Rev. David H. Meyers New Assistant Pastor St. Stephen's Church

On Sunday, August 26th, at 2:30 in the afternoon, the Rev. David H. Meyers, recent graduate of the Philadelphia Lutheran Seminary was ordained and installed as Assistant Pastor of the Lutheran Church of St. Stephen's. Rev. Meyers is a graduate of Northwestern University, holding a Bachelor of Arts degree in English literature. In May of this year he received his Master of Divinity degree from Philadelphia Seminary. He is engaged to Miss Linda Rahn of Staten Island. Miss Rahn is completing her work at Wagner College and will soon be taking the Registered Nurse's examination.

Officiating at the Service was the Reverend James A. Graef, President of the Metropolitan New York Synod. The Reverend Richard Pankow, Dean of the Nassau-Suffolk District and the Pastor of St. Stephen's, the Reverend Rolando J. Perez, Mr. George Samuelsen, member of the congregation and former president of the church council acted as lector. Mr. Wayne Miranda acted as Acolyte.

In his sermon based upon the text: "And Jesus said, feed my sheep," Pastor Perez stressed the point that both laymen and clergy must never forget to whom the church belongs. Almighty God.

Rev. David H. Meyers

The order of ordination was highlighted by the fact that Pastor Meyers' mother and father both participated in the laying on of hands, the official visible act of ordination. Following the service, the ladies of the congregation under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Cresman served a reception in the garden adjacent to the church. Pastor Meyers will begin his duties at the parish on September first.

Herald Report Hicksville School District

By SHIRLEY SMITH

At last week's board of education meeting plaques were presented to former board trustees, Thomas Clark, Frank Zindulka and George Pappas. School board president, Robert Pirrung, thanked these men for their service to the community.

The board approved the re-appointment of district clerk, Mrs. Mary C. Blust, and district treasurer, Mr. Herbert Bachmann. District auditor, Solomon Newborn, presented his report on the annual audit. Inventory control has improved over the last two years, but it still needs more work. A district-wide operational manual on inventory should be instituted and used, as well as an internal auditing committee. This function is currently being performed by the business office, but since this office also handles purchasing, the auditor suggested another method.

Mr. Pirrung said he had been contacted by many parents who were informed last week that their children attending Chamrade High School in Mineola would have to use public transportation rather than the school bus available in past years. The school board complained because they had not been notified before the students and their parents. Dr. Fred Hill, assistant superintendent, pointed out this was an economy move which had been adopted with the second budget vote. Since it had not been made clear to the board members and voters before and because the bus will only cost $4500 (due to state aid reimbursement) the board voted to reinstate the bus. Many of the twenty-three families affected by the bus change were present at the meeting and they expressed thanks to the school board for its decision.

The board approved bids and bills for routine expenses of the district. They authorized purchase of composition folders for grades 7 through 12. These folders will contain samples of themes which will be required in all English classes and reports on the progress of students in the various aspects of the English language - spelling, grammar, sentence structure, etc. These will be checked by department heads to insure that the folders are kept up to date. The folders will enable teachers to see a student's weaknesses and check his progress. Parents will also be able to see the folders and discuss their contents with the teachers.

A policy to enforce the use of these folders will be forthcoming by October 1.

The board approved increases in the school lunch program. The new prices are 15 cents for milk and 60 cents for the students' lunch. The milk increase is due to the loss of government subsidy. The cafeteria operated at a $63,000 loss last year, the deficit being made up from the school budget. The board will continue the lunch program, as is, for three months and then discuss whether changes should be made and what changes to make.

At previous meetings during the summer, the school board elected the following officers for the 1973-74 school year: President - Robert Pirrung; Vice President - Neil McCormick; and Secretary - Edward Bello.

The total tax rate for the school year was set at $13.124 per $100 assessed valuation. The breakdown is as follows: school tax - $12.723 (a 50 cent increase over last year) and library tax - $.401.

School board meetings are now held on Wednesday night (the second and last of each month) at 8 p.m. in the conference room of the Administration Building on Division Avenue. The next meeting is Sept. 12.

