County Executive Ralph G. Caso has awarded a contract for $426,179 to J.D. Posillico, Inc., Farmingdale for improvement of an 8,200-foot segment of South Oyster Bay Road from Old Country Road to Northern State Parkway. Posillico was the lowest of six bidders.

Plans call for reconstructing the existing eight-foot shoulders on each side with a heavier base and then resurfacing the entire 62-foot width. Traffic conduits and boxes will also be placed so that installation of traffic control facilities in the

St. Ignatius Girls' Cadet Corps News

Our girls the Saint Ignatius Girls' Cadet Corps have had another banner year. They just recently retained their title from last year by winning the Greater New York All-Girl Circuit. However, their greatest accomplishment was on August 3rd where they defeated the defending champions, the Melodians, along with ten other corps. This took place in Lynn, Massachusetts where they not only captured everyone's heart but also the title and flag as the 1973 WORLD OPEN ALL-GIRL CHAMPIONS. This designation makes them number one in the United States and Canada.

All of Long Island should be very proud of our girls but especially Hicksville and Saint Ignatius of Loyola where it all started some 15 years ago by Msgr. Bitterman and Mr. Costa, the director.

At this time I, on behalf of all our cadets, would like to thank all those who are very close to our young ladies in one way or another. Mrs. Pal Gomez, Mr. Larry Wallace and Mr. Steve Schnalzer, who are always around when the girls are either practicing or on their way to either a parade or competition. Their job encompasses many things from fixing instruments, uniforms and driving a truck to being a doctor, nurse and chaperone. We also have many working behind the scenes. Mr. Howie Zimmerman, the business manager, does an outstanding job working many hours at his house writing letters and making many telephone calls. He also provides transportation, sleeping

That is why the girls call him Uncle Howie. You think he needs a little help? Good luck to Mr. Phil Gitcher who had been writing checks and taking care of the books up until this year. Phil is no longer with us but we appreciate what he did in the past. Mr. Ray Guckenberger, our new accountant, looks as though he will be very efficient. Good luck, Ray. Another thank you is an order for our chaperones Mr.

We are hoping for even more parent participation next year, for there are many jobs to be done.

Able - Bodied To Work Or Be Trained

State Sen. Norman J. Levy announced that from now on, all able bodied welfare recipients available for jobs will again have to report for work referral or training when they pick up their assistance checks.

"Some 52,000 recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) who were exempted from the regulations during a year of court challenges will again have to report twice monthly to State Employment Service offices," said the Merrick Republican. "They rejoin about 36,000 Home Relief recipients unaffected by the court decisions."

Levy said the "work-and-training" mandate for employable public assistance recipients was a major part of Gov. Rockefeller's 1971 welfare reform program and was upheld on June 23, by the U.S. Supreme Court. During the first week in August, a Federal District Court in Buffalo refused requirement in AFDC cases, pending completion of a detailed comparison of the State's work rules and Federal statutes, as ordered by the Supreme Court.

Since July 1, 1971, when the work requirement began, 45,371 persons on welfare were given work experiences; 92,193 others were denied assistance for failure to train, accept or stay at a job for varying periods of time, from a minimum penalty period of 30 days or until they complied," explained Levy.

The work reporting requirement had been severely restricted since October, 1972, when a Federal District Court exempted the federally-aided welfare categories which represent the bulk of the State's welfare caseload from the requirement.

"The restoration of the work referral requirement to the able-bodied portion of the entire welfare caseload signals a major victory for the continuing welfare reform begun by the Governor and State Legislature in 1971," continued Levy.

"This means that the State can continue to provide the incentives and opportunities for work to those on welfare rolls and who are able to work, allowing us to advance toward the goal set by the Governor and the Legislature two years ago."

Landscaping At Mitchel

Landscaping of the area encompassing the new Meadowbrook Parkway-Mitchel Field interchange has begun under a $272,446 contract awarded by County Executive Ralph G. Caso to Whitman Nurseries, Inc., Huntington Station, lowest of six bidders. Over 1,900 trees and almost 20,000 shrubs will be planted.

Covering about 35 acres, the landscaping will offer a wide variety of trees and evergreens including maple, dogwood, oak, willow, poplar, hawthorn and crabapple. Honeysuckle plants will be used as ground cover particularly on slopes as an anti-erosion measure.

