Hicksville Library Country Fair

September is here - the summer is almost over, the children have gone back to school, and the Hicksville Library Old Time Country Fair is coming. This year the Fair will be held for four consecutive days, Thursday through Sunday, October 3 to 6, Library hours. As usual, entries will be accepted in all types of hand-made articles, from bread-baking to carved wooden chests, and every type of hand work in between.

Articles entered will be judged by professionals in their fields, with ribbons given to the first place, second place, and honorable award winners.

Many of you have received applications in the mail. Those of you who weren't on our list may come to the library for an entry blank, or call the library at WE 1-1417 and a form will be mailed to you.

The completed forms may be brought to the library at any time, but all entries MUST BE in the week of September 23 in order for us to arrange the displays to the best advantage for judging.

This year we will have craft demonstrations to take place in the afternoons and evenings. At this time our schedule is not complete. As soon as it is completed, announcements will be publicized as to the time and the day.

The Hicksville Library is the first library in Nassau to hold an inclusive fair and we are proud that so many other institutions have followed suit. Come to the Library and see what crafts your fellow townsfolk try their hands at and be sure you enter your own handwork.

See you at the Fair!

HCBE to Meet

The Hicksville Citizens for Better Education will hold its first meeting of the school year on Tuesday, September 10, at 8:30 at the Hicksville Library. A budget discussion will be held, featuring the Assistant Superintendent for Administration, Dr. Frederick Hill, and the Hicksville School Board President, Mr. Robert Pirrung. Also on the agenda will be the selection of three members of the nominating committee. This Committee will nominate H.C.B.E. officers for the coming year.

H.C.B.E. meetings are open to the public. Citizens of any age with an interest in education are welcome to attend meetings. Membership is open to all parents, taxpayers, students and school employees in the Hicksville School District.

Republican Club to Meet

The Ernest F. Francke Republican Club of Hicksville will hold their regular monthly meeting at 9:00 P.M. on Friday September 13. The meeting will be held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall - Wm. F. Gouse Jr. Post No. 3211, located at 320 South Broadway in Hicksville. The Hall is south of the Firestone store and north of the H.I.P. Building. Please note the new change in location for our meetings. Refreshments will be served.

PROGRAM

The guest speaker for the evening will be Nassau District Attorney William Cahn. Guest appearances will be made by Judicial Candidates - District Court Judge Edward Margolin and Councilman Salvatore Mosca.

Please take note of change of registration time from

Sept. 7 for School Budget Vote

Herald Report: Hicksville School District

by Shirley Smith

The Hicksville School Board has set up an open forum meeting for Monday, Sept. 9 at 8 P.M. in the High School Auditorium. Members of administration and the board will be on hand, in an informal setting, to answer the public's questions about the proposed budget, austerity and other school matters.

Registration for the third budget vote is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 7 from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the Administration Building on Division Avenue. The vote is Thursday, Sept. 12 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the local schools. The school board meeting will be held that night at 8 p.m., recessing at 10:30 to go to the High School cafeteria and accept the election results.

At last Wednesday's meeting, the board approved a limited selection of sandwiches. Depending on the outcome of the budget vote, the cafeteria will gradually increase the program as warranted.

The board confirmed its vote to reduce the school monitor staff by half - 25 of the 52 monitors will be laid off (in reverse order of district-wide seniority), but will be placed in priority positions on the substitute list. This action is due to the reduction of $30,000 in the monies budgeted for monitors. In compliance with this action, all schools will have half as many lay help personnel as last year.

The board of education also made some revisions in the school-day opening exercises. A variety of patriotic songs will be played, instead of exclusively using the national anthem.

However, an administrative recommendation to delete a moment of silent meditation (except at general assemblies) was not accepted.

The board approved various bills, awards, personnel appointments and a transitional class at Woodland Avenue. For the latter, BOCES will rent out facilities for a maximum of 10 special education students per class (some from Hicksville, the rest from other districts.) Students will be kept in this class until they are able to return to their own schools. As vacancies occur, Hicksville students will have priority in filling the vacancy. BOCES will pay for the teaching, guidance, psychological, and other supportive services and $3 per square foot for the use of our facilities.

Parade in Hicksville. Mr. Pasquerale was Grand Marshall for the two hour long parade which is sponsored by the Hicksville vamps.

New Teachers: This year, Trinity Lutheran Church, 40 West Nicholas Street, Hicksville, will have two new Teaching Ministers, Mr. John Spring and Mr. Dan Albertin, join its staff. Mr. Spring, a native of Bayside, New York, is a recent graduate of Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Illinois. He will be teaching science to the eight grade students along with teaching Confirmation and working with youth of the church. Mr. Dan Albertin is a graduate of Concordia College, Seward, Nebraska, and will be teaching Mathematics and Physical Education to the eighth grade students as well as ministering to the congregation. Trinity is looking forward to having these fine men serve the congregation and the community. Above Mr. John Spring and Mr. Dan Albertin discuss this year's curriculum with Mr. Weldon Endorf, Principal of Trinity Lutheran School.

Supervisor JOHN W. BURKE REPORTS

Last week marked the completion of another successful Supervisor's Summer Intern Program. During the past two months, nine college students were assigned to various departments to work on projects matching their particular interests and abilities and which contributed to the needs of the Town.

These interns were selected from more than 150 candidates based on their superior academic standings, demonstrated desire to learn more about local government and a willingness to contribute their talents to its betterment.

In addition to their assigned duties, the interns attended meetings of the Town Board and the Nassau County Board of Supervisors and toured a number of Town and County Departments and facilities.

Working with my staff were Donald Carbone of Plainview and Daniel Squire from Syosset. Both young men carried out extensive research and assisted in the preparation of several proposed Town Ordinances.

Tulinda Deegan of Locust Valley completed an assignment in the Office of the Receiver of Taxes and then worked on several projects for the Town's American Revolution Bicentennial Commission.

Two interns were assigned to the Department of Community Services. James Drake of Hicksville, a victim of cerebral palsy himself, worked on program analysis and development for the Town's various programs for the handicapped. Michael Ingha of Farmingdale assisted with a reevaluation project of Town Youth Programs and also researched various Federal and State sources of funding assistance.

The Planning and Development Department put Brian Miller of Massapequa to work on statistical analyses of communities in the Town. The planning and programming of the many and varied sports programs at the Town's parks was the assignment of Andrew Curtis of Massapequa Park for the Department of Parks and Recreation.

The Public Information Division provided a variety of assignments for Nicholas Caruso of Hicksville in the dissemination of information on the many projects and programs of the Town through the news media. Wayne Poll of Syosset was involved in a number of research projects for the Town's Environmental Control Division.

I continue to be greatly impressed by the caliber of the young men and women we are fortunate to have in this program each year. The officials to whom they were assigned are unanimous in their praise of the energy and enthusiasm demonstrated by the interns in their various assignments. We hope that the interns take with them a better understanding and appreciation of the problems and responsibilities of local government as they return to continue their academic careers.

where they can provide us with large chunks of our energy demand. I will continue to push for foresightedness in meeting our energy needs.

The oil will one day soon be gone—even the oil companies know that.

