Hicksville SEPTA Faces Challenges

One of the first challenges to be faced by the newly forming Hicksville Special Education Parent Teachers Association will be an attempt to insure that handicapped children in School District 17 do not again lose their transportation to summer programs. Because of an austerity budget, the District withdrew such transportation in the summer of 1974. Hicksville SEPTA will seek the corporation of the School Board and District officials in avoiding similar situations in the future.

also complete work on its By-Laws.

All interested persons—parents, teachers, other professionals, friends of handicapped children—are invited to SEPTA meetings. Further information about the organization can be obtained by calling Mr. or Mrs. Sauerland at 935-8061. Mr. Sauerland is currently serving as Temporary President of Hicksville SEPTA.

PTA Founders Day, Feb. 27

Twenty-two years ago at Corte's on Hicksville Road, Hicksville Council of PTAs held its first Founders' Day Dinner. Lucia McIntosh, the first president of the combined PTAs in Hicksville, was chosen to be the honored guest, because of her outstanding work for the children and youth of our community. The evening was such a success that PTA Council decided to make its Founders' Day Dinner an annual event. And so it has been, with many deserving people being honored by the units and the community each year—Nina Plants, Dr. Eric LeBaron, Bernard Braun, Mrs. Quentin Foster, Mrs. Harry Gleckler, Leon Galloway, Mildred Polsenski, Olive Foran, William O'Donnell, Donald Abt, Louis Milleville, Mary Ruffa, Kathy Janca, Gerri McManus, Majorie Giannelli, Mrs. Marian Coffey, Felice Stein, John McGovern, Cornelius McCormack, Grace Crammer and Lou Penque.

This year PTA Council has again chosen to honor a distinguished Hicksville resident—Muriel Schwartz. Muriel has been active in PTA for 18 years, since she moved to Hicksville and her children started their schooling here. She has continued to work in various units, at various levels as all her children—Ann, Allen, Louis, Scott and Joseph—attended Hicksville schools. Muriel served Dutch Lane in many capacities, including Program Chairman, Council Delegate and PTA President for two years. She has also served on the Junior High and Senior High PTA Executive Boards. Her years in Council have benefitted all who worked with her as she served as Founders' Day Chairman, Treasurer, Scholarship chairman, Vice-President and President.

Her years of concern and work for the schools are many and fruitful. Muriel has worked on school board committees, taught pre-school, campaigned for school budgets and referendums, and volunteered as a helper in individualized instruction classes.

Muriel and her husband, Jacques, have also been very active in Boy Scouts through the years and have given countless hours to the Cubs and Scouts in the Hicksville area, primarily at Dutch Lane. She helped organized HAD and served two years on the Board of Directors, as secretary. In her "spare" time, Muriel helps Jack run the Ponderosa, the campsite they own in the Catskills.

She is, indeed, one of Hicksville's distinguished citizens, working for everyone in the community. PTA Council is very proud to have Muriel as "one of our own" and we look forward to demonstrating how special she is to our community at the 23rd Annual Founders' Day Dinner, to be held February 27 at the Salisbury Restaurant in Eisenhower Park. We invite all of Hicksville to join us in honoring Muriel Schwartz.

House Fires And False Alarms Hit Hicksville

By Ex-Capt. Owen Magee

During the last 2-week period Hicksville Volunteer Firemen answered 45 alarms, 22 fires, 14 rescue calls, and 10 malicious false alarms.

On January 23 Hicksville Vamps responded on a "Milk Row" a dryer fire at 144 Ohio St. The alarm came in at 11:48 a.m. Upon arrival, Vamps under 1st Asst. Chief Ray Schaaf found a very serious fire in progress. The fire had spread in a short time from the dryer in the basement to the rest of the dwelling causing heavy damage. During this fire a fire was set in the Sr. High School on Division Ave. Damage was minor.

On January 28, at 4:45 p.m., Hicksville Vamps responded to a house fire at 2 Marshall Lane. Upon arrival Vamps found a heavy fire and smoke condition. Fire had spread from the electric range to the rest of the kitchen area and burned up into the attic. Heavy damage was the result. 9 pieces of apparatus, 65 firemen under Chief Misturini responded. There were no injuries.

This past week fires in houses on Ormond Pl. and on Plainview Road also caused damage. One of the fires was a mattress fire. Upon arrival Vamps found the mattress half in and out of the second floor windows. Fortunately the blaze was extinguished before it could spread.

We wish to point out that any fire in a mattress or couch or chair is a potential dangerous situation. Once disturbed it can erupt in a flash. Please don't disturb any fire of this type. Call the Fire Dept. at once, evacuate and then ONLY THEN, if it is safe, should you put water on the fire. But we repeat don't disturb the fire.

Along with the house fires we of course have had the malicious false alarms rise up again. The increase in false alarms has prompted many cities to seek other means for citizens to report fires. Repeated false alarms will do one thing—erode the efficiency of the fire dept. After repeated false alarms, many during early morning hours, the response to a fire alarm from a fire alarm box is not going to be 100 percent. Studies in cities and towns show every department is cutting down manpower and equipment response to a box alarm, 90 percent of Hicksville calls coming from alarm boxes are false alarms. The solution? Increased police, patrol, concerned citizens, elected officials who will stand up and help us publicize the dangers of false alarms, harsher penalties, stricter judges. As you can see much can be done. Won't you help before a life is lost because firemen were delayed by a false alarm?

