School Board Hears Auxiliary Police

BY SHIRLEY SMITH

During the public portion of last Wednesday's Board of education meeting in Hicksville, members of the Auxiliary Police spoke for half an hour about various ways in which they feel the school district and community have shown no interest in their volunteer work. They said after meeting with administration and the board in September and sending four letters to the school board, they have received no action, nor even replies to their mail. Board president, Robert Pirrung, said he had not seen any of the letters and only a brief report from administration. Board members were given copies of the letters at the meeting and administration will meet with the force to try and straighten out the misunderstandings.

The subject of mail delivery was brought up by trustee William Bruno, who complained that the board president did not pass on copies of letters received by him. Mr. Pirrung said he had not received some of the mail referred to by Mr. Bruno, placing the "blame" on administration for holding up board mail.

The school board turned down the Gregory Museum's request for a waiver of fees to use school buildings for future activities, including their Gem and Mineral Show. The museum had previously agreed to pay $500 of this cost, the district paying $385. The museum stated their free service to the children of the district and provisions of in-service courses for teachers as reasons for the waiver request. Mr. Bruno said that private vendors benefit from the Gem and Mineral Show and this was illegal, but Joseph Campanella, board attorney, did not support his statement. This reporter said there should not be a double standard and the museum should be treated as all other groups who do not pay to use the facilities - Soccer Club, Little League, CYO, PTA, Lions Club, etc. Mr. McCormack was the only board member to vote for a waiver of fees (Mrs. Wolfson was not able to be at the meeting).

The board approved payment of bills, budgetary transfers, the award of bids and appointment of election personnel. The appointment of a consultant to search for a new superintendent was again tabled.

The board of education appointed Rosemary Walsh as Transportation Specialist. She will succeed Sybella Caesar who retired this month. Mrs. Walsh will continue to handle all scheduling of buildings and grounds use and her work with the community in that job. The board also appointed an Assistant Business Manager Trainee, and an additional teacher for the federally-funded extended readiness program at Fork Lane.

Other personnel appointments were also approved, as was the custodial memorandum of agreement. The next school board meeting is Tuesday, February 11 at 8 P.M. in the Administration Building.

HONORED: Oyster Bay Town Supervisor John W. Burke (center) looks on as Deputy Nassau County Executive Joseph Driscoll (left) presents the Lifesavers Cup to Henry Gebhardt of Hicksville who has been a volunteer fireman for the past 63 years. Gebhardt was honored during the Nassau County Fire Chiefs annual convention at the Nassau Coliseum.

The New York Neophonic Orchestra (new sound) offers to the listener the rhythm and sounds of tomorrow in a swinging concert of futuristic music using a greatly augmented orchestra consisting of 5 trumpets, 5 trombones (one doubling on tuba), 5 French horns, 5 saxophones (all doubling on various woodwinds), bass, piano, guitar and drums. The Neophonic Orchestra draws on many forms of music for its personality: jazz, rock Latin, Afro, Middle Eastern and even classical music are all an integral part of the personality of this orchestra.

Its Conductor, Joel Kay, made his professional debut at the age of 19 with the Woody Herman Band. He is the master of many instruments including flute, piccolo, clarinet, saxophone, English horn and oboe. In 1961 at the age of 21 he joined the Stan Kenton Orchestra. When Kenton disbanded his orchestra in '63, Kaye returned to New York. Since then he has played in many Broadway hits, the Tonight Show Orchestra, with Jonathan Winters, and in addition has made many recordings. He is the founder of the Neophonic Orchestra.

These programs have been subsidized through BOCES by our board of education, National Endowment for the Arts, Professionals Teach the Arts, Music Performance Trust Fund and the Orchestra Da Camera Service for the Performing Arts.

OTB EFFORTS to spread into the Levittown-East Meadow area were discussed at Monday's meeting of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors' meeting by Phyllis Garvin, representing the Levittown Civic Council.

