Nassau CD Office Sends Medical Aid Outfits To Nicaragua

The Nassau County Office of Civil Defense provided five Medical Aid Station Outfits this week to help meet the critical need for medical supplies in the devastated city of Managua, Nicaragua. County Executive Ralph G. Caso and Civil Defense Director Gen. Otto C. Van Exel authorized the release of the Medical Aid Outfits as part of a shipment air-lifted to the Nicaraguan capital by the New York State Department of Public Health.

The Nassau CD Office keeps a total of 121 Medical Aid Outfits (known as "SASO's") to meet possible emergencies in the local area. The five units which went to Nicaragua were taken from the CD warehouse in Mitchel Field.

They were loaded onto trucks furnished by the Department of Public Works and driven to the Pan-Am cargo terminal at Kennedy Airport.

Gen. Van Exel praised the Public Works Department for its cooperation in providing trucks and personnel for the rush shipment of the SASO's to Kennedy Airport. "I'd particularly like to thank Deputy Commissioner John Plock, Jr., Deputy Commissioner Frank Nicoll, Liaison Officer T.C. Driscoll, and Highway Maintenance Foreman John Norman for their help in meeting this emergency request," the CD Director said.

Each SASO unit contains 34 cots and 15 boxes of medical supplies. Each unit can provide first-aid treatment for 300 persons for a 48-hour period.

Greetings from Greece: Mr. Theodore Savalas, fifth grade teacher at Lee Avenue school on leave of absence, sends greetings from his present fifth graders in Athens.

Whether you go to school in Greece or Hicksville it is pretty much the same. Mr. Maiorino's sixth grade class at Lee Avenue will exchange ideas and experiences with their counterparts

Jim Fyfe To Chair CYO Journal Drive

The St. Ignatius CYO is holding its 4th Annual Dance on March 31, 1973 in the Auditorium at St. Ignatius School. We are publishing a journal in conjunction with our dance and are asking our friends to subscribe to this worthy cause. The CYO program is open to children of all beliefs, and is a great asset to the community as it benefits over 1,200 boys and girls in supervised activities both athletic and cultural. Additionally, over 200 interested adults volunteer their time, and efforts to make these programs beneficial.

Rising costs for equipment, uniforms and insurance threaten to curtail many of these activities, at a time when the young people of our community need more of these beneficial and wholesome programs. Anyone interested in aiding our program may contact Mr. Jim Fyfe at 681-3565.

Public Hearings Coming Up

By Janet Gosnell

At its regular meeting on Tuesday, the Town Board of Oyster Bay set public hearing dates on two applications of interest to locals residents, one for a permit for an auto repair shop in the vicinity of Bethpage Road and the Long Island Rail Road, and the other for a zone change to Business F for a residential parcel on South Oyster Bay Road.

The petition of AMX Collision for a special permit to construct and operate a repair shop in an Industrial H zone will be heard on January 30th. The petition also asks permission to use existing rights of way for access to and from the premises. The parcel in question, running 207 feet along the Long Island Rail Road property and 159 deep from it, is landlocked except for an access road from Park Avenue.

The petition of Allen J. Kaplan and Horace Bernstein for a change of zone from residence D to Business F for a parcel known as 370 South Oyster Bay Road, 250 feet north of Garden Street, Hicksville, will be heard on January 23rd. The parcel is now improved with a house and garage, presently the residence of Robert and Mary Garrepy.

The petitioners, operating as Berkap Realty, are now located at 778 Old Country Road, Plainview and 6500 Jericho Turnpike, Syosset. Berkap is the contract vendee of the property.

If the petition for a zone change is approved, Berkap plans to move its operation from 778 Old Country Road to the South Oyster Bay Road address.

The petition states that the zone change is requested for the purpose of operating the business of real estate, law, insurance and accounting on the property.

As stated in the petition, while the other parcels on South Oyster Bay Road are wall zoned residential, all the residences are presently being used for professional or business offices. On the opposite side of the street is the Plainview Shopping Center and two gas stations.

Emergency Express Bus Service For L.I.R.R. Commuters

Continuing efforts to aid commuters stranded during the Long Island Rail Road strike, Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso announced that effective Tuesday (Jan. 2) the emergency express bus service between Roosevelt Raceway and midtown Manhattan would be expanded.

Caso said that the service would now provide for buses to Manhattan from 5:30 AM to 10 AM and for return trips from Manhattan to Roosevelt Raceway between 3 and 7 PM. Caso said, "It's not an easy task to fill the gap in transportation caused by the strike but we are doing what we can. The express service to and from Manhattan has been receiving high praise and heavy use," the county executive added.

When the bus service between Roosevelt Raceway and Manhattan began, on Dec. 4, buses were operated to the city between 5:30 and 8:30 AM and from the city from 4 to 7 PM. About a week later, the Manhattan-bound service was increased an hour, to 9:30 AM. Caso, and Nassau County Transportation Commissioner Andrew G. Schiavone said that as demands increase the county has tried to expand the service.

The express service between Roosevelt Raceway and Manhattan is being provided by the Walters Transit Corp. In the morning, the buses run non-stop from the raceway parking area to midtown Manhattan, stopping at 42nd Street and Third Avenue and at 41st Street and Seventh Avenue. In the evening, the buses depart from Broadway, between 41st and 42nd Streets, stopping at 42nd Street and Third Avenue before running non-stop to Roosevelt Raceway. Fares are $1.50 each way.