If you get the chance take in the movie "The Towering Inferno" at your local theater. Although it may be slightly overdone it does show what firemen face many times and what fire can do. After you see the movie, fire and what it can do will be on your mind. It is only a movie, but the message is clear. Fire is swift, knows no boundaries, strikes rich and poor alike.

Hicksville firemen mourn the loss of ex-chief Arnold Jeanson of Ladder Co. 1 who passed away last week. Chief Jeanson worked his way up the ranks and became Chief of Department in 1954. Arnold also served as water commissioner for the Hicksville Water District. His hard work, service to community will be missed by us all. Ex-Chief Arnold Jeanson has answered his last alarm.

SAFETY TIP: Give some thought to the purchase and installation of a smoke detector in your home. The early warning could save you and your loved ones.

East St. PTA

our celebration along with the regular membership.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Mr. Bob Pirrung, President of the Board of Education. He will discuss the preliminary budget and plans for the 1975-76 school year.

HHS Bicycle Club Sponsors Bike Clinic

"You can take care of your bike by doing regular maintenance yourself, or you can wait for a breakdown and pay a bike shop a high fee to fix it for you." That was the opinion expressed by Mr. Ricky Krahn at an open meeting of the Hicksville High School Bicycle Club on Tuesday, January 21. Mr. Krahn demonstrated and explained the many ways a bicyclist can ensure himself a safe, easy riding vehicle.

Mr. Krahn, a Hicksville graduate, has been interested in bikes for many years. A veteran of cross country tours, he is also a contributor to a book on cycle tours.

The Bicycle Club is a group of high school students who like to ride and also want to promote safe bicycling. They have taken several rides in Nassau and Suffolk counties and are now waiting for the spring thaw to let them resume their interrupted activities.

Mr. Krahn brought a ten-speed bike and the tools he recommends for the dedicated biker. At the same time he invited the audience and others interested to a free bike repair course being given at Brands Cycle Center, 1966 Wantagh Avenue on Thursday evenings from 7:00 to 9:00 PM. Registration can be made by phoning SU1-6100.

The meeting was opened by Bicycle Club President Michael Cook. Also present were the teacher co-sponsors, William Horne and Dr. Eric A. Hirst. Michael Cook announced that any student could join the club by attending meetings and that there were no dues.

To Phase Out Day Care Centers

The Nassau County Department of Social Services will phase out its two day care centers in Lakeview and Uniondale. The Department will continue to provide day care service to children of public assistance recipients through private centers and in family day care homes.

The decision to close the County Day Care Centers, announced today by Nassau Social Services Commissioner Joseph A. D'Elia, is an economy move to save money. Currently, the County spends an average of $120 per child per week in the two centers.

D'Elia stressed the acute problem of curbing escalating costs in Day Care, balanced against the mandated ceiling for day care service set by New York State of $50 per week per child.

The effect a smooth transition for the families involved, the Centers will be closed gradually. The school-age program will be phased out by March 30, 1975. The pre-school program will end June 30, 1975.

A third County Day Care Center, located in Elmont, was closed in June, 1974. At that time, operational costs for the three County centers averaged $145 per child per week. Since then, the Social Services Department has waged a vigorous effort to curtail costs of operating the County centers, resulting in a 1975 Budget projection of $110 per child per week for day care service in the two Centers.

D'Elia emphasized that closing the County-operated Centers does not mean curtailment of Day Care service. Parents of children currently attending the County Centers will be assisted in planning alternative placements for their children, either in private day care centers or in family day care homes. The County will continue to fund day care for those who meet eligibility criteria, according to State regulations.

The two County Day Care Centers currently have a total enrollment of 174 children: 89 in Lakeview and 85 in Uniondale.

In addition, the County purchases day care service for 453 children from 15 private centers. The Family Day Care program, operated by the County, provides care for 529 children. Day care costs in private centers average about $45 per week per child. Family Day Care mothers are paid $25 per week per child assigned to care.

D'Elia met Wednesday, January 22, with representatives of the two Day Care Center Advisory Councils, to discuss arrangements for closing the Centers. Council members were reassured that the County will continue Day Care service, and that parents of eligible children have the option of care in private centers or day care homes. Social Services staff will work cooperatively with parents to plan alternative child care.

Volunteers Needed

Did you know that The Salvation Army is actively engaged in the job of helping people in your community?

The Salvation Army maintains Service Unit Committees in 59 Nassau communities including your own. They consist of a cross section of concerned local people who act as volunteer representatives of the "Army", and help administer programs and services within their areas to deserving individuals and families.

The Salvation Army has a reputation for "Getting The Job Done", and if you feel you can help your community by becoming an active volunteer in your local Service Unit, please contact our Salvation Army Service Extension Headquarters by mail at 111 Willis Avenue, Mineola, 11501 or call a Salvation Army representative at 747-4902 for details concerning membership.

KICKING OFF SUPER WALK '75: January 31st has been designated as March of Dimes Day at the Nassau Coliseum. Super Nets Star, Julius Erving, (Dr.J.), the 1974-1975 Chairman of the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon, will kick off this year's Walk-a-thon -- the "Super Walk" -- at half-time during the Nets vs. Denver Rockets basketball game. 1974 March of Dimes walkers have been offered special discount tickets for that night.

1975 is the year of the "Super Walk". Last year, over 14,000 walkers joined together at Eisenhower Park for the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon, to raise over $250,000 to help the fight against birth defects. Nassau County's all out support of the Annual Walk-a-thon has earned it the No. 3 spot in the Nation and No. 1 in New York State. This year the Nassau County March of Dimes has hopes of being No. 1 in the nation.

