"Golden Archi Award"

"The Nassau County Veterans Memorial Coliseum is only the first jewel to be placed in the setting of Mitchel Field," Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso said tonight in accepting the Long Island Association's Golden Archi Award for architectural excellence in the design of the coliseum.

In remarks prepared for delivery at the association's annual award dinner tonight at the Holiday Manor, Bethpage, Caso announced that the Archi Award will be displayed permanently in the coliseum.

"It will be as much a source of envy to every visitor as it will be a source of pride to every Nassau County resident," Caso said. "The people of Nassau County take a particular pride in their coliseum - not only because of its architectural beauty but because it is our very own, another affirmation that we in Nassau County have our own identity, our own way of life - our own coliseum to rival anyone else's anywhere in the United States."

In his acceptance speech, Caso praised the coliseum's architects and the county Board of Supervisors for its support on the project. He also briefly outlined his plans for future recreational, educational and cultural facilities at Mitchel Field.

Asphalt Plant Bids Heard at Town Hall

By Janet Gosnell

Tuesday was Hicksville's day at the Oyster Bay Town meeting, when two matters of local importance, one a request for a special permit and another a rezoning bid, came up for public hearing. Both met with small but staunch opposition from nearby residents.

Zara Contracting Co., Inc. now operating a contracting company at the intersection of Engel Street and Hicksville Avenue, was seeking a special permit use to install and maintain a portable asphalt plant on its property which fronts 195 feet on Engle Street and runs 200 feet deep to Laurel St.

Residents of the five homes on Laurel Street, some of whom maintained that Zara had been a good neighbor up until now, were strong in their opposition to the expected noise and pollution of an asphalt plant close to their homes. Mrs. Bartel, of 10 Laurel, protested that many of the residents, being of advanced age, had the right to some peace and quiet.

Harold Haukhurst, prompted by his wife who stood beside him at the rostrum, said that "Joe (Joe Gibbons, a principal of Zara Contracting) and me have been good friends for many years. Sometimes there was a complaint - once they drove the truck out onto Laurel Street, which was restricted by their first permit - I told Joe about it and he went along with us. But this is too much."

Barnett Berch, vice president of Barann Realty Corp., of the Bronx, owner of the warehouse operation across from Zara, said he had made a tour of nearby Midhampton Asphalt, and was impressed by the tremendous noise of the operation. He also felt the storage of fuel for the furnace, which drinks an estimated 2500 to 3000 gallons a day, was a hazard to residents, and that the roads were insufficient to support the 30-ton trucks needed for the operation.

Gibbons countered that a sound and dust depressant would be used in his planned operation, and he also agreed to seek out a similar asphalt plant for inspection by the Town councilmen and the residents, if they desired.

Oppose Zone Change

Opposition was also strong to the petition of Stackler & Frank, owners of Mid-Island Shopping Plaza, for a change of zone from Residence D to Business G for a parcel of land on West John Street, about 150 feet east of Milton Street.

Real estate expert Bert Nelson averred that a business use was HICKSVILLE MATTERS look the spotlight in hearings at Town Hall this week. Top, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haukhurst, of 29 Laurel St., leave the hearing room with Joe Gibbons, of Zara Contracting Co., after opposing Zara's bid for a portable asphalt plant on property adjacent to their home. "We're great friends," said Mr. Haukhurst, "but this is too much." Below, John Haines, of 13 Milton Street, speaks against the petition of Stackler and Frank for a change of zone for a parcel on North John Street from Residence D to Business G.

compatible with the surrounding community. He and attorney Rucigliano, representing Stackler & Frank, were the only ones who felt that way.

"We could have a building as high as Geritz in our back yard," said John Haines, a resident of Milton Street, the rear of whose lot abuts the subject parcel. He protested that even at present, the shopping center does not maintain its property well, leaving refuse and weeds for the residents to take care of.

He also underscored the dangerous situation caused by the busy post office nearby, and the fact that a postman was recently killed. He presented a 30-name petition in opposition.

