Hicksville firemen responded to 27 calls for assistance during the past two weeks (8/27 to 9/10). There were 9 malicious false alarms, 9 rescue calls, 9 fire calls.

Lightning Hits House

A severe electrical storm, which dumped over an inch of rain on the local area in a short period, caused a fire at 28 Acre La. Hicksville. The alarm came in on Sept. 4th at 11:12 P.M. Eight pieces of apparatus, 80 men, under Asst. Chief Roy Schaaf responded. A bolt of lightning struck the wood frame dwelling near the chimney. A fire started in the attic in some clothing. First arriving vamps brought the blaze quickly under control, but not before water caused damage to one room on the ground floor. One car in the fire area was damaged while vamps were hooking up lines to the hydrant. The car was parked too close and the hose lines struck the vehicle. We wish to point out that the law states you must keep a space of 8 to 10 ft. clear in front of a hydrant. Parking close to a hydrant could result in a ticket, damage to your vehicle, and it is possible that charges of interfering with fire dept. operations could result if a citizen files a complaint, your cooperation would be appreciated.

Fire Report

Garage Fire

On Sept. 7th at 2:10 p.m. a fire destroyed a garage at 29 Violet Ave. The fire was confined to the garage. No injuries were reported.

In our last article (Aug. 29) the item about the "Characters" injured while using tile cement. This was a news item always back from the West. The title - "Could It Happen to You?" was omitted.

We bring these news items to you to show that these fire do strike swiftly, and while some do sound comical our point is that fire prevention is essential. The Do's and Don't's are important. Take heed.

We also wish to report that it was Asst. Chief James Huttie, not Muttie, who was in charge of the fire operations at the Lee Ave. House Fire 2 weeks ago. Sorry, Chief.

Labor Day Report?

Not much information was made available to the publicity committee as regards the Labor Day Firemen's Parade and Drill. Seems someone on the committee forgot us. We do have a few facts.

The 46th Annual Labor Day parade and Drill got underway at 9:00 A.M. sharp. Firemen and equipment marched under cool, cloudy skies. The grand marshal, Thomas Pasquerelle led the 50 fire departments that participated. We have no information at all on the parade winners. The drill got underway at 12:30 p.m. The only information we have on the drill was that it was won by the Port Washington F.D. Road Runners with 27 total points. The Hempstead F.D. Yellow Hornets took 2nd place, with 15 points and Garden City Park Mustangs took 3rd place, with 13 points. The State champs (Oyster Bay Co.1 Teddy's Boys) didn't do too well with this one.

It was estimated that 6,000 persons witnessed the event. Chief Mario Misturini thanked all our supporters. This year's event saw Hicksville's volunteer fire fighters honor Ex-chief Lawrence Huttie who has served 28 years to date with the Hicksville Fire Department. His dedication is an example and a guide to all who serve in the fire service. We wish Larry many more years of success and good health.

One final note - The winners of the drawing for the Basket of Cheer was won by Rita Renar of Farmingdale, N.Y. The bike was won by Mr. Sandford of Hicksville. See you all at the 47th Annual event next year if there is any space left to hold it on. Little by little the open space of the Mid Island Plaza is disappearing. Only time will tell.

2nd Annual Feis in Hicksville

The Ancient Order of Hibernians of Nassau County will hold its Second Annual Feis on September 15th at Holy Trinity High School, Hicksville. Last year the Feis attracted 10,000 people, including participants from as far away as Canada, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Feis activities include competitions in Irish dance, band performance and athletics. Over 16,000 people are expected to attend this year's festivities.

The Very Rev. Robert I. Gannon, author, speaker, and former President of Fordham University, will give the invocation. Hon. Ralph Caso, County Executive of Nassau, will welcome the Feis guests and declare the day "Feis Day" in Nassau County.

An added feature of this year's activities will be a Mass at Noon, which will allow attendees to discharge their Sunday obligation and not miss any of the Feis which runs from 9:30 a.m. to after 6:00 p.m.

Feis Chairman, John Bownes, of Baldwin, urged all those interested in Irish culture as well as Irish freedom, justice and peace, to attend the Feis as a public demonstration of the need for a solution to the Irish problem now centuries old in the northern part of the country.

"We are honored this year by the presence of one of this nation's finest educators and priests - Robert I. Gannon, S.J. past president of Fordham."

"With our own County Executive, Ralph Caso, welcoming us, we fully expect this Feis - now only 2 years in existence - to be the best of its kind in the nation because it combines an evocation of the past with a promise for the future."

"In the end, the thousands who participate in this Feis are what make it such an outstanding event from the youngest dance soloist to the oldest member of the audience."

CYO Sports News

Along with the scoring and some great defense by the team, the Cannon's won by a score of 5 to 0. The Hicksville Cannon's next game will be played at Northport next Sunday at 2 p.m. The girls in this league are in the under 12 year old bracket.

County President representing the host Division in Hicksville; John Bownes, of Baldwin, Feis Chairman; Mrs. Eileen Waters, President of the Nassau County Ladies Auxiliary; Edward Callaghan of New Hyde Park, Feis Events Coordinator and Michael J. O'Rourke, (seated right), Nassau County Board President.

