Duffy Homes Celebrate 25 Years—

Residents of Duffy Homes, recently celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary with a mass mortgage burning. (See Dear Friends column on page 4).

Solar Energy

Solar energy will be discussed by Douglas Wilke, an expert, at the monthly dinner meeting of the Long Island Chapter, American Institute of Architects, on December 4 at Musicara's Restaurant in Melville. His slide presentation "Integration and Application of Solar Energy," will outline the state of the art as it stands today and its potential for the future.

Mr. Wilke, a registered architect and professional engineer, has been involved with several major solar energy projects for several years. He will also describe the pitfalls as well as the benefits of drawing heat and electricity from the sun's rays, as the country's interest in this alternate form of energy has grown since the energy crisis.

The public is invited. For reservations and details call the Chapter's executive director, Anthony N. Mavis at 249-7370.

GOP Christmas Party

The Ernest F. Francke Republican Club of Hicksville will hold their regular monthly meeting at 8:30 P.M. on Friday evening, December 12th. The meeting will be held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall—Wm. M. Gouse Jr. Post #3211, located at 320 South Broadway in Hicksville. (The hall is situated south of the Firestone Store and north of the H.I.P. Building). Refreshments will be served.

The annual Christmas Party of the Ernest F. Francke Republican Club will be held at this meeting. There will be live music, songs, carols, and other items of entertainment. A feature of the party will be an exchange of gifts, via a special "Grab Bag" for the women, and also one for the men. All those wishing to participate in the "grab bag" are requested to bring a gift costing no more than $1.00. (Women to bring gifts for women and men to bring gifts for men.)

Thespians Troupe #2125 of Hicksville High School will be presenting their annual variety show "Once Upon a Time", on December 4th, 5th & 6th at 8:15 pm in the Hicksville High Auditorium. The price for each performance will be $1.25 on Dec. 4th and $1.50 on the 5th & 6th.

Neighbors Welcome The Doan Family To Hicksville

Neighbors of Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Grant on Bridge Lane in Hicksville gave an afternoon welcome party on November 12th in honor of the Vietnamese family sponsored by St. Stephens and Redeemer Lutheran churches. Mr. and Mrs. Khim Doan and daughter, Tuyet. The Doans have been residing with the Grant family in the parsonage on Bridge Lane. People living on the street had seen Mr. Doan walking to work and Tuyet going to school, but felt that they would like an opportunity to get to know the family better.

The party was held at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Fitzgerald, 51 Bridge Lane. Women from the neighborhood baked cakes and presented the Doans with many useful items of warm winter clothing such as sweaters, scarves, mittens and hats, and also items of household furnishings. The Doan family was overwhelmed and happy at this spontaneous gesture of concern and friendship.

The Doans have been in Hicksville over two months. Originally from Vung Tau, South Vietnam, a city on the coast, they fled in a relative's fishing boat on April 28th. After many difficult days on the water, during which the mother became seriously ill, they arrived in the Philippines. From there they were sent to Guam and later on to Camp Pendleton, California.

Mrs. Lawrence Fitzgerald, Christine McCoy, Tuyet Doan, Mrs. James Howlett, Elsbeth Howlett (l. to r.) in front is Mau Doan.

A small businessman in Vietnam, Mr. Doan has been employed since September at the De Pew Manufacturing Company in Hicksville. Tuyet, age 13, attends St. Ignatious School where she is in the 7th grade.

Members of Redeemer and St. Stephens Lutheran Churches have donated items of clothing and household furniture in order to help the Doans begin their new life in America. All those who have been in contact with this lovely family consider themselves most fortunate to be able to assist them in this way.

On December 1st, the Doans and their friends from the churches of Hicksville will welcome the Nguyen van Dau Family to the community. Mrs. Nguyen is the sister of Mau Doan. This family owned the fishing boat on which the escape was made from Vietnam. Mr. and Mrs. Nguyen and their six children, now at Fort Chaffee, Arkansas, will be sponsored by an ecumenical group of churches from the Hicksville area. They will reside in a home here in our community. The churches are now collecting items of clothing and household furnishings for this new family.

Hicksville Community Council To Hear Postmaster And Holy Family Singers

our Postal Authorities.

And for a little Holiday cheer, the Holy Family Players, a Hicksville singing group who have spent numerous seasons together, are going to bring their melodious voices to the meeting. As well as Christmas music, they will be singing numbers from their past shows, which are presented every May at Trinity High School.

As usual, towards the end of every meeting, the President of the Community Council, John Manie, opens the meeting to the "New England Town Meeting", where anyone may ask any question, make any comment, or give notice of any meeting, as long as it pertains to our Community.

So mark your calendar in Holiday red and green, for Thursday, December 4th at 8:30 P.M. in the large auditorium of the library.

News Of "Coquettes"

The month of November has been very busy for the "Coquettes" of Hicksville High School. They have had a successful cake sale November 3, built a float November 6 and 7, performed a difficult "H" formation at the Homecoming parade November 8. On Sunday November 9, they entered the National competition of the USTA sanctioned "Star Strutters" and WON a second place trophy. On Friday evening November 14, they assisted the PTA prepare for their Saturday Flea Market. They ended their football season on Saturday, November 15, and are now preparing for the basketball season. All this has been done under the direction of their coach, Mrs. Pauline Jonason, Art Department Representative, assisted by Captains Cathy Bilancia and Kathy Annuziato.

Mrs. Jonason, listed in the "Who's Who in American Education", "The Dictionary of International Biography", and the "Who's Who of American Women" was active in the Pep Club, the Leaders Club and the honorary physical education society "Kagathos" during her high school days. She is known to many of her students as "Adelaide" from the GUYS AND DOLLS 1972 Faculty Play and "Sister" of DAMN YANKEES in 1974. Mrs. Jonason started teaching in 1949 and has been teaching in this district for twenty-three years covering the elementary, junior-high, senior-high and adult-education areas.

Fall Graduates

Ralph Proscia of 10 Kuhl Ave. and Mark Strick of 58 Narcissus Ave., both Hicksville, are among fall graduates of the Academy of Aeronautics, LaGuardia Airport.

