47th Annual Labor Day Parade And Drill

By Ex-capt. Owen Magee

Over 50 volunteer Fire Departments from Nassau and Suffolk Counties, as well as 32 marching bands will step off in Hicksville Labor Day Sept. 1 at 9:30 AM sharp. The parade sponsored by the Hicksville Fire Dept. will consist of six Divisions, which will assemble on side streets off Jerusalem Ave. The parade route will be south on Jerusalem Ave. to Old Country Rd., east on Old Country Rd. to W. Carl St. to Broadway, up Broadway north to E. Barclay St., east on Barclay St. into Woodbury Rd., east to Bethpage Rd., to the Drill Site, which this year is on the grounds of the Hicksville Water and Fire District.

Drill time is one hour after the parade ends, with 40 to 50 drill teams running against the clock. Admission onto property is one dollar. There will be ample team spaces, parking, comfort stations, grand stand seating, refreshment stands and several souvenir stands.

Much planning, time and labor has gone into this event to make it a most enjoyable day. The committee is headed up this year by Lt. Gerard O'Brien and Fireman Jack Pearson. Come on out, have some fun, and to add to the fun, bring a pretty girl.

Running for the three year term is incumbent Stanford, "Sam" Weiss and Mr. Joseph Mormandy.

In order to vote one must be registered with the Nassau County Board of Elections and, of course, a resident of Hicksville Water District.

School District Notes

A REMINDER...As there will be no lunch program this year, it was suggested that the children should bring their lunch and a beverage.

As Mr. Bachman is retiring from the position of school district treasurer, applications are now being considered to replace him. The last day for these applications is Sept. 2nd.

Mr. I. Rienzo was appointed to the position of Director of Physical Education and Health, at the school board meeting held on Wednesday, August 27th. Mr. Rienzo has been Acting director of physical education and health. He now replaces Mr. A. Tomaini who retired.

Swim Team Flea Market

On Tues., Aug. 26 Oyster Bay Town Councilman Warren M. Doolittle announced that the Town Board has approved a request of the Long Island Swim Club for the use of a Town parking lot in Hicksville for fund-raising purposes.

Doolittle said that the group would be permitted to use the lot situated just north of the Long Island Railroad between Jerusalem Avenue and Broadway for a flea market on Saturday, September 6th, and Sunday, September 7th, between 9 AM and 6 PM. The following weekend will serve as rain dates, if necessary.

"We have approved use of this same Town lot in the past, to such groups as the Hicksville Kiwanis," stated Doolittle, "and I am pleased to announce that we are doing so once again for a worthwhile cause."

Doolittle said that funds raised by the Swim Club would be used to assist its travel fund, and that the non-profit organization has agreed to clean the area to the satisfaction of the Town at the end of the sale.

Benefit Book Sale

The annual Friends of the Hicksville Public Library book sale will begin Monday, September 8 at 10:00 a.m. and will continue until the supply of books is exhausted. All types of books are included in this sale; children's picture books, as well as fiction and non-fiction for grades 1 through 8; adult reference; last year's 'best sellers'; science; how-to-do-it books; art books; etc. There also will be a limited number of records that are no longer needed by the library that is included in this sale. Come early for best selection.

The proceeds of this major fund raising event of the Friends will be added to the 'Lift for the Handicapped Fund' that was started two years ago to eventually enable those of the community who are now unable to use the lower level of the library, full access to all the services provided by the library.

Doolittle Presses For Laws To Benefit Hicksville

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Warren M. Doolittle has announced that he will continue to press for the passage of laws by the State Legislature that would benefit the residents of Hicksville.

Doolittle explained that the two bills - one which would facilitate parking and enhance development opportunities in Hicksville and another which would allow residents to vote on park district expenditures - had been introduced in the 1975 legislative session at his request.

"Both these bills received the approval of the State Senate," stated the Councilman from Hicksville, "but neither got out of the Assembly."

In recent letters to State Senator Ralph J. Marino and Assemblyman Joseph M. Reilly, Doolittle expressed his appreciation for their efforts to date and requested that similar bills be filed for action in the 1976 session of the Legislature.

Doolittle again asserted that both measures would benefit the Hicksville community, and said he would again encourage his fellow Town Board members to pass "Home Rule" messages necessary for passage in the Legislature next year.

