In The Children's Room

The Children's Room at the Hicksville Library reminds its young readers that the BUILD-A-LIBRARY game continues young readers that the BUILD-A-LIBRARY game continues without interruption throughout the year. For those who are not familiar with the game, we offer a short explanation. Each par-ticipant has, in our file, a large picture of a library with empty blocks on it, denoting bricks. After each book is read and reported on briefly, a brick sticker is pasted in one of the spaces. For every ten bricks, the reader receives a different spaces. For every ten bricks, the reader receives a different colored ribbon indicating his progress. When all the bricks are filled in, the youngster's name is entered in gold on the Honor Roll, displayed in the Children's Room. He is also awarded a certificate and his choice of a paperback book. At this writing, we have 220 entrants, five of whom have completed the building. Barbara Luongo was our first winner, and Vera Lozina is enjoying her third "library." You don't have to be a bookworm to qualify. Just an interest in the fun of reading will set you building merrily.

Budget Reduced At Public Hearing

The Hicksville Board of Education reduced the 1974-75 proposed budget by $50,000 at Wednesday night's budget hearing. The total figure approved was $25,466,638 (approximately $1.70 increase in the tax rate). Mr. Bruno was the only board member to vote against the budget total budget total.

The main "bone of contention" was the 4 elementary assistant principals. Mr. Bruno moved principals. Mr. Bruno moved these positions be eliminated and the monies be subtracted from the budget ($100,000 in salaries, $25,000 in benefits.) Dr. Niosi presented a plan for job con-solidation, wherein the APS will solidation, wherein the APS will work in curriculum areas—math, reading, primary learning (Kndg. -3rd) and language arts. This proposal will be on the agenda for approval at the May 29 board meeting. Mr. McCormack and Mr. Nagle questioned whether new positions were being created and what would happen if one of the APs got a promotion within the district or left for an outside job. There was no definite answer to these questions, but it was There was no definite answer to these questions, but it was pointed out there are no supervisors in the basics—"reading, 'riting, 'rithmetic"—and there is a definite need for work in these areas. These positions have been vacant two years. After long discussion among board members and comments from the public, the board voted 5-1 against the motion to delete the APs, Mr. Bruno being the only one to support his motion.

The Hicksville Clerical Unit of The Hicksville Clerical Unit of the CSEA presented their position on negotiations, which have reached an impass. Members of the clerical and custodial staff staged a peaceful demonstration outside the High School prior to the budget meeting. They carried signs and handed out flyers stating their case—"The negotiators hired by the school board have been unwilling as of this date to offer an equitable wage increase and fringe benefits for the secretaries. Instead, they have attempted to offer sub-standard monies with the removal of fringe benefits that have been in existance for years. The Clerical Unit has always been willing to negotiate and has done so by compromising it's position to gain an agreement. However, it does not believe in negotiating away fringe benefits gained in previous agreements. A mediator has been called in to arbitrate the negotiations.

Robert Pirrunk, board

Robert Pirrunk, board president, announced that no custodians' jobs would be eliminated—the budget calls for the same number of positions as this year. Mr. Bruno had stated that reductions were being made in the custodial staff.

Voting on the proposed budget is June 5, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., in your local school.

Plumber Wants Expansion; Three Hearing Dates Set

By Janet Gosnell
Holzapple Realty Enterprises,
Ltd., which operates a plumbing business in Syosset on the west side of Jackson Avenue south of Edward Avenue presented a petition through its attorney, Frank Gorgio, Sr., at Town Hall on Tuesday, to expand its building for additional storage of plumbing supplies and fixtures.
There was no community opposition to the petition. The only controversy it aroused was that of the Town Building Department, which sent a memorandum stating that construction material storage required a G zone, and from the Town Board, primarily Councilman Kenneth Diamond, who protested a stack of plumbing fixture refuse which he observed at the rear of the property. Holzapple's property is presently zoned Business F.

The extension desired would be an addition measuring 10.5 feet by 22 feet to the present building, constructed on a concrete slab with a shingle roof and wood siding. Stored inside, materials which the town Bulding Department considered construction materials, would be toilets, balthubs, sinks, water heaters, piping, and the like. "We need these things on hand," said

Louis P. Holzapple, Jr., "so that we can provide immediate delivery in an emergency." He said his men presently "falling all over each other" in the storage facility now available. Holzapple further said that his company owned seven panel trucks which are used by his employees. He said that only two employees park on the premises, employees. He said that only two employees park on the premises, the others using available parking space nearby.
Refuse, he said, was removed periodically.
At the close of the hearing, the Town Board reserved decision.