Bethpage Village's LI Fair-Oct. 11-14

The Long Island Fair, a traditional American institution since Colonial days, will be held at the Old Bethpage village restoration October 11-14.

Sponsored by the Agricultural Society of Queens, Nassau and Suffolk Counties, Inc., the Fair will feature hundreds of entries in such fields as fruits, vegetables, poultry, livestock, needlework, culinary arts, flowers and hobbies and will also include a number of public participation activities including hoop races, kite flying, corn husking, crosscut sawing and spading contests on a daily basis. A special home garden entry section will also be available for private family gardeners.

The Long Island Fair will be set up in tents similar to fairs held on Long Island during the 1840's and 1850's, and it appears likely that the famed magician, John Henry Anderson, the "Great Wizard of the North," will perform during the festivities, according to Fair organizers.

Registration for the upcoming Hicksville American Soccer year 1974-75, will be taken for all participants on Sept. 14 and Sept. 21, from 10:00 A.M. to 5 P.M. at the Hicksville Public Library. Fees are $15.00 for the first child and $5.00 for each additional child, to a family maximum of $25.00. The minimum age for eligible registrants is six years before January 1, 1975 and the maximum is 13 years before that date.

Girls who were six years of age before January 1 are eligible, may register and try out for Hicksville American Soccer Club Teams. No fees will be collected for girls registration until she is accepted on a team. In the event that girls registration indicates exceptional interest by the community, the possibility of girls intramural play will be explored. Again, no fees, until specified further.

Registration for Junior High and Senior High Team players will be held upon completion of their school seasons.

The phenomenal growth and success of the Hicksville American Soccer Club in competition and in providing almost year round athletic opportunity for the community, prompts the request for volunteers to offer their services as coaches and referees. Call Pres. R. Fremgen 433-2703.

Traveling Team News

Successful second seasons are always enjoyable. The Soccer Club looks forward to a continuation of their opening day.

On Sunday, Sept. 8, the Bantams under Tony Camara and Steve Florio trounced Brentwood by a lop-sided 9-0 at our home field, on Cantiague Rock Road. Hicksville's powerful offense saw almost continual scoring by the offensive line with goals by David Smyth (3), Bobby Andres (2), John McCann (2), David Bell (1) and Glenn Zakian (1). Goalie Steve Dolan has started a new season with a shut-out. Full back and Captain John Fitzgerald together with John Mitchell kept the ball on Brentwood's side of the field all afternoon. John McCann and David Bell on the inside kept the pressure moving. Sharp half back play by Tom Delenzik, Gene Tyransky and Martin Shannon helped preserve the shut out.

Later in the same day, the Midgets, under Al Barcavage and John Kerti demolished Patchogue 8-0, on the same field. The scoring ran as follows: D. Barcavage (1), J. Anglin (1), J. Kerti (1), M. Finkleman (1), M. Corway (2) and J. Cusack (2). Outstanding defensive efforts by M. Andres, R. Stenborg, T.

Fletcher, and M. Finkleman under the coordinating direction of T. Solaski, kept all the action on Patchogue's end of the field. Michael Jung at right wing was responsible for a large portion of the team's offensive success.

The successful cooperative effort of each Hicksville team was very obvious.

Congratulations boys! We anticipate a large crowd at Cantiague Rock Road Field next Sunday, Sept. 15th, beginning at 3 P.M., when the Bantams play North Shore, continuing thru the 4 P.M. Midget game against Brentwood.

Don't forget to register.

—County Recreation News—

Nassau residents can choose from a number of free workshops to be conducted this fall by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks.

The craft program for adults will include rug hooking, silk screen printing and macramé. Adults with a specific interest in one of these skills may specialize, others may experiment with different crafts. The craft workshop for adults will be held Thursdays at Bay Park in the morning and at Christopher Morley Park in the afternoon.

A craft program for children 6 to 12 is set for Saturdays at Whitney Pond Park.

An art workshop, which will focus on drawings in charcoal and pastels and acrylic painting will be given Thursday mornings at Christopher Morley Park.

A ceramic workshop will meet Fridays at Cow Meadow Park.

An unusual course in creative stitchery will provide participants with the resources of two specialists to draw upon—the artist for guidance in design of the work and a stitchery expert for help in execution of the design. The course meets Mondays at Whitney Pond Park.

In addition to arts and crafts, the workshop program will include bridge instruction Sundays at Christopher Morley Park and yoga instruction Wednesdays at Whitney Pond Park. These courses will be given in separate sessions for beginners and intermediates.

For adults who like to limber up to music, dance exercises will be conducted Mondays at North Woodmere Park.

Workshops are limited in size and registration is on a first-come, first-served basis at the park where the workshop will be held.

Further information concerning the courses may be obtained by calling 292-4121 weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4:45 p.m.

Youth Symphony
The Nassau County Recreation and Parks' Youth Symphony Orchestra and Concert Band are now auditioning talented youngsters. There is a particular need this year for trumpet, trombone and tuba players.