Also speaking against the zone change were Gary Mastroianni, of Maple Place, and Margaret Harman, of Mangan Place. "No more business in Hicksville!"

declared Mrs. Harman. Councilman Lewis Yevoli contested the view of the real estate expert that the rezoning would not affect the area.

According to the attorney, Stackler & Frank wanted the rezoning as an expansion of the shopping center, which, he said, had no more room to expand within its present set-up.

Richfield Abandoned

In other business, the board voted to abandon that portion of Richfield Avenue which enters the property of the Old Country Manor. The road comes east off Morgan for the length of one lot before it enters the parking area of the Old Country Manor, which is owned by Frank Antun properties. The addition to the Old Country Manor will increase its parking capacity and put the land onto the tax rolls and off the Town maintenance list.

Hicksville Rotary To Help Painted Post

The town of Painted Post, New York, which is located near Corning, was very badly hit by the floods experienced in this area last summer. So, the Hicksville Rotary Club, under the chairmanship of Joseph De Paola of Monarch Carpet Company, is selling hundreds of scatter rugs, 18" X 27", in all colors. The proceeds of this rug sale will be distributed through the District Governor of Torary, to help those in Painted Post who are in the greatest need.

In a store in the Mid Island Plaza, opposite Newberry's, members of the Hicksville Rotary Club with an assist by members of the Hicksville Inter Act Club, will sell these scatter rugs, for $1.00 each. The store will be open from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 24, 25, 27 and 28.

Supervisors' Reapportionment Plan Declared Unconstitutional

By JANET GOSNELL

The reapportionment plan recently proposed and approved by the Nassau County Board of Supervisors, almost identical to the present system, was declared unconstitutional by Justice Mario Pittoni on Monday morning, November 20th.

After a brief (20 minutes) and uneventful meeting, reporters flocked first about County Executive Ralph Case and then around Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis Purcell to get their reactions. Neither had read the decision, which was handed down Monday morning shortly before the supervisors convened. Their reactions, nonetheless, were quite different.

The County Executive had vetoed the reapportionment plan and was overridden by the supervisors. His veto was based on his opposition to a weighted voting system, which the new-old plan represented, and his favoring of a "one man, one vote" system. "The handwriting was on the wall," he said, taking the decision in stride and evidently without surprise.

He said he favored a 7-man legislature with none of these "wearing two hats" as the current supervisors do. He expressed approval when told by reporters that Justice Pittoni had not taken the suggestion made by Assemblyman Stanley Harwood (D. East Meadow) to set up a separate commission to remap the county politically.

He also felt that a redo on the reapportionment plan, which is due in 60 days to go back to the courts for approval, could, if approved be put on the ballot on election day in November 73 along with candidates to sit on the new governing body.

"If the plan goes down, those elected would simply not take office," he said.

He added that he hoped the supervisors would not appeal the decision.

Purcell Speaks

One floor down, in the supervisors' public information office, Francis Purcell presented some different ideas. He called the decision "mighty blow against home rule" and would not rule out the possibility that the supervisors might appeal the decision.

It was his belief that the supervisors representing towns was a good idea, and that representatives from individual areas might vote in legislation harmful to the towns as a whole. He also believed the County Executive's power would be unduly heightened by a county legislature system.

Ombudsman Post offered

In other enlightening disclosures, the County Executive said he had asked Justice Bernard Meyer, a Democrat who lost his recent bid for election to the Court of Appeals, to accept the post of ombudsman for Nassau County.

"It is a pity for a man of Justice Meyer's talents not to remain in public service," he said. "I will accept him even on an interim basis."

An ombudsman, in his definition, is one who sits in judgment on government and hears complaints from the governed.

The post is now vacant. It was last held by Samuel Gresson, at a salary of $34,000. The County Executive said the salary could be brought up to $37,000, if Justice Meyer accepts. His decision should come within a week, Case said.

"Nab 6 Youths in Hicksville False Alarm Spree"

By CAPT. OWEN MAGEE

Six youths were apprehended this past week after a series of malicious false alarms kept Hicksville Firemen busy. During the period Nov. 14-21, Ten False alarms were reported. Three youths were caught by school officials at the Sr. High School on Division Ave. After a series of four false alarms were turned in, two were Jr. High students, one was not from Hicksville.

