Hicksville Superintendant Honored

Dr. Jerome J. Niosi, Hicksville Superintendent of Schools, will be introduced to the 94th Convocation of the Regents of the University of the State of New York to be held on Friday, September 20. The Regents, established by the Legislature in 1784, is the oldest continuous State Education agency in America. It is the highest policy-making body for education in the state. The invitation to Dr. Niosi was extended by Dr. William L. Bitner, Associate Commissioner for Instructional Services of the State University.

Dr. Niosi, who became Superintendent of Schools in Hicksville in October 1971, will be accompanied to the Convocation by his wife, Mrs. Celia Niosi, a teacher and librarian, and his daughter, Valerie, recently awarded the degree of Juris Doctor.

Third Attempt Successful

by SHIRLEY SMITH

Hicksville voters approved a $25,209,238 budget after defeating two previous proposals. They also okayed a $231,440 transportation proposition which restores 1/2 mile to the bus limits at the Junior and Senior High Schools, making the total transportation package the same as last year. Over 5700 people voted in last Thursday's election, while each of the other votes brought out less than 4000. The Hicksville School District has been on austerity since July 1, with many services eliminated or curtailed. With an approved budget, these services will be restored to the students and taxpayers, but the district's administration cautions that some of these, mainly transportation and cafeteria, may take a couple of weeks to implement fully.

The school board set the 1974-75 tax rate at $14.585 (including $.45 for the library). This is a $1.46 increase over last year's rate of $13.124.

At a regular school board meeting, prior to accepting the results of voting, board president, Robert Pirrung announced that lay help assignments would be re-examined and something would be done to relieve some of the problems which have occurred since the board reduced the monitor staff by half. He also directed the business manager to process checks for those working on the polls separately so they can be paid by the end of the month. Checks were not received for six weeks after the last vote.

Mr. Pirrung presented a plaque to former school board trustee, Edward Bello, in appreciation of his three years' service to the community. He thanked Mr. Bello for a job well done.

The board of education appointed Mr. Ignatius Rienzo (a

Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12, requires the cooperation of many agencies so that the fire service may effectively bring its fire prevention message to the residents of Nassau County.

A message from Nassau County Fire Marshal Lloyd G. Ryan: "Behind almost every family tragedy in a dwelling fire is the fact they were totally unprepared for the emergency."

"The first rule of safety from fire is escape: get everybody out at the very first sign of fire. Unless you have done some thinking and planning, you may not be able to escape. Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house. Careful planning and regular rehearsing of drills may save lives."

"One child out of every three who die in fires is alone and helpless when fire strikes. This is the shocking and tragic conclusion of a study by the National Fire Protection Association."

"Never leave small children alone. If it's necessary to leave the house for even a few minutes, take the children with you, unless you can find a competent person to watch over them. Also, be sure babysitters have specific instructions in case of fire."

"A home can only be as fire-safe as the residents make it. Check fire hazards from attic to cellar. Plan two escape routes from each room. Have frequent fire drills. Do not leave children home alone. Plan today to make your home fire-safe."

Benefit Dance Marathon

Plans are underway for a 24-hour "Rock Around the Clock" dance marathon to be held under the sponsorship of the Business Club of the State University of New York at Farmingdale. The festivities will begin at 8 P.M. on Saturday, October 5 and will continue until 8 o'clock the following evening, the program will take place in Roosevelt Hall on the Farmingdale Campus.

The proceeds will be contributed to Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., to benefit its Long Island patient and community service programs as well as to further world-wide research efforts to find a cure for muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular diseases.

In addition to the 24 hours of dancing, the program will include a variety of events designed to appeal to a wide scope of interests. Local guitar and ballad singers will entertain in a Coffeehouse setting. Old "Flicks" will be screened in the Mini-Cinema and carnival activities will surround all the events. Refreshments will be served throughout the program.

Those participating in the "Rock - Around - The - Clock" marathon will dance for four-hour periods with 30 minute breaks. Each dance couple will enlist sponsors who will donate a minimum of 50 cents per hour danced. The entry fee for each couple will be $7.50.

Entry forms, which must be filled out and submitted either beforehand or at the door, are available either at the SUNY campus or other Long Island Colleges and high schools. They may also be obtained at the Nassau MDAA field office, 371 Merrick Road, Rockville Centre. The telephone number is 536-0220.