With these Safety Rules

-----Clip and save these Back to School Safety Rules-----

GENERAL SAFETY RULES

1. Always wait for the school bus on the sidewalk.
2. Follow this procedure when getting off the bus: make sure you walk at least 10 steps ahead of the bus. Look back at the driver, wait until he signals. Make sure all other traffic has stopped, then cross.
3. Don't attempt to cross the street between parked cars.
4. Know and obey the traffic regulations. They apply to bicycles as well as to cars. Stop for all stop signs and traffic lights. Use hand signals to let others know what you are doing.
5. When riding your bicycle, ride on the right hand side of the street, wherever practical.
6. Don't ride your bicycle at night without a white light on the front, and a red reflector on the rear of your bike.
7. Don't carry another person on your bike. It makes steering uncertain and your balance unsteady. Never ride more than two abreast.
8. Don't ride from alleys and driveways without stopping to look and see that the streets are clear.
9. Park your bike in the rack when racks are provided, carry a lock and lock it. Don't leave it on the sidewalk, if no rack is available park it against a building.
10. Don't weave in and out of traffic or try trick riding on the street or sidewalk. Walk through badly congested traffic - its safer.
11. Don't hitch hike.
12. Dial 911 in an emergency. A policeman will be there in minutes to help you.

"School's Open-Drive Carefully"

Thousands of street poles throughout New York State will be brightened this fall by colorful safety posters dramatizing the need for extra alertness by motorists during the school reopening period.

Probably at no other time of the year is the need for driving caution greater than in September. For at this time, several million children make the annual trek back to school, fresh from their vacations. In their enthusiasm at play they may dart into the street after a thrown ball - or run across an intersection to greet a schoolmate - or step out into traffic in the middle of a block.

To highlight the need for added caution on the part of motorists, the New York State Automobile Association launched its first "School's Open" campaign in 1946. The campaign's success may be gauged by a look at official statistics which show a marked reduction in state traffic fatalities among children from 5 to 14 years of age in every year since 1945, the year before the first campaign. During the same period, both motor vehicle registrations and school enrollments have risen to all-time highs.

The 24,000 safety posters being displayed at major intersections, business and shopping districts and school crossings are but part of the AAA's state-wide safety effort this fall. The posters will be augmented by more than 175,000 bumper strips carrying the "School's Open" message on public, private and commercial motor vehicles. Then, too, 30,000 AAA-sponsored School Safety Patrol boys and girls will be stationed at school crossings to assist police and civilian guards.

In true community spirit, mayors, school officials, business leaders, parent-teacher associations, Boy Scouts, and thousands of individual motorists will participate in this year's campaign. State officials, including the Governor, the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, the Commissioner of Education and the Superintendent of State Police have endorsed this program.

The New York State Association of Chiefs of Police has again adopted a resolution in support of the campaign and more than 100 police departments have followed through on this resolution by taking an active part in erecting the posters in their communities.

"School's Open - Drive Carefully" is a lesson all motorists should remember and put into practice. Increased traffic safety, particularly concerning our children, should be a never-ending goal.

Caso Launches Schools Open Safety Drive

Presentation of the first "School's Open - Drive Carefully" poster to County Executive Ralph G. Caso marks the opening of the Automobile Club of New York's 28th annual fall traffic safety campaign in Nassau County.

The black and orange poster was presented to Mr. Caso and Police Commissioner Louis J. Frank by Gilbert B. Phillips, president of the Automobile Club in a ceremony at the County Executive Building in Mineola.

Over this weekend, more than 4,000 posters will be placed on utility and street poles in Nassau County by police and school officials. The posters, reminding motorists to use added caution during the school reopening period, will remain on display at major street intersections and school crossings during September and October.

An additional reminder to motorists in the New York metropolitan area will be provided by the AAA in the form of more than 175,000 bumper strips bearing the safety message. With the help of local Boy Scouts, they will be distributed for use on buses, trucks, official cars and passenger vehicles.

Starting with the first day of school, members of the AAA-sponsored School Safety Patrols will report for duty at school crossings to insure the safety of local school children by assisting police and school crossing guards.

The AAA campaign was begun in 1946. Since then, traffic fatalities among children from 5 to 14 years of age have been sharply reduced in New York State despite a considerable increase in both motor vehicle registrations and school enrollments.

Pre-Retirement Counseling Workshops

For the sixth consecutive year, the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs will offer its award-winning series of Pre-retirement Counseling Workshops starting September 24, in fifteen communities throughout the County.

Keyed to the theme, "Retirement Can Be A Beginning", the Workshops are designed for those in their 40's and 50's who are ten or more years from retirement. Run in cooperation with local Adult Education Departments and libraries, the series of six weekly 2-hour evening Workshops consist of professionally lead discussions on topics like "The Truth About Retirement Communities", "Physical and Mental Health in Retirement", "Legal and Financial Planning", "Leisure Time Activities", "Life and Love after 60" and "The Facts About Social Security." Volunteer coordinators from each community serve as moderators during the question and answer periods which follow each session.

In announcing the Fall, 1973 series of Pre-retirement Counseling Workshops, Mrs. Adelaide Attard, Director of the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs says, "Retirement can be traumatic when income is reduced, identity is lost and hours drag. Through attendance at these Workshops, our Department hopes to prepare men and women for retirement years of security, challenge and fulfillment."

