HCBE To Meet Jan. 27

How will they choose a new one? What is a Superintendent supposed to do? And what do we think about it? All these and other questions will be explored, beginning at 8:45 PM, Monday, January 27, at the Hicksville Library.

Also at this meeting, HCBE officers will be elected. The agenda will also include the selection by the general membership of three members of the HCBE Screening Committee. This committee recommends support of School Board candidates to the general membership.

The general public is invited. If you have information to contribute, or just want to listed, come to the Hicksville Library on January 27.

News From Our Attorney General

Will Distribute $9,000 To Animal Center

A judgment obtained by the Attorney General in Supreme Court, New York County, names Jacquie Collins of 125 East 83rd Street, New York City, who used the name "Animal Defense League" in the solicitation of funds for the sanctuary.

Restitution for Canary Island Tourists

A travel package promoted and sold as the Grand Canary Capers wasn't grand at all according to tourists who complained that promised accommodations and services were not available during their stay in the Canary Islands, Attorney General

Lefkowitz announced this week. As a result of an assurance of discontinuance entered into by Nationwide Leisure Corporation, 1 Huntington Quadrangle, Huntington Station, New York, and the Attorney General's office, a $3,000 escrow fund has been established for the tourists who claimed they were short-changed both on services and the number of days on the tour.

Speeds Up Shipments Of Free Books And Magazines

A financial publication which offered free books and pamphlets to consumers who subscribed to the magazine took up to 12 months to ship the materials to thousands of subscribers who took advantage of the offer, Attorney General Lefkowitz charged this week in announcing that the company has agreed to discontinue the complained of advertisements unless it can ship the materials within 30 days of receipt of an order. The Attorney General said that The Capitalist Reporter, Inc., 150 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, has entered into an assurance of discontinuance with his office to stop advertising printed matter when it does not have on hand a supply of the matter or a completed manuscript ready for printing.

$1 Million Restitution Fund For Florida Condominium Buyers

Attorney General Lefkowitz this week announced that a fund of $1 million has been established to assure compliance with a court order to make offers of restitution to hundreds of New York buyers of unregistered Florida condominiums. The order obtained by the Attorney General permanently enjoins Leadership Housing, Inc., of 2880 West Oakland Park Boulevard, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, from offering or selling unregistered condominiums in the state of New York. The firm is sponsor and builder of the Lime Bay Condominiums in Fort Lauderdale, and has been engaged in offering condominiums throughout the United States.

Consumer Protection Council Report

The New York Regional Consumer Protection Council, an organization consisting of 46 federal, state and local governmental agencies engaged in consumer matters, today released its report on consumer legislation priorities during the 1975 New York State Legislative Session.

The report was prepared by the Council's committee on legislation, chaired by Barbara B. Uptonowsky, Counsel to the New York City Department of Consumer Affairs. It stresses the need to provide individual consumers with an opportunity to enforce their own rights as consumers.

James J. Lack, Suffolk County Commissioner of Consumer Affairs and Chairman of the Council, outlined the specific changes in New York State law that are being recommended by the Council:

Class Actions

Several individuals who have a cause of action for a small sum of money are usually unable to band together and join their claims in a single law suit. Passage of legislation to provide class action redress is critical to give consumers the right to have their claims heard. The Council recommends a statute which would provide liberal conditions for aggregation of claims and for the allocation of cost and manner of notice to the members of the class.

Pre-Paid Legal Services

The rising cost of legal services has made legal services unavailable to members of the middle class. Legislation should be adopted to permit the establishment of legal service organizations similar to those which currently exist in the area of health services. The report recommends that legislation should provide for both open and closed panel plans.

Small Claims Court

The Council is recommending a number of measures to create additional small claims courts as well as to strengthen such courts where they presently exist. The report recommends the following legislation: authorization to establish small claims courts in any county or municipality; increasing the jurisdictional ceiling of the courts from $500 to $2,500; trouble damage penalties, plus attorneys' fees, against business defendants who have had three prior unsatisfied small claims court judgments; evening hours to facilitate consumers who work during the day; expansion of jurisdiction to include authority as well as plaintiffs in order that enforcement agencies and the press may monitor defendants which may have a large number of judgments against them.

Fair Trade Law

The Council recommends legislation which would repeal the archaic New York fair trade law which permits a manufacturer to fix a binding retail sales price.

