The Hicksville Community Council regular meeting was held at the Hicksville Library on January 4th. This group meets the first Thursday of every month (except July and August) and the public is invited. Topics of mutual interest to Hicksville residents are discussed. Time is also allotted for question and answers and anyone may introduce a subject of mutual benefit to Hicksville.

This meeting was of great interest to everyone in attendance. The subject was "The downtown area of Hicksville." What has been done, What are we doing, and What are the plans for the future.

The speakers were Mr. Stephan Saunders, Deputy Town Supervisor, Town of Oyster Bay, Mr. Kingsley Kelly, and Mr. Edgar Sweet, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Warren Doolittle, Town Councilman.

Mr. Saunders gave some background on the problem. The prime cause was the widening of Broadway and Newbridge Road. This was done by the State. The end result was the deplorable condition that this area is now in. Small parcels of this area are owned by many people, and or companies. Many of these parcels are not of sufficient size to build on. Much study has been given by The Town Board on this problem with forums held to get the peoples' thoughts, a study by the planning board and other views.

The first step taken by the Town Board was to pass a special Zoning for this area called G-1. This calls for building on "not less than 20,000 square feet", sufficient off street parking, some possible high rise, and principally office occupant, with stores on the main floor. A special parking has (or will be) created for this area.

Mr. Kelly advised that the Chamber of Commerce is not in full agreement with the Town Board as to the restrictions on the zoning. They have suggested several additions of permissive use. These are possible deluxe apartments, on upper levels, Garden apartments, Stores, parks, and others. Mr. Kelly stated that the Chamber has formed the Hicksville Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce to help clean up the downtown area.

Mr. Sweet pointed out some of the problems involved. Individual owners in many cases have less than the 20,000 feet required, and would have to sell or join another owner to build. The chamber is trying to get a group of owners together to formulate a plan of unison building. Many different opinions on what is high rise. The consensus is "as high as Gertz", or 80 to 100 feet high.

Mr. Doolittle added some other problems in answer to questions raised from the people. No specific time table could be given. The first building is scheduled to begin in approximately 60 days. This will be 100 Duffy Avenue.

On a suggestion that the town go in and "clean up the area" Mr. Doolittle pointed out two reasons for thought. 1. They would be subject to trespass. 2. They cannot spend tax funds on private property. He will look into the possibility of getting an easement from owners on this.

The conclusion that this writer has come to is there have been many problems solved, other problems still remain, and some solutions require more problems. It will all take time.

Special Board Meeting

The Board of Education of Hicksville Public Schools will have a special Board Meeting on Monday, January 15, 1973, at 8 P.M. in the Conference Room at the Administration Building, to discuss Budget Codes 700 and 900. The meeting will be open to the public from 8 to 10 P.M.

Back-To-Work Workshop Offered In Hicksville

Woman's work has just begun, a series of eight back-to-work workshops, will be offered at the Hicksville Public Library on Wednesdays from 12:30-2:30 PM, beginning January 24, according to Oyster Bay Town Councilman Joseph J. Saladino.

The workshops are being offered by CAPA (Cultural and Performing Arts Division of Oyster Bay Town's Department of Recreation and Community Services) and the Hicksville Library. Registration which is open to all Town residents, is being accepted through January 20 at the Hicksville Library. A registration fee of $2 is required.

These provocative workshops will be conducted by Nancy Sklar who has lectured throughout Long Island on the subject of women returning to work. They are geared to the woman who is beginning to look outward; is ready to "do something" but hasn't quite decided what or how. The workshops will enable her to explore personal feelings about returning to the mainstream of life, re-evaluate her role, find her hidden abilities, discover her path to the working world and, hopefully, gain the self-confidence needed to take that first step back into it. She'll discover how volunteer work can be expanded into paying job, acquaint herself with the job opportunities now available to women, learn how to prepare a good resume and how to present herself for a successful job interview.

Nancy Sklar is a graduate of Barnard College and a member of its Vocational Advisory Committee. She is a former advertising copy writer and for two years published a weekly column in the Nassau Herald titled Woman's Work Has Just Begun. Mrs. Sklar is currently conducting a successful back-to-work workshop in CAPA's Massapequa Adult Cultural Arts program.

Those interested may register at the library on Jerusalem Avenue in Hicksville during library hours.

For further information, call the Hicksville Library-WE1-1417, or Joan Todd, Recreation Specialist, at 921-921-5044.