Coordinating arrangements for the event are Elaine Magistro, Hicksville, Christine Vitiello, Wantagh, Mary Langon, Farmingdale, Barbara Leogrande, Hicksville, and Wilson Meier, Levittown.

"Friendly Fall Luncheon"

A "Friendly Fall Luncheon" designed to bring handicapped and non-handicapped adults together for an afternoon of good food, socializing and entertainment will be held Saturday, October 19, at the Holiday Inn in Hempstead.

Handicapped individuals, their families and their friends who attend the gala affair can look forward to a social hour starting at 12:30 p.m. followed by a gourmet luncheon and, for their listening pleasure, the exciting sounds of the All American Jazz Band.

The luncheon is open to all persons 14 years of age and over at a cost of $4.25 per person. Reservations should be made by Monday, October 7, through Ms. Ann Malin, Department of Social Services, County Seat Drive, Mineola, New York 11501. Checks should be made payable to "Friendly Fall Luncheon."

The event is the product of a joint effort on the part of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, the Social Services Department, the United Cerebral Palsy Association, the Muscular Dystrophy Association and the Westbury Recreation Department.

stead, Vice-President of Union Label Services Trades of New York State, Albert Lambert of Huntington, Business Representative of Carpenters Union Local 1397 of Roslyn, and William Pedersen of Island Park.

Assistant Director of Labor for Nassau County, Union Label Month runs from September 2, Labor Day, through September 29, and commemorates the contributions of trade unionists.

Mitchel Field Development Plans To Proceed

A federal court decision which allows Nassau County to proceed with its plans for development of Mitchel Field has been upheld, County Executive Ralph G. Caso announced.

The Suburban Action Institute and a number of plaintiffs had filed a petition for a re-hearing of its suit to force the county to include high-density public housing in the Mitchel Field

Area. The application for a new hearing before the full bench of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals was denied this week.

"This is a reaffirmation that we may proceed with development of the Mitchel Field site, which has been held back so long by legal harassment," Caso said.

The institute, which supports low-income housing, brought suit last year in an attempt to force the county to include housing units in the site development. A decision by U. S. District Judge Mark Constantino in January was in favor of the county.

In February, a court order prevented continuation of work pending outcome of an appeal. In July, a three-judge panel of the Circuit Court of Appeals again upheld the county and the restraining order was lifted.

Volunteers Needed

The Nassau County Medical Center is looking for volunteers.

Mrs. Beverlee Szimanski, the president of the auxiliary at the medical center, said that, "We have about 500 volunteers working here at the present time and they put in thousands and thousands of hours (7,000 in July alone), but we can use even more help now."

Mrs. Szimanski, whose office is on the first floor of the new Dynamic Care Building, said that any new volunteers "signed up" by her and her staff might be used on clerical positions, in the gift shop, the coffee shop, in various administrative offices, or, of course, on the patient floors to work with nurses.

"There are any number of ways that volunteers of all ages (15 or older) can be used in the medical center to help our patients - directly or indirectly. Pediatrics and rehabilitation medicine, for example, are a couple of the areas that can use help," Mrs. Szimanski said.

The auxiliary president said that she was not looking for any specific number of volunteers, or for persons to work particular hours. "We can use volunteers for day and night and for week-days and weekends. We are servicing more departments than ever before and the move to the Dynamic Care Building has made the need greater than ever because of the size of the facility," Mrs. Szimanski said.

Mrs. Szimanski said that those volunteers selected to work on patient floors would be given special instruction before starting to work. "But wherever volunteers work they will be doing a satisfying, rewarding job and a great public service," she said.

Those interested in doing volunteer work or in obtaining additional information about the Nassau County Medical Center Auxiliary are asked to call the volunteer office at 542-2588 or 542-2188 between the hours of 9 AM and 4 PM weekdays.

WOW

Dear Friends:

RETURNED FROM MY SECOND TRIP TO SEATTLE this summer, to find encouraging signs of progress in Hicksville....first of all, the school budget finally passed....and the no parking signs are now to be seen in front of LILCO and on other areas of Old Country Road where they have been heeded so badly. It's all good to see....