Classical, semi-classical and jazz comprise most of the repertoire of the travelling musicians, who are between the ages of 14 and 19. The two groups have been in existence for eleven years and have performed at the Jones Beach Shell, the World's Fair and at many concerts at county parks and schools. Director Jack Bery played under Toscanini for 17 years with the N.B.C. Symphony.

Interested persons may arrange an audition by calling the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks at 292-4121.

Senior citizens who would like to use some of their spare time in a creative, social way can register now for any of the free fall classes sponsored by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks.

The structure of the craft program permits participants to select from a variety of crafts and concentrate for as long as they wish on a particular skill. The course gives members an opportunity to hook rugs, build terrariums, create mosaics and more, with professional instruction.

Painting classes, set to start at four parks, are designed for golden agers who wish to learn to paint or further develop existing skills.

Bridge classes for senior citizens offer lessons and the chance to play and socialize with players of similar bridge expertise. Classes for beginners will meet at Eisenhower Park, for intermediates at Cow Meadow Park.

In addition, new members are being accepted for the gardening and antique ceramic doll classes for senior citizens which meet at the Eisenhower Park Special Activities Center. The gardening class is held Mondays at 10 a.m. and the ceramic doll class Thursdays at 9:30 a.m.

Participants must first register by contacting the department's Senior Citizen Unit (292-4247) or by filling out a registration form available at the county parks where courses will be given.

NCMC Gets 5 Grants

The Nassau County Medical Center recently announced the receipt of a series of five grants totalling more than $72,000 for medical research projects.

The five grants are in addition to the $45,835 award to the medical center and Dr. Irwin M. Weinstein earlier this month by the Nassau County Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America. They bring to $118,995 the amount granted to the medical center for research projects in recent weeks.

The latest series of grants, announced by Acting Superintendent Edward J. Rosasco Jr., include $10,000 from the National Foundation—March of Dimes to Dr. James Macri, an anatomist; $10,000 from the National Health Association to Dr. V. V. T. Maddaiah, a biochemist; $15,000 from the National Institute of Arthritis, Metabolism and Digestive Diseases to Dr. Maddaiah and Dr. P. J. Collipp, the chairman of the Department of Pediatrics; $15,000 from Health, Education and Welfare to Dr. Alvin J. Nevins, an endodontist; and $22,990 from the United Cerebral Palsy Research and Educational Foundation to Dr. Leon Mann, the chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

In announcing receipt of the grants, Rosasco said, "We are flattered and honored by this recognition of the research work being done at the Nassau County Medical Center to advance the medical art and its delivery. Not only have we received these grants but they have been given with the highest possible priority. We expect to advance our research even further through these and future grants."

Dr. Macri's grant goes towards his already highly accepted study of ways to determine neutral defects of a fetus. Dr. Macri, who has been on the staff of the Nassau County Medical Center since 1972, will be continuing his work with Dr. Robert Weiss, the director of obstetrics at the medical center.

Dr. Maddaiah, who has been on the staff of the Nassau County Medical Center since 1969 and is also an associate professor of pediatrics at the State University of New York at Stony Brook, received the $10,000 grant from the Heart Association for his studies of vascular mitochondria and arteriosclerosis. His $15,000 grant is for research with Dr. Collipp on the mechanism and action of the growth hormone.

Dr. Mann is involved in the involved study of fetal brain functions, metabolism and cerebrospinal fluid. Through animal experimentation, he is observing permanent, irreversible damage to the fetal brain.

Dr. Nevins, an endodontist in the Nassau County Medical Center's Department of Dentistry, is researching the calcification of teeth in monkeys as part of a study of human teeth and root canal treatment.

Grant To Expand Medical Services

Allocation of $4,080 to expand emergency medical services to Nassau County motorists was announced recently by Governor Wilson's Interdepartmental Traffic Safety Committee.

Committee Chairman Arnold R. Fisher said these federal funds would enable the Nassau County Police Department to purchase heart monitoring and treatment equipment to aid traffic accident victims.

The application by Acting County Executive Thomas G. DeVito reported a growing need for remote cardio-alert equipment and training aids. Special radio receivers, including a device on an Oceanside radio tower, will be purchased and installed between mid-August and next June under the direction of Police Commissioner Louis J. Frank.

Governor Wilson's Interdepartmental Traffic Safety Committee comprises officials of various New York State agencies who administer federal funds provided under the National Highway Safety Act.

Free Health Screening Available for Women

Free health screening for women is now available at the Hempstead Health Center announced Dr. John Dowling, Nassau County Commissioner of Health. This new, by-appointment-only service, includes breast examination, Pap test and blood pressure check.

The service is especially for women over 40. The Health Center also has literature and film showings on breast self-examination and pap smear provided by the Long Island Division of the American Cancer Society.

The health screening program is conducted each Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Health Center, 800 Front St., Hempstead. The number to call for an appointment is 538-2676.