Washington Report
 Congressman
NORMAN F. LENT
 5th District New York

One of the major blockades to offshore drilling in the Atlantic off Long Island fell last week when a Federal judge ruled that the Federal government, not the individual coastal states, have jurisdiction over the seabed and the right to control exploitation of it.

Although the ruling was only preliminary to an eventual Supreme Court decision on the matter, it is unlikely to be reversed when the high court convenes again in October.

Interior Secretary Rogers Morton and other U.S. officials had long promised that there would be no movement toward any Atlantic drilling until the jurisdictional dispute was settled by the court.

The case stems from a claim by the State of Maine that it had jurisdiction over its coastal seabed and resources because of grants made under colonial charter. Twelve other Northeast coastal states joined Maine in petitioning the court for ownership of their respective undersea lands, but last week's ruling appears to have dealt a major setback in our long fight to block Atlantic oil probes. Should the Supreme Court, as seems likely, uphold the findings of Judge Albert Maris, the Interior Department would, in all probability, proceed with steps leading up to offshore drilling.

The Council on Environmental Quality has already pointed out the dangers of drilling close to Long Island shores in an exhaustive report and study they conducted in 1973. Notwithstanding our current energy shortfall, we should not be stampeded into accepting potentially-dangerous oil exploitation.

If last winter's acute shortage pointed out anything, it was that there are clean energy forms which are entirely feasible if we will only devote the needed attention to bring them to commercial application.

Already, huge strides have been made toward finalizing some forms of energy production that the oil companies would have had us laughing at three years ago in derogating commercials.

Geothermal energy, coal gasification—even wind and solar power—are nearing the point

Regents Exams

The State Education Department's College Proficiency and Regents External Degree examinations will be given November 7 and 8, at testing centers throughout New York State and several other states. The application deadline date is September 30. The examinations cover areas of the arts and sciences, business, foreign languages, nursing, and education, including health education and reading instruction in the elementary school. Over 60 proficiency examinations are administered four times a year in February, May, August and November. The winter administration will be February 6 and 7, 1975 with an application deadline date of December 30.

College Proficiency and Regents External Degree Examinations provide an opportunity for people to validate college-level knowledge gained outside the formal classroom. The tests may be used to gain college credit, earn Regents External Degrees, meet certain teacher certification requirements, or for job advancement. Over 65,000 credits for passing grades have been granted by colleges and teacher certification units. New examinations are being developed in Anatomy and Physiology, Introduction to Criminal Justice, Criminal Investigation, and for the Reading Teacher.

For further information, call William Golecke, Director of Continuing Education for the Hicksville Public Schools. His telephone is 733-2102.

Dillon Advocates Local DA Offices

Denis E. Dillon, Democratic candidate for Nassau County District Attorney, proposed the creation of local branch offices as part of his plan to revitalize the D.A.'s office.

"The prime function of the office of District Attorney," Mr. Dillon says, "is to serve the people and protect their rights under the law. Ready access to that office is an important aspect of this public obligation, especially with the high cost of gasoline.

The branch offices proposed by Mr. Dillon would be located in Great Neck, Hicksville, Hempstead, Lynbrook, Wantagh and Westbury. No additional personnel would be required to maintain their operation, he said.

Horse Show to Benefit AHRC

The Horse Show spectacular, for the benefit of the Association for the Help of retarded children (AHRC) a top rated by the American Horse Show Association, will take place at the North Shore Equestrian Center of C. W. Post College, Brookville, September 13, 14, and 15 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tickets are priced at $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for children under 13. A special family plan is offered for $5.00 which admits two adults and up to three children under 13, and is good for Friday, Saturday, and Sunday admission. Advance adult tickets can be ordered at the reduced rate of $1.50 by sending a check made out to AHRC, along with a stamped, self-addressed envelope, to AHRC Horse Show, 189 Wheatley Road, Brookville, N. Y. 11545. Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso and U. S. Olympic team winner Neal Shapiro of Old Brookville are Co-Honorary Chairmen of the event, with the entire proceeds going to the AHRC Educational Center in Brookville.

The show will offer $40,000 in prize money, more than any other horse show on Long Island, and will feature the $10,000 Nassau Grand Prix on Sunday, September 15, and the $2,500 Amateur Owner / Jr. Hunter Classic. Mr. Shapiro will be among the well known riders at the show where an estimated 500 top U. S. horses will be competing.

8:00 P.M. at Salisbury Clubhouse. Tickets will be $12.50 per person and can be obtained by calling Mrs. Joan Schmutz at Ed 4-5454 or Mrs. Gerard R. Difenbach at IV 6-6888, Chairman of this event.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT CONFERENCE: Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell (2nd from right) was on hand to welcome members of the New York State

Office for Local Government at their Regional Conference held recently at the Hempstead Town Hall Pavilion. Chatting with the supervisor are (l-r): Dr. Sal J. Prezioso, Commissioner, New York State Office for Local Government; Assemblyman Joseph M. Margiotta; and Joseph Giordano of Westbury, Office of Local Government Representative for Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

Caso Invites Soviet Jew To Nassau

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso has issued an invitation to a Jewish woman, recently released from a Russian jail, to visit Nassau County.

The woman is Mrs. Sylva Zalmanson, a prisoner whom Caso attempted to aid by twice sending packages of clothing and medicine.

On receiving news of the release of Mrs. Zalmanson, Caso, the first Nassau recipient of the Greater New York Conference on Soviet Jewry's "Freedom Shield" for his support of Jews in the Soviet Union struggling to express their religious beliefs, conferred with representatives of the Long Island Committee for Soviet Jewry and immediately issued the invitation to visit Nassau.

Mrs. Zalmanson, her husband and two brothers were sentenced to 10 years at hard labor in the Potma Labor Camp. Her deteriorating health, loss of hearing and the inhumane conditions at the prison were brought to Caso's attention by the committee nearly three years ago.

Initially, Caso sent a package containing a heavy coat, other warm clothing and vitamins. The package was rejected and returned to Long Island with the notation that the prisoner was "inconnu" or unknown.

A second package, sent in December, 1972, was similarly rejected and returned to Caso last week, simultaneous with the Soviet announcement of the release of Mrs. Zalmanson.

"We never accepted the Russian claim that Mrs. Zalmanson was 'inconnu,'" Caso said. "It is heartwarming to receive this absolute proof that she is, indeed, alive."

After speaking with Mrs. Inez Weissman, committee president, and Mrs. Lynn Singer and Mrs. Tobie Newman, vice presidents, Caso issued the following statement:

"Mrs. Zalmanson's release is a victory for freedom-loving people everywhere. We in Nassau County are proud of the role we played in trying to improve Mrs. Zalmanson's condition while in prison and in keeping the fact of her cruel imprisonment before the community and the world at large.

"It is my hope that when Mrs. Zalmanson leaves the Soviet Union she will pay a visit to the United States and Nassau County so that we may welcome her and recognize her courageousness with suitable ceremonies."

"We will continue to assist in the freedom struggle of the remaining 45 'prisoners of conscience' in Soviet prisons."

Mrs. Zalmanson has indicated a desire to emigrate to Israel but steadfastly refuses to leave Russia until her husband and two brothers are released.

