Herald Report:

Hicksville School District

by SHIRLEY SMITH

There were differences of opinion about the hiring of a part-time drug abuse counselor (group leader) at last week's meeting of education meeting in Hicksville. Neil McCormack wanted the opportunity to interview all candidates, while William Bruno objected to any high school student being referred to HAD. After hearing the arguments, the board approved the hiring.

The board adopted the goals and objectives set by the four elementary assistant principals working on specific curriculum areas (reading, math, language arts and primary learning.) Attached to the adoption was a tentative completion date of all assignments by March 31, 1975. Board president, Robert Pirrung plans to use the goals and objectives as the basis for evaluation of the job being performed by the assistant principals. Iris Wolfson stated, "These are the highest form of accountability." Superintendent Jerome Niosi commended the assistant principals on the job they are doing. John Lari felt it was impractical to set a March 31 completion date if some of them have been outlined for June 30. Trustees Bruno and Nagle voted against adoption.

The school board approved a joint security monitoring system with the Plainfield School district. The individual who now monitors the board for Hicksville will do the same for Plainfield (both boards will be set up in Hicksville) and the two districts will share the cost on a yearly contractual basis.

The school board set up a regularized procedure for payments to teachers for extra-curricular duties. By law, retirement must now be taken out of this payment. The district will still pay the same hourly rate ($15) to the individuals involved, but will pay the 20 percent retirement fee ($3) out of district funds.

The maximum income for senior citizens' property tax exemption purposes was raised from $6000 to $6500, while the time limit for owning was lowered from 5 to 2 years. The board of education took this action to be in line with the Town of Oyster Bay, which has passed similar guidelines.

During the public portion of the meeting, the school board was apprised of the overuse of the Dutch Lane field by various youth group's events, while Fork Lane and Old Country Road Schools seem to have little use.

In answer to a question by Phyllis Frankel, Mr. Pirrung stated he could not give a definite yes or no to those school monitors wondering whether their jobs will be restored. He said the board is still receiving reports on the situation and has not come to a final decision. He was not optimistic, however, on the rehiring of the lay help.

Adult Education classes will begin October 28 with a shortened session which will end before the holidays in December. A regular session will begin in January.

Fees have been raised this year in order to bring in an additional $10,000 which will make the program self-sustaining. Courses which were formerly $6 and $7 will now be $10 and the driver education fee will be doubled to meet the cost of the instructor. However, students will receive four hours on the simulator. The increased fees will be reflected on a pro-rata basis this term, due to the shortened session (made necessary because of being on austerity in September.)

The board of education voted to pay the school nurse-teachers who came in during austerity, on a voluntary basis, to help with the athletic physicals. Mr. McCormack felt the board should also reimburse the parents of handicapped children who had to provide their own transportation this summer. Mr. Pirrung objected and said the district would then have to reimburse all the parents who provided transportation after school began. No action was taken on Mr. McCormack's suggestion. The school nurse-teachers are normally paid to help with physicals.

The school board established a position of District Director of Curriculum and Instruction, as an 11-month job. This position will be advertised with no salary range listed. The board will interview the top three candidates before hiring anyone.

Mrs. Wolfson asked that a 10 cent price for milk be listed on the next agenda and be discussed at the October 30 school board meeting, to be held at 8 p.m. in the Administration Building.

A Special Day At Trinity

On Sunday, October 13th, at 3:00 p.m., the Reverend John H. Krahn was installed as the new Head Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, 40 West Nicholas Street. Hicksville Pastor Krahn had been Trinity's Assistant Pastor for five years before accepting the Call as Pastor.

The Service of Installation was attended by over 450 friends and members of Trinity. The participants of the service were, The Reverend Rudolph P.F. Rasmeyer, President of the Atlantic District, Dr. Richard H. Engbrecht, Superintendent of Lutheran Schools of the Atlantic District, Dr. Robert V. Schnabel, President of Concordia College Bronxville, Reverend Charles W. Froehlich, Assistant Pastor of Trinity, and Mr. Weldon W. Endorf, Director of Christian Education at Trinity Lutheran Church and School.

Also during the service, four Teaching Ministers were installed, Miss Marsha Witkop, Miss Sandra Miller, Mr. John Spring and Mr. Daniel Albertin. The Teaching Ministers teach in Trinity's Parochial School and are involved in a variety of other Ministries. Trinity Church looks forward to serving the Mid-Island Community under the leadership of Pastor John H. Krahn as it carries out its multi-faceted Ministry toward Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Open Letter to the Hicksville School District

Operating a school district under austerity is, at best, a difficult situation. Emotions run high in the community and confusion abounds over what is and is not allowed. Many problems may arise, and if handled improperly, they can become major issues. However, Hicksville School District was fortunate to have avoided many of these impending difficulties during the beginning days of school before a budget was approved.

Hicksville Council of PTA Units wishes to commend the Hicksville staff (administrators, faculty, clerks, custodians, cafeteria workers and others) for their careful and considerate management under austerity. We wish to thank all of them for making those first days go smoothly in spite of the difficult situation. We realize the effort that was involved and we appreciate the concern shown for the students and the community.

We realize, too, how important to this effort was the cooperation of the parents and students and here we also extend our thanks and appreciation. It is this type of working together that improves our educational system.