Caso also announced that "due to increased public awareness of the bus services that are available in the county during the strike" the telephone information center would be closed from midnight until 6 AM, effective today. The bus information center had been staffed 24 hours a day since the beginning of the LIRR strike. For bus information between the hours of 6 AM and midnight, call 516-626-3000.

Consumer Protection

ALBANY—Responding to the continuous plethora of consumer complaints resulting from unsatisfactory auto repairs, Senator John D. Caemmerer (R-East Williston) has prefiled a three-bill package that meets the problem head on. Caemmerer's action would require licenses for auto body and mechanical repair shops and promote voluntary certification of auto repair mechanics.

"What we are trying to eliminate," Caemmerer said, "are those dishonest and unsafe repair practices that peril and plague the consumer. The legislation I am proposing to make law would require auto shops and garages to meet certain specific standards laid down by the Department of Motor Vehicles in order to be licensed. Discipline And Today's Youth

An excellent analysis of today's behavior of militant young people appeared in the September issue of Rotarian, written by Elizabeth Manners of Suffolk, England. She points out discipline is a part of life and must be learned by all if they are to understand the world and enjoy living.

Manners noted that many youngsters today have never been disciplined; they feel the world owes them an education, that they have been betrayed, because the older generation isn't perfect, because the system under which we live has many faults, etc. She suggests if they don't wish to study they get out of school and go to work, that they have greater opportunity today than ever before, greater freedom, etc.

Unintentionally supporting the Manners argument is a reply in the November issue of Rotarian by a young Texas teacher whose line of thought typifies the fuzzy thinking of many militants today (but not the majority of American youth by any means). The angered teacher blames everyone of an earlier generation in his immature reasoning because today's system isn't perfect. Finding fault in U.S. society, he calls all those teachers and elders liars, who laugh him high ideals about America and life. He abuses an entire generation because he's disillusioned.

The ugly things he sees, always a part of life, lead him to immature generalizations and to damn the entire system. What he and other militants, revolutionaries and immature youngsters must learn, eventually, is that life has never been a bed of roses, that it's usually gradually bettered by each generation, and that their duty is to help improve it, maturely and sensibly, not to destroy everything of the old order because it doesn't live up to their juvenile, dream-world ideals.

He must also eventually learn that he is lucky to inherit the many blessings of this era, which have taken mankind thousands of years to develop. The sooner he and others like him learn this the sooner they'll be able to do their share in building for a better future.

The Pedicar

Whether or not it turns out to be practical or successful, the pedicar--scheduled to be introduced to Americans soon by a Connecticut company--is stirring interest.

The car is supposed to sell for something over $500 and will travel at speeds up to fifteen miles an hour. It will have no exhaust fumes and will be cheap to operate, because it's driven by pedals, which the driver works with one or two feet.

The secret of the new car is its lightness, easy pedaling, its three gears and easy rolling characteristics. It will be safer than bikes and as economical. It will provide good exercise for drivers, who have room enough to carry a baby or groceries, etc.

Whether this version of the ageless dream of a motorless car succeeds or not, one hopes such a vehicle will soon be available because of today's pollution, congestion and other problems and because it will encourage more to exercise regularly.

REPORTS

The year 1972 is behind us, and this is a time to reflect on what was accomplished, as well as reaffirm those goals and objectives not yet achieved.

It was a year that saw progress in our master plan to preserve our suburban way of life. The Planning Advisory Board has completed its recommendations for all of the unincorporated areas of the Town, and these should soon be forwarded to the Town Board.

A significant step was taken in the protection of our environment with the creation of an Environmental Control Commission, an unsalaried group of concerned citizens, knowledgeable in ecological matters, serving in an advisory capacity to the Town Board.

In a further effort to protect our ground water supply and coastal waters from pollution, the Town has stiffened its regulation of cesspool scavengers and waste disposal and expanded the operation of our sewage treatment plant.

1972 also marked progress in our constant battle to handle the mountains of garbage and trash collected in the Town each day. We have continued to expand our newspaper recycling program to include one out of every four homes on Town collection routes. This has helped to ease the burden on our incinerators and the almost depleted landfill.

Another two milestones in our long-range solid waste disposal program were reached this past year with the design phase of the bulk refuse burner being approved, and the site selection for a planned landfill park.

Significant progress was made in our senior citizen housing program, which is frequently praised in newspaper editorials. With the dedication of the Massapequa project in November, the Town now has 364 units of housing for our seniors and 48 family units.

Our beaches, parks and pools were more popular than ever with Oyster Bay Town residents this past summer. To expand and improve the availability of such facilities, the Town is urging acquisition of some 700 acres of additional parkland. The first of these, a 24-acre site in the Brookville Jericho area, is already under Town control.

The fight against rising costs and inflation continues as we try to maintain the balance between providing essential Town services to meet community needs without adding unduly to financial burden. The Townspeople must bear this year, with the help of Federal revenue sharing, we once again were able to hold the line on General and Part Town tax increases.

It is a challenge we have met in the past, and one which will continue to be in the forefront of our future efforts.

TOWN NOTES - Town residents who will not be able to appear in person at the MTA hearings on the proposed Oyster Bay-Rye bridge at C.W. Post College on January 15 can submit written statements to Mr. William J. Roman, Chairman, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, 1700 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10019. The deadline is January 29, 1973.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

While it is always pleasant to read kind words about one's self, I should like to state the facts as they are.