At Supervisor's Meeting:

Spread of Nassau OTB, County Govt. Discussed

By Janet Gosnell

The possibility of the installation of a branch of the Nassau County Off-Track Betting Corp. in Levittown hugging up to the East Meadow border was discussed at the Nassau County Board of Supervisors by Phyllis Garvin, on Monday, February 3rd, who spoke after the agenda in behalf of the Levittown Civic Council.

After community opposition detoured the Nassau OTB from a site in the May's Shopping Center recently Mrs. Garvin said the word was now out that OTB was looking over the vacant Howard Johnson's building at the corner of Hempstead Turnpike and Loring Road across from the northbound entrance to and exit from the Wantagh State Parkway.

"The parking lot behind Howard Johnson's is not sufficient for an OTB office," said Mrs. Garvin. She also pointed out that sewer digging and resultant traffic stoppages are presently congesting Loring Road.

Mrs. Garvin was told by County

Executive Ralph G. Caso that the Board of Supervisors had no control over activities of the Nassau Off-Track Betting Corp. "It is an autonomous corporation created by the New York State Legislature," he said.

"I thought, since you had created it, you might feel some responsibility for what it does," replied Mrs. Garvin.

Also speaking after the agenda was Richard Kessel, a familiar figure, who was requested to "grow up" by Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell. Kessel was requesting a party-line division of the still-to-be formed County legislature with some "swing districts."

Kessel referred to an expected referendum in June, predicted by Purcell in press reports last week to decide upon the form the county government should take.

Although Purcell gave no preference, he said in articles that he leans toward a 15-member legislature with representatives from equal population districts. Kessel felt the county would be "gerrymandered" to favor the Republicans Kessel was an unsuccessful Democratic candidate last year.

Other Business

In other business, the supervisors authorized the county executive to execute an agreement with the Nursing Sisters Home Visiting Service in relation to a program of comprehensive home care services because the "need exists for comprehensive home care services in the vicinity of Uniondale," accepted a grant of $500,000 from Pfizer & Co. for use in a public service advertising campaign in college and university publications in the county on venereal disease, and arranged for a Local Government Employee Training & Development Program at C.W. Post College, reflecting a federal grant from the U.S. Civil Service Commission to the N.Y. State Office of Local Government sitting down to Nassau.

The purpose of the program is to increase efficiency and productivity of local government employees and of furthering career development.

Transportation Drivers Vote "No"

In a stunning defeat, the employees of WE TRANSPORT, INC. and TOWNE BUS CORP. voted in a secret-ballot election held by the National Labor Relations Board on January 17, 1975.

Mr. Fred Saparito and Mr. Warren Rubino, representing Division 1181-1061 of the Amalgamated Transit Union, A.F.L.-C.I.O., were present to preside over the election.

This case, which has been pending before the State and National Labor Relations Boards since Feb. 4, 1974, came to a decisive conclusion when 100 percent of the company's employees who were eligible to vote, cast their ballots and overwhelmingly rejected the union as a bargaining agent. Of the 137 eligible voters, 93 voted against and 36 voted for the union. Union representatives challenged the additional 8 ballots.

This was the second election in which Division 1181-1061 was rejected by the employees of WE TRANSPORT, INC., and TOWNE BUS CORP.

Mr. Walter Marksohn, Pres. of the bus company, called the outcome "a fantastic vote of confidence."

Official notice of the election results are expected shortly from the National Labor Relations Board.

Urgent Appeal

With the opening of a new, 15,000 sq. ft., eight-classroom building at the Cerebral Palsy Center for Living, in Roosevelt, an additional 55 students have been added to the all-day sessions, thus affording all participants a full, daily developmental education program.

The increased number poses an urgent need for additional volunteers to aid in the feeding of these students. Anyone desiring to lend a hand in this vital phase of the students' day is asked to call FR 8-2000, ext. 718 or 719, at their earliest convenience. Volunteer help is needed NOW.

To Study Possible Prison Improvements

The Bar Association of Nassau County has been awarded a planning grant by the American Bar Association under the BASICS program (Bar Association Support to Improve Correctional Services) to study the extent of prison programs and regulations as they relate to inmate grievances in the County of Nassau, announced C. Ellis Schiffmacher, President.

