Herald Report Hicksville School District

By Shirley Smith

Last week's board of education meeting covered a full agenda of approving curriculum materials, appointing personnel and approving bills for routine expenses of the district.

The board, by a technical "quirk" in policy, turned down the library board's request for a March voting date on the library budget. Under state education law the library board is required to ask the school board's permission, which the latter must give. Trustees Bruno and Bello objected to this phase of the law and voted against granting permission. Dr. Madden abstained, feeling the board should not even vote, but grant the permission automatically. Trustees Nagle, Wolfson and Purring voted yes. Since there were not four votes, the motion failed and, technically, the school board refused to let the library hold a separate vote. But the vote will be held anyway and board president, Bob Furring, directed the library be informed of this. He had agreed with Messrs. Bello and Bruno, however, that the additional expense should not be born by the taxpayers and both school and library elections should be held the same day. Mr. Bruno asked administration if the district would be $200,000 over its budget for BOCES students Dr. Hill said the number of students attending BOCES had not been estimated, high enough last spring and by May, administration would have to come to the board for a transfer of funds to cover the expenses in this code.

In answer to another of Mr. Bruno's questions, Dr. Hill explained the district has spent $87,000 of the teacher salary package, on paper. If the specific salaries and benefits of each teacher, plus monies for substitutes, etc. Were added up there would be an $87,300 shortage (Mr. Bruno thought it was $125,000.) However, in reality, there will be a surplus as teachers leave during the year, replacements

Glen Cove Group To Fight LILCO

A Glen Cove ad-hoc Citizens Group headed by Gene Auciello of that City said tonight "we intend to fight the Long Island Lighting Company all the way to Albany if necessary."

Gene Auciello, a local civic leader said his group forwarded a letter to Glen Cove Commissioner of Consumer Affairs Norbert Stencosky more than two weeks ago on a very different matter involving the Long Island Lighting Company's fuel adjustment factor increasing electric bills of all our residents. Auciello cited the advisement of increases in the form of a New Year greeting from Lileo. Phone calls were made to more than 25 residents when the notice of increases were received, and all agreed to mass objection. Auciello told residents he would contact the Commissioner of Consumer Affairs on the matter. No answer has as yet been received on the matter and Auciello said he intended to carry the matter directly to the Glen Cove City Hall.

Auciello said "the latest disgrace is Lileo's request for a 19 per cent rate increase." "Legislators should look this one square in the eye, consumers are being begged to conserve electricity, and because of their patriotism during this crisis are being penalized by Lileo because of it." "The more than two increases approved by the Public Service Commission is more than enough for this money-hungry monopoly and we don't intend to give them more." Auciello added.

The group will petition state legislators in the hope of using pressure on the Public Service Commission to deny the increase, giving relief to homeowners who really need help in this era of crises.

Tobay Adopts Revised Tow Car Ordinance

Town Clerk Ann R. Ocker announced that all tow car operators doing business within the Town must obtain new licenses under the amended Town Ordinance by July 1, 1974. "Last Tuesday (Feb. 19, 1974) the Town Board adopted revisions to the Town Ordinance regulating tow car licenses and establishing two categories of licenses," Mrs. Ocker said. "Under the revisions, tow car operators must apply for either unrestricted or restricted licenses before the current license expires on June 30th."

The fee for the restricted license will be $25 as was the fee for tow car licenses prior to the revisions to the Town Ordinance. "However," Mrs. Ocker explained, "with a restricted license, operators will not be permitted to go to the scene of an accident or remove cars from the scene of an accident."

The unrestricted license will permit the operator to tow cars under all circumstances, including at scenes of accidents. "This license will cost $100 a year for the first vehicle," Mrs. Ocker said. She also noted that operators applying for either license will have to pay a non-refundable $25 application fee. "As it may take time to process these applications for the licenses, all operators, whether currently licensed or not, should file their applications at Town Hall beginning June 3, 1974," Mrs. Ocker cautioned.

Joseph Doyle Reappointed

Joseph Doyle of Plainview, Chairman of the Town's Public Employment Relations Board, has been reappointed to a term expiring January 31, 1980. Town Supervisor John W. Burke announced.

PERB, established in 1967 with the Town Board's enactment of the Public Employees Fair Employment Law, was created to promote harmonious relationships between Town government and its employees. Also on the three-member Board are Anthony Correrri and George Boylan, both of Hicksville. The Board's members serve for staggered six-year terms.

On The Campus

Robert D. Beck of 22 Williams Avenue, SYOSSET, a junior mathematics major at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, has made dean's list for the fall 1973 semester.

Peter S. Alexandrovich of 54 Cherry Lane, SYOSSET, a senior chemistry major at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute has made dean's list for the fall 1973 semester.

Residents Oppose Apartment Petition

By Janet Gosnell

After a long and carefully prepared presentation lasting about one and a half hours, the petition of Varley Homes, Inc., for a change of zone to permit the building of apartments in Woodbury met only opposition from residents who spoke and organizations who sent spokesmen.

The public hearing on the petition of Varley Homes was held Tuesday at Town Hall. If granted, the petitioners would be allowed to construct apartments at 10 units per acre on a 13.5 acre parcel on the south side of Jericho Turnpike about 550 feet west of the intersection of Piquets Lane.

Specifically, the petitioners were requesting a zone change from B-1 Residential to E-3 General Residence District. According to the petitioner's attorney, John Coffee, of the intent is to build 135 condominium units, each of which would sell in the neighborhood of $50,000. The units would be divided into 14 one-bedroom units, 94 two-bedroom units and 27 three-bedroom units.

As a result of meetings prior to the hearings, the petitioners agreed to all the demands of the residents in the area regarding the development of the property. "This is not to say that they are in favor of this petition, however," Mr. Coffee said.

To meet residents' requests, a border of trees would be maintained on the south side of the property 100 feet from three one-family homes which would also be built on the 13.5 acre parcel. A snow fence would be installed to keep bulldozers and other construction equipment within boundaries required by residents. Deepdale Court would not be used as a means of egress or ingress except for emergency vehicles, and the street would be landscaped and curbed in a manner to keep out regular traffic. Lighting for the development would be directed downward and away from the residential area. No construction vehicles would use Christie Lane. Also speaking for the petitioners were a real estate expert, Bert Nelson, a planner, and the architect, Fred Ventel, of Locust Valley. Mr. Ventel said the units would be constructed facing internally away from Jericho Turnpike and the adjacent Syosset Woodbury Park. They would be constructed with a general feeling of individuality, some with garages and some without. There would be a tennis court, swimming pool and a playground.

Must Protest

"It's a pity that we must protest this petition on grounds supplied us by the Town Board - the master plan," said Judy Jacobs, president of the south Woodbury Taxpayers Association during a recess in the hearing. "The petitioners met all our demands, yet we must protest the petition," she said. Mrs. Jacobs lives within two blocks of the subject property.

In her formal remarks, Mrs. Jacobs said, "We cannot give our support to any change in the map which will give us more multi-family dwelling units." She referred earlier to the designation of the Woodland Academy for apartments in what she called "a phantom plan" which hands zoning to a "gifted few."