In the article concerning H.A.D. in your issue of Thursday, 21 December 1972, I acted only as the agent for the landlord, my mother, known to most in Hicksville as May Leach Braun. To this day, she has always taken an active interest in the youth of this, and other communities--having served as a teacher in District 17, prior to her marriage, and again, to alleviate the teacher shortage during World War II.

Having acted only at her pleasure, it is she, not I who merits the accolade.

Respectfully
Tom Braun

Dear Editor:

Mrs. McCarthy wishes to know about the more than $2000.00 of unnecessary spending which I, as only one person, have found:

- 100 shrubs at the High School $500.00
- 10 flags in High School Auditorium (including hardware) 171.50
- Home coming Day cover and above
- the cost of a regular home football game (roughly) 600.00
- Trees (new) 35 437.50
- Benches (some in High School--no idea where the others are) 698.40
- $2407.40

I repeat: beautification would be fine if we had the tax money to spare. I would assume that all these items are in the Buildings and Grounds portion of the budget--that's just great--I would prefer if in times like these Buildings and Grounds funds were used for maintenance and repair, not for facelifts.

I would also be curious to know what the Board and or the Superintendent intend to do with the salaries of three assistant principals, one administrator's assistant, one guidance counselor, and one supervisor which were budgeted this year and are not being spent. These salaries come to quite a considerable sum--I do trust that these monies will not be spent for more bushes and trees.

Very truly yours,
Barbara Rosman

Supervisor Burke In Bridge Telecast

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor John W. Burke will be featured in a 30-minute WLIW-TV (Channel 21) program regarding the proposed Oyster Bay-Rye Bridge project.

The telecast deals primarily with the approach routes to the proposed span tentatively slated to traverse the unincorporated areas of Syosset and Oyster Bay as well as the villages of Mill Neck and Bayville. The program, which presents the views of a number of people living in proximity to these routes, will be aired on January 8 (Monday) at 8:30 P.M. - January 9 (Tuesday) at 7:30 P.M. and January 11 (Thursday) at 1:30 P.M.

Remarking on the concept of the program, Burke noted the station's cognizance of and concern for local issues. "While it is of paramount importance that the people on the South Shore, as well as those on the North Shore, are aware of the possible and probable deleterious effects that would be resultant of construction and utilization of the bridge project, the Town and the people do not have financial resources comparable to those of the State, Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Long Island Association and other powerful organizations which are actively lobbying for construction of the bridge and its approaches.

"It is encouraging to note that WLIW recognizes that there is more than one side of this issue, and that the station is taking steps to allow the public to become more fully aware of the proposed project and its ramifications."

Big Band Jazz Is Alive And Well And Living In Plainview

On the night of January 9th Plainview High School will host a festival of big bands who play pop, rock, and jazz. Visiting groups will come from the high schools at Herricks, Kennedy-Plainview, MacArthur-Levittown, Plainedge, and Valley Stream South. The host band is Plainview High School's Jazz Laboratory.

The program is being sponsored by the Plainview Jazz Lab and the Plainview chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America. The rule for D.E.C.A. is to gain experience in selling and management through the production of advertising, handling of ticket sales, and management of a concert hall.

Tickets are being sold by band members and will be on sale at the door. Proceeds from gate receipts will be donated to the bands' travel funds for those groups who make a yearly trip to jazz and stage band contests or festivals.

The bands are directed by the schools' staff members who have experience in the big bands and popular music of recent years. The Herricks band is directed by David Kopstein, the Jazz Foundation of Kennedy is directed by Dr. Kirby Jolly, MacArthur's group is directed by James Kivild, and the Plainedge director is Kenn Haralick.

The Valley Stream South director is Lawrence Waite, and the director of the Plainview band is Al Soskin. Howard Carstens of Plainview High School is the program director. The Plainedge band is known locally as the Kings of Swing. Last spring the band performed

Music of the Forties at a benefit program for an injured classmate. The Valley Stream group is making its first "away" appearance at the Plainview festival. In recent years the Kennedy and Plainview groups have entered the Berklee Festivals in Boston for student jazz groups, and last year the Kennedy group came back with a trophy. The band from Levittown is called the Big Mac Stage Band. They are in their second year with enthusiastic young talent.

Each group will feature its talented soloists and vocalists. The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Plainview High School. Adult tickets are $1.50, and student tickets are $1.25. Discount tickets are available only from band members at $1.00.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:
New York States compulsory car insurance law is a lever of conflicting interest its militant use of government service, operations, records and laws, renders the peoples government the insurance companys errand boy. The peoples government makes certain that milions of motorists pay prompt respect to the insurance company financially and with every kind of documentary evidence imaginable, while the insurance company has a looters paradise with rates invented within the protection of the law. To date the determining voice in this matter has been that of the insurance companies and lawyers. There has been little if any audible voice from the millions of motorists whom this law is presumed to serve. So lets have all car insurance as a government function. We pay for all the office and paper work now. There would be enough excess

"Plainview Choral Group Makes the Spirit of Brotherhood a Reality"

The Plainview Choral Cadets, otherwise known as the P.C.C., was originally formed for the sole purpose of bringing pleasure and joy to the senior citizens of the New York Suburbs. Although the P.C.C. is a small group it is their desire to bring a little light to people who cannot reach forms of entertainment. It has come to their attention that other than senior citizens would enjoy their singing. So as a group they have extended their services to nursing and veterans homes. It is their wish that even though there are only ten members, they might perform for hospitals and homes and be able to share their time and love. They welcome any and all who wish to join them. The Plainview Choral Cadets are sponsored by Mr. George Hutchinson, music teacher at Plainview-Old Bethpage High School.