Caso is sending the mailgram invitation to Mrs. Zalmanson care of Andrei Sackarov, the renowned Soviet scientist at whose Moscow home she is staying.

Survey Questions County Services For Elderly

Senior Citizen Affairs as the "Area Agency on Planning" in Nassau, and has awarded it a grant of $474,873 under Title III of the Older Americans Act of 1965. The County is matching the federal grant with an additional $70,809, bringing the total program value to $544,682.

Under the proposed plan, the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs will regionalize the County into eight Sub-Areas on Aging whose objective will be to eliminate duplication of services, draw commitments from public and private agencies to meet the needs of the elderly population and to provide adequate supportive services so that the elderly can maintain maximum independence and dignity in home environments. In addition to a field staff, the Department will operate a mobile unit to bring

"one-stop" services directly to the senior citizen community.

Commissioner Adelaide Attard of the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs urges seniors who receive the questionnaire to complete and return it promptly. "This is a unique opportunity for the seniors of our County to have direct input into the development of a master plan, which will not only improve the quality of their lives, but will make life better for the senior citizens of the future," said the Commissioner.

The green on white questionnaire may be filled out in pen or pencil - and the respondent may remain anonymous. There is no charge for return postage. Those who need assistance in answering any of the questions may call the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs special QUESTION-AID LINE - 535-2447.

WASHINGTON MEETING: Abe Seidin, (2nd right) Chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors examines veteran's benefits information with Joe Malone, (left) Deputy Benefit's Director for the Veterans Administration, Maurice Howells, (right) Field Supervisor for Region 1 of the Veterans Administration and South Shore Congressman Norman Lent. Seidin journeyed to Washington to discuss establishing better lines of communications between the Nassau Assessors Office and the V.A. in order to improve processing of veterans requests for property tax exemptions. Congressman Lent arranged the meeting with the V.A. officials.

Editorial

HICKSVILLE VOTERS go to the polls for a third time on Sept. 12 to decide on a school budget. The question is: will they support it or defeat it again? What is included in the budget for them to support?

WHAT IF you're a parent of a student in the Hicksville schools—what is there for you to support? This budget offers you a full educational program, complete with the "basics" (reading, writing, math, science, social studies, English, physical education, etc.). The "specials" (music, art, foreign language, etc.), the supportive services (guidance, health care, psychology, speech, learning disabilities and extended readiness classes, etc.), and all the supplies to carry out these programs. This budget offers you transportation, cafeteria, extra-curricular activities and interscholastic sports.

WILL YOU support it? If you feel your children will benefit from a full program of scholastics and co-curricular activities—you will. If you have priced school supplies and found that buying your own for each of your children may cost you more than an increase in real estate taxes (there will be an increase in the latter even on austerity)—you will. If you have informed yourselves of education law and have confirmed that losses of transportation, cafeteria and other aspects of the school program are not threats used by the board of education and school administration to secure a budget approval, but are, in reality, requirements of the law—you will.

WHAT IF you're a homeowner in Hicksville with no children, children in private school or children out of school, what's in the budget for you to support? This budget offers a full Adult Education program, an Evening High School for those students who may have dropped out before graduating, Community Chorus and Orchestra, and public use of school buildings and grounds.

WILL YOU support it? If you planned on driver's education or a sewing class or that course on oil burner repair—you will. If you've worked with Boy Scouts, 4-H or Little League and don't know where you'll be meeting this year—you will. If you've been annoyed by vandalism and wonder why the young people don't have someplace to go and constructive activities to keep them busy—you will. If you've attended football games, enjoyed watching school bands march in the Memorial Day parade, or looked forward to the plays and musicals at the High School—you will.

WHAT IF you're an older resident of Hicksville, living on a fixed income, what is there for you in this budget? Will you support it? If you participate in Senior Citizens activities and realize they are sponsored under the auspices of Adult Education—you will. If you realize that the reduced real estate tax you pay as a "Senior Citizen" is granted by the school board and that though they may vote this lower rate, they are not required to—you will. If you have attended plays and other school activities at a reduced rate for "Senior Citizens" or received free bus transportation—you will. If you remember that someone paid for the education of your children and for you, and that even though it cost less then, so did everything else and salaries were much lower—you will.

YOU WILL support this budget if you realize there is something there for everyone, because educating others benefits all of us in the long run.

YOU CANNOT support the budget, however—or even

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

On Thursday, September 12, Hicksville voters will go to the polls for the third time to vote on a school budget. The Hicksville Citizens for Better Education urges you to vote "Yes" this time around.

The School Board has taken seriously the first two rejections of the budget by the public. They have made reductions, reluctantly, in school monitors, supplies and equipment and other areas, including deletion of the planned Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum. The discussion at the August 12 meeting concerning these items made it clear that there was considerable concern that the schools could operate effectively with the reductions; nonetheless, the board apparently felt that the public demand for a reduction had to be met. The total reduction would have been far greater, had it not been for a significant increase in costs and number of students for BOCES.

All of us are only too familiar with the problems of the current economic situation. There is no question but that many people will be hard hit by the rise in the property tax due to an approved budget. However, until a more equitable method of school financing is implemented, we have no choice, if we want quality education, except to accept this additional burden. Rejection of the budget would be a false economy, since it would actually result in a wastage of our finest natural resource — our children.

I am confident that our School Board has made every effort to reduce the budget without sacrificing educational quality. They are rightly refusing to say that we must move backward, we must continue to attempt to improve those areas which need improvement, and strike a balance between the highest quality and the pocketbook.

If you have not voted within the past two years, please register at the Administration Building on Saturday, September 7. Then, vote "Yes" on September 12, and continue quality education in Hicksville.

Sincerely yours,
Eugene Edelstein,
President Hicksville
Citizens for Better Education

Dear Editor:

Recently we put a cultural display in the Hicksville Free Public Library called "Side by Side." The display was arranged and planned for dating back to April, 1974.

We are hobbyists and members of the: Huntington Historical Society, the British Horological Society, American Horological Society, National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors, Council of Long Island Educators, Huntington Arts Council, Audubon Society, the Smithsonian Institute, Association Member of American Museum of Natural History, American Watch and Clock Museum in Bristol, Connecticut, Huntington Township Chamber of Commerce, and the Better Business Bureau. Frequently we are called upon to present these displays, and lecture, and it is our pleasure to do so.

A local shopkeeper who sells clocks (but is NOT, as we are, homeowners and taxpayers in Hicksville) complained and our name was removed from the display. We were also asked to remove the display. We think this behavior reflects on the integrity of the library.

We feel that this is inappropriate to allow someone who is not as community minded or generous with their time and collection to prevent antiques from being displayed and information from being disseminated and exchanged at the library. We feel that this is very small minded and mean and we are charged with the attitude of the library personnel who arbitrarily elected to remove this display.

We regret the necessity to have to express ourselves in a letter but our telephone calls starting August 20, numbering at least seven, have been ignored.

We request that identification for the display be replaced in the display cabinet and we will remove the display on September 20 as per our original arrangement.