The Department's Pre-retirement Counseling Workshop program has just been awarded the County Achievement Award by the National Association of Counties in competition with programs throughout the country.

Attendance at each Workshop is limited to 40, and spouses are encouraged to attend together. Communities offering Workshops starting in September and October are Baldwin, Bellmore, Elmont, Freeport, Garden City, Glen Cove, Hempstead, Herricks, Hicksville, Long Beach, Malverne, New Hyde Park, Plainville, Port Washington (includes Great Neck, Manhasset, Roslyn) and Valley Stream. ## Ice Hockey Registration Sept 8 and 15

Town Councilman Joseph J. Saladino announced this week that registration for the Tobay Ice Hockey League will take place on Saturday September 8 and 15.

Registration will be held at Syosset - Woodbury Community Park from 10:00 AM through noon. All boys between the ages of 6 and 18 who live in the Town are eligible. Birth Certificates will be required as proof of age. The fee will be $20 which is not refundable.

This year marks the seventh season of the Tobay Ice Hockey League. It is the largest operation of its kind on Long Island. It is conducted under 4 separate programs. The Tobay Ice Hockey School is an instructional and development program for boys ages 6 to 10. The boys are coached in basic hockey fundamentals, skating drills and hockey scrimmages in preparation for future competition.

The Tobay Ice Hockey League is for boys ages 10 to 18. The league is divided into three associations - The Massapequa Association, the Bethpage Association and the Syosset Association. The boys are assigned to teams on the basis of age and ability. Seniors are from age 15 to 18 while Juniors are 10 to 14. The boys are classified as "A" or "B" players based on their respective ability. This system insures that a boy is in competition with others of his own age and talent.

The Town of Oyster Bay High School League is comprised of boys from 8 high schools in the Town including Locust Valley, Syosset, John F. Kennedy in Plainville, Bethpage, Plainville, Berner, Massapequa Park and Massapequa. This program is unique in that the players organized it themselves and they also administer it. It is the only high school ice hockey league on Long Island. Many of the players who finish high school are fully prepared to play on college squads.

The fourth program involves the Town's All-Star teams. These teams comprise the Town's finest hockey players and compete in the Long Island Hockey League. The teams, organized by age groups, range from the Juvenile Division for players up to 17 years of age to the Mites Division, comprised of youngsters of exceptional ability up to the age of 10.

"Our ice hockey program has proved to be one of the finest anywhere," Councilman Saladino stated. "It not only provides an opportunity for boys to learn and play one of the most exciting sports ever invented, but gives them a sense of sportsmanship and competition that will be invaluable to them throughout their lives."

Dear Friends...

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE, but Sept. is here and once again, mothers are busy getting their offspring ready for school, with a gentle sigh of relief, which is indulged in even by the children, who have usually "had it" with vacation long before the end of August... even though they would never admit it! Well, it's really back to school right now, in everything except the weather, and even that can change from the present heat wave, to a normal Sept. Indian summer in the matter of a few days. So, here they come teachers! All you drivers, (and that includes most of us,) please remember to watch out, not only for the stopped school busses, but also for the young people on foot and on their bicycles. In other words... DRIVE CAREFULLY... SCHOOLS OPEN.

Shaughnessy, Professor of Music at Southampton College intends to use the device in his music classes. A Braille mode for blind students will also be available....congratulations to Ann Gaertner, 18, an employee of the Plainview McDonald's Restaurant, who won an all-expense paid trip to Las Vegas to represent MacDonald's on the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy.

JOHN W. BURKE REPORTS

Many communities around Long Island are planning events in commemoration of our Country's 200th birthday in 1976. For almost two years now, Oyster Bay's American Revolution Bicentennial Commission has been developing and sponsoring a variety of programs celebrating the rich heritage of our Town.

The Bicentennial era is the ideal time in which to review the principles and aims for which the American Revolution was fought, and to dedicate activities in the memory of those whose courage and personal sacrifice assured their independence and the independence of future generations.

The Commission is planning a variety of programs designed to meet these ends. The celebration has a three-fold aim: commemoration, preservation and education.

The 200th anniversary observance of the Declaration of Independence will be carried out during the course of 1976, and includes the gathering of elements of local July 4th parades into a central area of the Town for an old-fashioned Independence celebration. The grand parade will include reenactment of the Declaration of Independence, orations, games and prizes and, in the evening, a fireworks display.

A Town of Oyster Bay commemorative medal, planned as the first of a pair of medallions to commemorate important dates and events of our past, will also be struck and issued in 1976.