Also speaking against the petition was Joan Davidson, who read a letter from the Syosset School Board, and Ferne Moscovitz, who read a letter from the P.T.A. Council.

Paula Bell, who lives across the street from the subject parcel said the real estate agent assured her that single family homes would be constructed on the site. "Where are those single family homes?" she questioned. Harrier Kraus and other speakers commended Councilman Kenneth Diamond on his questions regarding traffic patterns in the development. Mrs. Kraus was concerned about the school buses bringing children home to the proposed new development, and about children on bikes.

At the close of the hearing, the Town Board reserved decision.

Decision Tabled

A decision on a change of zone petition by Orlando Capobianco was tabled after Mr. Capobianco presented a letter to the Board requesting withdrawal. His petition asked for a rezoning of his land on the north side of Jericho Turnpike west of the Seaford Oyster Bay Expressway for apartments.

In another decision, the petition of Pine Hollow Skating Rink was approved by the Board.

The Town Board set a public hearing date of March 19th on a petition by the Woodbury Racquet Club for modification of restrictive covenants in order to install air conditioning. Another public hearing set was on the petition of Shell Oil Company for a change of zone from Business F to Business G District for a special permit to operate and maintain a gasoline service station at Old Country Road and Grohman Lane in Plainview.

No one spoke at a public hearing on Tuesday on the proposal to amend the boundaries of the Jericho Park District to exclude state university property.

Proposed Oyster Bay Marine Life Ordinance Will Launch Bay Management Program

Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan Jr. announced that on March 5, the Town Board will hold a public hearing on a proposed Marine Life Ordinance that will do more than just protect the marine life in Town waters.

"In addition to setting certain guidelines concerning the taking of shellfish, this new ordinance outlines a program and funding system that will permit the Town to improve the quality and quantity of marine life year after year," according to Hogan.

The proposed ordinance, if adopted, would bring about a large number of changes in the current regulations concerning shellfishing in Town waters. "Write the proposal deals with the ages of permit applicants, the fees for shellfishing permits and the procedures for leasing underwater Town land," Hogan noted; "the most important aspect is the establishing of a program that outlines the procedures and funding for the seeding and transplanting of shellfish beds."

Currently, Town residents may obtain Personal Permits for taking shellfish from Town waters for a fee of $1.50 a year, and Commercial Permits for $25 per year. Under the proposed ordinance, both fees double and half of the new fee will be used for the seeding of shellfish beds, the transfer of shellfish from uncertified waters to certified waters, and for research into methods to improve shellfishing in Town waters.

To permit the Town to seed shellfish beds and effectively transplant shellfish into certified waters, the ordinance would grant the Town Board authority to establish managed areas where the removal of shellfish would be prohibited or restricted.

"I believe that in dealing with the future of marine life, this concept is as important as all the protective regulations placed in this proposed ordinance," Hogan stressed.

In addition to establishing this system, the proposed ordinance would change many aspects of shellfishing regulations that the Town believes to be outdated and would tighten regulations concerning certain methods of shellfishing which could destroy this entire activity in a few short years if allowed to continue.

The proposed ordinance would change the age of residents needing permits to anyone 16 years old or over, while those younger would be able to remove up to a half a bushel a day without a permit. Current regulations require permits for anyone over 12 years and does not allow shellfishing for those younger.

In addition, the new ordinance sets a special regulation for senior citizens. Residents 62 years of age or older will be permitted to obtain one personal permit for half price which, rather than expiring each March 31st, will be a permanent lifetime permit.

Some regulation changes proposed in the ordinance include a section that will eliminate bunker boat operations in Town waters by limiting the size of nets to 25 by 4 feet and prohibiting the use of beam trawl, otter trawl and purse seines.

Another regulation change affecting change affecting commercial permit holders will eliminate, in south shore waters, the prohibition from taking shellfish in waters of less than three feet deep at mean low tide and will lower the prohibition from four feet to three feet on the north shore.

In addition to the current system of fines up to $100 and imprisonment of up to six months for violation of the ordinance, the proposed ordinance would suspend shellfishing permits for up to 30 days for a first offense, up to six months for a second conviction within 12 months of the first conviction, and revoking permits for five years for three convictions within 18 months.

The hearing is scheduled to begin at 10 AM at Town Hall, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Marino Urges Attendance At LILCO Hearing

State Senator Ralph J. Marino is calling the public's attention to a hearing on Long Island Lighting Company's petition to install a steel bulkhead and dredge Hempstead Harbor at the utility company's Glenwood Landing site.

The hearing will be conducted by the State Department of Environmental Conservation on March 6, 1974, at 10:00 a.m. at Nassau County Police Headquarters, 1490 Franklin Avenue, Mineola, in the 2nd floor Assembly Auditorium.

The project is a first step in LILCO's plans to construct gas-turbine generators on its waterfront property adjacent to its Glenwood Landing plant.

Said Marino, "This is the first time the public has been afforded the right to participate in a major environmental decision under the State's new Wetlands Act, effective September 1, 1973. I urge environmental groups and citizens concerned with the project's potential effects on Hempstead Harbor to attend the hearing and express their positions."

Marino, a sponsor of the Wetlands Act, said the law requires that any activity within 300 feet of tidal water which may disrupt environmental conditions or destroy wetlands can be subjected to public scrutiny through hearings. While the Department of Environmental Conservation may use its discretion in regard to holding hearings, Marino requested that a project of this magnitude be fully aired before the public.

RONCALLO REPORTS

by CONGRESSMAN ANGELO D. RONCALLO

As a result of a bill passed in 1969 before I came down here, Congressmen are scheduled to receive a series of substantial pay raises over the next three years, the first of which would happen within the next few months. I am against these raises and I have signed a "discharge petition" supporting a move here to nix them.

People are in no mood to raise the salary of any politician until things calm down a little. In my opinion, a pay raise now would enrage most of the electorate and probably quite rightly.

It's not that I don't think we could use the pay hike. We make $42,500 and that is good money. But a big hunk of that, and in my case I am talking about several thousand dollars, goes for unreimbursable office expenses as helping to maintain a District office in Cold Spring Harbor and for additional travel back and forth from New York. I happen to think that these out-of-pocket expenses are necessary for me to help serve my constituents, but they still show up on my own personal budget as official expenses out of my paycheck.

Being a Congressman is expensive and I hope we never get to the point where it is so personally expensive that only independently wealthy men and women can afford to run for office. If we do get to this point, the group that comes here will be totally out of touch with the average person at home.

Most of us here in Congress are people just like you with family responsibilities and family expenses. I have to feed, clothe and educate my five kids just like you do for your family. For this reason, I have kept my law partnership in the law firm I was associated with before coming to Washington. It goes without saying that I have not and will not ever involve myself in any legal way with them that would in any way involve a conflict of interest. In the past year this has not presented any problems and I don't anticipate any in the future.

I continue in that law firm not so much because I need the money now but in the event I was not re-elected I would have to make some provision to support my family.

As I have told you so often in this column, being your Representative is the most fulfilling and satisfying job I could ever hope to have and I intend to do everything I can to be the best possible Congressman for you as long as you'll let me.