Seeks New Proposals Regulating Carnivals

A June 11th public hearing was set by the Town Board recently on a revised proposal to regulate carnivals conducted within the unincorporated areas of the Town.

This proposal, which is a complete revision of a proposed ordinance considered at hearing ordinance considered at hearing last September, would completely eliminate rides from any carnival or bazaar- type event regardless of the organization sponsoring it," according to Supervisor John W. Burke.

The previous proposal to regulate the conducting of such special events contained complex land requirements concerning any such event in which rides were involved. "In revising that proposal, the Town Board felt it should simply not allow rides out of concern for safety and because vacant property should not be allowed to be transformed overnight into an amusement park even if only on a temporary basis." Burke explained. Currently the Town requires special exemptions from the Town. Board for operating of permanent rides on land within the Town.

REPORT OF SUPERVISORS' MEETING

D'Amato Seeks Policy Statement On Community College Expenses

The question of alleged misuse of student funds at Nassau Community College arose at the Board of Supervisors' meeting on Monday, following a calendar which was largely routine. Monday's meeting was the last of the winter schedule for the Board, which will not convene again until June 10th on its four-month summer schedule which calls for meetings on the second and fourth Monday of each month.

calls for meetings on the second and fourth Monday of each month.

Alfonse D'Amato, who wears several hats as Hempstead Town Supervisors, member of the Board of Supervisors and member of the Board of Trustees of Nassau Community College, donned the latter one to speak in support of a report issued last week by Nassau County Controller M. Hallsted Christ following allegations that the required student activity fee paid by NCC students was being used for cocktail parties, Christmas cards, and other expenses not related to student activities.

Although this newspaper was not invited to the press conference held last week in connection with the report, nor did his reporter see a copy of the report, evidently it showed some evidence that the allegations might be true. The report is available for perusal at the office of the County Controller.

Alfonse D'Amato, speaking later to reporters, said he was governs the college, and requesting a response before or at the next meeting of the Supervisors on June 10th,

Howard Levitt, of the County
Attorney's office, was present, and confirmed that he will be handling the matter.
D'Amato found some expenditures shown in the report to e "inexcusable," citing in particular the payment of $5,000, in excess of appraisal for kitchen equipment, He said, "If they are unwilling to correct the present deficiencies, they are in for a rough time — and that's on the record."

Other Business
Public works items on the calendar included the continuation of a hearing on the establishment of the East Hills Collection District; the authorization for bids for installation of a new roof on Police Headquarters at a cost of $100,000? the authorizing of advertising of bids for a new filter plant at the Wantagh Park Pool at an estimated cost of $24,000? the authorizing of advertising for bids for construction of a settling basin north of South Street and channelization of the west branch into Newbridge

Street and channelization of the west branch into Newbridge Creek to alleviate the silting of the lake from Newbridge Creek at an estimated cost of $150,000. Other bid authorizations included the construction of a 3,400 foot long lateral sewer line on Merrick Road from the Seaford-Oyster Bay Expressway to Seaford Avenue to allow 300 families to hook up to the sewer

Speakers

Speaking after the agenda was Benjamin Verona, of Rockville Centre, who profested the plan to remove about 75 old shade trees in Rockville Centre in connection with the widening of North Centre Avenue. He said the road, when widened, would be about 80 feet in width, causing a hazard to children attending the nearby Watson Elementary School, and other youngsters attending about 180 feet in width, causing a hazard to children attending the nearby Watson Elementary School, and other youngsters attending about 181 facilities in the neighborhood. He said he had had no luck with the Rockville Centre Village Board, and was approaching the Supervisors to intercede.

Also speaking was Hennpstead businessman Carl Schmid who once again protested the vanity of installing a $6,000,000 "equestrian center" at the Muttontown Park and Preserve, and Parents' Aid Society Director Bill Baird, who brought the Supervisors up to date on his efforts in behalf of 'Miss X' who several weeks earlier had been requested by the Nassau County Medical Center to bury her fetus following an abortion at the county facility.