The Music Department of Plainview-Old Bethpage High School proudly announces "The Jazz Lab in Concert" on January 9, 1973 in the Plainview High School auditorium. Admission prices will be $1.50 for adults, $1.25 for students, and $1.00 for students with S.A. cards.

The "Night of the New Sounds" will feature in addition to the Jazz Lab of Plainview-Old Bethpage High School, bands from Plainview Kennedy, Herricks, MacArthur, and Valley Stream. The entire program is under the sponsorship of D.E.C.A. (Distributive Education Clubs of America.)

At Our Library

The Hicksville Public Library with the co-operation of the Town of Oyster Bay Department of Recreation and Cultural Activities will offer Woman's Work Has Just Begun, a series of back-to-work workshops for eight sessions, beginning Wednesday, January 24 from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. The course is conducted by Nancy Sklar.

Registration will start the week of January 15. Application blanks are available at the library. A registration fee of $2.00 is payable at the time of registration. For further information call Joan Todd, Recreation Specialist at 921-3944 or Mrs. Neufeld at WE 1-1417.

There is a limit in the class size, so hurry to get your application in before the series is filled.

The first meeting of the Hicksville Library Association will be held at the library on Tuesday, January 9, at 8:30 p.m. At this time the purpose and the aims of the group will be explained to all the people who showed an interest in working for the library. Hopefully, officers will be elected and committees formed at this meeting. There should be only a few meetings held a year. With definite goals to be discussed and worked upon at each meeting there should be no need to have too many meetings to hash and rehash old business.

All the community are welcome to attend, and bring their friends to activate a good organization to help their community library.

The Hicksville Public Library and the Town of Oyster Bay Department of Recreation and Cultural Activities jointly announce the Studio Theatre's presentation of "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris" on Friday, January 25, at 8:30 p.m.

The Studio Theatre is the first semi-professional theatre group to perform on Long Island and predates all other drama groups in this area. They have been performing to enthusiastic audiences for twelve seasons.

"Jacques Brel, etc." was first performed at the Village Gate in New York in 1968, and since then has been in almost continuous production there and around the country. This type of a revue is ideal for the Hicksville Library facilities. Come and enjoy real 'theatre' in your own community. Tickets are available at the library and on the bookmobile.

The Hicksville Public Library Cinema Series starts the New Year with one of the greatest films ever produced, Charlie Chaplin's "The Gold Rush" on Wednesday evening January 10 at 8 p.m. This film released in 1925, is still considered by many Chaplin fans as Charlie's best film. Scenes, such as the dinner of boot soles and shoe laces exemplify the humor which derives its peculiar strength from the underlying blackness of the situation.

The Hicksville Library Cinema Series for the 1972-1973 season is made possible by a grant to the Nassau Library System from the New York State Council on the Arts.

All the library film programs are held in the library auditorium. The public are always welcome to attend.

Purcell To Speak At Nassau PBA Dinner

The Nassau County Patrolmen's Benevolent Association will hold its 44th Annual Installation Dinner-Dance on Friday evening, January 19th, 7:30 P.M. at Leonard's of Great Neck. The Nassau PBA which represents about 4,000 active and retired Nassau County policemen will hear Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell, as guest speaker of the evening.

Purcell, Vice Chairman of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors, is a former State Assemblyman and Village

Mayor. He enjoys a very popular reputation among Nassau police officers.

All newly elected PBA executive officers will be installed. They include: Ptl. Clifford Schmidt of Ronkonkoma (President), Ptl. Raymond O'Connor of South Farmingdale (1st Vice President), Ptl. Edward Higgen, Jr. of Deer Park (2nd Vice President), Ptl. J. Lee Moser of Hauppauge (Treasurer), Ptl. John Limandri of Bay Shore (Corresponding Secretary), Ptl. Robert Lueck of Dix Hills (Recording Secretary), Ptl. Fred Brussell of Levittown (Sergeant-at-Arms).

A "Top Cop Of The Year" Award will be presented to a Nassau patrolman, who in 1972, made the most outstanding arrest or committed the most heroic deed, in the line of duty. Many other government officials from local, state, and federal levels will be present. Over 1000 people are expected to attend. A prime ribs of beef dinner and unlimited liquor will be served. Those interested in attending this affair should contact: 516-746-7777.

John Sheehan Second Annual Memorial Basketball Tournament

On Tuesday night December 26, the John Sheehan Memorial Basketball Tournament got underway at the St. Ignatius school auditorium.

Our Lady of Mercy White team, led by John Sherman and Danny Boyer who scored 10 and 9 points respectively beat the St. Ignatius bullets in the first game of the preliminaries, 34-20. Jerry Black scored 8 points for the losers.

In the second game of the preliminaries the St. Ignatius Bullets defeated the St. Ignatius Pistons 37-17. Chris Bradley was high scorer for the Bullets with 16 points. Guy Phillips had 7 points for the losers.

Third game saw the Our Lady of Mercy Red team trounce the St. Ignatius 76ers 32-12. High scorer for Our Lady of Mercy were Robert Quinn and Kevin Sullivan with 10 points apiece. Nick Gradagno had six points for the losers.