AS TO THE BUDGET, we're glad it passed, but we must say that we are not in favor of continual voting on these budgets in all of our school districts. We feel that, if enough attention is given to their district's budget preparation by interested voters, and attendance of budget hearings is adequate to answer questions, one vote should be enough, especially if the Board of Education stated definitely in advance, "We will only present this budget once"....and really meant it. The results would save our school districts money and our voters the unnecessary effort of continued voting. We have plenty of time until the next budget is prepared and presented. How about it?

To all our friends who have been kind enough to inquire, my older sister who has lived in Seattle most of her life, is much improved from the stroke she suffered in late June, and is in good spirits as she progresses each day. We thank God and we thank you all for your prayers and good wishes.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Best wishes for a happy and Prosperous New Year to all our friends of the Jewish Faith.

Sincerely,
SHEILA

Roncallo Schedules 6 Congressional Debates

Despite a grueling schedule caused by the fact Congress will remain in session through late October, incumbent Congressman Angelo D. Roncallo has scheduled a series of six debates with his opponent.

"As a freshman Congressman I have endeavored to open the doors of my office to my constituents. I intend to conduct my campaign for re-election in the same manner. I am running on my record and I want the people to know what that record is," Roncallo said in announcing the dates of the debates.

Roncallo's initial confrontation with his opponent will take place at 8:30 P.M., Thursday, October 3, before the Press Club of Long Island at Colonial Hill, Hauppauge. Roncallo will fly back from Washington, D.C. to be present.

The second meeting will be at a forum for candidates on Sunday, October 6th at 9 A.M. at Temple Beth Elohim, 925 Round Swamp Road, Old Bethpage.

The debates move into high gear during the week of October 20th when Roncallo will fly home to participate in "Voter Information Debates" on four consecutive nights beginning Monday, October 21st at 8:15 P.M. at Harborfields High School, Taylor Avenue, Greenlawn and concluding Thursday, October 24th at an undetermined site in Glen Cove.

On Tuesday (10/22) at 8:15 P.M. there will be a public debate at Congregation Beth-El, 99 Jerusalem Avenue, Massapequa and on Wednesday evening at 8:15 P.M., an open forum at the Plainview Jewish Center, 95 Floral Drive, Plainview.

The four debates scheduled for the week of October 20th will be under the auspices of the League of Women Voters.

"With Congress in session it is impossible for me to attend as many functions as my opponent," Roncallo stated. "But I have tried to develop a schedule devoted to covering all areas of the 3rd Congressional District and to afford both the people and the press an opportunity to judge the candidates and the issues before them."

Supervisor JOHN W. BURKE

REPORTS

One of the questions my office is often asked is why does it take so long to get a stop sign or other traffic control devices installed after a request has been made. Since this is a matter that directly affects the safety and welfare of the residents, a careful procedure is followed in responding to all such requests.

The first step is to request a traffic survey of the area in question to determine existing traffic conditions and the need for additional traffic controls. These surveys are conducted by the Accident Prevention Bureau of the Nassau County Police Department. The survey includes measurement of the traffic volume and flow at various times and days of the week. Traffic conditions on intersecting and adjacent streets and other factors such as sight distance and parking that may be potential traffic hazards are determined. Pedestrian traffic is also taken into consideration, as well as the presence of existing traffic control devices in the surrounding area.

Upon completion of the survey, the Accident Prevention Bureau recommends the corrective measures to be taken, such as the installation of a stop sign, and forwards this report to the Town for further action.

All traffic rules and regulations are governed by the Town's Code of Ordinances. Any changes, therefore, such as a new stop sign or change in parking regulations, requires an amendment of the Code of Ordinances. A legal notice of the proposed changes is published and a public hearing before the Town Board is scheduled so that persons affected or interested in any of the proposed changes will have a chance to make their thoughts known before the change is enacted into law.

After the Town Board determines the changes to be warranted, the Code of Ordinances is so amended and the Sign Bureau of the Town's Highway Division is directed to make the installation.

It is felt that by following this detailed procedure, any changes made in our vehicle and traffic regulations will be in the best interests of both the local residents and the motorists using our roads.