Three Plainview youths were apprehended after they allegedly turned in a false alarm from Woodbury Rd. & Ketcham Rd. on Nov. 21st. We are required by law to refrain from identifying those who were caught.

It is hoped that they receive the stiffest punishment permissible, & wouldn't be a bad idea, seeing that they like to touch fire alarm boxes, that they be made to Paint & Polish. All of Hicksvilles 300 alarm boxes. By the time they finish those they would be too tired to pull any. Let this be an example.

"FALSE ALARMS ARE A NO-NO!"

Firemen Receive Awards

For the second time in two months Hicksville Volunteer Firemen were awarded the second place award in the October N.Y. Daily News vamps award for a fine job turned in by preventing the spread of a serious fire at the McKeon Lumber Yard on Old Country Rd. Oct. 22nd.

Hicksville was edged out of 1st place by the Baldwin F.D. for their rescue of an invalid from a house fire. The main purpose of the News Award is to, through Public Relations and Publicity, keep the Public aware of the services the volunteer Fire Departments in the Metropolitan area provide.

A fire dept. which performs a fine job on an unusually difficult fire or emergency submits an entry form and it is judged by various county officials and New York City fire officers.

1st, 2nd, 3rd and honorable mention prizes are offered each month. Life, being the most important thing, the first place is always issued to a fire dept. that saves a life. The runner-ups are awarded on the merits of their particular fire fighting endeavors.

The Hicksville Fire Dept during 1972 has been awarded several awards for its work in fire fighting and rescue.

Crying For Attention

The last session of Congress came close to passing a law placing a firm ceiling on fiscal 1973's federal spending. Unfortunately, the bill died amidst debate in the last hours before Congress adjourned.

The refusal to grant the President the authority to cut spending to stay under a $250 billion limit clearly places the responsibility to control spending on members of the House and Senate.

Another section of this bill, which did pass, establishes a joint Congressional committee to study and recommend improvements in Congressional spending procedures. Such action is long overdue. The committee could start by establishing Congressional overview of the total federal budget. It's hard to believe, but each year Congress acts on over a dozen separate appropriations without knowing, or apparently caring, about the total level of spending and its tax implications.

It is to be hoped that the next Congress will show greater attention to the total effect of its spending actions.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Hicksville Fire Commissioner
Hicksville, New York

Dear Sir:

As a member of the Board of Education, I was on official business at the Hicksville High School on Thursday, November 16.

The fire alarm went off. Not knowing whether it was "the real thing" your men responded at what seemed to be only seconds.

It is indeed a great pleasure and satisfaction to know, firsthand, that our children are in such good and dedicated hands.

Respectfully,
William A. Bruno, Jr.

To The Residents of District 17:

ARE YOU AWARE THAT: Item 7B-1e of this same agenda - Transfer and Appointment - which created an unprecedented furor at the meeting has not yet been resolved?

ARE YOU AWARE THAT: Despite several general promises, the School Board has not publicly indicated any change from the Friday night School Board meetings?

These are but a few of the many vital issues facing all of the parents and children in School District 17 at this time.

You are cordially invited to attend the next meeting of HICKSVILLE CITIZENS FOR BETTER EDUCATION

Date: Monday, November 27,

PLACE: Hicksville Public Library, Jerusalem Avenue

TIME: 8:16 P.M.

PROGRAM:

Our guest speaker for the evening will be Dr. John F. Cadden, Assistant Superintendent of Schools in charge of curriculum, who will be happy to answer your questions regarding our curriculum matters.

Sincerely,
Lawrence I. Wolfson
President

From Our Postmaster
RALPH CASCARDO

All post offices will cooperate in the annual alien address reporting program next January, the U.S. Postal Service said today.

The Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 requires aliens resident in the U.S. on January 1 to report their addresses to the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The form—a manila punch card similar to the one used for 1972 alien reporting—will be available for distribution at post offices on the first business day of January 1973. Completed forms must be turned in before the end of January.