Very truly yours,
THE TIMELY ORGANIZATION
Mr. & Mrs. Edward B. Carter

Marino Offers Crime Program

An unusual program bringing its listeners behind the crime scene has been playing to packed audiences recently. The producer of the show is North Shore's State Senator Ralph J. Marino. Chairman of the Select Committee on Crime who has been offering a film and tape presentation to community groups.

The two part program illustrates some of the problems faced by law enforcers cracking down on criminals.

The first part is a recent film documentary about narcotics problems among teenagers, including the illicit sale of methadone. The documentary was prepared by NBC-TV as a result of Marino's committee studies.

The second part offers a court-ordered wiretap of a member of organized crime. In the course of the taping, plans for a "hit" or mob murder, are discovered.

The program, including an explanatory introduction by the lawmaker runs approximately one-half hour. Civic clubs and community groups can request a showing by contacting Senator Marino's Executive Assistant, Mrs. Thelma Johnson, P.O. Box 11, Oyster Bay, 11771, or by phoning 922-3150.

New Congregants

Congregation Shaarei Zedek is pleased to add the following new members to its growing family of congregants: Jane and Walter Cohan and family; Ruth and Howard Graber and family; Maxine and Harvey Halper and family; Barbara and Stuart Katz; Heba and Leo Kirschner and family; Debra and Gerald Kornblum and family; Irma and Rubin Kreis and family; Edith and Leonard Meisels and family; Cynthia and Donald Mirabel and family; Minnie Payenson, Ellen and Kenneth Post and family; Roberta and Jack Salant and family; Barbara and Irwin Salbe and family; Sheila and Al Salzman and family; Kate and David Simon. For membership information please call Muriel Hoffman at 938-0420.

"Just about the time you manage to make ends meet, somebody moves the ends!"

voice your objections to it—if you are not registered. There are approximately 40,000 eligible voters in Hicksville but only 8,000 are registered. (And less than 4000 voted on each of the last two budget votes). If you check the registrations, you find about half the parents of school children are registered. Where do you fit into this?

WE SUPPORT the budget and we feel it is our duty to influence you to do the same, but we can respect those who vote against it. They, at least, take some stand. But if you're not registered, how can you take any stand?

WILL YOU support the budget? Or will you "cop out" and not even be able to make a choice?

WE URGE you to register (Saturday, Sept. 7, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the Administration Building, Division Avenue) and to vote yes (Thursday, Sept. 12 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the local elementary schools).

Dear Friends:

The Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, under the able leadership of President Ken Barnes, plans a luncheon meeting of its full Board of Directors on Tuesday, Sept. 10 starting at 12:30 at the Milleridge Inn. Congressman Norman Lent will speak on "The State of Our Economy." There will be an executive Board set at the same place for 11:30. This active organization has several sub-committees working on such matters as: traffic lights on Jerusalem Avenue and Broadway, further community planting on Broadway, and a continuation of plans to encourage the redevelopment of downtown Hicksville, which has slowed considerably in the present economic climate. Why not join them and help?

We are very sorry that a slight cold and temperature kept us from joining those on the reviewing stand of the Hicksville Fire Dept. Labor Day activities. We hear they were great. More on this next week.

We feel very strongly on our school budget. But whether or not you agree, please don't forget to register and vote... it's so important.

That's all for this week. When you read this I'll be visiting my only sister in Seattle, Washington. Will be back on Sept. 12. Stay well and enjoy each day of our beautiful Long Island early autumn weather.

RONCALLO REPORTS

by CONGRESSMAN ANGELO D. RONCALLO

One issue which has generated many consumer complaints during the last few months has been the rate hike proposed by LILCO and enacted.

While it is true that the whole area of regulation falls under state control I have studied what I, as your Congressman, might do here in Washington to perhaps alleviate this situation.

Several months ago I introduced legislation which would equalize the impact of the energy crisis on every American whether he lived on the hard-hit East coast, where all of his utility bills have soared or in other parts of the country which have hardly felt the effect of fuel shortages. This bill is currently pending before the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

In addition, I have introduced legislation, referred to the House Banking and Currency Committee, to prohibit so-called "interlocking directorates" — conflicts of interest — from occurring between the banks and certain regulated industries. What this does is prevent the same people from serving on both boards of directors — the lender (the Banks) and the borrower (LILCO).

The interlocking directorship might possibly result in higher interest rates to LILCO which would then be passed on to us — the consumers.

I was flattered Congressman Wright Patman, the Banking Committee Chairman, wished to cosponsor my bill and with his help I feel assured of good progress.

Soon after we began working up this interlocking directorate bill, I called on all of our Third District Assemblymen and State Senators and suggested that we work closely on this one, since it is primarily a state matter, to see what we can do to get LILCO rates down and keep them there.

Saladino: Hedges, Fences Hazardous to Motorists, Cyclists

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Joseph J. Saladino issued a statement this week urging all residents to cut hedges that obscure the view of cyclists and motorists or block street and traffic signs.

"With school starting soon and darkness coming earlier every day," the Councilman remarked, "it is most important that driving hazards be cut to a minimum. Also, the rising number of cyclists on the road make it imperative that they and motorists alike have a clear and unobstructed view of intersections and signs."

Saladino reminded all corner lot owners that hedges and fences may be no more than 30 inches high measured from the crown or the center of the road. If a homeowner is found to be in violation of this regulation, a letter will be sent from the Building Division requesting that the offending hedge or fence be fixed. Failure to do so will result in a court summons and possible fine.

Saladino also reminded residents that the Town's Highway Division has jurisdiction over trees that obstruct signs or intersections. Low hanging branches are trimmed regularly so as to permit maximum visibility. He commented that homeowners may, if they wish, trim their own trees if any branches are hanging over sidewalks or signs, but to call the Highway Division at WA 1-1030 if the job is too large.

"I think that giving out motorists and cyclists unobstructed view of intersections and street and traffic signs will measurably cut down on the number of accidents," Saladino stated, "and if the residents and the Town work together, this can be easily accomplished."

Registration for both the 12 lesson course, and the Young Boatman's course will be held at Seaford High School, on September 9th and 10th at 8:00 p.m.

Heart Association News

The Nassau Heart Association announces a recently published book entitled "How to Survive Your Husband's Heart Attack". Written by Joan Stichman and Jane Schoenberg, two women who have actually gone through this experience, the book is an easy to understand, medically accurate analysis of the subject. It is really a survival kit for the family of a coronary "veteran", and offers much detail about how to deal with many of the specific problems and experiences that occur.

"How to Survive Your Husband's Heart Attack" is published by David McKay Company, Inc. and is available at local bookstores for $7.95 a copy.

Caso Awards 2 Road Resurfacing Contracts

County Executive Ralph G. Caso has awarded two contracts totaling $545,210 for the resurfacing of 17 County roads. Work will be done at night (10PM-6AM) on sections of Glen Cove Road and Old Country Road that have extremely heavy traffic.