The parking district proposal applies specifically to Hicksville and the other measure, although it would apply throughout the Town, has specific merit with regard to the Hicksville Community Park.

Doolittle explained that the second bill is necessary so that the people of Hicksville will have a direct voice in the development of the park.

Doolittle explained that the second bill is necessary so that the people of Hicksville will have a direct voice in the development of the park.

"The Town Board does not have the power to call for a referendum - wherein residents would actually go to their polling places and vote - to determine local desire," the Councilman said.

"I want the people of Hicksville to have that right," Doolittle stated, "and therefore I will continue to work for the passage of the necessary State law."

Hicksville Summer Chorus

By Teresa J. Colyer

Choral music is enjoying a renewed popularity throughout the United States and last Thursday evening Hicksville residents were assured that their town is a definite factor in that revival. That evening, the Hicksville Summer Chorus treated the community to an hour-long program of choral music at Trinity Episcopal Church, Old Country Rd. and Jerusalem Ave., featuring Ariel Ramirez's Misa Criolla and other assorted pieces.

The short works, which formed the first half of the program, were, for the most part, written by American composers, but each piece was significantly different in character to create variety. They ranged from the exuberant spiritual, "Heav'n Bells Are Ringin'", in which Doreen Hutchings, a Hicksville High School graduate and junior

Senior Center News

Every month new activities and events are planned at the Senior Nutrition Program. On August 7, a group travelled to Shea Stadium for senior citizen day. The Mets rallied over the Montreal Expos to the joy of our loyal Met fans. Too bad for the Expo fans.

Another outing to the Usdan Center for the Performing Arts was most enjoyable. About 50 participants saw "The Mikado" as performed by children, ages 6-17. It was an afternoon well spent.

On August 28, 125 members cruised around Manhattan Island on the Circle-Line Sightseeing Tour. This trip was one of the biggest for our group and everyone is still talking about it.

Besides the outings, located at 320 South Broadway in Hicksville, offers recreational activities, speakers, movies, a library stocked with the newest selection of magazines, entertainment, sing-a-longs, and dancing. A hot, nutritious lunch is served daily, Monday through Friday. Everyone is afforded the opportunity to contribute and the donation is based on one's ability to pay.

The program is sponsored by the Action Council of Central Nassau (Operation Outreach) in conjunction with the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs, under Title VII of the Older Americans Act.

For more information, contact Lore Bonar at 938-3867.

PETER B. VOLPE from Bethpage, (shown above), is the newly elected GRAND KNIGHT of the Joseph F. Lamb Council No. 5723, KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS, Plainview, N.Y. Grand Knight VOLPE will serve during the 75-76 Columbian Year which started in July 1975 and will end in June 76.

The Joseph F. Lamb Council recently celebrated their 10th anniversary in July.

Social Security

QUES: I started getting supplemental security income payments last year. Do I have to file an application for these payments every year?

ANS: No, but social security will review your case to redetermine your eligibility and payment amount. You'll receive a letter from social security telling you when it is time for your redetermination.

QUES: I am getting married this month. Should I change my name on my social security record?

ANS: You should call or write any social security office for information on how to have your name changed on your social security record. This is especially important if you are employed. After you're married, your employer should report your earnings to social security under your married name.

QUES: I recently received a notice from Medicare about a medical insurance claim I submitted. I don't agree with the decision Medicare made. Can I appeal this decision?

ANS: Ask the health insurance organization that handled your Medicare claim to review it. If you still disagree with the decision and if the amount in question is $100 or more, you can request a hearing. The people in any social security office can help you. Your local social security office is at One Station Plaza North, Mineola. The phone number is P1-7-5470.

AT THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS MEETING

By Marcia Yeates

After a routine meeting during which some 65 calendar items were passed without any major objections, the Monday Board of Supervisors meeting turned into a political debate on the reapportionment question.

The Board voted to appeal the ruling of Judge Joseph Liff which will create an interim 15 member legislature to replace the present Board of Supervisors. Special counsel George Pratt will file the appeal in court later this week.

The Board also set Tuesday, September 2 as a date for a public hearing on the Liff proposal. The hearing will be held at 10 a.m. in the Board of Supervisors Room. The public hearing is necessary in order to place the Liff Plan, devised by a nine-member citizens commission appointed by Judge Liff, on the ballot in November.