Under the grant members of the staff of the Nassau County Legal Aid Society will conduct the study. The Legal Aid Society represents prison inmates from time to time and is, therefore, especially qualified to point out areas where procedural and other improvements are desirable.

The Bar Association hopes that as a result of the study improvements in the programs and regulations relating to inmate grievances can be made wherever possible or, wherever necessary, that remedial legislation can be sponsored.

They're Off And Running At Nassau Downs

"The crowds of people who flocked to Hempstead and the sums of money they wagered for the first two days of racing at Nassau Downs proved a point that most public officials have been saying all along—the people of Long Island want off-track betting."

The above statement was made by Mr. Easa Easa, President and General Manager of Nassau Downs after assessing the first two days of legalized off-track wagering in Nassau County.

On opening day (Friday, Jan. 31), a total of $35,575 was wagered. The Saturday handle rose to $44,427, for a two-day handle of $80,002.

"I offer an apology to our customers," Easa said. "I realize that many of them had to wait an extraordinary length of time before they could place their bets, but this only underlines the need and demand of the general populace for more locations in the county."

"As far as the old bugaboo of bringing unsavory characters into the neighborhood, it just didn't happen. The people were typical of the people of Long Island."

Easa pledged to push hard for additional betting offices to generate revenue and to service the people of Nassau.

Nassau Downs has signed leases for two other offices, one in Island Park along Austin Blvd., the other on Hicksville Blvd., Bethpage, just south of Nassau Farmer's Market. These two sites are expected to open late in the spring.

Easa punched out a $2 win ticket for the second race at Yonkers Raceway for Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso and Hempstead Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell to highlight the official opening-day ceremonies. New York City OTB president Paul Screvane, track and racing officials, as well as numerous public officials were in attendance.

-Letters To The Editor-

Dear Editor:

This year, more than ever, the financial plight of our Long Island schools is a matter of grave concern. Understandably enough, our local School Boards are looking to the State for help, since it is quite clear that local taxpayers cannot be expected to bear any further burden.

Looking to Albany for increased aid is all well and good but there are potential sources of help much closer to home. It may be too much to expect a State Senator or Assemblyman from Elmira or Plattsburg to empathize with the peculiar problems of Nassau County school districts faced with increasing costs in spite of declining enrollments. However, it's not too much to expect understanding and help from our local County and Town Governments. In fact, such help is long overdue.

The much heralded opening of Nassau County's first OTB Parlor, last week, provides considerable food for thought in this respect. I believe that our officials may be on the right track with the concept of turning over a fixed percentage of the profits of "Nassau Downs" directly to local school districts. I must take issue, however, when this is tempered with the idea that the benefits should be reaped by the locals in which a Parlor is located. There are sufficient tax base inequities presently existing in the Districts throughout our County. There is no rationale between the needs of a school district and what may be deemed an appropriate location for future Parlors. To use this as a wedge serves no useful purpose and is merely intimidation.

Let us start using Nassau County dollars to help Nassau County Schools and the Nassau County homeowner. But, let us do it on an equitable basis and let us hope that the powers that be in our County Government get off to a fast start.

Very truly yours,
AARON BRITVAN
Democratic State Committeeman, Tenth AD

Dear Editor:

The bill being introduced by Assemblyman Yevoli which will require Town Comptrollers to be elected rather than appointed represents an idea whose time has come. Indeed, it is an idea whose times is long overdue as far as Oyster Bay is concerned.

As Assemblyman Yevoli so astutely notes, a Comptroller who owns his job to the Town Administration can hardly be expected to look at a Budget prepared by that Administration with an independent and critical eye. On the other hand, a Comptroller who is directly answerable to the people, rather than to the Town Supervisor, the Town Board, or the local political machine, can be an effective force for fiscal integrity and responsibility.

What's more, this much needed reform won't cost Oyster Bay taxpayers a dime. The position of Town Comptroller already exists (at a $34,000 annual salary). Mr. Yevoli's bill will only ensure that we get our money's worth.

Very truly yours,
Michael Polansky

Editor:

Through the medium of this letter, I would like to speak up in support of a fine man, a man who in an hour of adversity needs and is deserving of support, Judge Martin Ginsberg.

