Library Budget Passes

By Shirley Smith

Hicksville voters approved the 1974-75 library budget last night, with a much smaller turnout than was seen last year. 1400 Hicksville residents made it to the polls in 1973, but only 900 showed up during yesterday's election. The budget was approved by a vote of 514 to 363.

Ruth Aaron was re-elected to a 5-year term on the library board, defeating Clara Bennett and LeRoy Sluder.

We will report on the school board meeting in next week's issue. A special school board meeting has been called for Friday, March 29. Two items are on the agenda: Maximum educational effectiveness and Consideration of administrative reductions. The meeting will be held in the Administration Building at 9 p.m.

Sponsors Early American Crafts Revival In Celebration Of Bicentennial

A series of five workshops reviving early American crafts will be held at Farmingdale and Plainview-Old Bethpage libraries in the Town of Oyster Bay, it was announced by Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan, Jr. Under the supervision of craftswoman Irene Frank, the workshops will cover step-by-step instruction in achieving creative use of ordinary materials and personal expression. Participants will produce unique, handcrafted items, ordinarily found in expensive boutiques, that are suited to any decor including centerpieces and flower pots from shells and polished nuts;

bracelets and necklaces from old silver forks; ecology or memorabilia shadow boxes from dried vegetables or flowers or fragments of photos; and preserved momentos (invitations, announcements, hairlocks, etc.) mounted on velvet or encaptured in lucite paperweights.

The series of five 2½ hour craft revival workshops are offered by CAPA (Cultural & Performing Arts Division of the Town's Department of Community Services) to commemorate the nation's Bicentennial celebration.

The fee is $6 for five weekly sessions. Pre-registration is required and will be accepted prior to beginning dates at the following locations: Farmingdale Library, Main Street Branch (sessions held 10 AM to 12:30 PM on Tuesdays, beginning April 2); Plainview-Old Bethpage Library, 999 Old Country Road, Plainview (sessions held 12:30 to 3:00 PM on Wednesdays, beginning April 17). Tuition Plan Warrents Prompt Attention

The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc., is urging state lawmakers to take prompt action on tuition assistance proposals in order that high school seniors will know whether they can afford to attend a private college this fall.

Legislative committees are now analyzing Senate and Assembly proposals designed to replace the existing scholastic incentive award program with one which will provide greater tuition assistance to students from lower and middle income families.

In a report released today, CPES said the tuition assistance plan was needed to aid private colleges and to hold down taxpayer costs which would result from further expansion of New York State's network of public colleges.

The statewide taxpayer organization said that while the proposed State Budget recommends appropriating $190.2 million for the construction of new facilities at public colleges, over 50,000 vacancies exist at private colleges in New York State.

CPES said the tuition assistance plan was needed to reverse enrollment declines at private colleges.

Seldin Warns of Loss Of State Aid

Forecasting a loss of state aid to Nassau County's school districts and to local towns and villages, Abe Seldin, chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors, today demanded that the New York State Board of Equalization and Assessment stop their plans to lower equalization rates presently used by the State to evaluate the base property value of local communities in Nassau.

In a statement to be delivered in Albany tomorrow (Wednesday) at the Equalization

Board's hearing on tentative rates, Seldin stated that, "The net effect of the lower equalization rates proposed by the board will be to increase the base value of Nassau's communities causing a sharp reduction in state aid."

The equalization rate is the relationship between the real value of property and its taxable value. The State Equalization Board is assigned the duty of setting the rates for about thirty different purposes, including the distribution of state aid to school districts and to local municipalities. Following the distribution formula utilized by the state, the amount of state aid decreases as the base value of the community, as denoted by the equalization rate, increases. Under the new rates proposed by the New York State Board of Equalization school district and local towns and villages could lose as much as five percent in state funds next year. "The end result," stated Seldin, "would be a sizeable tax increase for local homeowners."

Emergency Funds For Youth Programs

By Janet Gosnell

A large but orderly crowd was present Monday at the meeting of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors to put in an emergency plea for funds to continue present programs for youth in Nassau County.

