Targowski Stars As St. Ignatius Takes Mayor's Trophy At Glen Cove

After twelve years of traveling to Glen Cove for the annual tournament held at Glen Cove Stadium, St. Ignatius Loyola won the Senior Division of the tournament this past weekend.

The St. Ignatius team, composed of a combination of intermediates and the junior team, put three fine games together to bring the Mayors trophy back to Hicksville.

In the first game held at 9 a.m. on Saturday, St. Ignatius met a strong from Glen Head. The Saints fell two runs behind in the first inning and they held up until the 3rd when they broke loose with 11 runs which put the game out of reach. Frank Principe was the winning pitcher who pitched the first 4 innings and also contributed 5 RBIs. He was relieved by Richie Lundenberg who finished up the 16-3 debacle.

Later that afternoon, the Saints met a team from Sea Cliff. After jumping off to a three run lead in the first inning on a HR by F. Principe, R. Lundenberg (the Saints pitcher) had a streak of wildness and gave up the tying run. In the second inning Sea Cliff picked up four more runs on hits and wildness by the Saints pitching. F. Principe came in to relieve in the 3rd inning and held Sea Cliff in hand until the Saints picked up one run in the 4th inning and broke the game open in the 5th inning with nine runs. They added 3 more in the sixth to make the final score 16-7. F. Principe was the winning pitcher and picked up his second win of the day. He also batted nine runs in the twin bill.

The Saints drew a bye in the Sunday afternoon game and came back to play at Sunday evening only to find St. Joseph's of Kings Park waiting for them. St. Joseph's is the finest team in the intermediate division of the CYO.

The game started off with R. Lundenberg and J. Flynn tied up in a pitchers battle for four innings with both teams threatening and leaving a total of 11 men on base. In the first of the fifth F. Principe walked with two outs and Bill Tarowski rapped a triple to right center to score Principe. Lundenberg who was sailing along fine ran into a barrage of base hits in the 5th and when it was over the score was 4-1 St. Joseph's. The Saints did not give up with Gerard Stry leading off the sixth with a walk followed by walks to Mike Valli and Billy Stepkowski which loaded the bases. Timmy Brady got a hit on an error to score J. Johnston, who ran for Stry. With this, one of the smoothest lefties in the CYO Ira Selya was bough in by the coach of the St. Joe's J. Weir Selya Struck out J. Dekuvio and F. Principe in 7 pitches and seemed to be out of the woods, but along came Billy Targowski and he promptly unloaded a three run triple to put the Saints ahead 5-4.

Targowski then scored on a hit by R. Lundenberg. Mgr. Jim Mahoney then brought Billy Targowski in to pitch the final two innings. The Saints picked up one more run in the seventh to make the score 7-4. St. Joe's was not dead. They started the seventh off with a triple and then chipped in with two more singles. Targowski then walked a man to load the bases Targowski then walked a man to load the bases. Targowski struck out the next batter and made the last batter hit back to the box. St. Ignatius was the victors.

The writers Consensus of the game was St. Joe's though a superior team was bitten by a band of ballplayers from St. Ignatius who just refused to give up.

St. Ignatius though out hit never broke down on defense and always made the big play when it was needed. So congratulations to the Mgr. J. Mahoney and the boys of St. Ignatius for bringing the Mayors Trophy home to St. Ignatius.

E.J. & E. Railway Signs Kartrak Agreement

The Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway has entered into a contract with the Servo Corporation of America to install a computer-based automatic car identification system which will provide car movement information from the railway's East Joliet, Illinois yard to its Joliet Data Center.

Servo Corporation, headquartered in Hicksville, N.Y., recently acquired the KarTrak automatic car identification product line from GTE Information Systems, and will install the system at the EJE's East Joliet Yard in the near future. It will supplement an existing ACI scanner currently installed east of Joliet terminal.

Data from this new system will eventually be furnished to the Washington headquarters of the Association of American Railroads as a part of a nationwide car movement information system known as "TRAINS." This system keeps track of the daily movement of some two million freight cars.

The EJE is among the first railroads to install the KarTrak equipment on their lines. The Duluth, Missabe and Iron Range Railway has had a similar system in operation for some time as a prototype, coupling weigh-in-motion with car movement reporting.

EJE officials stated that the new system would provide expanded service operations at Joliet, as well as assisting in overall car utilization with resulting better service to shippers using their railroad.

Servo Corporation is a major railroad equipment manufacturer, specializing in Servo Hot Box Detective systems, dragging equipment detectors and other railroad safety and operating electronic systems.

ASAP On Exhibit At Career Expo '72

Nassau County Alcohol Safety Action Project, including its portable display booth, will be represented at Career Expo 1972 to be held at Nassau Community College, August 11th, 1972, announced Anthony Cirezza, Director.

The display booth contains much information and literature on the severe drinking and driving problem, both here in Nassau County and throughout the nation.

