Community Council To Hear Round Table Discussion

The Thursday, January 2, meeting of the Hicksville Community Council is very important and particularly inspiring, at this time in which this Council starts its programs for 1975... for a Round Table Discussion will be conducted by local ministers, priests, and rabbis, with the following thrust:

- (1) The outreach of each church or temple into the Hicksville Community
- (2) The outreach of each church or temple into the greater community of the world
- (3) How anyone interested may join in these efforts if they so desire.

A question and answer period will follow, as will the "Town Meeting" portion of the Council's program, which is dedicated to a discussion of any local problem or program which is brought up from the floor.

A special holiday time of fellowship will follow this meeting.

"Come on down, on this day after New Year's Day, and join together with your friends and neighbors, who are working for a better Hicksville", urged a spokesman for the Council, "you are all welcome".

A Community That Cares

BY EDNA EDELSTEIN

It has been said that Long Island is just the "bedroom" of New York City. But, this fallacy has been repudiated by the response of the Hicksville Community to the plight of the Morace family, as communicated through the Mid Island Herald last week. Hicksville residents quickly reacted when they learned that the death of Eileen Morace 31, on Dec. 11 had left her three children, Raymond 8, Deborah 6, Baby Peter 8 weeks, and stunned husband Raymond 35, in desperate need of financial help to keep the family together.

Mr. Peter Fallon, Vice-President of the Long Island National Bank arranged an account, free of charge, for the Eileen Morace Memorial Fund, and Mr. Lawrence Wolfson

L.I. Congressmen Send Doves To Kremlin and Telegram To Pope

Members and friends of the Long Island Committee for Soviet Jewry, including the area elected officials, met at 11:30 a.m. December 24th outside the gates of the Soviet Compound at Glen Cove to send a message of peace, in the form of two doves, to the Kremlin. In addition to this action, Long Island Congressmen signed a telegram to the Pope, asking him to intercede on behalf of Mikhail Leviev.

The gathering took place as a community-wide response to the death sentence pronounced on Mikhail Leviev on December 8th. Leviev, a Soviet Jew, had applied for permission to emigrate to Israel. Granted permission to leave 1972, he was arrested several days before his scheduled departure on charges of bribery, held for two years, and then tried. Congressman Norman Lent, 4th C.D., was present to protest the Leviev sentence, and to read a message from the family of Hillel Butman, the Prisoner of Conscience adopted by Mr. Lent's district. The Congressman has been working for the release of Hillel Butman and all Prisoners of Conscience in Soviet labor camps. Butman's wife Eva and their two children are now in Israel.

Mrs. Lynn Singer, Committee Vice-President, stated: "We hope that the release of these doves, traditional symbols of peace, will bring our message home to the Kremlin. We are here with prayers of peace for the Prisoners of Conscience, peace for Mikhail Leviev, and peace for all those in the Soviet Union who seek the right to live in the country of their choice. We ask that to this end the Kremlin put a stop to its unconscionable harassment of dissidents, and reduce the irreconcilable sentencing of a man to be shot for wishing to leave the Soviet Union."

Activities Begin Hunger Strike In Moscow

Mrs. Inez Weissman, President of the Union of Councils for Soviet Jewry, has learned that a hunger strike involving three hundred Soviet Jews began this past weekend, and will continue through December 24th. Activists throughout the Soviet traveled to Moscow to deliver a statement demanding the release of the Prisoners of Conscience (those sentenced in the Leningrad Trial of 1970) to the Supreme Soviet. The group was to include several men from Leningrad: Israel Varnitsky, Lev Zhegun, Grigori Ioffe, Yosef Sverolov, Mikhail Kazanetschik, and others. However, late news from Leningrad indicates that Shekanovich was arrested and sentenced to fifteen days; Blich has not returned from work since Saturday, and has probably been arrested; Zhegun was poisoned in a coffee house on Friday evening and hospitalized; and Ioffe was also arrested.

The same situation exists in other Soviet cities—Soviet Jewry activists are being openly followed by the KGB, with four men in two cars being assigned to each activist. All participants in the Hunger Strike are fearful of similar reprisals against them and their families.

Mrs. Weissman commented: "It is apparent that Christmas, also the anniversary of the Leningrad Trial, is the 'traditional' time for arrests and brutality in the Soviet Union. We and the Russian Jews had hoped for a more positive response to the passage of the Trade Bill. It is expected that the Administration, and its spokesman Mr. Kissinger, will recognize their responsibility for guaranteeing compliance to the Jackson free emigrating agreement, and will immediately secure freedom from arrest and harassment for those Russian Jews, including all the Prisoners of Conscience, must be allowed to emigrate. The 'Face-saving' denials of compliance have now become acts of defiance toward the United States Congress. Once again Jews are pawns in the international diplomatic game."

