School Board Plans Staff Reductions

By Shirley Smith

Braving the snow and freezing rain, approximately 100 Hicksville residents and employees came to the High School for a special board of education meeting Friday night to hear about proposed cuts in the administrative and teaching staffs.

Board president, Robert Pirrung, explained that "reordering of priorities is sometimes painful" and we must all go through a "period of adjustment." But, he added, "we live in a dynamic society and the educational system must meet these changes and prepare our students to meet the needs of this type of society."

Avenue, Old Country Road and Dutch Lane Schools. The board proposes to add 1 attendance teacher at the secondary level, 2 psychologists (one in the secondary schools, the other for students in special education facilities) and 8 learning resource specialists (one assigned to each elementary school.) The board plans to reduce class size at the primary level, which will mean a reduction of only 15 teachers (none with tenure), rather than 21. The class size has not been set with the H.C.T.

the budget." He added the administrators must tell the board what they feel may be the outcome of their policies.

Mr. Feigin explained how the proposed administrative reductions will affect each area and that the duties of these employees (many mandated by the state) will have to be assigned elsewhere, so other areas will also be affected. He pointed out the dangers of the nurse-teacher supervisor handling a full-time position as nurse-teacher because she must often be away from her office on supervisory duties. He reminded the board that she is in charge of the nurse-teachers in the parochial schools, as well.

Mr. Pirrung said the school board had met with the presidents of the teachers' and administrators' organizations and presented their proposals and asked for opinions and feedback from the specific groups. The school district is faced with major financial problems in formulating the 1974-75 budget and a projected enrollment reduction of 500 students, mostly at the elementary level.

The school board did not offer any plans to carry out their proposals for reductions or additions to the educational staff and programs. There was no explanation of how continuing programs will be carried out with less staff and no mention was made of cuts in other areas of the school program.

Charles Lioacono and Joan Jones asked the board for more time to consider the proposals. Mr. Lioacono praised the music program, calling it "superb." Mrs. Jones read a letter from Old Country Road PTA Executive Board asking for the retention of the elementary assistant principals.

Mr. Pirrung said the school board has carefully considered what can be done to meet the dropping enrollment and the financial crunch. The board has made no final decisions, but is proposing "minuses" and "pluses" for the public to consider.

Dr. Joseph Madden said the district is "unhealthy" if it accepts these proposals. He could not see a drop in administrators who do evaluating when "the district suffers serious problems in terms of evaluation." He was "irritated" that the board has to go to the H.C.T. president, "an elected member of a special interest group," to get direction.

This reporter asked the board to reconsider all its proposals and give the public a chance to say whether or not the budget is too high to support the educational programs we have in Hicksville. We asked if similar cuts would be made in the "non-educational" programs, such as transportation and the cafeteria. The board has not made decisions regarding the latter.

On the minus side is the reduction of 4 school nurse-teachers, 4 elementary music teachers, 3 elementary physical education teachers and 1 elementary foreign language teacher. In addition, the board is proposing to eliminate 4 or 5 elementary assistant principals and transfer the nurse-teacher supervisor to Willet Avenue School, where she will function as nurse-teacher and continue her supervisory duties. The board of education is planning to phase out the Curriculum Materials Center and eliminate the position of Curriculum Materials Director. Also proposed is the elimination of the supervisor in charge of vocal music, Adult Education Hicksville Evening High School (Opportunity High School) and summer school. The board does not plan to eliminate these programs, however.

William Bruno defended the H.C.T. president and credited him with doing much "to keep the lid on the district." He pointed out that proposed reductions in the teaching staff must be discussed with the H.C.T.

Irene Gitlin and Gerri McManus also spoke against the reductions. Robert Sklarz said the board should attend to "money matters" and "attack" Lilco for proposed rate increases and Nassau County for Cantiague Park and all that land which gives no tax support to the school district. "Why is the only solution firing people?" he asked.