Scheme to Defraud

Legislation should be enacted which would create a criminal anti-fraud statute in New York State similar to the federal mail fraud statute. Under existing New York State law, a district attorney must prosecute many frauds pursuant to a larceny format, which is often difficult to sustain.

Tear-Off Answer

Presently, there is an extremely high default rate in actions brought against consumers. In part this is because a consumer defendant must appear in court either personally or by an attorney. The Council recommends legislation that would provide for a simplified tear-off answer in certain actions. The consumer defendant would be able to simply mail a form answer to the court indicating an intention to defend the law suit.

Cancellation of Future Service Contracts

Consumers who contract for instruction and/or services, e.g., correspondence school lessons, use of health spas, etc., are often required to sign contracts for substantial sums of money. These contracts usually require the consumer to pay all or most of the original contract price even if the services are not used. Legislation is recommended which would allow consumers to cancel the contracts, paying only for actual services used plus a reasonable cancellation fee.

Revolving Charge Accounts

Many protections for consumers that have been enacted for consumer transaction have not been extended to revolving charge account situations. These loopholes should be eliminated by extending these protections, e.g., authorization of attorney fee limitations, on co-guarantor agreements, etc., to revolving charge account situations.

Notice of Default by Mail

Where debt collection law suits are brought against consumers, it should be required that a notice of default by the consumer be mailed first to the consumer's residence and, if returned, then to a consumer at his place of work.

Corporate Trade Names

Many corporations in the State of New York operate and advertise under trade names. This makes it virtually impossible for consumers to maintain law suits against such corporations. Legislation should be enacted which provides that when a corporation uses a trade name to do business and is readily identifiable by such trade name, it may be sued under the trade name.

A copy of the report has been sent to each of the New York State Legislators.

Lent On African Trip

During the next ten days or so while the House Democratic Caucus threshes out leadership and committee roles, a bipartisan group of medium-seniority Members is making a study trip to Africa. African businessmen, interested in improving commerce with the U.S. and exchanging ideas and discussing problems with the U.S. legislators, will be hosts for the visit. No government or taxpayers' money will be used to finance the trip.

Commenting on the trip, Long Island Congressman Norman F. Lent, a member of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee who will accompany the group, said, "The United States is rapidly becoming a 'have not' nation. Many of the metals, minerals and other commodities needed for our national well-being must be imported, and we must look increasingly to the African nations as major trading partners. They want products of the industrialized countries to raise the standards of living for their citizens, and we need their raw materials."

In addition to seeking better understanding and rapport with business and government leaders, Congressman Lent has asked for a meeting to discuss South Africa's modern coal gasification and liquefaction operation.

AT SUPERVISORS' MEETING

Roncallo's Job Arouses Opposition

BY JANET GOSNELL

Angelo D. Roncallo, former Congressman, was appointed a member of the Nassau County Board of Assessors by a split vote on Monday with Long Beach Supervisor Hannah Komanoff voting "nay."

The appointment appeared to be a sore point with the Democratic Committee, which sent Patrick McKew, of Malverne, to ask that the appointment be postponed. Richard Kessel, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the N.Y. Senate last year, a resident of Merrick, also protested, as did Dr. Ralph Sorley, of Rockville Centre.

At least two of the speakers referred to Roncallo's published comment that the job would "put food on the table" as showing what they felt might be a lack of dedication.

Roncallo replaces Joseph Colby, who resigned to become Town of Oyster Bay attorney, for a two-year term.

In other business, the Supervisors settled the matter of a storm water basin in connection with R.N.S. Development Corp., East Meadow, to the satisfaction of both parties; provided for additional compensation for night registrars at Nassau Community College; and awarded $32,250 each for programs on drug and alcohol addiction, including the East Meadow school district. The funds will be totally reimbursed by New York State.

The funds will allow the school districts to participate in the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education & Welfare's CORE program to instruct teachers in a "body systems" approach to drug and alcohol addiction.

The supervisors also renewed the chaplaincy agreements for public facilities at a rate of $121,615 with the L.I. Council of Churches; $92,200 with the Rockville Centre Diocese; and $23,875 with the New York Board of Rabbis.

The Board also voted to award the widow of Lawrence D. Meyer, who died of a heart attack while on duty on September 10, 1974, the benefits due a woman whose husband dies in the course of performing his job. The sum, in Mrs. Meyer's case, amounts to $18,956.61, which was her husband's annual salary, plus $1,000 for each of the couple's children.