Five active Democrats, Richard Kessel, Bernard Flaton, Kenneth Sunshine, Stuart Filler and former Congressman Allard Lowenstein presented a plan which asked the Supervisors to take all their proposed plans for County government off the ballot; agree to the Liff Commission Plan and join with them in asking for a resettlement of the judge's decision which would allow primary elections for legislative candidates to take place in the November election, with general elections for the legislature the following April. The new legislature would then take office about June 1.

The plan was roundly criticized by County Executive Ralph G. Caso and Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell. Purcell also called the Liff Commission plan "a worse gerrymander than our 15 member plan was accused of being". He contended that the Liff plan divided 16 communities and crossed Town lines. Joining in the criticism was Hempstead Supervisor Alfonso D'Amato, who quipped "the Liff decision is the most political decision I've ever seen."

After the Tuesday public hearing, the Board will decide which of its proposals—a revised weighted voting plan, a twelve-member legislature and 15 member legislature—would be placed on the ballot. Long Beach Supervisor Hannah Komanoff ended the meeting on an optimistic note, declaring "on September 2, we will reach a decision on all four."

Supervisors To Appeal Liff Decision

On Monday, August 25, the Nassau Board of Supervisors voted to appeal to a higher court in an effort "to insure that county taxpayers will be given the opportunity to choose between constitutional plans for county legislative reform on Election Day."

The action came in response to Supreme Court Justice Joseph Liff's decision to create, on an interim basis and without public approval, a new 15-member County Legislature in Nassau to replace the present 6-member Board of Supervisors.

Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell said the bi-partisan Board agreed unanimously to appeal Liff's ruling, which orders the election of the 15 new county legislators to be held in November.

Purcell said the Board's special counsel on reapportionment, George C. Pratt of Williston Park, expects to file notice of the appeal this week, probably Thursday, in the Appellate Division in Brooklyn.

In its appeal, Purcell said, the Board will ask the higher court to reverse Judge Liff's decision and order that the citizens of Nassau be allowed to choose their own form of government. If the appeal is successful, Purcell said he will recommend that the choice in November should be between Liff's plan to create a 15-member Legislature and the Board's plan to re-weight the Supervisor's votes, retaining the county's present legislative system.

BOTH PLANS ARE CONSTITUTIONAL and would comply with the U.S. Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote edict.

To pave the way for what it hopes will be "a final decision on this issue by the voters", the Board announced it will hold a public hearing on the Liff proposal on Tuesday, Sept. 2nd, at 10 A.M. in Mineola. The hearing is necessary in order to place the Liff Plan on ballot along with the weighted voting plan, according to Purcell.

Referring to Judge Liff's decision to bypass the public with a legislative plan devised by a 9-member citizens commission appointed by Liff, Purcell declared:

"The Supervisors believe the issue of legislative reform is too critical to the future of Nassau County to deny the taxpayer public its right to a choice. The opportunity to exercise a choice is less than 90 days away, on Election Day."

"School's Open Drive Carefully"

Sooner than they wish, some 364,000 Nassau County boys and girls will be returning to the County's primary and secondary schools—and crossing busy streets in the process.

That's why the Automobile Club of New York is reminding County drivers that "School's Open-Drive Carefully."

Police Departments and school officials throughout the county are cooperating in the 30th annual safety program by affixing over 4,000 colorful "School's Open-Drive Carefully" posters on street poles at important intersections and in school zones.

Motorists will receive an additional reminder in the form of more than 150,000 "School's Open" bumper strips being distributed by the Club throughout the metropolitan New York area for display on commercial vehicles and buses, official cars, school buses and passenger cars. Assisting in the distribution of the bumper strips will be members of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Auto Club of New York, together with other affiliated Clubs throughout the state, initiated the campaign in 1946. Since then, the fatality rate among children of elementary school age has been sharply reduced in New York State.

From the first of the modern Olympic Games in 1896, the United States has always sent a proud, young Team to compete.

It has always been our team, an expression of our people, because thousands of Americans believed in it and gave it their financial support. It's never been a "government" Team.

At the next Olympic Games in 1976, our Olympic Team will continue to be our people-to-people representatives to the Nations of the World.

Whether it's a matter of pride, competitive spirit or simply quiet resolve, we want to send our best. Every one of them!