SQUARELY WHERE IT BELONGS

Supervisor JOHN W. BURKE REPORTS

If ever there was a strong argument for the preservation and fostering of home rule, the proposed Oyster Bay-Rye bridge is it.

Once again, the people of Oyster Bay are being threatened with this ecological disaster, which for some strange reason appears feasible 180 miles away in Albany. Perhaps you have to get that far away for it to have any appeal.

But here in Oyster Bay, it looms as a destroyer of our wetlands, a reason to bulldoze and pave more of our landscape, and a source of more pollutant-belching vehicles to foul our air. This bridge will have little or no positive effect on the economy of Oyster Bay, or the rest of Long Island for that matter, but will serve primarily as a bypass of Manhattan traffic jams for traffic between upstate New York and New England and points south and west.

I want to reaffirm that this Town administration is categorically opposed to this bridge and will continue to pursue every avenue to prevent its construction.

Reports that a public hearing on the bridge will be held by the Metropolitan Transportation Authority before the end of the year are, so far, unconfirmed. The MTA said it will notify the Town if and when any hearings on the bridge are scheduled.

It is gratifying to see that our local state legislators have wasted no time in this matter. Both State Senator Ralph Marino and Assemblyman Joseph Reilly have already filed companion bills for consideration by the 1973 Legislature banning the construction of an Oyster Bay-Rye Bridge. I ask all Town residents to back them in their efforts to preserve our community.

I have also asked our newly-elected Congressman Angelo Roncallo to maintain contact with the Department of the Interior to see that our wetlands, for which that department is responsible, remain inviolate.

TOWN NOTES: We are now well into our bagged leaf program, and I want to remind all residents that they are NOT to rake or deposit leaves in the streets but bag them for pickup by special work forces three days a week. For special pickups and more information, call the superintendent of highways at WA 1-1631.

Wightman House Dedication To Be Held November 25

Supervisor John W. Burke announced that the dedication of the Wightman House, an eighteenth century structure which will become headquarters for the Oyster Bay Historical Society, will be dedicated on November 25 at a ceremony to be held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Oyster Bay.

The house, situated on Summit Street, Oyster Bay, was acquired in 1967 by the Town and restored for use by the Historical Society as a meeting place and public museum. The building, formerly owned by Bruce Wood Hall of Syosset and offered as a gift to the Town, is dated as having been built around 1720 and is one of the oldest buildings in Oyster Bay. It was formerly located on South Street and was moved to its present site in the summer of 1967.

Many County and Town officials are expected to attend the ceremony which will begin at 1:30 P.M. Speakers will include Supervisor Burke, State Senator Ralph J. Marino, Special Assistant to the Director of the National Park Service, Robert F. Mahoney and President of the Oyster Bay Historical Society, Miss Dorothy McGee. Music will be provided by the Colonial Ancient Fife and Drum Corps of Bethpage, which has been frequently recognized for its accomplishments.

The Oyster Bay Historical Society was formed in 1960 for the benefit of all persons interested in the history of the Town and the preservation of related material of local significance. Regular meetings are held for the presentation and discussion of historic topics. The society is currently working with the Oyster Bay Bicentennial Commission in planning events to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the United States. Persons wishing to join the society may write for more information to the Oyster Bay Historical Society, Box 267, Oyster Bay, N.Y. 11771.

'TIS THE SEASON FOR Christmas Clubs—and, as a pleased Santa looks on, James C. Dinkelacker, president of the Long Island National Bank, reviews statistics indicating that the holiday clubs in Nassau and Suffolk Counties will this year pour $60 million into the bi-county's retail sales market. Mr. Dinkelacker said a total of 245,000 Christmas Club accounts at 24 Nassau and Suffolk commercial banks are now releasing $49 million in savings and interest. An estimated extra $11 million are also being produced from Christmas Clubs in savings banks and loan associations, in Nassau and Suffolk. The record savings "could this year produce the largest holiday retail business in history," Mr. Dinkelacker opined. (Graphic News Photos)

MAKING A DREAM COME TRUE

At holiday time people have wild and wonderful dreams and often they come true. Just suppose we dream that: Every driver and every passenger fastened their seat belts. (The National Safety Council says: "Studies show that ejection, in contrast to remaining inside a car, increases the risk of instant death by 3,000 per cent.")

