the start of the new year. A substantial donation from the Veterans of Foreign Wars, William Gouse Jr., Post 3211 has enabled us to launch our 1974 fund raising campaign and we have already received a check from Central Federal Savings Bank to cover the purchase of the track and field medals. We are most grateful for these positive responses to our appeal for financial support but require more of the same if we are to repeat the success of 1973.

Plans for summer 74 Jr. Olympic Games are now being made and registration is scheduled for Saturday March 30 and April 6.

Caso Expands Med. Center's Board Of Governors

County Executive Ralph G. Caso today announced the expansion of the Board of Governors of the Nassau County Medical Center and named six new members to the board to "give the people a stronger voice."

The board, which sets policy, approves staffing and establishes rules for operation of the huge hospital complex in East Meadow, will be enlarged from five to nine members.

The center, formerly called Meadowbrook Hospital, now includes the 19-story Dynamic Care facility.

"My aim in expansion of the governing body of the Nassau County Medical Center," Caso said, "is to broaden the base of operation. New members with wide-ranging experience and new points of view will greatly enhance the hospital center's service. I have selected a representative cross-section of the community to give the people of Nassau a stronger voice in the running of the facility."

With the death last summer of one member of the Board of Governors and the expiration of the term of another, the six new appointees have been named by the County Executive for varying terms.

They are: Dr. John P. Glaubitz of Bethpage; the Rev. Dr. Arthur L. Mackey of Roosevelt; Mrs. Gloria Pettus of Hempstead; Cornelius F. Ryan of Plainview; Mrs. C. Patricia Meyers of Woodbury; and Robert F. Hill of Old Westbury.

They will join three current members of the board, Warren J. Freeman of Rockville Centre, John F. O'Shaughnessy of Seaford and Walter E. Van der Waag of East Williston.

The board meets 12 times a year and members are paid $85.82 per meeting.

Dr. Glaubitz, a general surgeon, will complete the two-year unexpired term of the late Dr. John N. Shell, who was president of the board. Dr. Glaubitz took his internship at the then Meadowbrook Hospital in 1941 and later was a resident and attending staff member there. In 1961 he was director of surgery at Meadowbrook and later was chairman of the executive committee. He and his wife, Margaret have three children and two grandchildren.

The Rev. Dr. Mackey, pastor of the Mount Sinai Baptist Church of Roosevelt, will have a five-year term. He and his wife, Frances, have three children, and live in Roosevelt. The Rev. Mackey received his Doctor of Divinity degree from Baltimore Bible College. He also serves as a special assistant in community relations to the Nassau County Commission on Human Rights.

Mrs. Pettus has been named to a four-year term. A graduate of Hempstead High School, who attended Hofstra University, Mrs. Pettus and her husband, Clarence, have three teenage children. Mrs. Pettus is secretary for the South Hempstead Baptist Church, which serves a congregation generally of low income black people.

Ryan, a leader in senior citizen affairs, is named to a three-year term. Ryan retired a sergeant after 21 years of service in the New York City Police Department. He is president of the Senior Action Council of Oyster Bay Town, first vice president of the county-wide Senior Power organization and chairman of the Oyster Bay Town Advisory Committee for Senior Citizens.

Ryan, 71, and his wife, Jean, have three children and 11 grandchildren. Mrs. Meyers, who has a two-year term, has served almost two years as a member of the Nassau County Mental Health Board. A graduate of Adelphi University in Garden City, Mrs. Meyers lives with her husband, Herb, a musician, and their 21-year-old son, who is completing his education at the Cerebral Palsy Center in Roosevelt.

Hill, who will serve a one-year term, is a practicing psychotherapist. He is president of the Nassau Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers. Hill holds degrees and certificates from North Carolina Central, Illinois, Marquette, Columbia, Fordham and New York Universities. He is a member or fellow of some 20 professional organizations.

Of the on-going members of the Board of Governors, Freeman, whose term runs through this year, is a retired vice president of the General Bronze Corporation; O'Shaughnessy, whose term continues through 1977, is Hempstead Town attorney, and Van der Waag, vice chairman of the board and a director of the National Bank of North America, continues a term through 1976.