Principal spokesman for the group of about 150 people was Ada Scott, of Inwood, representing the Five Towns Community Center. Mrs. Scott said funds had been promised for the programs but had not been forthcoming through the "red tape of bureaucracy." She said the contract for current programs was still being processed, and protested the fact that such processing takes such a long time that the funds expire almost immediately upon the granting of the contract.

The Nassau County Youth Board, she said, was unable to help.

The programs are helpful to many ethnic groups, Mrs. Scott said—blacks, whites, Spanish speaking and Italians—who participate. She cited a decrease in youth crimes in Inwood since the start of the programs and an increase in youths going to college.

In an emergency resolution which was unanimously passed by the Board, County Executive Ralph G. Caso granted the youth groups the funds to continue until the federal monies are forthcoming.

Park Improvements

The Supervisors approved a bond ordinance authorizing the issuance of $1,064,000 serial bonds and $56,000 capital notes of Nassau County to finance the original improvement or embellishment of certain park areas and preserves.

Included in the improvements is the Centennial Avenue Park, Roosevelt, $150,000; Oak St. Park, believed to be Uniondale, $126,000 for passive park development; Mill Pond Park, Bellmore, $266,000 for bulkheading, construction of an administrative building and related facilities; Merrick Road Malls, $30,000; Leeds Pond Preserve, Plandome Manor, $10,000 for landscaping and $8,000 for water supply; Doxey Brook Park, Hewlett, $135,000 for erosion control bulkheading; Whitney Pond Park, Manhasset, $275,000 for parking; and Eisenhower Park, $120,000 for water supply.

LILCO hearing on rate hikes set for Wednesday of this week was the topic of an address by Carol Schorr of Hicksville, to the Nassau County Board of Supervisors this week. Ms. Shaw asked the county to record the comments at the hearing, but was told such action would be out of the province of the county to do.

If the county would supply a stenotypist so that the meeting would be fully documented. The County Executive said he could not authorize county funds for the project, which could run into thousands of dollars. He suggested she bring a tape recorder.

Carl Bernhardt, of 14 Skylar Lane, representing a group called Citizens in Action, said the question of rate hikes for LILCO should be a county matter, and asked the help of the supervisors.

Richard Kessel, of Merrick, a candidate for Congress and a familiar face at the Supervisors meeting, said he had received 157 telephone calls following his suggestion that consumers boycott LILCO services from people who "want to say 'no' to LILCO."

Wants Better Busing

Catherine Kraus, of Port Washington, asked the supervisors to improve the bus service in her community. She said buses do not run evenings or Sundays, so "no one can go to the Coliseum or anything. You can't even go to church without a car in Port Washington," she said.

Dear Friends

Dear Friends:

We are well aware of the difficulty involved in serving on any school board. For this reason we are hesitant to criticize the Hicksville Board of Education until we hear the entire story. We can only say that in calling a special meeting for this Friday (only a few days before the meeting itself) when it is on subjects as important to the quality of the education of our children as is the proposed elimination of many positions now filled by people who have served on our district's staff effectively for many years, enough time is NOT being given by this Board to the public, so that they can at least understand the major problems involved. In fact, when the problems are as far reaching as these steps, the public should be given not only time, but as much pertinent information as is available, then public hearings on such important subjects should be held. Only after much deliberation by all interested residents, should the Board then proceed to exercise their powers. Too much is involved in these important matters. The quality of our children's education is at stake. We urge that then matters be given much more time, consideration and PUBLICITY.

Mexican Fiesta

"Mexican Studies" week for the sixth graders of Old Country Road School, ended with a Mexican Fiesta on Thursday, March 14th. Under the guidance of Mrs. Black, who is substituting for Mrs. Cambria, the students began the week reporting to each other on their own projects about Mexico. By Thursday, the students knew all about tacos and chili, and were eager to taste them. Mrs. Colombo, Mrs. Breitfeller and Mrs. Dwyer, class parents, created the delicious main dishes. The students were responsible for fruit punch and cookies.

Special guests were Mrs. Galante and Mr. Meller. Authentic music and dancing completed the festive Mexican atmosphere.