Council sincerely hopes the school district does not have to operate on austerity again. We are grateful that all went smoothly, but we are convinced the district would be better off to start each year with an approved budget.

Hicksville Council of PTA Units

News from Attorney General Lefkowitz

CHARGES FUND RAISER EXPLOITED CHARITIES

Charging that a professional fund raiser cruelly exploited such charitable organizations as the Police Athletic League, the United Negro College Fund, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Sickle Cell Foundation by keeping as much as 99 per cent of monies contributed in fund raising campaigns, Attorney General Lefkowitz said this week he has obtained a court order and will seek to outlaw the promoters from fund raising in New York State. Named in the order are Kayem Programs, Inc., of Hempstead, New York, and three of its officers.

OWE $40,000 IN BACK WAGES

Lefkowitz announced this week that as a result of a criminal information and complaint filed by his office, two officers of a summer camp charged with owing almost $40,000 in back wages to more than 100 employees have been arrested and a total bail of $50,500 set. The Attorney General instituted the criminal proceeding in Ulster County against Camp Westwood Inc., and its officers, William Nelson of Flushing, New York and Sheldon Haas of Bronx, New York.

EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION CHARGED

In a complaint filed with the State Division of Human Rights, the Attorney General charged Macmillan, Inc., Macmillan Publishing Company, Inc. and Macmillan Book Clubs, Inc. with engaging "in a pattern and practice of discrimination in employment against women on the basis of sex." Based on the complaints of 44 women employees of the firm, the complaint charges discrimination against women in hiring for certain positions, in salaries paid women and in opportunities for advancement within the company.

HALTS "HAPPY HOMELANDER" SCHEME

A New York City man whose advertisements invited consumers to join his staff of "happy homelander" making "$120 to $175 a week" stuffing envelopes, when in fact there were no job openings, has agreed to discontinue such advertising and make full refunds of "registration fees" ranging from $14 to $18, Lefkowitz announced this week. The Attorney General said that Simon Bonanno, doing business as J.M. Enterprises, American Mailing Service and Combined Business Service, all located in Glendale, New York, has entered into an assurance of discontinuance with his office.

Energy Conservation Ruling Saves Company Credit Card Privilege

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso today announced the county's Bureau of Energy Conservation had won another battle for the consumer and small businessman.

"We have obtained a ruling from the Federal Energy Administration which benefits gas station operators and their customers across the nation," Caso said. "The case involved is just another example of the arrogance being displayed by the profit-bloated oil concerns. Their 'step on the little guy' attitude will not be tolerated."

The latest ruling prevents oil companies from revoking the company credit card privileges of dealers. It was made in the case of a Valley Stream gas station operator, Don Hendrickson, and represented the second time the company took action that threatened his livelihood.

Last spring, Hendrickson, owner of the D & D Service Station, faced his first problem with his fuel supplier, the Citgo Company. He was notified that after 12 years the company was going to terminate deliveries when the contract period expired September 30.

Francis E. O'Connor, Nassau County's Energy Coordinator, directed staff members to probe Hendrickson's complaint. The bureau director, Thomas Darcy, was of the opinion that such action under the Mandatory Petroleum Allocation regulations was not permissible. The opinion was upheld last August by Carl S. Levine, FEA general counsel.

In Hendrickson's case, the oil company was required to continue delivery of gasoline. Hendrickson, however, found himself with a new problem, which became the subject of the latest ruling - and victory - for him and other dealers.

"This man got his gas, but was told his station was no longer a dealership," Caso said. "The company withdrew all signs and other identification from his station. It also withdrew its credit card privileges."

Hendrickson explained that many of his customers, who used company credit cards were forced to go to another Citgo station for gas and service. "It was enough to force me out of business or into more costly credit card operations," he said.

The county brought the case to the attention of Levine and received a response favoring the Nassau dealer and others like him across the nation.

In substance, Levine's ruling said, "revocation of credit card privileges is impermissible under the regulations."

Information on both rulings has been sent to the more than 1,200 gas station operators in the county and to the oil companies by the Energy Conservation Bureau.

Advice to the President

If citizen advisors to the President had their way about it, all Americans would become walkers or bicyclists or bus riders or, at least, car poolers. Suggestions for keeping the family car idle or in very limited use appear most frequently on the lists of Americans responding to President Ford's plea for advice on conserving energy and beating inflation.

Other suggestions dealing with the family gas buggy call for combining various shopping errands into one trip, observing the 55-mile speed limit, and keeping tires inflated at 30 pounds to improve gasoline mileage.

Advice to substitute light bulbs of lower wattage except in reading lamps came from a Milwaukee realtor, who also urged: "Just because you can afford it, don't hoard scarce items. It may drive the prices out of sight for poor people with big families. Don't feel it is necessary to eat and drink everything in sight. Just consume what you need for good health. You'll be rewarded by a better figure, too."

The same man urged that housewives fill the oven when they bake, alternate the use of a vacuum cleaner with an ordinary carpet sweeper to save electricity, and use warm or cold water in the laundry instead of hot whenever feasible.

He further advised repairing tears "to realize big savings in clothing and linens," and added:

"Adopt this philosophy in buying clothing and furniture: 'If I'd have to borrow the money to pay for it, I'll wait until I've saved the money first.' You'll save an amazing amount in interest, also; and you'll buy everything more wisely when you've had to plan and save for it."

