T'was The Day Before

The silence of the summer which hung over the district's schools was replaced on September 5th with the hustle and bustle of the return of the districts 614 teachers.

Prior to going to their home schools the teachers were inspired by the Reverend James Benson who asked for Divine guidance in the arduous task of educating our young people in these times. Representing the Board of Education were Mr. Robert Pirrung, Mr. William A. Bruno and Mr. Thomas Clark, President of the Board. Mr. Clark supported our educational goals and purposes by stating: "We are a team working for the best education for the children of Hicksville." Mrs. Norma Dagna, representing the PTA's and Mr. Murray Goldstein, president of the HCTA, also extended their wishes for a productive and pleasant school year.

Dr. Jerome Niosi, Superintendent of Schools, warmly welcomed the staff back to the school family. His enthusiasm for the coming school year was transmitted to the audience. Dr.

Long Public Session At School Board Meeting

MRS. D. KLEIN
12 HICKS CIR
HICKSVILLE NY 11801

by SHIRLEY SMITH

The general public session of last Friday's Hicksville Board of Education meeting (Sept. 8) stretched one hour past its allotted twenty-minute time limit.

Betty Fetta read a statement from her husband, Charles, who was unable to attend the meeting. He urged the board to vote "no" on all recommended personnel items on the agenda. He felt "friends of friends" are getting jobs and he suggested an impartial person or committee take charge of hiring district personnel. He added that jobs should be advertised and an effort made to hire those with proper qualifications.

Mary Carton brought in several books issued to her child by the Junior High. She objected to some obscenity which had been written in them and felt books should be checked before they are turned in - if they have been misused for defaced, the student and parents should be held responsible. She also complained of the poor condition of the books.

Several other taxpayers also objected to the "writings" in books and their condition. Dr. Jerome Niosi, superintendent, said he hopes to more clearly define the district's textbook policy and added he didn't think similar problems would arise this year.

Barbara Rosman asked when the Hofstra Study would be made public. Board president, Thomas Clark, said the board has not had a study session yet. Trustee William Bruno, wants a public session and he feels the bad as well as the good should be made known. Dr. Niosi will see that a copy of the study is made available in the Curriculum Materials Center for those interested in reading it.

There are several questions on class size, which is a maximum of thirty-one students. However, some classes at the Junior and Senior High are some elementary schools are larger. Dr. Niosi said it may take a few days to get things straightened out and he asked people to be patient.

Larry Wolfson asked why notices of school board meetings no longer appear in the daily newspapers. Administration will see that meeting dates are publicized in the future.

John Maniec, program director of H. A. D., clarified the proposal he had presented to the board at the last meeting. He stated that he had not intended to convey the feeling that many students at the Junior and Senior High are disruptive. H. A. D. estimates only three percent of the total population are in this category. He said H. A. D. would like to work with these students after school in discussion and conversational groups, which, he stressed are not sensitivity groups. He presented a report of H. A. D.'s 1971 operations and its projections for the future. He also said twenty-two school districts in Nassau County are allowing groups, like H. A. D., into their schools. Dr. Niosi said he felt our own school personnel are "competent and can handle our own problems." Mr. Bruno's motion that administration prepare a critique on the H. A. D. proposal was defeated 4-3 (voting yes: Bello, Pappas, Bruno; voting no: Zindulka, McCormack, Pirrung, Clark). Frank Zindulka moved that the board deny H. A. D.'s request to set up discussion groups in the schools. This passed, 4-3 (voting yes: Zindulka, Bello, Pappas, Clark; voting no: Mac Cormack, Pirrung, Bruno).

Robert Losche objected to overcrowding on some school buses and also the reduction in hours for lay help at Dutch Lane. Mr. Clark said the board had approved no list of lay help workers and none should be in the schools.

Mr. Clark presented a plaque to Thomas Muratore, president of last year's school board.

Mr. Bruno requested board authorization to attend a negotiating conference in Plainview. It is being sponsored by the Nassau-Suffolk School Boards Association and will cost $30. The board voted to send Mr. Bruno and pay his expenses. Robert Pirrung voted against the motion.

Mr. Bruno moved to eliminate all material dealing with family life education (planning for marriage, dating, pregnancy, etc.), including the movie, "Phoebe," about pre-marital pregnancy, from the eleventh grade health education course. The motion passed 4-3 (voting yes: Zindulka, Pappas, Bruno, Clark; voting no: Bello, McCormack, Pirrung). Neil McCormack asked if teachers should now answer questions pertaining to this portion of the health curriculum, "banned by the board."