Hicksville Board of Education Calls Special Meeting For March

The Hicksville Board of Education has called a special meeting for this Friday, Mar. 29, at 9 pm in the Board room of the Division Avenue Administration Building.

Two agenda items will be considered:

- (1) Maximum educational effectiveness;
- (2) Consideration of administration reductions.

REPORTS

At its meeting last week, the Town Board voted to deny the Long Island Lighting Company's request for permission to expand its generating capacity at its Glenwood Landing power station through the installation of five gas-turbine powered generators.

This decision was the result of many hours of research and study by the Town Board and our Environmental Control Commission and involved carefully weighing the need for such an installation versus its impact on the ecology and the economy of the area.

One essential consideration in the Town Board's denial of the application was that on the basis of the evidence presented by LILCO there is no legitimate need for increased generating capacity at the Glenwood Landing site either now or in the near future.

Should such facilities ever become necessary, it would be incumbent on the Lighting Company to provide the most efficient and environmentally sound method of power production available. The gas turbine plan presented to the Town Board was both inefficient and ecologically undesirable. Also, it would have contributed to a reduction in the amounts of heating oil available for homes and businesses and diminished amounts of available fossil fuel — a limited natural resource.

The exorbitant rate hikes the utility is demanding of consumers have been attributed in part to a need to finance capital expansion. I and the other members of the Town Board would certainly not abet such demands without justifiable cause.

By LILCO's own estimate the consumer demand for electricity is 12 percent below the anticipated level for the year, and is between five to six percent below what it actually was last year.

Congressman
NORMAN F. LENT
5th District, New York

It was not too many years ago, to my recollection, when United States and New York State income taxes were due on March 15th, not April 15th. If nothing else, the passing of the first date some two weeks ago should make the approach of the second something to be concerned about, for those of you who have not yet filed.

More than likely, if you have computed that the federal government will be owing you a refund this year, you have already submitted your Form 1040 to Holtsville. If, on the other hand, you see a further squeeze forthcoming in addition to that which you've already felt through withholding taxes or payments of estimated tax, help in cutting the size of the "take" for which you are beholden to the federal government is available.

To give you an example of the legal deductions to which each of us is entitled, 53 categories of medical expenses are generally listed as deductible, in addition to the medical and hospital insurance premiums intended to cover them. Permissible deductions in addition to these include real estate, sales, state and local gasoline and income taxes, personal property taxes, charitable contributions, interest on mortgages, auto loans and installment purchases, casualty and theft losses, and a host of miscellaneous categories ranging from alimony payments and appraisal fees through campaign contributions, uniform maintenance, entertainment and educational expenses (with certain restrictions), support of dependents and many others.

It has been estimated that the unfortunate example set by the President in the extent to which he chose to employ tax deductions will cost the federal government more than $1 billion in personal income tax receipts this year (despite IRS predictions to the contrary) as individual taxpayers attempt, many for the first time, to save money themselves through long form deductions. The number of legitimate "loopholes" available to the average homeowner or middle-income taxpayer is truly surprising, and there is nothing to be gained by attempting to out-guess or out-fox the Internal Revenue Service with a return in which you've knowingly been too generous or too optimistic with your own calculations. An audit is not a pleasant experience for anyone, and the IRS is expected to be watching for an influx of returns of the type I've described this year.

A summary of tax breaks for the elderly was published in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD earlier this month, and I will be happy to send you a copy by return mail if you choose to call my District office at 223-1616. I might add that although these "tips" are of particular help to senior citizens, the vast majority of them are applicable by taxpayers of all ages. Also, for $1.00, you can pick up the federal government's own manual on income tax preparation at your local post office.

In any event, if you choose to make deductions this year, and make legitimate, realistic ones, either source can be of considerable assistance to you — more so than the advice of a well-meaning friend on "what you can get away with".

"Fire-Explosion Levels Garage"

By Ex-Capt. Owen W. Magee

Hicksville Volunteer Firefighters received a report of a house afire at 25 Cantilague Lane on Saturday March 23rd. Upon arrival, firemen found flames 100' high coming from a one and a half story 2 car garage when was being used as a light machine shop. Several homes were in danger due to the intensity of the blaze.