On the "plus" side is the expansion of the learning disabilities program (now at Woodland Avenue) to Burns

The meeting was then turned over to a public session. Murray Goldstein, president of the H.C.T., said neither he nor his group had given direction to the board and had not proposed any of the changes presented by Mr. Pirrung. He said the H.C.T. will cooperate with the board, where possible, but there has been no meeting yet to discuss how these steps will be taken.

All the speakers were courteous and sympathetic with the financial decisions which face the school board. But they also showed concern about the advisability of the proposed reductions and their effect on the educational program in Hicksville.

William Feigin, president of the Council of Administrators, presented his group's opinions of the proposed reductions. He commended the board of education for the recently approved statement of goals but said the reductions will be "impossible" if the board expects to live within its goals. He said the administrators appreciate the board's budget problems better than any other group, because "we must carry out board policy in accordance with

The school board listened attentively to all discussion and, following a brief executive session, tabled all proposals until the April 17 meeting, which will be held in the Administration Building at 8 P.M.

School Board Changes Budget Vote

The Hicksville Board of Education held its regular meeting last Tuesday night. After approving minutes and again tabling summer elementary and secondary school as contingent budget items, the board approved a request of St. Ignatius Girls' Cadet Corp to use the high school field in July for its drill competition. We had incorrectly reported this item last meeting, when the request was actually tabled. Mrs. Wolfson and Mr. Bruno voted against approval - there was some question of legality in the event the district is on austerity.

During the public session, Ed Spindel, Hicksville High School Student Government president, urged the board to continue the position of Human Relations Coordinator and the drug abuse program currently funded by the county. Robert Pirrung, board president, said the board has applied for extension of funds and is confident the request will be granted. If so, the program will continue.

The board granted requests for sabbaticals, personnel appointments and promotions and bills for routine operating expenses of the district. They approved new films, library books and textbooks.

The board approved a motion of commendation, by Dr. Madden, for Mae Alfieri. She has served the district, in various clerical positions, for many years

The board also approved a joint BOCES - Hicksville program of occupational education for educable mentally retarded students. These children will attend BOCES during the "off hours", between the morning and afternoon sessions, and receive

mendation award plaque by First Deputy Police Commissioner James R. Ketcham of the Nassau County Police Department at

On Senior Citizen Legislation

In January of this year, Commissioner Adelaide Attard of the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs appeared before a public hearing of the New York State Joint Select Committee on Problems of the Aging to ask for specific, urgently needed senior citizen legislation. This week, Senator John E. Flynn, Assemblyman George Farrell and members of the Committee introduced a 1974 Legislative Program for the Elderly, which is responsive to her testimony.

In her appearance before the Committee, Commissioner Attard asked that Social Security benefit increases be exempted in determining income levels to qualify for senior citizen property tax reductions. The legislative proposal "exempts Social Security benefit increases from income in determining eligibility for real property tax abatement."

Commissioner Attard asked for legislation to grant State subsidies for new transportation and reduced fares such as Nassau County has done with its senior citizen half fare on buses. The 58 pound loser beats the bell.

One thing's for sure. You never see yourself as others do. At least, Sandy Vargo didn't—until she saw that fat picture of herself in horizontal stripes. She decided right then that she had to lose weight. So she bought a box of Ayds Reducing Plan Candy.

Before she was 16 years old, Sandy's eating had pushed her over 180 pounds. In fact, her fat kept her off the Honor Roll. She was an A student in all her classes, except gym. She just couldn't get more than C in that, because of tumbling on the trampoline. She'd always hang back near the end of the line, hoping the bell would save her. Occasionally it did. But it never saved her from getting into that horrible gym suit: one of those Navy blue bloomer jobs.

Her dad teased her about her weight, hoping she'd lose. "You'll never get a boyfriend," he'd say. But as long as she could curl up with a good book and a bag of potato chips, Sandy didn't care—until she saw that picture of herself at 182 pounds.

Being a bookworm, she'd read those stories about girls who've lost weight on the Ayds Plan. So she decided to buy a box of Ayds. It contains vitamins and minerals, but no drugs. You take one or two Ayds, as directed, and it helps curb your appetite. On the Ayds plan, you eat less because you want less, so you lose weight.