Expansion of the hospital center board of governors and appointment of the six members must be passed upon by the Nassau Board of Supervisors. It is expected action will be taken on Jan. 21.

'Awareness Week' Meets With Supervisors' Praise

by Janet Gosnell

After a brief and uneventful meeting presided over by Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis Purcell on Monday, the attention and interest of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors was taken by three extemporaneous speakers, one an able, poised young student from Nassau Community College who championed the cause of the handicapped as spokesman for "Awareness Week," a project of the Nassau Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

A second impressive speaker was Claire Worthing, representing the Long Island District Parent Teachers Assn., inquiring as to progress on approved improvements to the Children's Shelter in Westbury. Also speaking was Irv Sufferin, protesting what he felt were inequities in hiring procedures of the Civil Service Commission as it applied to his son-in-law, who rated among the top three applicants in three applications and failed to land a job.

50 Per Cent Disabled by 1985

The young man speaking for Awareness Week was Philip Deitch, a resident of Oceanside, who said he spoke as president of the "Torch of Hope" Youth Council, a youthful adjunct of the Nassau Easter Seal Society engaged in endeavors to aid the physically disabled.

He noted that Awareness Week had been proclaimed in Nassau County by County Executive Ralph G. Caso and in New York State by Governor Malcolm Wilson.

Some of his remarks drew

AWARENESS WEEK was the topic of Philip Deitch, above, student at Nassau County Community College, speaking for the project of the Nassau Easter Seal Society directed at making residents knowledgeable of the needs of the handicapped, especially the need for elimination of architectural barriers to the disabled. Mr. Deitch said the week has included talks at high school assemblies, seminars, and visits with Governor Malcolm Wilson and County Executive Ralph Caso.

audible intakes of breath on the part of the audience, including the projection that 50 per cent of all persons in 1985 are expected to be suffering from a disability of some sort, physical or mental. In deploring the lack of availability of public transportation, Mr. Deitch stated that, should the present, homebound handicapped be able to get transportation to work, their combined income would be in the neighborhood of $432,000,000. In addition, he said, their working would remove $49,000,000 from the welfare rolls and would add $32,000,000 in income tax paid.

Deitch was particularly exhortive of the supervisors to exert their influence toward passage of a state law against discrimination against the handicapped in employment. Newly elected Supervisor Hannah Komaroff of Long Beach, speaking after Deitch, suggested the Supervisors draft a resolution in his behalf for forwarding to Albany, which suggestion met with the apparent approval of the Supervisors.

Children's Shelter

Mrs. Worthing, active in the PTA committee to combat juvenile delinquency, stated that a recent visit to the Nassau County Children's Shelter showed no progress toward improvements voted in last year, including a new second floor for the existing building and two non-secure residences on the grounds but separate from the existing building.

Dear Friends:

Our "LETTERS TO THE EDITOR" this week are all criticism. This is not too unusual, for the purpose of this column is to give those with dissenting opinions, the space to go on record. However, bear in mind, that in almost all cases, there is another side to the story which cannot come to your attention until these letters are answered by those concerned.

In regard to the recent ice and snow storm, we ourselves phoned the TOB to find out why the sideroads were not plowed. They told us that they started plowing and found that, in so doing, a sheet of glaze was being formed, making it much more treacherous for cars and pedestrians, so they made the decision to stop plowing and resort to sand and salt where possible. They used 4673 tons of sand and 56 trucks, 3 cranes and 8 payloaders worked throughout this storm. There are 1500 miles of town roads to be done. This is the first real snowstorm in three years and many people neglected to park their cars off the roads, which also made the operation more difficult. However, at least we can understand that decisions must be made in the light of existing conditions. Sometimes they work out and sometimes they don't.

His many friends, neighbors and business acquaintances mourn the passing of Hicksville's Gus Riedlinger. Like Fred, he had much to do with helping to build a better Hicksville, and it is our hope that others, with like principles, aims and objectives, are active today, doing their share in their time. He will be missed.

GIESTE FLORISTS, who have been a part of Hicksville for many years, are planning a new store at 248 South Broadway. However, until it is ready for operation, their customers can find them at their old address, 82 Lee Avenue.