J.D. Posillico, Inc., Farmingdale, lowest of five bidders, was awarded a $309,560 contract for resurfacing the following roads: Old Country Road from Franklin Ave., Garden City to Roslyn Road, Mineola (night); Glen Cove Road from Old Country Road to Hillside Ave., Old Westbury (night); from Long Island Expressway to Lakeville Drive, East Hills and from Lakeville Drive to Northern Blvd (night); New Hyde Park Road from Marcus Ave., North New Hyde Park to Hollow Lane, North Hills; Arrandale Avenue from Middle Neck Road to Polo Road and Birchwood to West Shore Road (Bayview Avenue); Villages of Great Neck and Kings Point; West Shore Road (Bayview Ave.) from Arrandale Ave. to Beach Road, Kings Point; West Shore Road, Port Washington from Crescent Road to bottom of hill opposite Colonial Sand and Stone.

Lizza & Sons, Oyster Bay, lowest of six bidders, was awarded a $235,650 contract for resurfacing the following roads: West Nicholas St., Hicksville from Broadway (Route 107) to Jerusalem Ave.; Woodbury Road, Woodbury from Syosset-Woodbury Road to Suffolk County line; Syosset-Cold Spring Road, Syosset from Syosset-Woodbury Road to Cherry Lane; Plainview Road, Old Bethpage from the intersection of Plainview Road and Old Bethpage Road to Evelyn Drive; Wheatley Road from Whitney Lane, Old Westbury to Route 107 (Cedar Swamp Road); Brookville; Oyster Bay Cove Road, Oyster Bay Cove from Northern Boulevard to Cove Road; Cove Road, Cove Neck from East Main Street to Sagamore Hill; West Main Street, Oyster Bay from Underhill to South Street; Bayville Ave., Bayville from Oak Neck Beach Road to School Street; Highland Road, Glen Cove from School Street to Walnut Road and Glen Head Road, Old Brookville from Glen Cove Avenue to Greenvale-Glen Cove Road.

Work will begin in September and both contracts will be completed before the first of the year.

Harry Borley Re-elected

After his landslide victory last Friday night, Harry Borley in a post-election statement to the voters said "Thank you for the confidence that you expressed in me by re-electing me as water commissioner of the Hicksville Water District.

I pledge that I will continue to represent you by maintaining an ample supply of quality water at a reasonable cost."

Boy Scout Membership Drive

Hicksville Boy Scout Troop Number 591 is currently undergoing a membership drive and those boys who want some healthy field trips and some exciting overnights as well as learning not only the fun of scouting but also the responsibilities are invited to join the organization which meets every Thursday night at 7:30 at the Hicksville Jewish Center located on Jerusalem Ave. and Maglie Drive.

Barbara Auerbach is the membership chairman and she can be reached at 796-0076 any evening after 6 p.m.

The boys, many of whom also took part in a well-organized summer program at Oroteo Scout Reservation, had their first three-day overnight this weekend at Tobay Beach but those who didn't make it need not fret. The group goes on at least one overnight outing a month under the able direction of Scoutmaster

Jay Rodgers. There's still plenty of time to join and join in on the fun.

Consumer Inspectors Issue Violations

In a crackdown on short-weighting practices, Nassau County Consumer Affairs inspectors have issued violations to 13 merchants on 36 separate infractions at the Nassau Farmers' Market in Bethpage.

Consumer Affairs Commissioner James E. Picken said, "These retailers must comply with consumer protection laws just like any other business."

"Customers are not getting any bargains if they are being deprived of honest weights."

The infractions included the use of scales that started at one-quarter or one-half ounce instead of at zero, and lack of proper labels on such commodities as meat, poultry, cheese and produce. According to New York State law, packaged commodities must bear declarations of identity, responsibility (name of processor or packager) and quantity.

Inspectors checked out more than 100 booths at the Bethpage market on three successive Fridays, Picken said. Fines against the 13 vendors can range from $25 to $500 per charge. The violations are returnable at Office of Consumer Affairs administrative hearings in mid-September.

To prevent short weighting,

Nassau Weights and Measures Inspectors check 13,800 scales in more than 3,700 establishments during the year. "We're into every delicatessen, bakery, meat market, laundry, lumber yard, pet shop or other store that has a scale. We also check approximately 124,000 commodities for accurate weight and labeling," he said.

But he also urged shoppers to protect themselves. "Walk over to the when your purchases are being weighed. Look for the county seal. Make sure the scale starts on zero." If it doesn't, call Consumer Affairs at 535-3200.

Levittown Water Main Cleaning

Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell reminds Levittown residents that a water main flushing program will begin on Monday, September 16 and will continue for the next several weeks.

"Trained crews will clean the mains only after midnight and only on weekdays in an attempt to minimize inconvenience," explained Purcell. However Hempstead Town Water Department officials expect some discoloration of the water. The discoloration will be temporary and the water will be safe to drink.

Levittown Water District customers may call 538-8300, Ext. 40 for assistance.

Lent Featured in Documentary

Congressman Norman Lent of Long Island's 4th District is one of four members of the House of Representatives from across the Nation to be featured in a new documentary film produced by Hearst Metroland News "Screen News Digest", and being made available to high schools across the country.

The fifteen-minute film, entitled "Servants Of The People", follows each of the four U.S. Representatives through their Washington and home district schedules and duties over the period of several weeks, and its production brought a "Digest" film crew out to Long Island for almost a week to film Lent at such varied locations as a constituent forum at the Levittown post office, a pre-dawn visit to greet commuters at the Oceanside railroad station, a meeting with the high school delegates to his YOUTH INPUT program at Hofstra and an address to the student body at Mepham High School, among others.

Lent, representing a typical suburban district, is joined in the film by Yvonne Braithwaite Burke (Dem-California) who represents the inner-city Watts area of Los Angeles, William Scherle (Rep-Iowa), representing a rural farm constituency, and Joseph McDade (Rep-Pennsylvania), who represents the heavily-industrialized Scranton area.

"Screen News Digest" has made a print of "Servants of the People" available to Congressmen Lent's district office in Baldwin, and civic and community groups, in addition to public and private schools in the 4th Congressional District, are invited by the Congressman to call 223-1616 to arrange for loan of the film.

Art Classes for Seniors Offered in Tobay

The Town of Oyster Bay Senior Citizen Services Division of the Department of Community Services will sponsor art classes for senior citizens this fall it was announced by Town Councilman Warren M. Doolittle.

The classes are open to all Tobay residents 55 years of age and over. Instruction will be provided by well-known Long Island artist, Mildred Pawl. All materials will be provided and there is no registration fee.

Classes will be held at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Old Country Road and Jerusalem Avenue, Hicksville, on Tuesdays beginning September 24, and on Thursdays beginning September 26 at Marjorie R. Post Park, Merrick and Unqua Roads, Massapequa, from 10:30 A.M. to 12:30 P.M. Both classes will run through May culminating in an art show on a date to be announced. There is no pre-registration and seniors may join at any time during the course.

"The senior citizen art classes have been offered for several years now," Doolittle commented, "and many seniors have taken the opportunity to improve their art skills or learn the joy of painting. I hope to see even more seniors taking advantage of this fine course in the upcoming season."

Listen, Veteran

Don't cash in that GI insurance policy just because you need money for an emergency! Consider borrowing on its cash value if yours is a permanent policy. You can borrow up to 94 percent of the cash value at low interest rates and repay it in amounts as little as $5.00 a month. If you cash in your policy all protection ceases and cannot be reinstated. By borrowing on it you can still keep your policy in force.