Julius Erving will receive a trophy from little four-year old Jennifer Brower, of Rockville Centre, the newly-crowned 1975 Poster Child. Jennifer was born with a useless, twisted arm and now uses her prosthetic arm to do just about everything a kid does.

For Jennifer, it'll be a big day as she meets the public and helps "Dr.J." launch the 1975 March of Dimes campaign against birth defects. Pictured is Jennifer as she meets her idol, "Dr. J.", to plan for the big day.

Bike - Route Signs To Go

Public Works Commissioner H. John Plock, Jr. announced today that the Nassau County Public Works Department began removal of 200 bicycle route signs on Wednesday, January 22.

The green and white signs were erected in 1967 as part of an attempt to create a bicycle route system utilizing county, town and village roads.

"We have found that these routes were infrequently used due to heavy traffic and because some villages refused to authorize the installation of the signs, thus creating gaps in the route or lengthy detours," Plock said.

"We do, however, recognize the need for such a service to our bicycle riding public. The Department of Recreation and Parks has developed a new system of nine suggested bicycle trips which can now be used by county residents," Plock stated.

Plock said that the nine routes avoid heavy traffic and are continuous. Information regarding their locations can be obtained in a bicycling brochure which is available at any county park and in most Nassau schools and libraries.

The old signs will be "recycled" by the Traffic Engineering sign shop into parking and other informational signs.

Park's indoor ice rink.

Fletcher and Richard Stack.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sheila,

I am writing you this letter to thank all of the Hicksville Community for a successful effort you all made in helping me to keep my family together. Without the help, my financial burdens would have been such that it would have been impossible for us to have the wonderful housekeeper we do. We love her.

I would now like to share with you my last conversation with Eileen. It was the night of November 24th; it was the last night she was to be conscious. I feel she had a premonition that she was going to leave us...leave the ones she loved so dearly. She made me promise that I would not split the family, that we were to remain together no matter what. She then said, "Honey, just love them the way we love each other." I kissed her, but I could not acknowledge the fact that she was going to leave us. She, being drugged, fell asleep. At 10:15 p.m. that night the doctor called to tell me that Eileen was in a coma.

I could not have carried out her wishes if it weren't for the kind of people that live in the Hicksville Community. People who care. People who love.

I would like each and everyone of you to feel that you did more than contribute to a fund. You all contributed to fulfill a mother's last wish; her family is indeed together. Now that we are together, Eileen, I'm sure is resting in peace.

Today I feel I am a very fortunate man. I live in a community that proved they love me and my children. I have three beautiful, healthy children. Most of all I have a priceless memory of Eileen. This memory can never be erased.

My marriage was short in years (ten) but what Eileen gave me and our children in those ten years, I couldn't selfishly expect to have had if I been married fifty (50) years.

Ten years ago with the death of Eileen's grandmother, I wrote her a poem to give her a lift. Today as I read this poem it gives me a lift. I now apply it to my situation it goes like this:

"Sickness will be, death will come,

Love like ours God gives to some, I may be strong, you may be meek, but together, we shall go out to seek.

Seek a future with yesterday's sorrows, Seek a future with happy tomorrows, Arguments will come, arguments will go But in the end our love will grow."

I realize that death did indeed come to the Morace household. It is truly yesterday's sorrow.

Our happy tomorrows, with the help the community gave me, have only begun.

Surely our love, mine and my children's will grow and grow, not only for each other but for everyone we contact.

I would like to thank all of you on behalf of Eileen, and her children, for making what

Long Island is an automobile-oriented region. Public transportation is limited to an east-west movement provided by the Long Island Railroad, plus a number of fragmented bus systems. In my opinion a gasoline tax at either the Federal or State level will have disastrous effects on our local economy unless alternative public transportation systems are available.

I was pleased, therefore, to learn that legislation to provide for an ongoing program of operating assistance for public transportation has been introduced by Assemblyman William L. Burns and State Senator John D. Cammerer in the State Legislature. The bill calls for additional State aid for mass transportation while placing a ceiling on the matching share required from local municipalities. The legislation will serve to encourage increased usage of mass transit facilities thus reducing energy demands, traffic congestion and air pollution. It should also serve to prevent unreasonable increases in commuter fares.

The bill also provides for the creation of a State Transportation Board, which will be charged with the development of a comprehensive, balanced transportation plan to meet present and future State-wide needs. An incentive fund is also

A Series In Three Parts

Our Houses Of Worship, Their Role In Community

As part of the January meeting of the Hicksville Community Council a discussion of the church's role in the community took place. All faiths had been invited to attend and participate. The following is a resume of what was discussed at this meeting:

PART III

Next the Rev. Douglas MacDonald of the Parkway Community which covers Hicksville, Westbury and Levittown spoke of some of this church's programs such as their Youth and Adult groups, which also includes five A.A. groups, 2 Al-Anon groups, a teen age group of Alco, one group therapy for mentally disturbed group, and many young people recreational programs including 4-h groups. Rev. MacDonald spoke particularly of the Coffee House for Senior Citizens which meet at this church on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Luncheon is available to participating Senior if they so desire and there are many interesting projects and programs available to those who attend. As to the world community, this congregation has been responsible for sending 1500 lbs of clothing for world needs, as well as innumerable food baskets. They also help to support an Indian school and a school in Kentucky.