United Veterans Urge Businesses To Respect Memorial Day By Closing

Organization of Nassau County has urged all newspapers and radio stations serving the area to radio stations serving the area to use their influence in encouraging merchants to close their business establishments on Memorial Day, May 27, and discouraging residents from purchasing anything but necessities on that day.

The United Veterans

The United Veterans represents all major veterans organizations having 150 posts and over 29,000 active members in Nassau County. More than 250,000 veterans live in Nassau, according to the Veterans Administration Office in Mineola.
United Veterans President
Walter S. Borzym, Jr., and

Memorial Day Closing Com-Memorial Day Closing Com-mittee Chairman Francis H. Schlichtig have asked the media to actively support the efforts of the veterans groups in effecting widespread business closings on Memorial Day in order that the war dead will be paid adequate tribute by the residents of Nassau County

They note that Memorial Day, known earlier as Decoration Day, has been observed for more than 100 years (since 1868) as the once -a -year special day for patriotic parades, for memorializing the war dead of all our country's wars, and for decorating their town and village ordinances which require that most business establishments be closed until 2 p.m. on Memorial Day. However, they would like to see the closing hours extended to the full day. The message from Borzym and Schlichtig notes that merchants must pay premium wages to employees working on Memorial Day, and that these added costs are eventually passed along to the consumer, in spite of what few bargains might be advertised on that particular day. They point out that "In truth, everybody loses during the few short hours that might be better utilized in paying tribute to those "who laid down their lives that we might live."

New Sewer Hook-ups

Responding to a growing number of complaints about home owners' problems with new sever hook - ups, Nassau Consumer Affairs Commissioner James E. Picken today called a meeting of the Long Island Master Plumbers Assoc., the Towns of Hempstead and Oyster Bay, the Nassau County Dept. of Public Works, and the Office of Consumer Affairs.

Consumer Affairs.

"It's imperative that we eliminate the problems right now." Picken said.

Most of the current complaints come from Massapequa and come from Massapequa and Bellmore residents, but as sonstruction proceeds, Picken noted, thousands more home owners will be required to have sewer connections installed. "We're working to resolve the complaints we have now," he said. "But this meeting is intended to prevent future headaches."

The problems, according to Picken, are that some firms have signed up so many customers that they are overloaded with work and unable to fulfill their contracts. Consumers who have given deposits are forced to wait and cannot negotiate with another firm because their forces is lied to.

Other consumers are com-plaining about price increases since the contracts were signed. The contractors claim that labor and material have gone up and that sometimes they find water in the ground, which complicates the job the job.

"The meeting will attempt to set guidelines for fair practices," Picken said, "so consumers will not feel they have been hooked."

Art Show

The annual Calhoun High School Art Show and Sale will be held at the North Merrick Public Library, at 1691 Meadowbrook Road, from Meadowbrook Hoad, from Sunday, June 2nd to Friday, June 14th. A special reception will be held for the artists at the Library on Sunday, June 2nd, from 2 to 5 p.m., sponsored by the Calhoun High School Parent-Teacher-Student Associa-tion and the Friends of the North Merrick Public Library. Refreshments will be served and the public is invited.

Dear Friends ...

As our Hicks ville subscribers will notice, in the story on page one, next week is the issue in which we will carry information about each candidate running for the Hicksville Board of Education; along with pictures, if our candidates send us this information. You are hereby invited to do just this, Board Candidates.

There are two organizations in town interested in school board candidates and our school budget and in next week's HERALD we will bring you their stands and endorsements, if they so desire. The Herald keeps its readers well informed on school matters all year long. The School Board mails a budget brochure to every home. Other local organizations keep the residents informed as to what they consider important at candidates forums, fliers and other materials in house to house publications. Therefore, along with our factual reporting of as much information as is available, we feel that a more than adequate job is being done to help the voters and taxpayers of this district make up their minds as to how they are going

THE ANNUAL COMMUNITY AWARDS DINNER of the Hicksville Community Council is set for Thursday, June 6th at the Trinity Lutheran Church. We hope to see many of you there. WE RECEIVED news releases from many, many of his friends in politics, to express their happiness that Congressman Angelo Roncallo was acquited last week. We had all expected this verdict, but we wonder, along with Mr. Roncallo who is really pursuing the matter on a Federal level, what can be done to prevent such witch-hunting on a political level. My guess is that the entire grand jury system is due for an overhaul. Perhaps our Nassau County Bar Association could make this matter a project for the year.