I have known Martin Ginsberg for many years and have always respected him, even more so now. I served with his advisory group while he was in Albany serving his constituency. He did a great job. I was staunchly for him when he was elevated to the bench. Again he did a great job. He has always gone all-out in his endeavors, and as a result has performed with exemplary effect in every undertaking. And he has much more to give our society if only we will let him.

It does seem a strange kind of justice that allows an admitted perjurer, DeMarco, to walk around as free as the breeze while a dedicated jurist, Ginsberg, who has denied the charges against him, is branded a perjurer and forced to look with growing dread and apprehension as each unfolding day brings us nearer to 14 February. Since St. Valentine's Day is associated with love and mutual concern, here is an opportunity to either suspend sentence or set it aside altogether, thereby saving for posterity the services of a rare man indeed. Since four out of five counts have already been dropped, it would be a brilliant piece of jurisprudence to drop the fifth and final item, especially in view of the circumstances.

Mentioning the names of DeMarco and Ginsberg in the same breath surely is a special kind of blasphemy, the two being so diametrically unlike. When one is faced with a choice between one whose record is sordid, whose contribution to society is surely nil (DeMarco) and one whose record is outstandingly good, whose contribution has been constant and comprehensive (Ginsberg), that choice can hardly be clearer.

It is my fervent hope that the name of this good man will be cleared, that the remaining charge against him will be dropped, that he will be restored to his former place of courageous and dedicated service. Only then will my faith in our system of justice be salvaged.

Respectfully
E.V. Mann
Hicksville

Dear Editor:

The Congress passed the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 which is now law and which consolidates and replaces a considerable number of federally funded grant programs in the area of housing and community improvement. The Act recognizes "that the Nation's cities, towns and smaller urban communities face critical social, economic and environmental problems . . ." but their proceeds to specifically exclude most if not all of the towns and counties in New York State from participating in the major portion of the funding program.

This discriminatory provision of the Act was recognized early by Oyster Bay and other Long Island towns, and efforts were commenced to rectify this injustice. Despite the many hours of testimony at Congressional hearings and a steady stream of correspondence, the Act was passed with the exclusionary clause intact.

Since then we have been pursuing the matter with officials at several levels of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, seeking a special exemption for towns with population pressures and problems equal or greater than many of the cities that qualify for major grants, but without any success.

By what logic is the Town of Oyster Bay, with a population of over 370,000, barred from participating on a scale at least equal to, say, the City of Rochester, with a population of 296,000?

The demographic changes occurring in our community have been clearly delineated in the recent report of the Nassau County Commission on Priorities. Although the county's population has generally stabilized, the distribution of people within various age groups is undergoing significant and dramatic changes. The resultant changes in social, economic and environmental problems will require Federal funding on the scale envisioned in the Community Development Act.

Unless a favorable ruling can be obtained on our request for relief from this discriminatory and unconstitutional provision, the Town may be forced to take legal action. We are preparing for this eventuality and are contacting three towns in Suffolk who also suffer from this discrimination, with a view to joint legal action.

Licensing Procedure For Electricians Plumber May Be Revised

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Warren M. Doolittle announced on Jan. 28 that the Town Board has set a public hearing date of FEBRUARY 18th to consider revision of the procedure used for the annual licensing of electricians and plumbers who do business in Oyster Bay.

Licenses are now issued by the Town for one year periods expiring December 31st. An electrician or plumber who failed to renew his license in time would be required to be re-examined and would not be permitted to conduct business within the town until he had received another license.

Under the proposed change, licenses would be issued for two-year periods beginning in 1976.

The tradesmen would have an additional sixty days after the expiration date in which to renew their licenses without being re-examined, but would be required to pay the initial licensing fee rather than the renewal fee.

Electricians and plumbers licensed through the Towns of Hempstead and North Hempstead are permitted to conduct business in Oyster Bay; this reciprocal agreement would not be affected by the proposed change.

The public hearing will take place during the Town Board's regularly scheduled meeting, which will begin at 10 A.M. in the Hearing Room in Town Hall, located in Oyster Bay hamlet.