According to Public Works Commissioner John H. Peters the landscaping was planned in cooperation with the Long Island State Park and Recreation Commission, which is responsible for Meadowbrook Parkway, to achieve a natural look and to minimize maintenance costs such as watering.

Most of the planting will be completed this fall except for some trees that require longer nursery development before they can be planted.

BOCES Adopts Free Lunch/Breakfast Policy

The Nassau Board of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES) again this year is providing free and reduced-price lunches and breakfasts to its special education pupils who are unable to pay the full price.

The meals are available to children from low-income families as a requirement of BOCES' participation in the federal school lunch program.

Under a new policy adopted by the BOCES Board of Education, eligibility varies according to family income and the number of persons in the family.

Typically, however, a child from a family of four would be eligible for free lunch and breakfast if the family's income were $3,310 a year or less. A child from a family of five would be eligible if family income were $4,100 a year or less.

Similarly, a child from a family of four is eligible for a reduced-price breakfast and lunch if his family's annual income is $6,380 or less. And a child from a family of five is eligible for the reduction if family income does not exceed $7,320 a year.

A foster child, on the other hand, may be eligible for free or reduced-price meals regardless of his foster parents' annual income. The governing factor in the case of a foster child is the income for that child. Thus such a youngster is eligible for free breakfasts and lunches if the annual income for him is $2,740 or less. He is eligible for reduced-price meals if the annual income for him is $3,380 or less.

In all cases, moreover, the family income scale may be adjusted in determining a youngster's eligibility if the family has incurred excessive medical expenses, disaster or casualty losses, heavy education expenses for handicapped children, or excessive housing costs.

Applications for the free and reduced-price meals are being distributed to all parents whose children attend full-day BOCES programs for the handicapped. Copies of the board policy are available for examination in all BOCES school offices.

Police Contract Approved, Soviets Voted Tax Exempt

By Janet Gosnell

By a vote of six to one, Mayor Suozzi of Glen Cove voting nay, the Nassau County Board of Supervisors on Monday approved a tax exemption for the Soviet Mission in Glen Cove, keeping its approximately $19,000, in taxes away from the local school district and municipalities.

The vote on the controversial issue came after John Burke, Supervisor of the Town of Oyster Bay, made a statement expressing the opinion that the board was duty bound to exempt the Soviet Mission from taxes based on an international agreement between the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the United States to exempt each other's missions and embassies from local taxation.

County Executive Ralph G. Caso, however, read a letter directed at Henry Kissinger requesting that the Federal government return to the city of Glen Cove, the Town of Oyster Bay and the County of Nassau the taxes owing to it by the Soviet Mission, stating the opinion that the entire nation, rather than a small municipality should take the full brunt of an international agreement.

Police Contract

The Board of Supervisors also unanimously approved a new contract for the Nassau County Police, a contract which has been in negotiation since August of 1972. It effect is retroactive to January 1, 1973.

The new contract eliminates the prerequisite of two years of college for policemen to take exams for promotion.

It does not eliminate the two-year college requirement for new policemen, instituted in 1970.

Under the new contract, a policeman who has been on the force since before 1970 and who does not have two years of college may now take a promotional exam.

Police salaries range from $10,648, for a beginning patrolman to $39,420, for the deputy commissioner of police. Annual increments are about $1,000, per year for a patrolman, and about $600, per year for a detective, who starts out with an annual salary of $15,374.

Controversy for and against the new contract arose when Norman Blankman, independent candidate for County Executive, spoke out against it, calling the new contract "contrary to the public law." He said policemen without college should go to college in order to meet the requirement. He made the statement that police costs should be reduced in view of the current reduction in crime in Nassau County.

County Executive Caso said the new contract would have to be submitted to Civil Service. If that agency rules against it, it is null and void, he said.

Julian Jawitz, Long beach Mayor, pointed out to Mr. Blankman that the contract corrects an element of unfairness in the two-year college rule instituted in 1970. Many policemen, it was pointed out, cannot attend college in off-hours because they are putting children through college or have other problems and commitments.

Cliff Schmidt, President of the Police Benevolent Association, called the contract "a good contract," and the result of more than 1,000 hours of negotiation.

Patrick McClusky, Conservative candidate for County Executive applauded the contract in his remarks.

Other Business

In other business the Board voted to invite bids on road resurfacing and new curbing for South Oyster Bay Road for a distance of 5900 feet from Jericho Turnpike to the Northern State Parkway. They also approved a resolution urging the N.Y. State legislature to enact the Levy Housing Accommodations Bill, assuring sound and safe residences for welfare recipients, and awarded the Frank L. Marino Corp. of Elmont, a sum of $40,000, in a breach of contract settlement over work done on the County parking lot in Mineola.