The fire was being fed by a propane gas tank and several drums of Methyl-chloride, which is a flammable gas. There were several explosions as the vapors approached the blaze. At great risk to themselves Hicksville Vamps set up two water curtains to protect the surrounding properties. The fire was under control in 30 minutes. The garage was destroyed, but no homes were touched by the blaze. Ten pieces of apparatus, 100 men under chief Louis Mertz responded. A routine investigation by the county Fire Marshalls office was requested. No injuries were reported. The Westbury Fire Dept. sent one unit to the scene and they helped protect the nearby homes.

"Chemical Plant Fire"

A stubborn smoke blaze in a plastic molding machine kept Hicksville vamps busy on Sunday March 24th. The alarm came in at 10:19 P.M. 9 pieces of apparatus 100 men under chief Mertz responded. The plant, on Miller Road is in the Syosset Fire District, but someone called the Hicksville Dept. First, Syosset Fire Department was notified and responded. The fire was confined to the machine. Two employees were treated at the scene for smoke inhalation.

"Fire Report"

During the period March 12 thru 26th Hicksville Vamps responded to 54 alarms. 8 malicious false alarms, 22 rescue calls and 24 fire calls.

In other news, Hicksville firemen will vote in April for a new fire chief. Chief Louis Mertz of Co. no 2 has completed 2 terms as chief and steps down. Slated to be the chief will be Mario Misturini of Chemical Co. No. 3, 1st Ast. Chief Roy Schaaf of Engine Co. 7, and William Ferber of Engine Co. 2, 2nd Ast. Chief. Four men are running for the post of 3rd Ast. Chief. They are William Stahley Ex capt Co No. 2, John McMahon, James Huttie Ex-Capt's of Co. No. 4 and John Keyer, Ex-Capt of Co. No. 6. The Herald will publish the results. "Hicksville Vamps Rate No. 1" For an excellent stop on a factory fire which threatened for a time to engulf a motel just 10 feet away, the crack Hicksville Volunteer Fire Dept. in Nassau County won the N.Y. Daily News "Vamps Award" for February. The Hicksville Fire came in on Feb. 7th 85 men, 9 pieces of apparatus under Ast. Chief Mario Misturini responded. Exploding drums of flammable liquids in the plant made the work particularly hazardous, inasmuch as tank trucks loaded with other flammable fluids were parked outside. The adjacent motel was evacuated. With help from the Jericho Plainview, and Bedpage Departments the Hicksville Vamps went to work on the blaze and within a half hour confined it to the point of origin within the factory.

Neither the tankers outside nor the nearby motel sustained any damage.

Cast For "Fiddler" At Beach Theatre Complete

"Fiddler on the Roof", this summer's production at the Jones Beach Theatre produced by Guy Lombardo, is a musical that continues to improve with age.

A. Holly Patterson, Chairman of the Commission, said the show "has been acclaimed as one of the great works of the American musical theatre." We know it will please the people, at the beach theatre as much or more than it did on stage or screen elsewhere."

Mr. Lombardo announces that Norman Atkins, no stranger to the beach theatre, has been cast in the role of "Tevye," while Geraldine Brooks will be "Golde," his patient wife. Ted Thurston, as "Lazar Wolf," and Honey Sanders as the matchmaker, "Yente," who is extremely interested in Tevye's five daughters, comprise the principal characters in the play casting for which has practically been completed.

58 pound loser beats the bell.

One thing's for sure. You never see yourself as others do. At least, Sandy Vargo didn't — until she saw that fat picture of herself in horizontal stripes. She decided right then that she had to lose weight. So she bought a box of Ayds Reducing Plan Candy.

Before she was 16 years old, Sandy's eating had pushed her over 180 pounds. In fact, her fat kept her off the Honor Roll. She was an A student in all her classes, except gym. She just couldn't get more than C in that, because of tumbling on the trampoline. She'd always hang back near the end of the line, hoping the bell would save her. Occasionally it did. But it never saved her from getting into that horrible gym suit: one of those Navy blue bloomer jobs.