"Many of the participants have made special requests for displays from law enforcement agencies and we feel that the Alcohol Safety Action Project's display and literature can be particularly effective at these career planning sessions," Cirezza said.

The day long sessions will be presenting information on Career planning opportunities in the county governmental structure and is sponsored by the Bureau of Career Planning and Development. Career Expo 1972 is open to all high school and college age full or part-time employees.

MDAA Calls For Telethon Volunteers

Hundreds of volunteers are needed to help with the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Weekend Telethon in Plainview.

This was the announcement made today by Luci Merin, Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America Public Information and Telethon Publicity Volunteer for The Plainview area. According to Miss Merin, volunteers are needed to man telephones, to serve as hosts and hostesses for guest relations, as typists, clerks, messengers and chauffeurs. Those who wish to volunteer their services should call 293-0370.

The twenty-hour Telethon will be seen in Plainview over WNEV-TV Channel 5. Last year the Telethon raised a record-breaking $3,300,000, which has gone toward MDAA's program of patient and community services and to help finance its world-wide program of scientific research. MDAA supports some one hundred-fifty research projects throughout the world, and maintains a network of free clinics across the U.S. The two Long Island chapters provide clinics at Nassau Community Hospital and at the Commack Rehabilitation Center. They also maintain a comprehensive program of medical, social, and recreational services to patients and their families.

Dear Friends...

We would like to repeat our suggestion to those who are now old enough to register and vote... why don't you make the effort to register, YOURSELF? There is much ado in our so-called daily newspaper, that registration should be brought to you, at various events, where it is possible you may be found, such as a rock concert! This is ridiculous! We have no argument against your attending rock concerts and the like, if that is really what turns you on but this has nothing to do with your registration. You are now old enough to register and vote... by all means do so.

The telephone number of our non-partisan Board of Elections, is 535-2411. It is possible for you to go over to their offices in Mineola and register during working weekdays, or, you may phone them and get the schedule of the Mobile Registration Trailer, and, when it is near to your area, take care of your registration at that time. In any case, the matter of registration does not call for mass hysteria on the part of daily newspapers or of politicians who are attempting to make some ill-taken points about this matter. Actually, calmly, and quietly, why don't you take care of this matter yourself? It's very important. Remember, you can't vote if you aren't registered.

IN THE FALL, many local organizations plan to carry columns in The Herald. We'd like to extend an invitation to all our large local organizations, to send us not only their news of meetings, but a column about their members and activities. We are sure that many of your friends and neighbors would like to hear of your group's activities, so drop us a line in the near future, and we'll let you know how to go about this. Or telephone us at WE1-1400. If we're not in when you call, we'll get back to you. Let's make this next season, a great one for all local organizations!

UNTIL NEXT WEEK, stay well, and let us hear from you.

Deal Only With Reputable Firms

In a special warning issued today by the Nassau County Office of Consumer Affairs, home owners were cautioned not to deal with roof repairmen who drive up to their homes and offer to inspect their roofs.

Consumer Affairs Commissioner James E. Picken revealed that elderly women especially have recently been the target of this type of unscrupulous door-to-door operator, who frequently uses scare tactics to make the sale.

Two elderly women, he reported, were frightened into having their roofs sprayed with a tar-like substance. One paid $765 and the other $650 for one hour's work. One woman was escorted by the roofer to the bank, where she withdrew the money from her savings account and gave it to him.

In another case, Picken said, an 82-year-old woman paid a $100 deposit to a man who never returned to do the work and who had given a false phone number.

"This is outrageous," Picken declared. "Consumers must learn to say no to any unlicensed itinerant." Nassau County licenses home improvement businesses, and urges consumers to ask for the license before placing an order.

Picken cautioned consumers: "Know the contractor. Get referrals. Get several estimates. Call Consumer Affairs if you have a problem."

The Office of Consumer Affairs is now conducting an investigation of the roofers, Picken said. In addition, the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs has been asked to send a warning bulletin to senior citizens throughout the county.

JOHN W. BURKE

August 7, 1972

Since my column of a few weeks ago when I discussed the Town's plans for developing a landfill-park project in Plainview, a number of people have asked, "What is so special about a planned landfill? Don't you just dig a pit, dump in the refuse and cover it over?"

All too often this has been the case in the past when municipalities, with understandable reluctance, waited until conditions approached the crisis stage before acquiring additional acreage for landfill purposes. Unfortunately, this often meant that the landfill stays in the crisis stage throughout its operating life, and little or nothing can then be done to reclaim the site for parks or other use.

In contrast, a planned landfill is a total starting with engineering studies of potential sites, site preparation including fencing and landscaping, a controlled, engineered landfill and restoration operation, and then development of the planned park facility.

In addition to the Plainview site, a number of others were studied by Town and consulting engineers during this first phase. One was a 43-acre parcel adjacent to the present landfill in Old Bethpage that is owned by Nassau County. However, the county has no legislative authority, according to an opinion by the State Controller, to convey property dedicated to park purposes to a town.