In the final game of the evening the St. Ignatius Bulls beat the St. Ignatius Lakers 21-13. John D'Aquila was top scorer for the Bulls with 8 points. Eddie Silverman had 8 points for the Lakers.

On Wednesday night, Our Lady of Mercy Green defeated the St. Ignatius Hawks by the score of 20-14. McCaffrey led the winners with 8 points.

The second game saw the St. Ignatius Cavaliers come from behind and beat the St. Ignatius Warriors 28-26. With the score tied and less than two minutes to play, Ed Johnson hit with clutch baskets to put the winners ahead. Bob Targowski was high man for the Cavaliers with 13 points. Sal Muscarello had 10 points for the Warriors.

Jackie Jablonski with 10 points led the St. Ignatius Knights to a 17-14 win over the Our Lady of Mercy Black team. John Menzinger scored six points for the losers.

In the final game of the preliminaries, the St. Ignatius Celtics defeated the St. Ignatius Chapparells 38-27. Terry Armstrong who had a total of 21 points impressed the crowd with his fine offensive and defensive plays. Chris Lusco scored 9 points for the Chapparells.

The quarter finals were held on Thursday night December 28. In the first game, Our Lady of Mercy White team led by John Guinta with 11 points eliminated the St. Ignatius Bullets in a close game, 35-33. Chris Bradley in a losing effort had 19 points for the Bullets.

In the second game, a strong Our Lady of Mercy Red Team trounced the St. Ignatius Bulls, 27-15. Sullivan again was high scorer for the winners with 16 points.

The third game saw the St. Ignatius Cavaliers, with Bob Targowski and Ed Johnson with ten and nine points respectively defeat Our Lady of Mercy Green team 44-21.

In a well played defensive game that went down to the wire, the St. Ignatius Knights defeated the St. Ignatius Celtics 15-14. The Celtics behind by one point with two seconds left in the game, attempted to win with an impressive ball handling and 11 points, was the standout in this game, but credit has to be given to both teams and their coaches for their fine defensive play.

On Friday December 29th, the Our Lady of Mercy Red team defeated the Our Lady of Mercy White team 29-19 in the first game of the semi-finals. Kevin Sullivan who has been averaging 15 points a game, again led his team with a total of 19 points.

In the second game of the semiinals, Ed Johnson with 18 points for the St. Ignatius Cavaliers, helped put his team in the finals as the Cavaliers defeated the St. Ignatius Knicks, 25-22. The Knicks, hoped to repeat their previous nights performance when they defeated the St. Ignatius Celtics in the last few minutes of the game, but the Cavaliers defense held.

The championship game between the Our Lady of Mercy Red team and the St. Ignatius Cavaliers, and the consolation game to determine third and fourth place between Our Lady of Mercy White and the St. Ignatius Knicks will be held on Friday night January 5th at the St. Ignatius school auditorium. The consolation game will start at 7 P.M. The championship game at 8:30 P.M.

PLAINVIEW-OLD BETHPAGE HIGH SCHOOL Sport News

By Joe Dowd

The Plainview basketball team started its non-league schedule literally on the wrong foot—the sprained right one of Steve Tipa. Steve is usually counted on for a large piece of Plainview's scoring and rebounding. But with Steve out of the lineup, the Gulls must look to the other half of the Plainview offense, Senior Vinny Aversano. In four games, Plainview has scored 230 points of which Aversano has 111, almost half of all scoring. Tipa is not the only one out of action however. Ken Meseles is battling mononucleosis and Steve Samuels is nursing a broken finger. All this combined with temporary bouts with the flu has cost Plainview 3 out of its first 4 games. Here is the individual rundown: Malverne 62 Plainview 53-December 15.

The Malverne Mules simply overpowered the relative Plainview Midgets. Plainview out-rebounded Malverne, and Aversano led all scoring with 23 points. But the Gulls were no match for the Malverne onslaught that made the big play when it had to. Jim Rice shot 72 per cent from the field scoring 10 points, and also hauled in ten rugged rebounds. Plainview 66 St. Pius X 60-December 19.

Plainview experienced the rare luxury of being the taller team and rose to the occasion. Because Steve Tipa sprained his ankle the day before, Coach Jim Arnen was forced to start 5-10 guard Chuck Shapiro. Shapiro, playing 28 minutes, scored 8 points and made 5 assists. The story was clearly Plainview's domination of the boards. The Gulls out-rebounded Pius 38-14 led by Dave Marshall's 12. Vinny Aversano scored 29 points. Bethpage 65 Plainview 63-December 21.

An even game in almost every statistic. Plainview again looked good and played head to head with a much bigger team. Dave Marshall shot 78 per cent scoring 14 points, and played a complete game. This season, Dave might prove to be Plainview's much needed spark at forward. With only seconds remaining, Bethpage led by four, 65-61. Bethpage permitted Aversano an uncontested lay up which left Plainview with the two point deficit. It gave Vinny 31 points. Plainedge 55 Plainview 48-December 22.

Plainedge shot 51 per cent from the floor, many of which were bombed from 25 and 30 feet out with insidious accuracy. Plainview stayed alive on good free throw shooting but again was forced to go to none other than Aversano. Vinny scored 28 but without a balanced attached on offense, Plainview will be forced to play catch up all season.

Operation V.F.W.