RICKY HESS has recently returned from Linz, Austria after spending one semester of his junior year at the Salesianum School. PTA Selects Founders' Day Honored Guest

BY SHIRLEY SMITH

Hicksville Council of PTAs has selected Mrs. Grace Cranmer to be the honored guest at the 20th Annual Founders' Day Dinner, February 22. The dinner will be at the Old Country Manor in Hicksville.

This year's guest is one of PTAs' most outstanding volunteers, having actively served for twenty-four years in Hicksville units. Grace began her PTA career at East Street School, in 1949, when Miss Nina Plantz was principal. She has held the chairmanship of various committees at East Street, the Junior High and the High School, and also served as an officer—from Council Delegate up to President—at East Street. For her diligence and contributions there she was awarded an Honorary Life Membership in 1960. Grace was Founders' Day Dinner Chairman in 1971, when PTA Council honored Mr. John McGovern, the current principal of East Street School.

Grace has given cheerfully and untiringly of herself throughout her years in PTA. She was always there when needed and helped to pass on her leadership ability and knowledge to others. Many of our units in Hicksville benefitted from Grace's assistance in their own beginnings.

Grace's husband, Wesley, and their six children, also deserve the thanks of PTA, for they, too, have given unselfishly during the twenty-four years that "wife and mother" has been active. East Street is hopeful, that when granddaughter, Kris, enters kindergarten next year, Grace will continue her active PTA life. Followed by grandson, David (age 2), this should keep her busy several more years.

When notified of her selection as Honored Guest, Grace said she couldn't believe it and didn't feel she was deserving. But Hicksville Council of PTAs feels it is befitting at this 20th Annual Founders' Day Dinner to honor someone who has given twenty-four years of loyal service to the children of our district and the Hicksville community.

Johnson Looks To UDC Moratorium

State Senator Owen Johnson (R-West Babylon) said today he wants a moratorium on all State Urban Development Corporation projects, until the quasi-public government agency pays back the $49 million dollars it owes the New York State government. The Babylon legislator plans to file a bill in Albany next week with State Assemblyman John Flanagan (R-Greenlawn) that would prohibit the UDC from starting any new projects. "This legislation will bring the UDC people to their knees," said Johnson.

Johnson made his announcement with Babylon Town Supervisor Aaron Barnett, a supporter of the legislation. Johnson, Barnett, and other local officials are trying to block the Urban Development Corporation from erecting a controversial public housing project in the Wyandanch-Deer Park community.

Johnson discovered the outstanding UDC debt in a report he recently received from New York State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, called "Public Authorities: A Fourth Branch of Government?" "Whether a legislator is opposed to the Wyandanch-Deer Park project or not," Johnson explained, "he cannot be in favor of UDC branching out further, when their financial situation is very shaky and unstable to start with."

Supervisor Barnett said, "The correct thing to do would be to return the borrowed funds to the state, before they come in here, dictating to us, what type of housing projects are best for the Town of Babylon."

Johnson said he felt UDC was becoming the state government's "white elephant agency." "No one wants them around anyway, so they should slow down, and concentrate on paying up their past financial obligations, before they undertake any new ones," he said.

Johnson is the Senate sponsor of another UDC bill recently introduced in the Assembly by State Assemblyman William Burns (R-Amityville). The bill would mandate the UDC agency to abide by local zoning laws, in any of its building activities.

ANGELO D. RONCALLO (left), Congressman from the 3rd C.D., checks over the already heavy load of work with Legislative Aide David L. Cahn and Administrative Assistant Fran Funk at his office in the House of Representatives in Washington, D.C.

Roncallo Staff Appointments

Congressman Angelo D. Roncallo, who was sworn in on January 3 as Representative from the Third District, announced appointments to his congressional staff for his Washington office. The Republican Congressman, whose district includes nearly all of the Towns of Oyster Bay and Huntington plus the northern portion of the Town of Babylon, invited all residents of the district to visit or call him and his staff to express their views on issues facing our country. Roncallo noted that the staff is also available to assist residents with any problems they might have involving a Federal agency.

Heading up the Washington office is Administrative Assistant Frances Funk who has spent the last seven years on Capitol Hill, first with Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia and then as Staff Aide to the Senate Committee on Armed Services. Earlier, she owned and managed a public stenographic office.