Town Closes Scavenger Waste Plant

Town Supervisor John W. Burke today announced that rather than undertake a costly upgrading of its scavenger waste treatment plant in Syosset, the Town has decided to close the facility.

In making the announcement Burke noted that the Nassau County Department of Health has recently informed Town officials that the plant, designed more than 10 years ago, could no longer meet the newer more stringent rules and regulations required by the State Department of Environmental Conservation for greater protection of ground water supplies. Burke said this fact mandates either an expensive upgrading of the treatment facility to duplicate County facilities or the closing of the plant.

"The amount of waste deposited in the Syosset plant would have consistently decreased with the continuing installation of sewers by the County Department of Public Works," stated Supervisor Burke, "and it would be impractical to undergo the expense of upgrading a facility whose usefulness is limited and diminishing."

Burke said that the Town had contacted H. John Plock, Commissioner of the County Department of Public Works, who had been urged by County Executive Ralph G. Caso to offer whatever assistance possible. Through this cooperation the Town has been assured that the material which would have been deposited at the Syosset facility will be accepted at the County's advanced treatment plant in Bay Park.

The phasing out of the Town facility marks the closing of the only scavenger waste treatment plant operated by a Town within Nassau County.

Moratorium On Bars And Discotheques Extended

In separate actions on Jan. 28, the Oyster Bay Town Board extended its moratorium on bars and discotheques and set the date for a public hearing to consider revision of Oyster Bay's Code of Ordinances governing construction of such establishments.

The moratorium was extended for an additional 60 days, and will expire in April; it effectively prohibits consideration of applications for bars, discotheques, taverns, cabarets, catering establishments and restaurants while changes in the applicable zoning laws are being considered. No applications were affected when the moratorium was initially established.

A major provision of the ordinance change would require applicants for construction or expansion of such facilities to receive special use permits only after public hearings.

Under current regulations, bars, etc. may be located in either "F" (Neighborhood Business) or "G" (Business District) zones. The proposal would limit construction in "F" zones to bars, taverns and restaurants having occupancies of 99 persons or less. There are no planned occupancy limits, other than those provided for in the Town Building Code, for construction of any of the above-mentioned facilities in "G" zones.

The hearing will take place during the Town Board's regularly scheduled meeting of February 18th, which begins at 10 A.M. in the Hearing Room in Town Hall in Oyster Bay hamlet. Residents wishing to make themselves heard on this or other matters before the Town Board are encouraged to attend.

Fewer Welfare Families In Motels

The number of welfare families presently being housed in Nassau motels is at an eight-year low today, County Executive Ralph G. Caso announced.

Nineteen families comprising a total of 107 people are being afforded emergency shelter in motels by the Nassau Department of Social Services, Caso said.

"This is the smallest number of people and families so housed since March, 1967," Caso said. "When I took office on Jan. 1, 1971, there were 343 families totalling 964 people being housed in motels by the Social Services Department."

"For the families involved, temporary motel living is most difficult. For the taxpayers, the cost is intolerable. A primary aim of my administration has been to reduce that total... and I'm delighted with Commissioner Joseph D'Elia's progress in getting people out of motels and into housing better suited to more stable family life."

In emergency situations of home fires or evictions, families under Social Services jurisdiction are placed temporarily in motels until other quarters can be obtained.

A Winter Ice Carnival will be presented by the Cantiague Figure Skating Club on Monday, February 17, starting at 8:00 p.m., at Cantiague Park's indoor rink in Hicksville. Nassau County residents are invited to watch the show at no charge. Members of the club, who are all under 18 years of age, will demonstrate their skill in

County Rejects CSEA Recommendations

Saying there is no way Nassau County can find the money to pay for a recommended settlement with the Civil Service Employees Association, County Executive Ralph G. Caso today rejected the wage proposals in the majority fact finders' report.