Her dad teased her about her weight, hoping she'd lose. "You'll never get a boyfriend," he'd say. But as long as she could curl up with a good book and a bag of potato chips, Sandy didn't care — until she saw that picture of herself at 182 pounds.

Being a bookworm, she'd read those stories about girls who've lost weight on the Ayds Plan. So she decided to buy a box of Ayds. It contains vitamins and minerals, but no drugs. You take one or two Ayds, as directed, and it helps curb your appetite. On the Ayds plan, you eat less because you want less, so you lose weight.

Sandy Vargo lost 58 pounds on the Ayds plan. Now she's looking forward to buying a bathing suit, maybe even a bikini. After all, if she can handle a trampoline, why not a bikini?

Ayds now comes in four delicious flavors: chewy vanilla caramel, plain chocolate fudge, chocolate mint fudge and butter-scotch fudge. Why don't you try one?

Hicksville Fire Department Rescue Squad News

On Saturday evening, March 23, the Hicksville Fire Department Rescue Squad held their annual Installation Dinner at fire department Headquarters. At the dinner the newly elected officers for 1974 were sworn into their respective offices. They were: Bill Hummel, Captain; Vic Nawrocki, 1st Lieut.; Tom McManus 2nd Lieut.; and Tom Ofenloch, Secy. The officers were sworn into office by Hicksvilles newly elected fire commissioner Bill Foley.

Hicksville's Rescue Squad invited two very special guests to the annual dinner so that the squad could honor them for all the work and help they have given to the squad in the past year. The first special presentation was given to our department surgeon, Dr. Harry Malasky who helps us out every year on Labor Day by coordinating and standing by in the Rescue vehicles to take care of medical emergencies at our annual Labor Day Parade and Tournament. This year, in addition to his regular duties as department surgeon, Dr. Malasky also served as a special Medical Advisor to the Rescue Squad in the planning and teaching of a special Emergency Medical Technicians Program for rescue personnel. Dr. Malasky was presented with a Rescue Squad "Dept. Surgeon's" HELMET. Also honored at the dinner was Mrs. Joan Ernst who is a Hicksville resident. Mrs. Ernst is the supervisor of the emergency room at Central General Hospital in Plainview. During this past year, Mrs. Ernst has helped the Rescue Squad enormously by helping them set up an ongoing Medical Training program. She has introduced the Hicksville Fire Dept. to many doctors who have since donated many hours to training members of our rescue squad. Mrs. Ernst herself has donated numerous hours and as a very special person has won the love and respect of the Hicksville F.D. Rescue Squad.

Hicksville Rescue Squad is proud to number Mrs. Ernst and Dr. Malasky among their friends and we salute these two very special people. We also with Capt. Hummel and the squad a very successful year.

Also at the dinner two other awards were given out. The outgoing captain Tom Manaskie received a plaque saluting him for the past two years he has served as captain of the rescue squad. Aerospace Education For Teenagers Need A Date Sat. Night?

by Susan Penzer

Every weekend, dozens of Long Island teenagers take part in the Civil Air Patrol Cadet Orientation Flying Program at Zahn's Airport, in Amityville, Long Island. This program, in which Cadets are given flights in CAP aircraft, is one of many Aviation oriented activities open to aerospace minded young people.

Included in the Cadet program are trips to aerospace facilities like the Air Traffic Control center at MacArthur Airport, The Air Force Museum in Dayton, Ohio, and the Air and Space museum, Smithsonian Institution, Washington D.C.

Cadets receive training in Military Customs and Courtesies, Drill and Ceremony, Public speaking, Problem solving, and other types of Leadership training. Through a program of seven text books the Cadet learns what makes a plane fly, about aircraft construction, Navigation and weather, and rocketry.

Special Activities set up by CAP National Headquarters include: The International Air Cadet Exchange, a program where CAP sendover 200 Cadets to Europe and Asia. The Air Force Academy Survival Course - 2 weeks of survival training at the Air Force Academy in Colorado, and the Cadet Officers School - a two week leadership school at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama.