Encouraging the preservation of historic districts is a concern of present day importance. Among the specific preservation aims set for the 200th Anniversary year are the restoration of a structure of major historical or architectural significance, a Town-wide architectural survey and the placing of historical markers and the partial reconstruction of the British Fort on Fort Hill in Oyster Bay hamlet which was erected in 1778 by Lieutenant Colonel Simcoe. The Town is also considering proposals for a Landmarks Preservation Commission and an Historic Preservation Ordinance.

The Oyster Bay Bicentennial Commission has also set 1976 as the target date for a number of educational endeavors. The publication of a history of the Town, the compilation of American Revolution Bicentennial kits for elementary and junior high school students, and an historical newsletter to enhance the general public's knowledge and appreciation of our past, are among the projects now being coordinated.

We in Oyster Bay are looking forward to these and other activities to commemorate the establishment of our nation's independence and the rekindling of the Spirit of '76.

RONCALLO REPORTS

By Congressman Angelo D. Roncallo

This final week of the Summer Recess finds me at home enjoying Long Island and all that is available for us to do during the summer months. I have spent a good deal of time catching up with my family and friends and making up for some of the time lost with them during the rest of the year when I am in Washington five days a week.

I have also had the chance to get out and get some soundings from the people around the district—what's on their minds, what they would like to see me accomplish in the rest of my first term in Congress. I plan to go into more detail on that subject next week and I think you'll be interested in what a lot of your neighbors are thinking and saying.

As long as the kids are getting back to school this week I thought I'd bring to your attention an offer which the Library of Congress in Washington makes to "educational institutions and public bodies throughout the United States." It's one of the few things I've seen where the government is actually giving something back to the taxpayer free!

Specifically, the Library maintains a collection of surplus books on miscellaneous subjects which are available free to those schools and libraries which qualify. This includes any educational institution—public, private or parochial.

These books are not catalogued and would have to be inspected and selected in person by someone authorized by your school or library. Since changes are so frequent, the Library of Congress does not maintain an up-to-date listing of the books available. However, they are more than happy to let you look through and select any that you want.

When you are discussing your book budget for the coming year it might be worthwhile keeping this offer in mind. Library personnel are more than accommodating and I am sure that they would welcome any inquiry you might make into their stock.

They do stipulate that they cannot pay shipping charges so if you are interested in their books it might be a good idea to plan to drive down. That way you'll kill two birds—being able to choose your books on the spot and bring them back with you to prevent any unnecessary shipping charges to you or your organization.

If this idea appeals to you, give me a call at my Cold Spring Harbor Office (367-3600) and I will see that you get the necessary identification card to present at the Library Office in Washington.

TRANSPLANTING

Fall transplanting of bare root and large balled and burlap plants should be delayed until the plant has stopped growing and the new growth has hardened. However, don't wait until the leaves have begun to fall before deciding on transplanting your trees and shrubs.

To determine the proper time to transplant trees and shrubs, observe the color of the new growth. If the tips of the branches are still soft and small young leaves are still being produced, the plant is still growing and should not be moved.

However, you can hasten maturity by simply root pruning the plant and allowing it to remain in its original position until the new growth has lost its softness and it has stopped producing new leaves. Allow a few weeks to lapse after this before moving the plant. Consult the Cooperative Extension Bulletin, "Pruning Ornamental Trees and Shrubs" for additional information on root pruning.

BACK TO WORK

Most of the 535 Congressmen and Senators returned from a month-long summer recess during which most of them, like many vacationers, had to mix business with pleasure. While many took advantage of the August breather to vacation with families, still more spent a goodly amount of time in their District offices meeting with constituents.

As the speaker gavelled the House back into session, legislative battles were already shaping over several major pieces of legislation, including a long-stalled trade bill, a budgetary reform measure, and sure showdowns on many of the appropriations bills.

AFFORDABLE MEAT - OR JUST ANOTHER BEEF?

Many shoppers, myself included, are looking to next Wednesday's lifting of the beef price ceiling to see what its effect will be. While many people have been irritated with the shortage of beef in supermarket cases during recent weeks, some economists have forecasted that the President's refusal to lift the price ceiling earlier may indeed pay off in more moderate prices for the shopper. They contend that ranchers who corralled their herds in anticipation of the September 12th ceiling expiration may not be able to hike prices after all, due to a simple situation of supply and demand.

While the steers were hoarded the past two months, the ensuing flood of meat in the markets expected next Wednesday may keep prices reasonable. Mr. Nixon's decision to hold the line was a calculated move which could go either way. I'm hopeful that the consumer wins this one!

CAPA Sponsored Craft Workshops Offered In Town Libraries

Oyster Bay Town libraries will play host to a series of craft workshops sponsored by CAPA (Cultural and Performing Arts Division of the Town's Recreation and Community Services Department).