Plans Final for Nassau Day

Chairman John Specht announced the finalization of plans for NASSAU DAY, Sunday September 15, at the Firemen's Home located in Hudson, New York.

This popular Annual Event is sponsored by the Executive Council of Firemanic Associations of Nassau County, and supported by the County's Fire Chiefs Council, Firemen's Association, North Shore Fire Council, and South Shore Firemen's Association.

Firemen, and their families from Nassau County's 71 Fire Departments will make the Annual Pilgrimage to visit, and talk with the 144 aged Volunteer Firemen in residence.

A short parade complete with bands will start at 1:00 P.M. After a brief ceremony the renowned Massapqua Raiders will entertain the residents with a musical program, and various acrobatic feats.

The high light of the day will be the traditional distribution of shopping bags chock full of toilet items useful articles, and goodies to each of these Old Firemen. Salvation Army Captain Ruth Vaughan, and her hard working Committee promise the best kit ever.

Nassau's Firemen are urged to join in this rewarding tribute to the Fire-Fighters who proceeded us, and also take time out to visit the famous Fire Museum on the Home grounds.

Temple Or-Elohim Celebrates High Holy Days

TEMPLE OR-ELOHIM, a Reform Congregation, 18 Tobie Lane, Jericho, sends an invitation to new members for a creative, stimulating Jewish experience. Rabbi Iwrin C. Lowenheimer and Cantor David Gaber asks new members to come worship on the High Holy Days.

There will be Selichot Services Saturday, September 7 at midnight, Rosh Hashanah Services Monday, September 16 at 8 p.m. and Tuesday, September 17 at 10 a.m. Yom Kippur Services Wednesday, September 25 at 8pm and Thursday, September 26 at 10am.

For information call 433-9888 or 433-9587.

News from the Attorney General

Weapon Against Travel
Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz called attention this week to a new law, "The Truth in Travel Act", (effective September 1), which will help to safeguard the public against fraud, false advertising, misrepresentation and similar abuses in the travel business. "This new law, a much needed weapon in the fight against fraud and misrepresentation by a fringe element in the travel business, will do much to protect the public which is victimized continually by the false claims and high pressure promotions of some travel agents," the Attorney General said.

Department of Law Pamphlet Available
"Serving the People of New York State", a new pamphlet outlining the services of the New York State Department of Law is now available for interested consumers. Lefkowitz announced this week. Some of the topics covered include how the Attorney General's office serves the consumers and investors of New York State, protects the charity dollar and the environment. Anyone wishing copies should direct requests to Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz, Attention, Mrs. Adeline Fontana, Two World Trade Center, New York, New York, 10047.

Charges Oil Companies
Charging two oil companies with engaging in persistent fraudulent and illegal acts and unconscionable practices in terminating the leases of approximately 100 "Rotary" service station dealers in the Syracuse, Rochester and Finger Lakes areas in New York State, the Attorney General announced this week that he has commenced legal proceedings against the companies. The petition filed through the Syracuse office seeks a permanent injunction barring the alleged illegal and unconscionable practices of Ashland Oil Company and Southern Oil Company of New York, a subsidiary of Ashland, including a rescission of lease agreements as well as the costs of the proceedings.

Obtains Order in Bike Co. Investigation
Charging a reluctance to appear and testify and citing past evasive testimony, Attorney General Lefkowitz obtained an order this week directing the appearance and testimony of the principals in several corporations charged with failing to file broker-dealer statements with the New York State Department of Law and with failing to register with the Secretary of State. The Attorney General charged that in connection with the promotion of a "revolutionary plastic bike", the principals may have sold more than $8 million in stock although none of the corporations were registered with the Department of Law as an issuer of securities.

Child Abuse Symposium

Declaring that neither poverty nor underprivileged background have a monopoly on child abuse, Assemblyman Stuart R. Levine will coordinate a public symposium on the subject on Sept. 5 at 9:30 AM in the Board of Supervisors hearing room, County Executive Building, Mineola.

"The purpose of this symposium is to explain the child abuse and neglect laws to the general public and to the professionals most affected by it," said Levine, who is the Nassau representative for the Assembly Select Committee on Child Abuse. "It will also serve as a forum for the exchange of ideas and the discussion of mutual problems regarding child abuse and neglect."

The symposium, one of 13 being held around the state by the committee, coincides with the first anniversary of the Child Protective Services Act. At each symposium, a Family Court judge, representatives from the State Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment Reports and the local child protective service, will discuss the problems of child abuse and neglect. They also will be available for questions.

The symposia are being co-sponsored by the State Department of Social Services and the Family Life Development Center of Cornell University's College of Human Ecology.

Camille Caddie, of Dean Street, HICKSVILLE, a Hicksville High School graduate, will be attending Lafayette College this fall.

Congratulations to June Castellano of Sagamore Street, PLAINVIEW, on being named the University of Rochester's Alumni Regional Scholarship Winner from Nassau County. One of 25 alumni scholarship recipients from throughout the country, her selection was based on academic achievement and personal character.

Miss Castellano is a graduate of Our Lady of Mercy Academy, where she was a member of the National Honor Society. At Our Lady of Mercy, she won a Long Island Catholic High School Journalism Award, was editor-in-chief of the school newspaper, belonged to the Young Republicans Club, was selected delegate to the Nassau County Council of Young Republicans, and did volunteer work at Suffolk State School for the Mentally Retarded.

Patrik Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Long of Cambridge Drive, HICKSVILLE, is one of 272 cadets who have just completed a 14-day orientation and military indoctrination course at the State University of New York Maritime College, located at Fort Schuyler.

Congratulations to Kenneth R. McCarthy of Knickerbocker Road, PLAINVIEW, Edward C. Quimby of Elm Street, HICKSVILLE, and Michael E. Walukani of Plover Lane, HICKSVILLE, on being named recipients of Regents War Service Scholarships for Veterans.

Men In Service

Airman Paul S. Harrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harrigan of Garden Blvd., Hicksville, has been assigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training.

During his six weeks at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Tex., he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Lowry for specialized training in the supply field.

Airman Harrigan is a 1974 graduate of Hicksville High School.

Cablevision Takes Viewers to Gregory's Home

On Tuesday, September 10, and Thursday, September 12, the cameras of Cablevision of Oyster Bay will take its viewers into the home of Gardiner and Anne Gregory, founders of Hicksville's Gregory Museum. The show, Community Spotlight, will be shown between 5:30 and 6:30 P.M. both days on channels 12 and K. The host for this weekly series of shows is John Maniec, H.A.D.'s Executive Director.

The visit will cover the breeding of butterflies and moths native to Long Island. They are now almost extinct except for those bred by the Gregorays.

Cablevision subscribers will also learn about edible wild flowers and plants found along most roadways and fields. The show will conclude inside the Gregory home with a tour of photographic and scientific equipment used by the museum to develop their different natural science exhibits.

Community Spotlight hopes to make the residents of the Hicksville, Jericho, Plainview, and Syosset communities more aware of local places of interest and the variety of services available to them.