Mr. Bruno asked why the homeroom schedule at the High School had been changed. Dr. Niosi said this was to allow for the scheduling of more classes. The change in the guidance department is to achieve more effectiveness.

The board voted to pay various bills for routine expenses of the district. Mr. Bruno voted no, because he objected to paying a bill for a telephone installed in Mr. Clark's home, for his use regarding school district business. Mr. Bruno said this is an illegal expense and moved the bill not be paid. Mr. Clark said school attorney, Harry Goebel, had ruled his phone to be a legitimate expense. Mr. Bruno's motion received no second.

Mr. McCormack asked that those people who had worked on the printing of the TLU's be paid right away rather than waiting until the regular pay period.

However, it will be done on the normal schedule.

The board of education approved personnel appointments for various instructional jobs and an adult education secretary. Also approval was a request for bus transportation for kindergarten students at Trinity Lutheran School. This is authorized for an accredited school, which Trinity Lutheran is scheduled to become.

Cafeteria prices were approved with a reduction in coffee and tea prices for teachers, from 20 cents to 15 cents and a raise in students' milk prices, from 3 cents to 5 cents. Mr. Bruno voted against this approval.

Mr. Bruno attempted to bring before the board and into the official minutes a threatening letter he had recently received. He stated he had already reported the incident to the police. Mr. Bruno moved that the letter be read publicly and that in its original handwritten form, it be included in the board's minutes. By including the letter, he felt people could check the handwriting and perhaps provide some information as to the identity of its author. He said this was necessary to protect other board members from receiving the same kind of mail. Mr. McCormack said board policy prohibits the school board from accepting unsigned correspondence. Mr. Bruno's motion failed, due to the lack of four affirmative votes (voting yes: Bello, Pappas, Bruno; no: McCormack, Pirrung; abstain: Zindulka, Clark). Mr. Bruno then asked for a point of personal privilege and read the letter into the minutes. Mr. Clark followed with a motion to erase this portion of the tape, but his motion also failed (voting Yes: Clark, McCormack, Pirrung; no: Bello, Pappas, Bruno; abstain: Zindulka). The letter, therefore, remains on the tape but its handwritten copy will not be attached to the minutes.

Next presented, was a letter from Charles Fetta, who asked the board to grant access to various district records (employee cancelled checks, personnel files, student papers, registration lists, etc.) in an attempt to match the handwriting and find the author of the threatening letter written to Mr. Bruno. Mr. Fetta is a New York City policeman and he suggested that he and several fellow officers, on their off-duty time, could look through these records. No action was taken on this suggestion because a vote to continue the meeting at midnight did not pass. Mr. Zindulka cast the dissenting vote, and there must be a unanimous vote to continue after 11:30 p.m.

The next regular board meeting is Friday, September 29 at 9 P.M. in the Administration Building.

Local Organizations Work Together To Serve Community

On Wednesday, September 6, a very important meeting took place at the offices of Help-Aid-Direction (H.A.D.), 87 Broadway, Hicksville. Members of the Hicksville Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 3211, Operation Outreach, and the H.A.D. organization. The main purpose of this meeting was to develop closer ties between these three community-service organizations. It was decided by the representatives of these groups to develop a cooperative program dealing with drug prevention activities to present to the Hicksville School Board for their approval and implementation.

This program would combine recreational activities with craft workshops, drug film seminars, and other drug prevention approaches. All of these activities would be designed to fill up a young person's spare time and get him involved in a positive, constructive hobby, athletic endeavor, craft, in this manner, young people would then have alternatives to involvement in the "drug scene."

In conjunction with the youth-centered, drug prevention activities, these three community-service groups plan to develop an aspect of their program involving parents of late elementary-early secondary school children in discussion groups. At these weekly parent groups, discussions will be led with parents of teenagers dealing with the common problems faced in parent-adolescent relationships. Parents will share common experiences and help each other to better communicate with their teenage children.