Next the Rev. Theodore Grant pastor of Lutheran Redeemer Church, told of this, the community's youngest church, having served over 700 runaways and people who are homeless, for the past seven years. Known as The Church of the Open Door, as well as the usual church services and programs, this church maintains an emergency service for those in immediate need until they are established on welfare. Rev. Grant spoke of the lack in Nassau County Hicksville of inexpensive housing such as provided in other areas by the YM and YWCA, plus inexpensive food and housing for the elderly. If you know of anyone who would share their home contact Pastor Grant.

St. Stephens also conducts a unique program of prayer and healing on Sunday evenings. Rev. Perez concluded his remarks by saying, "The most important thing that the community can do for us is to pray for us."

Hicksville Soccer Club News

Eighteen teams from the Long Island Metropolitan area competed in Boys Division Play, at the Hicksville Senior High this past weekend, in the second Phase of the Annual Hicksville American Indoor Soccer Tournament.

The defending champions, the German-Hungarians survived Saturday's elimination rounds, as did the tournament favorite Hicksville Red, and joined the twelve teams on Sunday fighting for the 1975 championship. Hicksville Blue also qualified, tying for fifth place.

The "Cinderella team," Gottschee, barely qualified on the first day of play, but they came out strong on Sunday and swept thru six opponents to secure a berth in the semi-finals. Hicksville Red claimed second place while Deer Park and Blessed Sacrament earned their play-off positions.

Gotschee and Hicksville Red easily won their semi-final games with Gotschee defeating Blessed Sacrament 3-1, and Hicksville beating Deer Park 4-1. In the final game, Hicksville Red dominated, beating Gotschee 4-0 and avenging their only loss of the entire tournament. This victory maintained an unblemished record for Hicksville Red of six consecutive indoor tournament triumphs.

Individual awards were presented to Bob Beuen, of Hicksville Red, for High Scorer in the tournament, and to Scott, Cahalan of Hicksville Blue for Sportsmanship. The Club is proud to have a member selected for the Sportsmanship Award. This is what athletics is all about.

The Banham Division Tournament will be held in two weeks, February 8 & 9, beginning at 9 A.M. each day at the Senior High School. The public is invited to attend this last Tournament of the winter season.

REMINDER: Get your tickets for the Soccer Club dance to be held on February 15th. Tickets are $10.00 per couple. Call Angela Sini at 735-8937 for tickets and information.

Appointed To NFPA Council

Martin J. Hughes of HICKSVILLE is a lieutenant in the New York City Fire Department, has been appointed a two-year member of the newly-formed Advisory Council of the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA). He was among 99 persons selected to serve on the Council which was recently approved by the NFPA Board of Directors.

The Council has been organized to maintain and strengthen the relationship between NFPA members and the management of the Association which is recognized as the nation's clearinghouse on fire information. The specific mission of the Advisory Council will be to supplement NFPA's Board of Directors input to help guide the Association's policies, activities, and growth patterns.

A non-profit organization, NFPA sets fire protection and prevention codes and standards, and has been fighting destructive fire since 1896.

One basic function of NFPA is educating the public to the hazards of fire. Over the year, NFPA has focused public attention upon such problems as fire danger in the home, escape planning, consumer tips to the public on the purchase of fire alarms and extinguishers, dangerous design and construction practices in dwellings and buildings.

Another NFPA function is engineering the best practicable barriers to the start and spread of fire and the most reliable means of protecting life in the event of fire through advisory codes and standards. Development of these codes and standards is in the hands of technical committees served by close to 3,000 experts in their respective fields.

NFPA sponsors internationally-observed special events and authors numerous special publications on fire safety for children and adults. Because of its experience, expertise, extensive fire record data, numerous fire prevention programs and other involvement with every component of the problem over a period of almost 80 years, NFPA provides a unique service to the general public.

Two Nassau County sewage-treatment plants may be powered by windmills within five years and as early as 1977 if the needed funding is obtained. Francis E. O'Connor, the county's Commissioner of General Services, has announced.

Moreover, windmills can provide a substantial supplementary source of energy for Long Island generally.

According to Dr. Pasquale M. Sforza, of Polytechnic Institute of New York, "the wind is abundant, free and non-polluting, and, certainly, with advances made in environmental engineering and aerodynamic design, we can harness it to the needs of Nassau County and the rest of Long Island."

The last full-scale technical effort to harness wind power in the United States occurred in the early 1940's, when the world faced an energy problem similar to the current crisis.

Dr. Sforza, Associate Professor of Aerospace Engineering and Applied Mechanics at Polytechnic's Long Island Center in Farmingdale, noted that "we must take advantage of the present unfortunate situation and use all technical knowledge developed since the forties to ensure that this alternate source of energy is used as fully and promptly as possible."

Cooperating in the sewage-treatment project are the Nassau County Bureau of Energy Conservation, the Grumman Aerospace Corporation, at Bethpage, and Polytechnic Institute of New York. Dr. Sforza is directing the Polytechnic role in the project.

The two Nassau County sewage-treatment plants, at Bay Park and Cedar Creek, generate 60 per cent of their power by burning natural gas and fuel oil at an annual cost that may reach $1-million. The other 40 per cent of the power for these plants is derived from methane gas, produced in the treatment of raw sewage.

"If wind power proves economically feasible for the Nassau County sewage-treatment project, it would eliminate pollutants and the other adverse environmental effects of using natural gas and fossil fuels at these plants," Commissioner O'Connor said.

Other advantages would include making the two plants relatively inflation-proof, because operating costs would be constant, compared to spiraling increases in conventional fuel costs, and meeting the Federal goal of taking alternate-energy programs out of the experimental stage and putting them to everyday use.