Advisory Committee For Viet Vets

County Executive Ralph G. Caso recently announced formation of a Nassau County Advisory Committee for Vietnam Era Veterans.

The committee, made up primarily of young veterans who serve as advisors on Long Island college campuses, will act as the liaison between the county and its agencies and veterans and will transmit problems confronting veterans to county officials.

"Recently, several of these young men asked for my help and guidance in constructively solving some of the many problems which Vietnam veterans face," Caso explained. "I directed Deputy County Executive Russell Service and the county's Veterans Affairs Agency director, John R. Ray, to meet with these men to determine where we could help."

"We have found them to be realistic, articulate and eager to work within the system of government at all levels to help educate their fellow veterans and to assist them in gaining those services and benefits available to them," the county executive said.

The committee includes six men who serve as counselors on various Long Island campuses, the director of volunteer services at the Northport Veterans Administration Hospital, two Vietnam veterans now on the staff of the county's veterans' agency, plus the commanders of the Nassau American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

In a meeting with Caso today, the advisors outlined to the county executive three areas where they feel existing agencies can be of assistance to the young veteran.

"The major problem we see is employment," said Mike Kowalski of Uniondale, who was named chairman of the committee. "The Vietnam veteran's hardest job is finding full and part-time employment. Through the help of Mr. Caso and his aides we have already set up a working relationship with the Nassau Office of Manpower Development. In turn, OMD officials brought us to the National Alliance of Businessmen."

"We've been advised on preparation of job profiles for the young vet to file and on learning where jobs are and how to apply for them."

Kowalski pointed out there are some 2,200 veterans in three of the colleges in Nassau—C.W. Post, Nassau Community and New York Tech. There is a total of some 5,000 in colleges in Nassau.

"This committee, although geared to Vietnam veterans, will act for all veterans, not just the ones in the schools where committee members are on campus," Caso said. "There are approximately 35,000 men and women in this county who were in the armed forces from 1961 to 1972. They will be included."

The second problem the committee will tackle is the question of educating veterans as to what services are available. The committee already is at work updating the previously published veterans handbook to relate specifically to the Vietnam War era.

The third problem area will be working with the county to secure added benefits for Vietnam veterans, particularly in the area of education.

"I shall look to this committee to identify for me problems which the young veteran faces and to advise me on new programs necessary to assist them," Caso said.

The committee, in addition to Kowalski, includes Bryant T. Beach III of Plainview, Leonard Marchese of Old Westbury, Calvin L. Andrews of Hempstead, Lewis Stout of Northport Hospital, Robert Carroll and Dennis Dunne of county's veterans service agency, Charles B. Graham, Jr., Nassau American Legion commander, and Vincent Esposito, Nassau VFW commander. John Ray, will serve as advisor and member ex-officio.

THRILL OF A LIFETIME: One of the first visitors to the Oval Office to meet President Ford was Chris Wylder, age 13. Chris was invited to visit the President with his father, Congressman John W. Wylder, Fifth Congressional District on Long Island. Wylder is an old friend of the President, and had been selected by Ford to serve as his Assistant in the House of Representatives. Chris described his first meeting with a President as "REALLY GREAT!"

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

There is a forgotten taxpayer in Hicksville — one who is caught in an inflationary squeeze, but is still trying to provide the best standard of living for his family, and the best education for his children.

How has he been forgotten? His position on the school budget is never represented. School budget votes are presented as plebiscites. Yes or No — All or Nothing! Neither extreme represents the moderate, reasonable position of this taxpayer. For all practical purposes he is disenfranchised and unrepresented.

The moderate position in the current struggle to ratify a permanent budget should be obvious to even a casual observer, and is certainly obvious to school board trustees.

This forgotten taxpayer wants the highest caliber instruction, lunch services, and transportation for his children. He is willing to pay for these services. Given the current status of his personal household budget, however, he is not willing to pay for these services. Given the current status of his personal household budget, however, he is not willing to pay for services which do not directly affect the health, safety, welfare, and education of his children.

Can he voice his position when he votes for the budget on September 12th? No, he cannot! Moderate positions are hardly ever represented in plebiscites.

Could the school board have provided such an option? Yes, quite easily!

A third proposition could have been presented. That proposition could have included transportation (21 cents), a school lunch program (4 cents), interscholastic activities (13 cents), continuing education, and senior citizens program (1 cent).

This would have represented a tax increase of 39 cents — 27 per cent of the $1.43 increase included in the two propositions being presented on September 12th. The other $1.04 or 73 per cent increase represents expenditures the lost of which will not affect the high caliber of instruction we now have in our schools; that takes place between teacher and students. We already have a fine staff. This budget in no way affects them. All we need do is transport the children to school and provide lunch for them and the faculty and administration of the Hicksville schools will do the rest.

I included interscholastic activities because I assume that anyone truly interested in education recognizes the value of concerts, plays, sports, etc. in the development of children. I included continuing education and senior citizens program because the cost (1 cent) is so low and the value so high that to exclude it would be foolhardy indeed.