David L. Cahn from Wantagh is serving as Roncallo's Legislative Aide. Cahn spent the last four years overseas in Afghanistan and Mexico as a career diplomat with the State Department. He previously served as a civilian with the Department of Army at the Pentagon and as General Manager of the Massapequa POST. Cahn will also handle public relations for the Congressman.

Prime Washington contact for residents who need help with federal problems is Case Worker Sherri Ann Picco, who has worked in Congressional offices since 1968. She has also been active in Republican politics, attending the 1968 convention and working on election campaigns.

Secretaries Rebecca M. McDonald, who previously worked for Senator Len B. Jordan; Lois Riley, who worked in Senator Russell's office while he was President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and Receptionist Ashley E. Mason, who did voter registration and turnout during President Nixon's campaign for re-election, round out the Washington staff.

Roncallo's Washington office is Room 1232 in the Longworth House Office Building. The telephone number is (202) 225-3865.

A local office is in operation at 130 Main Street, Cold Spring Harbor, telephone 367-3600. Staff appointments and the formal opening of this office will be announced shortly, Roncallo stated.

Congressman Norman F. Lent, R-4th C.D., looks on. The veteran legislators greeted Roncallo as he took up his duties in Washington last week.

The Attack On Families

One of the far-out trends which threatens to bring about the decline and fall of the United States as a great nation is the attack on the family by modern-day students and the far-out element of college faculties, an element entrenched at most institutions of higher learning.

In an interesting series of articles on the subject, beginning in the January Reader's Digest, Lester Velie interviews various professors who teach courses on the new way of life—commune living, free love style living, wife-swapping, etc.

In most countries of the world, where standards are generally accepted by the vast majority because of tradition, long practice in living and a solid cultural base, such courses would not be allowed to be taught impressionable youngsters. But in America, with its vast space, diversity, lack of any single family standard or culture, a population not homogenous, practically anything goes. Any nut can teach almost anything at many universities. Nor can the far-outs be fired—the teachers have what amounts to a teacher's union to frustrate college authority and protect their jobs.

As a result, weirdo professors continue to erode the basic strength of the nation, the family unit, by teaching it is outdated, obsolete and inadequate.

Though the family system may not be perfect, it nevertheless represents the best solution man has found in thousands of years for successful living and the rearing of children. The various experimental systems now being offered are untried, oversimplified and too often lead to tragedy and ruined lives.

Nevertheless, the assault on the family as an institution continues and poll percentages show more and more students are beginning to believe the newly-taught, immoral hokum about free sex and male-female relationships (natural enough, in that it is taught them at college). Today about one third of those in college accept this nonsense. Nothing can lead to the demise of this great country quicker than a continuation of this inexcusable, reckless folly.

Mid-Branch Regular Meeting

Tracy Sillerman, currently consultant on the suit concerning school finances which is being brought against the state by Stanley Harwood.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mrs. Noeth:

I am writing you this letter. So that the parent taxpayer of Hicksville will be made aware of the type of Christmas Presents, given to their children in the Junior High School (9th grade). The following was distributed on ditto paper to the children.

CHRISTMAS STORY or
MARY'S COMPLAINT

So my husband said
"Let's take the mule and go for a little ride in the country
What did I know from Miami Beach?"

So there I am nine months gone and in a stable.

We couldn't get reservations even in a Quality Court Motel. mind you.

You know what Christmas season is like.

And what happens?

A light is shining in my eyes all night.

Some Goy in a white robe with wings and a horn is having a party.

Did you ever hear of anything so ridiculous?

Halloween in December.

And those labor pains.

Let me tell you, you never felt pain in your life.

Low back pain and on top of that I got a migraine.

And if that isn't enough these three Arabs come barging in. I thought.

It was the six (6) Day War all over.

But who's Complaining?

The kid is healthy and good looking like his father.

The only trouble is he keeps talking about this messiah business.

Why don't you be a doctor? A lawyer? An accountant, even like your cousin John?

I asked him "Messiah"? Is that any kind of a profession for a nice Jewish Boy?

I for one, consider the above to be in gross bad taste. I was told by someone in the school community that it was not Blasphemous.

BLASPHEMY — Profane or contemptuous speech, writing, or action concerning God or anything held as Divine.

In conclusion, I would like to say, may our children forgive us, for allowing the public schools to get to this point, where innocent children as a captive audience, must accept these insults.