William M. Gouse Jr. Post No. 3211
By Lou Palladino

Our service officer Mike Snack came back from the legislative breakfast a little on the sour side. All the gripes can't be listed, but a few are remembered. First, there are 3,000 young vets in Nassau County alone, hooked on drugs. Its not a question of wanting help or not. The idea is, if any do want help, there aren't any treatment facilities furnished by the Federal Gov't for whom these young unfortunates served and risked their lives for. Another gripe is L.I. National Cemetery, or Pinelawn, however your wish to call it, is fast filling up, and the next nearest one is in South Carolina. Our politicians have been asked to give Yaphank as burial grounds, but it seems that a race track is more important. And finally the per patient, as compared to welfare cases in public hospitals. As Mike so aptly put it, all Vet organizations and vets, are fast becoming 2nd class.

We had the pleasure of having Bill Ward our first Cr... Jr. ... our meeting. He gave a little talk, and mostly about the same thing. He is an eloquent speaker and was very impressive.

The Dinner and Dance for Feb. 24th is moving very well for this early period. Frank Lotis is running this shindig along with Vinnie Edwards. This should be a good blast. For 20 bucks a head, you bring just yourself and nothing else, then have yourself a ball.

HAD is having a party at our clubhouse Jan. 19th. Members of our post are invited to attend. The Director John maniac does his darnest to keep interest stimulated. He is the quiet type, but dedicated. So any of your comrades want to see how he operates, this is your chance.

This was out last meeting of the year. The next meeting won't be until the 8th of January. Hope to see you then.

Creative Workshop

Nassau Recreation and Parks Commissioner Richard A. Fitch announced that a free 15-session creative workshop for young people will be held at the East Terrace of Nassau Beach on Saturday mornings beginning January 13.

CONVENIENT, THAT'S WHAT IT IS to have a veteran's pension, compensation or other benefit check mailed directly to a bank for deposit. It's great for someone who may be away from home often, or hospitalized for a lengthy period. And for the elderly or disabled in some areas it eliminates a sometimes tiresome trip to and from the bank, or the need to find someone reliable to make the trip for them. In addition to being convenient it's also an excellent way of safeguarding incoming benefit checks against possible theft from the mailbox. There's nothing complicated about making the arrangements for direct deposit. A State Veteran Counselor at the local counseling center of the New York State Division of Veteran's Affairs has the details. Contact him at the counseling center located at

Room 505, One Old Country Road in Carle Place, N.Y. 11514. WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE? When it comes to pension and compensation there is a difference. Compensation is paid to a veteran to help compensate him for service-incurred injuries. On the other hand, pension is paid to permanently and totally disabled veterans for disabilities not traceable to war-time service. Both may be payable to veterans survivors. However, pensions, which are based on financial need, may be paid only if income does not exceed established income limitations. STATE VETERAN COUNSELING CENTERS are open daily from 9:00 A.M. until 5:00 P.M. to assist veterans, servicemen, and their families. Stop in to see your local State Veteran Counselor. . . he's "at your service."

International Automobile Show

The Seventeenth Annual International Automobile Show, as traditional a harbinger of Spring in New York as warm weather and far more predictable, will open its doors to the public April 7 through 15 at the New York Coliseum, its home for the past sixteen years, Charles Snitow, Show President announced. If past records are a fair indication, the Show will draw people from every state in the union and from many foreign countries. Over half a million people have attended the Show in the past. "This is the traditional New York Automobile Show," Snitow commented. "It is much more than just an exhibition of cars. It is rather a theatrical extravaganza, including movies, demonstrations and entertainment for the entire family all with the unifying theme of the automobile. And the industry's record breaking sales year proves that the love affair between Americans and cars is stronger than ever." The emphasis this year will be very strongly on the glamorous imported cars. There will be automobiles from England, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Rumania, Sweden and even the Soviet Union - as well as special cars, antiques, experimental models of the future hybrids and customs from the United States. "And of course, a great number of these sensational imported cars will be making their world or American debut at this Show," Snitow said. A special feature of the Show will once again be the "Wonderful World of Wheels" staged by Petersen Publications. Here some of the world famous racing cars will be exhibited as well as specialty cars of all types.

problem is that it doesn't go anywhere, but it puts on quite a show-standstill still. "This will be a Show full of fun, fancy, and, of course, beautiful girls," Snitow said. "But it is also the kick off for the major car buying season of the year - which is traditionally April, May and June. Metropolitan New York is now the most important market in the nation for the selling of automobiles, including imports. Since it is also the communications center of the world, the International Automobile Show is the most widely publicized event of its kind." He noted that the Metropolitan New York buying area has the heaviest concentration of population, wealth and buying power in the world. But the impact of the Show is such that it has always drawn heavily in an area far larger than this - all the way from Boston to Washington, D.C.

In addition, the Borg-Warner "whimsymobile" will be on display. Invented by Rowland Ermett as a multi-dimensional cartoon fantasy, it has among other things a power plant operated on after shave lotion. It is a car with zero pollution - as a matter of fact, its exhaust is actually highly enjoyable to birds, moths and butterflies. Its

"Using that area as a statistical base, it comes to about 25 per cent of the total U.S. market," Snitow noted. In the statistics released through September of 1972, imports accounted for nearly 17 per cent of all new car sales in the New York Metropolitan market. Total sales came to 101,323, as opposed to domestic car sales of 499,538.

Marino Strikes At Mortgage Kickbacks

Studies made by State Senator Ralph J. Marino, Chairman of the Temporary Staff Commission on Tax Liens and Mortgage Frauds, have revealed that kickback practices between real estate brokers and mortgage-holding companies have become so commonplace, that they are costing New York State homeowners excessive amounts of money in added interest rates. Marino has introduced legislation in Albany to halt the practice under threat of revocation of real estate licenses.