"There is little doubt that it is technically feasible to generate electric power through windmills," Dr. Sforza said, "but the windmill approach must be made economically feasible in comparison to more conventional energy sources."

Among problems on the cost-effectiveness of windmills are high initial capital investments, the need for effective methods of storing the energy generated and the fact that wind abundance is not constant but variable.

"Through refinements in technology, we are certain that we can find answers to these problems," Dr. Sforza said.

Project researchers will make field and laboratory studies of wind conditions and terrain effects at available sites to determine the best locations for wind generators capable of maximum power output. They will also gather information to aid in the design and construction of the wind generators.

The construction of wind-generating facilities needed by the two sewage-treatment plants may take two to five years, depending on the amount of power to be supplied. Data from a National Aeronautics and Space Administration experimental, 100-kilowatt wind-generator tested, under construction in Ohio, will be used in the Nassau County project. The Ohio testbed will help provide modern data on the cost of constructing and operating the Nassau County wind generators.

"We will use the NASA data as well as our own estimates to determine the economic factors involved," Dr. Sforza said. He is "optimistic that the cost may be substantially less than the cost of operating the two sewage-treatment plants by conventional fuels."

The next stage in the project will be a large-scale implementation study leading to the construction of an experimental testbed for the two Nassau County sewage-treatment plants. The date by which the plants can be powered by wind generators will depend on the amount of power needed and on the time it will take to construct the generators, according to Dr. Sforza.

A typical wind generator consists of a large streamlined generator mounted on top of a tower and driven by two or three-blade propeller-like rotors facing the wind. Winds of ten to twelve miles an hour will start the generators. Doubled wind velocity will increase the generator's power output eight times.

Polytechnic's research on wind is not limited to its use as an energy source.

"We are also investigating wind as part of the total environment, including its effects on the dispersal of pollutants," Dr. Sforza noted.

Polytechnic researchers recently worked on the problems of determining wind and other environmental effects on a new domed stadium for the Detroit Lions' football team.

"We built a model of the stadium and placed it in the wind tunnel at our Long Island Center to determine how to maintain the best possible environment in the stadium for fans watching a football game," he said.

Using the wind tunnel, Polytechnic researchers have also done extensive research on the effect of wind on various structures and, conversely, on the effect of certain structures or terrain, urban and rural, on wind currents.

"This included illustrating the effects of local terrain on the dispersal of pollutants from a smoke stack," Dr. Sforza noted, "which showed us that a 300-foot chimney might end up spreading pollutants as much as a mile away in heavier densities than in the immediate vicinity of the stack, because of terrain characteristics."

"We are sure that the application of this type of technology to industrial and government problems will prove most helpful, especially in planning," Professor Sforza said.

Probation Department Receives Federal Grant

A $240,000 federal grant has been awarded the Nassau County Probation Department for development of a supervisory program for children 16 years of age and younger having early difficulties with the law. County Executive Ralph G. Caso announced today.

The project, known as "Juvenile Intercept", will be funded by the Federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Nassau County Criminal Justice Coordinating Council and the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services. The year-long program will begin operation after a four month lead-in period for staffing and research.

"The goal of Juvenile Intercept, is to prevent our young people who get into trouble once from making the same mistake again," Caso said. "This will be an experimental program in early prevention."

Probation Department

Director Louis J. Milone explained that under state law, youngsters referred to his department's intake unit for truancy, incorrigible behavior or other non-criminal acts may be handled through the Family Court or they may be counseled informally by staff at the screening level. According to Milone, the project will serve the twofold purpose of "improving the counseling services provided individuals as well as upgrading the entire rehabilitative system itself."

Participate will be drawn from all new referrals received by the department during a nine month test period. One out of every two youngsters will be placed in the special project with the remainder of the cases receiving normal supervision and used as a control group.

Rehabilitation work will differ in the two groups in the intensity of use of field work, school visits, home visits and community contacts.

Morton Estrin

MORTON ESTRIN, Hicksville's own master pianist, will again perform at the Hicksville Public Library on Sunday, February 9 at 3 p.m.

The past year or so has seen Morton Estrin involved in a mammoth recording schedule, having produced five discs including eighty-three pieces of music. The music covers all styles ranging from Bach to moderns. Reviews from throughout the country have been uniformly enthusiastic. Concerning Mr. Estrin's Brahms record STEREO REVIEW said: "I find everything about Mr. Estrin's playing and the recording of it richly satisfying... An absolutely first-rate job." SOUNDINGS NORTHWEST of Seattle, Washington called this a "very highly recommended Brahms recital recording" while the LISTENING POST said "No better version of these pieces is currently available."

Elected to EHI Board Of Directors

Richard C. Botto, president of Botto Bros. Plumbing & Heating Contractors, Inc., at 128 Woodbury Road, Hicksville, has been elected a member of the Board of Directors of Electric Heat Institute of L.I.

The organization is composed of electrical contractors, plumbing contractors and others in the related trades engaged in the installation of electrical heating equipment. The purpose of the organization is to inform the public, through a series of newspaper ads, about the true nature of electric heating costs in relation to the operating costs of other fuels.

According to Mr. Botto, electric energy source for heating compares favorably with other sources for heat in general use. "It is important," he said, "that the public be fully informed, particularly in view of our dependence on outside oil sources and the threat of the Arab oil producing countries to raise the price of oil products."

"In fact," he commented, "electricity as a source of energy for heating offers many advantages not found in other sources now in use."