Another tract of less than 20 acres was well situated but was determined to be too small to be useful for the time period contemplated.

As we develop this solid waste management program, we are also continuing active consideration of a countywide cooperative effort with the other Nassau County municipalities. This was one of several recommendations in the county sponsored Teeter-Dobbins study of the waste disposal problem that we endorsed in November 1971.

The problem has reached crisis proportions throughout the nation and requires a multi-pronged, continuous attack if it is to be solved before we are literally buried in our own waste.

TOWN NOTES. On a related note, I am pleased to report that the Town's voluntary pilot newspaper recycling program continues to collect an average of over 160 tons per month. Thank you for your continued support of this ecologically vital program.

President Launches Project Find

A nationwide campaign to identify and enroll older Americans eligible for Federal Food Assistance Programs was announced today at the White House by President Nixon.

Named to head the campaign - Project FIND - was Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, Chairman of the White House Conference on Aging and former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. Mrs. Nixon will be co-Chairman of Project FIND with Dr. Flemming.

Dr. Flemming said that this effort by the Federal government to locate Americans eligible for the Federal Food Programs, either food stamps or commodities, is the President's response to the nutritional needs of older Americans recommended by delegates to last December's White House Conference on Aging.

"The nutritional problems of the elderly are complex and defy easy solutions. An imaginative and creative joint public and private effort, such as Project FIND, promises to be an effective means of meeting those needs," Flemming said.

Four government agencies and the American Red Cross are participating in the program, which includes a direct mail effort to over 27 million men and women, 22.5 million of whom are over 60, a public service advertising and public information campaign, and the recruitment of up to 50,000 volunteers to locate and assist persons eligible for Federal Food Assistance Programs.

Eligibility for Federal Food Assistance is contingent upon income, assets and family size. Project FIND volunteers, in addition to trying to locate persons who may be eligible, will assist these individuals in contacting local public assistance officials who certify eligibility for Federal Food Programs.

This nationwide search will be accomplished through the unique cooperative effort of government and private agencies: ACTION, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Office of Economic Opportunity, Social Security Administration and the American Red Cross.

The Department of Agriculture administers Federal Food Assistance through food stamps or commodity programs in approximately 3100 counties and other jurisdictions throughout the United States.

The Social Security Administration will communicate the objective of Project FIND to all recipients of Social Security and Medicare in a mailing received by 27 million persons on August 3.

An enclosed brochure will explain to each recipient how he or she may qualify and enroll in the food assistance programs. A franked post card will permit recipients to request personal assistance if required.

It will be the task of the American Red Cross to enroll, train and supervise up to 50,000 volunteers in an effort to reach the eligible older Americans requiring assistance.

The Office of Economic Opportunity, through a $4.4 million contract, will be the finding agency for the volunteer activity.

ACTION, the government citizen service corps, will provide the project management and public information services.

Federal employees throughout the country as well as ACTION volunteers in Older American Programs are being encouraged to assist in Project FIND.

In announcing the project, Dr. Flemming said, "Many older persons, just to society, are eligible for federal assistance programs, but are not aware of it. It is the role of Project FIND to locate these people and build a bridge between them and society."

The Rush Is On The Republican Team

Politics will mix with rock music next Tuesday evening (August 15) when Nassau County Comptroller Angelo D. Roncallo, Congressional candidate from the third district, will host a "New Voters Night" at the RUSH discotheque in Oyster Bay.

Featured that evening will be live music by "Mixed Emotion", a group that has made several records and is rapidly gaining a following among rock music fans on Long Island.

In addition to Roncallo, a number of other local Republican candidates for local and state offices will be on hand, including Senator Ralph J. Marino, Assemblymen Philip Healey and Joseph Reilly, Town Councilman Gregory Carman, Judge Ralph Diamond and candidates Owen Johnson and Stuart Levine.

"We have a twofold objective in mind," Roncallo explained. "We want to meet as many of the new voters as possible and listen to their concerns and suggestions, and, at the same time, give them the opportunity to question us on our political philosophies and programs."

Music and dancing will get under way at 9:30 P.M. Admission for that evening will be free, and a cash bar will be available.

RUSH is located at 200 Pine Hollow Road (Route 106) in Oyster Bay opposite the Pine Hollow Theatre.

Marino Lauds Gov's Okay On Village Law

State Senator Ralph J. Marino, (R-Syosset), praised Governor Rockefeller's approval of a series of bills revising and updating village law, the first such attempt to "clean house" since the turn of the century. Marino, Chairman of the Committee on Towns and Counties, was the sponsor of the legislation in the State Senate.

Marino described the new village law as "far-reaching. Up to now, Village Law as circumscribed by the Legislature has been a potpourri of rigid, antiquated, even unconstitutional laws which have inhibited villages from meeting emerging needs of our times," Marino said. "Under the new law, each village in the state will be afforded the latitude to adopt local laws consistent with its own needs and aspirations."