The Supervisors also voted in favor of accepting gifts in behalf of the Nassau County Historical Museum from several donors. Those within the readership of this newspaper are Mrs. Mildred Oldaker, Mrs. Virginia Calkin, Mrs. William Hammond and the Hofstra University Alumni Association, all Hempstead; Mr. William K. Kaiser, Merrick and Mr. Robert P.L. Frick, N. Merrick; Mr. Magnus Hoyork and Mrs. Herbert DeBevoise, both Syosset; and Mr. George P. Malvese, of Hicksville.

Union Retains Rights To Organize WHLI Employees

The National Labor Relations Board has ruled in favor of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, New York Local (AFL-CIO) to the effect that the F.M. Broadcasting Corporation of Hempstead, Long Island which operates stations WHLI and WHLI-FM, has engaged in unfair labor practices by urging their employees to drop union membership and by holding out vague promises of wage increases, retirement and profit sharing plans and other benefits if the employees should do as the company asked.

AFTRA is currently engaged in negotiations with F. M. Broadcasting Corporation for renewal of the union's contract, according to Kenneth Groot, the Executive Secretary of the New York Local.

As a result of the NLRB decision, F.M. Broadcasting has promised not to encourage employees to "decertify" (or drop out of the union) by offering wage increases or other benefits; not to threaten employees with discharge or other reprisals; and not to interfere with employees' rights to form labor organizations. These are the usual requirements of the NLRB.

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers which represents engineers at the station has also filed unfair labor practices charges with the NLRB against F.M. Broadcasting.

RONCALLO REPORTS

By Congressman Angelo D. Roncallo

Washington Report

Congressman
NORMAN F. LENT
301 Street New York

Long Islanders may face a true test of the benefits of federal, state and local governments' ability to cooperate this Fall, in preparation for what could be a heating oil shortage of serious proportions.

The burgeoning "energy crisis" this past year saw attempts by the oil industry to convince us that a gasoline shortage was going to keep our cars garaged all summer - an attempt at bringing pressure on the consuming public that collapsed when government got serious about investigating possible collusion between the industry giants.

Now, the problem has evidently reversed itself. In producing sufficient gasoline to satisfy the appetites of our nation's overweight automobiles, the oil industry has warned us of its impending inability to supply sufficient heating oil to keep our homes warm this Winter. The problem, real or imagined, could be seriously compounded here on Long Island, where over 90 percent of the heating oil dealers serving our homeowners are "independents", much like those of their fellow businessmen who were victims of an oil industry "squeeze" on gasoline availability earlier this year.

This week, President Nixon has promised us a more definitive outline of his proposals to deal with the energy situation. Until

At a state meeting of the AFL-CIO held in the Catskills last week, I was criticized for "not being a friend of the working man." I answered the criticism head-on by saying that any and all votes that I cast here in Congress I do in what I consider to be the overall national interest and not the special interest of any one group.

If I have any so-called philosophy of government it would be this: that a man is elected to represent ALL the people to the best of his native ability. He may receive support from special organized groups, but before they support him they have to realize he is his own man - that he is representing everyone and doesn't owe them any more or any less than he does to any other constituent.

I certainly regard the "interests of the working man" to be the same as the national interest and I have voted in that manner. Now the rub comes when a piece of legislation comes before Congress which is openly pro-labor but not necessarily in anyone else's interest. And this is what generated such strong remarks at the Concord meeting.

They criticized the fact that I had voted against allowing food stamps for strikers. I don't think this practice is a fair application of the food stamp program or in the national interest. And I might add that I received district-wide support for this vote when it was an issue before the House.

I also voted against raising the minimum wage too high too fast. I favor a less inflationary and more gradual approach to a minimum wage hike which would eventually raise it for most workers to $2.20 but by late 1975 not before. This vote may have stepped on some labor toes but I thought it was the only responsible way for us to answer the minimum wage question. I don't have to tell you that we have a serious economic crunch on right now and if we aggravate that situation by inflationary economic policies, we could be hit by the second depression this century before we know it.

I can't apologize for taking a moderate line on minimum wage. I think it was the only responsible avenue available. I did end up voting for the Committee bill which raised the wage to the same level, $2.20 but sooner, because the choice we were left with was that hike or none at all.