Sandy Vargo lost 58 pounds on the Ayds plan. Now she's looking forward to buying a bathing suit, maybe even a bikini. After all, if she can handle a trampoline, why not a bikini?

Ayds now comes in four delicious flavors: chewy vanilla caramel, plain chocolate fudge, chocolate mint fudge and butter-scootch fudge. Why don't you try one?

"IF THEY LEARN ABOUT SAVING MAYBE DAD WON'T HAVE TO LEND AS MUCH," was the tongue in cheek idea for the second grade class of the Village School to visit the new Nassau Trust office in Syoset. Mrs. Rosalyn Davis, the teacher, assisted by the Bank's Manager, Peter Dalola took time out to teach the youngsters how one borrows money. The lesson was well-taken, so were the cookies and milk served after the instruction.

Levy and Margiotta Enlarge Rent Stabilization Concept

Determined more than ever to fight exorbitant rent hikes in Nassau County and protect tenants while at the same time allowing fair rental raises, State Senator Norman J. Levy (R-Merrick) and Assemblyman Joseph M. Margiotta (R-Uniondale) have amended their Nassau County Rent Stabilization legislation making it a "pure local option bill."

"Our bill gives Nassau County's towns, villages and cities the widest latitude for stabilizing rents," explained Levy. "It is an established fact that the problem of soaring rent increases has reached new crisis proportions in Nassau County—our tenants must have protection in the form of legislation to both limit future rent increases and roll back the unconscionable increases resulting from the lifting of the Phase II guidelines more than a year ago."

Both legislators said they have enlarged their Nassau Rent Stabilization concept so that the locality has the power to limit the percentage increase from anywhere between zero (with the addition of "pass throughs" for increased fuel oil, taxes, utilities, and insurance costs), to a maximum eight percent increase on a one year lease renewal or eleven percent on a two year lease renewal (plus the "pass throughs").

The new bill also permits the locality to rollback rent increases FROM January 10, 1973 (the date President Nixon lifted Phase II guidelines) regardless of whether the apartment was vacated and re-rented after that date, or to permit a free market rent after vacancy.

The Levy-Margiotta bill includes the following provisions: • The proposed law will be administered by the New York State Division of Housing and Community Renewal.

• The State Division of Housing and Community Renewal's cost of administering the Nassau locality's program is to be borne by the locality.

• Determinations as to the validity and legality of any escalation are to be made by the State Division of Housing and Community Renewal.

• Apartments being offered for rent for the first time are exempt from the bill.

Levy and Margiotta said "among the hardest hit by the rent hikes have been our senior citizens (tenants, many of whom are widows living on fixed incomes). They have been caught in a vise between unconscionable demands for rent increases, held like a gun against their heads, and the lack of available apartments."

"Our bill is designed, through the 'Home Rule' process, to give the tenant an equitable lease and at the same time assure landlords a fair return on their investment to properly maintain the housing accommodations."

The bill is co-sponsored by the remaining eleven members of Nassau's 13-member Republican State Legislature delegation: Senators John Caemmerer, John Dunne and Ralph Marino, Assemblyman Armand D'Amato, George Farrell, Philip Healey, Milton Jonas, John Kingston, Stuart Levine, George Murphy, and Joseph Reilly.

Cavalcade Of Scouting

If a Boy Scout comes to your door selling tickets to an event at Roosevelt Raceway, don't be alarmed. It's not a race he's promoting, just the Scouts.

The Nassau County Council, Boy Scouts of America, representing some 32,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers, is holding its annual Cavalcade of Scouting May 3, 4 and 5 on the raceway grounds.

Howard L. Schuster chairman of the Cavalcade steering committee, said, "Everyone is working to make this three-day event a sellout." He urged all residents to support the Scouting program.

Mr. Schuster, who is vice president of New York Telephone's

Brooklyn-Queens Territory, said the emphasis on ticket sales will be from a "local approach."