Roncallo Reports

By Congressman ANGELO D. RONCALLO

Let me report to you the status of some of our on-going projects — ones we have already discussed here in detail.

A few weeks ago in this space I discussed with you a suggestion I had made to President Ford that he convene a top level conference to discuss food prices.

I told him that food prices on Long Island alone had risen over 3 percent and that we better get busy and try to stabilize them. I told him I thought this should be the priority item of his inflation fight.

He agreed and notified me that he had convened a meeting to be chaired by the Secretary of Agriculture and due to kick off this past week. All of the people involved in food production will be represented as well as consumer groups, labor people and others.

I look for good results out of this meeting and the entire Economic Summit which President Ford has planned.

As a follow-up to my visit with the IAM union officials on the Kollsman closing last week, I went to Kollsman and met with some of the men. I saw firsthand what kind of work they do and let them know that I was interested in their future and working to generate interest by other companies in hiring them when they become available. I'll continue to do what I can to help.

One of the continuing tragedies of our day is the plight of Soviet Jewry — men and women who want to leave Russia and are prevented from doing so and punished for wanting to severely. Along with the Long Island

Committee for Soviet Jewry I am participating in a letter writing campaign to focus attention on individual imprisoned Soviet Jews. I have been given the name of Anatoly Altman, and I will be writing him periodically to let him know that many of us here in Congress are doing what we can to try to get him help. I have also written to the Soviet Ambassador to inquire as to the charges and status of prisoner Altman. I have told the Ambassador in no uncertain terms that I will continue to use whatever influence I hold here in Congress to prohibit the granting of most favored nation status and other credits to the Soviet Union "until minimal standards of human decency and freedom are met."

In this time of joy for the Jewish New Year I think it's appropriate that we remember and help.

So while the weather still permits, you need some good workers, and are interested in helping your neighborhood youth, please call, Bill Coates, Operation Outreach, 36 East Barclay St., Hicksville.

Two Hicksville Petitions Draw Community Opposition

By Janet Gosnell

Residents of two areas of Hicksville, one in the vicinity of Bloomingdale Road and the other south of the Mid-Island Shopping Plaza, were at Town Hall on Tuesday to voice opposition to proposed changes in their communities.

This was the second time in about a year that Bloomingdale Road residents came to Town Hall in the morning and evening to oppose rescission of restrictive covenants on the same parcel on Willis Court, a cul de sac which cuts off Bloomingdale Road into the triangular industrial area bordered by Hicksville Road and Bloomingdale Road.

The petitioner, 111 Bloomingdale Realty Co., was asking for the rescission of the covenant which prevents expansion of the 7500 square foot building now on the parcel, occupied by a company called Metatronics.

According to attorney William Miles, of Bethpage, the restriction prevents any industrial company from carrying on a going business on the parcel. The Town ordinance for an Industrial H zone would permit a building twice that size, he said.

The restrictions, which have been lifted from other parcels in the triangle, were imposed upon it by a former owner in 1952. It was the Town Board's feeling that the restrictions were maintained on the subject parcel because its only access is onto Bloomingdale Road, residential on one side and leading to residential streets.

A year ago, Champion Construction Corp. was the conditional contract vendee of the parcel when it asked the Town Board for rescission of all restrictive covenants and other conditions. The Town Board denied the petition after residents told hair-raising stories of trucks driving through their front windows and lunch-time litter strewn about by factory workers.

Littering
Speaking against the petition in the morning session were Susan Doyle, of 12 Elliot Drive; Rose Kutler and Kathleen Murray, who objected to the prospect of more factory workers to strew more litter and asked that no change be made in the industrial area since the streets servicing it remain the same.

In the evening, resident Mr.

Forzio, who was a leader in the opposition against Champion, said, "The area east of Bloomingdale Road is an eyesore," and presented a 409-name petition in opposition to the rescission of covenants on the parcel.

Also speaking were Richard Galanek, of 1 Alancrest Drive and Raoul Courtz, of Elliot Drive.

Tennis Building Opposed

Three residents of James Street, south of the Mid-Island Shopping Plaza, and one from Massapequa stepped up to speak against the petition of the Mid-Island Shopping Plaza to construct a brick and steel tennis building on the south side of its parking lot, backing up one James Street and fronting, with all access and parking on the parking field.