Sincerely yours,

Mary E. Carton

REPORTS

Last Sunday, I had the pleasure of attending an open house of the Town's Cultural Arts Workshops at the Syosset-Woodbury Community Center. This was the opening day of a one-week display of the students' accomplishments in crafts, art and music they had achieved through the various workshops they had attended.

The range of interests and activities exhibited was truly amazing. There was a series of performances by students of tumbling, yoga, guitar and dance. Other works—many of a professional quality—were displayed in the fields of photography, painting, sketching, sculpture, graphics, needlework and batik.

We are very proud of the success of its program as indicated by its popularity with the Townspeople. Last year alone, almost 2,000 people registered and took part in the various workshops and activities. This is the sixth year that the Town's Department of Recreation and Community Activities has conducted this non-profit, self-sustaining program.

Its well-designed and well-balanced offerings provide something for everyone—from the pre-kindergarten to the Senior Citizen. It is particularly gratifying to see that it is being utilized by all age groups to expand their interests and acquire new skills.

In addition to the diversity the program offers, another key factor in its success is the professionalism of the staff. Each is not only a specialist in his or her own field, but also an experienced and creative teacher.

Registration for the Spring Cultural Workshops will be held next week. Additional information on the program can be obtained by calling Kathleen Boyle, Recreation Specialist, at 921-5944. Take advantage of this opportunity to enrich your own life and broaden your interests.

Dear Friends...

THE ENTIRE COMMUNITY is justly upset about the incident described in this week's "Letter To The Editor". It was a bad mistake made by a young teacher and as such should be dealt with sternly by the administration and board of District 17. By law, there should be a complete separation of church and state. If our schools leave the religious education of our children to our homes churches and temples, there is only one important thing left for them to do...and that is to see that while in school, respect for the faith of others is accorded to all by all, and this includes everyone who calls himself or herself a teacher. We should demand this at all times.

three thugs who entered their place of business, beat them, and then robbed them of $200. Such senseless violence defies description. Yet this type of violence and murder goes on in ever-increasing numbers throughout our country. Only when it hits close to home in our own community do we realize the extent of the tragedy and its effect upon innocent families. What can be done to stop these brutal murders? Considered action must be taken without delay.

well as an informal C of C poll of those present with the following results: "For" 20. "Opposed," 17. "No opinion," 10. The Chamber plans to poll the business community further on this controversial matter. More on this next week.

AS WE WENT TO PRESS, we were able to attend a most informative meeting of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, on the proposed Oyster Bay-Rye Bridge and how it will affect Hicksville and the surrounding areas. The MTA showed slides, which were of course in favor of the bridge. TOB Supervisor John Burke spoke in opposition to the bridge. A question and answer period followed. as

The appeal of Charles Loiacono to set aside the results of the Board of Education election in which Mr. William Bruno won by 38.4 percent, was denied by the State Education Dept. this week. The denial is based on a legal technicality which we will go into in detail in next week's Herald.

THAT'S ALL FOR THIS WEEK, stay well, and remember that, contrary to the old cliché, you can NEVER really pass the buck to anyone...that's what democracy is all about friends.

Sincerely,

The Second Annual John Sheehan Memorial Tournament

The second annual John Sheehan memorial tournament came to a successful conclusion at the St. Ignatius school auditorium on Jan. 5.

In the first game to determine third and fourth place, Our Lady of Mercy, White paced by Danny Boyd with 10 points defeated the St. Ignatius Knicks 24-22 in perhaps the most exciting game of the tournament. The St. Ignatius team who were never ahead in the game, tied the score 22-22 with twenty seconds left in the game, when Steve Solaski hit one of two tries from the foul line. With five seconds left to play, Our Lady of Mercy took a time out to set up a final offensive play. When the ball was in bounded it went to Boyer who took a jump shot that went in as the buzzer sounded. High scorer in the game was Jackie Jablonski with 16 points who again impressed the capacity crowd, with his fine offensive and defensive plays.

Top honors went to Our Lady of Mercy Red who won the tournament championship by defeating the St. Ignatius Cavaliers 34-23. The Cavaliers got off to a very slow start and could not make up the deficit to a strong Our Lady of Mercy team, led by Kevin Sullivan who was selected as the most valuable player of the tournament. Sullivan averaged 15 points a game and was also outstanding on defense.

Immediately following the championship game, trophies were awarded to the first four teams and every boy who participated in the tournament were given John Sheehan Memorial Tournament patches. The first place trophy was presented to Our Lady of Mercy Red coach Ken Bailing by Mrs. John Sheehan.