A lot of my colleagues here claim that they walk a tightrope between the special interest groups, i.e. they vote one way and publicize it in one part of the district but bury it elsewhere and vice versa. I don't figure that you elected me to play games with you but to represent you. My voting record is open to any and every one I am proud of it but I am absolutely always open to listen and consider valid criticism.

I did come down here to represent every single person in the Third District and I am trying to do just that.

now, he has expressed his opposition to a policy of "mandatory allocation" of heating oil supplies (which would force the major producing companies to supply old customers with traditional quantities of product), and that policy led to a meeting with national energy "czar" Gov. John Love, Senator Buckley, County Executive Caso, Supervisor D'Amato, myself and others in Washington last week.

The nature of our plea to Governor Love was this: That Long Island's unique situation (in being served predominantly by independent oil dealers) required a government policy that would permit these men to purchase heating oil on an equal footing with brand name dealers, at least in our area. One possible alternative to President Nixon's failure to require such a policy would be a waiver of requirements for the use of low sulphur content oil for Long Island's furnaces, in a year in which we had hoped to cut the permissible sulphur content of fuel oil used here by another 40 percent.

While a distasteful answer to the problem, I will be willing to press for a federal exemption to permit use of such fuels if the more logical solution to be found in mandatory allocation is not agreed to.

V.F.W. H.A.D. Softball Game

The second annual softball game of the century, between the William Gouse Jr., V.F.W. Post 3211 and Help-Aid-Directio

(H.A.D.) will take place on Saturday, September 15th at 12 noon, at the Old Country Road School, Hicksville. These two fine community minded service organizations invite both the youth and adults of the Hicksville area to come down and enjoy an afternoon of softball and refreshments.

The purpose of this annual softball game is to improve communications between the adults members of the V.F.W. and the young people of H.A.D. For those residents who are not familiar with H.A.D., this is an excellent opportunity for them to meet the staff and young people participating in H.A.D.'s youth counseling and drug prevention program. Food will be provided by the Hicksville V.F.W., soda by H.A.D., and Operation Outreach will provide the umpires to insure a fair game.

Te Honorable Martin A. Ginsberg, a Judge of the Nassau County Family Court, will be present to throw out the first ball. Town of Oyster Bay Councilman Lewis Yovoli will also be present to help in the opening ceremonies.

Those people attending last year's game had a very enjoyable afternoon and both the Hicksville V.F.W. and H.A.D. hope that more Hicksville residents will take them up on their invitation to come down and enjoy Saturday's game.

While food costs have increased 47 per cent since 1952, the average worker has enjoyed pay raises of more than 140 per cent, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

She split her rocker
before she lost 66 lbs.

Glenda Reynolds' father is a peanut farmer in Clayhatchee, Alabama. And, until she tried Ayds, Glenda was the fattest peanut in his crop. 197 pounds of meat with very little shell.

When she was only nine, she met her future husband, Steve, at her uncle's wedding. He was the bride's brother, so they saw a lot of each other over the years. Maybe that's why he never really noticed her weight. But she did. She kept promising herself she was going to reduce. Instead, she married Steve and gained even more.

They lived in a trailer, next to her parents' home, and since she worked, her mother cooked for them. How they ate! There were big feasts at Steve's folks, too. Then one day she sat down in her platform rocker and it gave way. Cracked right in half. Steve broke up, too. He laughed and laughed. But Glenda didn't think it was funny.

Fortunately, right after that she read one of those stories about a woman who'd lost weight with the help of Ayds Reducing Plan Candy. So she bought a box. It contains vitamins and minerals but no drugs, no artificial sweeteners. You take one or two Ayds as directed and it helps curb your appetite. On the Ayds Plan you automatically eat less because you want less, so you lose weight naturally. Glenda Reynolds lost 66 pounds on the Ayds Plan. And, of course, she's received all sorts of compliments. But she feels the nicest one came from her younger brother. He said to her husband: "I'd marry a fat girl anytime if she'd turn out like Glenda."

Ayds now comes in four flavors: chewy vanilla caramel, plain chocolate fudge, chocolate mint fudge, and butterscotch fudge, the latest Ayds flavor. Try one.

Fourth Annual 100 Mile Challenge For Veterans Cars

A sporting event for veteran motor cars, organized and conducted by the Long Island Old Car Club, Chapter of the Veteran Motor Car Club of America, New York Region.