"This is a Scouting event, one of the biggest ever, and the Scouts themselves will be canvassing residences within neighborhood troop districts for ticket sales," he said.

The tickets, which cost $2, are tax deductible as a contribution. All Scouts in uniform and children under 12 accompanied by an adult will be admitted free.

The Cavalcade gives Scouts an opportunity-through displays, exhibits and demonstrations-to show what Scouting is all about.

Cavalcade hours are: Friday, 7 to 10 P.M.; Saturday, 2 to 10 P.M.; and Sunday, 2 to 6 P.M.

Republicans Hold Victory Show

"Republicanism is alive and well in Nassau County," Assemblyman Joseph M. Margiotta, Republican Party Chairman, declared last Saturday night at the GOP's Second Annual Victory Show.

Margiotta was referring to the record crowd of more than 7,000 people who purchased tickets to the fund-raising show which is held to salute the Party's victorious candidates from the previous year's election.

The record attendance was 1,000 higher than the number that attended the first show last year. Also in attendance, were more than 4,000 senior citizens from all around the county who were there as guests of the Republican Committee.

The show featured singing great, Robert Goulet and comedian Pat Cooper. Republican political stars making an appearance were Governor Malcolm Wilson, U.S. Senator Jacob Javits and County Executive Ralph G. Caso.

Margiotta, in remarks to the crowd, said: "It's Republicans like the men we salute tonight who have helped to make Nassau County one of the finest places in the nation in which to work, live, and play."

"Men like governor Wilson and Senator Javits, Ralph Caso and Fran Purcell. They're all great Republicans. All public servants with whom we can be proud to be associated. They're men who have dedicated their lives to the service of others. They're men who are responsible and responsive. Point to them and their accomplishments when you talk of the Republican Party and be proud," Margiotta said.

Concluding, Margiotta said: "Tonight marks the successful end of one of the most successful elections this Party has had in 12 years. It also marks the beginning of this year's campaign. With your help, we'll work harder and longer to make sure that we return here next year to celebrate the greatest victory in the history of this Party."

Special Egg Hunt

Handicapped children ages six through 10 are invited to meet the Easter Bunny and hunt for candy-filled eggs on Saturday, April 6, at Eisenhower Park in East Meadow.

The festivities, under the direction of the Handicapped Unit of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, are scheduled to get under way at 10:30 a.m. at the Special Activities Center (Parking Field no. 8).

After the big hunt, the youngsters will be treated to a program of entertainment, including a magic show and musical selections by the department's "Outward Bound Band," which is made up of handicapped young adults.

Making the presentation is Steering Committee Member Joseph Landow, as Director Lynn Singer looks on.

In addition to Congressman Lent, Congressmen Wydler, Wolff and Roneallo, as well as Hempstead Presiding Supervisor Francis Purcell and North Hempstead Supervisor Michael Tully were also honored.

AT COUNTY SUPERVISORS

Highlights of Next Monday's Proceedings

By Janet Gosnell

The Nassau County Board of Supervisors did not meet on Monday because of a conflict with the County Officers' Association meeting being held at the same time at Grossinger's, in Monticello, N.Y.

The calendar for the supervisors meeting of Monday, April 8th was posted, however, giving readers an idea of the proceedings expected for next week.

The supervisors are expected to approve $3,000,000 in bond authorization notes for sewer district no. 3, which includes most of the county. These funds will eventually come back to the county from taxation on the residents in the district. The Board is also expected to approve $2,600,000 for the Massapequa Park Sewer District; $2,300,000 for the Seaford Sewer District and $1,800,000 for District no. 3 RIA (Roosevelt Industrial Area).

The Board is also expected to approve the sale of 12.417 acres at Mitchell Field to Hofstra University, which has been leasing the land with an option to buy. The original agreement, for 14,938 acres is being reduced because the county maintains a permanent sewerage plant on 2,521 acres of the land. The selling price will be $166,240.