And we dream that all cars were driven as though driving conditions were terrible—in other words, were driven very carefully;

That people who drink were all considerate enough to insist that someone who hasn't had one should do the driving;

That speed and traffic safety laws were all precisely obeyed and that no one tried to second-guess the authorities or the other drivers on the road;

That everyone left early to get where they were going, since being late encourages people to take chances which they otherwise might not take;

And we wake up to find that the people who prepare accident predictions at holiday time did a bad job on the high side—because our dream really came true!

Support Urged For Rotary College Basketball Championship

Councilman Gregory W. Carman urged the citizenry of the many hamlets that make up the Township of Oyster Bay to give their fullest support to the third annual Long Island Basketball Classic, sponsored by Rotary District 725, including Kings, Queens, Nassau and Suffolk Counties, December 4-7, at the State University at Farmingdale's Roosevelt gymnasium.

He explained that "the net proceeds of this outstanding college basketball tournament on Long Island will be used to support the Rotary Scholarship Fund, which encompasses a Youth Exchange Program and the Rotary Fellowship Foundation for graduate and undergraduate study, as well as technical training abroad."

He added that "these programs furnish a wonderful opportunity to young people of all nations and all creeds to see the world as others see it, to live and learn with those of other nations and to develop the understanding necessary for creating a peaceful world."

With the appearance of the top college quintets on the Island, Councilman Carman said, "We know that there will be much excitement and the finest competition possible at the nominal price of $2 for adults and $1 for students and children."

The schedule, as announced by Dick Berg, President of the Nassau-Suffolk Basketball Coaches Association, will find the opening day's program, Monday, Dec. 4, with Adelphi playing Stony Brook, defending champion, at 5 o'clock; Dowling opposing Queens College at 7 o'clock, and New York Tech clashing with Southampton at 9 o'clock. C.W. Post, last year's runner-up and winner of the event two years ago, has drawn a first-day bye.

Two-year colleges will take over the second day's slate, Nassau and Suffolk will be rivals at 7 p.m. and the all-powerful L.I. Aggies, seeking their third championship in a row, will tackle a formidable Bronx Community College five at 9 p.m.

Action will return to the four-year colleges on Wednesday, Dec. 6, the third day of competition, with Post clashing with the winner of the Adelphi vs. Stony Brook contest at 7 p.m., after the victors of the Dowling vs. Queens and Tech vs. Southampton games play in the semifinals at 7 P.M.

The all-important, Rotary-sponsored Long Island College Basketball Classic will come to an end Thursday, Dec. 7, when the finals will take place. Winners of the two-year colleges will meet at 7 p.m. and the survivors in the four-year college division will play for their coveted championship at 9 p.m.

"Youth Center For Teenagers"

A youth center for teenagers in the Westbury-East Meadow area will become a reality through the combined effort of Nassau County, East Meadow School District shop students and community groups. County Executive Ralph G. Case announced today.

Case said that starting next Tuesday (Nov. 21), approximately 20 students in the district's industrial and vocational arts program will begin renovating two former Mitchel Field barracks buildings the county moved to county-owned land adjacent to the new Probation Department annex on Carman Avenue. Students in the class, which will be conducted daily from 8 to 10:30 AM, will receive school credit for their work.

"The students not only will involve themselves in the actual physical remodeling, but will draw their own plans under the supervision of the shop teacher," Case explained. He added that the Nassau Youth Board, which developed the project, also will let teenagers in the community plan the activities at the center.

"The center is an excellent example of county government working with a local community to develop needed youth services," the county executive said. Ann M. Irvin, executive director of the Youth Board, noted that several community groups have offered to assist in the project with volunteer workers and equipment. The Youth Board, through the State Division for Youth, will provide funds for the remodeling materials.