The academy offers an Associate in Applied Science degree, an Associate in Occupational Studies degree and, in affiliation with the New York Institute of Technology, a Bachelor degree in Technology with a major in aviation. The academy maintains hangar-test cell-flight line complex, drafting rooms, laboratories and library, as well as student center, including athletic fields. Courses are offered days, evenings and Saturdays.

Mr. Proscia is recipient of a Bachelor of Technology degree with an operations management option. Mr. Strick received an Associate in Applied Science degree with a maintenance technology major.

Mr. Strick was granted his certification as an airframe license holder.

WE SHARE: As part of a ten-year program to research innovative ideas in this country, the Dutch government sent Dr. Co Leuven to Woodland Avenue School.

His government is exploring alternative learning models for individualizing their curriculum.

At the present time, the style of individualized education practiced at the Woodland Avenue School is the leading contender for the honor of being the model technique for use in the schools of the Netherlands. Dr. Leuven is spending one month in the United States to evaluate several programs before the final choice is made.

He visited Woodland's first and second grade I.I. classes, as well as the fifth and sixth grade I.I. classes. He was most impressed by the continuity of meaningful learning experiences he observed, the dedication of the teachers, and the growing dependability, confidence and academic growth of the children.

In order to document his observations, Dr. Leuven will present his government with tape recordings and sound movies of the children and teachers at work.

Dear Friends. . .

WHAT A HAPPY EVENT we have to tell you about. Last Friday evening at Old Country Manor, over one hundred people attended the 25th anniversary dinner dance of the Duffy Park (Vidoni Homes) Homes of Hicksville, at which time they held a (symbolic) mortgage burning for about fifty homes. Frank Clancy of Suggs Lane was in charge of this gala affair.

The invitations also included this prayer: "Thank you, Dear Lord, for helping us get started with our Duffy Park Home in 1950. And for the last 25 wonderful years. Tonight you have blessed us by bringing together the most beautiful people in all of the Duffy Park Homes. For this we are eternally grateful. Amen." The following lyrics (to the tune of "Anniversary Waltz") we believe was also composed by Mr. Clancy:

DUFFY PARK HOMES ANNIVERSARY SONG

Oh, how we felt on the day we moved here,
Our hearts filled with hope for the things we held dear.

The ground was so bare, not a leaf or a tree,
That day we moved in just as happy as can be.

Chorus

Twenty five years later and what do we see,
Homes filled with people as proud as can be,
Our hearts gently beating while murmuring low,
Mr. Vidoni, we love you so.

Second verse

The years have passed fast, the families have grown,
Since our home was brand, new many friendships we've known.

Things were accomplished through efforts we made,
And fond memories live on as the years slowly fade.

Mrs. Kay Cunningham, another Hicksville neighbor, was also present, congratulating all her friends on this festive celebration...and we join her in her wish that all the Duffy Park Homes residents (along with all our friends and neighbors) have many years happiness to come, for they are truly fine friends and neighbors in every sense of the word.

A TRADITION was established by Fred Noeth many years ago suggesting that children write to Santa c o THE HERALD. We are still pleased to hear from some of our young, generation, in that their "Letters to Santa," may be forwarded through the Mid Island Herald at 1 Jonathan Ave., Hicksville. We received our first such letter this week and, be assured, Fawn and Angeia, your letter has been forwarded to Santa's House at the North Pole.....

A HAPPY CHANNUKAH to all our friends of the Jewish Faith.

FINALLY we hope that you are all enjoying a wonderful Thanksgiving, 1975. We have so much to be thankful for, each day that God gives to us. What opportunities are available for all to serve, and what great results come, as we follow His will.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mrs. Noeth:
The proposed Nassau County Budget for 1976 would eliminate all support by the County for the Nassau Library System. As a taxpayer, as a library patron, and as a Trustee of the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library, I regard such a prospect as appalling.

Loss of County support for NLS would have a potentially devastating effect on the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library and the 54 other local community libraries that depend on services NLS now provides.

Among the services that would be placed in jeopardy if County support for NLS does not continue are "Talking Book" service to the blind and the physically handicapped, "Homebound" service, and the back-up reference service currently provided by NLS to local libraries and their patrons. These and other services presently provided by NLS cannot be provided economically on an individual library basis.

It is time for those who use and care about our libraries to stand up and be counted. Write to County Executive Caso and Supervisor Burke—tell them that you want County support of the Nassau Library System to continue. In this time of crisis for our local public libraries, every voice counts.

Very truly yours,
Michael Polansky
Trustee, Plainview-Old
Bethpage Public Library

Dear Mrs. Noeth,
Your endorsement was genuinely appreciated.

I am immensely grateful to the voters who have given me the privilege to serve for the next two years.

I will continue my efforts and provide prompt and efficient services to all the residents of the Town of Oyster Bay.

Sincerely yours,
Ann R. Ocker

To the Editor:
Mayor Beame's proposal to help solve the immediate financial problems of New York City by more than tripling the tax on commuters is unsound and unjust.

The existing tax, first imposed a number of years ago, was based on the specious reasoning that commuters use city services but do not contribute financially toward their upkeep. As I pointed out at that time, the City forgets that commuters are helping to keep the City alive.

Furthermore, those concerns which employ commuters pay the City an income tax based on a considerable percentage of overall corporate earnings. The municipal services, then, are being paid for by businesses, and the so-called "commuter tax" unfairly impacts upon many of the people that City-based business employ.

Fiscal finagling has led New York straight into the jaws of crisis. The City's leaders have apparently not been able to make the hard, and sometimes unpopular, decisions necessary to establish and maintain the fiscal integrity that sustains any government.

Beyond question, the City must be saved. But the City's resolve to see the "commuter tax" increased reflects a penchant for choosing avenues which are more expedient than they are practical.

I expect a far more responsible attitude from our representatives in the State Legislature, and have urged them to work toward the defeat of a plan that would further burden those who neither live nor vote in New York City, but who unquestionably contribute to its reason for being.

John W. Burke
Supervisor, T.O.B.

To the Editor:

Busing to achieve racial balance is, in my opinion, an abomination. It results from decisions by the United States Supreme Court and is probably the issue which divides Americans most. Busing has been responsible for civil disobedience, riots, street confrontations and violence. Its effects in achieving racial balance are spotty, education as the result of forced integration is spotty, and the benefits of the busing doctrine are more and more being reconsidered by both blacks and whites.