Conducted by the well-known craftsman, Trudy Stein, over a period of five weeks, the workshops will cover photocraft and the folk art of bread dough. The two-hour, weekly sessions begin September 17 in cooperation with libraries in Syosset, Glen Cove, Hicksville, Plainville and Plainville.

Photocraft is the newly-devised process of transferring photographs or any printed design to the surface of such objects as shades, wastebaskets, lamp bases, etc. A darkroom is required and the process is a simple one, resulting in distinctive, individualized decorations.

The folk art of bread dough is an early American craft currently enjoying a revival. Workshop participants will be instructed in the shaping of flowers, jewelry, decorative mirrors, plaques, etc. The objects can be created in conjunction with photocraft.

Registration for the workshops is currently being accepted.

Those interested in participating are invited to send a check for $6 (payable to Town of Oyster Bay Workshops) to the library of their choice. Registration fee does not include cost of materials.

The workshops are scheduled as follows:

welding Cuban mob was something we could all be proud of, but few could take any pride in the behavior of the Russians' abuse of the Israeli competitors. The atrocious treatment of the Israelis, whether state-sanctioned or spontaneous, was crude and vicious. In any fair-minded judge's eyes, it should, by itself, disqualify the Soviets from hosting the 1980 Olympics, something they've had their eye on for some months now.

Murphy Hails Boys' Football Day

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, at the request of Assemblyman George A. Murphy, has proclaimed Sunday, September 15th, Boys' Football Day to mark the opening of the football season for thousands of youngsters throughout the State between the ages of 8 and 15 who will take the field to the cheers of relatives, friends and supporters.

The Governor's proclamation notes that the State has long recognized the value of the football as a builder of character as well as muscle and has opened increasing numbers of playing fields and recreation areas to supplement the facilities provided by local schools.

Assemblyman Murphy, a longtime advocate of organized recreation and sports activities for youth, said "I am happy to learn that the Governor has proclaimed September 15th as Boys' Football Day for he rightly pays tribute to the many youngsters who participate during the autumn and winter months. I wish every youngster participating in organized football the best of luck for a successful season."

WE'VE ONLY JUST BEGUN: Valerie Homer of Plainville hands an application for a marriage license to Oyster Bay

Town Clerk Ann R. Ocker while her fiancée, Gilbert Faggart of Westbury, looks on. Valerie and Gilbert were the one-thousandth applicants for a marriage license this year. During the same period last year, only 942 licenses were issued.

On a balmy Sunday afternoon, the Long Island Model A Club with approximately 100 cars, paid a surprise visit to The Gregory Museum, Hicksville. A 1931 Roadster, a 29 Sports Coupe, a 2-door Sedan, a 4-door Sedan, a Model A Coupe and many, many more models, all in immaculate condition, delighted the public. The museum's staff was honored to have the pleasure of conducting the members of the Model A Club on a tour through the museum and to serve light refreshments. Upon bidding a "fond farewell" to The Gregory Museum, the Model A Club continued to "stop by and surprise" many populated areas such as the airport, etc., thus treating "old timers" and "youngsters" to a touch of nostalgia.

Aluminum Collection Scheduled

Encouraged by an "excellent beginning" in its first major metropolitan area drive, Reynolds Metals Company is urging the public to cash in on its mobile recycling program during the month of September. Reynolds will pay 10 cents a pound on the spot for used household aluminum including beer and soda cans, aluminum snap tops, foil, and frozen dinner trays.

In its first month of operation, the company paid Long Islanders $2,674 for 600,000 aluminum cans. A new schedule of collection will increase the number of Long Island visits with a local collection set for Mid-Island Plaza, Fridays, September 7 and 21, from 10 AM to 3:30 PM.

People bringing aluminum cans to the mobile unit are asked to flatten them first so they take up less space. Unflattened cans, however, are accepted.

Reynolds cautions consumers that easy-open cans may say "aluminum" on the top, but may not be all-aluminum. A sure test

RECORD-BREAKING COLLECTION—Janet Pace of Hicksville was one of the 45 donors of scrap aluminum who broke all records for collection in Nassau in one month—3692 pounds of aluminum headed for recycling. Reynolds Metals Company is sponsoring drive is the "magnet test" — unlike other metals, aluminum is non-magnetic. Cans made of aluminum can also be recognized by their rounded bottoms and the absence of a side seam.

Saving aluminum cans and redeeming them not only prevents litter, but also saves energy. When an aluminum can is recycled for re-use, it requires less than five percent of the energy needed to produce it originally.