Attending this organizational meeting on Wednesday night were Mr. Clive Chilton, Director of Operation Outreach; Mr. Joseph Selvaggi, Chairman, Drug Abuse Program of Hicksville V.F.W., Post 3211; Mr. Joseph Normandy, Chairman, Nassau County V.F.W. Drug Abuse Program; Mrs. Marge Muller and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hieronymus, members of Outreach program in Uniondale; Mr. Robert Losche, H.A.D. President; Mr. James Fouassier, Vice-President of H.A.D.; Mrs. Dot Mele and Mr. Ross Diener, H.A.D. staff members; and Mr. John Maniec, H.A.D. Program Director.

Plans have been made for this above group to meet again next Wednesday, September 13th, to work on their cooperative program. Hopefully, within a month's time, they will be ready to present their proposal to the Hicksville School Board and to the people of the Hicksville community.

For further information, please contact John Maniec, H.A.D. Program Director, at WE5-6888, Monday through Friday, 2 p.m. to 11 p.m., Saturday, 3 p.m. to midnight.

Sale To Benefit Museum

Have any bric-a-brac, jewelry, small pieces of furniture, etc., you may be saving for a Garage Sale? Why not donate items instead to The Gregory Museum Treasure Attic Sale being held September 27th to 30th at the Hicksville Public Library in conjunction with the 2nd Annual Old Time Country Fair. Contributions placed in cartons may be left at the library with the donors name and address on the box, and a tax deductible receipt will be mailed back. Information in regard to arrangements for pick-up and delivery of articles, as well as any questions regarding items to be donated may be obtained by calling WE5-5643 or 935-5290.

Proceeds of the Attic Treasure Sale will help The Gregory Museum, Long Islands' Earth Science Center to establish themselves in their new home, the Heitz Place Court House this Fall.

"Please take a look around and just maybe there is something you might come across that you would care to donate to help have a successful sale," urged a spokesman for this fine community organization.

Hicksville Chamber To Meet

The Hicksville Chamber of Commerce has scheduled its next general meeting for Tuesday, Sept. 19 at Millridge Inn at noon.

At their August Directors' Meeting, the Executive Committee of this active organization agreed to continue the rotation of the Triangle models until they are returned to NY Technical Institute on Sept. 15. They also received with regret the resignation of their director Pierre Charbonnet who is moving to Colorado and nominated and elected Henry C. Brengel, Jr. director in Mr. Charbonnet's place. Paul R. Martin, Jr. was appointed to serve as NY Telephone representative on the Board, to replace George Blaurock who was transferred by his company.

Democrats For Nixon

Sidney Friedman, Chairman of the Board of National Bank of North America, will serve as Nassau County Chairman of Democrats for Nixon, according to an announcement by Arthur Hug, Jr., Chairman of the Nassau Citizens Committee for the Re-election of the President.

Friedman, a resident of Great Neck and a life-long Democrat, will begin his work by officiating at a gala opening of Democrats for Nixon campaign headquarters at 1 Old Country Road, Carle Place, September 20 at 8 p.m.

Friedman, served as Chairman of the Citizens for Nickerson, when the former county executive became the first Democrat to hold that office.

TARS To Meet

The Teen-Age Republicans of Hicksville will hold their regular monthly meeting on Friday Sept. 15th, 8:00 p.m.

The meeting will be held at the Seaman Eisenmann Building, 167 Broadway, Hicksville.

Happy Birthday

Happy Birthday to Jonathan Novotny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Novotny, 27 Arbor Lane, HICKSVILLE. Jonathan was 10 years old on Sept. 13.

Four Fire Departments Battle Warehouse Fire

By Capt. Owen Magee

Eighty-five Hicksville firemen, twelve pieces of apparatus under Asst. Chief William (Signal 10) Ferber responded to a general alarm fire in a warehouse on 98 Tec St. off Old Country Rd. The alarm was received by phone on Sept. 10 at 9:31 p.m. upon arrival firemen found flames coming from the windows of the Limcco Inc. Portion of the building, Limcco Inc. is a distributor of musical instruments.

Asst. Chief Ferber ordered a 2nd alarm transmitted and issued a call for help from the Jericho F.D. for their tower ladder, and 1 Engine Co. & manpower. The Bethpage Fire Dept. was asked to send 1 aerial ladder and 1 engine Co. and manpower. The Plainview Fire Dept. was asked to send 1 floodlight unit and 1 engine Co. and manpower.