If you are interested in flying or any of the above activities contact Cadet Lieutenant Richard Calma at 931-7013 after 5:00.

Tired of the same old Saturday night routine? Bored with mediocre movies? Discouraged with skimpier dinners with harried service and rising prices when dining out? Anxious for stimulating conversation with interesting people? Or maybe you just need a lift, something different to raise your spirits during this long, wintry, depressing, cold month of March...

Look no further. Here's the perfect way to chase the blues! This Saturday night, March 30th at 9 P.M., come to the Gillary Gallery right here in East Birchwood at 62 Maiden Lane. For on Saturday night, the New Chamber Orchestra is having a fund-raising evening for all who would like to support its high quality orchestra, for all who would like to encourage cultural expansion right here on Long Island! (How fortunate for us to have quality amusement and fun so conveniently located!) As a brief reminder, this fully professional orchestra, now in its fifth year, and very active all over Long Island, performs all types of music (not just chamber music, as some people have believed) beautifully, with very fine musicianship and musicality. The next performance will be on May 2nd at the Wheatley High School - watch for notices.

But for the immediate present, let's focus on this Saturday night's event. At $12.50 per person, Come and Enjoy a spread of elegant hot and cold hors d'oeuvres, wines, punch, desserts and coffee - all this while you take part in an art drawing and while you enjoy some very Special musical entertainment. Come and Enjoy, and perhaps you'll see a familiar face, a neighbor who shares your respect for and love of the Arts. Come and Enjoy, and meet some new people with whom you can share mutual enjoyment. Come and bring your friends to this Feast of Music and Art, and perhaps you'll be lucky enough to meet a Very Special Person - one you can call a Friend. Come and Enjoy a lovely evening on the town, in OUR town, and have FUN. We're sure you'll be glad YOU WERE THERE...

Remember: this Saturday night, March 30th, 9 PM at the Gillary Gallery. Call Murray Silberman at GE 3-6324 for invitations or further information RIGHT AWAY!

Civil Air Patrol Hold Bivouac

By C/2 Lt. Richard A. Calma

The cold weather of the weekend of March 8-10 provided realistic conditions for a cold weather training Bivouac for 20 Cadet and Senior Members of Nassau Composite Squadron 7, held in Brookville.

After setting up camp in a pouring rainstorm, the Cadets tried to get a good night's sleep despite the cold that followed the storm. The next morning the Cadets received training in Emergency Panel Signals from Cadet Lieutenant Calma and following a short break, Capt. John Blanchard from the Hofstra Army ROTC instructor group taught a course on compass reading. A class in emergency First Aid rounded out the day.

Sunday morning the Cadets were told that an Air Force aircraft had crashed in Long Island Sound, and that the pilot had landed in the area. Everyone quickly gathered their equipment and a search team was sent out. After a hike of about 3 miles the team quickly found the "survivor" (a Cadet) and administered first aid. Upon returning to the camp everyone had a good lunch and a rest. The bivouac was closed at 1:00 and all personnel returned to their homes for a long rest.

Newborn Food Prices Dropped 1.2%

Town Receiver of Taxes Solomon Newborn has announced his support for the Caemmerer-Levine bill that would simplify the annual procedure by which senior citizens receive tax exemptions.

"Under our current system a senior citizen eligible for partial tax exemption on real property must file a complicated application annually in order to gain the reduction being offered," Newborn explained. "Because of that system the intention of the legislation, which granted the exemption, is sometimes subverted."

Newborn noted that currently, if a senior citizen forgets to file his application one year, he loses his exemption for that year. "In addition, the mandate that seniors file this long application each year results in unnecessary and costly paperwork for our County Board of Assessors Office which must process the same application every year."

Newborn said that the bill sponsored by Assemblyman Stuart Levine of Bethpage and Senator John D. Caemmerer of East Williston would put an end to the unnecessary work the present system requires of both senior citizens and the Board of Assessors.