New Year's Heart Association Resolve

"Resolved, that I will know the warning signs of heart attack, and act immediately to get medical assistance if I should experience these symptoms."

This New Year's resolution was proposed today for adoption by residents of Nassau. It was offered by the American Heart Association, Nassau Chapter N.Y., Inc., which explained that the first four hours following the onset of heart attack symptoms are the most critical hours in the stricken person's life.

The Association pointed out that symptoms vary but these are the usual warning signs of heart attack:

- a. You may feel a prolonged, oppressive pain or unusual discomfort located in the center of your chest, just behind the breastbone.
- b. The pain may radiate to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw.
- c. The pain or discomfort is often accompanied by sweating.
- d. Nausea, vomiting and shortness of breath may also occur.
- e. These symptoms may subside and then return.
- f. Instant awareness of what may be happening, and immediate medical assistance, may well represent the difference between life and death insofar as the patient is concerned," said the Association.

It was emphasized that the person with a suspected heart attack should call his doctor immediately -- or, preferably, have someone do it for him.

"If for any reason you can't reach your doctor, do not delay but get help by the speediest means to the emergency room of the nearest hospital to get medical care at the earliest possible moment. Get there by the fastest method and with minimal physical exertion."

The urgency of speed, said the Heart Association, is dictated by the fact that many heart attack deaths result from electrical irregularities of the heart. These are most likely to occur shortly after the onset of symptoms. In many cases, the irregularities can be corrected in hospitals by fact that many heart attack deaths result from electrical irregularities of the heart. These are most likely to occur shortly after the onset of symptoms. In many cases, the irregularities can be corrected in hospitals by new electronic devices, new drugs and other techniques.

County Medical Center Names Advisory Task Force

The Nassau County Medical Center has named an advisory task force "to assess present programs and priorities and plan future direction."

Appointment of the 13-member task force was announced today (December 11, 1974) by Medical Center Superintendent Donald H. Eisenberg. The superintendent said that he had chosen the group "with the consent and encouragement of the Board of Managers and Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso." Caso said, "I am pleased that the new superintendent of the medical center is moving ahead both progressively and energetically."

The ad hoc task force will make recommendations to the Board of Managers on the role of the Nassau County Medical Center as a university-affiliated, county-supported hospital. It will consider, also, the present and future programs and priorities of the medical center. Eisenberg said that in the course of its meetings, "the task force will invite and receive comments and suggestions from responsible members of the public and/or representatives of consumer organizations active in the field of health care."

Eisenberg said: "It is a generally accepted principle that major health care providers have responsibilities that extend beyond the day-to-day delivery of services and that prominent among these responsibilities is an obligation to assess and plan for the needs of people who now and in the future can reasonably be expected to require their services. In order to fulfill this obligation, we should periodically assess our present programs and priorities and plan our future direction."

Named to the task force are Eisenberg; Deputy County Executive James Stuart; Social Services Commissioner Joseph D'Elia; Harold Adams, the commissioner of the Drug and Alcohol Abuse Commission; Mental Health Commissioner Isidore Shapiro; Health Commissioner Dr. John Dowling; Dr. J. Howard Oaks, the vice president of the Health Sciences Center at the State University of New York at Stony Brook; Henry Bang, the president of the Long Island Health and Hospital Planning Council.

Also: Thomas Cranshaw, the executive director of the Nassau-Suffolk Comprehensive Health Planning Council; Irving Flaumenbaum, president of the Civil Service Employees Association of Nassau County; Dr. James LaVine, the president of the medical staff of the Nassau County Medical Center; Dr. Platon Collipp, chairman of the executive committee of the medical staff of the medical center, and a representative of the Nassau County Medical Society to be designated by the society. The Rev. Arthur L. Mackey of the Board of Managers of the medical center will serve in an ex-officio capacity on the task force while medical center Administrator Edward J. Rosasco Jr. and Executive Assistant Stanley Wasserman will serve in a staff capacity.

Fight to Ban Offshore Oil Drilling Renewed

The fight to ban offshore oil drilling in Long Island Sound has been renewed by Assemblyman Joseph M. Reilly (R-Glen Cove).

Reilly this week pre-filed legislation banning offshore oil drilling in state-owned waters, including offshore drilling on Long Island Sound. He said his action came in response to the U.S. Interior Department's issuance of a map indicating that the sale of offshore oil drilling rights within three miles of Long Island beaches is being contemplated.

"Since it is clear that the Interior Department is siding with big oil interests against Long Island residents, it is necessary for us to take whatever steps we can at the State level to protect our own interests," Reilly said. Reilly said that, although currently plans to drill in Long Island Sound have not been announced, the history of oil industry exploitation in other areas of the country have made it imperative that the State act now to protect itself.