Now president of the plumbing and heating firm founded by his father in 1937, Mr. Botto is a graduate of Hicksville High School, class of 1951, where he was a member of the football team. Active in civic and business affairs in Hicksville, he is a Past President of Hicksville Kiwanis Club, a member of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce and a Salvation Army Volunteer Worker. He is also, and has been for three years, a member of the LILCO Heat Dealers Council.

He is married to the former Mary Clinco and for the past 12 years has resided in Hauppauge. The Botto's have three children: Rosane, 19, a student at C.W. Post College; Hunter, 17, is a senior in Hauppauge High School; Roger, 13, attends Brenton Woods School in Hauppauge.

Craft Classes Set

Quilting, lacemaking and rug hooking are the subjects of a new craft series sponsored by the Friends of the Nassau County Museum and scheduled to begin the third week in February.

Limited to only twelve students per class to afford individual instruction, the classes will be held at the Old Bethpage village restoration Reception Center, located off Round Swamp Road in Old Bethpage. Each class will run for five consecutive weeks from 1:30 to 3:30 PM.

The quilting series, taught by Jane Blaurock of Wantagh, a noted practicing craftsman, adult education program quilting instructor and Long Island Fair prize winner, will include a history of the craft and will also explore pieced work, applique and trapunto. Students will learn patterns such as Sawtooth, Nine Patch, Five Stripe, Duck's Foot in Mud and Bear's Tracks, and will gain experience in cutting patterns, planning colors and assembling units. The series will begin on Tuesday, February 18 and will continue through February 25, March 4, 11 and 18.

An introduction to the initial steps in making netting and embroidering will be the highlight of the lacemaking course, taught by collector and exhibitor Ruth Hellmann of Westbury. The instructor, who is a consultant to the Metropolitan Museum of Art and has extensive research experience in European 17th and 18th century lacemaking, will also cover Tenerife and Irish crochety and will provide a description and demonstration of bobbin lace and needlepoint lace. The class will begin on Thursday, February 20, and will continue on February 27, March 6, 13 and 20.

The rug hooking class will be instructed by Norma E. Pelletier of Dix Hills, an adult education program instructor and National Guild of Pearl K. McGowan Rug Hook-Krafters Inc. member. The course, which begins on Friday, February 21 and continues on February 28, March 7, 14 and 21, will explore the method of hooking a rug, pattern selection and implementation, techniques, tools, material selection and preparation, dyeing techniques, blocking and the finishing of the completed project.

The fee for each of the five-week classes is $18, or $15 for members of the non-profit Friends organization. Registration forms may be obtained by contacting the Friends of the Nassau County Museum, Muttontown Road, Syosset, N.Y. 11791, or by calling (516) 364-1050. Because the size of each class will be limited to only twelve persons, early registration is advisable and registrations will be honored by date of receipt.

Marino On "Victims' Rights"

State Senator Ralph J. Marino, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Crime and Correction, has proposed that New York State adopt a Victim's Bill of Rights to assure emergency aid and community support to victims of crimes.

Marino will recommend that Nassau serve as one of four communities included in a demonstration Crime Victim Advocate Program. The program will be composed of a four-member team which, when alerted by police, would swing into action to meet the emergency needs of victims, such as:

-providing the victim and his/her family with comfort, escort, food, clothing, transportation, and personal protection.

-informing the victim of his/her rights and offering access to medical care and community services.

-acting as the victim's ombudsman with family, police, hospital, employer and government agencies.

Said Marino, "Preoccupation with crime statistics and the criminal too often obscures the traumatic consequences for victims and their families. Their period of greatest need is immediately following a crime in which a citizen has been injured or killed. It's time we assured victims rights equal to those we give criminals."

"A fall-out benefit of the kind of care and succor a Victim's Advocate offers is that the victim will be more cooperative in assisting the cause of prosecution against the perpetrator. Too many dismissals of vicious criminals occur as a result of such things as the victim's fear of reprisal, a disinclination to spend days in court when there is a job to be held or a family to care for, or ignorance of his/her rights."

Marino's proposal was based on a concept recommended by the Senate Task Force on Critical Problems. The Task Force estimates that $120,000 would be required to fund each four-member team. If the demonstration program is deemed successful, Marino recommends long-range funding through a private anti-crime foundation or a schedule of matching public funds to private grants. "By encouraging volunteerism, we would increase the program's resources and attract community participation into a modern-day Samaritan program," said the Oyster Bay Republican.

The lawmaker estimates that only 2 per cent of the 50,000 subjected to violent crime receive compensation each year from the Crime Victim's Compensation Board amounting to no more than $2 million. "To add insult to literal injury," said Marino, "the state spends close to $8 million a year on defender programs, including $2.9 million for legal services and protection of the civil rights of defendants. The victimized citizen deserves as much concern."

Actuated Traffic Signals

Motorists on Nassau County roads are making fewer needless stops for red lights than in the past thanks to the growing use of traffic-responsive or "actuated" signals. In the 10 years since a traffic engineering unit was established in the Department of Public Works, 400 signals have been converted from fixed-time to actuated, and another 100 actuated signals have been installed at intersections previously without signals. Of the 500, 150 have been financed by Federal and State aid under the TOPICS (Traffic Operations to Improve Capacity and Safety) program.

Actuated signals are the type that won't change unless vehicles pass over a detector buried in the approach lanes. Public Works Commissioner H. John Plock, Jr. said, "Most of these traffic-responsive signals are located at the intersection of a main highway and a local side street. The detectors are put under side street approaches, and the signal will always remain green on the main street unless a vehicle is actually waiting on the side street."