However, one would have a problem trying to convince me that "Replacement cycle for furniture used in Central Administration—" or "Appraisal of district's assets for insurance purposes—" or "Limited travel in connection with travel for district business" is in any way connected with what happens in the classroom or will make it impossible for our children to receive the highest quality education.

When the school board tells the taxpayer that he must take it all or he will get nothing, they cease to represent that taxpayer and he truly becomes forgotten.

Regardless of the results of this new budget vote, the absence of a third proposition disenfranchises many taxpayers in Hicksville, thereby denying them the right to take a position midway between two extremes where they might have expressed their desire to survive the pressure of inflation while maintaining an excellent school system in their town.

Sincerely,
Charles Loicorno

Dog Classes

McLean at 922-5073 or 922-3547 before September 23 in order to register. Fee $30 for 10 classes including collar and lead. Dogs must be 6 months or older.

Supervisor JOHN W. BURKE REPORTS

The somewhat sudden appearance last week of fleets of yellow buses—buzzing like so many bees up and down our streets is another harbinger of the end of summer. It also marked the start of school for more than 90,000 youngsters in the Town of Oyster Bay, some of whom walk to school.

All motorists should be aware of the potential hazard their vehicles present to these youngsters, whether walkers or bus riders. All vehicles approaching a stopped school bus from either direction are required to stop before reaching the bus when its flashing red signals are operating.

Although not required by the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law, motorists on cross streets approaching a school bus taking on or discharging children at an intersection should also halt until signaled to proceed by the bus driver. This is also a good practice to follow even when the buses' red lights are not flashing.

What every driver must keep in mind is that young children quickly forget safety precautions when running for their school bus.

The parents of children who walk to school should constantly emphasize that children should cross main roads only at intersections controlled by a traffic signal or a school crossing guard.

The fundamental rule for the motorist should be to always expect the unexpected, particularly when it comes to children.

TOWN NOTES: I was deeply shocked to learn of the untimely death of Dr. Donald Nathan, Epidemiologist for Nassau County's Department of Health. I recently reported on some of Dr. Nathan's work in these columns concerning the control of ticks that transmit Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever and the program he directed for the elimination of lead poisoning hazards from paint in older homes.

Washington Report

Congressman
NORMAN F. LENT
5th District New York

In his first formal statement to Congress, President Ford requested that the American people support (those) candidates who consistently vote for tough decisions to cut the cost of Government, restrain federal spending and bring inflation under control. As one of our Republican Representatives from Nassau County, I endorse that plea — agreeing with the President's recommendation to Congress to hold the line, and beat a strategic retreat, if need be, from current levels of spending.

With respect to that admonition, I can say that I won't have to learn to say "No." During our three years together in the House of Representatives, then Congressman Ford and I were in consistent agreement in our efforts to keep federal spending within the Budget and reduce the Federal government's seemingly insatiable desire to "get involved" in virtually every matter affecting the lives of America's citizens, commerce and industry. I know, as does the President, that a government big enough to give you everything you want, is a government big enough to take from you everything you have.

Any government whose simplistic solution to national problems rests in "throwing money at them", and running its Treasury's printing presses "full speed ahead", is guilty of promoting inflation. I reject deficit spending, and will support the President's call for an Executive-Legislative partnership effort to balance the federal budget in fiscal year 1976.

I supported President Ford's request for reactivation of the Cost Of Living Council, as a low-cost vehicle to publicize those potential abuses that might serve to discredit other justified increases in prices and/or wages. To provide a rough paraphrase of Harry Truman's oft-quoted motto, I might say now that — in Washington — spending the buck must stop here!

You may be assured that, as your Representative, I will be making every effort during the months ahead to pare the fat from appropriations bills and toe the line on federal spending. I hope each of you will help our new President in the fight to curb inflation by cutting back on your own personal spending, as well.

The federal government, even with realistic and overdue efforts to curb its own desire to spend your money, will need all of our help here at home, if we are to beat back "Public Enemy Number One."

Bicentennial Kits Available in Tobay

The Town of Oyster Bay American Revolution Bicentennial Commission will be distributing a Bicentennial kit to all schools in the Town during the month of September. It was announced this week by Town Councilman Warren M. Doolittle.

The information packet is intended to suggest a number of program areas to explore and to encourage meaningful teacher, student and school participation in the 200th anniversary of American Independence.

The kit includes maps displaying events and other aspects of the American Revolution on Long Island for reproduction in classroom use, a chronology of Oyster Bay during the Revolution, a bibliography of Long Island and related material, a comprehensive listing of ideas and programs for Bicentennial participation and enclosures on local history.

It is hoped that the kit will provide the teacher and student with a means and a start toward tracing the history of the local community, the school district and the role of the different areas of the Town in the American Revolution, as well as other varieties of commemoration activity.

The Bicentennial kit, which concerns the Town of Oyster Bay during the years of the Revolution, has been put together by the Oyster Bay Bicentennial Commission Education Committee headed by Richard Evers.

Social Studies teacher in the Hicksville Junior High School, with assistance from Mrs. John F. Budd, Jr. and Commission Chairman, Miss Dorothy H. McGee.