Eleanor Berger, representing the Coalition for Responsible Government, a conglomerate of several organizations, spoke to protest against a proposal to have a dual referendum, asking the electorate to choose between a new 15-member County legislature and the reapportionment plan they rejected last November.

Recreation Conference

Recreation enthusiasts at all levels of operation, including students, are invited to attend the Fifth Annual Recreation and Park Mini-Conference on Sunday, February 9, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Hofstra University Student Center, Hempstead, New York.

"Reports indicate," said the Congressman, "that 90-octane motor vehicle fuel is being synthesized from low-grade coal at a cost below that of their petroleum gasoline. If so, this is

A pre-registration fee of $1 is effective until January 31. Registration on the day of the conference is $4; for students, $2. Dear Editor:
Town of Oyster Bay senior citizens over sixty-five years of age, who are eligible for the property tax reduction, are reminded that they must file for this special exemption each year. The exemption reduces County, Town and School District property taxes by fifty percent for those who qualify.

The Nassau County Board of Assessors is now accepting applications for exemptions which will be applied to the 1976 County and Town tax rolls and the 1975-76 school tax roll. The deadline for filing is May 1, 1975.

In order to qualify for this exemption, a senior citizen must meet the following requirements:

Be sixty-five years of age or older.

Have a combined income of all owners of $6,500 per year or less, including pensions and social security.

Have owned the property or a previous property in the same assessment unit for a period of two years.

Maintain the property as their legal residence and use it exclusively for residential purposes.

Have no children attending public schools (to receive a school tax reduction).

The exemption must be renewed each year.

A new, simplified form for renewal of the exemption has been developed by the Board of Assessors. A copy is being mailed to all senior citizens who presently have the property tax reduction. The new form requires applicants to answer two questions relating to ownership and income, enclose a copy of their last income tax statement, sign the form and return it to the Assessment Department.

New applicants can obtain the necessary forms from the Senior Citizens Section of the Nassau County Department of Assessment at 240 Old Country Road, Mineola, New York 11501 or by calling 535-2377.

Hoping that this information will be helpful to those to whom it applies.

Hicksville Soccer Club News

On Saturday, January 18, eighteen Midget teams from the Long Island Metropolitan area were welcomed by the Hicksville Americans for the 5th Annual Indoor Tournament. Among them were the defending champions, Gottschee, together with five other teams from the German-American League. The L. I. Soccer League was represented by ten teams, including two Hicksville American teams. CYO Soccer League entered a team from Nassau and one from Queens. The twelve teams that survived the elimination rounds on Saturday returned on Sunday. One of the Hicksville teams, coached by John Kerti, was included in this category.

As Sunday play entered late afternoon, Rockville Center, Gottschee, Oceanside and Tournament favorite, Massapequa claimed the top four positions. Rockville Center emerged victorious, 5-4, over Oceanside in a thrilling game decided in a "sudden death" overtime period in the first semi-final round. Immediately following, Massapequa convincingly defeated Gottschee, thereby avenging a previous defeat by that Club.

The winners of the semi-final contests then met to determine the tournament winner. Massapequa dominated Rockville Center from the start and won highest tournament honors with a 2-1 victory.

From a local point of view, the high point of the tournament came when Hicksville scored a 2-1 upset win over the eventual tournament champions, Massapequa.

In individual honors, the high scoring trophy was won by Ken Fabian of Rockville Center, Most Valuable Player Award was won by Vincent Blood of Massapequa, outstanding Goalie Trophy was won by Andrew Greenberg of Rockville Center, and the most important prize of all, the Sportsmanship Award was won by Joseph Lamoureux of Brentwood.

This exciting action will be continued this coming weekend as Boys Division teams meet in the second part of three stages in the Hicksville Indoor Tournament season. On Saturday and Sunday, January 25, 26, Hicksville Sr. High School will ring with the enthusiastic vocal support of the teams scheduled to appear beginning at 9 A.M. All parents, sponsors and residents are invited to attend.

Other Club activity over the weekend included an outdoor exhibition game at Garden City, by the Bantam team, coached by Tony Camara. Hicksville came away jubilant with a 3-0 win.