About a month ago, 49 of my Congressional colleagues and I petitioned to convene the Democratic Caucus in the House of Representatives, in order to seek support which would deal with this problem. Since we had the necessary 50 signatures to force a Caucus, we asked that Congressional Democrats consider the adoption of language which directs the House Judiciary Committee to send to the floor of Congress within 30 days, a Constitutional amendment "that would guarantee each child the right to attend the primary and secondary school nearest his own home within his respective school district." This language, we felt, was direct, easily understandable and represents the right direction in which to turn after reviewing the evidence coming in from all parts of the land with respect to busing.

The Caucus met on Wednesday, November 19th, at 9:30 a.m. in the Great Hall of the House. The Leadership quickly assembled their forces in order to prevent affirmative action. They offered a motion to table the petitioners' directive. The issue was debated on the floor, and considering the emotionalism involved, the debate was fairly high level. Two points were made by those who opposed the anti-busing language: first, they feared that a precedent would be set by having Congress establish Constitutional amendments which would overturn Court decisions; second, that the Democratic Caucus would be acting imprudently if, by majority Caucus vote, it directed a Committee of the House of Representatives, which contained both Democrats and Republicans, to take a certain action. Certainly, these technical arguments permitted a number of anti-busing supporters to vote to table, and just as certainly those who made the argument carefully constructed it so that the spectre of racial bigotry would not materialize. While I and most of my colleagues favor quality education for everyone in this Nation, and deplore discrimination and bigotry, I could neither support the technical arguments to table, nor turn my back on both my campaign promises and my strongly held view that busing is an abomination for all children, who themselves are innocent victims of a concept gone awry.

I heard no effective argument in favor of busing, and I will continue to oppose busing as a method of achieving racial balance. I will just as strongly continue to work to assure each child a high quality education.

Family Thanks Lent For Aid

"You have done very much for my husband during this past year and your efforts have born fruit."

In those words, Mrs. Eva Butman thanked Congressman Norman F. Lent (R-E. Rockaway) for his efforts on behalf of her husband, imprisoned Soviet Jew Hillel Butman. In other good news, Congressman Lent received a letter, in Russian, from Hillel Butman's mother, in Leningrad, saying the mail to her son is getting through and that his condition has improved.

Lent, acting in cooperation with the Long Island Committee for Soviet Jewry, adopted Butman as his "Prisoner of Conscience" more than a year ago. Butman is imprisoned in Vladimir Prison, the harshest maximum in the Soviet Union.

During the past year, Lent has written a minimum of 5 letters a week to Butman, his wife Eva in Israel, his mother in Leningrad, and to Soviet officials. In his letters to the Russians, Lent protests Butman's treatment and requests: better health care for the prisoner, that he be allowed to receive his mail, and that he be given an early release and permission to join his wife and children in Israel. Lent has also assured Soviet officials that their activities are being closely monitored and exposed to world public opinion.

Recently, "as a result of your (Lent's) intervention," according to Eva Butman, Hillel received desperately needed medical attention, including surgery.

Lent said he supported the U.S. position in the United Nations calling on member nations to release all political prisoners. "If the nations who so blithely voted for the anti-zionism resolution were as concerned with freedom as they claim, they would release the men and women jailed for trying to exercise the basic human rights of free speech and political dissent."

In addition to his work on the problem of Soviet Jews, Rep. Lent was an original cosponsor of H.R. 379 to create a Select Committee on Servicemen Missing in Action, which overwhelmingly passed the House earlier this Fall.

At Tackapausha Museum

If you're looking for new ways to keep the youngsters busy during the coming Yuletide season, Nassau County's Tackapausha Museum and Preserve in Seaford is offering many interesting possibilities at the bargain rate of only 25¢.

Along with Tackapausha's familiar programs, special Children's Workshops and "bonus" natural history films will brighten the school vacation period, beginning in late December. The museum will, however, be closed on Christmas and New Year's Day.

The series of Children's Workshops kicks off on the first day of winter, Monday, Dec. 22, with "Animal Tracks and Signs." Since the program will be held outdoors in the Preserve, children should dress accordingly. On Tuesday, Dec. 23, "Microscope Madness" is the topic. "Fun With Seeds" is next on Friday, Dec. 26, followed by "String Art" on Monday, Dec. 29. The subject for Tuesday, Dec. 30 is "Maintaining a Home Terrarium" and the Friday, Jan. 2 topic is "Experiments With Water." All workshops start at 2 p.m., and are free of charge, except for the usual 25¢ museum admission fee.

"Ask Tackapausha" will provide the regular monthly opportunity for visitors to bring in for identification natural history objects that have them stumped, on Monday, Dec. 15 at 3:30 p.m.

Mother Nature's Almanac, a workshop for adults conducted on Tuesdays at 11 a.m., will feature "Ink Blot Art" on Dec. 2; "Making Pine Cone Bird Feeders" on Dec. 9; and "Making String Bird Cages" on Dec. 16.

The Naturalist's Guided Nature Walk will be held on Thursdays, Dec. 4, 11 and 18, at 10 a.m.

"Stars" of the perennial and popular Animal-of-the-Week program presented on Fridays at 3:30 p.m. will be "The Misnamed Guinea Pig", on Dec. 5; "Bird Friends", on Dec. 12; and "What's a Polecat?" on Dec. 19. Tackapausha personnel plan to surprise the youngsters with their selections for Dec. 26 and Jan. 2.

Live Animal Demonstrations on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 6 and 7, feature "Animal Defenses", and "Animals No One Loves: Bats, Snakes, and Things", on Saturday, Dec. 13. On Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 20 and 21, "Animals With Fur" are featured, and on Dec. 27 and 28,

"Animal Locomotion: Animals That Fly". All demonstrations are at 11:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The once-a-month Care of Pets Series is set for Sunday, Dec. 14 at 2 p.m. and focuses on "The Christmas Puppy."

Titles of Weekend Natural History films, presented on Saturdays and Sundays at 1:30, 2:30, and 3:30 p.m. are as follows: Dec. 6 and 7, "Volcano Surtsey"; Dec. 13 and 14, "Snow"; Dec. 20 and 21, "Private Life of the Kingfisher"; and Dec. 27 and 28, "Pitcairn People."