The petitioner stated that the buildings are 16 feet high at the sides with a 35-foot peak and that 7 courts, are planned. Speaking for the petitioner was Bernard Bruns, manager of the shopping plaza.

Opposition

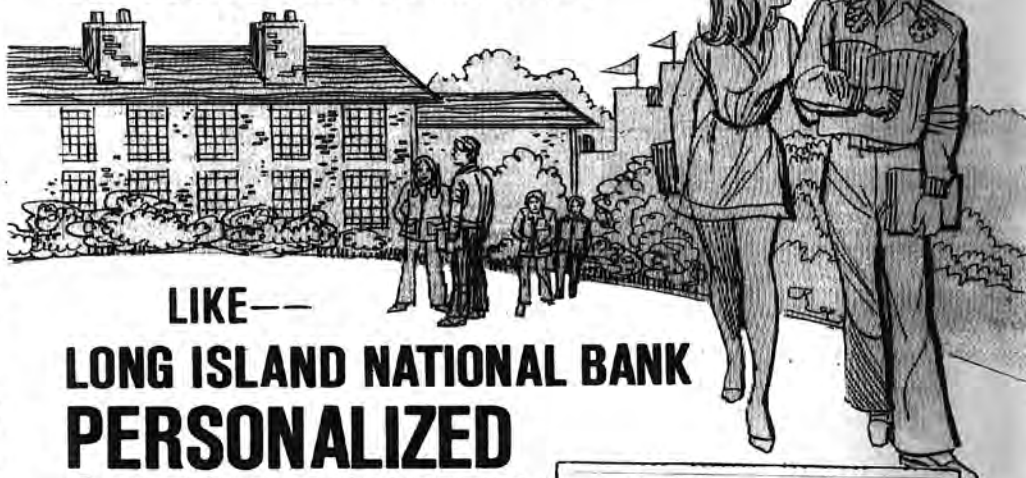

Elizabeth James, of 86 James Street, said she didn't like the idea of such a big building so close, and also the prospect of its 2 A.M. closing time.

At the close of both hearings, the Town Board reserved decision.

BLOOMINGDALE ROAD area residents were out in force at Town Hall on Tuesday to protest the proposed rescission of restrictive covenants which would allow expansion of a factory building on Willis Court. From left, front row, are Elizabeth Galanek, of Alancrest Drive; Susan Doyle, Lucy Anello, Rose Kutler and Kathleen Murray, all of Elliot Drive; Catherine Hind, of Albert Rd., and Minna Ost and Diane Flick, of Elliot Drive.

DEVOTIONS

By Rev. J.H. Krahn

"Tongue Power"

The most powerful part of a man's anatomy is that little movable muscular structure attached to the floor of his mouth. All of us at one time or another have been victimized by tongue power. In Shakespeare's play (Othello, Iago stands in awe of the tongue's power when he says, "who steals my purse steals trash ... but he who filches from me my good name ... makes me poor indeed."

God commands that we say nothing about a neighbor which would even tarnish his name. He wishes that we defend our neighbor, speak well of him and put the best construction on everything he does. Unfortunately we destroy him in three subtle ways.

First by gossiping. How often have we savored a choice piece of gossip and then shared it with someone else. "Have you heard about Jill, I saw her having lunch with her boss." Finger-pointing and fault-finding are favorite pastimes of the gossip. The dubious art of gossip murders good character.

Our second subtlety is the sin of insidious inferences. While not directly accusing, inference suggests that that which appears to be pristine on the surface may not be after all. A statement like, "Can't imagine why Beth is so popular with the guys ... it's certainly not her personality." is an example of this kind of destructive language.

Finally we can do violence to the neighbor by the unsaid word. A Christian cannot isolate himself from a situation in which a brother's name is being maligned no more than he can be an uninvolved spectator of a rape. He must act in both cases. One can rape a name just as well as a body.

Tongue power — an awesome power! All would do well to pray the prayer of the psalmist, "Set a guard over my mouth, O Lord, keep watch over the door of my lips!"

Traveling Team News

The Bantams and Midgets had another clean sweep this weekend. The Bantams rolled season.