Plainview-Old Bethpage High School Sports News

BY MARK SILVERSTEIN

The Plainview Gull Basketball team started this season with two losses, game-wise and player-wise. The Gulls lost two straight games and three players. Both Bobby Bisca and Marc DeSimone are out for the season. Bisca has torn ligaments in his leg and DeSimone continues to have knee problems stemming from last year's football season. With this information you would think the Gull season would be over, but it's not - it's just begun.

Last Friday night at the Plainview High School the Gulls, in convincing fashion, beat Levittown Dion. Junior, Kenny Wach, did a superb job filling in for Bisca. Jerry Zanfardino and Brian Sullivan made valuable contributions both offensively and defensively all game long.

After the victory I had thought the post-game show on WPOB-FM would be a most happy one, until I was told by one of the players that Junior "sensation" Gary Catania, for a variety of reasons, might no longer be on the team as of this date.

As I said - the Gull season has just begun.

Thorough cooking is essential for fresh and uncooked smoked sausages. Cook gently, turning with tongs as the surface won't be broken and all the flavorful juices lost.

NO OBITUARIES IN HEAVEN

A little girl was blind from birth. Her mother would sit with her at the window and describe what she saw. In the spring she spoke of the tulips pushing out of the ground, the budding trees, the greening grass. In the summer she described the fullness of the vegetation, the squirrels playing in the trees. The fall, the changing colors of the leaves, the wispy clouds. The winter, the drifting snows, the frost on the window pane.

The little girl had an operation on her eyes, and she could see. When her mother came into the room she said, "Mother, why didn't you tell me it was so beautiful?" Her mother answered, "Honey, I tried, but I guess my words just weren't up to it."

When we lose someone close to us there are really no brilliant words which can do justice to the occasion. Our words just aren't up to it. As we mourn our loss, it is difficult for us to see beyond the moment. Death clouds our vision. It takes time for acceptance to begin and for hope to be restored. We grieve because we have loved. Our grief is simply an expression of our love.

For the Christian, physical death is merely the grand pause in life. He sees his loved one moving from earthly life to heavenly life. In time he is able to view heaven through the visionary eyes of St. John. If we join him in his look, we see the saints sitting around the throne of God. They are happy! And God Himself descends from His throne and wipes away every tear from their eyes proclaiming as He does that there is no more death, nor sorrow, nor crying, nor pain. All of that has gone forever.

And now if you look very hard. Do you see him? Do you see her? Your loved one who has gone before. And do you see it? There on his head. Over there on her head - sits the crown - the crown of everlasting life; for there are no obituaries in heaven - only life with God forever.

A Series In Three Parts

Our Houses Of Worship, Their Role In Community

As part of the January meeting of the Hicksville Community Council a discussion of the church's role in the community took place. All faiths had been invited to attend and participate. The following is a resume of what was discussed at this meeting:

PART I

Next Rabbi Joseph Grossman of the Hicksville Jewish Center spoke. He told those present that, as well as the usual Jewish Services, his congregation was looking for ways to increase attendance. The Hebrew School, which previously had had a larger attendance, now serves about sixty students. However, the Temple still serves in many areas such as Youth Groups beginning at the age of twelve, the Sisterhood and Mens' Club with their usual activities. Boy Scout and Cub Troops and Last but far from least, they have Senior Citizens Groups which meet at this Temple, which are growing and are non-sectarian. They meet on Tuesday for half a day and if there are any volunteers in the community available, sometimes transportation is needed for these Seniors.

Rabbi Grossman also mentioned that the Hicksville Jewish Center also responds to the Jewish requests in our Country and in Israel where needed, as much as they can.

Next Rabbi Hillel A. Cohen of Temple Beth Torah spoke. He mentioned that this Temple while partially in Hicksville also serves parts of Westbury and parts of Jericho. He told the audience that this Temple also has similar organizations as those who had spoken before him. As to their community involvement it is necessary to be involved in all three communities as the need arises, he said. Many individual members of this congregation are also active in Hicksville community efforts and activities, he concluded.

Father Dominic Ciannelli of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Hicksville spoke next. "This is God's world and we are His

A Local Church Is Growing

The Board of Trustees of Trinity Lutheran Church, 40 West Nicholas Street, Hicksville, recently received a report of great growth in the church's past six months. The report stated that average Sunday attendance was up 150 per Sunday over the same period of time a year ago. Over 650 worship at Trinity on an average Sunday. It was also reported that membership has increased along with giving. Of special interest was the large number of visitors to the church every week.