Residents Reminded To Obtain Dog Licenses

Town Councilman Joseph J. Saladino reminded all dog owners to obtain a 1974 dog license and identification tag for their pet if they have not already done so.

"The deadline for renewing licenses was January 1st," Councilman Saladino pointed out, "and owners will be subject to a fine if they do not either renew their dog's license or file an affidavit of non-liability with the Town Clerk."

Saladino said that the Nassau County Police will be mailing reminders to all listed dog owners who have not applied for a 1974 dog license or filed an affidavit of non-liability.

Applications for dog licenses can be obtained at the Town Clerk's Office, Town Hall, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay or at the Town Hall annexes located at 95 Grand Avenue, Massapequa, and 65 Broadway, Hicksville. The fee is $2.35 for males and spayed females and $5.35 for unspayed females. An affidavit of non-liability form, stating that a person no longer owns or harbors a dog, can also be obtained at the Town Clerk's Office and both annexes.

"The law states that everyone owning or sheltering a dog must obtain a license and identification tag for the animal," Saladino stated, "and actually it is for the protection of both the owner and the dog. The tag serves as identification of lost, strayed or injured dogs and the license provides proof of ownership."

JOHN W. BURKE

Reports

The Town of Oyster Bay, along with Nassau County and the Towns of Hempstead and North Hempstead, is commencing the second phase of a multi-municipal productivity project, the only one of its kind in the country to date.

The objective of the project, which is a joint labor-management research and development program, is to demonstrate that productivity improvement is possible and within reach of municipal government today. The project is being carried out by a study team composed of local leaders of the Civil Service Employees Association and management representatives from the County and the towns with the support of a technical staff.

The program is investigating

Washington Report

Congressman
NORMAN F. LENT
5th District, New York

The electronic scoreboard in the House Chamber had barely totalled up the vote favoring another untimely recess for Congress last week when pollster Louis Harris revealed the results of his most recent survey—a survey which showed Congress' standing in the public eye had hit a rock-bottom 21 per cent approval rating, with the other 69 per cent of Harris' targets saying the federal legislature was doing only a "fair" to "poor" job of coping with the country's problems.

One hundred and seventy-five of us in the House cast votes against the traditional Jackson-Lincoln Day recess which usually spans February's midriff, but 209 Members voted to leave Washington.

There can be little wonder, then, that on every issue covered by the poll: handling of the Watergate case; keeping the economy healthy; handling impeachment proceedings against the President and our relations with him; inspiring confidence in government; handling the energy shortage and keeping spending and inflation under control, the Congress—compared to a separate poll of individual attitudes towards President Nixon's own handling of the same issues—fared worse, and he's the man for whose impeachment the nation is agitating.

There's no doubt in my own mind that the President's troubles have in no small way contributed to the general loss of confidence in government to which Congress has become an unwitting "hier." But we cannot—any more than Harry Truman said he could—allow the "back" to pass beyond our own desks. In fact, with public loss of confidence in the President at the stage we now find it, it's doubtful that the Congress can do else than accept the major portion of the responsibility for making any progress at all in the Nation's current climate of uncertainty.

The Harris Poll, while conducted among a cross-section of barely 1,500 people nation-wide, nevertheless reveals a result too top-sided to be disregarded. As only one of the 535 Representatives and Senators in Washington, I am deeply disturbed by this obvious national display of dissatisfaction with the job we are doing. You have my reassurance that, through it all, I have been making every effort to follow your wishes, assist in solving your problems and serve you well. But when it comes to my being able to provide, single-handedly, the legislative remedies for the very real problems we face—my own sense of frustration often goes as deep as do those reflected in the Harris poll.

I certainly hope that, as my colleagues rejoin me in Washington this week, they will listen to my pleas for speedy and serious efforts at resolving the problems which have created an obvious national mood of dissatisfaction. Never before in my legislative experience have the people wanted and deserved as many answers to as many questions. The House of Representatives and the Senate must set about the business of providing them.

new procedures and new technology to do each job in the best way possible to achieve more effective and better quality service. This involves studies of such areas as rearrangement of work flow, alteration of work rules or the introduction of new equipment. The program is not designed to get more work out of the employee but to find better ways of doing the work.

The theme of the productivity project is, "Work smarter, not harder". The program gives the employee the opportunity to participate in the decision making process of doing a job better, which heretofore has been the prerogative of management. It also opens the door to productivity bargaining, giving the employee the means to share directly in the savings realized through the joint labor-management efforts.

A major benefit to the Town administration is expected to be a greater ability to respond to the ever increasing demands for more and better services without increasing the tax burden on the citizen.

The program is new to all of us but with the continued cooperation and enthusiasm displayed to date by both management and labor, I am confident that we will achieve an improved quality of life in the Town of Oyster Bay.

A question-and-answer booklet on the program can be obtained at no charge by writing to the Director of Personnel, Town Hall, Oyster Bay, N.Y. 11771.

Seldin Creates Taxpayer Information Bureau

Keeping a pledge to improve communications between the public and the Nassau County Board of Assessors, Abe Seldin, Board Chairman, today announced the creation of a new Taxpayer Information Bureau and named its first director Kenneth J. Cynar of Hempstead.

"The new bureau's goal is to dispell 'the mystery' that has surrounded tax assessments in the past and to make sure that everyone is made aware of how taxes are determined and of his recourse if he disagrees with that determination," stated Seldin. "It is time that the Board of Assessors exert itself beyond the requirements of the law to make the operations of the department clear to the tax-paying homeowner."

The activities of the new division will be in the broad area of public information but its first assignment will be to concentrate on three specific programs.

1. The bureau will initiate a speakers service where board members and other key personnel of the Assessment Office will be made available to address local civic groups and service clubs.

2. At the present time there still exists many veterans and senior citizens in Nassau County who have never inquired about their eligibility for property tax exemptions to the Board. The information Bureau will begin immediately an active media campaign to reach this segment of the population.

KENNETH J. CYNAR of Hempstead is the newly appointed Director of the Nassau County Board of Assessors Taxpayer Information Bureau. He will be charged with the responsibility of improving communications between the Board and the public on the activities and services of the Assessment Department.

3. When reassessment of a home or commercial property is being considered, the bureau will notify the property owner by mail, clarifying for him the basis of the reassessments and inviting him to meet with a representative of the Board to discuss the move.

"These initial steps are only the first of many to deal with the informational void that now exists between the public and the Assessment Office," asserted Seldin. "At a recent meeting of the International Association of Assessing Officers, governmental officials charged the group to do more to provide proper information to the public regarding assessments and the taxing structure. Our goal in Nassau is to provide a flow of information to make the residents of the County aware of the taxing and assessment procedures," Seldin continued.

Seldin's choice for the director of the new bureau is Kenneth J.

Cynar of Hempstead, graduate of Hofstra University, the 27 year old Cynar holds a Bachelor Degree in English and a Masters Degree in Education. A career civil servant he has served as an information specialist for the Hempstead Town Public Information Office for the past six years.

Active in the community, he is vice-president of the Hempstead Branch of the American Cancer Society and on the Board of Directors of the Hofstra Cancer Society and on the Board of Directors of the Hofstra University Alumni Association.