This will be a "gas and brass" type of event. All cars of the manufacturers' model year of 1912 or earlier, will be eligible, as well as cars of 1913 and 1914 which were originally supplied with gas lights, and still carry such equipment.

The run will start at the Maine Maid Restaurant in Jericho, located on the North-East corner of the intersection of Routes 25 (Jericho Turnpike), and 106-107 (Broadway). First car will leave at 8 a.m. The run will be over a prescribed route, with check points along the way, and will terminate at Baron's Cove in Sag Harbor. Directions and further details will be distributed at the start, as bunnies and plaques for all entrants.

It is expected that all cars will reach Baron's Cove by 5 p.m. This will give participants ample time to relax and freshen up before the cocktail party at 7 p.m. and banquet at 8 p.m., where delicious food, presentation of awards, and dancing, will climax a memorable day of antique motoring.

Sunday will feature a run to scenic Shelter Island. Headquarters will be the summer home of Kathy and Les Cutting, where there is plenty of parking space, and an abundant supply of coffee and cake. There will be no time schedule on Sunday, just arrive when you please and leave when you are ready. We plan a relaxing day in keeping with the serene, quiet atmosphere which is Shelter Island. Short tours of some of the Island's beauty spots will be conducted for those who wish to participate.

For further details please write to Mr. Lester Cutting, Tour Chairman, 40 Hillcrest St., Huntington, N.Y. 11743.

The event is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 29.

Oyster Bay Offers Helping Hand

Town Supervisor John W. Burke announced that the Town Board has approved the creation of a new title, Special Worker-Laborer (Retarded) and that Gregory Hopp of Farmingdale has been selected to fill the position.

Under a new amendment to the New York State Civil Service Law adopted in February 1973, municipal governments were encouraged to hire the mentally retarded. The effective date of the law was September 1.

The Town of Oyster Bay is the first municipality in Nassau County to implement this amendment and the new title has been approved by the Nassau County Civil Service Commission. Oyster Bay has hired similarly handicapped employees in the past, but their employment, which still continues, is under existing titles.

The Town Board resolution adopting the new title authorizes the Comptroller to accept reimbursement from the New York State Department of Education, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation for the first three months of employment. The starting salary for the position is $75 a week plus medical and dental benefits.

Hopp, a 1973 graduate of the Special Educable Retarded Class of Farmingdale High School, began work September 6. He has been employed for the past two years at a lawn mower repair shop. He will be under the supervision of Highway Division Superintendent George Kunz and will be employed in the Highway Division office as a messenger and a general janitorial assistant.

"This new position is a pilot program," Burke stated. "The Town is very anxious to consider hiring more mentally handicapped workers and I am very sure the pilot program will prove to be nothing short of successful."

Burke added that the hiring of Hopp would give the Town all the more opportunity to study where and to what extent retarded workers could be used to the best advantage of the individual and the Town.

Young Ballet Company Now Forming In Tobay

The formation of the Town of Oyster Bay Ballet Company was announced by Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan, Jr. It will be under the aegis of CAPA (Cultural and Performing Arts Division) of the Town's Recreation and Community Services Department, which assumed sponsorship of the former Syosset Ballet Society, Inc. in existence for the past twenty years.

The company is open to town residents six to eighteen years old, who are serious students of classical ballet. It will be under the direction of ballet master Albert D'Angelo, who will be assisted by Jurate Valys. Participants will receive intensive training in all phases of the classical ballet.

The Town of Oyster Bay Ballet Company will meet at least one hour weekly for 28 weeks on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3:30 PM, beginning October 2. The course of study will culminate in a fully staged performance.

Mr. Albert D'Angelo, previously director of the Syosset Ballet Society, is an educator and performer and a member of the dance profession for more than 20 years. He studied with the Metropolitan Opera Ballet, the School of American Ballet and with the Martha Graham and Jack and Jack Stanley Studios. Mr. D'Angelo has been on CAPA's staff as instructor of dance for children and teens for the past five years.

Miss Jurate Valys studied with the Royal Ballet Company of London and with Martha Graham. A former member of the Australian Ballet Company, she currently operates her own dance studio in Oyster Bay. Miss Valys joined CAPA's staff in 1972 as instructor of dance workshops for adults and teens.

Registration for the Town of Oyster Bay Ballet Company will be held on September 17, 18 and 19 from 3:30 PM until 5:30 PM at the Syosset-Woodbury Park Community Center, 7800 Jericho Turnpike, Woodbury (regular meeting place for the company). Mr. D'Angelo and Miss Valys will conduct auditions at these times. Fee is $60, half payable during registration, the balance in January.