When asked about the phenomenon, the Reverend John H. Krahn, pastor of Trinity, replied, "Among other things I contribute the growth to the warmth of our people and the beauty of our worship services. Each week we make a special effort to meet the needs of people and lift their spirits through music, God's Word, and prayer. We believe Christ is the way to an exciting and fulfilling life, and we seek to share Him with others in a dynamic way."

"Singing Boys" Recruiting

The Singing Boys of Long Island is in the process of recruiting boys for its preparatory and concert choirs. In its six years the choir has distinguished itself in musical performances in New York City and throughout Long Island.

The Singing Boys of Long Island is a non-profit, non-denominational choir of boys ranging in ages from 9 to 18. Not only are the boys given quality vocal training and taught sight reading, but they themselves are instrumental in maintaining the tradition and the excellence of such groups as the Vienna Choir Boys. The Singing Boys of Long Island helps to develop a boy's knowledge, understanding, and appreciation of all phases of music. A choral program frequently blends selections from the Renaissance, the Romantic as well as the traditional songs of America.

The choir is a cultural force in a boy's total development. It provides him with opportunities to grow aesthetically, socially, mentally, and physically. In its short history many of the boys have traveled with their director to such countries as England, France, Germany, Spain, Italy, and Austria. In addition frequent weekend excursions have been offered to broaden their experiences.

The Singing Boys of Long Island is under the direction of Mr. Gerald Barker who has studied under Ferdinand Grossmann, the director of the Vienna Choir Boys. He holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Music Education from the University of Montana and the Master of Science Degree in Music Education from C. W. Post College of Long Island University.

Previous choral experience is not necessary to audition for the Singing Boys of Long Island. For further information call Area Code 516; 681-0492 or write: The Singing Boys of Long Island P.O. Box 205, Hicksville, New York 11801.

Plainview DECA Brings Holiday Cheer

On December 13, 1974 the Plainview chapter of D.E.C.A. (Distributive Education Clubs of America) made a holiday visit to St. Christopher's Home in Sea Cliff.

The names of the children in the Home that the party was organized for were: Cheryl, Marcia, Marcus, Matosha, Rhonda, Maria, Charlie, Herman, Sam, Myles, Victor, and Michael.

Everyone had plenty of apple cider and donuts. Among the Christmas games that were played were games such as "pin the bell on Santa's buckle", and "guess how many chocolate balls are in the jar". There was a grab bag too.

It was a special afternoon because the interaction of student and child was a unique experience. Everyone that went along found out what Christmas was really about... loving and giving.

Members from the Plainview Old Bethpage High School DECA Chapter at St. Christopher's Home for a Holiday Party with the children.

This activity involved long hours of planning, organizing, and hard work. Many thanks to Mrs. Grummelbaucher for allowing Plainview D.E.C.A. members to bring holiday cheer.

The D.E.C.A. members who shared the experience were: Kevin Bagnasco, David Pruzan, Michele Taub, Geraldyn Tan-

Receives Promotion

Walter F. Baldwin of Harrison Avenue, Hicksville, was appointed Skills Certification Manager, Bethpage Manufacturing Operations, at Grumman Aerospace Corporation this month.

Mr. Baldwin started at Grumman directly after graduating from Farmingdale High School in 1939, working his way through all aspects of Product Manufacturing. By 1969, he had been named Superintendent of Plant 5 when that Shop was building the L.E.M. (Lunar Excursion Module). During this period he met most of the astronauts who frequently visited Plant 5. Later, he became Manager of this Plant where all experimental, development, and structural testing of aircraft are conducted.

A commendation by Richard Sanchez, Director of Industrial Safety, cites Mr. Baldwin's long record of dedication to accident prevention dating back to 1968 and his role in establishing a Safety Committee, ably chartering this Committee in the ensuing years.

Mr. Baldwin is also an honorary member of the Hicksville Fire Department in which he served as Captain of Company 3.

"Walt", as he is known to everyone, and his wife, Naomi, have three children a daughter, Carolyn Moors; two sons, Jerry and Paul; and, the pride of the family, a grandson, Colin Moors.

Home economists for Union Carbide's Food Science Institute say that skinless franks make excellent finger food for the high chair set and they're nutritious, too. One large frank contains 6 grams of protein.