Civic and charitable groups are encouraged to organize aluminum collection programs as a fund-raising tool. For tips and advice on how to start a project, write to the company's recycling coordinator, E. Hale Jones Associates, 200 Park Avenue, Suite 303 East, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Extend Beach and Pool Hours

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso directed Recreation and Parks Director Richard Fitch to extend the hours at the county's beaches and pools for the duration of the current heat wave.

Caso said the additional hours at night will enable more county residents, especially commuters, to get down to the pools to "cool off."

At the county executive's direction, the following pool schedule will be in effect starting today:

Nassau Beach and Hempstead Harbor beaches — instead of closing at 7 P.M., they will be open until dusk.

The three pools at Nassau Beach — instead of closing at 7 P.M., they will be open until dusk.

The pools at Wantagh Park, North Woodmere Park, Christopher Morley Park, Cantiague Park and Whitney Pond Park — instead of closing at 8 P.M., they will be open until 10 p.m.

In summer Soccer competition, our Hicksville Americans, 11 and 12 year old boys, went undefeated in a darling season against older teams. They took top position in the Northport Soccer Tournament and the German-American League.

On July 15th, they played host to a Florida team at Hofstra Stadium and beat a powerful Miami Tornado team 2-0. Their team spirit, sportsmanship, ball control and knowledge of the game brought them the admiration of their opponents from Miami to Northport.

Congratulations boys and coaches.

The Prescription Drug Law

A pharmaceutical profile will accompany every trial of prescription drugs filled on and after Sept. 1.

The new law, sponsored by Assemblyman Stuart R. Levine (R-Bethpage), will require that the specific brand name and strength of the drug is contained on the label unless for some reason the prescribing physician specifically requests in writing that the information not be given.

In the past, said Assemblyman Levine, "chronically ill individuals under constant daily medication have actually lost their lives because, while unconscious, other physicians have unwittingly administered medication which was either lethal in combination with the drug already ingested or which fatally aggravated existing maladies. Rapid identification of drugs will indicate the presence of illness to physicians and will keep them from introducing material which could provoke a physical crisis.

The drug labeling law will also be of tremendous benefit in treating young children who accidentally swallow potentially lethal doses of drugs. Immediate antidote treatment will save many young lives in these situations because drug identification will be made instantly.

Besides the public safety precaution inherent in this new law, concluded Levine, "increased consumer protection will be provided because, along with another new measure requiring the price posting of the 150 most frequently prescribed drugs,

Safer Toys Due In New York State

Beginning September 1, a tough new law in New York State makes it virtually impossible for toy makers to ignore consumer demands for safer toys. The law forbids the manufacture, import and sale of toys considered hazardous because of inherent design defects or predictable abuse by children.

Author of the measure, State Senator Ralph J. Marino (R-Syosset) warns, however, "The law is not self-operative. Its effectiveness depends on an alert public willing to exert its vigilance needed to protect our children from dangerous playthings before they are injured."

Marino suggests that "a little common sense and knowledge of what constitutes a hazardous toy will help us rid the marketplace of peril." For three years, the lawmaker worked closely with the Attorney General's consumer division developing and refining the statute's precise language in order to ensure tight regulation. A hazardous toy is described as any item intended for play purposes by children under fourteen that may cause injury or illness through its electrical, thermal or mechanical properties.

The law defines a toy presenting an electrical hazard as one which may cause injury by shock or electrocution; one presenting a thermal hazard when there is a risk from heated parts, substances or surfaces. These are often inherent in electrical plug-in types of toys or those utilizing high battery power.

Mechanical hazards are defined as those which may cause unreasonable risk or injury from fracture or disassembly of the article; from propulsion actions; from sharp points or protrusions; from fast-motion actions having insufficient stop controls, or from instability.

Also included on the danger list are articles, or any parts of them, that may be inhaled or swallowed; stuffing material having harmful substances, and risks from self-adhering characteristics. This group presents the greatest risks in some seemingly harmless toys and stuffed objects made for infants and toddlers.

Marino urges the public to report dangerous toys to the Attorney General's Office of Consumer Affairs, 2 World Trade Center, New York, N.Y., 212-484-7450. The office will pursue an investigation to determine if action is warranted.

Many dangerous playthings have already been banned by the government under the Federal Hazardous Substances Act. Under Marino's law, the state's Attorney General is authorized to act against sellers of goods already on the list of federally banned toys.

If the toy has not been ruled upon by the Federal government, the Attorney General could undertake action on his own asking the courts to declare a toy hazardous and authorize him to seize it from manufacturers or stores and impose criminal penalties.