A Chicago trade paper publisher was primarily concerned with turning off unnecessary lights - not just those in his own house but those in office buildings.

Said he: "I drove along Lake Shore Drive the other night around 1 a.m. and the office buildings were lit up like Christmas trees. This goes on all over the country and it costs millions of dollars in energy. It must be stopped."

A Yonkers woman was concerned that people not burn lights on sunny days and that housewives wait for a full load before using the dishwasher.

A Washington, D.C., woman urged that high school students walk or ride bicycles to school instead of driving.

On a broader scale, she urged that consumers engage in "careful buying and boycotts" to force grocery prices down, that government agencies enforce anti-trust and price-fixing laws, and that all possible alternatives to imported oil be developed for heating and transportation.

A Jamaica woman had a more novel idea - that all large corporations place their employees on a four-day week instead of laying off people.

Closer to home, an Albuquerque, New Mexico, man advised taking stock of groceries in the house and not buying items that are in ample supply in the pantry, buying in economical lots and joining with a neighbor in large-lot purchasing, sharing uneeded items with a neighbor, and maintaining all home and automotive items in the best possible manner.

A Fort Lauderdale, Florida, tax accountant urged turning the hot water heater down to where you can take a shower with just hot water instead of tempering it with cold - then turning it up the evening before the woman of the house plans to wash clothes. He says this saves at least 20 per cent.

The same man adds: "I ride my bike. My car moves only about every other day. I love it."

A Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, man was primarily concerned with speeding the development of solar energy. Since this will cost billions of dollars, he said, a special tax should be levied on gasoline, heating oil, cooking gas, electricity, coal and fireplace wood to pay for solar energy research and development.

Perhaps the most novel idea for fighting inflation came from a Belleville, Illinois, man, who urged the Government to sell a new issue of Series E bonds to be known as "Inflation Bonds."

His plan calls for these bonds to bear a more attractive interest rate than the current Series E bonds and to be purchased through payroll deduction, bond-a-month plans, and private checking and savings accounts.

"The American people would support the plan," he told the President. "I mean all the American people - Blacks, Whites, religious groups, political parties, labor unions, private businesses, old people, young people, and on and on. We all have a stake in this."

"Every dollar invested in Inflation Bonds would slow the pace of inflation. Since vast sums of money would be coming to the U.S. Treasury from the sale of such bonds, the Treasury would no longer have to compete in the money markets for the billions of dollars per year necessary for the debt service on our national debt, funding defense spending, foreign aid, etc. When Uncle Sam stops competing for dollars on our money markets, interest rates would start to come down, and many other desirable things would begin to happen, (such as) more money for home mortgages."

"Only point the way, and you will find all of us anxious to find something we can do to help."

Caso Announces Nassau's Planned Water Treatment

County Executive Ralph G. Caso announced on October 10th that the largest tertiary water treatment plant in the United States will be built at the Cedar Creek Pollution Control Plant in Wantagh "to protect Nassau's future water supply."

The 5,000,000-gallon-a-day advanced waste water treatment and recharge facility is the initial step in a long-range program to maintain essential ground water levels.

A proposal to contract with the consulting engineering firm of Consoer, Townsend and Associates of Chicago and Farmingdale to design the facility is scheduled to go before the Nassau Board of Supervisors on Oct. 21.

"With this action we will be taking a first big step forward to protect Nassau's future water supply," Caso said. "This facility will treat waste water and return purified water to seepage basins for recharge into the ground water."

"Warnings from several sources have indicated the necessity for action to restore ground water and provide for future supply. Now, after a year-long federally-funded study we are ready to embark on this demonstration program with the aid of the state and federal governments."

The facility will be built at an approximate cost of $12,000,000 of which 87 1/2 per cent is to be funded by the federal and state governments through the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the state's Department of Environmental Control. It is expected construction of the system would begin early 1976 with the operations beginning in 1977. Operations and maintenance costs over a five year period are estimated at $13,000,000 with the state contributing one third and the county paying the remainder.

The new plant would provide third-stage treatment to a portion of the effluent usually pumped out to sea via the ocean outfall from the Cedar Creek facility. It would be piped some six miles to a point just north of the Nassau County Medical Center and into seepage basins and shallow wells for recharge into the ground.

"The effluent at the point of recharge will meet or exceed U.S. Public Health Service drinking water standards and New York State standards for sources of water supply with considerable margin of safety," according to Nassau Public Works Commissioner H. John Plock Jr.

"The wastewater will be subjected to preliminary treatment at Cedar Creek and then undergo chemical precipitation with lime, biological oxidation, nitrification and denitrification, post chemical precipitation coupled with filtration, carbon absorption and finally chlorination," Plock explained. "To insure that no harmful substances are discharged into the ground water, a fail-safe program will continually monitor those constituents. Additional monitoring will be conducted at the ground water recharge sites prior to recharge, and from the monitoring wells subsequent to recharge."