For more information call Kathleen Boyle at 921-5944, 5875. Information concerning other activities conducted by the Cultural and Performing Arts Division may be obtained from CAPA Recreation Supervisor Lois Manning at the same numbers.

Low Cost Flood Insurance Now Available In Oyster Bay

Town Supervisor John W. Burke announced that the federal government has approved a Town application making federally subsidized, low cost, flood insurance available on all property in the Town. Burke said residents can purchase through local agents who will be able to obtain policy forms and information from the Great American Insurance Company, 5 Dakota Drive, Lake Success, N.Y.

Now that the government has established our eligibility, owners of both residential and non-residential properties should take prompt advantage of this vital insurance protection," Burke said.

Insurance at federally subsized rates may be purchased in amounts up to $17,500 for single family houses and up to $30,000 for all other residential and non-residential structures.

Rates range from 25 to 60 cents per $100 of insurance, depending on the value of the structure. Contents may be insured up to $5,000 with rates ranging from 35 to 45 cents per $100 of insurance on residential contents and 75 cents per $100 of insurance on contents of non-residential properties.

Burke pointed out that prompt action should be taken since insurance policies will be effective immediately as issued until October 31st. Insurance purchased after that date will become effective after a 15-day

Seven Speakers Oppose Eighteen Favor Senior Housing in Plainview

By Janet Gosnel

Presenting a unique situation in the Town of Oyster Bay as far as proposed senior citizen housing is concerned, many Plainview residents were present at a public hearing at Town Hall Tuesday to oppose the Town of Oyster Bay Housing Authority in its proposal to put 69 units of low income senior housing on a 2.8 acre tract on Barnum Avenue, about 200 feet south of Old Country Road.

Whereas the proposals for other senior housing complexes, now complete and inhabited in Syosset, Hicksville and elsewhere, have met with plaudits from residents, this proposal met with bitter opposition from seven of the approximately 25 persons who spoke at either the morning or evening session of the public hearing.

Holding the floor the longest in his opposition was Robert Champier, a nearby resident, who said the development would be a "contradiction to the lifestyle of the community"; attract welfare and poverty level people; cause drainage problems; create a high density area dangerous to children and contributive to traffic congestion. Most surprising in his opposition was the Reverend John Hinch, of the Church of the Good Shepherd, who opposed the project on the basis that it would hurt the chances for a similar project sought by the church for development on its own lands.

Others who protested felt the development would devalue their property and wanted to know if there wasn't "somewhere else" in the Town of Oyster Bay such a housing complex might be put besides Plainview.

Sixty-Nine Units Jack D. Tillman, attorney for the Town of Oyster Bay Housing Authority, was present to explain the rationale of the petition, highlighting its proximity to shopping and transportation and the great need for the housing complex, based on the receipt already of 500 petitions for residency, 100 of them from Plainview alone. Plans for the complex call primarily for studio apartments, with the exception of a few one-bedroom apartments, 1 two-bedroom apartment and 1 three-bedroom apartment, the latter for a Housing Authority-employed superintendent.

Speaking in favor of the petition were several residents of Plainview, as well as residents of the new Hicksville and Syosset senior housing complexes. A colorful speaker among the latter was Mrs. Martha Landman, of the Syosset complex, whose son, Eldon Landman, proved to be equally eloquent at the night hearing. His comment on the controversy between the Church of the Good Shepherd and the town on the project was like "two doctors arguing over technique while the patient dies." He also remarked, referring to Mr. Champier's earlier submitted 123-name petition in opposition, that petitions are easy to get. As a point of research, he said, he circulated one in favor, and garnered over 100 signatures.

The Greater Plainview Community Association, represented by its attorney, Aaron Britvan, and its president, Carole Fishman, spoke out in favor of the senior housing complex. The GPCA's position was that it saw the need for senior housing and liked the concept of senior housing as it is being done in Tobay. Mrs. Fishman earlier told reporters that several public and private meetings of the civic association had been held with Mr. Tillman and with the opposition to the project before its board voted to endorse it.