Jack Kilmeier, chairman of the Tournament committee, in his closing speech, thanked all of the many people who helped make the tournament a tremendous success.

$1.3 Billion To Be Spent On Recreational Vehicles By Americans In 1973

More than fifty Long-Island recreation vehicle dealers will exhibit over 300 of the latest 1973 recreational vehicles at the 1973 Long Island Recreation Vehicle and Camping Show at the Nassau Coliseum in Umatilla, L.I. from January 20 through January 28, it was announced by Robert Brahm, Managing Director of the show.

It will be the largest exhibit of recreational vehicles ever presented in the Greater New York metropolitan area, according to Mr. Brahm.

This is because the recreational vehicle boom has now become a year-round affair, with winter trailering as "in" as summer trailering," states Brahm.

This fast-growing industry involves more than 700 manufacturers of recreational vehicles from the low-cost to the luxury rolling homes that run into high five figures. And the boom is reaching out from younger, lower-income Americans to higher-income executives and professionals. And, the biggest names in automotive manufacture are beginning to reach out with recreational vehicle lines to garner this market.

There are more than 12,000 dealers in the United States who market recreational vehicles, and 10,000 private and more than 750 public campgrounds ready to serve them in 1973. Already more than 4 million recreational vehicles are in use in the United States and an estimated 3 million more Americans will use them in 1973. It is estimated a one-month camping trip in a recreational vehicle costs a family of four about $600—or more if you travel long distances, have expensive tastes in food, etc. This is about one-half what it would cost the same family to stay in hotels and eat in restaurants on their vacation.

Singing Boys Are Auditioning Boys

The internationally renowned Singing Boys of Long Island are auditioning boys between the ages of 9 to 15 for their preparatory choir.

The Singing Boys of Long Island is a non-denominational, non-profit singing corporation whose object is to develop musical boys, to build character and character values, to give boys the opportunity to express themselves through creativity.

The Singing Boys of Long Island make their home at the Interfaith Chapel of C.W. Post College where they present concerts. Each summer the choir tours Europe, having performed in the Chapel Royal at Windsor Castle, England.

Two summers ago, they travelled through Italy where they sang Masses in the major Cathedrals of the country and sang for a Papal audience of 40,000 in St. Peter's after which Paul VI personally thanked them for their singing and awarded them with a bronze medal of appreciation. This past summer as they travelled through Germany, Austria and Czechoslovakia, they were able to sing a Mass with Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty in his private chapel in Vienna.

The Choir will tour Spain and Morocco this summer.

The Singing Boys of Long Island promote both a better understanding of fine music and the greater facility in the factors associated with sound musicianship and skill in music reading.

It strives to develop an appreciation and enjoyment of music by exposing the boys to all aspects and phases of music, as well as to guide and counsel each boy through his musical growth.

The Singing boys of Long Island maintain an example of musical excellence. It offers boys the opportunity for public performance, exposure to many periods and styles of music.

Classes will be held on Saturday mornings from 10:00 A.M. to noon at the Interfaith Chapel at C.W. Post College in Brookville. Afternoon classes will be held at St. Lawrence of Canterbury Episcopal Church, Old Country Road (off Deer Park Avenue West) Huntington, from 1:00 P.M. to 3:00 P.M.

From Our Postmaster

RALPH CASCARDO

Hicksville Postmaster Ralph G. Cascardo stated that, "We are at that time of the year when our job of delivering the mail becomes increasingly difficult due to hazards of snow and ice. The high rate of letter carrier accidents from slips and falls due to the slippery conditions of walks, steps and porches has prompted me to request your cooperation. You can cooperate by salting or sanding your walks, paths and stairways leading to your mail receptacle.

Please do not let the letter carrier who stops at your home almost daily become an accident statistic because of these conditions. Help keep the Postman on his feet so that he can deliver the mail. Your family, friends and tradesmen will also benefit from your cooperation."

On the Campus

Senator Caemmerer's Response To Governor Rockefeller's Message

Governor Rockefeller's message, wide-reaching and forceful, provides many meaningful suggestions and proposals for legislative action. I am encouraged by its tone and resolve.

His decision to act forcefully and with determination in an effort to attack the problems of crime and corruption that stain the dignity of our State and plague the well-being of its people is commendatory, indeed. It is gratifying to note that the Governor has reached by long-held and oft-stated position that we must take a hard, uncompromising line in the treatment of drug-pushers and of those who such the very blood of our society and get rich by feeding our irreplaceable young people into the nightmare of drug addiction.