The renewal of contracts for several mental health agencies is on the agenda with a 5.5 per cent cost of living increase included for employees. Also on the agenda is the renewal of several youth service projects and $19,656 to the neighborhood youth corps for the summer job program.

The administration of William Cullen Bryant Park is slated for transfer from the Dept. of Parks and Recreation to the Department of Cultural Affairs, and its name to be changed to "Nassau County Center for the Fine Arts at William Cullen Bryant Park."

Several appointments by the County Executive are up for approval by the Board. They include Isidore Shapiro, as Commissioner of Mental Health; the re-appointments of Michael J. Ricigliano, of Uniondale and David Rothbaum, of East Meadow, to the Nassau County Department of Consumer Affairs; and the appointments of John J. Dowling, M.D., of Syosset and Roger B. Chaney, of Hempstead to the newly created Nassau County Community Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Advisory Board.

"Fiddler" At Beach Theatre

"Fiddler on the Roof," this summer's production at Jones Beach Theatre produced by Guy Lombardo, is a musical that continues to improve with age.

A. Holly Patterson, Chairman of the Commission, said the show "has been acclaimed as 'one of the great works of the American musical theatre.' We know it will please the people at the beach theatre as much or more than it did on stage or screen elsewhere."

Mr. Lombardo announces that Norman Atkins, no stranger to the beach theatre, has been cast in the role of "Tevye," while Geraldine Brooks will be "Golde," his patient wife. Ted Thurston, as "Lazar Wolf," and Honey Sanders as the matchmaker, "Yente," who is extremely interested in Tevye's five daughters, comprise the principal characters in the play casting for which has practically been completed.

Dear Friends:

OUR HATS ARE OFF to young JoAnn Totter and her friends Janine Endsley and Debbie Kessler of Hicksville. These civic-minded young teen-agers, decided to clean up the lots on Broadway near Old Country Road (in back of the corner already planted by the three Hicksville service clubs). They felt that since St. Ignatius Church has recently been re-done they did not want to see the surrounding area "look so dumpy". They phoned a member of the Parks Dept who said that, although it wasn't his property, if they called him when it was done he would send a truck down to pick up the garbage. So, the girls did just that, and as you can see when you drive by, this area is much neater now, due to their efforts. As JoAnn's proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Totter added, "If we don't do it ourselves, it just won't get done!". Girls, we are very proud of you. So is the Hicksville Community Council, as they plan to publicly commend you for your fine efforts.

WE ARE STILL NOT CLEAR on what the major changes under consideration by the Hicksville Board of Education, will involve, as far as they will affect the quality of the education of the children of Hicksville. Even after reading Shirley Smith's articles covering the details given by this Board to all present at last Friday's meeting, there are several major questions still unanswered. But we are sure that this Board does intend to bring more detailed information to the public before deciding matters of such grave importance. Don't forget that there is another Board meeting scheduled for April 17th. Also, we will bring you more details as soon as they are available. In other words, there will be much more on this later, before definite decisions are made. We commend the Board for the quality of last Friday's meeting and in their attention to public questions and suggestions. It is our belief that we can count on a continuance of this attitude of the Board, until these matters are resolved.

THE BUSINESS COMMUNITY of Hicksville is certainly growing and improving. Congratulations to Giese Florists who are now in their new store located on South Broadway next to Roberts Chevrolet, and to the Green Crest Nursery, located at Bethpage and Woodbury Roads in Hicksville upon the grand opening of their new Bicycle Department, which will include sales, service, parts and repairs. We wish you both continued success.

APRIL 17 is the date set for the opening of the new Hauppauge Office of the Long Island National Bank. Mr. James Clavell is the manager of the bank's new office and he tells us that in conjunction with this grand opening and with this bank's well-known policy of cooperating with all ecological projects, several electric automobiles, including a 1974 electric Minivan, will be on display.

WE ARE HAPPY TO REPORT that Town Councilman Warren Doolittle, is on the road to recovery after recent surgery. Get well soon Warren, as all miss you.