The firemen from the four departments combined forces to bring the blaze under control. Due to heavy smoke, iron bars over windows, doors and overhead garage doors, a metal roof and fallen walls. The fire was not under control until after midnight. Chief Ferber commended firemen for successfully preventing the fire from spreading to the Tec Auto Parts Store and Carrier Air Conditioning. In spite of fallen and buckling walls and caved in roofing firemen entered the building and kept the flames in check. Six firemen were injured fighting the fire. A. Gingras, a Jericho fireman, injured his hand. Lt. R. Perchinski Co. 5 - smoke inhalation, Lt. W. Brady Co. 3 - back injury, Lt. F. Lombardi Co. 3 - smoke inhalation, Lt. D. Savino - Co. 4 - smoke inhalation, Lt. A. Nolan Co. 5 - injured hand.

Owners estimated the damage at approximately $500,000 or more. The county fire marshals office was requested for a routine investigation to determine the cause. Chief Ferber stated several factors which contributed to such a high loss. The building is on a dead end street away from most traffic, the building did not have automatic sprinklers or fire alarms. The doors and windows blocked by bars all added up to a fire gaining headway before being detected and being able to be entered to get at the fire. It is a tribute to firemen that the east end of the building was open for business Monday.

Most firemen were dismissed at four A.M. Apparatus from Co. No. 5 and several men remained on the scene until 10 a.m. Monday. The fire dept. wishes to thank the Hicksville Ladies Aux. H.F.D. Explorers and Nassau County Police for their valuable assistance.

"FIRE REPORT"

Hicksville vamps responded to 24 alarms during the period of Sept. 6th to 12th. Five rescue calls, 19 misc. alarms including car fires, brush fires made up the total. There were no false alarms received for this period. That in itself is some sort of record.

In other news Members of Hose Co. 4 defeated Engine Co. 77 to 5 in softball. Hicksville firemen will compete against each other Sunday Sept. 17 in their annual Inter-Company Tournament.

Fuel Oil Handling Tops County Topics

By Janet Gosnell

An important topic for Long Island today, the question of fuel oil and its handling, led the agenda at the Board of Supervisors meeting on Monday, with several speakers presenting viewpoints on a proposed ordinance which would change existing regulations for both operators of large terminals and small neighborhood fuel oil companies.

The ordinance, centered primarily on safety and pollution controls, is the original proposal of Alfonso d'Amato, Supervisor of the Town of Hempstead. According to accounts at the meeting, it had been in the works for about a year, with the vote on it scheduled for last Monday.

After hearing grievances against the ordinance by Joseph Shapiro, of Commander Oil, speaking for the Long Island Terminals Assn. and the Oil Heat Institute of Long Island, and others, Mr. d'Amato suggested that the vote on the ordinance be postponed until October 16th, before which time further discussions might be had between the oil industry and the county.

Mr. Shapiro's points emphasized that both large and small operators would be forced out of business by the unfeasibility of complying with the proposed new regulations. He later said that most new ordinances have a "grandfather clause," permitting operators to continue in a non-conforming way after new regulations are put into effect. This ordinance has no such clause, putting operators in direct violation with the law.

As an example, the new ordinance requires trucks to be parked no less than 25 feet from adjacent residential property. A dealer from Seaford said this would put the trucks "on the roof" of his building, his property being too small to comply. He added that his business pre-dated surrounding residences.

Mr. Shapiro's complaints about the ordinance treated requirements for sources of ignition, which he said would prohibit heating of offices and use of welding equipment; dice enclosures; fire protection; spill containment, surveillance, storage tanks, dispensing units, maintenance.

"If this ordinance was to be adopted in its entirety, this action

Supervisor JOHN W. BURKE REPORTS

This November, New York State voters are being asked to consider a proposition that will have a significant effect on the quality of life in the state for many years to come. The proposition, known as the Environmental Quality Bond Act of 1972, asks for approval of a $1.15 billion bond issue to finance a long-range program for the preservation, enhancement, restoration and improvement of the quality of the state's environment.

These are far-reaching goals and objectives that require a major investment in money and manpower to be successfully achieved. The proposed program was developed by the State Department of Environmental Conservation after a detailed analysis of the state's environmental needs.

These basic goals have been established for the program: the continued cleanup of our water, the maintenance of acceptable standards of air quality, and the preservation and enhancement of our precious land resources.

Because of the importance of this issue in present and future environmental programs in the

Questions Proposed National Land Policy Act

Angelo D. Roncallo, Republican candidate for Congress from the 3rd C. D., today expressed concern over some of the provisions contained in the proposed National Land Policy, Planning and Management Act of 1972, now pending before Congress.