Because I have attempted to pass legislation to review the actions of the education complex in the State, I am pleased with the Governor's recognition that simply spending money for education does not produce quality education. His suggestion to appoint an Inspector General of Education is especially worthwhile.

I would be less than candid, however, if I did not express my disappointment and chagrin at Governor Rockefeller's almost cursory treatment given to the mounting problems of public and mass transportation in our State.

For 35 days, the Long Island Rail Road strike has heaped hardship and inconvenience on the commuters of Nassau and Suffolk, as well as the Long Island businesses that depend on the line for the health of their enterprise. While the message must have been prepared during the strike, I find no meaningful suggestions as to how it may be ended.

It is heartening, however, to note Governor Rockefeller's serious regard for the area of consumer protection. His endorsement of my efforts to license auto repair mechanics is surely welcome, and I hope that with his support the bill that I have proposed will move swiftly through both houses of the Legislature.

All things considered, the message was timely and on target. While it did not contain all the points I might have wished for, it does provide a blueprint for action.

For Great Sauces — Think Italian

SALSA DI POMIDORO — tomato sauce, simmering in the kettle — is as useful to the chef as a short course in Italian cooking.

NEW YORK (ED) — As every good cook knows, nothing breaks up the monotony of mealtime as tastily as a repertoire of international specialties. Italy's gift to American tables starts with her memorable sauces.

Spaghetti dressed in real Italian sauce is nothing less than a dining experience. What's more, Salsa di Pomodoro — basic tomato sauce — is as useful to the chef as a short course in Italian cooking. Once you've mastered the original, there's no limit to the possible variations on the theme. Add chopped chuck, or a spicy combination of beef and sausage meat, and you have a rich meat sauce. Spoon the sauce over pork chops and oven-bake for an easy version of traditional pizzaiola. Or just serve as-is over your favorite pasta.

You'll find so many uses for this sauce that it will pay to make substantial quantities, reserving the extra for next week's dinner. This recipe — adapted for American quick-cooking preferences by Pro-gresso kitchens — makes four cups of sauce; double ingredients for larger amounts.

HOMEMADE TOMATO SAUCE

- 1/4 cup imported Italian olive oil
- 1/2 cup onion, chopped
- 1/4 cup green pepper, chopped
- 3 large cloves garlic, chopped
- 2 cans (8 or 8 1/2) imported Progresso Italian peeled tomatoes
- 1 can (8 oz) tomato sauce
- 2 tps. salt
- 1/4 tsp. fresh-ground pepper
- 1 tsp. sugar

Using deep saucepan, saute onion, green pepper and garlic in olive oil, five minutes. Add tomatoes, tomato sauce, salt, pepper, oregano and sugar. Break up tomatoes slightly. Bring mixture to a boil, cover and simmer gently 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove cover, simmer fifteen minutes. Makes four cups.

The London Flu

A few years ago the Hong Kong flu put many Americans down for the count; this year the "in" strain is the London flu.

Federal officials at the Public Health Center for Disease in Atlanta say London flu, first detected at the Air Force Academy in October, and which struck hard at Baltimore in late November, is not a major threat, nor spreading in epidemic proportions.

Rather, they say, the flu situation in the United States is about normal for this time of year. The London flu virus is merely the latest strain making the rounds; it was first detected in India in 1971 and appeared in London early this year.

It has thus far been detected in Colorado, Arizona, California, Washington, Hawaii, Kansas, Texas, Illinois, Tennessee, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts. Doctors are prescribing for it what has for many years been prescribed for flu-bed rest, plenty of fluids including fruit juices, aspirin and, perhaps, cough syrup. As with other ailments not fully understood, they're, in effect, letting the body make its own recovery.

In 1969, an Englishman named Sinclair walked 215 non-stop miles.

CONSUMER PRICES UP

The Labor Department has reported that consumer prices rose three-tenths of one per cent in November. This was higher than the Nixon Administration had hoped for but well below the 1969-71 period.

H.E.W. ON JOBS

Nutrition And Cereals

Breakfast cereals are an American food! The first was developed in this country about the turn of the century. They are used in about 55% of the homes, eaten in over one-third of all American breakfasts. Yet, nutritional facts about this popular food are often overlooked.

Are cereals nutritious?