That's all for this week. We close with sincere best wishes to both our Christian and Jewish friends as they approach the coming holy services, which mean so much to all who put Him first.

Sincerely,
SHEILA

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sheila,
Last Friday afternoon, I read your editorial concerning the emergency School Board meeting called for that night, March 29.

Your admonishment that the Board might be acting hastily on important staff cuts seemed fraught with concern.

Your concern became my concern, as it did many other residents, so my wife and I attended the meeting.

What I observed made me proud of our Board of Education.

Bob Pirrung, Board President, explained the legal necessity for calling a special meeting with little advance notice, apologized for any inconvenience caused the public, and proceeded to detail the proposed cuts, as well as the proposed additions to the staff.

He substantiated the rationale for retrenchment, and invited the president of the association for supervisors and administrators to present his position on the proposals.

When the audience had heard effective, uninterrupted presentations representing opposing points of view, Mr. Pirrung solicited input from the public, and promised that he and the other trustees would seriously consider that input. There followed a steady stream of speakers. They were treated courteously and listened to attentively.

The Board then adjourned to executive session to consider the will of the people.

There is no doubt in my mind that the Board convened that evening prepared to take summary action. When they returned from executive session, however, they fulfilled their promise to the people by voting to postpone action pending further deliberation.

The meeting was a classic example of citizen influence on local government, a classic example of a democratic town hall meeting, and a classic example of local elected representatives being responsive to the people they represent.

We residents of Hicksville have a Board of Education we can be proud of. They are hard-working, conscientious and dignified. And, as President, Bob Pirrung has brought a touch of class to the proceedings.

I feel confident that whatever our Board decides concerning retrenchment will be decided wisely, and that that decision will accrue to the benefit of the children of Hicksville.

Sincerely,
Charles Loiacono

REPORTS

Despite the rapidly vanishing lines at gasoline stations and a taste of warmer weather in the air, the energy crisis is far from over. The end of the heating season means an easing in the demand for heating oil, however it also means the start of the vacation season and a sharp rise in the demand for gasoline for vacationers and weekend excursions to recreational areas.

This could mean the reappearance of gas lines and gasless Sundays this summer and have a significant effect on the vacation plans of many of us. I would like to remind you that Oyster Bay Townpeople have some of the most beautiful beaches to be found along the eastern seaboard and numerous parks offering a wide variety of recreational activities.

Our beach and park personnel are hard at work getting these facilities ready for the coming season. The Town's Division of Beaches has available a new brochure showing the location of the various beach facilities the Town has on both shores and describes the special features and facilities at each. It also includes a schedule of the swimming and life saving courses, taught by Red Cross certified instructors, that are free to Town residents.

TOWN NOTES: On a related topic, our opposition to the drilling for oil off of our shores and its concomitant potential hazard to our beaches, has apparently been reinforced by the report of the federal Council on Environmental Quality which is reported to support this position. We hope the federal government heeds its many warnings. well.

Ecology Theme To Usher In Newest Office Of Long Island National Bank

Long Island National Bank, which has been lauded in Congress for its ecology education programs, will usher in its newest office, in Hauppauge on April 17th, with ecology decorations, attractions, souvenirs and prizes. It was disclosed by James C. Dinkelacker, president of the 57-year-old independent bank.

At the same time, Mr. Dinkelacker announced that the bank's new office, in the Pine Grove Plaza Shopping Center, at Nesconset Highway and Mt. Pleasant Road, will be managed by James Clovelli, of Kings Park, who has been manager of the bank's office in Commack, since 1971.

Mr. Clovelli, a former high school business teacher in Levittown, joined the bank in 1965 as a teller in the South Huntington office and rose through the ranks to become a branch manager.

The customary and traditional ribbon cutting ceremony, scheduled for 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, April 17th will be replaced by a brief ceremony in which officials, along with business and officers of the bank, will participate in the hoisting of an ecology flag which was presented to the bank last August when Long Island National launched an Island-wide environmental campaign. The program, which distributed free ecology kits, was later lauded by a Long Island Congressman, Norman F. Lent, for its "exemplary public service," on the floor of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Dinkelacker said that during the two-week grand opening (April 17 through May 1) Mr. Clovelli's staff will distribute free ecology-type souvenirs, including flower seeds, energy conservation stickers, and ecology lapel pins.