The Svosser Republican described the practice as one in which mortgage lenders pay real estate brokers a forwarding fee for delivering clients to them - a practice currently within the law. The cost to the lenders is then added to the interest rate in the form of additional points over the legal percentage. "Aside from excessive costs of obtaining a mortgage," Marino said, "the practice has led to abuses. We know of instances in which a real estate broker anxious to turn a profit will actually falsify a mortgage application to present his customer as a good risk. Some applicants may even sign a blank application form, leaving it to the real estate dealer to complete the form with financial information gleaned solely from his imagination. These are practices that must be stopped." Under the terms of the bill, the Secretary of State is given the power to institute disciplinary action against the broker by revoking the broker's license or by imposing a fine.

IHB Antique Fair and Sale February 5-7

A treasure trove of vintage Americana awaits visitors to the tenth annual Long Island IHB Antiques Fair and Sale to be held Monday through Wednesday, February 5-7, at the Holiday Inn, 80 Clinton Avenue in Hempstead. Daily admission $2.00 per person. This Garden City original, and Long Island's foremost antiques fair is again sponsored by the Garden City League for the Industrial Home for the Blind. Mrs. John Roe, President of the League, urges patrons to browse and delight in the nostalgia of a priceless heritage seldom found under one roof. The show offers 53 quality exhibitors from the eastern coast as guides to another century and another way of living.

Reservations for the Sunday evening, February 4th, Buffet Supper and Working Preview, can be made by telephoning Mrs. Arthur W. Uellendahl, 516-488-6024. The treasured memorabilia of another century will help to insure a new world for some 3,500 blind men, women and children now registered for a full range of services being offered by The Industrial Home for the Blind. Mrs. John Cordes, Jr., and Mrs. Gennaro J. Scibelli, Chairman and Assistant Chairman of this year's fair, report that this Fall, 322 blind children were enrolled in Nassau and Suffolk local schools along with sighted schoolmates. This program of integration was pioneered by the IHB 24 years ago. About 65 percent of the high-school graduates go on to colleges and universities of their choice.

Professional and amateur collectors should make early reservations ($15.00 a person) for the Sunday evening, February 4th Working Preview. Relax with a cocktail or two (a la carte) at five o'clock and then enjoy a buffet supper with old and new friends at 6 P.M. At 8 o'clock you'll find a warm welcome in the exhibition hall. Monday and Tuesday the Fair opens at twelve noon and closes at 10 P.M. On Wednesday, it's twelve noon to 9 P.M. when lucky ticket holders will win valuable prizes.

"Over the years IHB Services for Blind Children has been the focal point of our fund-raising efforts, primarily through the Long Island IHB Antiques Fair and Sale", Mrs. Cordes explained. "Last June, the Garden City League members visited the IHB Rehabilitation Center in New Hyde Park. Here we were witnesses to young adults being prepared to resume their rightful places as wage earners".

Plainview Fires Missiles, Conducts Rough Water Trials

The capabilities of large open-ocean hydrofoils for military missions were displayed early in December, when PLAINVIEW (AGEH-1) conducted technical trails in rough water off the coast of Washington. The trails were capped by the successful firing of Sea Sparrow missiles, two while the ship was foiborne.

PLAINVIEW is one of two developmental hydrofoils attached to the Naval Ship Research and Development Center's Hydrofoil Special Trails Units at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, Bremerton, Washington. Her primary mission is to establish a technological base for the design of large multi-mission, open-ocean hydrofoils. The largest hydrofoil in the world, she is 217 feet long and displaces 120 tons. She can make 50 knots while operating foiborne in a seaway.

Technical trails in 8 to 10 foot seas were conducted out of the Canadian Forces' Esquimalt Base near Victoria, British Columbia. Data obtained included control parameters, speed, power, and structural loads.

Through a series of at-sea demonstrations, the Sea Sparrow was evaluated for hydrofoil missile compatibility in a joint Naval Ordnance Command Naval Ship Research and Development Center program conducted by the Naval operates off Victoria, British Columbia. Three of the missiles were fired in a joint Naval Ordnance Command Naval Ship Research and Development Center Program.

Ship Weapons Systems Engineering Station, with the support of the Raytheon Company. The program's objective was to evaluate ship structure, control and missile performance in high relative wind speeds. A single canister, designed by the Naval Ordnance Station, Louisville, Kentucky, was used to fire a NATO configured Sea Sparrow missile.

Three missiles were fired. The initial shot was fired while foiborne. Two foiborne shots were conducted at 42 knots without interference or damage to the ship. The missiles functioned properly throughout their flight. This engineering look at high speed hydrofoil missile compatibility should provide vital information for the hydrofoil and missile programs.

PLAINVIEW and her counterpart, HIGH POINT (PCH-1), are used to obtain data and to demonstrate new advances in the Naval Ship Systems Command's Hydrofoil Development Program. Both have sophisticated data collection systems and have operated extensively in the Puget Sound area. HIGH POINT currently is being modified during an extended overhaul.

PLAINVIEW will be overhauled in January at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard. During the next six months, corrections and improvements identified during the past year and a half of trials will be implemented. She will return to a rigorous valuable inputs to the Navy's larger and faster hydrofoil efforts.