AS WE GO TO PRESS, we hear that the Galileo Galilei - Lodge No. 2253 of Hicksville, is sponsoring a concert and dance with music by the famous All-American Banjo Team on Fri., Jan. 18. Festivities will start at 8 p.m. Donations are $2 a person which includes a two-hour banjo concert featuring both music and singers. This is a rapidly growing Lodge, which in the past two years has added over 600 members. They are located on Levittown Parkway and are also well known for their bingo nights, and their excellent hall which is available for rentals.

THAT'S ALL for this week, stay well and remember the old saying, "The bonds of matrimony are worthless if the interest isn't kept up."

Sincerely,
SHEILA

First Major Snowfall

Acting Public Works Commissioner H. John Plock, Jr. has issued the following statement in the wake of the season's first major snowfall:

In some sections of the County snow removal efforts were significantly hampered by cars that lacked snow tires (or chains) or had run out of gas. These immobilized cars made it impossible for snow plows to clean from curb to curb and reduced the number of lanes available to other drivers.

We strongly urge all car owners who must use their cars under all weather conditions to install snow tires and to make sure they have sufficient gas

Dear Mrs. Noeth,
I have spent four months away at college and cringed when I called Hicksville my home town. I challenge our "illustrious" officials to lift the boycott and let Hicksville progress.

Broadway should be named the "desert of Nassau." Deserted cars, and one lonely bar, is that what we want people to know Hicksville by? How long do we have to put up with official red tape? "The Master Plan" for Hicksville, what happened to it? Is it really the reconditioning of an area or is it urban renewal?

People of Hicksville take off your blinders, see that the town is stagnating! You knock down garden apartments and private tennis courts, what else will you oppose? I'm surprised you allowed rocks and butterflies to monopolize a memorial of a bygone era at the Gregory Museum.

I leave for college soon and will be glad to get out of my home town, yet still let's try and get it together, move ahead not behind. Let's keep Hicksville from becoming anymore stagnant!

Sincerely,
A Concerned Resident

Gentlemen:
The "DO NOTHING" Town officials are showing their colors again.

Except for the immediate streets around the schools, I have not seen one side street that has been plowed in this town.

WHERE ARE OUR TAX MONIES GOING?

Sincerely,
Evelyn Dolores Crawford

An Open Letter to the People of Hicksville:

This season Hicksville has had the good fortune to start a new and exciting soccer program for its boys which COULD have been a great one.

The activity started off on the wrong foot with all board members coming from a similar background.

Unfortunately as a result throughout the season outsiders had to fight to have representation and voice in policies being made.

When it came time to select Hicksville teams to compete in the indoor tournament boys were not chosen solely because of their skill and performance throughout the regular season but often were selected because their fathers were board members or coaches coming from the same clique.

This was to be a publicly endowed program to cover all and not a private clique with a false title.

We, the parents of Hicksville children, should become aware of such injustices and not lend our moral or monetary support for such foul play.

Next year perhaps greater equality for all boys can be obtained and this will become a true open program.

Many doctors now encourage a weight gain of 24 to 30 pounds during a normal pregnancy, reports the March of Dimes.

Supervisor

JOHN W. BURKE

REPORTS

As I mentioned last week, the energy crisis has brought into sharper focus many of the concerns that we must face in this era of rapid change.

In England, the fuel shortage has brought the three-day work week — a drastic measure that is sure to have a significant impact on the life style of the worker and his family. What would happen in this country if a similar program was adopted?

The most obvious impact, of course, would be on the earnings of a family necessitating significant cutbacks in spending. Although many citizens would seek part-time employment, it is doubtful that the economy could absorb such labor on a large scale.

A less apparent, but equally significant problem, is what the working man or woman would do with four days a week of free time.

We are a work-oriented society, geared to spending the major portion of our waking hours in gainful employment. In effect, we don't know how to handle our leisure time in large doses. What is needed are well-designed recreational facilities and programs to meet the needs and desires of people of all age groups and diverse interests.

In a practical sense, we must deal with this problem of leisure now with our youth as well as our senior citizens. Our relatively affluent suburban society has youth with leisure time, few opportunities for gainful part-time employment, and a shortage of avocational interests.