Mid-Week Movies, shown on Wednesdays at 3:30 p.m., include: "Living Lakes", Dec. 3; "Living Tundra", Dec. 10; "Living River", Dec. 17; "Wild Wings", Dec. 24; and "Animals Unlimited", Dec. 31.

Additional "bonus" films will be shown at 3:30 p.m. on Mondays and Tuesdays around the holiday season. On Dec. 22 and 23, "Living Mountains" is the feature, and on Dec. 29 and 30, "Living Rain Forest."

The Tackapausha Museum and Preserve, a facility operated by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., except for Dec. 25 and Jan. 1. The museum is located on Washington Ave., near Merrick Rd.

A bulldozer works on the west side of Meadowbrook Parkway and a big earth moving "pan" on the east side as construction begins on a road and bridge through the Santini area of Mitchell Field.

The project was conceived by the Nassau County Department of Public Works to provide a connection from the Coliseum's Hempstead Turnpike entrance to Merrick Avenue permitting motorists to avoid the congested Hempstead Turnpike-Merrick Avenue intersection and also to aid in the commercial development of the Santini section.

The building in the background is the County Rifle Range which will be demolished in the second phase of the project and replaced by a new structure in Mitchell Park.

A Unique Outlet For Singles

An alternative to the singles' bar has been discovered by hundreds of people - at C.W. Post Center of Long Island University.

It is the highly successful "Friday Night for Singles" series which promises a stimulating array of events this spring. The 1975 fall program concludes with a performance by the C.W. Post Madrigal Singers along with a Christmas celebration on Friday, December 5th, at 8 p.m. in the Great Hall of the Greenvale school.

"The programs are designed to be intellectually stimulating in a fun kind of way," said Charles Solberg, Continuing Education Coordinator. "We try to steer away from the heavy raps on singles' issues."

The series consists of a lecture on six alternative - Friday evenings preceding a wine and cheese social. In addition, there are outings to Southampton, horseback riding demonstrations, and at least one musical event per semester.

Such unique topics as "The Philosophy of the Boudoir," "Meditation and Guided Fantasies," "Income Tax and the Single Person," and "Shakespeare on Lovers and Other Lunatics" were presented this fall by members of the C.W. Post faculty.

The program limits its enrollment to 100 people. Since its inception two years ago it has been filled to capacity and then some (a waiting list has been established to handle the overflow).

Enrolled are 100 students of varied ages and backgrounds looking for a learning experience, not a meaningless Friday night out. "The faculty has been impressed with the academic achievements of the groups," according to the originator and coordinator of the program, Dr. Sally Ronsheim. "The caliber of the discussion has been excellent."

For next semester such topics as a discussion on segments of American Musical Theatre, the philosophy of economics, the

Senior Citizens' Bowling Clinic

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca has announced that the Town is co-sponsoring a free bowling clinic for Oyster Bay's senior citizens (age 55 and over) on Friday, December 5th at the Plainview Bowl between 9:30 AM and 12:30 PM. A special feature of the clinic will be the participation of Andy Varipapa, a member of the Bowling Hall of Fame, National Bowling Champion and international trick-shot artist. The 84-year-old bowling star is also a member of the Presidents Council on Physical Fitness.

Mosca said that the Town's Senior Citizens Services Division is "most proud to offer this enjoyable clinic for Oyster Bay's seniors." The clinic is co-sponsored by the Town and the Nassau Bowling Proprietors Association, Inc.

The clinic will provide seniors with an opportunity to brush up on their bowling skills, and will feature the helpful points of Mr. Varipapa and a film on proper bowling technique.

HARVEST CRAFTS FAIR AT COLISEUM: Quality crafts, ranging from hand-made stained glass to beautiful pottery will be featured at the Nassau Coliseum's Harvest Crafts Fair during the Thanksgiving Weekend, November 28 through 30.

The Fair, held in the Coliseum's Exhibition Hall will feature some 500 artisans, and their handmade articles in the Colonial tradition. The crafts pieces will be offered at surprisingly low prices, usually below retail prices and are ideal for holiday giving as well as a Bicentennial remembrance.

Leather makers and feather folks, glass masters and silversmiths, weavers and potters, candle and ivory carvers, batik and dye crafters, toy makers and wood sculptors are just a sample of the scope of crafts-people who will be present.

For more information, persons may call "Attractionline" at 794-9100.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Klein of Hicksville, announces the engagement of their daughter Ronnie Marlene to Ira M. Witlin son of Dr. & Mrs. Bernard Witlin of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. A wedding is planned for August 8, 1976.

The future bride is an Alumna of S.U.N.Y. at Stony Brook and will graduate from the University of Miami School of Law in May.

Her fiancé is a recent graduate of the University of Miami School of Law and is presently an attorney associated with the Law Offices of Reginald M. Hayden Jr. of Miami, Florida.

Cited For Writing

Thomas Wassel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Wassel of 36 Balsam Drive, Hicksville, has been cited for outstanding performance in writing at Syosset High School. The National Council of Teachers of English has named him a winner of a 1975 NCTE Achievement Award in Writing. The NCTE writing contest is held annually beginning in January.

Over 7,000 students were nominated last February by their English teachers for NCTE

Achievement Awards in Writing. Each nominee submitted a sample of his/her best writing and an impromptu essay. These compositions were evaluated by state judging teams of both high school and college English teachers. The approximately 850 winners selected each year represent high schools in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and American schools abroad. The number of possible winners for each state is keyed to state population.

"Crime Stop"

A four-and-a-half week intensive crime prevention operation will be instituted by the Nassau County Police Department starting November 29th.

Termed "Crime Stop," the operation is a major effort to thwart crime and apprehend criminals who prey upon persons, homes and business establishments during the holiday season.

Commissioner Louis J. Frank has ordered special patrols to begin operations in each of the department's eight precincts between the hours of 7 p.m. and 1 a.m. when most crimes occur.

In addition to the regular patrols in each precinct, there will be additional detectives and members of the Crime Prevention Unit assigned to each precinct.

These special patrols will be equipped with special weapons and will continue in force until January 1st.

Commissioner Frank has emphasized crime prevention as the primary goal of the operation. He said, "We know from past experience that the holiday season is a time of distinct temptation to criminals and a maximum effort will be made by this department to deter them."