It's a mountain of a task. Something like 1200 men and women Olympic Team members will be involved. This requires development, selection, transportation to and from the Games. Also uniforms, housing, food, medical care. Nothing fancy. But nothing third, rate either.

With more than 200-million Americans, though, raising the money shouldn't be that big of a mountain. We just need more diggers-in-the-pocket to cut the mountain down to molehill size.

Dear Friends. . .

WE HOPE THAT you all have a pleasant Labor Day weekend holiday. Don't forget to vote in the Hicksville Town District elections on Sept. 2nd.

THEN, we'll all roll up our sleeves and get into the work (and pleasure, too) of another productive year in our respective communities. We have much planned for your information in the next few months and, of course, if you have any suggestions or ideas which will be helpful to our communities, phone or write us and we'll discuss them.

Membership Open

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Warren M. Doolittle announced this week that organizations and individuals who join the Town's Council on the Arts before the end of the year will be considered charter members.

The council, which will serve as a forum through which groups and individuals can discuss, formulate and foster cultural arts programs and activities, was made possible through an $11,000 grant from the New York State Council on the Arts.

The Councilman from Hicksville explained that the immediate goal of the council will be to serve as an umbrella organization for groups and individuals by providing services including a newsletter, calendar of events, a resource directory of performing arts groups and places of interest, and an arts information center.

Three types of membership are available: individual, associate organization and participating organization.

Annual dues for individuals is $5.00 which entitles them to receive the council's newsletter, calendar and all other publications.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Since I am driving my son to Binghamton this weekend (Aug 24th) a short reply is all that time permits for Mrs. Runbild E. Wessel's letter.

Mrs. Wessel obviously has not been reading the newspapers or attending school board meetings, otherwise she would know that I am not on the school board and that I am not privy to minutes of school board "executive sessions", or to employee contracts.

If the school board gives me the necessary information, I will guarantee you specific recommendations. However it must be evident to all that to conduct a searching review and study of education requires guts, time, and information - much information I have the guts and time, and if the information is furnished will conduct the review.

As chief of an investigative unit for the Inspector General of the Air Force Strategic Air Command for five and one-half years, many disconnections of scale in military operations were found, noted, and rectified - some involving millions of dollars. There is no reason to believe that there would be any difference in educational operations. Disconnections of scale (disproportionate increases in costs with a decrease in school population) can and would be found in a 27 million dollar budget, and that will result in substantial savings.

Sincerely yours,
Frank H. Willard
Ex-sheep, Member BELT

In addition to their assigned duties, the interns attended meetings of the Town Board and the Nassau County Board of Supervisors and toured a number of Town and County departments and facilities.

Working with my staff were Steven Rosenthal of Hicksville, Michael Thomas of Muttontown, and Daniel Squire of Syosset. Steven conducted a review of the Town's health insurance policies, while Michael and Daniel worked on various research projects. Daniel, who participated in the program last year as well, assisted in the administration of the program.

The Planning and Development Department put Raymond Urgo of Hicksville and George Grassel of Bethpage to work on statistical analyses of communities in the Town. Constance Kalinowski of Locust Valley was involved in a number of research projects for the Town's Environmental Control Division.

Two interns were assigned to the Department of Community Services, Jayne Schachter of Plainview, who was assigned to the Youth Division, and Robert Ciandella of Massapequa, working in the Drug and Alcohol Control Division, spent much of their time evaluating existing programs with an eye toward increasing their effectiveness.

I continue to be greatly impressed by the caliber of the young men and women the Town is fortunate to have in this program each year. The officials to whom they were assigned are unanimous in their praise of the energy and enthusiasm demonstrated by the interns in their various assignments. We hope that the interns take with them a better understanding and appreciation of the problems and responsibilities of local government as they return to continue their academic careers.

John W. Burke
TOB Supervisor

To The Editor:

We've all complained, sometimes quite justifiably, about the bite the federal government takes out of our salaries in the way of personal income taxes. Few of us realize, though, that millions of our tax dollars do come pouring back to our industries and local governments, to provide jobs and income for thousands of taxpayers.

For example, in the past six months, the Third Congressional District of Long Island has received over 825 million dollars in grants, contracts and payment from the federal government.