The village package was the product of extensive deliberations with local and state officials. Most of its provisions repeal cumbersome, conflicting, and confusing statutes

Final Proof To Come For Olympic Team

Although the competition for places on the 1972 U.S. Olympic team is over, the final proof that they've made it will come to the American athletes here during the next two weeks.

That's when official team processing takes place. This year it will be done with appropriate national ceremonies as the final step before the majority of the 750 team members and administrators depart for Munich, Germany.

"Don't underestimate the importance of the processing scene to the athletes," says Al Oerter, a unique Olympian who won four consecutive gold medals in the discus from 1956 through 1964.

"When you go through the official procedure, get your official uniform and participate in all the necessary functional things, you know you've made it. It is important to each and every athlete. It was to me the first time in 1956 and the last time in 1964."

For this year's team, the official processing will involve the procedures of medical and dental examinations, photographs for the official identification card, measuring for uniforms and receipt of all necessary supplies and incidentals needed for the trip that Oerter is familiar with, plus something new.

The something new is an official part of the 1972 U.S. Olympic uniform. It's the Kodak Instamatic X-30 camera, which has been selected for use by the team. During registration, each athlete and administrator will receive a camera and sit in on a Kodak-taught photo clinic on how to operate it most effectively.

As well as providing cameras, Eastman Kodak Company has committed a minimum of $100,000 as a donation to the U.S. Olympic effort and is a sponsor of the team training effort.

A portion of the proceeds of the sale of the Instamatic Z-30 cameras will go to support the team. The camera is available to the public in an outfit or a single unit. The outfit contains an Olympic seal for the face of the camera and is list priced at $39.95. The camera has electronic exposure control and is designed for use in a wide range of picture-taking situations.

Official Washington will wish the team well with special ceremonies at the U.S. Capitol, a visit to the White House and a special send-off banquet.

Then on to Munich and the XXth Olympiad.

"Invitations" —to Burglars

"Most people ask to be robbed. Don't make it easy for the thief."

That is the message of a new 16mm film titled "The Invitation" which is available on free loan to community groups and television stations throughout the country. The 13½-minute color motion picture is presented by State Farm Insurance Companies.

The film shows how people carelessly and unknowingly "invite" burglars into their houses, apartments and businesses—and suggests ways to stop the intrusions.

"The Invitation" is being distributed by Modern Talking Picture Service film libraries throughout the country.

Girl Scout News

For Diane Goode and her sister Denise, green threes, sparkling brooks and the fun of sleep-away camp, Girl Scout style, will become a reality on August 15th. Recently Diane joined nineteen other youngsters at the Nassau Family Service Offices in Mineola, for an orientation meeting held by Mid-Island Council Girl Scouts.

Through Family Service Agency, 20 underprivileged girls will be attending Mid-Island Council's new Girl Scout Camp located in West Kill, New York. At Westdale Farm Resident Camp, a 390 acre site approximately 40 miles from Kingston, New York, Diane will be in a "girl planned" program which features tent sleeping, fireside sing-a-longs, hayrides, and cookouts as part of a well rounded Girl Scout program.

Diane will be meeting scouts from all parts of Central and Eastern Nassau County who have come to Westdale for two weeks of outdoor living. Each unit of 32 girls will plan and participate in a wide variety of outdoor activities and games which will give them an opportunity to not only have fun, but develop new friendships which will hopefully continue after resident camp.

Mid-Island Council, which is a participating member of United Fund of Long Island, through programs such as this, is continuing to offer Girl Scouting to all girls who want it.

Pond Hopping

by Edith Falber

Its Word Association Time! Ready? Alright, we'll start Idaho? Potatoes! Maine? Lobsters! Long Island? Ducks!! We Islanders are world famous, not for our suburban lifestyle, nor for our culture, nor even for our wit or wisdom, but for our ducks! Stumble into a restaurant in Iowa, or the bazaar of the Casbah, or a dim cafe on the Rue de la Paix and there you will probably find the ubiquitous listing, "Long Island Duck!" We're bountifully endowed with ducks, and not only in the freezer section of our supermarkets. They are practically a natural resource. Buy have you taken advantage of this? Have you exploited this unexpected benefit of a childhood on Long Island? Have you introduced your smallest relatives to a duck recently? Because ducks are definitely fun, and not just for chomping.

Don't bother driving out to one of the enormous duck breeding farms out in Suffolk. Its not the same as visiting one of the many different duck ponds right close to home. For one, thing, those farms have thousands and thousands of ducks. What you will find is wall to wall ducks, a sea of white, dispirited blobs, fenced in and truthfully, smelling rather high. In this case, less is more. It's hard to empathize with two thousand ducks. As with war statistics, or the amount of stars in the milky way, the mind boggles. It's easier to mourn for one victim, or wish on one star, or feed one duck. The human mind just works better that way, with a one to one relationship.