Polo at Bethpage State Park

Sunday October 20th winds up Polo at Bethpage State Park for the year, the Long Island Industrial Recreational Association Match, which began in 1965, should finish off the season with a bang. For the final burst of steam it will be Bethpage versus Westbury. The defending team finalizing the Burt Bacharach Dover House Tournament on Sunday, October 13th, Brookville's Harvey Rhein, Fran Mortimer, Fred Braunstein and Allen Jenkins ripped off Blairstown's Mike Gerard, Frank Rice, Tony Coppola and Bill Kaufman three to two (Carmin Paterniti subbing for Kaufman after the first chukker. It's been a good year for polo at the park, and thanks to the news media, the crowds that weekly make their way to see the games which start at 3:00 P.M. have enjoyed every round of the play that makes polo one of the world's most colorful sports. Long Island's final polo game of the season is a special tribute and "thank you" to Mr. Eric Siebert, Bethpage State Park's Superintendent.

Polo on Long Island looks forward to more of the same next year. So long till 1975!

Letter to Editor

At 1:30 am on Thursday, October 10th, a fire broke out in our upstairs bedroom. Within minutes of my calling several volunteers had arrived in private cars and within the next few minutes three firetrucks and countless number of firemen arrived. Not one moment was wasted and all worked as one until the flames were extinguished. For about 2 hours after three firemen were perched on the roof testing now and then for smoke and flames. They later tarpapered the roof.

Although just about each and everyone of them at one time or another entered the house with axes, picks or hoses nothing downstairs was damaged. Before they brought the hoses into the house they covered all the downstairs furniture with extra large tarps so that the contents would stay dry. They also took everything on the tables and the shelves and covered them too. Except for the carpeting which naturally had to get wet from the leaking ceilings, everything else stayed dry.

Their personal concern for our safety, peace of mind and where we may stay for the night was extraordinary. We will be every grateful to these volunteers for keeping the damage to a minimum. Before they left they gave us an envelope which contained two pages of important advice on what to do after a fire. The next day I showed this letter to the Fire Marshall and the Town Inspector and both said they wished more departments would do the same. I only hope that the residents of Hicksville will contribute just a little more the next time our Fire Department has a drive for funds. I know we will. One never knows when they will need them and if they do they can be assured of prompt help. This is the second time they have been of help to us. The last time was when my father-in-law was hurt. They treated this 93 year old man as though he was their own father. I was told yesterday that one of the fireman was slightly overcome. I hope he is alright.

I hope this shows the residents of Hicksville what wonderful work Hicksville Fire Department does when an emergency arises.

Dear Friends ...

WHEN ALL A POLITICIAN does, is knock his opponent, and his press releases contain no constructive suggestions is to exactly HOW he plans to do a better job of serving his constituents, we find little room in our pages for such releases, be they Republicans or democrats. As this election comes closer we are sure you are all watching what is available in our dailies and on TV. As usual, we plan a wrap-up on the candidates and propositions just before elections.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well.

Sincerely,
Sheila

Levine to Sponsor Legislation Prohibiting Supermarket Repricing

Assemblyman Stuart R. Levine, of Bethpage has announced that he will sponsor state legislation to prohibit the repricing of supermarket items after they have been placed on shelves for sale.

Testifying at a hearing on price markups before the State Select Committee on Consumer Protection in Mineola, Levine said his legislation would be similar to that introduced in Nassau County by Hempstead Town Supervisor Al D'Amato. The Board of Supervisors will hold a hearing Oct. 21 on the local law.

"This practice of repricing items already on the shelf is going on throughout the state," Levine stated. "Consumers are suffering enough with inflation without being ripped off in front of their eyes in supermarkets."

Levine said it is an insult to the intelligence of today's shopper.

As a freshman legislator, Levine had a number of his consumer protection bills signed into law, including requirements that the brand name and strength be placed on all prescription drug labels and that registered pharmacists wear identification badges while on duty to prevent the dispensation of drugs by non-licensed personnel. He also supported legislation requiring pharmacies to post the prices of the 150 most used drugs to consumers, for the first time, are able to compare prescription prices and a unit pricing law.

Supervisor JOHN W. BURKE REPORTS

Last month in one of my columns, I commented on the difficulties being experienced by the town supervisors in neighboring Suffolk County with the legislature form of government adopted by Suffolk in 1970. Shortly thereafter, the ten Suffolk town supervisors — six Republicans, three Democrats and one Conservative — found it necessary to organize a Suffolk County Supervisors Association to protect the rights of their respective local governments.

One of the town supervisors, who was a member of the pre-1970 Suffolk Board of Supervisors and who voted to abolish that governmental body, now admits that his vote was a "severe mistake." He noted that his county pay amounted to $6,000 annually to serve on the board. Now, there are four legislators representing the same area whose salaries, staffs, county cars and other expenses amount to more than $100,000 per year.

Under the modified weighted voting plan for Nassau County which will appear as Proposition 1 on the ballot this November, the basic concept of "partnership government" county government working in close relationship with local government is retained. Its constitutionality has already been tested and upheld by the highest courts in the land. The Proposition has the unanimous support of the six members of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors including the two Democratic members.

County government decisions, under the plan described in Proposition 1, will continue to be made by the County Executive with the approval of the six supervisors, who are the top elected officials of local government. The alternative is the creation of another layer of government with all its bureaucratic trimmings and increased costs plus the added taxes to pay for them.