"The Interior Department explodes a new bombshell every other week," Reilly warned, "and once the oil industry gets its hooks into a region, it devours everything in sight."

Reilly further warned that drilling in the Atlantic Ocean off of Long Island, even if it occurred far offshore, would affect of Nassau County, including the North Shore.

"Offshore drilling requires extensive on-shore refineries, petrochemical complexes and no communities on Long Island would be safe or unaffected because auxiliary facilities would gobble up thousands of acres," Reilly added. The Glen Cove lawmaker pointed to the exploitation of communities in Louisiana, Texas and California where on-shore facilities sprawl far inland even when drilling may be as far as 50 miles offshore.

In 1972 Reilly introduced similar legislation which passed both houses of the Legislature but was vetoed by former Governor Rockefeller. Reilly said that he would push for early passage of the bill next month when the Legislature convenes.

"Next year, I hope the new Governor will recognize that the wolves are at the door and we have to establish legal barriers before the oil industry can turn Long Island into a petroleum province. Once the Interior Department gives the 'green light' to the oil industry, it will be too late," Reilly concluded.

County To Acquire Pratt Estate

Plans for county acquisition of the 212-acre Pratt Estate in Glen Cove moved ahead this week following a conference between County Executive Ralph G. Caso and Glen Cove Mayor - Supervisor Vincent Suozzi.

Action by the Board of Supervisors on the planned purchase was halted several months ago because of differing opinions on the proposed use of the estate, the last remaining large waterfront tract on either shore of Nassau County.

Caso and Suozzi directed their respective legal representatives to begin work immediately on drafting an agreement on use of the estate.

"Supervisor Suozzi and I are in substantial agreement that the estate should be developed as an education - conservation center," Caso said. "It would be maintained as a passive facility similar to county operated preserves in Muttontown and Sands Point."

Caso said the preserve would feature nature trails and a program of environmental education. It would be designed for scheduled use by groups, especially school groups.

"It is imperative that we move on this plan," Suozzi said. "Because developers have already announced plans to purchase the property - known as the Welwyn Estate - and construct 300 luxury condominiums."

Nearly every private and public environmental group in Nassau County, spearheaded by the Nassau County Environmental Management Council, has endorsed the county acquisition.

It is expected that the Board of Supervisors will approve the acquisition map during a meeting in January, 1975. A condemnation court will establish the purchase price.

Nassau Water Meets Safety Standards

"The water in Nassau County is safe to drink," according to Dr. John J. Dowling, Commissioner of the Nassau County Department of Health.

His comments were made in response to the signing of the Safe Drinking Water Bill by President Gerald Ford today (Tuesday, Dec. 17) in Washington.

The thrust of the new legislation, Dr. Dowling observed, is "laudable and has the endorsement of this Department." He noted that the bill requires the setting of standards of drinking water quality by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA.)

As a result of a conference between Dr. Dowling and Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso, the County will invite the EPA to study Nassau's underground water supply.

One major item missing from the law, the Commissioner said, is Nassau County -- the local government that is responsible for the quality of water supply. The bill, he stressed, affects only Federal and State controls, with complete disregard of County governments.

"Local -- those with the most knowledge of Nassau's water supply and its problems -- are not even mentioned in the legislation," Dr. Dowling indicated. "I don't understand how such an oversight could have been made."

"Local -- those with the most knowledge of Nassau's water supply and its problems -- are not even mentioned in the legislation," Dr. Dowling indicated. "I don't understand how such an oversight could have been made."

"The people of Nassau County can be assured," he continued, "that their water supply is of high quality. When a community water supply study was made by EPA in 1969, the agency commended Nassau County for the water management program carried out by the local Health Department."

"In contrast, EPA cited almost half of the nation's water supply for failure to meet even rudimentary requirements."

Dr. Dowling, referring to recent reports in newspapers and on television about drinking water problems facing cities which obtain their source from the Mississippi River, declared that the possibility of chlorine mixing with wastes from petrochemical plants to create cancer-producing substances does not exist in Nassau County. There is no petrochemical industry in this county and no other known wastes that combine with chlorine to create problems," he said.

"The presence of chlorine in Nassau County's drinking water does not constitute a health hazard," the Commissioner added. When properly administered, he pointed out, chlorine "provides a basic public health protection in drinking water" to prevent the "growth of organisms that carry disease." These, he advised, can come from either sewage or contaminated water, or both.

"I invite the agency to make Nassau County part of that study," Caso concluded.

Its membership is composed of local community-minded, business and professional men who live and work in the Hicksville area. These men joined Kiwanis for two major reasons: involvement in enjoyable Kiwanian fellowship and the opportunity to help improve life in their community.