Under this bill the local municipality will be able to eliminate the necessity of an annual filing of this application, according to Newborn. He noted that since one of the requirements for the exemption is an annual income not exceeding $5,000, the bill would allow municipalities to require senior citizens to simply file an affidavit stating their ownership still stands and their income remains under $5,000.

Noodle Head Stories By Famous Folklorist

On Sunday, March 31 at 3 P.M. the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library will host an unusual family program by a most unusual man.

Moritz Jagendorf peerless raconteur of a rich variety of folk tales will present a "Family Story Hour" featuring Noodle Head Stories from Around the World. The author of many books of folk lore for children and adults Mr. Jagendorf has had a long and checkered career. At eleven he ran away with a circus to act in pantomime. He studied law at Yale but finally, following involved love affairs with the Free Theatre and Washington Square Players, he became a dentist by profession. Over the years he has spent almost as much time travelling the world over collecting tales for his books as he has at his dentists chair.

An afternoon of hilarity is in store for children from eight to twelve years and older folks including parents.

Free tickets will be available to local school district residents starting March 23. Others will be served just before the program as space allows.

DEVOTIONS

Too Much Religion?

By the Rev. John H. Krahn, Trinity Lutheran Church

Once when talking about God with a banker, he told me that he had enough religion. More would be too much. I asked him whether he could foresee a time when his bank might make too much money. He could not foresee such a circumstance. Likewise, I said, I do not see how one could have too much of God and His Love.

Happiness is everyone's goal. It is also God's wish for our lives. The closer we are to Him, the happier we are. The Bible says that joy and peace and happiness come from being very close to God and trusting in Him.

Suppose my 5-year-old came to me and said, "Daddy, I love you and will do anything you want me to." To which I reply, "Andrea, get rid of all your toys, no more friends, stay in your room, and very soon you will be the unhappiest child on Long Island." How ridiculous! If she came trusting me with her life, I would try even harder to give enhancing direction to it. God is no different. When we give ourselves completely to Him, we come away the better for it.

So tomorrow when we rise from the horizontal to the vertical, let's begin the day talking it over with the Lord. As we meet family and associates, we would do well to try to capture God's vision of them... precious people... worthy of a Son's death. And when problems come, may we realize we can bear great and heavy burdens if we do not try to carry them alone. Then retiring at night, we talk the day over with the Lord and fall asleep realizing that each dawn brings a new beginning.

Too much religion? No way.

Junior Fire Report

By Lt. C. Calma,
Lt. N. DiPaolo, B. Gili

On Saturday, March 22, at 8:00 p.m., 19 Juniors, under President John "no 10" Gonta, assisted at a general alarm garage fire at 25 Cantigue Lane. We would like to congratulate President Gonta for making his first general alarm fire this year. While at the scene, the Juniors were hampered by other kids trying to steal the Juniors' bicycles. There were no policemen around at the time so, a few Juniors had to stop helping the F.D. so they could watch the bicycles.

On Sunday, March 23, a fire broke out in one of the machines in the Bishoff Chemical Company 220 Miller Place. Although it was Syosset Fire District, Hicksville vamps responded and attacked the fire with full force under Chief L. Merz until the Syosset P.D. arrived. This was another example of the close relationship of the neighboring fire districts.

DON'T store any flammable materials, but if you have to, make sure they are stored in their proper containers. Use common sense store with care.

Watch for turned or missing street signs. These cause police and firemen to miss streets, wasting valuable time. Report them at once to the town.

If you see someone pulling a fire alarm, report them.

Do yourself and others a favor and follow these four tips: 1. Know how to use the extinguishers where you live and work, and see that all of them are maintained. 2. Use caution in the storage of flammable materials. 3. Report missing or changed street signs. 4. Report any misuse of fire alarm boxes.

Last week we forgot to mention Dave Kaufman also passed the Standard Course in first aid.

AHRC To Meet

YOUTH-AHRC (Youth Organized United To Help Retarded Children) will hold its next regular meeting at the Hicksville PBC Clubhouse, 85 Bethpage Rd., Hicksville, on Sunday, March 31, from 2 to 4 P.M. The group meets on a one-to-one basis with "special" children, and are interested in serving their community in assistance with any type of project may call the club's president, Lennis Giansante at 935-4680.