It has been clearly demonstrated in other areas of the state and nation that centralization has usually increased rather than decreased the cost of government. A county legislature would present a very real threat to Home Rule since its members would have no direct responsibility to existing units of local government. It would resurrect a ward system of government with all the "log rolling" and "pork barrel" practices of the old Tammany Hall days.

The most important aspect of the modified plan is that it keeps government closest to the people, insuring a county government that will remain responsible, responsive and effective.

Nassau Sponsors "Save Your Sight"

"Saving Your Sight" — a symposium for senior citizens — will be presented by the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs on Thursday, October 24 from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at C.W. Post College Auditorium, Northern Boulevard in Brookville.

The event, sponsored in cooperation with the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, will feature two leading ophthalmologists who will explore the major cause of blindness — cataracts and glaucoma — their symptoms and treatment.

Dr. Arthur Epstein, Attending Ophthalmologist at Community Hospital at Glen Cove and at Montefiore Hospital in the Bronx will discuss "Cataract — What It Is And How It Is Treated". Dr.

Cataract is the leading cause of blindness among adults in the United States, accounting for one out of every six cases of blindness. However, the cataract patient no longer must accept blindness as an inevitable price of aging, for surgery restores vision in more than 95 out of 100 cases.

One out of every seven blind Americans is a victim of glaucoma — yet it can be controlled if detected in time. Most victims of glaucoma are over 35 years of age and are usually not aware of its slow, painless symptoms.

In urging all Nassau residents age 60 and over to attend the free symposium, Commissioner Adelaide Attard of the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs noted that one-half of all blind people in our country are over 65.

"We hope, through this seminar," said the Commissioner, "to alert our senior citizens to some of the danger signals and to inform them of the alternatives to loss of vision."

Those attending should bring lunch — complimentary coffee and cake will be served. For further information and registration contact Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs, One Old Country Road, Carle Place — telephone 535-4523.

Voice of Democracy Program

"Students win more than awards and scholarships when they participate in the V.F.W. Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program", said Commander Frank Lotti of V.F.W. Post 3211, in discussing the scriptwriting program conducted annually by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Some of the fringe benefits, according to Commander Lotti are increased self-confidence and praise, experience in communicating with others and valuable training in self expression. For the state winners, there is also the broadening experience of a five-day tour of Washington, D.C., and the opportunity to make lasting friendships with the other state winners.

In the thirteen years that the Veterans of Foreign Wars has been sole sponsor of the Voice of Democracy Program, more than 3,000,000 high school students have participated. Participants write and then tape-record a three-to five minute broadcast script expressing their views on their "Responsibility as a Citizen". From among the state winners, five national winners are chosen to receive a total of $22,500 in scholarships.

"One of the greatest benefits to young people who take part in the program, is that by thinking, writing and speaking on their Responsibilities as a Citizen, they gain a better appreciation of their obligation to maintain our freedom heritage", Commander Lotti said.

For further information, contact Abe Feldman, Pe 1-8133 or Lucy Blesi, Ov 1-8117.

Traveling Team News

In the first game on our new home field, the Bantams, under Tony Camara, took a highly touted Deer Park team 4 - 2, moving out from a 2 - 2 tie at half time. In spite of numerous first half drives on our goal keep Richie Spiers, who more than kept us in the game with his tremendous saves; the front line "put it together" in the second half to pull it out.

First half scores by Glenn Zakian came on a loose ball kicked by Glenn from more than 30 yards out, while John Mitchell's score was a break-away around Deer Park's strongest defensive player, the fearsome No. 2. Kevin Cahalan broke the tie in the second half with an equally exciting breakaway drive on goal that began on our side of mid-field. Having secured winning momentum, the team kept the ball in front of the Deer Park goal, so that Bobby Andrus, with his normal aggressiveness, took the ball from the opposition and place it in position for Billy Cresham to score the final goal. This coordinated team effort required outstanding supporting efforts by the entire defensive alignment, including David Smyth, Eddie Bergin, Steve Dolan, John Fitzgerald as well as the second half goalie, Gene Tyransky, who had many outstanding saves. This was certainly the game of the season.

Meanwhile, Michael Sini's Tenna, sponsored by the Marco Polo Lodge, Levittown Sons of Italy, tied Massapequa Park in a tough defensive battle. Our score came on the foot of Tom McCann on a penalty kick. Peter Fletcher continuously sent the ball downfield adding to the defensive efforts of Tom Luongo, Anthony Luongo and Michael Magner, in combination with the goal keeping of Scott Cahalan. This defensive effort kept the Americans in the game. In spite of heroic efforts, our offense just could not break thru Massapequa Park's defense. Final score was 1 - 1.

Intramurals

In the Bantam Division, Conn. took Georgia in a squeaker 3 - 2. Conn. goals were by W. Maguire, R. Bell & J. Carroll with assists by S. Hertz, H. Mertz & K. Kugler. Georgia scored on the feet of D. Brutschen & F. Christiano. Outstanding defensive play for Conn. includes B. McKenna, D. O'Leary & J. Anglin while Georgia's R. Markey & B. Altheus handled their positions with skill. Later, Massachusetts posted a 3 - 0 shutout over Delaware. Goals for Mass. were scored by P. Schur (2), & R. Youngs (1). Assisting in the win were S. Blaustein, D. Borg & G. Grasso. Delaware's loss occurred in spite of the hustling efforts of J. Neto, J. Egbert, J. Liotta, L. Ziembecki & M. Jaycard. Maryland and N.H. tied 2 - 2, on goals by A. Scraglio (2) and R. Cunningham (2). N. Hampshire assists were by L. Sneddon and Troy Levy.