Rose Society To Meet

The Long Island Rose Society will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday, December 8, at 8:15 p.m. at the Syosset Public Library, South Oyster Bay Rd. at the Long Island Expressway (Exit 43).

The speaker for the evening will be Mr. Peter Haring, who will present an illustrated slide lecture on rose hybridizing. Pete, a resident of Stony Brook, is an amateur hybridizer and member of the Rose Hybridizers' Association. He is also a member and past president of the Long Island and Suffolk Rose Societies, Director of the N.Y. State District of the American Rose Society, an A.R.S. Accredited Judge and a Consulting Rosarian.

Guests are most welcome, admission is free, and refreshments will be served. New members may join the L.I.R.S. at this time of year for a reduced rate of $3.00.

The Burns Ave. PTA will hold a Fair on Sat., Dec. 6, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the school's All Purpose Room.

This year, there will be a Used Clothes Booth, where hundreds of articles of clothing, many in near-mint condition, will be on display for bargain hunters or the curious. There will be booths with home baked goods, books and stationery items, hand-made Christmas items, toys, and a "White Elephant" booth.

The pick-a-prize drawing will also take place, thanks to the beautiful gifts donated by local merchants.

Declares Dividend

LITCO Corporation of New York, the holding company for Long Island Trust Company, today declared its eleventh quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share. The dividend is payable January 1, 1976 to stockholders of record on December 15, 1975, and was declared by the LITCO Board of Directors on November 20, 1975.

Long Island Trust, the wholly owned subsidiary of LITCO, had declared 150 quarterly dividends. The LITCO dividend continues the dividend trend.

Announcement of the dividend was made by Arthur Hug, Jr. Chairman of the Board.

Pamphlet Aids Consumer

Consumers who are looking for ways to fight high food bills can send for a pamphlet entitled "The Case of the Disappearing Food Dollar," now available from the Nassau County Office of Consumer Affairs.

The leaflet offers consumers twelve tips to sharpen up their supermarket shopping skills, such as figuring the price per serving or resisting the big display, according to Consumer Affairs Commissioner James E. Picken.

"Faced with a choice of 8,000 items at constantly changing prices, the consumer can use all the help she can get," said Picken. "Following the guidelines in this pamphlet can help her develop supermarket strategies to save both time and money."

Food laws relating to labeling, packaging, and nutrition are also listed. Knowing these laws, as well as making use of a shopping list and the customer scale, can be first aids in recovering the disappearing dollar, suggested Picken.

Copies of "The Case of the Disappearing Food Dollar" may be obtained by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope to the office of Consumer Affairs, 160 Old Country Rd., Mineola, N.Y. 11501.

Carman General Meeting

The Carman Community Association will hold its next general meeting on December 2 at the Westbury Federal Savings Bank on Carman Avenue in Westbury at 8:30 P.M.

Sergeant Fenton of the Nassau County Jail will make a presentation on the Work-Release Facility located in our community. He will particularly address himself to our safety concerns. Refreshments will be served and a question and answer period will follow.

Budget Declared Outrageous

"Outrageous" was the reaction of the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc. (CPES) to Governor Carey's proposed $857 million in higher taxes.

"Such an increase would further overburden the already over-taxed citizens of this state, and further drive industry from the state," said CPES. "Where is the long-awaited 'Budget Summary' which should have been released weeks ago showing estimated expenditures and revenues for the current fiscal year?" the taxpayer watchdog group said.

CPES strongly urged the Governor and Legislature to cut spending first before considering tax increases.

"Efforts to save the City of New York from default should not be used as an excuse to secure a massive state tax increase," the statewide taxpayer group said.

CPES also asked state lawmakers to return their 1975 "lulu" increases as a sign that they are willing to "bite the bullet".

Christmas Brunch

The Nassau North Shore Christian Women's Club invites friends to its Christmas Brunch at Stouffer's Restaurant in Garden City, on Tuesday, December 2, at 10:30 A.M.

Edith Sherl and Trio will provide the Special Feature and Special Music in "The Talking Christmas Tree". Audrey Clark will return as main speaker.

Reservations are $3.75 each and free baby sitting may be made with Marcelle Ritzmann at 872-9060.

"George M." At Library

The Hicksville Library is pleased to announce that on Friday evening December 5 at 8:30 pm THEATRE PLUS will present "George M". This professional musical drama group was founded by Dick and Pat Meares, a husband and wife team who are the music and stage directors respectively. Last year the library presented "Camelot" put on by this group to the delight of the community.

"George M" is the story of the Cohan family told in song and dance for the entertainment of all ages. Free tickets for this performance are available at the library and also on the bookmobile. Seating space is limited so hurry in to obtain the number you need.

Carnegie Recital

Two Long Island sopranos - Joan Brooks and Leona Ackerman - performed successfully at Carnegie Recital Hall on Nov. 23, 1975.

Joan Brooks' who teaches at Joan Greenberg, is presently at Jericho Jr. High School, after being at the Jackson School in Jericho. Her voice was warm and brilliant in a beautiful program of Schumann Lieder, while Ms. Ackerman excelled in a Debussy grouping.

Both sang duets by Mendelssohn, Purcell, and Schutz, as well as solos, and were reviewed most favorably

Thanksgiving At Holy Trinity

Wednesday, November 26th was a special day at Holy Trinity High School, Hicksville. Twelve hundred students gathered in the auditorium for the annual Thanksgiving mass.

This year's liturgy was planned and coordinated by the Student Council members of the Class of 1977. The Chairmen were Carol Bugglin, Ellen O'Brien, Nancy Ward, and Jeff Gibbons.

The theme of "If not for you..." was described in the liturgical readings which were based on the results of a questionnaire recently sent to all religion classes. The students also read poetry and original essays to enhance the prayerful spirit.

The Hicksville H.S. Cross-Country team just completed a 5-1 dual meet season.

The J-V runners are: Tom Conboy, Dean Koutsoubis, Gary Sokol, Tim were responsible for the beautiful "trees of gratitude" which hung from the walls. Excerpts from the film, "Gifts from God" were also shown.

A unique feature was an original dance, planned by Lisa Wackerman and performed by the students. Music was provided by a group of juniors and seniors.