The annual AHRC Teen Drive has started again and is in full swing to raise funds to help our Nassau County retarded children. This is a marvelous opportunity for YOUTH Groups or even individuals to be able to reach out just a little further to help those less fortunate than themselves.

"At our YOUTH meetings, and during our Teen Drive, one of our main goals is to let the public and mainly to other children to tell them and show them as much as we can about mental retardation," said a spokesman for the group.

Gov Proclaims Language Week

Governor Malcolm Wilson proclaims March 31-April 6, as Foreign Language Week. We in Hicksville are indeed fortunate to have every week foreign language week.

Commissioner of Education, Ewald Nyquist, in his letter of March 7th states:

"Foreign language instruction is a realistic need in New York State which serves as an international center for world trade, social and governmental affairs. Foreign language study prepares the many Americans who travel abroad for effective communication with people in other lands. It provides skills which help young people qualify for interesting and unique career opportunities at home and abroad. Knowledge of the language and culture of others helps to build compassion and understanding for our fellow human beings throughout the world.

For these reasons, I share the belief that foreign language learning should begin as early as possible and continue through the adult years. I applaud the schools and foreign language teachers of New York State for their excellent programs."

Just moved in? I can help you out.

Don't worry and wonder about learning your way around town. Or what to see and do. Or whom to ask. As your WELCOME WAGON Hostess, I can simplify the business of getting settled. Help you begin to enjoy your new town... good shopping, local attractions, community opportunities. And my basket is full of useful gifts to please your family. Woodbury Raquet Club Wants To Air-Condition

By JANET GOSNELL

No one spoke in opposition to the petition of the Woodbury Raquet Club to rescind restrictive covenants on the granting of a special permit use to run a tennis club in Woodbury at the Town of Oyster Bay public meeting on Tuesday.

The restrictive covenant for which the Woodbury Raquet Club sought rescission was one against the installation of air conditioning. Irving Storch, attorney, presented the case for the Woodbury Raquet Club. He said the club would like to install 10 air conditioners of the window-installation type at ground level. Don Fairchild, of Long Island Air Conditioning Co., Mineola, testified that the noise caused by the air conditioners would not be bothersome to neighbors.

Stanley Hansen, of 55 Orchard Court, President of the New Ridge Civic Association, which had opposed the Woodbury

Raquet Club's original petition in 1970 and had requested the restriction against air conditioning, stepped forward to say that his association was now in favor of air conditioning.

Other Business

In other business, the Town Board turned down petition of the Long Island Lighting Co. to install 5 gas turbine engines at Glenwood Landing; cancelled the meeting of April 9th in recognition of the Easter-Passover holiday, and approved the Marine life ordinance for the waters of the Town of Oyster Bay.

The new ordinance increases the fee for shellfish permits from $1.50 for a personal permit to $3.00; and from $25.00 to $50.00 for a commercial permit. The profit from the new income from permits will be used for reseeding of clam beds and transferring of clams from uncultivated waters to certified waters, according to a Town Hall spokesman.

The Town Board also appointed Paul E. Kast, of Massapequa, to fill the vacancy left on the Tobay Board of Ethics by the passing of Walter F. Bucalos. Mr. Bucalos, who was chairman of the Board of Ethics, was succeeded by Peter B. Alsop, of Mill Neck.

There was a crowd at Town Hall on Tuesday, mostly from Massapequa, protesting the distance they had to travel for Town Board meetings. The immediate cause for their appearance is a day-night hearing scheduled for next week on a proposed senior citizen housing complex for East Massapequa.

The Massapequans carried signs reading: "This is Not Only A North Shore Town," "Pequa Power," "What's the Local Annex For?" and "Enough Tax Exempt Property in Massapequa.

South Woodbury

Judy Jacobs, of South Woodbury, President of the South Woodbury Taxpayers Association also spoke. Her concern was with the proposed lighting for the Syosset Woodbury Park, which her group opposes, and also for some portable propane tanks which she says are being stored on the property operated by U. S. Extrusion.