He resides with his wife Donna, a school teacher, at 67 Perry Street in Hempstead. The salary for the position is set at $21,500. Clerk's office. There is no charge for this service.

Art Show Participation Encouraged

Applications are currently available in Nassau Hospital's Volunteer Office for friends of the hospital to enter their sculpture, paintings, and needlework in the Fourteenth Annual Art Show to be held at the hospital from Sunday, March 24, through Wednesday, March 27. Sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to Nassau Hospital, the Art Show is always a visual and financial success, according to Mrs. Frank E. Wilson, chairman of the event. Applications should be returned to the hospital no later than March 1, 1974. For further information, please call the Volunteer Office at the hospital, 516-742-4200, extension 280.

Men In Service

Airman James M. McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McLaughlin of 41 Arbor Lane, HICKSVILLE, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

During his six weeks training, he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction on human relations.
 The airman is remaining at the Air Training Command base for specialized training in the security police field.

 Airman McLaughlin is a 1973 graduate of Hicksville High School.

Airman Peter C. Ober, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Ober of 11 Admiral Lane, HICKSVILLE, has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Sheppard for specialized training as a medical services specialist.

Airman Ober, a 1972 graduate of Hicksville Senior High School, attended the State University of New York at Plattsburgh. His wife, Alison, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Alexander of 184 Blueberry Lane, Hicksville.

Social Security News

QUES: I became severely disabled and unable to work in December 1973. The social security office advised me they will start paying disability benefits to me, my wife, and child beginning with the month of June 1974. Shouldn't my benefits have begun with December 1973, the month I became disabled?

ANS: No. The waiting period for disability benefits is 5 months. You became disabled in December of last year, and your waiting period will end in May; so your first monthly payment will be for June 1974. During the waiting period some people may recover from their disabilities. The social security law does not provide payments for short-term or partial disability; it only pays for severe and prolonged disability.

QUES: It is my understanding that a person, aged 65, blind or disabled, with limited resources and income, might qualify for this new supplemental security income. How much can be had in resources?

ANS: Resources mean anything you now have such as savings and checking accounts, stocks, bonds, and other things of value. A home, a car, do not usually count as resources unless they are of unusually high value. Neither items of strong sentimental value or personal items such as furniture count. You are allowed to have $1500 in resources if you are single or $2250 for a couple. For example, a person who owns his own home of reasonable value and a car can have up to $1500 in the bank, may still qualify and a couple can have resources up to

$2250, may still qualify for a monthly payment

QUES: During the year I occasionally hire a domestic. Must I report her wages and, if so, when?

ANS: If you pay your domestic cash wages of $50 or more during a calendar quarter (January-March, April-June, July-September, October-December), you must report the wages and send the social security contribution to the Internal Revenue Service. This report should be made during the first month immediately after the quarter in which you paid the wages. Get a copy of "Social Security and Your Household Employee" from any social security office for more information. Your local office is at 1 Station Plaza North, Mineola, N.Y. The telephone number is PI 7-5470.

Follow The Leader

by Reverend John H. Krahn, Trinity Lutheran Church

A father was filling out the application form for his daughter who was seeking entrance to a very exclusive college. He came to the question on the form asking whether his daughter was a leader. In honesty he wrote, "No, but she's a good follower." A few weeks later a letter arrived notifying him that his daughter had been accepted. At the bottom of the letter the dean had written, "Since the entering class of 500 has 498 leaders, we thought there ought to be one follower." Unlike the entering class of that college, the Church has but one leader and many followers. Jesus Christ leads, we follow.

Remember when we, as children, played the game,

"Follow the Leader?" To be a good player we had to keep our eyes on the leader and our mind on the game. As we anticipated his next action, we were able to follow it within a split second. It is difficult to follow our Lord's lead when our eyes and minds wander away from Him by focusing on ourselves or on plastic goals and desires. By plastic, I mean things that lack substance compared with love, joy, peace, patience, and kindness, which the Bible describes as the fruits of knowing Christ and following Him.

If you haven't tasted joy for awhile and peace is something you have been longing for, consider getting your eyes back on the Leader. We do that by getting back into the Bible, by talking our life over with Him in prayer, and by lasting His forgiveness at the Communion table. Goodness, patience, and kindness can be ours as we follow the Leader.

And the ever popular concept of love...what about that? The Lord dwelling in the hearts of His followers helps them develop a love that is fervent, hardy and creative. A love that strains like a horse in full gallop. A love that endures like the strength of a long-distance runner. One that helps us create our own personality as we help others create theirs.

She's 100 Years Young

There was good reason to celebrate at the birthday party held Sunday Feb. 17. The occasion was the 100th birthday of Anna Maria Graziano. Although her birthday, in actuality falls on the same day as George Washington's the family took advantage of the three-day weekend to have the party, according to her daughter Mrs. Margaret Provenzano of Hicksville. The party was held at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Connie Falletta, 1 Linden Ct., Hicksville. Also present were her sons, Dominick and Salvatore, of Florida. Present also were many relatives from Florida, St. Louis, Conn. and Brooklyn, along with many of her 18 grandchildren, 27 great-grandchildren, and 9 great-great grandchildren.

Mrs. Graziano came from Italy when she was 27 and lived in Brooklyn until 18 years ago when she came to live in Hicksville. She's still very active and never really had a sick day in her life.

Hicksville's happy to have her in our midst and we all join in wishing her a very happy birthday.

'Leisure Passes' Now Available

Nassau Recreation and Parks Commissioner Richard A. Fitch today advised county residents who have not yet obtained their "Leisure Passes" to do so early this year in order to avoid the lines that may form as warmer weather starts to set in.

The Leisure Pass is the photo card that identifies residents for the purpose of using county-operated recreation and parks facilities.

Since the program was initiated last March, nearly a quarter of a million residents have applied for their passes. Beginning last May, the card has been required for entry into fee-charging facilities such as rinks, pools and golf courses.

A five month grace period has been granted this year before the pass will become the only acceptable means of identification for entry into the parks.

"We wish to give every resident sufficient opportunity to apply for their passes. It is our hope that everyone who wishes to use the parks this summer will have their passes by June 1," Fitch said.

The leisure pass system was set up in order to eliminate abuses in previous identification measures. Guests of pass holders will be admitted but will be required to pay non-resident rates wherever fees are charged.

The cost of the pass is $1 for a two-year period from date of purchase. Passes are required for residents 10 years of age and over. Applications can be processed in person only at the various leisure pass centers, where photographs will be taken. Applicants must bring proof of

ANDREW S. PITRE (left), Deputy Commissioner of the Department of General Services of Nassau County and Chairman of BAND, the county blood program, offers his congratulations as he "pins"

Huge Spadaro of Hicksville with his Gallon Club emblem. Adding his approval is Abe Seidin, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, Mr. Spadaro's department head.

The Gallon Club pin is awarded to an employee after he has contributed a gallon of blood to the volunteer program. The BAND program collects in excess of 3000 pints of blood each year.

Plainview - Old Bethpage High School News

February 12th is known around this country to be the birthday of our 16th president, Abraham Lincoln. But from now on that day will be known around Plainview as Steve Tipa Day.