A major recipient of those tax dollars is Grumman Aerospace Corporation in Bethpage, which employs 24,000 Long Islanders on a permanent basis. Grumman has benefited this year by 600 million dollars in contracts from the Navy, Army and Air Force. Grumman builds the F14, the E2 and the A6E aircraft for the Navy. Fairchild Industries, which makes the A-10, received $47 million in defense contracts, mostly from the Air Force.

Not all of our tax dollars come back from the Defense Department. The National Endowment for the Arts gave $50,000 to the Orchestra da Camera of North Massapequa, and $15,000 to the Heckscher Museum in Huntington. Health, Education and Welfare provided $3.3 million in social service monies, $614,330 to Suffolk and Nassau Economic Opportunity Councils, and countless thousands of dollars for school systems throughout both counties. From the Public Health Service came $50,000 for a health study, from Commerce, $49,830 to Marine Culture Systems, from the Community Services Administration $161,878 for a Law Services Committee, and from FAA, $875,000 to EDO Commercial Corporation.

Since January, Revenue Sharing has given Nassau and Suffolk Counties almost $2 million; the Labor Department has provided $1.8 million for public employment and job training; Housing and Urban Development has made grants of $342,000 to Huntington for community development, and $38-million to Glen Cove for community rehabilitation.

To the above, one can add millions more dollars paid back in social security, aid to the disabled, medicare payments, unemployment insurance, and other rehabilitation services. All of this means the Third District is getting back for its taxpayers well over a billion and a half dollars every six months.

Jerome Ambro,
Member of Congress,
Third Cong. District

NY Tel. Explains . . .

Starting September 1, New York Telephone begins charging for calls to Directory Assistance, a move that should mean lower phone bills for most customers.

The plan, approved last year by the Public Service Commission, includes a monthly allowance of three free calls to Directory Assistance plus a 30-cent credit each month.

The company says as a result, nearly 90 per cent of residential customers and 70 per cent of business customers should receive reduced monthly bills.

Exemptions are provided for the visually or physically handicapped, who should submit certification of disability to qualify. Exemption forms are available from any telephone business office or social agencies that conduct programs for the handicapped.

Other exemptions include calls made from coin phones, requests for non-published numbers and calls to Directory Assistance bureaus out-of-state. Calls from hotel or motel guest phones and from patient's phones in hospitals also will be exempt.

The company said its plan, originally proposed in 1972, is designed to reduce the volume of calls and the cost of providing Directory Assistance service, now running at more than $100 million annually, up almost $20 million since 1971.

The company said the net effect of the plan won't provide it with any additional revenue.

By putting the burden of Directory Assistance on those customers who are its heaviest use it frequently; studies show that 30 per cent of telephone customers account for 90 per cent of all Directory Assistance calls. The average customer uses Directory Assistance less than three times a month, and half of all customers don't use it at all in a typical month, the company said.

About 78 per cent of numbers requested via Directory Assistance can be found in the customer's local directory.

Here's how the plan works for a customer with one line:

-From zero to three calls or requests a month, the customer receives a 30c credit, which will be shown on a new line on the bill.

-If four calls are made, the monthly credit is reduced to 20c.

-Five calls, and the credit becomes 10c.

-There is no credit on the sixth call, and each call after the sixth will be charged ten cents each.

Hunting And Fishing Licenses

Town Clerk Ann R. Ocker has advised residents that applications for new hunting and fishing licenses are now available. Mrs. Ocker has already mailed more than 1,780 applications to those who secured licenses last year.

"Mailing the applications was quite a project in our office last week," Mrs. Ocker stated. "The State was late in informing us of this year's increased fees, and we rushed to get the applications and new fee schedules into the mail so residents would have the convenience of receiving the forms at the beginning of the filing period." Last Monday, August 25, was the first day that most hunting and fishing licenses could be sold.

Additional applications are available in the Clerk's office in Oyster Bay hamlet as well as in the Town Hall Annexes in Hicksville and Massapequa.

"Those seeking applications for party permits should call or come directly to my office in Oyster Bay," Mrs. Ocker stated. "September 8th is the last day that these applications can be filed."

Applicants seeking hunting licenses or archery stamps are required to provide a previous year's license or other evidence of eligibility.

For U.S. citizens who have lived in New York for at least three months, fees are as follows: fishing, $6.25; hunting, $6.25; hunting and fishing, $11.25; big game, $5.25; and, trapping, $6.25.