SENIOR CITIZEN HOUSING would be a "contradiction to the lifestyle" of Plainview, according to Robert Champier, a Plainview resident, speaking before the Town of Oyster Bay at a public hearing Tuesday. The Tobay Housing Authority seeks to put 69 units of senior housing on a 2.8 acre tract on Barnum Avenue south of Old Country Road. Six other speakers opposed; about 18 spoke in favor at the morning and evening sessions of the hearing.

With regard to the removal of the property from the tax rolls, Mr. Tillman pointed out that a development of single family homes on the site, with its average of 2.5 children each

Supervisor JOHN W. BURKE REPORTS

This past Tuesday, the Town Board held a public hearing to consider a senior citizen housing project for the Plainview community. The project, as proposed by the Town of Oyster Bay Housing Authority, plans for the construction of 69 senior citizen apartments to be built under the Federal Government's "Turnkey Program."

Housing is one of the most costly items in anyone's budget, but is even a more critical factor for the senior citizen who must subsist on a fixed income in these days of skyrocketing costs. Many seniors find it both physically and financially impossible to maintain homes that have become too large for their present needs. The Town's Housing Program was established to alleviate these situations.

The proposed project for Plainview, if approved by the Town Board, will be the seventh such housing complex for senior citizens in the Town. The existing sites in Bethpage, Hicksville, Massapequa, Oyster Bay Hamlet, Plainville and Syosset, with a total of 364 apartment units, are presently fully occupied.

To help meet the needs and desires of our senior residents, the Senior Citizen Division of the Town's Department of Recreation and Community Services maintains a number of programs.

There are 35 senior citizen clubs sponsored or serviced by the Senior Citizen Division, to provide them with the necessary social and recreational outlets. In conjunction with the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs, the Town conducts a visiting nurse program to provide free medical screening for our seniors. Each week a visiting nurse is available in the Community Room at some of the housing projects for personal interviews and consultations. When necessary, the nurse will recommend further consultation with a doctor, and follow up with any problem cases. This service is open to all seniors in the Town, not just residents of the Town Housing Projects.

An Outreach Program has been established to seek out senior citizens that are not active in any outside programs. The senior volunteers contact such individuals and invite them to participate in the various programs provided by the Town. Another helpful service to the seniors is the Lecture Program, which brings experts in various fields such as health care, nutrition, cooking and home economics to the community centers to provide helpful hints and information.

There are many other services made available by the Town to enhance and enrich the lives of these residents who have contributed so much to the Town and our lives. More details on these programs are available from Ann Reich, the Town's Senior Citizen Recreation Supervisor, who can be contacted at 921-5770.

International Art Exhibit September 15-16

An International Art Exhibit for the benefit of City Center of Music and Drama on September 15 and 16 at the New York State Theatre, Lincoln Center was announced today by Fred Gretsch, Jr., Chairman of the Board of the Lincoln Savings Bank.

The exhibit is the first such event to be held at the New York State Theatre. It is sponsored by the Lincoln Savings Bank as part of the 30th Anniversary celebrations of City Center. Admission to the public will be free. The exhibition hours are from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday September 15th and 12 noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday September 16th. The artists works will be on group exhibit for the first time in New York. The group, international in scope, includes Heshi Yu, Chinese; Dinah Maxwell Smith, American; Alan Lopez, Spanish; Graham Smithies, English; Dr. George Speck, American; and Geoffrey Holder, a native of Trinidad.

Proceeds from the sale of the tax deductible art will go to City Center of Music and Drama.

Mr. Gretsch expressed the hope that this event would be the first of a series of community services sponsored by the Lincoln Savings Bank. He deemed it particularly appropriate that, aside from the artists themselves, the chief beneficiary would be City Center, which for over thirty years has contributed so much to the diversified cultural life of New York by presenting attractions to the public at prices far below the normal level.

Heavy advertising support and a direct mail campaign announcing the event has already commenced in the Greater New York Metropolitan area. Be there, everyone else will!

For further information please contact Glen Pedersen or Dennis Connery at 758-5200.

Miss Debbie Larsen, a baton specialist, will conduct an intensive, twelve-week course, affording members of the Spinners an opportunity to further baton-twirling skills.

Miss Larsen, an experienced performer and teacher of baton, is an assistant director of the Huntington Thunderers and is certified to teach by the U.S. Twirling Association. She has been baton instructor on CAPA's staff for the past two years.

"Shopping Center Special" New Bus Route

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso announced that a new bus route — the "Shopping Center Special" — began to service the Hicksville-to-Syosset area recently.