So take your group out one fine and sunny day, and visit a duck pond. You'll find each pond is different, each has a separate personality, although they generally contain the same floating population: Domestic Ducks, Canadian Geese, Wild Ducks, Muscovy Ducks and a liberal sprinkling of Swans. (Domestic Ducks, the white ones, are the only ones that do not fly).

What infinite variety of pond sites! There are formal duck ponds that look like the elegant gardens of palaces, or like the centerpieces of impressionist paintings; quaint and manicured settings with poured concrete ponds filled with a docile ducky population. Try the Roslyn Duck Pond in the heart of the Village Roslyn, or the Ritters Pond Park in New Hyde Park for this type. There are the more naturalistic ponds: large bodies of water ringed round with ancient trees and tangled bushes where ducks and geese glide through lily pads to arrive, quaking and agitating at the water's edge. For that kind, try Taukapausha Park in Seaford and Mill Pond in North Bellmore. There are even ponds with ornate Chinese style bridges to cross, complicated landscaped ponds, ponds with islands in the center, ponds that are an artists dream, and yes, even ponds that are glorified mudholes.

As a bonus, some ponds adjoin playgrounds. As a sneaky gambit, antique coveters, the Merrick Road Run, with five Nassau County duck ponds on it, also passes through the heart of Long Islands dazzling antique hunters paradise. You might park the little ones with an authority figure at pond's edge and dash across the street to buy that authentic 1872 steamer trunk that you've been unable to live without.

Equipment for duck visiting is simple enough, a loaf of slightly aged bread (or fresh Tip-Top if you're a big spender) and a compliment of small children. Only caution them to be kind, for stone throwers can damage those feathery folk. And explain that a stone thrown deceptively, as a substitute for food, and instantly gobbled up, is not amusing. For late that night, while the perpetrator is soundly snug-a-bed, some poor feathery soul is awake, alone, in pain in the night.

Try a visit to a pond this weekend. It's free, it's outdoorsy, it's educational, it's very pleasant. And as you stand in the leaf dappled sunlight, beside the cool waters, and the bright eyed, glossy feathered birds, drops of water beading on their backs, quabble and quack and your children dance with excitement - you might wonder, Now why haven't we done this before?

NOTE: Unless you're bent on starting a duck-phobia, it's not advisable to let a toddler feed the ducks unaided. Some of those Canadian Geese can reach a height of 18 inches and they are large! We've seen some of those big jobs, when hungry, spring up onto the pond bank and head for that bread! Someone very small, seeing a big brown bird heading for him like a Panzer division, can be overwhelmed! And don't let any small person tease a Swan. They're lovely and shy, but if concerned, they'll fight!

A RANDOM LIST OF DICK PONDS

(Some are run by Nassau County, some by the Town of North Hempstead, Alas, poor Oyster Bay has only one official pond, at the JFK preserve in Tobay Beach.)

SOUTHERN RUN: Wantagh Parkway to Merrick Road. Just stay on Merrick Road and go East or West to find: Taukapausha Park, Seaford; Mill Pond, Merrick; Cammanns Park, Merrick; Milburn Pond Park, Freeport; Lofts Pond Park, Baldwin.

NORTHERN SITES: Two for One - LIE to Community Drive, Manhasset, Right to A&S. Whitely Pond Park or go across the street to Manhasset Valley Park. Then there's Roslyn Village Pond, right in the old village. Or Ritters Pond Park in New Hyde Park; Marcus Avenue and Meadow Farm Road; Port

"Summer Special" Richest Lottery

Tickets are selling briskly in the New York State Lottery's "summer special"—the richest lottery ever played in America—as the eight-week sales period approaches the halfway mark. Reports culled from more than 8,000 licensed vendors indicate a steady public demand for the $3 tickets with the two-for-one chance to win the grand prize of $50,000 a year for life or the other 9,999 prizes with a total value of $4½ million ranging from $10,000 to $200, according to Tax Commissioner Norman Galtman.

"Although specific sales figures are not available," he said, "buyers seem mindful that only a limited number of tickets has been printed. This means not only is there just one set of 10,000 prizes but that after the present supply of tickets is exhausted there won't be any more."

Tickets, each bearing two different lottery numbers—giving each buyer two chances to win—will remain on sale through September 5, or until the supply is depleted.

The grand prize winner will be assured of a minimum of one million dollars payable at $50,000 a year for life. Depending on the age of the winner, however, the prize could amount to as much as $3,550,000.

The winning ticket will be the only one among all those sold to contain the seven-digit number selected at random in the final drawing scheduled September 20 at the North Tower of the new World Trade Center in Manhattan.

There will also be nine second prizes of $100,000 each for holders of tickets bearing the last six, or rightmost, digits. These prizes are payable in four annual installments of $25,000 each.

Third prizes of $10,000 each will go to the 90 whose tickets have the last five digits, 900 fourth prizes of $1,000 apiece to those having the last four digits, and 9,000 prizes of $200 each for tickets containing the last three digits.