Permanent Leisure Passes for Seniors

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso today announced the Leisure Passes held by some 70,000 Nassau senior citizens have been made permanent and do not have to be renewed. The photo passes — used for parks admission, half-fare rides on county buses and as general senior citizen ID — had been renewable each two years until Caso's ruling.

"The decision to make the passes permanent is meant to relieve our senior citizens of the need to make reapplication," Caso said. "For many that can be a hardship and, for some, a virtual impossibility."

Passes are available through the Department of Recreation and Parks seven days a week between 9 AM and 5 PM at the cafeteria in Eisenhower Park, East Meadow, and at the Caniague Park ice rink in Hicksville. They are also available weekends and holidays at Morley Park in North Hills, Roslyn Grant Park in Hewlett and the Nassau Arena in Long Beach, from 9 AM to 5 PM.

There is a one dollar fee for issuance of the ID card, which pays for the photo-taking process. That initial fee will continue. If a pass-holder loses his card, the dollar fee must be charged for replacement.

Time-lapse photographs show how gradual action of Grecian Formula 16 lets you control just how much gray you slowly get rid of - some of it or all of it.

White Plains, N.Y. — Hundreds of thousands of men all over the country are now using a remarkable product to control just how much gray they slowly get rid of. It is called Grecian Formula 16 and the results are simply amazing. Grecian Formula 16 is a practically clear liquid, as easy to use as hair tonic. This remarkable formula works for any color hair because it combines with the natural chemistry of the hair to recreate natural-looking color. There is no mess and no rub-off. You simply use it every day for two or three weeks until you slowly get rid of just as much gray as you want. Some of it, most of it or all of it. You can stop where you like. You are in complete control of how much gray goes or stays. Once you get rid of as much gray as you want, simply use Grecian Formula 16 once a week or so to keep it that way. Since Grecian Formula 16 works gradually over a period of time, even close friends won't notice the change happening. The resulting color is so completely natural that the hair definitely does not have a dyed look. Grecian Formula 16 is available at

Social Security

Doctor bills for October, November, and December may in some cases count toward the $60 annual deductible for both 1974 and 1975 under the "carry over" provision of Medicare medical insurance, according to Sydney Savrin, social security district manager in Mineola.

Medicare medical insurance doesn't pay for the first $60 in covered medical expenses in a calendar year. But people who haven't had covered expenses over $60 before October should be sure to send in all the bills for covered services they receive in October, November, or December.

Any expenses you have during the last 3 months of the year that can be counted toward your deductible for that year can also be counted toward the deductible for the next year.

The carry over rule helps people who might otherwise have to pay the $60 deductible twice in a short period of time-at the end of one year and at the beginning of the next year, Savrin explained.

Bills for covered medical services in Nassau County should be attached to a filled-out Request for Medicare Payment form and sent to Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Greater New York, Two Park Avenue, New York, New York 10016.

Medicare medical insurance helps pay for the doctor bills and many other medical expenses of people 65 and over, of disabled people who have been entitled to social security disability benefits for at least 24 consecutive months, and of many people with chronic kidney disease.

The medical insurance is the voluntary part of Medicare, funded by individual premiums and Federal general revenues. Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

OUR HICKSVILLE

is contributing his services as Legal Counsel. As of Christmas Day, promises of help have been made by The Sons of Italy (Galileo Galilei Lodge), The Elks and the Salvation Army. Contributions from approximately 40 families have been received. A family on Nicholai St. wrote that they had been giving up one meal a week to put money aside for the needy at Christmas, and after learning of the Moraces' situation immediately sent their contribution. A group of 4-H Girls took up a collection to help their neighbors in need. Several women have called to offer part-time help in caring for the children, but, Mr. Morace needs live-in assistance if he is to keep his family together. Baby Peter is still separated from his brother and sister. Mr. Morace has taken his vacation time from his job at Con Edison in New York to care for the older children in their home on Cottage Boulevard. He must return to work on January 6 and no one has yet been found to stay with them.

The Community of Hicksville is showing that it cares very much about the future of this Hicksville family. The Eileen Morace Memorial Fund now has the means to pay for several weeks of help, but we must think beyond such a temporary measure and provide for more permanent assistance to this motherless family. Contributions may be sent to the Eileen Marie Morace Memorial Fund, 22 Amherst Rd., Hicksville 11801. Detailed information is available by calling Georgia Christoforou, 822-0790 or Edna Edelstein, 938-5361.

Mr. Morace is deeply touched by the concern and support of his community. He has stated that he will do anything he has to in order to keep his family together, under his roof. Won't you please join in this community effort to help bring this family together once again?