Approval of Marino's measure marked a major victory in the face of bitter opposition by toy manufacturers and retailers. It had strong support, however, from the Ralph Nader-inspired Central New York Public Interest Research Group and was lauded by metropolitan area consumer groups as the most substantial pro-consumer action of the year.

Cultural Arts Workshops To Be Held In Syosset-Woodbury

The fall semester of the cultural arts workshops in Syosset-Woodbury sponsored by the Town of Oyster Bay will begin October 1, 1973.

This non-profit, self-sustaining program for adults, teens and children is held at the Syosset-Woodbury Park Community Center and at the Syosset Library. It is coordinated by CAPA (Cultural & Performing Arts Division of the Town's Department of Recreation and Community Services).

Now beginning its eighth year, the workshop program is designed to meet the current, diversified interests of creative and inquisitive adults, to challenge teens and expand their experience, to stimulate and develop the skills and talents of children and to provide a meaningful growth experience for pre-schoolers.

Registration is open to Town of Oyster Bay residents, however, those living within the Syosset-Woodbury Park district are given preference. The fee for most courses ranges from $12-$18 for 8-12 weekly sessions. Mail in registration is accepted on a first-received, first-served basis, if postmarked no later than September 14. In-person registration will take place at the Syosset-Woodbury Park Community Center, 7800 Jericho Turnpike in Woodbury, from 10 AM until 3 PM on September 17-20 (for park district residents) and on September 21 (for out-of-district residents).

Workshops for adults, which are conducted weekdays from 9:30 AM until 3 PM, include: body conditioning through dance, sewing, interior decoration, needlework, watercolor, bridge, sculpture, NYC bus trips (5 trips for $24), contemporary books, crafts, guitar, oil painting, astrology and beaded flowers. Workshops being offered for the first time are art of wall arranging, 3-dimensional art, ceramics, decoration graphics, rug-making, French & Italian cuisine and Chinese cookery.

Newly-added to the Teen program are gymnastics, easy sewing, mosaics, creative writing and judo. The favorite guitar and crafts workshops will be repeated.

Due to their popularity, the following children's workshops will be conducted again this fall: baton-twirling, tap dancing and tumbling, dance, drawing and sketching, magic, creative crafts, guitar, oil painting and puppetry. Workshops in creative dramatics and basic knitting, crocheting and embroidery have been added to the program.

In response to requests from residents, four of the six pre-kindergarten classes have been expanded from two to three half-days a week. Names of those applying for registration in this popular program are being placed on a waiting list. A catalog which describes the workshops and programs and includes registration forms is being mailed to those residents with children in Central School District No. 2. It may also be obtained at the Syosset Library or by calling Kathleen Boyle, Recreation Leader, at 921-5944-5875.

Information about other activities conducted by the Cultural & Performing Arts Division may be obtained from CAPA Supervisor Lois Manning at the same numbers.

O'Keefe Elected to Bank's Board of Trustees

Raymond T. O'Keefe has been elected to Central Savings Bank's Board of Trustees, according to an announcement made today by Central Savings' President, Dr. Verne E. Atwater.

Until his retirement in May of this year, Mr. O'Keefe was Executive Vice President of the Chase Manhattan Bank. He continues as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Chase Manhattan Mortgage and Realty Trust. The Trust was sponsored by Chase Manhattan at its outset three years ago and is now a wholly independent real estate investment trust, the largest in the country.

Mr. O'Keefe also continues as a Director of the Chicago Title & Trust Company, the Chicago Title Insurance Company, the National Corporation for Housing Partnerships, the Realty Foundation of New York and Rockefeller Center.

He is a governor of the Real Estate Board of New York and of the Mortgage Bankers' Association of America and a Trustee of the Citizens Budget Commission.

In announcing Mr. O'Keefe's election to the Central Savings Bank Board of Trustees, Dr. Atwater stressed the importance of bringing into the savings bank field a man with Mr. O'Keefe's experience and skill in the management of real estate investment trusts. Dr. Atwater explained, "Although savings banks have traditionally been a mainstay of the home building industry through their home mortgage financing, they have only just begun to investigate the investment possibilities open to them in the highly diversified real estate trusts."

Mr. O'Keefe grew up in Barre, Vermont, was graduated from Bentley College, now in Waltham, Massachusetts, and has taken part in the Advancement Management Program at Harvard Business School. He and his wife, the former Norma Baldwin, make their home in Manhasset, L.I.

transcendental meditation

On Monday, Sept. 10, 8 PM. at the Jericho Public Library there will be a free introductory lecture on Transcendental Meditation as taught by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi. Transcendental Meditation, or TM, is a simple natural mental technique practiced 15-20 min. morning and evening which provides the mind and body with deep rest allowing the individual to enjoy more relaxed, efficient and productive activity. TM is currently practiced by over a quarter of a million Americans and is rapidly gaining recognition within scientific, educational and medical circles due to the large body of published research on the psychological and physiological benefits of the technique. Research has appeared in, among others, the American Journal of Physiology, the Journal of Psychosomatic Medicine, Scientific American and the Journal of Clinical Research. In addition to these findings, the practical benefits of TM to more creative and productive activity have been discussed in magazines and newspapers such as the Wall Street Journal, Fortune, the New York Times, and Scholastic Teacher.