Roncallo reported that he had sent a letter to Congressman Wayne Aspinall, chairman of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, calling attention to the apparent lack of consideration for the existing agencies and activities of local government that have long range, comprehensive planning programs already underway.

"Basically, this bill has many laudable aspects," Roncallo said, "particularly in its attempts to establish a long-term public land policy and give some direction and coordination to the various Federal land management agencies."

"It is unfortunate, therefore, that the proposed legislation also poses a direct threat to home rule (through the power it would give to the Federal government to override local regulations and planning."

Roncallo said that the shortcomings of the proposed Land Use Act were brought to his attention by Oyster Bay Town Supervisor John W. Burke during one in a series of conferences he is holding with local government officials.

"Although the bill states that Federal authority will not be imposed on use of private land or repeal local zoning authority, it provides that decisions that have a 'substantial impact' beyond their jurisdiction are subject to review at the State level," Roncallo noted. "Substantial impact' is not defined." he added.

"In defining the land use planning process, the bill provides for methods to 'assure that local regulations do not unreasonably restrict or exclude development and land use of regional or national benefit.'"

"This, to me, means that regional needs could dictate local zoning policies exclusively," Roncallo said.

The methods of control include not only incentives to the States in the form of a $204 million grant program, but also the threat of withholding Federal highway, airport, and land and water conservation funds from those States that do not conform to the proposed Land Use Act.

"This is the iron fist in the velvet glove that could strike the first blow to shatter local government planning and zoning authority," Roncallo said.

Another provision in the bill calls for the control of the use of land around new communities and the development of a policy for influencing the location of new communities.

"Here again, the Federal government would be infringing upon the powers of the local communities in deciding the type of housing they want in their area," Roncallo said.

"I want to reiterate that the bill's intention of encouraging a comprehensive planning process for land development is highly commendable, having the same goals and objectives as the planning program instituted by John Burke in the Town of Oyster Bay. However, it contains provisions that would not only permit, but also encourage States to override local authority. Such provisions are intolerable. This is big government at its worst."

Extend Income Qualifications For Elderly Homeowners

Stuart R. Levine, Republican Assembly candidate in the 10th A. D., today urged all units of local government and school boards in the county to extend the income qualifications for elderly homeowners applying for property tax exemptions.

Addressing the Oyster Bay Town Board at a hearing to increase the present $5,000-a-year income limitation to $6,000, Levine said approval of the increase would mean that many more people over 65 years of age would qualify for a 50 per cent reduction in their town tax.

"Our tax laws offer myriad bonanzas for the well-heeled," Levine, a Bethpage resident, stated. "It's time we lifted the burden off those who have sweated and strained to get most of us where we are."

Levine noted that the Nassau Republican delegation in Albany co-sponsored the bill that gives localities the option to raise the $5,000 income ceiling to $6,000, thereby allowing more senior citizens to qualify for property tax exemptions.

"This legislation is in line with home rule in that it allows a community to strike an equitable balance between the needs of its senior citizens and the needs and resources of the remainder of the community," he declared. He urged that the county and all towns, villages and school boards exercise this option to further alleviate the tax burden on elderly homeowners living on fixed incomes.

Levine spoke Sept. 11 at a Nassau Board of Supervisors hearing and urged extending income limitation for the elderly applying for county property tax exemptions.

Town of Oyster Bay, the Town's Environmental Control Commission will conduct an all-day seminar in October to discuss the various provisions of the Environmental Quality Bond issue and inform the general public of its merits. The specific date, time and place will be announced at a future date.

The purpose of the meeting is twofold: to give the voters a better understanding of the magnitude of the environmental problems we are facing in the Town of Oyster Bay, and to provide them with specific information so that they can better evaluate the proposed state environmental program.

As State Environmental Conservation Commissioner Henry Diamond has pointed out, the benefits from a major environmental program will continue for generations, but if the investment is not made quickly, the opportunity to act may be lost forever.

TOWN NOTES: Oyster Bay's continuing attractiveness to business and industry is attested to by a recent listing of the top 50 nonfinancial companies in Nassau and Suffolk which showed 14 of them located in our Town.

Thousands of children are on their way to and from school these days, so please drive as if you expect each one of them to dart in front of your car. Also remember that it is against the law to pass a school bus loading or discharging passengers.