Commission plans for the spring of 1975, marking the 200th anniversary of the Battles of Lexington and Concord, include a Student Bicentennial Workshop at which all school personnel and students in the Town of Oyster Bay can discuss and map out significant ways to celebrate the Bicentennial era.

For further information on the Bicentennial kits and on the Bicentennial Commission, contact Miss McGee at 922-5800, ext. 285.

Tobay Board Proclaims "Citizenship Day"; "Constitution Week"

The Oyster Bay Town Board this week proclaimed "Citizenship Day" and "Constitution Week" in the Town in conjunction with a nationwide celebration of these events.

Citizenship Day is held each year on September 17 in commemoration of the signing of the Constitution on that date in 1787, and in recognition of all citizens who have come of voting age and all who have been naturalized during the year. Constitution Week, which begins on September 17 each year, is designated as a time of study and observance of the acts which resulted in the formation of the Constitution.

Town Supervisor John W. Burke pointed out that as early as 1915, civic ceremonies with the themes of Citizenship and the Constitution were being held across the country. Then, in 1939, the Immigration and Naturalization Service supported a movement to establish a specific day for national recognition of United States citizenship.

A joint resolution of Congress authorized the President to issue an annual proclamation calling for the observance of "Citizenship Day"; a similar resolution in 1956 authorized the designation of "Constitution Week." The Chief Executive presently issues a single proclamation.

"These annual observances," Burke commented, "serve to focus attention on the priceless freedoms guaranteed by our Constitution and set aside a time to pay special honor to the millions of young men and women who have come of voting age and to newly-naturalized citizens."

"I urge all our residents," Burke continued, "to display the American flag during this time and to participate in ceremonies designed to show the significance of United States citizenship and the reciprocal rights and duties flowing from the Constitution."

Former Planning Chief Appointed Chairman of Town Advisory Board

Town Supervisor John W. Burke today has announced the appointment of Edward J. Gaynor as Chairman of the Oyster Bay Planning Advisory Board and the reappointment of Harvey E. Chappell as a panel member of that body. Both terms expire June 30, 1977.

Mr. Gaynor, a resident of Bethpage, is the former Commissioner of Oyster Bay's Department of Planning and Development. Prior to the internal reorganization of Town government, he was Director of the Building Department. Mr.

Gaynor had served in Town government for almost 18 years before retiring earlier this year.

In 1973, Gaynor was appointed to the Legislative Committee of the New York State Conference of Mayors, an organization with which he has long been associated.

Mr. Chappell, a resident of Syosset, is an original member of the Planning Advisory Board which was established in 1970 to assist the Town Board with the development of Oyster Bay's Master Plan. Members serve without compensation.

"It's a pleasure to welcome Ed Gaynor back to the sphere of government planning," noted Supervisor Burke, "and Mr. Chappell's continued service on the Board will assist in assuring that sense of continuity so necessary for measured, responsible planning."

Gas Station Price Sign Size Subject of Town Hearing

Town Supervisor John W. Burke announced today that, in the interest of consumers and aesthetics, the Town Board has proposed a local law to govern the size of price signs at gas stations. A hearing on the proposal was set for September 24, at 10 AM at Town Hall.

"In preparing the proposal," Burke explained, "our concern was not only making the price of gas readily visible to motorists, but doing it in such a way that the signs do not become a source of further visual pollution."

"Under the proposed local law," Burke said, "gas stations will have to meet certain minimum and maximum size controls and price signs will only be permitted on the pumps."

The signs will be in two parts with large numbers showing the total cost per gallon and a "breakdown box" showing the basic cost per gallon and all federal, state and local taxes included in the total price. The breakdown must be given in the lower right-hand corner in a box no smaller than 6" x 4" and with numbers at least one inch in height.

The overall sign, including both parts, shall not be larger than 18" x 18" and the whole numbers showing the total cost per gallon must be at least 9" x 3/4" with a stroke width of at least one inch. When tenths of a cent make up the total cost, these numbers must be at least three inches high.

"We believe that this proposal will assure visibility of prices to motorists while not permitting our roads to become lined with price billboards," Burke said.

Social Security

QUES: When my property was assessed a few months ago, the market value of my home was listed as $22,000. Will this count against me when I apply for supplemental security income payments?

ANS: Probably not. A home of reasonable value doesn't count as a resource under this supplemental security income. Generally, a home with a market value of $25,000 or less based on the latest real estate tax statement is considered a home of reasonable value. In Alaska and Hawaii, the amount is $35,000 or less.

State governor. Gerald S. Kessler of Huntington, president of the Friends and National Bank of North America vice-president, said that "the Friends of the Nassau County Museum is indeed honored at being recognized by this award for its activities at the Old Bethpage village restoration." He added that "we will continue to provide our support to the museum programs developed by Nassau County."

The 1,000-member Friends organization has worked directly with Nassau County in the development of Old Bethpage village, a recreated pre-Civil War rural Long Island farm village on Round Swamp Road in Old Bethpage. The 10-year-old group has raised more than $1 million in antique furnishings for use in buildings at the site, and contributes time and money for the operation of special events at all Nassau County museum facilities.