Yes. Cereals are important natural sources of thiamine, niacin and iron. They provide carbohydrates, supply protein and are low in fat. Today, breakfast cereals can be nutritionally classified as Whole Grain or Restored, High Vitamin, and High Protein. All provide essential nutrients but the shopper has a choice as to the amount of added nutrients she prefers.

What does whole grain or restored mean?

Whole grain cereals contain all parts of the grain and all naturally present nutrients in the grain. A restored cereal has had thiamine, niacin and iron added to replace any of these nutrients lost during processing.

What vitamins do high vitamin cereals contain?

In addition to the nutrients naturally present in cereals, the High Vitamin cereals usually contain added amounts of vitamin B₁ (thiamine), B₂ (riboflavin), B₆, and niacin. Many have vitamins A, C and D, as well. Iron is also added to help provide this nutrient which is deficient in many diets.

Today, about three out of every four cereals contain at least a third of the recognized daily needs of key vitamins in a one-ounce serving. Some provide 100%. Information about added vitamins and iron can be found on each package.

What are high protein cereals?

High protein cereals contain substantially more protein than the 9% average of most other breakfast cereals. Generally, these cereals are also fortified with additional vitamins and iron.

Are man-made vitamins added to cereals as good as natural vitamins?

A vitamin has the identical chemical composition whether it is man-made or is present naturally in foods. For example, thiamine (vitamin B₁) produced by grains is identical to thiamine made in the laboratory. The human body knows only the chemical composition and, therefore, vitamins from both sources are utilized in the same way.

Why should cereals be included in the diet?

They are nutritious, supplying needed vitamins, minerals, carbohydrates and protein. They are low in calories and fat, important factors in many American diets.

Breakfast cereals fit today's life styles. People spend less time preparing breakfast and need convenient, easy-to-fix foods that taste good and provide needed nutrients.

TRY SOME OLD-FASHIONED COOKIES

Have you ever stepped into an old-fashioned bake shop, smelled the fragrance of freshly-baked gingerbread men, big sugar cookies, moist and chewy macarons... and wished you had the recipes for those old-fashioned goodies?

Most colonial cookies were rolled and cut into various shapes. Jumbles were made of a firm dough that could be shaped in the hands or cut into fancy shapes. The spice commonly used in Jumbles was nutmeg. Almond Cookies were made with a mace-flavored dough which was formed into balls and rolled in chopped almonds before baking.

Today, we have the best of two worlds — the modern kitchen conveniences and the long-remembered recipes for those old-fashioned cookies. Here are two colonial-inspired recipes brought up-to-date for today's homemaker. Although these recipes are adapted to modern kitchens, the old-fashioned flavor and spicy fragrances of long ago still prevail. Versatile Slick Blue Bonnet Margarine, the modern spread, gives these cookies that old-fashioned buttery flavor.

JUMBLES

- 1/2 cup (1 stick) softened Blue Bonnet Margarine
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2 cups unsifted flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Combine softened Blue Bonnet Margarine and egg. In a separate bowl blend together flour, 1 cup sugar and nutmeg. Stir into margarine mixture; mix. Turn out onto lightly floured board and knead lightly a few times until dough forms a ball. Wrap in waxed paper and chill 1 hour.

To shape, lightly roll about 1 tablespoon dough into a 6-inch rope. Roll in sugar. Place on greased baking sheet, curving to form ring. Repeat until dough is used.

Bake at 375°F. about 12 minutes, or until done. Remove from baking sheets and cool on wire racks. Makes 32 cookies.

ALMOND COOKIES

- 1 cup (2 sticks) Blue Bonnet Margarine, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 1/2 cups unsifted flour
- 1 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon ground mace

1-1/4 cups chopped Planters or Southern Belle Blanched Almonds

In a large bowl cream together softened Blue Bonnet Margarine and sugar until light. Mix in egg. In a separate bowl blend together flour, cream of tartar, baking soda and mace. Stir into margarine mixture. Blend well.

Form dough into 1-inch balls. Roll in chopped Planters or Southern Belle Blanched Almonds. Place on greased baking sheets. Press down, using floured tumbler.

Bake at 375°F. 12 to 15 minutes, or until slightly brown. Remove from baking sheets and cool on wire racks. Makes 36 cookies.

TOB Repertory Theatre

The schedule of performances for the current season of the Town of Oyster Bay Teen Repertory Theatre was announced this week by Town Councilman Warren M. Doolittle.

