The new edition of "Facts About Property Tax Exemp-tions," a booklet which outlines the property tax reduction program for both senior citizens and veterans is now available to residents according to Idin, chairman of the County Boardof

"Now in its second printing, the booklet reflects changes in the state law passed in the last session of the legislature as it pertains to property lax exemp-tions and explains procedures residents must follow to apply," stated Seldin. "Experience has shown us that many Nassau residents are totally unaware of the program, much less the new law which increases eligibility," he continued. "This booklet will he continued. "This booklet will help to fill this informational void."

Over 50,000 copies of the booklet have been distributed throughout the county since it was first introduced last February. It is designed to answer important questions dealing with eligibility requirements for both senior citizens and veterans.

The changes in the law deal specifically with the senior citizen exemption section. In the new measure the residency requirement was lowered from five to two years and the ocal laxing jurisdictions were given the option to raise the income limitation from $6,000 to $6,500. At present Nassau County and Hempstead, North Hempstead and Oyster Bay Towns have adopted the law and have set the limit at $6,500. Local school districts and villages are acting on the change on an individual basis.

Dear Friends...

About two weeks ago the U.C.P. held a Hike-A-Thon and Ex-Chief of the Hicksville Fire Department Gus Cotsonas, not knowing of this event, questioned some of the hikers. The girls explained that they were walking, to benefit victims of cerebral palsy. Mr. Cotsonas, impressed with these young people and with the event in which they were participating, gave a donation to them, for U.C.P. He expected that this would be the end of the encounter. However, this was not to that this would be the end of the encounter. However, this was not to be the case. In a few days he received the following letter: "Dear Mr. Cotionas: I am one of the girls you stopped and talked to on Sunday, Nov. 3, about the Cerebral Palsy Hike A-Thon. center of Hicksville is divided into a great number of tiny plots, some as small as 2400 square feet, and consequently, a great number of small land owners.

The provision in the regulations Zoning requiring a large land area to construct a building is a good one and important, because it prevents the construction of many small buildings on small plots, such as we see north of John Street and south of Old Country Road on Broadway in Hicksville, where the zoning is much more liberal.

Thus, for development to occur in the G-1 Zone, assemblage of land is necessary and desirable. So far it has not happened because of other provisions of the law such as underground parking and limited permitted which uses. make development unprofitable. We feel, however, that an incentive should be built into the law whereby a developer would be per-mitted an increase in the Floor-Area Ratio as the size of the plot increased. Hicksville Lions Club News

The Hicksville Lions Club had a large turnout at their Oct. 30th Social at the Maine Maid Inn, to say goodbye to three of their members who are moving to other areas of the country.

District Governor Don Rule of District 20 . K2 was on hand for the festivities, and certificates of appreciation were awarded to the three departing members, Lou Siegler, Walter Allan and Maurice Paul by Ken DeJongh. All three were hard working Lions who put in much effort to aid the com-munity of Hicksville, and to fruther the cause of Lionism. They will be sorely missed and hard to replace.

The regular Educational Meet-ing of the Plainview-Old Beth-page Board of Education was held in the All-Purpose Room of the Central Park Rd. school on Monday. Nov. 4th. A delightful colation of cheese, cider, coffee and cake, prepared by the PTA, was enjoyed by board members, staff and parents.

Educational reports concern-ing the "Individual Progress Reporting System" and the 5-year-old Learning Disabilities program were presented by Leonard Kramer, Assistant Superintendent for Instruction. He explained that the symbols used on the grade Le groomers used on the grade 1-6 progress used on the grade 1-6 progress report last year were 'U' for 'usually,' and 'S' for seldom.' The need for more specificity led to the adoption this year of 'E' for 'exceptional progress,' 'S' for 'exteriory progress' and 'M' for 'more progress needed.' It was pointed out, however, that the 'M' on the Kindergarten report stands for 'Most of the time' and could prove confusing time' and could prove confusing

In November, at conference time, a shorter form of the progress report will be discussed with the parents. In February the with the parents. In February the longer more detailed report will be sent home. In the spring, conferences will again be scheduled and in June parents receive the final evaluation. It was pointed out that this is a

Plainview Matters Mrs. Fishman, representing the Greater Plainview Com-munity Association, questioned progress of the investigation into empty barns. Gäning access to the property had been a problem, Supervisor Burke told her, but that at present the investigation had been concluded and a report would be forthcoming to her. "What's the problem with gaining access?" asked Mrs. Fishman: "You just go there." Such an action on the part of the Town would be considered Town would be considered "breaking and entering," Burke said

Mrs. Fishman also questioned the mailing out of town meeting agendas in advance of meetings. A decision had been reached, Burke said, to mail them to the Burke said, to mail them to the public libraries on the Thursday of the Town's public information staff said notices would be mailed to weekly newspapers to inform the public of the new practice practice.