Caso Announces Manpower Grant

County Executive Ralph G. Caso today announced a federal manpower grant to Nassau of nearly $6,000,000.

The grant for manpower services will extend education and job training programs and work projects for more than 3,670 people in the county for the 12-month period starting last July 1.

"The grant of $5,963,040 will let us continue a number of on-going programs of employment and allow us to bring new people into training and on-the-job programs," Caso said. "I am delighted our Office of Manpower Development has been able to achieve success in obtaining this grant."

The funds will come to the OMD through the U.S. Department of Labor under the Comprehensive Education and Training Act.

The grant will extend job duration under the Emergency Employment Act, the Public Service Careers Program and Operation Mainstream. It will extend classroom training through the Vocation Education Extension Board, in on-the-job training and work experience programs in both the public sector and in private industry and augment the support services involved.

"We have slots in these various programs for 3,670 people of all ages and skills," Caso said. "As people are trained and are moved out into regular jobs, more people can be brought into the programs. Therefore, we expect to serve hundreds more people than are now involved over the course of the year."

United Way

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso and Irving Flaumenbaum, president of the county's chapter of the Civil Service Employees' Association, have joined to launch the campaign of the United Way of Nassau-Suffolk.

Caso announced he has designated Deputy County Executive James Stuart to head the county government division of the Long Island-wide campaign.

In a letter to the more than 20,000 county employees, Caso noted that the "partnership" philosophy he utilizes in meeting the challenges of government must also be employed in dealing with the complex social problems of our day.

The Caso message is to be included in pay checks going out to county employees on September 5. On the following pay day, September 19, the pay check envelope will include a computer card which will enable employees to indicate whether they wish to make a direct donation to the United Way or to make their contribution through payroll deduction.

"I can think of no better way for members of the CSEA to participate in helping the ill, the poor and the disadvantaged than by contributing generously to the United Way," Flaumenbaum said.

During the past year the United Way has changed its name -- from United Fund -- and its focus to become more responsive to the needs of the Long Island community.

Funds received by the United Way go to 97 member agencies and hospitals to provide a balanced network of human services. Interestingly, the United Way expends only 15 per cent of its gross receipts on fund raising and administrative costs, a figure far below that of many charities.

The United Way is a local, non-profit organization controlled and operated by volunteers from business, industry, labor and individuals from all walks of life. This manpower force is supplemented by a small paid staff.

Naturalist Society

There will be a Naturalist Society meeting September 23rd at 8:00 PM at The Gregory Museum, Heitz Place, Hicksville. Open to all interested parties.

YOUR LIFE INSURANCE
Q. Since insurance is basically just an agreement to pay money in case someone dies, why don't they have just one basic policy instead of all those different ones?
A. Although insurance companies do pay out over $7 billion a year in death benefits, the companies pay out 30 percent more than this in "living benefits" - payments to people who carry insurance rather than to their beneficiaries.

Policies differ in the amount of living benefits they provide just as in the amount of death benefits. Some provisions in a policy can save you money on taxes. One provision may state that, if you become disabled, the insurance stays in force and you don't have to pay any more premiums.

The policy may even provide that if you become disabled, not only don't you have to pay any more premiums, but the company will pay weekly income to you. Insurance policies differ because people have different needs. Ideally, an insurance policy with its many different provisions is like a beef stew made exactly the way you like it.

Channel 21's School TV Service Begins

Long Island students will be hearing the peal of a new type of school bell on September 23 as their eyes and ears are directed to the TV screen when Channel 21 (WLIW-TV) begins its formal Instructional Television School Service. Mondays through Fridays from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., teachers and students will be able to select from a full schedule of instructional programs covering diverse areas of school curricula at different grade levels. Geared for students in grades K through 12, the Channel 21 ITV School Service offers a wide range of subject matter - art, English, career education, science, music, social studies, mathematics, foreign language and health education. In addition, it will offer a new bilingual children's program VILLA ALEGRE, as well as courses in human relations, animal behavior and typewriting.

Funded by a grant from the New York State Department of Education to insure equal educational opportunity to all New York State students, the ITV School Service was initiated in 1973 under a directive from the Department of Education. The Channel 21 ITV Committee, composed of educators and others drawn from both public and private schools in the area, assists in the planning of the ITV School Service, which is headed up by Richard Tropp of Howard Beach, Channel 21's Director of Instructional Television. A schedule of the fall line-up of instructional programs is available by contacting the ITV School Service, Channel 21 (WLIW-TV), Ellington Avenue West, Garden City, N.Y. 11530.

Channel 21, one of 246 public television stations throughout the country, is owned and operated by the L.I. educational Television Council, Inc. Its UHF signal from Garden City is received throughout the New York metropolitan area and is carried, in addition, into 110,000 TV households via twenty-one cable television systems.