The new route, N 74, will run on Saturdays for the convenience of weekend shoppers in the Mid-Island area. The increased service on the recently acquired private bus lines in Nassau County is the third in a week. Over the Labor Day weekend, an existing line was extended and a Sunday service was added to an existing route.

Caso said he viewed with pleasure the increase in service since the 10 privately operated, all-but-collapsing bus lines in Nassau were acquired and turned over to the Metropolitan Suburban Bus Authority to operate.

"We have had nothing but compliments on our service and the look and promptness of the buses since we stepped in to rescue mass transit," Caso said.

The new route will run from the bus ramp in the Mid-Island

Shopping Plaza at 10 minutes before the hour from 4:50 AM to 4:50 PM and from the Syosset railroad station of the Long Island Railroad at 15 minutes past the hour from 9:15 AM to 5:15 PM.

The services that were inaugurated last weekend were an extension of the present Long Beach-to-Hempstead line (N-15) to Roosevelt Field and Carle Place and the establishment of a Sunday line along Hempstead Turnpike to Farmingdale.

The change in the Long Beach-to-Hempstead service enables residents of Long Beach to go straight through to Roosevelt Field. Prior to the establishment of this service, riders from Long Beach had to change in Hempstead. The buses run every 20 minutes, every day except Sunday, from 6:20 AM to 5:40 PM.

The Sunday line along Hempstead Turnpike (N-72) leaves Hempstead at 9:10, 10, 11 AM, and noon and 1:10, 2:10, 3 and 4 PM, and returns from Pinelawn on the hour from 10 AM to 5 PM. The service enables persons in the county to visit cemeteries in the Pinelawn-Farmingdale area.

Persons seeking further information on the new service, as well as any existing service, are asked to call the MSBS bus information service at 516-626-3000.

The doors of Hicksville's ten schools opened wide to receive its 10,130 students. Despite the record heat the children were eager and enthusiastic. The same could be said for the district's 576 teachers, who were fresh as daisies in the morning, but as the day progressed they began to wilt — ah, youth!

All teaching, clerical and custodial positions have been filled. Despite unstable conditions in the supply and equipment industries the majority of our supply and textbooks orders have been delivered.

Our buildings have been refurnished our parking areas resurfaced and new lighting installed just to mention a few of the improvements.

Unfortunately, vandalism in the 1972-1973 year cost the taxpayers $15,337.93. It was much lower than last year but we can still do better. Parents, please inform your children that the breakage costs you, the taxpayer, money.

We are looking forward to an enjoyable educational school year.

Mr. Tillman also pointed out that the housing sought by the Church of the Good Shepherd, still at least "three to five years" from realization, is for seniors of moderate income, from $7,000 to $9,000 annually. The Tobay development limits income to $4,500 for singles and $5,200 for couples.

dental care has kept pace with modern techniques.

Today's Army needs young men and women to grow and develop with the new Volunteer Army. Grow in responsibility; assume leadership responsibilities early based on ability.

Grow in education; learn skills at Army schools and expand knowledge through off duty college attendance with 75 percent of the tuition paid.

Young men who want real responsibility can try Armor, Infantry, or Artillery - and earn a $2,500 bonus for a four year enlistment.

Women belong to today's Army, with all the opportunities for training, education, responsibility and advancement, except those in combat arms specialties and the bonus.

Anyone wearing the uniform of today's Army is a winner. The least that can be gained is a job skill, travel, education, and money in the bank.

Today's Army: The benefits were never better.

At The Episcopal Church of St. Margaret

A dynamic and exciting new approach to spiritual growth in Episcopal parishes is called Faith Alive. Basically it is a mission or weekend conference in a particular parish where a number of lay people from all walks of life come from far and near at their own expense to share their own religious experiences, and lead the parishioners in a rededication to Christian commitments.

The Reverend Stephen H.

Jecko has announced, that on the weekend of September 21st, St. Margaret's, Plainview, will host approximately thirty four visitors, men, women and youth from out of town. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schwarz, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor of St. Peter's Bay Shore will be the lay visiting coordinators. The weekend will begin with a parish supper on Friday evening, and end with a picnic on the church grounds on Sunday.

Card of Thanks

The family of George E. Bloss wish to express their most sincere thanks to the Reverend Clergy, Catholic Daughters, Henry J. Stock Funeral Home, Friends, neighbors, relatives, Manhasset Bay Power Squadron, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 12-3 and the "Ducks" who shored and helped in our sorrow.

Public Works Commissioner John H.