Thanks to improved medical care and nutrition, Americans now have the longest life expectancy of any time in recorded history. Mandatory retirement at age 65 can stretch the period of retirement to involve better than 20 per cent of a person's life. These added years should be ones of pleasure and relaxation and not a tedious period of boredom after a lifetime of productive activity.

These challenges clearly delineate a number of goals for local government:

We must provide for our youth and senior citizens with recreation, community programs and housing, and also expand our parks and open space and provide more leisure opportunities for all age groups.

The ultimate goal and responsibility of local government is to provide our citizens with a sense of identity, security and dependability in the fast changing era in which we live.

Lent Persuades President's Council To Hold Oil Record Open

Congressman Norman F. Lent has announced that the President's Council on Environmental Quality has agreed to his request that it keep its Hearing Record open until January 31st for those Long Islanders wishing to submit testimony on the question of potential offshore oil drilling in the Atlantic.

There had been some concern that the publication of an erroneous site for the original Hearings held in Mineola on October 3rd and 4th had detracted from public participation at the hearings, and Lent said "This extension of time for the people of Nassau County to submit their feelings should allow citizens to be heard on this important question." "Long Islanders can and will have a voice."

Lent encouraged all interested citizens to submit their views in writing to: The President's Council on Environmental Quality, 722 Jackson Place, Washington, D.C. 20006.

Roncallo Seeks Antitrust Investigation

Congressman Angelo D. Roncallo (R-Third District) today announced, in a letter to Attorney General William Saxbe, that he has called for an investigation of the proposed closing of the Rheingold Brewery in Brooklyn by PepsiCo, world wide producer of Pepsi Cola.

"It would appear that the transaction to pick up the brewery was not connected with any motive to enter into the brewery business or enhance that operation, but rather to expand the soda business," Roncallo continued. "I am concerned about the possibility of trust violations in this transaction, and have asked the Attorney General to commence an investigation into possible violation of the anti trust laws."

Roncallo took the action after meeting with representatives of the Brewery Workers locals 3 and 46, and with several of the employees of the brewery who will lose their jobs if the brewery is closed.

"The Long Island area stands to lose the 1500 jobs at the Brooklyn plant, and over 150 jobs from the Rheingold outlet in the Hicksville area, if Pepsi proceeds with this closing," Roncallo concluded.

Congressman
NORMAN F. LENT
34th District, New York

"FEELING THE PULSE"

Being back home on Long Island during the Congressional Recess has been giving me the too-often-missed opportunity to visit with many, many of you on a personal basis: at several local post offices and railroad stations, in diners and restaurants, at your club or organizations meetings, in our high schools and in my District office. What few holes in my schedule have remained uncommitted, I have tried to fill by seeking you out in shopping centers, at gas stations and elsewhere.

I've had the pleasure of being reminded just how valid, how uncomplicated and, truthfully, how simple to solve so many of our day-to-day problems can be. In many instances I have, as always, offered to help you with personal problems with the federal government. I do, after all, work for you, and one refreshing aspect of my presence here in the District for a longer period than I'm usually allowed has been the conversations I've had with many of you who haven't been hesitant to call me or grab my arm on a street corner.

The energy crisis, real or imagined, has been uppermost in your minds, but not in the spirit of willingness to sacrifice with which we were imbued several months ago. Now the question has become "Is it for real at all?" My first order of business when I return to Washington will be to press for a complete, no-holds-barred investigation of the Nation's petroleum industry, currently suffering almost total loss of respect amongst those of you here at home. Perhaps our oil industry is being misjudged. Certainly the comprehensive investigation I'll be calling for will help clear the air.

Progress (or the lack of it) in resolving the Watergate matter, and inquiries about campaign reform legislation have also been arising repeatedly, and I'll devote this space next week to a more detailed discussion of your opinions and my intentions on these subjects.

In any event, despite the many genuine concerns you have expressed about what's wrong with the world and our nation, it's still a good feeling to be here for a while - shaking your hand, hearing you out, and believing that the fact that we can meet, talk, criticize and try to correct what's wrong increases my faith in our system of government rather than diminishing it.

Hicksville Library News

Sunday, January 20th at 3 p.m., the Hicksville Public Library will present a program with Carman Pane, soprano, accompanied by Eleanor Mandel Nelson on the piano.