It was on February 12th that Steve Tipa reached his Varsity basketball career total of 1,000 points, against Clarke High School. He achieved this feat in a Plainview losing battle, a battle typical of the Gull's year. The 1973-74 season and most of its players will be forgotten and now set upon an obscure shelf built for regrettable history. However, Steve Tipa will be on the bright and memorable part of that team whose name will live in the memories of anyone who ever watched his classic jump shot, or knew him personally.

As for Steve, as well as for this writer, graduation looms ever closer. As a witness to his 1000th point, one thinks back on the years of the past. One easily recalls the Freshman year when a unknown kid from school was touted for basketball stardom. He was not an unknown for long, Steve Tipa led his team to 13 and 1 championship season in 1970-71 by out-scoring and out-leaping his generally taller opponents. He moved on to the High School and made Varsity as a sophomore.

Perhaps his most memorable contribution that season was in a game against Herricks High School. Plainview was down by one point with 5 seconds remaining on the clock. Steve grabbed the inbound pass and dribbled to center court. He looked back at the clock, did a half turn in the air and let fly from 45 feet. The ball hung in the air for a few anxious seconds. It switched directly through the hoop, much to the screaming delight of the partisan Plainview crowd.

As a junior, Steve was in some ways over-shadowed by senior Vinny Averano, the star of the 1972-73 campaign. But still Steve's jump shot and rebounding were deadly weapons for a team that made the North Shore division 11 playoffs.

Steve stood on the foul line at Plainview High School on what he, as a senior, knew would be his last Varsity game on the familiar green and gold hardwood. He looked back at the clock which showed 2 seconds remaining. The game was long gone, but it did not have to be a total loss. Steve had scored 43 points in the game and needed but one more to reach a thousand points. He glanced inconspicuously up at the stands, a glance that could only be caught by someone who had watched him for years. He took the ball in hand and casually tossed it at the hoop. The crowd he had electrified so many times now watched in silence. The ball went directly through the hoop. The crowd stood for almost five minutes and thanked one of their classmates for all the fun and memories he had given them.

As I reminisce about the past I think also of the other sports I have been associated with. I remember the baseball team I made in Junior High School, and all those Saturdays with the football team. I remember the Band members who together with me played Plainview's victory song, "Saints". I remember the "statistics" team who braved the cold and rain on the football field in order to get accurate "stats". I remember the fanatical followers who vocally supported the teams in all weather and while against all odds.

For me, these joys are over. But someone will take my place. I ask the community to please continue supporting High School athletics and all activities in general. The lessons that are invaluable ones not found in any book. If the community continues its support, those who follow me will attain priceless gifts which will surely benefit them in their future.

To everyone in the community, my friends and classmates, my teachers and sponsors, and to you my readers, all I can say further is "thank you..."

Hockey Night At Lee Avenue School

Lee Avenue will hold a Hockey Night right in our school gym Tuesday, February 26, at 7:30. Mr. DeLacama, manager of the L.I. Cougars, will visit with us along with an offensive and defensive player. They will be demonstrating plays, answering any questions, and giving interesting pointers about hockey. Door prizes will include 10 free tickets to games at the L. I. Arena. Admission will be 50 cents per person. Free refreshments and autographs and a chance at a raffle.

"Everyone is invited, so keep the evening free and come on over!" said Noreen Romeo.

P.B.C. Announces Baseball Registration

Hicksville P.B.C. will hold registration for boys baseball on Feb. 23, 24, 1 to 5 p.m., and Feb. 25, 26 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., and on Saturday, March 2 from 1 to 5 p.m., at the P.B.C. Clubhouse, 85 Bethpage Road, Hicksville. There will be a ten dollar registration fee per child to cover costs of uniforms, equipment, umpires, etc. However each child has the opportunity to defray the cost of his registration fee by selling ten chance books which will be distributed at time of registration.

Parents must register child on dates and times indicated. Families registering two or more children will pay only five dollars for each additional child.

Library Presents Hockey Program

"BROTHERHOOD IN SPORTS" will be the theme on Saturday, Feb. 23 at 1:00 as the Children's Room at the Hicksville Public Library celebrates National Brotherhood Week. Everyone's welcome to the large auditorium as Mr. Sheldon Ilowite, popular local teacher and author, and statistician for the New York Islanders presents a program on Hockey. He'll discuss the rules of the game and rink strategy, and explain the duties of the various officials. Mr. Ilowite will cap the program with comments on the action in a film of National Hockey League Highlights. After the program, at 2:30, three fun films will be shown to the youngsters.

Superintendent Will Make Three Presentations On Current School Problems

Dr. Robert F. Savitt, Superintendent of Schools in Plainview, Long Island, has been selected to make three presentations at the forthcoming meeting of the American Association of School Administrators being held in Atlantic City on February 22 to 26.

Tow of Dr. Savitt's presentations deal with the issue of adjusting to lower school enrollments, a challenge Plainview is currently facing. In one presentation, Dr. Savitt will speak on "Dwindling Population and Unneeded Schools" and he will also make a second presentation relating to "Prudent Facility Planning in the Face of Dwindling Enrollments." In these presentations, he will share information regarding the situation in Plainview where enrollments will drop by approximately one-third in the next five years and where the Board and community are considering a tentative plan for the closing of four elementary schools.

Dr. Savitt will also preside at a Clinic at the AASA meeting dealing with the question "What Can Management Gain Through Collective Bargaining?" The Plainview school district was one of the first school districts in the state to be involved in formal negotiations with teachers, long before state law required such arrangements.

The AASA meeting is expected to attract thirty thousand school administrators, school board members and college professors from all over the United States.

EISENHOWER TUNNEL. SILVER PLUME, COLO.-- Colorado has opened a $110-million highway tunnel through the Continental Divide. The 1.7-mile-long tunnel, named for former President Eisenhower, is more than 11,000 feet above sea level.

DYNAMITE DOUBLE. FORT WORTH, TEX.-- Employees of the Equitable Savings and Loan Co. handed over an undetermined amount of cash to a robber who threatened to blow up the bank with the dynamite in his hand. Police learned the "dynamite" was sawed off broom handles.

Hicksville American's Take German - American Soccer Toumey Grown

The VFW William Gouse Post sponsored Hicksville American Soccer team swept undefeated thru a field of 16 top teams in the Metropolitan area. Having accepted a unique invitation to field 2 teams in the German - American tournament, held at Oceanside, The Hicksville A team posted the first trophy winning success by a non - German - American League member in the history of the Oceanside tournament.

Both Hicksville's A & B teams survived the Saturday elimination play, enabling the teams to compete for the trophy on Sunday. The results justified Hicksville's pride in its soccer program, with the B team taking 5th place while the A team took 1st place.

The closest any team ever came to stopping the "A's" was in the semi - final round against the Greek - Americans. Our team had to come back from a 3 - 0 deficit at half time, to take the game. Credit for this victory, as well as many others, must be given to the Hicksville goal keeper, Dennis Barcavage, and to the work of the defensive backs, including Peter Collins and Donald Anglin.

Peter Collins was awarded the most coveted Most Valuable Player (MVP) trophy by the officials of the tournament. This was the second time this winter soccer season that Peter Collins has been selected for this award at indoor tournaments.