LIHS 4th Annual Symposium

The Long Island Horticulture Society will hold its fourth annual symposium on Saturday, October 12th, from 9:30 A.M. to 3:30 P.M. at Planting Fields Arboretum, Planting Fields Road, Oyster Bay.

The theme of this year's symposium is "Make the Most of." Each person may choose four different classes out of a total of nine being offered; there are two morning and two afternoon sessions with a break between for lunch and the annual LIHS meeting.

The courses being offered are: House Plants by Ruth Katzenberger, Vegetables by Henry Euler, Greenhouse Structures by Sidney Burns, Shade Plants by Jo Ann Knapp, Landscaping (Suburban Renewal) by Bob Titus, Rock Gardens by Bill Brown, Cactus & Succulents by Louise Liepold, a film and a greenhouse tour.

There will also be a plant sale during the lunch break. Coffee and cake will be provided; bring your own lunch.

The cost will be $3.00 for members of the LIHS and $4.00 for non members. Reservations must be made by September 24th and only on a special reservation form which may be obtained from Henry Feldman at MA 1-4851 and from Joann Knapp at 671-6590.

Betty Crocker Scholarships Available

College scholarships, from $500 to $5,000, are available to all high school seniors through the Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, formerly the Betty Crocker Search for American Homemakers of Tomorrow.

An invitation to enroll in the program will soon be mailed to all high schools across the nation. Schools new to the event are invited to write the Betty Crocker Search, P.O. Box 1113, Minneapolis, Minn., 55440, for information.

Enrollment deadline is October 31. On Tuesday, Dec. 3, each participating school will administer a 50-minute written examination. Prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Inc., Chicago, this general knowledge and attitude examination is the first important step of the scholarship program.

From the examination results, a Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow will be chosen for each participating school. School winners are acknowledged with special awards and their examinations are entered in state competition.

Each State Family Leader of Tomorrow receives a $1,500 college scholarship while every state second-place winner receives a $500 grant. The state winner also earns for his or her school a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America" from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation.

State winners accompanied by a faculty advisor will be the guests of General Mills next spring on an expense-paid educational tour, which will include Washington, D.C., and Williamsburg, Virginia. A special event of the tour is announcement of the All-American Family Leader of Tomorrow, who's scholarship will be increased to $5,000. Second, third and fourth place winners in the nation will receive scholarship increases to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 respectively.

The Betty Crocker Search is on the advisory list of the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Caso Asks for Support of Revenue Sharing

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso today launched a series of meetings with county officials throughout the state to marshal local support for Congressional reenactment of the federal general revenue sharing program.

Meeting with Onondaga County Executive John H. Mulroy, Caso, who heads the New York State County Executives Association, called revenue sharing "a milestone in federal, state and local government relations in the 20th century."

Caso and Mulroy, who fought for enactment of the program in 1972, discussed the serious possibility of certain members of Congress attempting to radically alter the program, especially by cutting the funding level and imposing new federal restrictions.

"Revenue sharing funds are being used wisely and effectively by state and local governments all over the country," Caso observed.

He noted that the more than $13 million Onondaga County has received to date has been used to support new and on-going programs in the human services area, as well as helping the county to cut the tax rate this year.

"As in other areas throughout the state and nation, revenue sharing has given back to the taxpayers some of the tax dollars they send to Washington, so that their local officials, who know their local priorities best, can do such things as refurbish the Onondaga War Memorial Building, develop and improve the county's parks and recreation system and begin the design of a facility such as the Hillbrook Detention Home for juvenile delinquents," Caso stated.

Mulroy pointed out that many programs and projects in Onondaga County are being financed either totally or in part with revenue sharing funds.

"Any cut in our revenue sharing money would force us either to severely curtail these programs or raise local taxes to continue them," Mulroy asserted.

By passing the general revenue sharing program in 1972, Congress voted its confidence in the ability of local governments to manage their own affairs and set their own priorities. This confidence must be continued," Caso and Mulroy concluded.

The county executives agreed to work through the State County Executives Association and the National Association of Counties to thwart any attempt by Congress to scuttle revenue sharing.

Caso and Mulroy also discussed mass transit legislation now being considered by Congress and agreed that every effort has to be made to convince the lawmakers that areas such as Syracuse, Onondaga and Nassau Counties need assistance to operate their mass transit systems.

Noting that Onondaga County will spend more than $500,000 this year to subsidize the operation of the Central New York Regional Transportation Authority, Caso expressed the hope that the U.S. Senate will move quickly to pass a long-term transit bill that will provide more than the $11 billion appropriation recently approved by the House.

Each limited partner shall have the right to substitute by assignment to any other person, firm or corporation, his whole share upon the consent and only upon the consent of the general partners. Any partner shall, however, have the right to assign his interest in shares to his lineal descendants, spouse, or spouses of lineal descendants and to his executors and administrator without the consent of the general partners providing he shall forthwith give duplicate originals of such assignment or assignments to the general partners immediately upon the execution thereof. Upon the death of a limited partner, the limited partner may bequeath his interest to his executor or trustee to be distributed in accordance with the terms of this will, or, if such limited partner shall die intestate, his interest shall pass to his administrator and to his heirs at law and next of kin pursuant to the Intestacy Law of the State of New York, and such recipients shall continue as limited partners under the terms and conditions of this agreement.

In the event of the death, incompetency or bankruptcy of either of the general partners or upon the bankruptcy or dissolution of M. F. Development Corp., the remaining or surviving general partners shall have the power to appoint a new general partner or partners. The general partner so dying or becoming incompetent or bankrupt and the corporation upon its becoming a bankrupt hereby irrevocably empower the remaining general partners to appoint the new general partners as aforesaid and do hereby assign to him or it the interest of the general partner who is then ceasing to be a general partner.

Notwithstanding the foregoing nor the provisions of Section 109 of the Partnership Law of the State of New York, the surviving general partner or partners shall have the right and power upon the death, incompetency or insolvency of any general partner, to reconstitute the partnership by the formation of a limited partnership either in another name or in the name of this partnership.

Upon liquidation or termination of the partnership, the limited partners herein shall receive property and or cash pro rata as repayment of their contributions insofar as the contribution remains unpaid. The balance of any proceeds of liquidation shall be disbursed pro rata in accordance with the interest of all partners, general and limited.

The certificate referred to above has been sworn to by all of the general and limited partners.

Listen Veteran

A person incurring the burial expenses of a veteran may be reimbursed up to $250 according to Frank V. Votto, Director, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs.

An additional plot or interment allowance, not to exceed $150, is also payable, provided the veteran is not buried in a National Cemetery or other cemetery under the jurisdiction of the United States Government.

If the veterans death is service-connected an amount not exceeding $800 is payable in lieu of the basic burial and plot-interment allowances.

Application for reimbursement should be made within two years of the burial or cremation.

Director Votto explained that reimbursement can be made for burial expenses of war-time veterans and veterans of peace time service who were receiving compensation payments for service-connected injuries at the time of their death, or were discharged or retired for a disability in line of duty. The veteran must have been separated from service under conditions other than dishonorable.

Advice and assistance in filing for veterans burial benefits is available at the local counseling center of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs, One Old Country Road - Room 506 Carle Place, 11514.

