicksville from the audience, in the "Town Meeting" part of the evening. As the Board of Directors of the Hicksville Community Council has directed, a part of each meeting must always be open to any matter or announcement which affects Hicksville.

"Hicksville residents, whether or not they be delegates of member organizations, are cordially invited to attend and to participate in this monthly meeting of organizations and individuals," a spokesman for the Council urged, "Come on down, join us, and help us to work for a better Hicksville," he concluded. Refreshments are served after meeting.

From Your Congressman

James R. Grover, Jr.

In the continuing search for tax relief, President Nixon has recommended a value added tax. He believes that the federal government could raise $16-billion with this levy to pay local education costs and get the burden of the local property tax, a laudable goal.

Some Democratic Presidents hopefuls, notably Sens. McGovern and Muskie have also come forth with a proposed value-added tax program.

McGovern urging that the funds be used for education and Muskie for housing subsidies. Nothing is likely to happen this year.

Opponents of the plan claim that the value-added tax is a hidden sales tax, and, therefore, regressive in nature and oppressive to low income groups. Proponents of the value-added tax offer tax abatement and rebatement to counter that charge. A value-added tax provides for a levy during each step of manufacture or processing. Of course, it wouldn't be the manufacturers or processors who finally pay the levy but the consumer, in the form of increased price tags.

The proposal is worth considering, just as any promise of relieving property taxes is worthy of consideration. And this proposal is somewhat unique in that the federal government seems ready to funnel money to local government without requiring that local government come up with matching funds. In the case of most grants from higher levels of government, local budgets are inflated by the need to provide matching local payments.

There is a danger in the value-added tax proposal. Too often, it appears to me, federal and state aid to localities does not have the effect of lowering local taxes but appears, to be absorbed without leaving a ripple. In the case of the value-added plan, I will demand ironclad guarantees that this aid will be used to lower property taxes rather than to increase local budgets. Otherwise, New York State's taxpayers will be stretched just a bit more on the rack of taxes.

Inducted As Councilman

Gregory W. Carman, a 35-year-old attorney from Farmingdale, was inducted to the Oyster Bay Town Board in ceremonies at Town Hall.

The new Board member received the oath of office from his father, the Hon. Willis B. Carman, a former District Court Judge and Police Justice of the Village of Farmingdale.

Carman fills a vacancy created on the Board when Ralph Diamond was appointed to the District Court last month following his election to a four-year term of office. Carman will be obliged to seek election this year to complete the remainder of Diamond's term.

Councilman Carman is the youngest member of the law firm of Carman, Callahan and Carman, located in Farmingdale. He resides with his wife, Nancy, and three sons at 66 North Main Street, just a short distance from his law office.

A graduate of Farmingdale High School, he received his B.A. degree at St. Lawrence University where he majored in Government. He graduated from St. John's University Law School where he was a member of the honors program and the St. John's Law Review.

He rose to the rank of Captain while in the U.S. Army where he was certified by the Judge Advocate General to practice at general court martial trials.

Mr. Carman also has a broad background in community activities. He has been active in the Farmingdale Rotary Club, Boy Scouts, Ethics Committee of the Nassau County Bar Association, and the Farmingdale Volunteer Fire Department.

He is a member of the vestry of St. Thomas Episcopal Church.

Firemen Mourn Death Of Harold Schaefer

Hicksville Firemen turned out in large numbers to pay their last respects to Ex-Capt. Schaefer who died suddenly Feb. 18 while on duty as custodian at fire headquarters. Hicksville firemen worked to save Harold but to no avail. Harold Schaefer 61, was a life long resident of Hicksville, residing on Bay Ave. He joined the Hicksville Fire Dept. Co. No. 1 on April 11, 1930. His father, the late Charles Schaefer served as chief of the Hicksville Fire Dept.

in 1925. Harold was Captain of Co. No. 1 in 1951-52, and has served as Sgt. At Arms for the dept. for the past 15 years. He had been custodian for the Fire Headquarters for several years. Two pieces of apparatus accompanied Harold as he answered his last alarm. His fellow firemen served as pallbearers. Interment was at Plainlawn Cemetery, Hicksville. Harold Schaefer's presence among us will be missed.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
This has reference to your February 10th edition in which a fire at 28 Astor Lane, Hicksville was covered.
I would like to thank Chief Voorhees and his men for the fantastic speed in responding to the call for help and for their outstanding work in stopping the fire before it destroyed our home.
Your story states "neighbors hampered" and "interfered with firemen as they fought the fire" does not, in my opinion, represent an accurate account of what happened. It was one of the neighbors who turned in the alarm and it was the neighbors who furnished the hot coffee for firemen as they worked. It was the neighbors who stayed until three in the morning to help with the clean-up and it has been the neighbors along with many friends and relatives who have been helpful beyond belief in these last few difficult days.