Mr. John Kerti, coach, and his Hicksville Americans deserved the massive applause and resounding cheers, as well as the trophies, they received at the tournament.

Continued Hicksville American Soccer Club activity includes a Bantam Division Indoor Tournament at Hicksville High School this Saturday and Sunday, February 23rd and 24th beginning at 9 A.M. each day. The public is invited to this event as well as to the second round of the National Junior Challenge Cup game being held on Sunday, February 24th at the Hicksville High School soccer field at 12 Noon. (Hicksville vs Gottschae)

The Hicksville Junior Team sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Hicksville, rolled over Massapequa two weeks ago by a lopsided 11 - 1 score in the first round. Hicksville hopes that their drive to the New York State Championships and Nationals will be assisted by a convincing win over Blau Weiss Gottschae on Sunday. Come on down and see a most exciting game.

March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon

Leorri Gumannow, Judy Sherman, Robert Messa, Leonard Seruedo, and Linda Geoghegan your neighbors in Hicksville are now in the midst of getting a very important message to the public about the Nassau County March of Dimes Walk-a-thon. They know that every other minute a child is born less than perfect; that birth defects are not prejudiced, they can happen to anyone and that the problem of birth defects is REAL. These students, knowing about birth defects, have already begun putting their best foot forward by distributing hundreds of registration forms and posters for the Walk-a-thon which will be held on Sunday, April 28th.

Officials now estimate a total registration for the Walk-a-thon of about 40,000 Nassau County people. It's quite evident from the response at this early date that this major fund-raising event will receive the support and personal concern of so many Nassau County people who care about the child born less than perfect.

If you're among the many who really do care and want to help to fight birth defects, please register to walk in the 1974 March of Dimes Walk-a-thon. Either call one of the representatives mentioned above or Walk-a-thon Headquarters at 741-4045.

Hicksville Speaker Victorious In Legion Intercounty Contest

The shade of the "boy orator of the Platte," William Jennings Bryan, was evoked in spirit at Seaford American Legion Post this past Tuesday when Edward Saueracker of the Hicksville High School defeated the best American Legion orators of Suffolk and Queens Counties to move into the Metropolitan Final Competition.

Saueracker is a Hicksville senior sponsored by the Charles Wagner Post 421, a veterans group with numerous past successful county and state finalists to its credit. Coached to dramatic effectiveness by Mrs. Marie Saunders of the high school and displaying poise and a resonant voice, Saueracker took a close decision of five judges to triumph over Joanne Mallie of -Mary Lewis Academy, Jamaica, the Queens champion, whose forte was speech of much substance and the restrained but effective, eloquence of the lawyer she aspires to be.

Finishing third with a spirited commentary on the topic, the United States Constitution, was Suffolk's oratorical champion, Jay Purdy of Walt Whitman High School, Huntington.

Judging the Intercounty, or

Tenth District, American Legion contest were: Mrs. Peter Moskwa, Tenth District American Legion contest were: Mrs. Peter Moskwa, Tenth District American Legion Auxiliary Chairman of Suffolk; Joseph Schwartz of the Federal Aeronautics Administration and the Postmasters' Post of Queens; Charles Read, Suffolk County American Legion Historian; Arthur Knopp, New York State Department of Insurance of Queens and Dr. Friederick Bergman, formerly Assistant Principal at the Hicksville Junior High School and of the Hofstra University Graduate School.

On hand to support the winner were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Saueracker; Mrs. Ann Evers; serving as escort for the speakers: Nassau Oratorical Chairman Richard Hochbrueckner and his daughter, Jayne; Past Commander Wesley and Mrs. Tjetjen representing Commander Frank Molinari; and Nassau County American Legion Commander William Yannotti of Bayville. Hosting the contest were Commander Nick Damsis of the Edwin Welch Jr. Post 1132 and Mrs. O. Smith, Seaford Auxiliary President.

Junior Fire Report

Junior Fire Report by Lt. Carl Calma and Ex. Lt. Tom Busse

On Monday, February 17th, ten Juniors, under Lieutenants E. Gallegher and C. Calma, assisted Hicksville camps at a general alarm house fire at 21 Ninth Street. The alarm was sounded at 11:07 a.m. and the Juniors returned at 12:30. On Tuesday, February 18th, again, four Juniors under Lt. C. Calma, assisted at another general alarm fire in the basement of 73 Twinlawn Ave. The alarm was sounded at 7:24 a.m. A special note: all four Juniors made it to school on time that day.

On February 23rd, the Juniors will hold their Third Annual Installation Dinner at the Marie Headquarters at 7:30 p.m. The program will include fire science and an air mask demonstration. A spelling correction to last week's article: the President is John R. Gonta and the Financial Secretary is Anthony Sorvillo.

The Hicksville Juniors were started by Lts. T. Busse and R. Conover, from a small group called "The Hicksville Fire Buffs Club." These boys, along with others, talked to firemen and gained the help of O. Magee and later J. Spect as advisors. The interested members of the Fire Buffs met at Fire Headquarters in the summer of 1970. At this meeting, the name was changed to "The Hicksville Explorers Club Post 778", which was sponsored by the Nassau County Chapter of the Boy Scouts of America. Also, at this meeting, the members elected the following officers: President: Jeff Larkin, Vice President: Bill Biggs Jr., Secretary: Jeff Schuck, Sergeant at Arms: Bob Calucci, and Treasurer: Paul Huckstein. In the summer of 1973, the Explorers changed their name to "The Hicksville Fire Department Junior Firemen" with advisors J. Keyer, V. Nawrocki, P. Scanlon D. Zinkhan, D. Hudson, and G. Jenkins.

Reeve Conover is now a member of Jericho Company 3, and Tom Busse is still a member.

Most of the old members are now in the Department or waiting to join.

Bornstein Appointed Press Secretary

Assemblyman Joseph M. Margiotta, Chairman of the Nassau County Republican Committee, has announced the appointment of Arnold Bornstein of Lynbrook as Press Secretary at GOP County Headquarters.

Bornstein had been a copy editor and a reporter at The Long Island Press since 1968. Prior to that, he was a reporter at the defunct Long Island Star-Journal for six years.

His previous journalistic background includes being news director at Radio Station WBAB in Babylon, reporter for International News Service, caption writer at United Press Newspictures and copy editor at The New Haven Register in New Haven, Connecticut.

He taught English courses part-time at Queens College for six years and has a B.A. degree in journalism and a master's degree in English, both from New York University. He also attended Brooklyn College, Ohio State University and Brooklyn Law School.

Bornstein, 43, is married and has two children. He served in the U.S. Navy from 1951 to 1955.

25th ANNIVERSARY: On February 22, the Rev. Ralph Palmieri, Assistant at Our Lady of Mercy Church, Hicksville will celebrate his 25th Anniversary as a priest.