BY JANET GOSNELL

At the Town Board meeting on Tuesday, Councilman Lewis J. Yevoli, a resident of Old Bethpage and the only Democrat on the Town Board, made a formal motion that the special use permit granted to Pride Utilities in the Plainview Industrial Park be revoked.

He had no second to the motion, which was based on what he said was a drastic increase in the intensity and volume of the existing Pride facilities "far beyond the permit use, thereby creating an illegal extension of the previously approved permit, rendering it invalid."

The reason for such increase in intensity and volume is the plan by Northville Industries to run an underground pipeline from Holtsville to the Pride facilities, the first steps toward which have been taken. Northville was recently denied

Daddy Graduates

At the June graduation exercises of Nassau Community College Gene Gumanow, 45, of 21 Alpine Lane, Hicksville, received his Associate of Arts Degree. Betty, his wife, Lorri, Andrea and Gary (their children) were quite surprised when Dad received the Student Government Association Award "as the member of the Class of June, 1972 who has shown the greatest devotion to the College"; an Alumni Association Award "to students who have done the most to further the growth and stature of the College and have achieved academic excellence."

Gene was on the Dean's List for three of the four semesters at Nassau; was member of Phi Theta Kappa, National Honor Fraternity of the Junior College and Editor-in-Chief of the campus newspaper ("Vignette"). In the latter capacity he maintained a regular column, drew editorial cartoons, photographed sports, news and feature events.

In May, 1972, Gene took a Certificate of Merit award at the St. Bonaventure University College Press Day for his regular "Blowin' in the Wind" column. His special three-part story covering the decaying barracks adjacent to the campus property earned him a "Special Citation" in the Press Day competition, representing a two-year school against four-year colleges. The "old man" also served on the photo staff of the Yearbook ("Ottoman") and was a member of the Publications Board.

Gene was elected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges" in recognition of outstanding merit and accomplishment as a student at Nassau Community College, and is enrolled for the Fall Semester at Hofstra University where he is a Secondary Education-English major.

Praises Fire Dept. and Jolly Swagman

Mr. Alfred Kunze of Ash Lane, Hicksville writes to tell us that he can't praise the Labor Day Parade and Tournament Committee of the Hicksville Fire Department enough.

"They extended such a welcome to all the visiting Fire Departments," he said. "As a former Westchester County Volunteer Fireman, I want to thank them especially on behalf of the Mamronck F.D. I myself spoke to many of these visiting firemen and they too said, thanks, for the really great welcome."

Mr. Kunze, who is also a member of the New Rochelle Exempt Firemen's Association and a delegate of the Westchester County Volunteer Firemen's Association, and similar NY State Associations, will celebrate his 76th birthday on Sept. 29th.

"The manager and staff of The Jolly Swagman on West Nicholas Street also did a fine job in welcoming our Firemen," he continued, and your newspaper did a great job by printing such a detailed article on the Parade line-up and Tournament activities prior to the event. It was most helpful!"

Editors Note: On behalf of the Hicksville Fire Dept., the management of The Jolly Swagman and the management of this newspaper, thanks for your letter, Mr. Kunze...and may you enjoy many more birthdays in good health!

St. Ignatius Girls Cadet Corps

The St. Ignatius Girls' Cadet Corps, the pride of Hicksville, had a very good season indeed! Early in June, the girls were named the Nassau County American Legion Junior Champions after the competition at New Hyde Park. On to Lynn, Massachusetts, where the girls were placed Third in the World Open Competition - competing against other corps from all over the U.S. and Canada. Against the same competition, though the girls won First place in the World Open Parade. During the Labor Day weekend the St. Ignatius girls became the Greater New York Circuit All Girl Champions at the contest held in Bridgeport, Connecticut.

The girls' accomplishments brought credit to themselves, their parents and to their community. That the performances were of such consistently high quality is the result of long, hard work under the supervision of the St. Ignatius Girls' Cadet Corps Director, Mr. Tom Costa and their instructors Carmen Cluna, Hy Dretzer, John Oddo and James Drost.

On October 6th, 7th and 8th the Corps will go on a sightseeing trip to Montreal, Canada. They will make a half-time appearance at St. Ignatius of Loyola College. The college, a power in Canadian collegiate football, sports three of Tom Costa's sons on its varsity team.