Thank God for the Hicksville Volunteer Fire Department and for my terrific neighbors, friends and relatives.

Sincerely,
James De Nicola

Income Taxes - What's Deductible?

Tax Benefits For White Collar Workers

This is the fourth in a series of articles on ways you can save on your Federal Income tax returns this year. The articles are written by Henry W. Block, president of H & R Block, Inc., America's largest tax service.

White collar workers frequently have felt somewhat neglected in past years when they filled out their Federal tax returns. Although provisions granting relief to white collar workers have been in effect for some time, there are many people in this category who are not taking advantage of their rightful tax deductions. While these deductions are available to all qualified taxpayers, they apply primarily to white collar workers.

DEDUCTION FOR TRAINING
If the goal is right, costs for special educational training can be deductible. If the training is primarily to maintain or improve skills used in your present job or because it is required either by your employer or by state or federal law, it would be allowed as a deduction. It is important to distinguish between taking courses which allow you to retain your present position and those which either meet the minimum educational requirements for your job or qualify you for a new position; the latter two cases would not be considered as deductible educational expenses.

For example, an office worker is in charge of programming computers in the accounting department. His employer expects him to keep up with developments in the computer field, so he takes a special course. The cost of the course, to the extent that it is not reimbursed by his employer, would be deductible. A man in the sales department in the same company wants to get into computer work so he takes the same course. The cost of the course would not be deductible for him because it has no bearing on his present post and is not required by his employer. (We might reach a different answer in the second case if the salesman were selling computers!)

Expenses for travel, meals and lodging away from home overnight while incurring deductible educational expenses may be deducted from gross income on Form 1040 whether or not the taxpayer uses the standard deduction. Other educational expenses such as tuition, books, and other related fees may be deducted only as itemized deductions on Schedule A of Form 1040.

MAYBE CAR EXPENSES
An office worker cannot deduct his car expenses for transportation to and from work. But, if while he is on the job he is required to run errands for his employer or to drive his car between job locations, he may be entitled to a deduction, at least to the extent that he is not reimbursed by his employer.

In some cases it is possible to convert a portion of your commuting expenses into deductible business expenses. An example will illustrate: Suppose Fred is an accountant and on his way to work every morning, he stops at a client's office to pick up the preceding day's records. On the way home at night, he returns them. His actual commuting expense ends when he reaches the client's office. From there to his employer's and then back to the client's at night would be considered on the job driving and is deductible by Fred.

EMPLOYMENT AGENCY FEES
Since statistics show that white collar workers are more likely to change jobs than blue collar workers, the question of deductibility of employment agency fees becomes increasingly more important. The courts tend to follow the theory that a pre-paid fee to an employment agency is deductible only if the agency is successful in securing employment for the taxpayer. If the employment agency is unsuccessful or if the employee finds a job on his own the fee is considered merely a "seeking expense" and is considered a nondeductible personal expense. In the same respect, the Internal Revenue Service has held that amounts spent traveling in search of employment are nondeductible personal expenses.

HFT Voted For Legal Action

The HFT voted on the 18th to authorize the legal action against the school board for not paying raises retroactively to the August 15, 1971 Wage and Price freeze. The board had agreed on January 11th to give the retroactive pay as soon as their attorney found the statutory authority to do so.

This authority was announced at the next board meeting, January 28, yet the board has refused to release the frozen wages. The Hicksville teachers claim that nearly all other districts on the island have paid the retroactivity, and that the present board in Hicksville "is playing obstructionist politics in that they know that by law they must pay the raise ultimately."

The HFT also criticizes the HCTA, the official bargaining agent the official bargaining agent for the teachers, for waiting until Feb. 14 before taking an action on the retroactivity on a letter of request.

Since January the Hicksville Teachers have been paid at a contract scale approved by the U.S. Pay Board. The wages held prior to approval amount to a few hundred dollars for each teacher.

"Confidence Game"

Nassau Police detectives warned county residents of a new fraudulent "Confidence Game" which has preyed upon elderly women who have bank accounts.

Recently, in three cases, a smooth talking thief has first telephoned his victims and falsely identified himself as a police lieutenant or sergeant conducting an investigation involving bank tellers. In the course of this conversation, the "Con Man" obtains the necessary information concerning the victim's bank account and then asks her to cooperate with the police by withdrawing a large sum of money from her account.