21 YEARS: On September 5th, Trinity Lutheran School, West Nicholas Street, Hicksville, began its 21st school year. Mr. Weldon W. Endorf, Principal of Trinity Lutheran School and the Reverend John H. Krah, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, both express great joy at the beginning of a new school year. It has been through their efforts that Trinity Lutheran School has been dedicated to the objective of building Christian citizens. In this educative process Trinity elevates Christ to the central focal position in all areas of education. This year Trinity will be adding two new Teaching Ministers to their staff of 23 and have an enrollment of over 475 students coming from the Mid-Island area. Above is the Staff of Trinity Lutheran School for 1974.

Pre-Retirement Workshop Series

Beginning October 1, sixteen communities throughout Nassau County will bring a series of six Pre-retirement Workshops to their residents who wish to prepare in advance for meaningful retirements.

Presented by the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs, the award-winning series is offered in cooperation with libraries and Adult Education Departments of local school districts.

Keyed to the theme, "Retirement Can Be A Beginning", the Workshops are designed for those in their 40's and 50's who are ten or more years from retirement. The series of six weekly two-hour evening Workshops consist of professionally lead discussions on topics like "The Truth About Retirement Communities", "Physical and Mental Health in Retirement", "Legal and Financial Planning", "Leisure Time Activities", "Life and Love after 60" and "The Facts about Social Security." Volunteer coordinators from each community serve as moderators during the question and answer periods which follow each session.

Attendance at each Workshop is limited to 40, and spouses are encouraged to attend together. There is a minimal registration fee - usually $3 or less. The series will also be offered by Hofstra University, starting October 15, as part of its Continuing Education Program.

This year marks the seventh consecutive year that the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs has brought this service to future retirees of Nassau County. In announcing the series, Commissioner Adelaide Attard said, "Men and women are being forced into earlier and earlier retirement - often at the very peak of their productivity. Through attendance at these Workshops," continued the Commissioner, "our Department hopes to stimulate sound planning for retirement years of challenge and fulfillment."

For registration information and a listing of Workshops, contact the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs, One Old Country Road, Carle Place, 11514 - telephone 535-4523.

Plainview-Old Bethpage High School Sport News

The school year 1974-75 is here, which means another year of Plainview Gull action. Once again I will be here covering the action for the Plainview Herald and also for WPOB-FM 88.5 on your FM dial. WPOB-FM plans on carrying all of the home games of the football team, all of the home games and selected away games of the basketball team, selected games of the hockey team and, of course, daily sports reports.

The Plainview Gull Football team should do much better this year. Asst. Coach Sam Goldmeier told me that the Gulls have been placed in a different division, one in which we belong and that is easier. The Gulls have a number of seniors, giving the team experience. Several Juniors are a further plus. One problem may be that only 48 players are out for the team. This means that they will give practices and scrimmages their "all" since they are not worried about being cut or competing for positions. However, this is not the case. The Gulls are "hungry" for victory and their new electric scoreboard should give them an added incentive.

The Basketball team will play this season without Steve Tipa, Steve Samuels, Ken Meiselas, John Battaglia, Frank Gallina and Marty Paulker. This year's team will consist of two seniors and the rest juniors. Coach Jim Amen said that he rather doubts that any sophomore would make the team. Coach Amen also said that he feels that the Gulls will do better this year. He added, "watch out for Catania." The basketball Gulls are still awaiting a center. It looks like they have a long wait, but who says you need a center to win? This will be the second season for our Hockey team. Last year they did not fare well, but it was their first season. So all hockey fans can expect to see a much improved team.

Soccer, Track, Baseball, Lacrosse, Swimming, Tennis, and Cross Country will take another turn this year along with Football, Basketball and Hockey, and I would like to wish all of the coaches and players of their respective teams the best of luck.

The support of the fans is vital to a winning team. Try to attend some of the home games of each team. If you can't get to the game, you can listen to all of the action live or on delayed tape on WPOB-FM.

Our first football game is against Plainview-Kennedy on Saturday, September 28th.

Boy Scout Membership Drive

Hicksville Boy Scout Troop No. 591 has announced an extension of its membership drive and if the upcoming planned trips are any indication boys who decide to join will be well rewarded with some healthful recreation and the knowledge that they have also helped in community development.

Scoutmaster Jay Rogers announced that this Saturday morning the boys would take part in archery practice under the watchful eye of Bill Sharkey.

The registered members of the troop will also participate in a three-day overnight trip Oct. 11-13 as Wauwepex hosts its Jewish Conclave. Nov. 8-10 will see the troop take part in another overnight, this one being at Fahnstock State Park in the Palisades. From Dec. 14-15 the overnight will be at Kauffman State Park where the boys will be right out with mother nature.

Other upcoming trips will see the boys go to Sacuet, Alpine, Wildwood, and then return to both Fahnstock and Wauwepex.

Meetings are held every Thursday night at the Hicksville Jewish Center located on Maglie Drive and Jerusalem Ave. and information can be obtained by contacting Membership Chairman Barabra Auerbach at 796-0076.

Remember scouting plays second fiddle to no one when helping build both a boy's body and character.