GLASSES FOR THE NEEDY. Three classes in the Oak Drive elementary school, Plainview, recently collected 200 pairs of glasses, for needy people who could not afford them. Used prescription glasses of all sizes, styles and frames, were brought in by students and teachers in the fifth and sixth grade classes of Mr. Henry Rosenfeld, Mrs. Helen Cohen and Mr. Donald Guiles. Members of the student committee who coordinated the two-month collection drive were: Karen Serani, Debbie Greenwald and Cecilia Limbach. Glasses were donated to New Eyes for the Needy, in Short Hills, New Jersey, where they will be melted down, new prescriptions filled and distributed to people who cannot afford them.

Mr. Mel Tannenbaum, Acting Principal, in presenting awards to the top collectors paid tribute to the "enthusiasm of the students and teachers, and to their strong concern for fellow humans less fortunate than themselves. Shown above, left to right are:

ACS Needs Volunteers

The Long Island Division of the American Cancer Society will need volunteers in early March to help stuff Crusade kits for mailing from their Melville office. Volunteers may either help out one or two days at the office, or pick up the material to do at home. For information call Mrs. Brent at 420-1111 extension 43.

Mrs. Shirley Dennis School nurse-teacher, Karen Serani, Cecilia Limbach, Debbie Greenwald and Mr. Henry Rosenwald, collecting the glasses.

Two House Fires Cause Heavy Damage

BY CAPT. OWEN MAGEE

"Two House Fires Cause Heavy Damage"
Two house fires in Hicksville on February 18 and 19 caused heavy damage to both structures. On Monday February 18 at 11:07 AM. A fire at 21 Ninth St. was reported. 80 Hicksville Vamps under Ast. Chief Mario Misturini responded with eight pieces of apparatus. The fire, which started in a storage area on the second floor caused heavy damage to one room upstairs. The dining room and living room suffered water damage. Firemen, hampered by heat and heavy smoke, brought the blaze under control in 20 minutes using three pieces of apparatus. The other five units were placed on stand-by. The fire was caused by an electrical short in the dining room ceiling. All occupants evacuated safely. No injuries were reported.

At 7:21 AM Tuesday February 19 a fire which started in the basement of a house at 73 Twinlawn Ave. Spread up the walls causing heavy damage. Firemen endured heavy smoke and heat to enter the basement. 50 Vamps and seven pieces of Louis Mertz. The units were used in fighting the blaze. Most of the damage was confined to the basement. No injuries were reported. Many of the vamps were late for work due to the fire. The fire marshals office was requested to investigate the cause.

Hicksville Boy, 12 Rescues Man 82

Although Hicksville firemen were not involved in this incident, it was learned that on Friday February 15 a 12 year old Hicksville boy, Mike Petrie of 11 Terrace Pl., with help from a passerby pulled 82 yr. old Grove

Griffith of 13 Terrace Place from a collapsed cesspool. Had it not been for his quick action a tragedy could have occurred. We TIP our hats to Mike for a job well done.

"Fire Report"

During the period Feb. 12th thru. 19th Hicksville Firemen responded to 29 alarms 2 false alarms 11 rescue calls and 16 fires.

Organized labor has asked Congress to raise the $1.60 per hour minimum wage to $2.50, saying it would still barely exceed the government's definition of poverty level wages.

"Firemen and Gas - A Problem

Used to be all a fireman had to worry about gas was what it could do if it caught fire or was spilled. That problem of course is still here along with a new problem — that of unsafe storage of the precious fuel in cars and buildings. As in the past we advise extreme caution in using gasoline. And while storage is not advised it is found most people won't listen. If you must store it, the most safe way is in safety cans in a metal shed (locked) a safe distance from any structure. A fire can strike so swiftly it's frightening. Please heed all safety precautions.

Along with the fire hazard of gas is the new problem which faces volunteer firefighters — that is no gas for his vehicle so he can respond to fight fires. So far as we know not much has been done to ease firemen's fears about the gas shortage in Nassau County. If you are in line waiting to get gas and a call comes in you either stay or leave and start all over at the end of line — If you're lucky enough to find the station open when you return. The people of Long Island who trust in the knowledge that their firemen have the ability to respond have got a serious problem on their hands. Most obvious is the curtailment of the fireman's quick response. If he has no gas he can't be of any help. Roads are packed with vehicles waiting for gas making it difficult for responding firemen to answer the call. The same people who would gripe if the fire was their's and the units were late.

Quite a bit of official action is shaping up in Suffolk County where officials are earnestly trying to get a gas allocation program for Vamps. It is imperative that a county-wide plan be set up which would at least give Vamps some gas to make up for what they donate to their fire duties. No one is asking for a handout. But it's plain to see the volunteer fire fighter is going to need gas to do the fire fighting duties required of him. A plan is needed now before the situation worsens.

We urge our supporters to write Town of Oyster Bay and Nassau County officials and request that they get moving on a plan to get volunteer firemen some sort of gas allocation so that fire protection will not be endangered. Your help would be appreciated.

And if this gas situation is not enough of a problem, now there is talk of the police taking over the blue lights that New York State firemen fought for several years ago. Half the people on the road today don't heed the blue light, can you imagine what firemen would be up against if they had no light to identify them. Keep in touch — looks like it's going to get worse before it gets better.

St. Valentine a la Francais

What is more appropriate than a French luncheon on St. Valentine's Day! Suzette Sullivan, sixth grade French student in Dr. Altobelli's class at Lee Avenue, planned the entire menu and organized the cooking.

The pupils researched their courses in French cook books and the results were a gourmet's vision of heaven. Marie Dunn prepared the canapes au fromage; Diane Thiergarten, the radis roses, olives vertes et noires; Francine Gabrus, the carottes et celeri en branches; followed by Mme. Slanover, soupe a l'ognon. The entree of coq au vin prepared by Marion Allotta, Debbie Hawkins and Suzette Sullivan was magnifique! Bette Hockbrueckner's salade verte a huile et vinaigre was crisp and the dressing was perfect. What is French luncheon without cheese...Brigitte Marco furnished the Brie et Provençal. The luncheon terminated with meringues aux fraises - Pamela Abram's creation.

What better tribute to St. Valentine than a labour of love French style!

LEGAL NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, That pursuant to law, a public hearing will be held in the Hearing Room of the Town Hall, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, Nassau County, New York, on the 5th day of March 1974, at 10 o'clock a.m., prevailing time, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to consider the following amendment to the Code of Ordinances of the Town of Oyster Bay, New York, as amended:

REPEAL in its entirety Chapter 16 "Marine Life" of the Code of Ordinances relating to the conservation and manner of taking shellfish, sandworms and bloodworms and permits for the taking thereof, and

ADD an entirely new Chapter 16 "Marine Life" which prohibits the taking of, disturbing of or attempting to take shellfish without a permit from Town lands underwater, including oysters, scallops, winkles, conches and all kinds of clams and mussels; and further,

This proposed ordinance provides for applications for permits and for the obtaining of commercial and personal permits with fees for each, and residency requirements and limitations on the amount of shellfish which may be taken in one day and provides personal permits for senior citizens at reduced rates and requires obtaining of Town identification cards; and further,