Miss Pane, a Juilliard graduate, has appeared on television in such shows as Perry Como's, Andy Williams', the Hit Parade, Bell Telephone Hour, Firestone Theatre. She also has done recording and made commercials. Miss Pane performed in a special concert at the Library of Congress with the Modern Madrigal Singers. She now resides in Roslyn and performs with The Connoisseur Chamber Group on the Island. She teaches violin and voice from her home.

The Hicksville Library music program is made possible by a grant from the Nassau County Office of Cultural Development. The concert will be held in the auditorium and all the community are welcome.

The Friends of the Hicksville Public Library announce the date the White Elephant-Flea Market will be held. The sale will take place on Saturday and Sunday, March 2 and 3. The hours will be Saturday from 10 to 5 and Sunday from 1 to 5 at the library.

At this time the Friends are putting out a call for any and all types of unwanted items, (except clothing and large appliances). If you are unable to bring them to the library, please call either the library at WE 1-417 or Mrs. Bennett at 681-3183 to arrange time for pick-up.

The friends are hoping to provide a wheel chair lift for the library patron who is handicapped and unable to attend library programs held in the auditorium, and also for the many children of Hicksville who are being deprived of the use of the Children's Room because of their handicaps.

This project will be a long time in materializing, because of the amount involved for this lift. However, the Friends feel that the White Elephant Sale and other fundraising events planned for the future will eventually provide the community of Hicksville with the long needed aid to our handicapped residents.

Now is the time for all of Hicksville to rid themselves of the objects that are no longer needed. We all know that "one person's trash is another's treasure."

Interviewing Bill Mazer

by Mark Silverstein

Plainview - Old Bethpage High School

I'm sure you know of people who stay glued to their T.V.'s. I stay glued to my radio. That's how, I guess, I became interested in broadcasting. During the high school football season I tried out to be a sports announcer for our school radio station, and I got the opportunity to do the play-by-play for a football game. I did fairly well. So I did some of the hockey games and all of the home basketball games. Our hockey team was scheduled to play at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum against Farmingdale.

Since the Islanders would be playing later that night, I wrote to Bill Mazer telling him that I am interested in Radio Broadcasting and could he give me an interview. He agreed and on December 18th, 1973, after we finished taping the high school game, I went to the WHN broadcast booth and waited for Bill Mazer. About three minutes later he arrived, and I introduced myself. We sat down and started the interview. Bernie Kiernan took some pictures and helped me with my taping equipment. Bill does all of the home games of the Nets and Islanders with Al Albert; he does three sport shows daily on WHN and hosts Sports

Extra with Lee Leonard every Sunday night at 10:30 on Channel 5.

I first asked him how he started his career in broadcasting. He said that he wanted to be a doctor but took a program on broadcasting in college and then got a job at a small station in Buffalo. I then asked him if he liked switching off every quarter of the game doing the play-by-play with Al Albert or should there be one announcer doing play-by-play and one commentary. He said that he thought it better that they both do play-by-play because it is more interesting to the audience. Bill used to have shows on radio called Sports Round Table and Sports Call, but since WHN turned to Country Music, to bring their ratings higher, the shows were off. He told me that he misses doing those shows because it gave him opportunities to meet people. I asked him his views on the N.Y. Nets and N.Y. Islanders, and he replied, "The Nets are a top contender and the Islanders are still in the building stage, but have great potential." After the interview he started reading the injury list on both teams, looked at Vancouver's roster and tried to memorize it.

and conferred with Al Albert just before the pre-game show. There's a lot more to it than just telling who won and lost.

Bill always ends a game or show, even a book he wrote "The Sports Answer Book", by saying, "It's been a pleasure." No, he's not the best sports announcer, but certainly the most literate radio announcer. For the first time in his career I told him that it was a pleasure. I think it's about time.

Weekend Heating Crisis Averted

Thousands of Long Island homes were within 100 hours of having their heating oil cut off this weekend, according to Harold Bernstein, Chairman of the Board, Northville Industries Corp., largest independent oil distributor on Long Island. Independent oil dealers purchasing heating oil from Northville supply more than 250,000 Long Island homes.

Mr. Bernstein spoke to 40 state and local government leaders here today about the energy crisis and its possible impact on Long Island.