Happy Thanksgiving to all

Blood Program

Would you like to have a stake in helping to save lives? You can. The Nassau Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Greater New York Blood Program collected 17,000 pints of blood last year in the County. This takes care of about 80 percent of the blood needs of Nassau County but the demands are increasing and more volunteers are needed to help. If you have a few hours a week to give you are needed to serve at Blood Donor Centers. You can be assigned to work either at the Chapter House in Mineola or at Blood Sessions at various locations in your own area. Volunteers register donors, take temperatures, serve in the donor room and the canteen, and do many other vital tasks. Besides volunteers to work as Blood Program Aides, drivers are also in demand. Blood Program Director, Mrs. Helen Pontius, said that the Chapter is handling about 3 times as much blood as four years ago and it is the Nassau Red Cross Chapter's responsibility to see that when doctors call for blood for a lifesaving emergency, a driver is on hand to rush it from the Chapter's refrigerated storage to the hospital. Because calls come in around the clock every day throughout the year, a worker is always on duty. Illness and accidents take no holidays. Won't you call your Nassau Chapter today and volunteer? For all the facts and for more information call the Blood Program Office at 747 3500.

SAFETY FIRST: John Specht (center) of Hicksville, President of the Nassau County Fire Chiefs Council, shows Oyster Bay Town Supervisor John Burke (right) what the well-equipped first aid kit should contain. Burke attended the council's 26th annual Fireman's Seminar which, this year, was a salute to volunteer firemen. Andrew Steinmuller, council chairman, looks on.

"Alcohol Safety Patrol"

Nassau Police Commissioner Louis J. Frank reported that County Police have arrested 2,633 drunk-drivers in the first nine months of 1972; an increase of 60 per cent over the same period in 1971.

Part of the increase is attributed to the Department's "Alcohol Safety Patrol" which accounted for 541 of the nine month drunk-driving arrests since it began operation last February. The 15-man special unit operates during the two night shifts and has also accounted for 30 arrests for driving while licenses were under revocation, 7 public intoxication arrests and 90 other arrests including robbery, assault, and illegal possession of weapons, drugs and licenses. The Patrol has also managed to discourage and prevent 139 persons who had been drinking from driving.

In the same nine month period County Police issued 308,656 summonses; an increase of 9 per cent over the first nine months of 1971.

The Nutcracker Comes To Long Island

Two fully-staged performances of the complete Nutcracker Ballet will be held Sunday, Dec. 10 at the Holy Family Diocesan High School in South Huntington, it was announced today by the Rev. Robert Emmet Fagan, Executive Director of Diocesan Catholic Charities.

The special holiday attraction is being sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization. The Long Island Ballet Theater, members of both the North East Regional Ballet Association and the Queens Council on the Arts, will present the performances. CYO Director Edward T.

Foran said capacity audiences are expected at both performances, continuing a tradition established with last year's offering of "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

Mr. Foran said the non-profit program is designed to bring "cultural experiences of high caliber to the young people of Long Island."

The ticket prices for all individuals and groups are $1.00 for students and $2.00 for adults. Reserved tickets and further information may be obtained by calling the CYO Cultural Arts Office at 516-LY 3-4600.

DUTCH LANE BAKES BREAD: What started out as an experiment in following directions has led to the room 147 (Grade 5) "Mrs. Virginia Corso's Bake Shoppe" at the Dutch Lane School in Hicksville.

The children have been baking bread in 1 lb. coffee cans using a kneadless dough recipe of flour, yeast, milk, salad oil, water, eggs, sugar and salt. Their teacher, Mrs. Virginia Corso reports that they have been having many interesting and exciting experiences from watching the uncooked dough rise because of the action of the yeast) to computing the cost per loaf.

The bread baking in the oven has filled the halls and room with a delicious smelling aroma. The class has received many requests for demonstrations which are being seriously considered.

"The Bicycle Thief"

"The Bicycle Thief", Vittorio De Sica's most well known film will be presented at the Hicksville Public Library on Wednesday, November 29 at 8 p.m. This film made in 1949, has won world wide acclaim, including the Academy Award and the New York Film Critics Award for the Best Foreign Film of the year.