Monday evening's lecture will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Koss, Jericho residents who spent five months studying under Maharishi to become qualified teachers of TM and who have been active as full-time teachers of the technique on Long Island.

Social Security Question Box

QUES: My father, who gets a small monthly social security check, is still working. He told me it takes a year for him to get his benefit rate increased because of his new yearly earnings. If this is true, isn't he losing some benefits?

ANS: No. Even though there is a delay in refiguring your father's benefit rate, he gets all the increased due him at one time. The refiguring of the rate is usually done in the last 3 months of the year to take into consideration all social security earnings for the previous year, and any increase due is retroactive to January.

Oyster Bay Plans Salute To Theodore Roosevelt

In keeping with its goal of instilling knowledge and public interest in our nation's Bicentennial area, and in order to pay tribute to a great American, the Town of Oyster Bay's American Revolution Bicentennial Commission has initiated and will coordinate a Salute to Theodore Roosevelt.

The event, recently announced by the Commission's Chairman, Miss Dorothy Horton McGee, will take place on Saturday, October 27th, 1973.

"Oyster Bay, a Town that enjoys a unique heritage, was brought into national prominence when Theodore Roosevelt assumed office as the 26th President of the United States," said Miss McGee. "His home at Sagamore Hill—the summer White House, secretarial offices, located at the corner of South and East Main Streets in Oyster Bay hamlet and the historic legacy of the Roosevelt family have left indelible marks enhancing Oyster Bay's history.

"It is most fitting that the Commission chose the 27th of October, 1973, for the commemoration," continued the historian. "This date is the 115th anniversary of the President's birth and commemorates the 75th anniversary year of both the Rough Riders and Roosevelt's election as Governor of New York State."

A program for the observance day is now being developed. Marc Roncallo and William D. Johnston, both members of the Bicentennial Commission, are serving as Chairman of the Parade and Program Committees, respectively. Mr. Johnston is the author of two books about Theodore Roosevelt.

A parade, the route of which has been tentatively designated, will include color guards of units from Boy Scout and Girl Scout Councils, local Fire Departments, service, veteran, civic and historic organizations, bands, antique cars and horse-drawn carriages. A highlight of both the parade and program will be the in-character appearance and remarks of Joe Early, an actor-student of historical figures particularly noted for his past portrayals of Theodore Roosevelt.

Early's response to an announcement of the Salute to Theodore Roosevelt has been most encouraging according to Miss McGee. Among those organizations already participating as co-sponsors are the Boy Scouts of America, Nassau County Council, Inc., the Nassau Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., the Mid-Island Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., the National Park Service, the United States Department of the Interior, the Oyster Bay Historical Society, and the Theodore Roosevelt Association.

Poster and essay contests will be conducted in conjunction with the Roosevelt observance and members of participating Scout Councils will be encouraged to submit entries, awards will be presented during the program.

Library To Show Children's Summer Slides

The photographic slides taken of children's activities at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library this past summer are now ready to be shown, and district youngsters in grades K-6 are invited to a special Summer Slide Showing at the Library on Saturday, September 15, from 2:00 to 3:00 PM. Children's Librarian Mrs. Janet Hoffman will provide the accompanying narration and expects and enthusiastic audience as the children recognize themselves and their friends in the pictures.

In addition to the slide showing, a Sing-A-Long is planned, which will feature staff member Peggy Lennon at the piano, playing camp songs and other favorites.

Free tickets will be available beginning September 7, 1973.

Unions Endorse Caso

Over the Labor Day weekend which is the legal holiday set aside in honor of labor, labor unions throughout Nassau County announced their endorsement of the re-election of County Executive Ralph G. Caso.

The first announcement was made by the Nassau District Council of Carpenters, followed by the Executive Board of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 1049 and the Painters Union Local 798.

Announcing the endorsement of the Carpenters Council, Benjamin Edwards, Chairman of the council's Political Action Committee, said that the 5,500 member brotherhood was "proud to be the first union to publicly go on record in support of Ralph Caso's candidacy."

Caso, accepted with great thanks the endorsement of the labor unions, saying he would continue to lead an administration that was responsive and responsible to the needs of all the people of Nassau County.