Voluntary attendance is a hallmark at Holy Trinity liturgies. Seeing the auditorium filled to capacity was an inspiration to Sister Joan McCarthy, moderator of the junior class and largely responsible for the planning of the mass. "The students demonstrated a real spirit of Thanksgiving. It was a pleasure to work with them," Sister Joan said.

Coach Bob Hilsky is looking forward to a great year in '76, with 12 returning runners in addition to some very promising freshman runners.

FISH Program And Ecumenical Council

The FISH PROGRAM of Hicksville-Plainview-Bethpage is offering four information/training sessions during the first week of December in an effort to fill recent vacancies in its volunteer ranks.

FISH helps persons with short-term needs such as transportation, hot meals, and baby-sitting. It also maintains the homes and grounds of the elderly and shut-in.

Telephone volunteers are needed for a 12-hr. period once each month in order to maintain a 24-hr. a day answering service. Others are needed for one 12-hr. period each month to perform the various services described above. Shorter hours can be arranged on a more frequent basis.

FISH is an International Service Program sponsored in this area by the MID-ISLAND ECUMENICAL COUNCIL. Anyone interested in volunteering or in finding out more about the program is invited to attend ONE of the following sessions. All begin at 8:30 P.M.

NEWS

Many homeowners could cut their homes' energy waste in half and substantially reduce their heating and cooling costs, simply by installing such readily available improvements as caulking and weatherstripping, storm windows and doors, and building insulation.

If all the 40 million owner-occupied homes in America had these improvements, the country could save the equivalent of 500,000 barrels of oil per day.

The attic accounts for a major percentage of home energy waste. Insulation provides the best way to economically reduce this waste.

Even as little as six inches of Fiberglas attic insulation, installed in an average size uninsulated attic (1,000 square feet) can save a homeowner from $50 to $200 a year on fuel bills, and in most cases pay for itself in just a few years or less.

Once a homeowner has saved enough in fuel to pay for the insulation he installed (and the pay-back period is likely to shorten as energy costs continue to increase) every subsequent year is money in a homeowners' pocket—instead of money through the roof.

In severe climates, or in areas where energy costs are unusually high, The National Bureau of Standards (NBS) says that 12 or more inches of insulation can be economically justified. Even in milder climates, says the NBS, about 10 inches of insulation may be economically justified at current high energy prices.

For exact recommendations on how much insulation is right for a given home, experts advise homeowners to consult local building supply dealers or Fiberglas insulation contractors.

To insulate doors and windows against heat loss or gain, experts advise the use of caulking and weatherstripping and storm doors and windows.

OF ENERGY CONSERVATION

1. Install basement insulation.
2. Caulk & weatherstrip doors & windows.
3. Install storm windows & doors.
4. Insulate the attic.
5. Install wall insulation.
6. Maintain heating & cooling units.

America could save the equivalent of 500,000 barrels of oil per day if all of our 40 million owner-occupied homes had adequate insulation, caulking, weatherstripping, and storm sash.

Weatherstripping and caulking, which are relatively inexpensive improvements, can save up to 10 percent a year on fuel waste.

Weatherstripping should be applied around all four sides of entrance doors and any other doors between heated and unheated spaces. Caulking should go around all exterior window and door frames.

Storm doors and windows, while comparatively expensive, can reduce heating and cooling energy waste by still another 15 percent.

Still additional fuel economies are possible by insulating basement and side walls. Since basement walls account for a sizeable percentage of home energy waste, 3 1/2-inches of Fiberglas insulation can result in meaningful fuel savings.

Basement walls in existing homes can usually be insulated by the do-it-yourself homeowner, while side walls, because of their inaccessibility, usually require the services of an insulation contractor.

In addition to helping conserve our nation's valuable energy resources and drastically reducing the cost of heating and cooling our homes, insulation improvements also contribute significantly to interior comfort.

Proper insulation reduces drafts and makes it easier to maintain a healthful, even balance of interior temperatures.

Insulation improvements also improve a home's resale value.

With energy costs continuing to rise, many home buyers will consider building insulation, and storm windows and doors, to be just as important as a home's more traditional selling features.

CHICKEN CURRY, CHINESE-STYLE

Chinese Chicken Curry is a little different from those usually seen on a restaurant menu. It can be prepared with regular kitchen utensils using ingredients found in your local supermarket—no special equipment or exotic foods necessary. The recipe uses Planters Peanut Oil which is the favorite choice in this country for Chinese-style cookery. As the most subtle of the polyunsaturated cooking oils it takes up the flavor of other ingredients without imparting a taste of its own.

Chinese Chicken Curry

- 4 tablespoons Planters Peanut Oil
- 4 cloves garlic, crushed
- 3 medium onions, sliced lengthwise
- 2 large chicken breasts, boned and cut into 2-inch pieces
- 1 tablespoon curry powder
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1/2 cup water
- 3 medium potatoes, cut into 1-1/2-inch roll cuts

- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon water
- Hot cooked rice

Heat 2 tablespoons peanut oil in Dutch oven over high heat. Add garlic; fry until brown. Add onions; stir-fry 3 minutes. Remove onions; set aside.

Heat remaining 2 tablespoons peanut oil in Dutch oven. Add chicken and curry powder; stir-fry 3 minutes. Add sugar, salt, soy sauce and 1/2 cup water. Mix in potatoes. Bring mixture to a boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 20 minutes. Mix in onions. Cover and simmer 10 minutes longer. Blend cornstarch and remaining 1 tablespoon water. Stir into chicken mixture. Boil 1 minute, or until thickened. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Perform a death-defying act.

Have your blood pressure checked.

YOUTH IS A FEELING...NOT AN AGE

How old are you? Not in years, but in spirit?

The late comedian, Ed Wynn, in his later years had a formula for staying young. He said that instead of worrying about his actual age and feeling old, he picked some important event in his life and figured his age from that point. In his particular case, the event was his marriage. Therefore, he quoted his age 20 to 30 years younger...and felt the same.

Youth is a feeling, not an age! There are youthful oldsters and old youngsters. So chronological age in itself means nothing.

Whether you are 8 or 80, if you want to stay youthful, your doctor of chiropractic makes the following suggestions:

- (1) Keep busy. Too much leisure causes the mind to stagnate and the body to deteriorate.
- (2) Have hobbies. Select activities that give you a complete diversion from your regular work.