"We are now assured of enough heating oil to take care of these Long Island homes through next Sunday, Jan. 20th," Mr. Bernstein added. "Thanks to the strong legal action taken by the Federal Energy Office in Washington, D.C., we have been assured of sufficient heating oil to supply Long Island homes for the next ten days at least."

"The price of home heating oil is not expected to rise any further for Long Islanders in January and February this year, if Northville and other independent L.I. oil distributors receive the allocations of oil as provided under the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973," Mr. Bernstein pointed out.

"On Monday this week Northville did not have enough oil in storage to meet the heating needs of thousands of its customers who would run out of oil beginning this weekend," according to Joseph J. Ackell, Northville Vice President. "For the past three months our efforts to obtain for our Long Island dealers a fair share of heating oil under the Mandatory Allocation Program has been of no avail."

"On Tuesday we were accompanied by the Regional Federal Energy Office to a meeting in Washington arranged by a group of independent Long Island oil dealers. At this meeting we were able to obtain effective action on behalf of Long Island homeowners in this very critical situation. Direct action has been taken by newly appointed administrators of the Federal Energy Office, Frank Zarb and John Weber, and the head of the N.Y. Regional office of the F.E.O., Gerald Turetsky, and General Counsel Arnold Gordon. With the help of James E. Slechts, of the F.E.O.'s Office of Petroleum Allocation, these officials have been able to order the supply to Northville of sufficient heating oil to meet the needs of its Long Island customers at the very least through January 20th, with assurances of additional action to order supplies to carry Long Island homeowners serviced by our dealers safely through January and February, too."

Mr. Bernstein expressed the belief that "there can be an adequate petroleum supply for everyone on Long Island as long as the Mandatory Allocation Program is effectively administered. And, of course," he added, "as long as the government is willing to use sanctions available in that program to deal with anyone failing to comply with the F.E.O. directives."

Northville also announced today that it had adopted a new policy of selling gasoline only to

Tobay Moves to Acquire Bruce Estate for Park

By JANET GOSNELL

At its regular meeting on Tuesday, the Oyster Bay Town Board approved a resolution authorizing the issuance of $3,100,000, in serial bonds and capital notes to pay the cost of acquisition of the Bruce Estate for public park purposes. The Board also approved a $4 1/2 million drainage project covering most of the current drainage needs in the Town. The resolution will next go to the N.Y. State Comptroller before further action is taken on it.

A public hearing date of February 19th was set for the petition of Varley Homes, Inc. for a change of zone from Residence B-1 District to E-3 General Residence District for a 13.5 acre parcel on the south side of Jericho Turnpike west of Piquets Lane. E-1 General Residence District allows ten dwelling units per acre.

The Board also approved amendments to the already approved petition of Peter Chinn and Arthur Jong for a motel next to the Mah Jong restaurant in Syosset. The amendments are a clarification of restrictions to the petition, including prohibition of ingress or egress to the south or west from the property for vehicular or pedestrian traffic without the permission of the owner of the parcel west of the property. The amendment also states that no windows will open to the south side of the property and the south wall will contain only one opaque door, locked from the outside with a "panic" arrangement inside to allow egress in an emergency. Also included is a statement that the motel will have no bar, only a coffee shop for the serving of "continental breakfasts," and that garbage will be stored in closed containers.

Tribute to King

January 15th the date of the Town Board meeting, was the birthday of the late Martin Luther King, Jr., who would have been 45 on that day. The day was filled with observances in tribute to Dr. King. In Oyster Bay, Sister Adrian Barrett, social studies teacher at St. Dominic High School in Oyster Bay, which was closed for the day in honor of Martin Luther King, Jr., offered a 20 - minute tribute.

She said: "Martin Luther King, Jr. was a prophet for our time. He revealed to us the concerns of the 70's - poverty, prejudice and injustice."

Judy Jacobs, president of the South Woodbury Taxpayers Association, also spoke regarding the rehiring of Gerard Trotta as Assistant Superintendent of Parks. Speaking in follow - up to her comments of the previous week, Mrs. Jacobs said that a check with the Civil Service Commission showed that there is no regulation against Mr. Trotta being retained in a civil service position. In view of the circumstances of his indictment she said, however, her organization believes it unseemly for him to be rehired in such an elevated capacity

JOHN SHEEHAN MEMORIAL TOURNAMENT
On Sunday, Dec. 30, the Semi-Finals of the John Sheehan Tournament was held. There were two games with the winners going against each other in the finals on New Year's Day.