"I believe this program is making a major contribution energy conservation, pollution control and safe driving, to say nothing of better tempers and lower blood pressure," Plock added. "Unnecessary stopping, idling and starting waste fuel and pollute the air."

According to Paul Streb, Director of Traffic Engineering, a significant amount of drivers' time is also saved, especially on heavily traveled highways, many of which carry in excess of 25,000 vehicles per day. In addition, the vehicular carrying capacity of the highways is increased by the installation of these signals as unnecessary congestion caused by arbitrary green and red time intervals is eliminated.

Most of the detectors consist of a simple energized loop of wire installed in a slot cut into the pavement and are not visible to motorists. Some of the older types are visible as metal plates in the road but are rarely used now because they wear out quickly from passing traffic.

At some major intersections where two high traffic volume highways cross such as Old Country Road and Glen Cove Road, detectors are installed under all approach lanes, and a mini-computer controller is used to pre-rate the time given to various traffic movements that are detected.

Plock said that all 1,236 County-owned signals will eventually be converted to traffic-responsive types.

In Kindergarten at Dutch Lane

The Kindergarten children love to play the rhythm band instruments and Kim McCabe enjoys the maracas in the band, in her class in the Dutch Lane School.

One day while at home, Kim saw the plastic egg that her mother had from her panty hose, and thought of making a maraca of her own. She put designs on the plastic egg with a marking pen, filled it with a few old beads, and asked her father to attach a stick to the shaker. He placed it on a wooden stick with a screw, and now she could shake it and make music.

Mrs. Wade's Kindergarten has

Share And Tell every day, and each Wednesday is Kim's turn to contribute. Last week Kim showed us her maraca, and how she made it, and how her father helped to put it together.

When our school nurse came in to talk to the class, she saw the maraca that Kim made, and when she heard that I was interested in having enough of the plastic eggs so that the whole class could make maracas, Mrs. Donovan offered us her treasure trove. She had been saving them for use as Christmas ornaments, and didn't need them all.

It was decided that it would be interesting to cover the plastic eggs with a collage, using pages from an old magazine, cut into small shapes, and glueing the pieces down. This would give the children some additional practice in cutting and pasting, as well as making an attractive finished product. When the egg was covered, Mr. and Mrs. McCabe helped us out by bringing enough sticks and screws to school to help each child complete his maraca. The children filled their maracas with small beans, closed them up, and added a coating of liquid polymer to give them a hard, shiny, finished appearance. Each child chose the amount of beans he desired, thereby giving each maraca an individual tone. The more beans the deeper the tone, the less the sound was higher.

It was a wonderful project, and we thank Kim and her parents for helping us, and Mrs. Donovan for the plastic eggs.

Hold VOD Awards Luncheon

By Joan Chwalisz

On Sunday, January 12th, the Nassau County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary held an Awards Luncheon at Albertson, New York. The Hicksville VFW had every reason to be proud, we had sponsored the 5th Place winner in the Voice of Democracy script-writing contest and the three winners in the Essay Contest. The theme for both of these contests was "My Responsibility as a Citizen."

Each of the winners were presented with their gifts and former District Attorney, Nassau County, William Cahn was the guest speaker. He stated how pleased he was to see a program of this type conducted for our young people. These are our future leaders and the country will one day be run by people such as these young adults.

Placing first on the Council level was Nancy Pietraforte in the Essay contest, 2nd, Kathy McCaffrey and 3rd, Dawn Cardone. Fifth place winner in the V.O.D. contest was Rosemary Leddy. Our congratulations to these young people and to their parents who joined us that day. You must each be so very proud as I know all the members of our Post and Auxiliary are.

ESSAY WINNERS: In the scriptwriting contest of the V.F.W., Nassau County Council

LETTERS FROM THE EDITOR

proposed for both public and private transit groups to develop innovative and productive programs. These could range from special services to groups, such as the aged and handicapped, to the establishment of express bus service, park and ride facilities or similar services that would increase the use and efficiency of public transportation.

Until public transportation becomes more of a reality and less of a dream here on Long Island, I strongly oppose any increase in gasoline taxes that will add to the burden of our local residents.

John W. Burke, Supvrs.
Town of Oyster Bay.

Dear Editor:

President Ford, in his State of the Union message, said one thing with which we can all agree: The State of the Union is not good.

In my opinion President Ford's remedies for revitalizing the Nation find less than full agreement. I think it can be safely said that even at a time when the President advanced his view that inflation was public enemy number one, we on Long Island recognized that recession was equally as severe a problem. We knew in September that the classic economic indicators: the decline for more than two quarters of the GNP, the grinding to a halt of the home construction industry, inordinately high unemployment among larger segments of our population such as the building trades, the electrical workers, the bricklayers, all pointed to a continuing recession.

Now, we at least have hope that the White House recognizes recession as the economic ill that must be tackled as energetically as inflation. The President's statement that the falsely inflated price of imported oil contributes to this general malaise, is certainly true. But I believe his approach to dealing with the economy by emphasizing this fact is less than acceptable.

Placing all of this in perspective is difficult, but at this writing, I will give you a few of my initial observations with respect to his proposals.

I favor a tax rebate — for all income levels — to prime the economic pump and to stimulate business.

I support the tax credit for the installation of home insulating materials.

I oppose the fuel tax proposal for two reasons. First, it will offset any tax rebate and second, it will seriously hurt Long Islanders who depend so greatly on their automobiles and who suffer from a lack of effective mass transit systems. Actually, if we must bite the bullet in this regard, I would favor comprehensive and fairly administered rationing to an increased tax, although I truly hope we do not have to come to that. I oppose a per barrel tariff increase on oil imports. It will undermine the effects of a tax cut by directly increasing home heating fuel costs and by indirectly increasing electric power costs.