- (3) Maintain friendships. Everyone has a need for the companionship and respect of friends.

Fire Safety For Your Home

Twelve thousands Americans die annually in fires; an additional 300,000 are injured; and property damages reaches $3 billion. Because so many fires are caused by people, people can do the most to prevent them.

Fire safety should begin in the home and here's a quick check list to help improve the fire safety of your home.

- Store gasoline and other flammables in tight metal containers. Don't use flammable liquids near heat, a pilot light or while smoking.
- Have heating equipment checked annually.
- Remove rubbish. Don't store things near the furnace or heater.
- Put lighters and matches where small children won't find them.
- Don't smoke in bed.
- Don't overload electrical outlets.
- Make sure that all appliances you purchase are U.L. or Factory Mutual tested.
- When a fuse blows, find the cause. Always replace a blown fuse with one of the same rating. (No pennies!)
- Check your home periodically for fire hazards and immediately correct any you find.

No matter how careful you are, a fire can still occur, so it's equally important to be prepared for fire.

(4) Set goals and have ambitions. You are never too old nor too young to plan.

(5) Eat regular, well-balanced meals. Do not overeat. Likewise, avoid crash or fad diets.

(6) Allow yourself "think" time. Don't put yourself on so tight a schedule that you do not have time for yourself.

(7) Keep physically fit. Establish a regular program of moderate exercise.

(8) Maintain good posture. Keep your chest out, stomach in, back straight, and chin up.

(9) Get regular health examinations. Practice preventive care.

Your doctor of chiropractic reminds you that life is precious and well worth preserving. Retain that spirit of youth by maintaining good health.

An excellent documentary film has been recently produced, which gives a comprehensive and in-depth look at senior life in America. Titled "Use It In Good Health, Charlie," it is available for showing to groups and organizations without charge. Since most multiple fatality fires occur at night when people are asleep, it's wise to have some kind of early warning alarm system. One of the newest is the General Electric Home Sentry Smoke Alarm. This smoke alarm utilizes space age technology to detect fire in its earliest stages when there is no appreciable smoke, flame or heat, and while there is still enough time to escape.

Plan for escape from every area of your home. Discuss escape routes (there should be two from each room) with the family, especially the children. Actually rehearse escape with fire drills while at the same time testing your Home Sentry Smoke Alarm.

If your clothing ignites, roll over and over on the ground or floor. Running will just fan the flames. Teach this procedure to your children.

If you see, smell, or hear any hint of fire, don't stop to investigate. Evacuate the family immediately and telephone the fire department.

By becoming fire conscious, and fire safe, you can avoid becoming a fire statistic.

Soccer Club News

The reprise granted by "Mother Nature" in providing last weekend's Indian Summer extended to the fields where Hicksville's traveling teams were competing. The clean sweep was accomplished by both Bantam teams.

The Harris Aluminum Bantam Red, under the direction of B. Cresham demolished N. Shore 10-0 in spite of efforts to maintain a reasonable margin. Playmaker S. Devlin, unselfishly set up play after play, that resulted in scores by C. Habersaat (3), P. Schur (2), D. Smyth (2), B. Cresham (1), B. Maguire (1), F. Schure (1), B. Cheslock celebrated his birthday by an outstanding display of defensive effort for the team.

The Bantam Blue, sponsored by Mid Island Bowl and coached by H. Zaretsky, racked up a pair of close shut outs. First they defeated E. Meadow 2-0 on scores by R. Newlands who drove in an unassisted spectacular kick, and F. Musumeci on an alert response to a cross. Next the team held on to a 1-0 advantage over Brentwood through the defensive efforts of R. Bruschin, R. Bell, J. Morrisroe and particularly the goal keeping of J. Knuth.

Intramurals

In the PeeWee's, Maryland rolled up a shut out over Georgia 3-0 on two scores by P. Christiano and one by P. Antonio. Maintaining the shut out were defensive men J. Rivers, A. Freeman, L. Sili & P. MacElroy. Georgia presented a strong defense in the persons of J.M. Anthony at goal and A. Coughlino at full back.

Connecticut blanked Massachusetts 2-0 with goals by J. Shaulys & P. Pisani on assists by G. Tyranski. Connecticut's defense was ably handled by D. Sirey at goal and G. Autshi at fullback. Massachusetts presented a strong defense as G. Gershowitz directed from goal and backs G. Greenberg and A. Rubin dominated the backfield.

Delaware settled for a 2-2 tie with Island Trees. Scores for Del were boot by J.J. Yudi 6 D. Borg. Outstanding performances were demonstrated by S. Swierupski, F. Pfeffer, T. DeMeo, I. Rubin, D. Blaustein and goalie A. Pilutik.

In the Bantam Division, S. Carolina pulled out a close one against New York 1-0. The only goal of the game was scored by J. Compress with assists by S. Soto & M. Lavacca. J. Bailz was outstanding at defense. New Yorks driving offense led by J. Zuzzolo & J. Heatherington was stymied despite the competent assistance of half back D. Holland.

New Hampshire edged Island Trees 2-1. Winning scores were posted by B. Althaus & G. Grusso while defensive assignments were capably handled by P. Petzold & D. Kramer.

New Jersey put Pennsylvania away 4-1. Goals for N. Jersey were scored by J. Abbatiello (2), M. Lagnese (1) & A. Sgaraglio (1). Backfield work by W. Coakley, S. Masiello & J. Youngs was outstanding, while M. Masters and J. Tiseo represented Penna. with obvious efficiency.

N. Carolina lost 2-0 to Island Trees. Aggressive play by G. Condrion, G. Jahlin, H. Mertz, F. Bassalino, & H. Rice was unavailing.

The Midget Division Indiana team lost to Island Trees 3-0. E. Heis & J. Deeler led the Indiana team in a relentless defense.

Alabama and Rhode Island played to a frustrating 0-0 tie. Outstanding performances were turned in by K. Busch, R. Mahoney, J. Panchookian, and also E. Miarekand G. DePolo at goal for Rhode Island. Alabama's cause was sustained by A. Rakito, D. Fisher, M. Meyer, A. Lubash & R. Gross.