The Midgets, directed by Al Barcavage and John Kerti, continued their winning ways with a 3-1 victory, with two goals by John Kerti Jr. and one by Michael Jung. At half time, there was a 0-0 stand-off which lasted until Michael Jung put the ball into the net on a spectacular break-away demonstrating almost every soccer skill in the book. The drive drew applause from both sides of the field.

A unified team effort put the ball into position for John Kerti Jr. to put it past the goalie twice, with an obviously exquisite sense of timing. On defense, half backs Tommy Solaski and Bobby Stenborg continually put the ball into offensive position, while denying the opposition access to our end of the field. Timmy Bell at goal handled everything that came his way, with professional expertise.

The older traveling teams open their competitive season this Saturday, September 21.

over North Shore 10-0, while our Midgets defeated their North Shore opponents 3-1.

So far this season, the Soccer Club, fielding only these two teams has posted 30 goals with one goal against.

The Bantam team, under Tony Camara and Steve Florio, scored repeatedly on goals by Bobby Andres (5), David Bell (1), Billy Gresham (1), John McCann (1), Gene Tyransky (1), Kevin Cahalan (1). The invaluable assists on these goals, while basically from the whole team, came from the feet of John McCann, David Bell, Kevin Cahalan, Glenn Zakian, David Smyth, Bobby Andres and John Mitchell.

The high spot of the game came as John Mitchell boomed the ball across the goal on a corner kick and Bobby Andres, with perfect timing, headed it into the net.

The aggressive forward line, together with an impenetrable defense, seemed determined to produce an exciting winning

Hicksville Cannon's O Northport

On Sunday, September 15, the Hicksville Cannon's traveled to Northport to play a strong Northport team. Despite the good defense of Joanie Mullings, Lynad Cirincion and Robin Callahan the Northport team came up with one point which was enough to beat the Cannon's. The Hicksville Cannon's next game will be played next Sunday, Deer Park.

The Cannon's are connected with the Long Island Jr. Soccer League.

Hicksville Hugh's I Northport I In the second game on Sunday the Hicksville Hugh's and the Northport team played to a 1 to 1 tie. The Hugh's team scored first with only 5 minutes of the game gone by. Scoring for the Hugh's team was Pal Decker. K. McGovern played a great game as goalie. She was aided by the great play of fullback Geanie Clark and the great passing of 2 forwards Diane Conway and Karen Jung helped to hold the Northport team to 1 pt. and bring the game to a tie.

The Hugh team as the Cannon's are also connected with the Long Island Jr. Soccer League. The Hicksville Hugh's will be playing their next game next Sunday at Deer Park also.

Model Radio - Controlled Airplanes Flying Circus

A Flying Circus of model radio controlled airplanes will perform Sunday, September 22, at Mitchel Field. The event will be highlighted by the presentation of an early model plane to County Executive Ralph G. Case by the Long Island Drone Society (LIDS).

The gift, a modified Piper Cub with a wing span of 11 feet, will be presented at 11 a.m. and will eventually be a part of a permanent display in the proposed Nassau County Air Museum at Mitchel Park.

The model was built by Joseph Rispane, who was electronics test superintendent for Sperry Gyroscope Company in the pioneer days of the Long Island aviation industry. Rispane is also giving the Air Museum an original prototype of a transmitter and control box, the forerunner of today's sophisticated remote control instruments.

Members of LIDS will demonstrate flying saucers and put their mini-aircraft through stunts and dogfights at great risk to treasured Spitfires and Messerschmitts. The model planes are approximately one-sixth size and reach speeds of one hundred fifty miles per hour.

The public is invited to view the dedication and the flying circus, cosponsored by the Nassau Recreation and Parks Department and LIDS, free of charge.

The event will be held in the northwest corner of Mitchel Field east of Oak Street in Uniondale.

Social Security

QUEST: How much work do you have to have to get social security disability benefits? A friend of mine told me you need 5 years, and someone I work with in a sawmill said you need only 1 1/2 years. Which one is right?

ANS: The amount of work you need to get disability benefits depends on your age when you become disabled. Generally a worker 31 or over who becomes disabled in 1974 needs at least 5 1/2 years in employment covered by social security, and 5 years of the work must have been in the 10-year period before the disability began. Younger workers, however, may be eligible with fewer work credits. If you become disabled between 24 and 31, you need credit for only half the period between the time you reach 21 and the time you became disabled. If you are disabled before 24, you need credit for only 1 1/2 years of work in the 3 years before you became disabled.