The thief, still impersonating a police officer, arranges to meet his victim at or near the bank where he takes the money claiming it is needed as evidence.

He then disappears.

In these three cases the thief, a white male, has falsely identified himself as a Lieutenant Frost or a Sergeant Hamilton and has swindled over $5,000 from his victims.

Anyone having information concerning these crimes is requested to call First Precinct detectives at 223-1100. All information will be kept in confidence.

Mathletes At Hicksville High School

Hicksville Mathletes, leader of Division 9 since the start of the 1971 - 72 season, have now reached undisputed first place in the Nassau County Mathlete competitions. Top Division 9 individual scorers, Steve Goldberg, Michael Matzka, and Ira Smilovitz, all seniors, are also high in the County tallies.

Ira, president of the Hicksville Math Club, and Michael, its vice-president, are busily at work on the problems of how to "bring along" the Sophomore and Junior members of the Club so that next year's team will be able to carry on. Club meetings are both practice sessions and tryouts for the following meet. Top scorers on the basis of club practice sessions thus become eligible for competition at the next meet.

The Mathlete competitions are held six times each year, with divisions competing simultaneously on the second Tuesday of the month. Five teams per division compete; team captains assign five members for each of the five problems per meet. Cumulative totals, both for teams and for individuals, determine current rankings. First the Nassau, then the combined Nassau-Suffolk playoffs will be held in late April; an awards dinner in May will cap off the season.

Club members this year include: Seniors, Barry Dastin, Dom Bruno, Mark Ludman, Steve Goldberg, Steve Isaacs, Ira Smilovitz, Michael Matzka, and Russell Slavover; Juniors, Merrill Weiss, Bill Mazzei, Larry Levy, Steve Epstein, Bruce Levin, Paul Shizume, Bob Lohsen, and Steve Gottlieb; Sophomores, Wendy Konins, Donald Jue, Peter Tilem, Mark Asam, Ed Paul, Peter Matzka, Gayle Selkin and Phyllis Koling. The faculty advisor to the club is Mrs. Shirley Karish.

Section 5. At any time, subsequent to the 15th day of March in each year, an owner or lessee of a vessel may make an application, in writing, to the Superintendent of Beaches upon forms to be furnished by the Harbor Master for a mooring permit or a courtesy permit, stating the name and address of the applicant and whether an owner or a lessee, specifying the names and addresses of all officers, directors and stockholders, if any, the year, make, type, color and number of the vessel and the name and address of the owner thereof, and any other relevant information which the Harbor Master may require.

Section 6. No vessel shall be attached to a "courtesy mooring" for more than seven (7) days in a season without the written permission of the Harbor Master.

Section 14. The Harbor Master may revoke in writing a permit at his discretion for a violation of any of these rules or regulations; or may, at his discretion, order in writing the anchor mooring buoy and attachments relocated to another position, in connection with the implementation of the anchoring and mooring pattern established in the waters of Oyster Bay Harbor.

Section 15. A person whose application for a mooring permit hereunder has been denied or whose mooring permit has been revoked or suspended by the Harbor Master shall have the right to appeal to the Town Board for a review of the determination of the Harbor Master. Such appeal shall be in writing, and shall set forth the grounds on which it is claimed the determination was erroneous, and shall be subscribed and duly sworn to by the appellant. Questions and Answers

QUESTION: My mother-in-law found some old oil paintings as she cleared up her deceased parents' estate. They appear very old and valuable. Is there any place near Hicksville to get an appraisal of their worth?

ANSWER: Hofstra University has an Art Clinic the first Wednesday of each month to appraise works of art. March 1 is the last clinic until September. The art objects are inspected, evaluated and authenticated by the chairman and the assistant chairman of the Art History department. The fee is $5 for one or two paintings, $8 to $10 for up to six or eight, written appraisals start at $10, special consideration will be made for 3 or more. Home appraisals are also given. The price depends on the size of the collection. On Sewer Problems

Suffolk County's sewer program received another financial boost from the federal government this week with the announcement of an additional grant for treatment facilities. Congressman James R. Grover, Jr. said the Environmental Protection Agency had contributed another million dollars to the program, bringing to $11,000,000 the federal participation. In addition, the Babylon lawmaker announced that the Grumman Aerospace Corp. had received a $9,800,000 Naval Air Systems contract for modification work on the A-6A and A-6E aircraft. Most of the work will be done at the company's Bethpage facilities with 10 per cent being performed at Calverton.