Consumer Protection
 Commissioner of Motor Vehicles would have the authority to suspend or revoke the license of the guilty party. Upon the refusal to issue a license, as well as a revocation or suspension, provisions for a hearing would be made. The Commissioner would have the power to establish regional review boards in order to conduct appeals.

 Caemmerer, Chairman of the Senate Standing Committee on Motor Vehicles, explained that another part of his comprehensive bill package provides for establishing a State Automotive Mechanic Certification Board. This would be mandated in the repair mechanics certification bill, and would allow the Board to prepare examinations for all qualified applicants. Once an applicant successfully completes his examination, the Board would issue a certificate proclaiming that person's competence in automotive repairs.
 "It is interesting to note," Caemmerer said, "that there has been growing support for some kind of protection for the automobile owner within the industry itself. In this instance, the fact that the certification of auto mechanics is voluntary, rather than compulsory, does away with one of the strong arguments against licensing legislation. Then, too, it is my feeling that voluntary certification will not cause an upheaval in the industry nor permanently retain the kind of incompetence we're trying to get rid of. And I'm pleased to add that these legislative proposals have the backing of organizations such as the New York State Garagemen's Association, the Automobile Club of New York, and the New York State Automobile Association."
 Caemmerer said that he felt the kind of consumer protection he is seeking is "as overdue as rain after a dry summer month," and went on to say, "The automobile is a complex piece of machinery to most people.

Unless he has a background in the field, the consumer simply does not know if his car has been repaired properly or even if he has been treated fairly. This legislation would have an important two-fold effect: it would benefit the auto repair business because the consumer would have no reason to regard the repairman with distrust-which he often does now, and the consumer himself, would have the peace of mind that comes from knowing he has been dealt with honestly and that the car he drives is in safe condition. We surely owe the consumer that much."

 money from such an operation to pay for all roads and all schools, and to take all tax off property, and this would also be better insurance (not in name only) but for all licensed drivers (it would come right with the tags) it would treat everybody without discrimination.

Seat Belt Law Is Caemmerer's Aim

"I believe that most people are law-abiding; so it is my fervent hope that a law requiring the use of seat belts will accomplish what television commercials on this subject have not," said Senator John D. Caemmerer (R-East Williston), Chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Transportation. Caemmerer's statement accompanied his prefiling of a bill that would make it mandatory to wear seat belts while traveling in an automobile.

"Tests and analysis of accident reports," Caemmerer continued, "have produced concrete evidence that in crashes under 30 mph the use of seat belts almost completely protects an occupant from serious injuries, and over 30 mph the chance of survival is substantially increased." Caemmerer added, "I realize that their use inconvenient or uncomfortable because of poor design. However, the major manufacturers have indicated their support for such legislation, and this should lead to more comfortable and accessible body restraints. My Committee will investigate mandating more comfortable design if the auto manufacturers do not take the initiative." Caemmerer's proposed legislation states that any person who fails to use a seat belt will be considered guilty of a violation and subject to a fine "not exceeding $25 dollars for the first offense." Second offenders could be fined as much as $50 dollars. "But let me say here and now," the Nassau lawmaker added, "it would not make me unhappy if we never had to collect a cent as a result of this action." Exempted from the seat belt requirement would be those traveling in vehicles not equipped with the safety device, as well as those whose work necessitates frequent leaving and entering a vehicle to make deliveries. Under the latter condition, the vehicle cannot travel faster than 15 mph between stops. Drivers or passengers with written proof of medical, physical, or other valid reasons not to wear seat belts would also be excused.

"How To Quit Smoking"

The beginning of a series of lectures in Nassau County, under the auspices of Smoke No More Inc., was announced by Erwin Kaufman, founder of the organization, and its chief lecturer, Mr. Kaufman, an authority in the field of teaching smokers how to quit smoking, announced his plans to conduct several series of lectures at various locations within the county, to instruct smokers how to train themselves to give up this difficult habit.

Introductory meetings, which are free to prospective enrollees, have begun this past week, and continue until the opening lecture. The courses start on January 9th, and there are courses starting each evening until January 15th, at various locations throughout Nassau County. "We have found," says Mr. Kaufman, "that people who have smoked all of their adult life, have no real pleasure out of smoking. They continue to smoke out of a combination of factors: primary among which is their addiction to nicotine. Our course helps overcome this addiction, and to alter their habits so that they can, when ready, stop smoking without any pain or discomfort." Over one thousand people have stopped smoking under Mr. Kaufman's teachings, and all have done so without having to rely upon any drugs or substitutes. "We have found that even hypnosis does not provide any long-range answer to the frustrations of withdrawal from smoking," Mr. Kaufman continued. "Under our teaching, the smoker learns how to stop smoking, and only when he is fully ready to stop, do we have him stop." Smokers continue to smoke during the first number of weeks of the program, until they are able to give up smoking, for the rest of their lives.

Courses will be starting in various locations within the county, including a series at the Howard Johnson's Motel, at Exit 40 on the Long Island Expressway, at 120 Jericho Turnpike, Jericho, beginning on Monday, January 15th, at 8:00 P.M. If you are interested in stopping smoking, attend and learn how.

Aliens Report

Mr. Sol Marks, District Director of the New York District, of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service stated that the period within which aliens must report their addresses is almost at hand.

The month of January has been set for the address reporting period. All aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, must report their addresses to the Government during that period.

Mr. Marks said that forms with which to make the report will be available to all post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January.

Mr. Marks urges all aliens to comply with the reporting requirements, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious consequences.