QUEST: Since my husband is younger than I am, I decided to take social security benefits on my own work record when I was 62. Last month, my husband reached 65 and I started getting wife's payments on his record. I thought a wife got half of her husband's benefit, but my check is less than half. How come?

ANS: Generally, a wife gets half of the amount her husband gets at 65. Your check is reduced because you started getting benefits before 65. The reduced amount takes account of the longer period over which you'll get social security payments.

QUEST: I'm getting monthly social security checks on my husband's work record, and I'll be 65 in 5 months. When should I apply for Medicare?

ANS: If you want to enroll in both parts-hospital and medical insurance-you don't have to do anything. You'll automatically be covered under both parts of Medicare the month you become 65. You'll get information about both parts of Medicare from social security a few months before the month your coverage starts. If you decide you don't want the medical insurance, you must complete the form you get from social security and return it.

Congressmen to Brief Committee for Soviet Jewry Leadership

Congressmen John Wydler, Norman Lent, Lester Wolff, Angelo Roncallo, and the leadership of the Long Island Committee for Soviet Jewry will meet on Sunday September 22nd, at 11:00 a.m., at the Baldwin Jewish Center, Seaman Avenue, Baldwin. The Long Island Congressmen have been in the forefront of the struggle to obtain free emigration for Soviet Jews.

Each of the Congressmen has adopted a "Jewish Prisoner of Conscience," a political prisoner who is now incarcerated in a Soviet Labor Camp. Through this program of adoption the Congressmen are writing to the Prisoners and to their families, trying to ease their situations. The purpose of this special Sunday briefing by the Congressmen, with the terms of the Jackson Amendment about to be made public, is to make the Long Island community aware of the ramifications the Amendment presents.

Mrs. Inez Weissman, President of the Long Island Committee for Soviet Jewry, will introduce Mischa Shauli, who emigrated to Israel from the Soviet Union, to the Congressmen and the Long Island Committee leadership. Mr. Shauli, who has lived in Israel for the past two and one-half years, is a guest of the Long Island Committee, and will be visiting this area until October 25th. During his stay, he will address student groups, organizations, and synagogue and church groups on the problems of absorption of Soviet Jews in Israel.

One of the reasons Mr. Shauli came to this country is to explain the problems that are still going to face Soviet Jews, despite the passage of the Jackson Amendment. Mrs. Weissman explained, "Mr. Shauli speaks on behalf of Soviet Jews when he says, 'We can't take the passage of the Jackson Amendment to mean that the problems of Russian Jews are now ended.' There are many problems still to be faced, harassment, arbitrary arrests, search of homes and removal of personal property, loss of jobs, and the problems of young Jews entering universities, among others."

Of special concern to Mr. Shauli is the plight of a friend who is presently imprisoned in the Soviet Union. Aleksandr Feldman, arrested October 18th, 1973, has been sentenced to three and one-half years of hard labor. After applying to emigrate to Israel, Feldman was harassed, fired from his job, and hounded by the KGB. He was accused of hooliganism and during his trial was not allowed to call defense witnesses, nor to have members of his family present. Mr. Shauli will try to bring the case of Aleksandr Feldman to the attention of Long Island Congressmen in order to help his friend.

Gasoline Retailers Advised of Rights

Nassau County's Energy Coordinator, Francis E. O'Connor, in a letter to gasoline retailers in the County, advised them of their rights under the federal law.

County Equitable Ralph G. Caso last week revealed that a Federal Energy Administration ruling protected the over 1200 gas station operators from "unilateral discontinuance of deliveries."

O'Connor's message indicated that the rule clarification was the result of his Bureau of Energy Conservation pressing the federal office in behalf of a Nassau station operator. He further advised that the Bureau is prepared to handle complaints and inquiries concerning the rights of the retail businessmen.

"There has been a tug of war going on between the local operator and his supplier," O'Connor stated. "The ambiguity of federal regulations needed to be corrected so we could all know what they mean. We pushed until we got it."