In the Midget Division, Penna. defeated N. Carolina on the lone score by B. Schuck, final score being 1 - 0. Excellent playing by L. Sullivan, W. Probst, G. Geigle, B. Greavy, A. Greenberg & J. Morrisroe for Penna. while for N.C., J. Egbert at goal, N. Storm and W. Burke played very well. N. Jersey defeated S. Carolina 5 - 2 on scores by A. Peppi (2), M. Sini

Hicksville Fire Report

by Ex-Capt. Owen Magee

Hicksville Vamps responded to 45 alarms during the period Oct. 1 thru Oct. 15. There were 16 malicious false alarms, 17 rescue calls, 12 fire calls.

During the month of September 1974 the total alarms for the month was 105. 46 alarms were sounded on the municipal alarm system, 36 were silent alarms, 25 were ambulance calls and rescue calls, 23 malicious false alarms 1 mutual aid call (Plainview N.Y.) 2 of the fires were considered workers (serious) to date in 1974 there were 972 calls.

HOUSE FIRE

Oct. 10th: A general alarm was transmitted for an attic fire at 149 Spindle Rd., the Levitt SECTION OFF Jerusalem Ave. The fire was reported at 2:01 am but it appeared to have started 15 minutes earlier.

1st arriving Vamps found the owner fighting the fire with a garden hose. Flames were leaping out the attic windows. 9 pieces of apparatus and 80 men responded under 1st Deputy Chief Roy Schaaf.

3 pieces of apparatus were used to control the blaze which caused extensive damage to the attic. The Marshals office was called in to pin point the cause.

FIRE PREVENTION REPORT
3rd Deputy Chief James Huttie reports that the Hicksville Fire

Dept. inspectors have made 140 fire inspections in 1974 to Oct. 1st.

This job is a difficult one as most people think the inspector is there to give them a hard time. What the inspector is doing is trying to help save you from having a fire.

In most cases the inspectors report very good co-operation. One good example of co-operation is that of the Hooker Chemical Co. on New South Rd. in Hicksville. Plant owners are meeting on a regular basis to inform Hicksville Vamps the dangers of their operation and the vamps are lending a hand training the fire brigade.

A good example of no co-operation is a local factory in the Duffy Ave. area that is fighting tooth and nail to stall the fire safety.

Fire Safety improvements are so badly needed there. A serious fire there several months ago nearly became a disaster. The county fire marshals office has been called in to enforce correction of the violations.

The Holiday Open House will be held on December 8th, 1974. More on this to follow in future HERALD editions.

Just a note to clear up a misprint in the last article on fire prevention 2 weeks ago. The problem in Bruce's kitchen is that he has a wood cover over his oil burner. Bruce who is a Vamp is pulling his air out trying to find a metal one to replace it, and so are a few other folks. We will try and locate some and pass it on to you. This is a serious threat to your home and should be corrected, or at least the wood covers should be re-lined with fire proof materials.

During the next few weeks Hicksville fire fighters will be canvassing your area to wind up their house to house fund drive. If you haven't mailed your donation - won't you do it now? Thank you.

In the Boys Division, Virginia defeated Rhode Island 3-1. J. Morga scored two goals & A. Menzin one goal for Va. while J. Stafford booted one for R.I. The R.I. defense of N. Stafford, G. Gates, D. Miller, C. Fiscalare & M. Slezak was unavailing in the face of Virginia's hustle by B. Hastings, A. Trafficante, M. Morry and M. Thomas at goal. Later, Kentucky and Vermont played to a 0-0 tie.

VFW Post 3211 Honored

Caso Announces Unrestricted Half Fare Bus Service for Seniors

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso on October 10 announced unrestricted half fare service to all senior citizens on county buses and extended the privilege to senior citizens in Suffolk County who use buses of the Metropolitan Suburban Bus Authority.

"Effective immediately," Caso said, "all certified elder residents of Nassau County will be allowed to ride MSBA buses at half fare at any time."

Caso and MSBA Executive Officer Andrew G. Schiavone have been in negotiations for several weeks with Suffolk County Executive John V.N. Klein on a reciprocal agreement for Suffolk seniors to get half fare privileges on the MSBA buses.

"We have no contract yet," Caso said, "but we will honor Suffolk's senior citizen identification cards now on an unrestricted basis."

service to our older citizens, most of whom live on a fixed income and most of whom depend on public transportation to get from place to place."

Caso explained that a contract would be drawn up with Suffolk officials to reimburse Nassau for the cost of permitting the half fare rides. The contract is expected to be signed within the next 60 to 90 days.

In Nassau, senior citizens have had half fare privileges on buses during non-rush hours for about a year. Their rides were restricted to the hours between 10 AM and 4 PM and to get half fare they had to show their Leisure Passes which contain their photo and indication they are senior citizens... persons over 60 years of age. The half fare situation was good for Nassau residents within the county on all MSBA buses and for rides out of the county.