In a statement to the Nassau Board of Supervisors, Caso said: "My budget office estimates that the cost of the majority recommendations for wage increases alone would be almost $20 million in the first year. The cost in the second year for wage increases alone would be $42,089,000." He added that other "fringe benefit" recommendations would further increase the cost dramatically. "Unfortunately, the fact finders' report fails to recognize the serious financial plight that Nassau County and indeed the state and nation find themselves in," he said. "We cannot pass the burden of this pay package onto the backs of taxpayers who, the fact finders seem to agree, are already overburdened."

The majority fact finders suggested a pay package of 9.5 per cent in 1975 and 0 per cent in 1976, in addition to the regular 5 per cent increment most CSEA employees receive in both years. A minority fact finder recommended a 4 per cent pay increase the first year and a 1 per cent productivity increase.

Caso recommended to the Board of Supervisors that it adopt a one-year contract calling for the regular salary increment, a 4 per cent salary adjustment Productivity Benefit Increase. PBI is an innovative proposal put forward by the county executive which involves the establishment of a trust fund for employees built from savings generated as a result of increased productivity. "In adopting my 1975 county budget, the members of the Board of Supervisors urged upon me a program of rigid economies," Caso stated. "I believe that acceptance of this

We have another new member as of the last meeting. The new comrade is Sal Cavalero. Since the first of the year, we have made quite a jump in new memberships. We still have a number of unpaid comrades. So fellas, lets get the dues in please. Getting back to Sal, welcome to our Post. Glad to have you as one of us.

Joe Normandy made a report on the Legislative dinner. Mentioned it was a complete sellout, with many unable to get in. Highlights of the dinner and meeting in Joe's estimation was the proposals for bonus for the Vietnam Vet, recognition for the Korean Vet, and Vets with Civil Service jobs to be credited with service time. Remember, these are only proposals and haven't been enacted into law yet. That part will take time and patience.

Awards for the Voice of Democracy will be held at Post headquarters Friday, Feb. 28 at 8:30 P.M. This is something you Comrades should attend, and listen to. Hearing these youngsters tell how they feel about our wonderful country is heart warming. Hey! Come out with the realization. Hey! Maybe our land isn't going to the dogs. Hearing some of the things they say, you wonder, how come you didn't think of those ideas. The best part is the deaf mute children participation, and how high the scored in County and the District too. So if you have a free evening on that date, stop in. Give a listen. You are always welcome, and you may find it richly rewarding.

Our Ladies Aux is very active in this project, and you can bet, they'll be there, doing their bit, and doing it well. They too, take this committee very serious.

While on the subject of our Aux, they accompanied our Jr. girls Unit to the Jones Institute. Every year our youngsters select an adopted grandmother, and have a party for them. This year the adopted granny turned the tables on them. This year instead of the girls giving the party, Grandma was so happy to be picked, she gave the party for the girls. Quite a turnabout wouldn't you say.

We were visited by John Meniac a Director of HAD at the last meeting. John came to give his thanks for all the help we have given them. He also brought a photographer with him. He first had pictures taken with our officers, and naturally with our Cmdr. Frank Lotti. Then with different members throughout the room. Very nice seeing you again John, and you're very welcome. We have always been interested, where the youth of Hicksville are concerned.

Angie Barone reported another Bazaar night is scheduled for Sat. March 22nd. Should be a lot of fun. We also need help.

Normandy reports dinner-dance moving along very well. If you are interested in attending, get in touch with Joe. He also promises this affair to be another terrific blast. The price is $17.50 a person. This includes everything, from soup to —, oh thats right, no nuts.

Tom McCabe was in the hospital at the last meeting. But Tom is in and out so often, he'll probably be out by the time you read this. Hoping you're doing fine boy. Also hospitalized is Harry Levine. Father in law of Lou Klein. Old Harry has been a good friend over the many years past. Lets go Harry, make a quick recovery.

Lucky winner this meeting was Bob Williams. He said its the first time, but we don't believe him. Next meeting Feb. 10. Come on down.

Opera Comes To Plainview

The youngsters in all intermediate schools in Plainview-Old Bethpage have had an opportunity to see an actual opera rather than talk about it in their music classes.

The opera "Maestro Di Musica," (The Music Master) by G. Pergolesi was performed for all students in the Central Park, Joyce and Oak Drive elementary schools.