The Corps is presently engaged in a recruitment drive. Any girl between the ages of 10 and 17 is eligible to join, regardless of her race and / or religion. No musical experience is necessary. However, only girls who are willing to work and who desire a chance to travel around the country with other girls of their own age need apply.

Hicksville Juniors Win In Soccer Tourney

The Hicksville Junior Soccer Team won first place in the consolation round of the Glen Cove Seven-Man Tournament by beating Glen Cove "D" Team on corner kicks in their second game.

The first game by Hicksville was lost to Glen Cove "A" team by a final score of 2-0.

The second game placed Hicksville and Glen Cove "D" team in a most exciting match. The nets were first dented when John McMahon scored on a pass from Pat McHugh in the first half. The remaining minutes of the game was mainly defensive plays and game-saving tactics of Billy Wayte, Zack Miller, and Craig Gluf and the continued offensive pressure of Chip Scanlon, Jimmy Bungert, and John Galgano.

The Hicksville players wish to thank Glen Cove for an impressive tournament.

New Legislation Needed

Stuart R. Levine of Bethpage, Republican candidate for the Assembly in the 10th A.D., today called for state legislation to allow town governments to establish and maintain training facilities for volunteer firemen. "The present law not only is outdated, but is unfair since it allows counties, cities and villages to provide training facilities for firemen," Levine stated. "Failure to include town governments forces a hardship on many local fire departments where adequate drill and training is a major concern."

Levine noted that the Nassau County Fireman's Training Center in Old Bethpage is constantly utilized by departments throughout the county.

"I believe towns like Oyster Bay should be allowed to supplement the county facility with local centers more readily available to their own fire departments," Levine said. "There is a great need for one in Oyster Bay Town and I know town officials are receptive to the idea. However, they are stymied by a law that does not authorize their participation in firemanic activities." Levine stated that when elected in November one of his first legislative actions will be to submit legislation to amend the present law.

Repertory Group To Hold Auditions

As the fall season begins, the Hicksville Public Library Repertory Theatre Group will be holding auditions for cast and crews on Saturday, September 16, beginning at 10:00 a.m.

"We will be needing understudies, extra crew help, etc., as we begin to plan other productions for the coming year," said the Group's director Jeffrey (J.W.) White.

One possibility for a new production is Mary Poppins. "However," comments musical director Herbert Bradensten, "we will need a decently sized chorus of 20 voices for filling out street scenes and to be used as other characters for the musical to be successful."

So...if you are interested in being on any of the crews, or in the cast itself, you are more than welcome to come down to the Library auditorium THIS Saturday beginning at 10:00 a.m., a spokesman for this group said.

Old Time Country Fair

The second annual Old Time Country Fair at the Hicksville Public Library will be held on September 27 through 30, during library hours. Entry blanks are still available at the desk and the bookmobile for items to be judged. All entries have to be at the library the week of September 18. Any and all types of hand-crafts, baking, jelly making, candy, plants (either indoor or outdoor), woodworking, art, photography, etc. will be categorized and judged. All the judges are professionals in their field, and ribbons will be given to the winners of first, second and honorable mention. The Sterling Book Company will present books to winners of original handicrafts in three classes, (1) Papercraft; papier mache, cardboard crafting, origami, collage, masks, paper flowers, rubbings, screen printings on paper, etchings, potato, wood or linoleum block printing. (2) Hard materials; including metalwork, stonework, ceramics, sculpture, woodworking, whittling.

mosaics, enamelling, repoussage, stained glass, tinwork, jewelry, lapidary, natural hard materials. (3) Soft materials; including macrame, needlework, puppetmaking, naturals soft materials, tie and die, batik, felt and burlap crafting, weaving, basketry, candles, leathercraft, plastic foam, plastics. The best of show in all three classes will receive the grand prize award of the PRACTICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA OF CRAFTS.

There will be an Attic Treasure Sale at the library during the Old Time Country Fair, with all proceeds going to the Gregory Museum. Articles to be donated for this sale can be brought to the library until September 22. The value of all contributions is tax deductible.

The Fair is held in the lower level of the library and everyone is welcome to join in the festivities. Come one, come all to the Hicksville Public Library Old Time Country Fair. See you there!!!