"Our action in granting unrestricted half fare is a service grown out of a need," Caso said, "and from numerous requests made of the county by senior citizens and senior groups."

Further requests were made for the open half fares at hearings conducted by State Senator John Caemmerer and his Joint Legislative Committee on Transportation. These were filed with the county.

The extension to Suffolk, Caso said, was an outgrowth of similar requests.

Schiavone explained that four MSBA routes serve Suffolk from terminals in Nassau.

"Our busiest line is the Freeport to Patchogue run," he said. "We pick up quite a number of passengers between the county line and Babylon where one route terminates and on the longer run to Patchogue."

"We also cross the line on the route from Hempstead to Amityville and on another run from Mineola to the Walt Whitman Shopping Center in Hicksville."

TOB Adopts Interim Guidelines on Freedom of Information Law

The Town Board has adopted interim guidelines to facilitate compliance with the State Freedom of Information Law and to establish a system to allow all those interested to inspect and obtain copies of Town records.

"The regulations we adopted are in keeping with the interim rules suggested by the State and are aimed at fulfilling the letter and spirit of the law which not only permits inspection of records but calls for making copies available when requested," Burke said.

Under the guidelines, Burke explained, someone seeking particular records will file an application within the Town Clerk's office. "The records or copies of the records will then be made available as soon as possible," he said.

The guidelines set fees of 25 cents per page for copies of forms that are 8" by 10" or 8" by 14" and a fee of the actual cost for reproduction of records of larger dimensions, such as official maps.

If someone seeking inspection is denied particular records, the individual will then be allowed to bring his or her request to the Town Attorney who has temporarily been designated Records Access Officer.

Plainview - Old Bethpage High School Sports News

The Plainview Gull Football Team lost a heartbreaker last Saturday against Island Trees. The scene was set for a hard fought and exciting game. Both teams came into the game with an 0-2 record. Spirit of '76, the fan club of the Plainview Gulls had chartered a bus to see the game as everyone expected to come back as winners.

The Gulls started the game strong. Quarterback John Lupo lead the Gulls all the way to one yard line and that's when junior Mike Hoops fumbled the ball and Island Trees took possession. Island Trees scored a touchdown but failed on the conversion. The score was 6-0 in favor of Island Trees when the Gulls scored their first touchdown of the 1974 season. John Lupo completed a pass to get the conversion and the Gulls led the game by a score of 8-6.

The atmosphere had changed completely from losers the Gulls were winners. Unfortunately it did not last. Island Trees broke through the tough defense by the Gulls and scored a touchdown and completed the conversion to recapture the lead 14-8.

Tension broke when the Gulls tried to score in the last minute of the game. Both teams engaged in a "mini-brawl", but thanks to the fast actions of the officials and coaches, the players were separated. The scoreboard clock had run out of time but the official time showed 8 seconds left. In that brief time the Gulls were defeated.

The Gulls will be hosting Great Neck North this Saturday, October 19th at the Norman E. Merry Memorial Field at 1:30 P.M. Everyone knows that the Gulls have suffered a lot of injuries and illnesses. Hopefully they'll be able to recover in time to put enough points on their new electric scoreboard to prove them victors.

PSAT/NMSQT to be Given at Hicksville High

Students at Hicksville Senior High School will have the opportunity to join over 1 million other students around the world in taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test - National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) as an important step in making college plans.

The test, to be given at Hicksville High School on Saturday, October 26, is designed to measure verbal and mathematical abilities that are important in doing college work. The PSAT/NMSQT is cosponsored by the College Board and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

In addition to helping students find out more about themselves and their abilities, the PSAT/NMSQT can lead to other opportunities such as: entering the competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, and participating in the College Board's Student Search Service (SSS) so they can get information from colleges that may be looking for students like them.

These are described in the PSAT/NMSQT Student Bulletin, available in the Junior Class Guidance Office at Hicksville High School.

Plainview - Old Bethpage Schools Encourage "Home-School" Music Program

The Plainview-Old Bethpage music education department is bringing their beginning instrumental music program from the school into the home. Parents are being encouraged to study a musical instrument along with their children.

In doing this, the parent would share their youngster's instrument and be taught by them the material that they themselves are learning in school. In conjunction with this, beginning instrumental classes are being offered through the adult education program for those who desire additional instruction by professionals.

Mr. Hague, district director of music education originated this 'home-school' program and feels that there are many beneficial educational values to be derived from this project. It would provide parents an enjoyable opportunity to learn to play a musical instrument, learn what the instrumental music education program is all about including the many values it has to offer their children. It would also enhance their child's learning as teaching others is an excellent technique to learning yourself. He also added in just that it would offer parents an opportunity for them to return the aggravation they will be receiving from their child's early learning stages. Further information may be obtained by calling Mr. Hague at 938-5400, Ext. 343.

Get Rid of Gray Hair Some of it or all of it

1st Day 6th Day 12th Day 18th Day

Time-lapse photographs show how gradual action of Grecian Formula 16 lets you control just how much gray you slowly get rid of - some of it or all of it.