The opera is a short comic opera which involves the lives of a young ambitious talented music student, her struggling teacher and lover, and a third party involvement of the famous opera impresario. The opera was performed in full 17th century costume complete with sets and lighting and accompanied by the Orchestra Da Camera.

The students were prepared for the opera with pre-concert materials presented by their music and classroom teachers before attending the performances. Follow up discussions will also be held as part of their regular music training.

The programs were arranged by Mr. Richard H. Hague, District Director of Music and coordinator of the district's Performing Arts Program through the office of the Orchestra Da Camera and supported by the board of education, the National Endowment for the Arts, Professionals Teach the Performing Arts and the Music Performance Trust Funds.

Caso said the county is trimming its work force through a job freeze and attrition and "would be most reluctant to emulate the agony we see occurring daily in New York City."

In closing his statement to the board, Caso said he was making his recommendation "against the backdrop of a deepening fiscal crisis. I hope that the Board of Supervisors and the employees of Nassau County will accept it in that spirit."

Social Security

QUES: My father gets monthly supplemental security income payments. He recently took a job as a messenger. Is it true that he would have to pay a penalty if he doesn't report the change in his income?

ANS: Payments can be reduced for not reporting - or for a delay in reporting - a change in income, living arrangements, and other circumstances. The penalty is a reduction of $25 for the first failure or delay, $50 for the second, and $100 for each subsequent failure or delay. The penalty isn't applied to people's payments if they're not at fault for failing to report a change.

QUES: When I went back to work on September 1, I hired a babysitter for my young children at home. I pay her $25 a week. Do I have to report her wages for social security purposes?

ANS: Yes, because you are paying her $50 or more in a 3-month calendar quarter. Send a report of her wages, along with the social security contribution, to the Internal Revenue Service. Wage reports and contributions for the 3rd quarter of 1974 - July through September - are due by October 31. For more information, call or write any social security office. Your local social security office is at One Station Plaza North, Mineola, NY. The phone number is 747-5513.

America The Beautiful Contest

BY JOAN CHWALISZ

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Wm. M. Gouse Jr. Post No. 3211, Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsored a poster contest for the 4th, 5th and 6th grade children of Mill Neck Manor School. There were thirteen participants, each depicting their ideas on "America the Beautiful" on posters.

Americanism Chairman,

Christine Rae had the posters judged by Mr. Weldon Endorf, Principal of Trinity Lutheran School, Mrs. Joyce Rivoise and Mrs. Carolyn White also of Trinity Lutheran School. Mrs. Rae wishes to thank all of the judges for their time and effort.

Placing first was Lenore Viccari, age 11, second was Ronnie Symansky, age 11 and third was Larry Rich, age 12. On a County level 2nd place was won by Ronnie Symansky and 3rd place was captured by Lenore Viccari. Congratulations to each of these children for a fine job.

Awards will be presented to each of these children on February 28th at the clubhouse. Mrs. Rae would also like to thank the personnel of Mill Neck Manor School for all the cooperation.

Neighbors on the March

Did you know that volunteers created the annual Mothers March of the March of Dimes? Well, that's the way it all got started, 25 years ago, which just goes to show you that volunteers are a powerful force in this country.

In past years, the Mothers March has been the largest single source of support for March of Dimes research, education and medical service programs. Since its very beginning, more than 200 million dollars have been raised to support lifesaving programs. The Mothers March helped make the victory over polio a reality. Today, it is making the fight against birth defects an increasingly successful battle. This month, 13,000 Nassau County women, men and young adults will donate their time and energy to make the Mothers March a Family March. It's a big team, it's an inspired team, and it's a winning team. But they still need you. Your contribution can support the efforts of the research scientists, doctors, and supportive staff who are dedicated to preventing birth defects. Every other minute a child is born with a birth defect. Birth defects are everybody's concern because they occur in any family, regardless of race, color or creed.

Why not win with a winner? Take advantage of this opportunity to play a direct role in the fight against birth defects...our nation's number one child health problem. Give generously when a volunteer for the Mothers March on Birth Defects comes to your door. Our future generations begin every day. Help protect them now.