Celebration Of Faith

A "Celebration of Faith - Festival of Life" will be held at the United Methodist Church, Old Country Rd., Hicksville, beginning Friday, Sept. 15 at midnight with an "Agape Love Feast." It will end at midnight on Sat., Sept. 16.

Some of the presentations highlighted are, 2 a.m. - the young people will present a dramatic offering - "The Funeral"; 3 a.m. - Jesus Jam Session; 4 a.m. and 11 a.m. - a movie, "The Return"; 8 p.m. - a movie, "The Son Worshipers"; 10:45 p.m. - celebration of Holy Communion.

During other hours, services will be led by the following: Bill Heacock; Robert Apel, Dick and Margaret Pearsall, Ray and Karen Riportella, Tony Bonardo, Jules Watzich, and Carl and Rhonda Johnson.

Nursery facilities will be available from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Transportation is also available by calling the Church at 931-2626.

Make an effort and try to be a part of this event. Remember the words of Christ "Where two or three are gathered in my name - there I am in your midst."

TWAS' THE DAY BEFORE...

John Cadden, Asst. Superintendent, and Mr. Erwin Rozran, Adm. Assistant, highlighted the achievements in curriculum and pupil personnel services present and future. Our financial solvency was applauded when Dr. Frederick Hill, Asst. Superintendent announced that the paychecks received on the fifteenth would be negotiable.

An enthusiastic staff then departed to their respective schools to prepare for the 10,500 students the next day.

School Board Holds Special Meeting

By Shirley Smith

The Hicksville School Board held a special meeting Tuesday night Sept 12, to settle the lay-help problem, which arose when these employees were told not to report back to work on Monday. Mr. Bruno and Mr. Pappas were not at the meeting.

Board president, Thomas Clark, explained that the list of lay help was not presented to the board of education before school started last week. "There was a delay for various reasons at various levels," he said. When the list was received, forty-eight hours notification was required before holding a public meeting and voting on approval of the list had to be done at an open meeting. Lay help are those employees who relieve the teaching staff of lunch duty, playground duty, hall duty, etc. in district schools. They have been doing this for the past six years.

The board voted unanimously to approve the lay help, and also accepted the recommended reduction of one or two employees and working hours at various schools. The board agreed that the lay help personnel will be paid for the three days they worked last week, but will not be paid for Monday and Tuesday of this week, when they were not working.

The school board unanimously approved the teachers' contract for 1972-73. The "money" portion had been agreed to before the budget vote in June. Tuesday night's approval extended the 1970-72 contract to cover all areas not yet agreed to in negotiations for the 1972-73 package. Copies of the contract will be given to all district teachers, who must now vote on ratification. Members of the teachers' negotiating team feel certain of ratification. They say there are few changes from the previous contract. With this agreement talks can now open on the 1973-74 contract.

The board also approved the clerical contract.

The board voted unanimously to notify the state that the State Audit Report has been officially received, reviewed and filed. There was no public discussion on the contents of the report, but Mr. Clark listed a few items which were included (mostly those dealing with travel expense claims which the report criticizes.) Copies of the audit may be purchased from the district clerk for $1.25. Copies of this and the 1964 and 1967 audits are also available for perusal in the Curriculum Materials Center on Newbridge Road behind the High School.

The board took no action on policy revisions, but will study them further before accepting or rejecting.

Mr. Clark turned down Mr. Bello's request to finish Friday night's discussion and voting on Mr. Fetta's letter, asking for access to certain district records. Mr. Clark said only those agenda items listed could be taken up at a special meeting.

Movies In The Park

A grassy meadow tucked away in a grove of trees with starry skies overhead...

That will be the setting for a Saturday night film festival scheduled for September 16 at Eisenhower Park in East Meadow.

The September 16 program will include a kaleidoscope of eight film shorts ranging from a Charlie Chaplin classic to the work of a brilliant young 16-year-old filmmaker.

The program, which will begin at 8 p.m. and run about 90 minutes, will take place in the meadow adjacent to Parking Lot No. 3 near the Picnic Building. All Nassau residents are invited free of charge.

What to do about neglected oil burners.

If you've had your oil burner a number of years and it hasn't been tuned up recently, the chances are it's not working as efficiently as it should. And that means unnecessarily high fuel bills.

Which is why we offer the free oil burner check-up. Call us. We'll come and check your burner. If it's still doing its stuff, we'll tell you. If it's not, we'll tell you what it will take to fix it.

You can say Yes, No, or Maybe.