The first game of the Semi-Finals saw two of Our Lady of Mercy's teams playing against each other: O/L of Mercy Blue - 22; O/L of Mercy Gold-36.

O/L of Mercy Gold led by the scoring of K. Dowling, B. Haggerty and the all-out fine play of the Gold team beat the Blue team by a score of 36 to 22. High for the Blue team was J. Fowler and B. Weiss.

O/L of Mercy, Gold	8	7	10	11	36

The second game of the Semi-Finals saw St. Ignatius Bullets play O/L of Mercy White. The Bullets led by B. Somer 9 pts played a very good game. The Mercy White team, which played outstanding ball throughout the tournament, proved once more to be too strong for their opponents. Mercy led by the scoring of S. McCumisky 17 pts; and the outstanding play by the team both on offense and defense beat the Bullets 30 to 18.

Scores By Quarters:

On Tuesday, Jan. 1, the finals of the Tournament got underway. The first game — the consolation game — began at 7:30 p.m. between St. Ignatius Bullets and O/L of Mercy Blues. The Bullets coached by J. Toner and led by the scoring of B. Somer 24 and P. Janette 8 pts, and some real outstanding play from the rest of the team won by a score of 42 to 19. High for the Mercy Blue team was J. Fowler 17 pt. The win by the Bullets gave them 3rd place in the Tournament.

After the consolation game came the game everybody was waiting for — the championship game — which saw two of O/L of Mercy teams meeting each other. Both teams well deserved to be in the Finals.

O/L of Mercy White - 43; O/L of Mercy Gold-22

The score of this game does not tell the real story of the game played by two outstanding teams. The White team was coached by J. Leonard and R. Halpin with outstanding play by Scott McCumisky who scored 26 pts, and displayed outstanding rebounding off both boards. The rest of the White team, also outstanding, helped their team to victory. High for the Gold team was K. Dowling 10 pt. Kevin also had an outstanding game.

Scores By Quarters:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	F

After the final game it was time for the awarding of the trophies to the 4 winning teams:

4th Place: O/L of Mercy Blues, coached by Ken Fowler.
3rd Place: St. Ignatius Bullets, coached by John Toner.

2nd Place: O/L of Mercy, Gold, coached by Bill McDermott.

1st Place: O/L of Mercy White, coached by J. Leonard and R. Halpin.

After the trophies were distributed, awards were also made for most Valuable Player and Sportsmanship. The winner of the Most Valuable Player award was Scott McCumisky, Our Lady of Mercy White team. The Sportsmanship award was given to Kevin Dowling, Our Lady of Mercy Gold team.

Now that the Tournament is over for another year, it's time to say thanks to the people who made it such an outstanding success...the chairman Tom Smith and co chairman D. Briody who did an outstanding job getting the Tournament underway. Father Harrer, pastor of St. Ignatius for the use of the gym. Father Cannon, moderator of the St. Ignatius CYO for his moral support, the coaches of all the teams involved in the Tournament, the referees who did an outstanding job: Jack Kilmeyer, Dick Briody, Tom Smith, Rick Howe, Hugh Bradley, Jim Moro, Pat. Looney, Jim Gallagher, Vince Brennan, John Mulloy, Ken Koneck, Pat Organ, John Freedman, Tom Organ, Mike Galgano and Jack Leonard. Next on the thanks list is both O/L of Mercy and Holy Family for sending such outstanding teams to the Tournament. The boys were a credit to their parishes....To the parents of the boys for coming out to the Tournament and giving their moral support to their favorite team...and last, but not least, a big vote of thanks to the boys who took part in the Tournament for showing their sportsmanship in the Tournament whether they won or lost.

We also would like to thank the local newspapers for their fine coverage of the Tournament...a vote of thanks has to go to Peter Collins, president of the CYO, for seeing that the Tournament got underway...and a vote of thanks to all you people and hope that you will all be back next year!