I think it unconscionable to restrict social security increases to senior citizens to 5 per cent, especially when we are considering adding purchasing

Get rid of gray hair some of it or all of it

Time-lapse photographs show how gradual action of Grecian Formula 16 lets you control just how much gray you slowly get rid of... some of it or all of it.

White Plains, N.Y. — Hundreds of thousands of men all over the country are now using a remarkable product to control just how much gray they slowly get rid of. It is called Grecian Formula 16 and the results are simply amazing. Grecian Formula 16 is a practically clear liquid, as easy to use as hair tonic. This remarkable formula works for any color hair because it combines with the natural chemistry of the hair to recreate natural-looking color. There is no mess and no rub-off. You simply use it every day for two or three weeks until you slowly get rid of just as much gray as you want. Some of it, most of it or all of it. You can stop where you like. You are in complete control of how much gray goes or stays. Once you get rid of as much gray as you want, simply use Grecian Formula once a week or so to keep it that way. Since Grecian Formula 16 works gradually over a period of time, even close friends won't notice the change happening. The resulting color is so completely natural that the hair definitely does not have a dyed look. Grecian Formula 16 is available at

Social Security

The Medicare Hospital Insurance deductible will be $92 starting January 1, 1975, according to Sydney Savrin, social security district manager in Mineola.

"A Medicare patient who goes into a hospital and starts a benefit period after December 31 will be responsible for the first $92 of the hospital bill," Savrin said.

The 1974 deductible was $84. Under the Medicare Law, the amount will increase to keep it in line with the average cost of one day's stay in a hospital in the United States.

"The increase to $92 for 1975 is a result of a review of hospital costs during 1973," Savrin said. "However, the present $84 deductible remains in effect throughout any benefit period that started in 1974 even if the period of hospitalization goes into 1975."

Under the law, the increase in the deductible means there also will be increases starting January 1 in three other amounts Medicare patients pay for covered care.

For a hospital stay of over 60 days, the patient will pay $23 a day (up from $21) for covered services furnished on the 61st through the 90th day.

For a post-hospital stay of over 20 days in a skilled nursing facility, the patient will pay $11.50 a day (up from $10.50) for the 21st through the 100th day.

For reserve days used after 90 days of hospital care in a benefit period, the patient will pay $46 a day (up from $42).

Medicare hospital insurance helps pay for hospital stays and certain post-hospital care of people 65 and over, disabled people under 65 who have been entitled to social security disability benefits for 24 consecutive months or more, and many people who have chronic kidney disease and need dialysis or a transplant.

Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Each of the 50 finalists, chosen from a field of 260 hopeful contenders through a written elimination competition, received a copy of "The American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language: New College Edition," a donation of the Houghton Mifflin Company of Boston.

The spelling bee was patterned after the National Spelling Bee, which is sponsored by Scripps-Howard newspapers.

There were five judges for the event, including two former winners of the National Spelling Bee.

"We hear criticisms of the literacy and spelling ability of today's college students," Dr. Hartley Rogers, Jr., chief judge and associate provost at M.I.T., said, "but the unusual interest in the spelling bee shows that many students continue to take pride in this basic skill."

Nassau Downs Underway

Hempstead, L.I. — Nassau Downs gets underway Friday, January 31st, with the opening of Nassau County's first Off-Track Betting Office at 220 Fulton Avenue, Hempstead.

Mr. Easa Easa, President & General Manager of the Nassau Regional Off-Track Betting Corporation, announced that Nassau Downs will be handling bets on races from Bowie (Md.), Hialeah (Fla.) and Yonkers Raceway, including the Double Exacta, which has produced payoffs of $18,070.20 and $57,397.50 during the first two weeks since New York City OTB was granted permission by the New York State Racing and Wagering Board to implement this exotic form of wagering.

Easa said the name "Nassau Downs" would be utilized to help distinguish Nassau County's off-track betting operation from New York City's.

The taxpayers of Nassau County will be the beneficiaries of the revenue we gain," Easa explained. "We hope that using the name 'Nassau Downs' will help to educate our residents to keep our potential revenue dollars home if they plan on making a wager."

Paul Screvane, President of the New York City Off-Track Betting

Corporation, and other city OTB officials were praised by Easa for their cooperation. "Quite frankly, I don't know if we would be opening this soon if it weren't for their willingness to work with us and share their experiences with our people."

Additional guidance has been provided by track officials, including George Morton Levy, President of Roosevelt Raceway and the grand old man of harness racing on Long Island, as well as Yonkers President Tim Rooney, Thomas J. Fitzgerald, President of the N. Y. Racing Association, and others, Easa said.

Nassau Downs has now signed leases for offices in Island Park and on Hicksville Road, Bethpage and expects to establish approximately 20 additional offices by the end of 1976. Easa said these offices would be located on both the north and south shores, preferably on major traffic arteries.

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso, Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell, and Hempstead Village Mayor Dalton R. Miller will join other guests for official opening ceremonies at 9 A.M. on the 31st. The doors will open to the public at 10 A.M.

Parents Say "Thanks"

The parents of the children at the Old Country Road School wish to thank and congratulate Mrs. Lillian West, the school crossing guard at Lee Place and Old Country Road. Mrs. West has just finished twenty years on the same crossing.

"We hope she will be with us for many more years with good health and safe crossing," they said.