Free door prizes which will also be distributed at the end of the two-week grand opening, will all be ecology items including an electric lawn mower, electric hedge shears, garden tools, and the like.

Valuable gifts will be given to all new deposit box for one year.

The first three days of the grand opening (April 17 through the 19th), the new branch office will be open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. and on Saturday April 20th from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

teacher, Mr. Richard Gould. Their transportation involves no extra cost since buses are available at the times involved.

The program will start in September 1974, and it is expected that study undertaken during the junior high school years will end in the selection of an appropriate field and full occupational training during the high school period.

It is expected that costs will be some $450 per child per year, and the program is aidable under the BOCES formula.

HCBE March 25th Meeting Report

At the March 25 meeting, three additional members of the HCBE Screening Committee were elected. These members (Don Lynam, Jewel Taylor and Roz Brechner) complete the committee of seven, which will screen potential School Board candidates to determine HCBE support. Interested potential candidates are invited to call Eugene Edelstein, 938-5361 or Kenneth Rodin, 931-0678. The planned program for the meeting had to be cancelled, due to an emergency, executive session of the School Board. This prevented the three newest members, and the School Board President, from appearing as a panel to discuss impressions of their first year on the board. Instead, a discussion of overall budget aspects was presented by Lawrence Wolfson.

"Anybody who tells you he never made a mistake is probably relying on a mighty poor memory—his or yours."

Mr. James Kleiner, director of the Connecticut group is an alumnus of Hicksville. He attended Fork Lane, was a member of the Junior High Advanced Band, and played in the High School Wind Ensemble.

On Friday, April 19, at 8 PM in the Hicksville High School auditorium you will have the opportunity to hear both bands for only $1.00 per ticket. The proceeds will help defray the cost of the "A" Band's trip to Vernon for the exchange concert on April 27. Band members in each town will provide housing and housing and hospitality for the guest performers.

Help Hicksville welcome home a former student of it's excellent music program, and help support this interesting educational experience. Bring the whole family to the High School auditorium at 8 PM, Friday, April 19. Everyone will enjoy the evening, and your presence will encourage these fine young performers in this imaginative undertaking arranged by Mr. Gates.

Committee's proposed bill asks for five million dollars to provide new transportation services like mini-buses, for those age 60 and over.

The Commissioner cited a 1956 law incorporated in the New York State Recreation Program for the Elderly which provides for twenty-five cents per person for recreation as a "perfect example of the legislature's failure to keep pace with today's escalating costs." The Committee has proposed that the amount made available to municipalities for senior citizen recreation projects be increased to fifty cents per person, with a guaranteed $2,000 minimum to smaller communities.

The Committee has also proposed the following legislation, for which the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs has advocated: a bill to admit senior citizens on a tuition-free basis to non-credit classes in State universities and community colleges; the creation on a county level of a comprehensive plan to identify and assist seniors living in conditions hazardous to health and safety - and to provide outreach and counseling services to them, to be funded by one-percent of New York State's Federal General Revenue Sharing Funds; to provide employment for poverty level senior citizens in beautification projects in parks and recreational facilities; for appointment of senior citizens by the State Commissioner of Health to investigate nursing home conditions; and to lower the age from 70 to 65 years for the issuing of free hunting and fishing licenses.

Commenting on the Committee's proposed Legislative Package, Commissioner Attard said, "We are indeed gratified that the Joint Select Committee on the Problems of the Aging has been so responsive." The programs and services of the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs are designed to keep the aging active, independent and involved. "But we must have enforceable State legislation to effectively implement and expand these goals."

the loss of food stamps. Since SSI beneficiaries are not eligible for food stamps, and the cost of food has soared, an emergency situation exists. Many elderly are threatened with malnutrition, if not starvation.