The story is a simple tale of a poor man, his son and the bicycle that provides their livelihood. After the bicycle is stolen, the man and his son make a desperate search for the much needed vehicle. Scene after scene, reveals the bitter irony of this lone man and buffeted by an indifferent world.

The Hicksville Library 1972-73 Cinema Series is made possible by the New York State Council on the Arts grant to the Nassau Library System.

All library film programs are held in the auditorium. The public are all invited to attend.

CAP. MASTER CRAFTSMAN Charles Reina is playing the art of Batik. Mrs. Pauline Jonason's art students learned the techniques of the ancient art of Batik from a Master Craftsman, Charles Reina.

Mr. Charles Reina is from the L.I. Guild. Workshops in the various crafts will be held for our students throughout the year. Mrs. Francis Greenbaum will be the next guest craftswoman. Her demonstration will be in Metal Enameling.

ANNOUNCE WINNERS: The Hicksville Junior High School Social Studies Department is proud to announce the winners of the United States Week Picture

Herbert Cavanagh Selected for I.I. Task Force

How individualized is your program? If you and a group of colleagues observed the same program do you think you could agree on how "individualized" it was? Or how "good" it was?

One of the first tasks that the I.I. project staff faced was to begin work on development of techniques for identifying and evaluating programs of individualized instruction. Recognizing the complexity of that task, Jack Keough, Project Director, requested the assistance of the LIRILC membership. A decision was made to assemble a group of interested professionals from the bi-county region to work as a task force concerned with instrument development.

Seven persons were selected to serve on the task force, with Robert Courtemanche, Director of Education for the Episcopal Diocese of L.I., serving as chairperson. Other members were Herbert Cavanagh, Principal of Woodland Avenue School, Hicksville; Mrs. Dorothy Frankman, Curriculum Coordinator, North Bellmore Schools; Thomas Marcello, Assistant Principal, Brentwood East Jr. High School; Charles Kephart, Assistant Principal, Mrs. Barbara Bandes, an Elementary Teacher from Roslyn.

This group met with the project staff for ten days in late August to put together a workable instrument. What at first appeared to be a relatively straight-forward job was soon found to be a very complex, difficult task. A great deal of time has to be devoted to clarifying and redefining terms and concepts that, while familiar to all, had different meanings for most.

After several "false" starts the group agreed to change somewhat the nature of the task by

"Operation All-Out"

Nassau Police Commissioner Louis J. Frank announced "Operation All-Out," a drive to cut the holiday traffic toll in the county, will start November 22.

The major police efforts during the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year holiday periods will be aimed at saturation traffic patrol. All marked police vehicles, and many unmarked police cars will be on patrol. High frequency accident areas will be manned, radar teams will be assigned to key areas, and breathalyzer technicians will stand by in precinct stationhouses.

A written appeal has been made to each office, agency, and plant within Nassau from Frank requesting business people to make a special effort to insure their safe departure from office parties. The letter emphasizes that drunk-driving arrests are up 60 percent in Nassau County.

developing an instrument for identifying, but not evaluating, I.I. programs. By leaving aside temporarily questions of evaluation, the group was able to generate many items that might help differentiate I.I. from traditional programs. The end product was a one hundred and eleven item instrument that is being field tested this fall in several regional schools.

On November 17, three members of the Long Island Regional Individualized Learning Council's Task Force visited individualized instruction classes at Woodland.

Patrols will also check licensed premises to discourage intoxicated persons who might attempt to drive their vehicles. The drive will operate from 4:00 P.M., November 27; from 4:00 A.M., November 22 to 8:00 A.M., December 26; from 8:00 A.M., December 29 to 8:00 A.M., January 3.

Instituting "Operation All-Out," Commissioner Frank said, "I cannot emphasize enough, the necessity of each member of the department understanding the importance of this program. We intend to get the dangerous driver off the highway before he inflicts injury and causes grief to innocent people."

During the first ten months of 1972, 135 persons have died on the highways in Nassau compared to 143 during the same period in 1971.