White Plains, N.Y. - Hundreds of thousands of men all over the country are now using a remarkable product to control just how much gray they slowly get rid of. It is called Grecian Formula 16 and the results are simply amazing. Grecian Formula 16 is a practically clear liquid, as easy to use as hair tonic. This remarkable formula works for any color hair because it combines with the natural chemistry of the hair to recreate natural-looking color. There is no mess and no rub-off. You simply use it every day for two or three weeks until you slowly get rid of just as much gray as you want. Some of it, most of it or all of it. You can stop where you like. You are in complete control of how much gray goes or stays. Once you get rid of as much gray as you want, simply use Grecian Formula once a week or so to keep it that way. Since Grecian Formula 16 works gradually over a period of time, even close friends won't notice the change happening. The resulting color is so completely natural that the hair definitely does not have a dyed look. Grecian Formula 16 is available at

Another First For Hicksville

For the first time since the William M. Gouse Jr. Post No. 3211 VFW was chartered in 1935, District No. 1 had their meeting in the Hicksville Post.

Both Men and Ladies had their respective meetings in the adjoining buildings.

"There were 150 delegates from all over Brooklyn, Nassau, Queens and Suffolk Counties, some who had never heard of Hicksville before, but they know us now," said a spokesman for Post 3211.

"The Hicksville Post can be proud of the achievements we have reached throughout the State of New York. To not only promote the Post name but also the town of Hicksville. All of the delegates in attendance couldn't get over the Friendship and Hospitality that was shown. Senior Vice Commander Joe Normandy and his lovely wife represented the Host Post," he concluded.

Fertig Calls for Abolition of Grand Jury System

Harold Fertig, formerly a judge of the District Court and a Democratic Candidate for District Court Judge in Nassau County's 4th District, has called for the abolition of the grand jury system which he described as an anachronism that will often smear innocent people, result in delay and unnecessarily burden the prosecutor and the taxpayer.

Very often the attention generated in the media following the handing up of an indictment by a grand jury makes it difficult for a fair trial to follow. Even if the defendant is judged innocent, the publicity that followed the grand jury's action will tend to stain an innocent person's reputation for life. For in the mind of the public the grand jury action is generally equated with some degree of guilt.

Much of the public is unaware of the fact that all an indictment means is that a crime has been committed and that the crime might have been committed by the defendant. Only the prosecutor's side is presented. There is no defense.

Mr. Fertig noted that the grand jury system was originally created to protect prospective defendants from unscrupulous prosecutors. In a sense this is ironic because prosecutors still have their way since just about every case presented to the grand jury results in an indictment. The irony is further compounded by the fact that now the defendant is subjected to double jeopardy in the media—once when he is indicted and again when he goes on trial.

The grand jury system has outlived its usefulness, Mr. Fertig said. It should be replaced with the simple, less costly procedure used in misdemeanor cases in which a police officer or a private individual swears out a charge.

Recently, Judge Sol Wachter of the State Court of Appeals recommended modification of the grand jury system or doing away with it completely. "I think we should go all the way," Fertig said. "It's time for New York to join the more than 30 other states who have decided that the grand jury system has outlived its usefulness."

Innovation Therapy Programs Help Pre-School Children

North Shore residents who have problems involving child or family can count on help from the North Shore Child Guidance Center, a member agency of the United Way of Nassau-Suffolk. According to Dr. Harvey Goldey, Psychiatric Director, treatment at the Center for individuals, and group and family therapy for those with emotional problems can mean that hospitalization or residential treatment will not be necessary in the majority of cases, and innovative new programs work directly with local school systems.

As part of this program, North Shore Child Guidance Center has established group counseling programs within some school settings in an attempt to deal effectively with children who might not otherwise get services, since they would not be seen as emotionally ill.

North Shore Child Guidance Center has provided in-service training courses and consultation for faculty of various school systems so that indirectly they might reach children of all community groups in preventive programs through schools. Along the lines of prevention, an extensive program of parent education, community conferences and other programs has been undertaken to help the average parent recognize and deal with the life situations that occur in every family.

North Shore Child Guidance Center has worked with North Shore University Hospital to develop joint programs including the Pre-school Development Program which is housed in the Roslyn Presbyterian Church, and serves children from the entire service area. This program is specially designed to evaluate, treat and educate pre-school children who show evidence of language disabilities. Children are accepted for this program as young as 2 to 2½ years of age.

Hicksville Teacher Honored

On October 8, the Nassau County Chapter of the American Red Cross inaugurated the Clara Barton Society to honor Red Cross Volunteers with 30 years service.

Among those honored as charter members was Robert Sklarz, resident, and teacher at Hicksville High School. Mr. Sklarz has been a water safety instructor since college days and is presently teaching Red Cross course in swimming and life saving for Westbury Adult Education.

Mr. Sklarz also teaches the Americanization and English for the Foreign Born class at Hicksville Adult Education. He is quick to admit that much of the success of these classes is due to help supplied by student volunteers in a program patterned after the Red Cross volunteer program.

Foreign born adults are aided by "helping teachers" chosen from various High School groups. These "helping teachers" work on a one to one basis with the foreign students.

Some of them go on to handle small groups after a while.

Although the "helping teachers" often come from clubs such as the Future Teachers Club or the Volunteers Club, and all volunteers are welcome.

Some helpers have had their whole life changed by their experiences in this class.

The Americanization classes are free and offered Monday and Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.