Non-receipt of SSI checks due to computer error, mailbox theft or change of address is the second most common difficulty for those who live from check to check trying to make ends meet.

Looming ahead is the possibility that some recipients may lose their SSI and Medicaid benefits eligibility, due to the Social Security cost of living increases voted by Congress.

In an attempt to correct or change these inequities in the program, the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs has prepared an "Action Report on Suggested Legislative and Administrative Changes" on Federal and State levels, together with a roster of Congressmen who can help to make these changes.

Commenting on the Report, which is available upon request, Commissioner Adelaide Attard said, "We would encourage all senior citizens, as well as agencies who work with and for the elderly, to secure a copy of this Action Report." "It is only by a concentrated and coordinated effort by an aroused community," continued the Commissioner, "that we can effect these vitally needed changes in the program."

For a free copy of the Action Report, plus a list of names and addresses of legislators to be contacted, write Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs, One Old Country Road, Carle Place, N.Y. 11514.

Other groups that performed were the Woodwind Quintet, two String Quartets and a Percussion group, all members of the Training Orchestra of the Huntington Symphony. The Kinhaven Music School of Weston, Vermont was represented with two of Hicksville's own young musicians, Peter Matzka on the violin and Mark Rudolf on the cello, accompanied on the piano

by Currel Cabot.

The Hicksville Library is proud to be able to offer the community these annual chamber music recitals performed by top notch local young musicians. The library music series is made possible by grants from the Nassau County Office of Cultural Development and the Music Performers Trust Fund. (Picture by Bob Berkowitz)

Junior Fire Report

By Lt. C. Calma,
Lt. N. DiPalo, B. Gill

During the past two weeks, some of the Juniors have been helping The Gregory Museum prepare and hold its Gem and Mineral Show which took place on March 30 and 31. Outstanding efforts were made by Joe Dabrow and Jim Cooper, working after school and on weekends, with a little less help from Carl Calma. These three, with the help of others, like Nick DiPalo from the H. S. Audio-Visual Staff, made it easier for the show to go on. The Juniors would like to give Junior Firemen Harold LaPlante, best wishes. Harold is recovering from an appendicitis.

On Sunday, March 31, President John R. Gonta announced the new lieutenants, they are as follows: 1st Lts. - N. DiPalo, H. Kunz, C. Calma, B. Gill, T. Busse; 2nd Lts. T. Widginski, D. Kaufman, and J. Ornbarger.

SCHOOL BOARD

appropriate instruction in occupational fields. The cost will be $450 per student per year. Mr. Rozman said 6 or 7 students will be involved in the program.

The school board approved the 1974-75 calendar, which has been recommended by the State Education Department and will be used by most of the county. It includes a two-week recess at Christmas, one week in February, one and a half weeks for Passover and Easter, and the last day of school will be June 30. The calendar has been approved by the H.C.T.

The board changed the budget vote date to Wednesday, June 5. The budget has not been finalized yet, making a May date impossible.

The board approved a resolution asking for more state aid, to be sent to our state legislators. Mr. Bruno objected to this, calling it unfair. If our own district wants to cut the budget, so does the state. He said we should keep taxes here and handle our own budget problems. Dr. Hill explained the state has been paying a progressively lower share of the local school budgets each year and education is also getting less allocation in the state budget.

The board created a new position of Assistant Superintendent for Personnel and Pupil Personnel Services, then appointed Erwin Rozman to that position, in an "acting" capacity, effective April 1 through June 30. In July the position and related monies will be negotiated.

The board approved procedures regarding the Auxiliary Police which "nails" down their duties, obligations and limitations and brings them under the control of William Becker, Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds. The primary function of the Auxiliary Police is vandalism prevention.

After much discussion, the board voted to have Mr. Bruno explore the feasibility of obtaining a secretary for the school board. Mr. Pirrung and Mr. Nagle voted against this motion.

The next regular school board meeting is Wednesday, April 17 at 8 P.M. in the Administration Building.