Plans are in the making for the Division of the Lottery to host the grand prize winner and the nine runners-up at a luncheon in New York City where the initial check payments will be made. These plans will be firm-up as soon as the winners have identified themselves in the Lottery offices throughout the State nearest them.

HICKSVILLE INTERNATIONAL LITTLE LEAGUE

By Eileen Donohue

The 1972 season ended last Friday with LONG ISLAND NATIONAL BANK meeting MARDER SHELL for the Minors championship. In a game distinguished by good sportsmanship and errorless play, SHELL came out on top 7-2. Bill Mariconda and Tom Wright were the winning pitchers, helped by a spectacular defensive play by Ernest-Credidio playing second. Bill Shacklady tripled and John Rodney doubled for Shell. SHELL'S morale was boosted by the return of John Gennaro who had missed the last few games because of illness. Post game, BANK showed that they too were winners by congratulating each boy on MARDER SHELL.

On behalf of the Hicksville International Little League,

Many thanks to all the managers, coaches, sponsors, and parents who were so generous of their time and we hope to see you all at the annual awards dinner in October.

Week of Aug. 3.

The Minors are finally winding up their season, the only remaining game will be MARDER SHELL vs. LONG ISLAND NATIONAL BANK to decide first place. Last week SHELL beat HICKSVILLE PENNSAVER 5-3 in the opening round of the playoffs. A two run homer by Tommy Wright provided the winning margin for Shell. L.I. Bank whipped Cerone Floors 21-4. Hills Supermarkets forfeited to Paragon Oil. In Tuesday's game, Shell continued their winning streak downing Bank 5-3. Bill Mariconda pitched no hit ball and his brother Jeff doubled for the winners. A dramatic catch by Bill Shacklady took the punch out of a Bank rally. In the other Tuesday game Pennsaver squeaked by Cerone 9-7. Chris Donohue went 3 for 3, with 3 rbi's for Pennsaver and a fine catch by Greg Haas robbed Cerone of a possible homerun. Friday evening Bank came out on top against Pennsaver 17 - 7 to give them another crack at Shell in the fight for first place. Robby Sauer pitched for Bank and smashed a two run homer in a game that was distinguished by the number of walks issued. Next week's play will decide the Champs and close a long rainy season.

Clothesline Show

The House on Otter Pond, popular Sag Harbor, N.Y. restaurant, announces a clothesline show of Long Island artists on August 19 and 20. The show will be hung in a wooded glade adjacent to The House on Otter Pond Gallery, a quaint converted carriage house in the rear of the restaurant's tree-shaded grounds.

The clothesline show has long been a fine starting point for unknown artists. It is not only excellent exposure for newcomers and experienced artists alike, it is also a good hunting ground for art collectors. It is quite possible to stumble upon an undiscovered genius with gratifying results for both artist and collector.

Brad Guilford and Hector Cordova, co-owners of the charming new gallery, urge all artists to submit their work as soon as possible and no later than noon on Friday, August 18. For further information artists may call (516) 725-9710.

The gentlemen say they have consulted Farmer's Almanac and are assured of cool, clear clothesline show weather.

Volunteer Officers Of A.M.S. Met

An extraordinary meeting of over 185 key volunteer officers of the American Cancer Society's Nassau Division was held recently at the home here of Dr. Janith Stewart Kice, noted dermatologist and Society vice president, to determine the 1972-73 program strategies to help fight cancer on Long Island.

Unit, branch and chapter chairmen from both Nassau and Suffolk attended the all-day conference during which program objectives and priorities for the coming year were determined. Workshop sessions were held so that new officers might benefit from the experience of the seasoned volunteer workers for the Society.

The group was introduced to two new programs designed to reinforce the Society's programs of research and cancer control. As explained by John B. Dibeler, Executive Vice President of the Division, one suggested program is called "Let No Woman be Overlooked". It is the theme for a four-year nation wide drive to reduce the number of deaths from uterine cancer to the lowest possible level. The second major program is a new Cancer Prevention Survey designed to provide fresh, in-depth socio-medical data to cancer researchers and government agencies with cancer control activities. Mr. Dibeler issued a call for additional volunteers to participate in the Cancer Prevention Study as canvassers.

Also discussed by the volunteers were the objectives and goals planned for important continuing Society programs in the area of cancer research, professional and public education, patient services and rehabilitation and fund raising.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the hostess, Dr. Kice, gave a brief talk that included a timely warning to all sun worshippers to use caution in the months ahead. "While the sun's rays are beneficial," said Dr. Kice, "overexposure can be harmful, not only in aging and drying the skin, but also in relation to contacting skin cancer."

Senior Citizens Orchestra Formed

Nassau Recreation and Parks Commissioner Richard A. Fitch announced plans for the formation of a senior citizens' orchestra.

"We are sure," Fitch said, "that there are many golden agers in Nassau who would like to display their musical talents, have an opportunity to meet together and perform concerts."

Any Nassau resident over 60 who would like to audition for the group may call 292-4227.