SEPTA Formed

At a meeting on Tuesday evening, January 7, held in the Faculty Room of St. Ignatius Old School, the Hicksville parents of children with handicapping conditions voted to form a Special Education Parent-Teachers Association. Present from the school family were Board of Education member Daniel Arena; Ed. Bello, Board representative to BOCES Advisory Council;

Assistant Superintendent Erwin Rozran; Martin Lapidus, Coordinator of Special Education; School Psychologists, Joseph LoGiudice and Gary Feldman; Lynn Dowling, Learning Disabilities Teacher; and Norma Dagna and Shirley Smith of Hicksville PTA Council.

Social Security

Social security welcomes help in getting information to people who may be eligible for supplemental security income, according to Sydney Savrin, social security district manager in Mineola.

The supplemental security income program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 or over or blind or disabled. The program is administered by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

"We've been making payments for almost a year," Savrin said. "Supplemental security income has been publicized in newspapers and on radio and television. There have been special campaigns to reach people who may be eligible. But we're still concerned that there might be people who don't know about the program and could be helped by the payments."

ENGAGED: Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth deJongh of Hicksville have announced the engagement of their daughter, Karen Melissa, to Glen Curtis Urschel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Urschel of Hicksville. Plainview Traffic Signal To Be Modernized

The traffic signal at Grohman's Lane and Old Country Road, Plainview, will be modernized so that Old Country Road traffic will be stopped only when a vehicle is actually waiting to enter from Grohman's Lane, Public Works Commissioner H. John Plock, Jr. announced today. A detector, or actuator, will be installed under the pavement to respond to the weight of the vehicle. Plock said the modernization is part of the County's program to eliminate unnecessary stopping and starting which wastes gas and creates air pollution. The installation, which will be completed within the next seven to eight weeks, is part of a two-year contract between the County and Broadway Maintenance Corp.

Circulation And Parking In The G-1 Zone

Our Chamber of Commerce Fights For Hicksville's Future

BY LAWRENCE SCALERA

Support State Legislation
After three years of pressure, cajoling and begging by the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, the Town Board of the Town of Oyster Bay on May 1, 1974 voted to support state legislation which would give it power to create a Special Hicksville Business Parking

District in an effort to promote construction of large office buildings in the area. The proposed special district would require a tax levy on business using the Municipal parking facilities.

This, essentially, is the same proposal first made in the Hicksville Triangle Plan and described earlier in this article. Three members of the Town Board voted against the bill. Councilmen Carman and Mosca felt demand for office space was not sufficient to warrant creation of the district and Councilman Saladino voted no because he feared unjust taxes would be levied on the small businessmen in the area.

The measure finally passed the Legislature but was vetoed by former Governor Wilson, for reasons which have never been clear, but which many have felt was because of the split vote on the Oyster Bay Town Board. Thus, the key provision of the Hicksville Triangle Plan has never been implemented and Hicksville development will NEVER get started until some form of Municipal parking is provided.

The only alternatives to Municipal parking is Underground Parking as presently legislated or wall-to-wall parking lots such as we see in the Mid-Island Plaza and Sears Complex on North Broadway.

The latter is 100 percent paving or building with no landscaping to break the urban ugliness. The purpose of the G-1 Zone was "to encourage the provision of a maximum amount of landscaped open space to reflect the suburban location of the area and the similarly suburban character of the community it serves."

Not Feasible
Wall-to-wall parking certainly will not accomplish this and underground parking is not economically feasible. Thus, we are faced with the following choices for the future of Hicksville:

(a) Retain the G-1 Zone as is and condemn Downtown Hicksville to economic stagnation.

(b) Take the G-1 zoning to Court, have the zoning revoked since it deprives the small landowner of the use of his land without due process (all the while charging high taxes for same) and end up with wall-to-wall paving.

(c) Make Municipal Parking a reality and get Central Hicksville moving. It makes no sense to have huge municipal parking lots going unused. For example: between Carl and Cherry Sts. West of Broadway, between Marie St. and Nicolai St. West of the LIRR, between Marie St. and Herzog Place East of Jerusalem Ave., all built for retail customers of a bygone era.

We think enough time has passed to test the quality of the G-1 Zone as presently constituted. Only two permits have been issued and these with multiple variances. Landowners in Downtown Hicksville pay tens of thousands of dollars each year in taxes and their land lies fallow. The key feature of the zoning - Municipal Parking - was delayed for years and finally defeated because of the division in the Town Board. The time has come for the landowners, the town councilmen and the Business and Community leaders of Hicksville to get together and solve this problem for the benefit of all.