The highly talented troupe, which performs in live productions for children, will open its fourth winter season on Saturday, January 20, at the Plainview-Old Bethpage High School with an after-school performance of "The Magic Shoes." Subsequent performances have been scheduled for succeeding Saturdays through April 7 at various schools throughout the Town.

The Teen Repertory Theatre was formed seven years ago by CAPA (Cultural and Performing Arts Division of the Town's Recreation Department.) Each fall, several talented Oyster Bay Town teens are chosen at auditions and receive one-year scholarships entitling them to attend a series of free workshops in acting and stage technique. In the course of the year they tour the Town in three plays for children.

"The Magic Shoes" is a fully-staged, fully-costumed production based on Hans Christian Andersen's story, "The Red Shoes." Last winter the company performed in Town schools in "The King's Creepers" and "The Enchanted Playroom" and "The Gingerbread House" at Town parks and libraries.

Productions at each school are presented in cooperation with the local PTA group, and the nominal admissions charged go to the support of that organization.

New Staff Members

In an effort to meet the growing number of requests for counseling treatment, Jewish Community Services of Long Island has added another social worker to the professional staff of its Hicksville office at 72 N. Broadway. Mrs. Edna Lenchner was assigned to the branch two weeks ago according to an announcement by George Rothman, Executive Director of the agency. Mrs. Lenchner was previously on the staff of the JCSLI office in Hempstead.

The Hicksville branch was opened two months ago. Explaining the rapid addition to staff, Mr. Rothman said, "We are obviously meeting an important need for service in the Oyster Bay area. We have a great many requests for help with problems, and we want this help to be prompt and efficient. That is the reason for making this new appointment so swiftly."

Jewish Community Services of Long Island provides a complete counseling and family assistance program for the family as a whole or any one of its members. Its professional staff of certified social workers offers treatment on an individual or a group basis. More than 6,000 cases are treated for each year. JCSLI is an affiliate of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies of New York.

A resident of East Meadow, Mrs. Lenchner is active in community affairs. She helped found the East Meadow Cooperative Nursery School and served as an officer of the East Meadow Human Rights Committee. Mrs. Lenchner received her Master of Social Work Degree from the Adelphi School of Social Work.

Summer Intern Program

Town Supervisor John W. Burke announced that applications for the Town's Summer Intern Program are now available to college students who reside within Oyster Bay.

This marks the fourth year that the program has been offered. It was designed by Burke in 1970 to attract young people into careers in government service, broaden their educative experience and tap the energy and new ideas of young people.

retirement checks. Now my neighbor tells me that my checks might be increased because of a new social security law. Is he right?

ANS: Recent changes in the social security law may mean an increase in your social security payment. The law now provides a special minimum benefit for people who have worked regularly under social security for more than 20 years. Since you worked regularly under social security more than 20 years, your minimum benefit could be as much as $170 a month beginning in January. You will first receive your higher benefit amount in your check of April 3rd. You will receive whichever payment is higher—your present monthly payment or the special minimum.

Rooming House Hearing

By Janet Gossell

A fine of $25, each was paid by defendants Harry Pincus and Phyllis Pincus in December 1972, after having pled guilty to the charge of renting rooms to 4 boarders in violation of the town building department ordinance. It was disclosed after inquiries by the Town of Oyster Bay attorney's office this week.

According to the legal records, the matter first came to the attorney's office in October, 1972, in the form of a letter from the building department indicating that somebody had called its attention to the violation. A suit was instituted by the Town and subsequently adjourned at the request of the defendants from a November trial date to a date in December, at which time no further adjournments were allowed. The defendants then changed their plea to guilty, paid the fine, which is half of the maximum fine, ($50.00) allowed for a building department violation in the town, and began proceedings for a public hearing before the Town Board to permit the continuation of the operation of the residence on Maytime Court, in Jericho, as a rooming house for ladies who are "not old enough or sick enough to be in a nursing home, yet are afraid or unwilling to live alone." According to Mrs. Pincus, The hearing is scheduled to take place on Tuesday, January 23rd.

All legal action against the Pincus' as a result of their guilty plea in December is being held in abeyance pending a determination by the Town Board, the attorney's office said.

According to the legal files, a rate of $125. per week was being paid by boarders. A building inspector from the town building department noted at least four doors with locks on them in addition to the regular living quarters of the house, according to the Town attorney assigned to the District Court.