Mr. & Mrs. Anthony Murrello, of 14 Seymour Lane, Hicksville, are off for the Bahamas aboard the home lines flagship, "S.S.

Oceanic", sailing out of New York harbor bound for a week's holiday cruise to the sunny isle of Nassau, capital of the islands.

Connie Mack League

On Monday night July 31 the Connie Mack A team traveled to Eisenhower Park where they played the team from Point Lookout. Hicksville did not have to look out for anything as they ran roughshod over the visitors with a total of twelve hits and scoring nine runs. It was a perfect night for baseball under the lights and the cracking hits off Hicksville's bats was a welcome sound to our ears. John Santa led the assault with four hits for four times at bat. The two big blows of the night were the home run by Charlie Broussard and a triple by Frank Rybak who also pitched the victory.

On Sunday Hicksville traveled to Plainview to take on the first place Plainview team for the seasons final doubleheader. Unfortunately Hicksville dropped two games. It looked like Hicksville was going to win the first game in the seventh inning when they were trying to overcome the Plainview two run lead. In spite of three hits, a hit batter and a base on balls Hicksville could only score one run. It was not one of our days. Steve Conte took the loss, ending his three game winning streak.

Hicksville lost the second game 6 to 0. The highlight of the game was the 450 foot grand slam hit by Plainview's G. Contillo in the third inning.

Hicksville's hitting was provided by Steve Tedesco getting two for two and Steve Notskas single.

The Connie Macks A team's record for the season was 13 wins and 9 losses.

At this writing the final league standings are not complete and there is a chance that Hicksville may get into the playoffs. If Hicksville does get into the playoffs we will play Plainview at Plainview on Sunday at Haypath Field.

CONNIE MACK B

The Connie Mack B team continued their winning ways last Sunday by taking two games from a strong Baldwin team. The games were played at home on the Hicksville High School field.

When the B's started the season they didn't look like they were going to set any records; in the first 10 games they only managed to win two and then they started clicking. They have won nine of their last ten and won the last seven games without a loss.

The seasons record is 11 wins and 9 losses and an excellent chance of being in the playoffs. The final two games of the season will again be against Baldwin and again at Hicksville this Sunday.

In the first game Sunday Hicksville was trailing Baldwin 1-0 until the bottom half of the seventh inning. Bill Reed who had pitched a good game allowing only one run on two hits left the game for a pinch hitter, Paul Huckstein who promptly hit a two bagger Gary Goldberg went in to run for Huckstein, and stole third base bringing the tying run thirty feet from home plate.

Frank Williams hit a sharp grounder to the third baseman who helped the cause with an error while Goldberg scored the tie breaking run. The game went into extra innings with Jim Wittenborg relieving and holding Baldwin back in the eighth inning. In the bottom of the inning Steve Kopf doubled and scored when Tom Falkenberg hit the game winning double to score Kopf from Second base. Jim Wittenborg got the win.

Hicksville jumped into the lead in the first inning when Frank Williams, Jack Levinson and John White each singled with White getting the rbi. In the fourth inning Tom Falkenberg hit his second double of the day and scored Pat Buoincontro who had walked. Frank Williams singled Falkenberg home.

Hicksville clinched the game in the seventh inning with singles by Jack Levinson and Paul Huckstein. Levinson scored on John Whites grounder for a fielder's choice. Jack Levinson's hot bat got him 3 for 4. Jim Wittenborg helped his own cause getting 2 for 3 and the win.

Week of Aug. 3

Hicksville's Connie Mack A team split a double header with Franklin Square last Sunday. Steve Conte got his third win in a row in the first game as Hicksville hammered out thirteen hits and scored six runs. Hicksville took a one lead in the first inning. Franklin Square came back in the fourth inning to stop Conte's eighteen scoreless innings streak when Vic Papillo reached him for a two run homer to take the lead. Hicksville regained the lead in their half of the inning when they got two runs on four hits and an insurance run in the sixth inning on four hits.

The most productive hitters for Hicksville were: Steve Notskas who went 3 for 3 with 2 RBIs. Frank Rybak 2 for 3 and 1 RBI. Carmine Castellano 2 for 3 and Steve Conte with 2 for 3.

Charlie Broussard brought both of Hicksville's runs in with a solo homer in the fourth inning and another RBI when he walked with the bases loaded in the seventh; Hicksville had the men on to win but could not bring them in. Steve Notskas was the batting star for the day getting 2 for 3 in the second game and a total of 5 for 6 and two RBIs for the doubleheader.

Hicksville's Connie Mack B team continued their winning ways last Sunday when they traveled to Elmont and won two games on their home grounds.

Bill Reed pitched a masterful first game and got himself a no-hitter, the first and only for Hicksville this season. Bill got a lot of help from his mates when they scored all of their eight runs in the third inning on 4 hits, in the inning Tom Falkenberg got a two run single, Pat Buoincontro a one run single, Bobby Bergin batted twice in the inning for two singles and a RBI. Elmont's 3 errors and 2 walks aided the cause.