Our Lady of Mercy to Sponsor Lecture Series

The Adult School of Religion of Our Lady of Mercy Parish in Hicksville, which encompasses sections of Hicksville, Plainview, Syosset, and Bethpage, is offering a lecture series during the fall on "LEADERSHIP."

The talks, to be given by Sister Eileen McKenna, O.P., of Holy Name of Jesus Parish in Woodbury, will be held on Tuesday evenings, Sept. 10th, 17th, 24th; Oct. 8th, 15th, at 8:30 p.m. in Our Lady of Mercy School. Sister Eileen McKenna has been a member of the Diocesan Religious Council for five years and at present is the Coordinator of Holy Name of Jesus Parish in Woodbury. Registration will take place the first night, September 10th or by mail. A registration fee of $5.00 covers a family registration, regardless of the number of adults registering. Applications for registration may be forwarded to Mrs. George Prochaska, 44 Stauber Dr., Plainview, 11803. Checks should be made payable to OLM Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. The series is offered to all adult parishioners (including children of high school age and over) and their friends and neighbors, according to Mrs. George Prochaska, Coordinator of the Adult School of Religion.

Historical Program Slated

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Joseph J. Saladino announced this week that the Town of Oyster Bay American Revolution Bicentennial Commission will sponsor a Massapequa area "Town Meeting" on September 21 at 1:30 PM at the Massapequa High School, 4925 Merrick Road, Massapequa.

The subject will concern the Jones and Floyd-Jones family history and the Massapequa Story. A Jones family descendant, William Floyd-Jones, will talk on famous and little-known stories about his family, the founders of the Massapequa. He will also discuss life in Massapequa during the American Revolution and into the nineteenth century.

The program will include a talk by Dr. Myron H. Luke, Professor Emeritus of History at C.W. Post College, on the Loyalists in Massapequa; historical movies and craft demonstrations. Robert E. Mulligan of the Office of State History will give a talk entitled "A Private Soldier in the Continental Army" and will be wearing the costume of the period.

Preceding the program, historical walks, conducted by Miss Dorothy H. McGee, Chairman of the Bicentennial Commission, will leave the high school at 11:30 AM for a tour of Massapequa. Participants are asked to bring lunch, coolies and coffee will be provided.

In conjunction with the Massapequa Historical Program, the Delancy Floyd-Jones and Massapequa Public Libraries will have Jones family and Massapequa historical displays. The Massapequa "Town Meeting" is open to the public and history buffs are encouraged to attend. Co-chairman of the event are Ira Cahn and Marc Bonello of Massapequa.

For further information contact Miss McGee at 922-5800.

Levine Bills Become Law

On Sept. 1, four important bills, sponsored by Assemblyman Stuart R. Levine (R-Bethpage) to meet day-to-day needs, became law.

Assemblyman Levine said that many daily living needs will be met by providing increased consumer and environmental protection, fire and public health safety and prohibition of discriminatory abuse against the blind.

Through Levine's legislation, licensed pharmacists are now required to wear ID badges while on duty, the Attorney General is empowered to seek injunctive relief for serious sanitary violations of the Public Health Law, the Nassau County Fire Marshall will be able to cut down the length of time between violation of the Fire Prevention Ordinance and compliance with the law and care service facilities are prohibited from discriminating against the visually handicapped who seek admittance.

These four bills were part of Levine's legislative program which was enacted this year.

The practice by licensed pharmacists of wearing ID badges while on duty will provide basic consumer protection by assuring prescription drug customers that their orders are, in fact, being filled by qualified pharmacists and NOT by other drugstore personnel. Now, when a customer enters the pharmacy, he will be able to immediately identify the pharmacist who will be wearing a black and white chest badge, Levine said.

Under the new Public Health Law, restrictions are established on water supply to temporary residences, including children's camps and other temporary dwellings such as hotels, motels and trailer parks. Significant environmental protection will be provided by alleviating unsanitary conditions which always create ecological hazards.

"The Commissioner of Health can now request the Attorney General to seek injunctive relief in addition to the presently provided $1,000 penalty. This will be extremely effective in forcing violators to quickly correct unhealthy conditions and is also consistent with existing legal provisions which control water and air pollution, Levine continued.

"Another bill will encourage voluntary compliance with Nassau County's Fire Prevention Ordinance. Until now, compliance has been achieved through the cooperation of offenders. Unfortunately, though, some persistent violators have created severe safety problems by being allowed to wait long periods of time before court appearances.

"My new law authorizes the Nassau County Fire Marshall to issue appearance tickets to violators so that rapid action can be taken.

"Another new law will also help to eliminate the tragic and inhuman abuse against the blind who must seek admittance to proprietary nursing homes. Numerous constituents have told me that either they, themselves, or their relatives have been refused admittance to adult or convalescent homes due to visual handicaps. This discrimination is now spelled out by law and is strictly prohibited. The State's blind who are incapable of adequately providing for their own care will now be protected against this thoughtless abuse," Levine concluded.

Nassau Trust

David J. Dowd, President, Nassau Trust, and John W. MacGeorge, Board Chairman, announced net income for the six months ended June 30, 1974 of $190,697. "This year's income," they jointly noted, "was in contrast to a loss of ($64,860) for the same period a year earlier." Similarly, earnings per share for the six month period totaled $.24 compared to a loss of ($.10) a year ago.

Total assets of the Bank increased to $119,059,340 as of June 30, 1974 from $98,564,750. The asset increase resulted from the most part from a 21 percent increase in deposits to a record $103,746,731 as of June 30, 1974. "As a result of increased loans," said Dowd, "and higher loan rates generally, total income increased 65 percent to a record $4,310,142 for the six months ended June 30, 1974."

Hicksville Little League

by Joe Marcus

Although the season had ended several weeks earlier the members of the Hicksville International Little League's Senior Majors Division didn't exactly pack away their gloves and bats and stay idle during the summer months.

An All-Star team represented the league in the annual Smithtown tourney.

Managed by Don Joyce and Jim Turturro and coached by Bob Harris and Frank Ferrara the Hicksville delegation opened with a 2-1 win over Bay Shore in nine innings, then ripped Glen Cove 10-5 before being edged by Middle Country 5-4.

Paul Rupp drove in the winning run against Bay Shore. Scott Ferrara went all nine innings on the mound yielding only four hits while striking out eight.

Against Glen Cove, Hicksville put the game away in the first inning, scoring five times with Bobby O'Conner and Scott Ferrara getting triples and Rocco Baone and Mike Turturro hitting doubles. Hicksville scored five more times in the second inning with Billy DeMarco's double being the big blast. Scott Ferrara was the winning pitcher.

In the losing championship game Paul Rupp smashed a pair of two-run homers but it just wasn't enough to get the victory. Joe Haggerty was on base for both homers, getting there by hitting singles. It was a tough loss for losing pitcher Rocco Barbone.

The team was made up of Paul and John Rupp, Dave Joyce, Billy DeMarco, Scott Ferrara, Rocco Barbone, Joe Talento, Andy LaPodote, Mike Turturro, Bobby O'Conner and Joe Haggerty.

All of Hicksville just be justly proud of our team.