For non-residents (aliens and those who have resided in the State less than three months) the fees are: fishing, $17.25; seven-day fishing, $10.25; big game, $52.50; and, hunting, $32.50. Archery stamps are $4.25 for all applicants.

tifacts ranging from a 2,000-year-old mummified ibis to ancient scarabs bearing the name of the Pharaoh Tutmoses III.

State Earmarks Funds For Foster Care Of Children

State Social Services Commissioner Stephen Berger has offered local districts additional funds to support activities designed to help troubled families and avert the placement of their children in foster care.

New York State is offering to match dollar-for-dollar local funds spent on behalf of families which are in danger of breaking up under economic or social pressures, up to a total of $3.75 million, Mr. Berger said. These funds, made available through the State supplemental budget signed by Governor Carey, are in addition to monies obtained through Federal-State-local payments, which are subject to ceilings imposed by the Federal Government.

The supplemental budget included an appropriation of $3.75 million for family care services in social services districts that can show these services are being used effectively on behalf of children faced with the prospect of temporary or long-term care away from their families.

Mr. Berger said the effectiveness of such services has been tested in the past two years by demonstration projects in New York City and Westchester and Monroe Counties, with an evaluation by the Child Welfare League of America, Inc. State and Federal funds were appropriated from these projects through the Department of Social Services. The 373 families involved in the projects had children already in foster care or facing imminent foster care placement.

In a report to the Department of Social Services, the Child Welfare League said that, as of March 31, "We find 94 percent of the children at home...have remained at home and 43 percent of those in foster care have returned home."

In commenting on the need for expanding such programs, Mr. Berger said, "There is need for more than money to solve the problems confronting the 900,000 children we are now asked to care for in New York State each year. We are concerned with their health and welfare as individuals."

DEVOTIONS

By Rev. J.H. Krah

JUNK FOR JESUS

Simon Peter was the disciple with a foot-shaped mouth. "I will never leave you no matter what the others do," Peter protested one day after the Lord told the disciples that they would all desert Him. Not much later Peter denies the Lord three times in the courtyard, swearing the third time that he never knew the man.

After His resurrection Jesus appears to some of His disciples. They had some breakfast together, then Jesus turns to Peter and says, "Simon, son of John, do you love me more than these others?" Peter replies,

"Yes, Lord; you know that I love you." Jesus said to Him, "Feed my lambs." A second and a third time Jesus questions Peter's love, and Peter assures the Lord that he loves Him. Jesus again commands him to feed His sheep.

Today we too hear our Lord's voice saying to us, "Do you love me?" And He waits to hear our answer. And if it is, "Yes, Lord you know I love you," we must be willing to first hear and then act upon His command to "Feed my sheep." That is, reach out to each other and communicate God's love through both words and actions. For anything less than a wholehearted willingness to turn our lives over to God for His use is to in effect offer junk for Jesus.

Dietrich Bonhoeffer, a Christian martyr during the Second World War, says it so poignantly, "When Christ calls a man, he bids him come and die." To die to self, in order to live for God. God wants our lives, our unqualified "yes" - and compared to that, all else seems like junk - having some value but far from what God wants.

Give your unqualified "yes" to Christ today and then follow His command to, "Feed my sheep."

SUMMER CHORUS

at SUNY at Fredonia, sang a short solo, to the more lyrical "Sure On This Shining Night" by the contemporary American composer Samuel Barber.

The second half of the program was composed entirely of the featured work, the Misa Criolla. Composed by an Argentinian, Ariel Ramirez, in 1963, this piece closed the evening in a new mood. Though on a biblical text, the work is distinctively Latin with its driving rhythms and both chorus and accompanists artfully succeeded in communicating the rhythmic spirit of the piece to the audience. Tenor soloists James Bennett and Kenneth Shepski, who will both enter Fredonia this fall, were outstanding an piano accompanist David Stowell is to be commended for his playing throughout the evening. But above all, I must commend the director, Stephen Goldstein, not only for this excellent performance, but for his dedication to organizing summer choruses in Hicksville for the past four years. His efforts have provided a worthwhile summer activity for amateur singers and an enjoyable cultural evening for the entire community. Our thanks to the Hicksville Summer Chorus.

Editor's Note: Mrs. Colyer, a 1972 graduate of Hicksville High School, will be entering her senior year at Bryn Mawr College next month.