This proposed ordinance prohibits the taking of hard and soft clams, oysters and scallops under certain sizes and restricts the time of year when scallops may be taken and requires that shellfish may only be taken from waters certified as safe by the State and prohibits the use of certain devices for the taking of shellfish and regulates the manner of taking shellfish with tongs, rakes, nets, shovels and forks, and prohibits the use of power operated devices for the taking of shellfish except that scallop dredges of a certain size are authorized when used in the prescribed manner; and further, This proposed ordinance provides that the Town Board may set aside Town lands underwater as management areas for the conservation, seeding and rehabilitation of shellfish and the Superintendent of Environmental Conservation is authorized to prohibit or restrict removal of shellfish from these areas; and further,

This proposed ordinance provides uniform procedures for the letting of underwater lands owned by the Town including applications, terms, conditions, renewal and transfer of leases and public auctions for the letting of underwater lands and summary proceedings for failure to pay rents; and further,

This proposed ordinance prohibits the taking of sandworms and bloodworms without a permit from Town lands underwater and prohibits the disturbing of shellfish when taking such worms and restricts and regulates the number of worms that may be taken in one day; and further,

This proposed ordinance prohibits the use of note of a certain size for any purpose in the waters of the Town and prohibits the use of beam trawls, otter trawls, purse seines or gill nets except for authorized scientific research and prohibits the taking of certain crabs with eggs visible thereon and the taking of certain fish smaller than a specified size; and further, provides both civil and criminal penalties for violation thereof including fine or imprisonment or both and provides for suspension or revocation of permits and for the use of any remedy at law to enforce the provisions of this ordinance.

This proposed ordinance

All persons interested shall have an opportunity to be heard upon the said proposed amendment at the time and place aforesaid.

The proposed ordinance is on file in the Office of the Town Clerk and may be examined, during regular business hours by any or all interested persons.

BY ORDER OF THE TOWN BOARD OF THE TOWN OF OYSTER BAY

are hired, usually at a lower salary.

During the public portion of the meeting, Mrs. Corbano read a statement from her daughter and herself, describing an incident following a recent basketball game at the High School, during which her son was reportedly beaten by members of the Auxiliary Police force, Mr. Pirrung expressed the regret of the district that such an incident could occur and said the matter was still under investigation, with reports to come from the Auxiliary Police and the Nassau County Police Department.

Mr. Gene Ziegler, a Hicksville painter-contractor, told the school board of his visit to a BOCES painting class where, he said, the students were being taught incorrectly. He named other incidents of what he reported as misuse of taxpayers' monies. Mrs. Mary Carton asked the board to provide more supervision on the Junior High lawn during the lunch hours. She said students there are throwing rocks and snowballs at passing motorists on Jerusalem Avenue. Charles Fetta said the school board should turn down the library's request for a separate vote and let them appeal to the Commissioner of Education.

The next school board meeting is Monday, February 25 at 8 P.M. in the Administration Building.

STATE OF NEW YORK
DEPARTMENT OF
ENVIRONMENTAL CON-SERVATION

NOTICE OF APPLICATION
FOR PERMIT TO DISCHARGE
UNDER PROVISIONS OF
NEW YORK STATE

SYSTEM

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to Titles 7 & 8 of Article 17 of the Environmental Conservation Law of New York State for the administration of and the issuance of permits under said Law,

John F. Welsch, Council Member,

Redeemer Evangelical Lutheran Church
New South Road, Hicksville, New York 11801

has filed a permit application with the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation at its office at 50 Wolf Road, Albany, New York 12201, where the application and related documents are available for public inspection.

The applicant proposed to discharge treated sanitary wastes into groundwater tributary to East Bay at a point adjacent to their facility located at S.E. corner of Plainview Rd. & New South Rd., Oyster Bay (T), at which facility the applicant maintains a house of worship, Nassau County. This is a new discharge.

The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation tentatively intends to issue a State Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (SPDES) permit for the subject discharge(s). A final issuance will follow; (1) review of the application to assure compliance with all applicable provisions of Article 17 of the Environmental Conservation Law of New York State and all applicable provisions of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 (P.L. 92-500); (2) development of special conditions setting forth specific effluent limitations and other controls applicable to the discharge(s) described above including schedules of compliance; (3) development of monitoring and reporting requirements for the applicants performance; (4) consideration of all written comments from persons who qualify, as described below, as interested parties on this notice of application.

State and all of 1972 (P.L. 92-500); (2) development of special conditions setting forth specific effluent limitations and other controls applicable to the discharge(s) described above including schedules of compliance; (3) development of monitoring and reporting requirements for the applicants performance; (4) consideration of all written comments from persons who qualify, as described below, as interested parties on this notice of application.

Any person interested in this application who wishes to comment thereon or become an interested party in any proceeding regarding this application must notify the undersigned in writing stating specific areas of interest on or before March 25, 1974.

All such written comments will be retained by the Department and considered in the formulation of the final determination. Any such interested party will be eligible to be heard if a public hearing is ultimately held in connection with this application. Further information may be obtained from the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation, Division of Pure Waters, Room 300, 50 Wolf Road, Albany, New York (457-7459, 457-7843).

STRING OF PEARLS: It is time again for "A String of Pearls." Shown in the photo, Mary Daly, Alan Brey, Robert Pennisi, Ken Rizzo and Richard Arias, the sax section of the Hicksville High School Stage Band will help recall the days of the Big Band Sound. On March 2nd at 8:30 p.m. in the Hicksville

High School Gym the band will perform for your listening and dancing pleasure. Reserved table seats at $2.00 each, and general admission seats at $1.50 each will only be sold in advance sale. Tickets will not be sold at the door. For tickets and information call J. D. Abt at 733-2146.

FOILING THE MEN: Irene Reagan of Hicksville shows seam-welded section of aluminum foil to Richard Mayer, Northport High School shop teacher. In Grumman Aerospace's plant 2 as Larry Farrelly of West Babylon, assistant plant manager, looks on, Mayer recently concluded a two-month tour at Grumman as part of a year's sabbatical in which he's working at different jobs in industry. Purpose is to get first-hand experience at jobs his students will face after graduation, the better to prepare them for the exposure.

Michael Petito and Richard Leins - Life Insurance specialists, with nothing to sell you but expert advice. And that's free.

For years, Michael Petito and Richard Leins sold life insurance to earn money for their families. Now they do it to save money for yours.

At the Lincoln, they are salaried insurance specialists with nothing to gain from selling you the policies you should have - except peace of mind. Yours and theirs.

After years of experience with two of the country's largest insurance companies they are superbly qualified to help you decide exactly what kind of insurance is best for you - and exactly how much you ought to buy.

Buying the right insurance directly from the Lincoln is precisely the same as buying it through an agent or a broker, except that we can help you save a lot of money. The policies are the same, but the payments are lower. Because what we save in selling costs, you save in premiums.

And that's true whether you need Straight Life, 20 Payment Life, Life Paid up at 65, Term, Decreasing Term, Endowment, Family Plan, Children's policies, Retirement plan, one of many other policies or a special combination to suit your special situation.

If you know what kind of insurance you need, mail the coupon to find out how much less it costs when you get it through the Lincoln.

But if you're like most people, you don't know. And that's the reason for this ad - to introduce you to Michael Petito and Richard Leins so you can phone or come in and talk with one of them. Comfortably. No obligation. No pressure. No confusion. Just good, sound advice. Free.