O B Acts To Acquire Missile Site

At a special meeting, the Town Board recently authorized the acquisition of a 23.8-acre portion of the former Nike missile base in the Village of Brookville as a park and recreation area from the U.S. Department of the Interior.

The special meeting was necessary in order that the Town Board could take this action prior to the Department of the Interior's deadline of August 6. Town Supervisor John W. Burke explained.

The acquisition is the first phase of an extensive program that Burke announced this past May to acquire and preserve more than 700 acres of land in Oyster Bay Town, suitable for parks and recreation purposes.

The former missile base, with a total of 45.8 acres, will be developed under a unique intermunicipal program involving the Town, the Board of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES) and the Village of Brookville in a shared usage concept. Contemplated uses include recreation and play areas, a BOCES operated school for 800 handicapped children, an experimental farm, horticultural and ecological study areas with nature trails for the blind and a site for a future Brookville Village Hall and community center.

Caso Talks To Board On Extention Of Exemptions

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso revealed he will ask the Board of Supervisors to extend the income qualification for elderly homeowners applying for county property tax exemptions for the year 1973.

"The present $5,000-a-year income limitation is unrealistic in many cases and makes it increasingly difficult for those over 65 years of age on fixed incomes to maintain their homes," Caso stated.

The county executive said he will urge that the income limitation for the 50 per cent property tax reduction be increased to $6,000. He will present a local law to that effect to the supervisors on Aug. 28.

At its last session, the State Legislature approved a bill sponsored by the Long Island Republican legislative delegation permitting local governments to fix the income qualification at any level between $3,000 and $6,000.

"I think the largest county in the state should lead the way in adopting the least restrictive qualifications allowed by law," Caso observed. "It is the least we can do for the elderly homeowners who helped build this county."

Antique Show To Be Held On September 10

The Northport-Centerport Lions Club will hold their ninth annual Robert J. Bohaty antique car show on Sept. 10, at Heckscher Park, Huntington N.Y., President Alfred Mollo announced today. Lion Club president stated that each year the show gets bigger and better and this year will be the best yet. He also announced that past president, James F. Hill, will be Chairman. He said plans are well under way for the annual journal and asked all businesses to assist the Lions in their work by taking an ad when called upon by a Lion. He also stated that over 150 cars from Conn., New Jersey, Upstate New York and all over Long Island are registered already. These include Fords, (Model "T"), Black and Brass & Model "A"), Sears, Star, Ventas, Hispano-Suiza, Chevrolets, Buicks, Pontiacs, La Salles, Mercurys, Meyers, Manx, Packards, Plymouths, Hudsons, Maxwells, Ahrens-Fox Fire Truck, Cadillacs, Lincolns, Studebakers, Rolls Royces, Cords, Reo Truck, Indian Motorcycle, Willys-Knights, Apaiges, Pierce Arrows and Essexes. That is some group of cars and we have over a month left to register cars. President Mollo stated. This will be by far the best show on the Eastern Seaboard. We will have a well known band like always and we hope to have rides for the children. We will have races with the old cars like the past shows have had because we know everyone enjoys these so much. And of course we will have our Fashion Flea Market with antiques. We have people from all over the Eastern Seaboard coming into the flea market section.

President Mollo asks everyone to mark his calendar now for September 10, (rain date September 17, 1972). Join your friends and neighbors at Heckscher Park, East Main Street, Huntington.

"Support the Lions Club so they may serve you. Donations are still $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children. If you cannot attend this show see a Lion for a journal add or booster change book," said a Lions Club spokesman.

Nassau Heart "Scores" Another First

The Nassau Heart Association announced its first Annual Pro-Am Golf Tournament to be held this year at the Cedar Brook Country Club in Old Brookville on Thursday, September 14, 1972.

Pat Cici, Cedar Brook's golf pro, is "delighted that our club will be the first host for this annual affair. We expect to attract sixty professionals and 180 amateurs for the Double Shot-Gun competition. Entry fee is $100.00 per person, which includes a breakfast-through-dinner program."

Purrolator, Inc. of Lake Success, who are sponsoring the Pro-Am, have pledged over $5,000 in prize money for the professionals. A special feature has been introduced which will include every country club in Nassau County in trophy competition. A $2.00 donation to the Heart Fund registers a golfer's score during his play on September 16th or 17th. The score that comes closest to beating the winning pro's score in the Pro-Am wins a trophy.

Herb Stone (Glen Cove), Chairman of the Golf Tournament, named the committee members: Gene Borek (Pine Hollow C.C. in East Norwich), L.I. P.G.A. Tournament Committee Chairman; Pat Lordi, Golf professional (Old Brookville); Philip G. Munson (Brookville); Pat Cici; Dan Rubin (Westbury); Harry Shickler (Westbury); Peter Pill (Franklin Square); and J. Kevin Murphy (Great Neck).

"We're hoping this event will become a major fund-raising attraction for the Heart Association," Stone commented.