In case you are wondering what is happening to the Hicksville Park Task Force, further meetings have been held up due to the fact that funds were not available to mail a questionnaire to every resident and taxpayer in the proposed park district (which, incidently will have the same lines as the Hicksville School District). We are on this Task Force and received a letter just this week, that, the questionnaire will be going out within the week....so you should be getting yours soon. We hope you will take the time to fill it out and express your views on what kind of small parks you want in these two park areas of Hicksville. We'll have more on this throughout the summer when Task Force will undoubtedly be meeting.

THAT'S ALL, for this week. Stay well, don't waste a day, and remember the old, old saying, "Do unto others...."

I am angry because I should

And I am fearful because this And I am fearful because this same kind of persecution could be inflicted upon me again not only but also on anyone else.

Many today would like us to think that having sex is as natural as brushing your teeth. "Sex is a healthy expression of feelings among any consenting adults," they tell us. Well, I don't buy it. Every honest person will tell you there is no such thing as casual say. Deen feelings, the casual sex. Deep feelings, the desire for love and commitment are part of every normal sexual intimacy.

As a young man I was taught that God wished sexual intimacy to be saved for marriage. I remember being impressed with remember being impressed with remember being in "your body is the Bible passage, "your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit." God wants us to use our bodies in God wants us to use our bodies in a way pleasing to Him. That means keeping sex for marriage and within marriage.

Even though I had set certain standards for myself, I thought that God's Word was quite dated and hardly with the times on the matters of sex and marriage. Only now I appreciate the phenomenal wisdom of God's words about sex and marriage. When Jesus said not to look at When Jesus said not to look at another woman with lustful eyes...it was good advice. For that is the first step of a potential involvement. Every affair begins innocently. A man wants to see if he still has his old charm...a woman, anxious to see if she's still attractive. Before you know it the second step is taken and not long after that marriages are breaking up and lives are being destroyed. destroyed.

Drop In Automobile Accident

Nassau County Police Com-missioner Louis J. Frank has revealed a dramatic drop in automobile accident statistics in the police district since the im-position of the federally and state mandated 55 miles per hour speed limit.

For the period of January 1 through April 30, there were reductions in accidents of 7.5 per cent; injuries, 25.2 per cent and death of 44.7 per cent.

The Commissioner stated that the statistics bear out the conclusion that drivers were, for the most part, conscientiously ob-serving the speed limits during those months when the fuel crisis was up its peak in order to con-serve gasoline.

He also noted that a reduction of 10 per cent in highway traffic in the county also was a factor in the reduced accident rates. Despite these promising conditions, the Commissioner

continued, there have been in-dications during the past few weeks that with the easing of the gasoline crisis there has been an increasingly "creeping disregard" of the speed limits.

Because of this, the Commissioner stated, he has alerted all commands to intensify enforcement of speeding regulations even in borderline

Speed limits on state roads are posted by the state Department of Transportation but enforcement is a police matter and motorists should be advised that even when state roads are not posted there is a 55 miles per hour limit under the Vehicle and Traffic Law. Traffic Law.

A comparison of auto accidents and injured and dead for 1973 and 1974 from January 1 through

April 30 follows: 1973 - Accidents, 8092; Injured,

3746; dead, 38. 1974 - Accidents, 7482; Injured, 2800; dead, 21.

Besides this, there has been a reduction in the number of speeding summonses issued during the first quarter of 1974. From January 1 through March 31 there were a total of 5,395 31 there were a total of some speeding summonses issued. During the same period for 1973 there were 6,884 speeding summonses issued 21.7 per cent more.

On the Long Island Expressway and the Seaford-Oyster Bay Expressway there were 431 summonses issued in the first three months of this year for speeders violating the 55 miles per hour limit.

per hour limit.
Commissioner Frank said he intends to maintain intensive enforcement of the speed laws, "not to punish errant motorists, but to maintain a deterrent to excessive speeds in order to bolster safety on the roads."