Kentucky demolished Island Trees 3-1 on 2 goals by R. Spiers and 1 by D. Galloway. The teams win was supported by the play of P. Cattano, P. Holden & J. Hertle. Virginia easily romped over Indiana 5-0 on boots by A. Padolaski (2), S. Stafford (2) & B. Hastings (1). The defense was led by J. Mejia while the attack followed the lead of J. DeMarco.

The Junior Girls Magnolias team mastered the Carnations 5-2 on a "hat trick" by K. Conway plus 2 by A. Bagget. In addition to the scoring, the Magnolias defense maintained the win on the play of D. DeBra, C. Anglin, R. Bergen, M. Lavacca & J. Reik. The Carnations scored on kicks by S. Mitchell and M. Weber. Midfield support came from L. Reinhardt, S. Humann, C. Hastings, L. Finkelstein, J. Verhagen, C. Taylor & H. Ench.

The Rhododendrons blanked the Irises 3-0. D. Harkins put in 2 and P. Kenny 1. Dominating effort by the winning team was supplied by B. Rudin, K. Cusick, L. Horowitz, B. Condrion, A. Kenny & L. Burke. The Irises established a continuing threat with the performances of E. Nakasion, D. Luongo, S. Stefan & M.M. Stefan at goal.

The Senior Girls Division teams defeated by Island Trees in both games, 6-0, and 1-0 respectively.

Boys Division Teams suffered a similar fate as Oregon lost 1-0, Montana lost by the same score 1-0 and Vermont was defeated 3-0 all by Island Trees teams.

In the Sunday night "cardiac" special at Cantigue Park, the Hicksville coaches defeated the E. Meadow coaches 5-2. Scoring for Hicksville was set up continuously by left wing Mike Sini who positioned the ball for kicks by Bill Cresham (1), Ivan Mijolovic (2), Alex Suarez (1) & Jimmy DeMarco (1). The domination was maintained by the active goal keeping of Tony Camara and the persistent defense. Come see professional soccer at its best next Sunday at 7 P.M. at Cantigue Park; Hicksville vs Island Trees.

Announcements: Don't forget the regular monthly meeting on December 5 at the Mid Island Bowling Alley. Elections will be held.

What's Cooking at Dutch? Under the watchful eyes of a half dozen mothers Mrs. Wade's kindergarteners scrubbed, peeled, cut, and diced all their own vegetables to make Stone Soup one day last week. Another day they pooled their culinary talents with one of the mothers, Mrs. Breare, to prepare bread dough and cranberry sauce. On the third day, they made butter. Then on Friday they came to school without breakfast and sat down to a delicious Thanksgiving luncheon of their own trimmings plus turkey which was prepared as a bonus by mother, Mrs. Hetner. It was a beautiful, thankful and meaningful experience for all the children all week. So many cooks didn't spoil this broth!

Steam Locomotives On Our Island

Old "Number 35," the last of Long Island's steam locomotives, stands silent now, stark against the wide expanse of grass and sky in Eisenhower Park, East Meadow, with the haunting whistle of years gone by muted by history.

But for 27 years and 925,033 miles, she had dutifully hauled everything from commuters to U.S. Army troops and defense supplies during World War II.

From the time James Watt invented the steam engine in 1769 to that of the last run of Number 35, 186 years elapsed. It was 1833 when John B. Jervis introduced the first working locomotive up in Rome, N.Y., 64 years after the steam engine made the scene.

Long Island's first was called "Ariel." Other boasted fanciful names such as "Phoenix," "Neptune," "Old Henry Rugles" — and "Long-A-Coming."

Built in 1835, "Ariel" weighed a mere seven tons and cost only $7,000. (Ninety-three years later, Number 35 weighed in at 118.5 tons and cost $32,202. The price of a modern diesel engine today was zoomed to an estimated $400,000.)

Early engines serving Long Island began and ended their runs at the depot in South Ferry, Brooklyn. They were wood-burning, and, in observance of the sabbath, never ran on Sundays.

On April 18, 1836, the Brooklyn to Jamaica line was opened, followed by others to Hicksville in 1837 and Hempstead in 1839. And, unlike today's parking lots, sheds were obligingly erected in "Hicksville where horses could be 'parked' during the day at no cost, while farmers and fishermen transported their fresh vegetables, fish, clams and meat to markets in Brooklyn for distribution to New York City. The reverse freight from heavily-populated Brooklyn consisted mainly of ashes and manure.

By 1844, the line had extended to Greenport. The summer schedule for 1846 featured a run that left Brooklyn at 7:00 a.m. and passengers headed for Boston transferred to a steamboat and crossed Long Island Sound to Stonington, Ct. en route, or rented stage-coaches at stations along the way to various parts of the island.

The Long Island Rail Road began building branch lines in 1850, and there was a time when Hempstead was served simultaneously by three of them. In 1852, a mail and passenger train made the trip from Brooklyn to Greenport in 4½ hours, to Hempstead in 1½ hours, to Farmingdale in 5 hours, and to Jamaica in 55 minutes. Freight trains, however, chugged out to Greenport in 8½ hours.

At dangerous crossings, the train would slow down and be preceded by a man or horseback, waving a flag. Unscheduled stops were also made if a red flag signal was hoisted at villages such as Westbury. Electrification came to the railroad in the decade between 1900 and 1910.

Number 35, one of 31 steam locomotives on Long Island before World War II, was delivered on October 10, 1928. Designed by the Pennsylvania Railroad who purchased the LIRR in 1900, she was one of 121 identical "Class G-5's".

Since she was powered by coal and there were no mechanical stokers, firemen had to hand-shovel as many as 12 tons of coal from the tender to the firebox during a 120-mile run. The steam that produced the nostalgic whistle also heated passenger cars in the winter, forced water into the boiler, and generated electricity for all lamps.

For 27 years, Number 25 spearheaded commuter trains on the Main Line and the Port Jefferson and Oyster Bay branches, as well as East End flyers and excursions.

The last regular steam train on Long Island and the final trip itself was led by Number 35 on Oct. 16, 1955. Donated to Nassau County the following Spring, she was brought to Eisenhower Park and is exhibited near parking field #6 by the County's Department of Recreation and Parks.

Volunteers from the Long Island-Sunrise Trail Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society took on the task of restoring the old engine to her former glory and continue to maintain her today.

While still majestic in repose, a whole generation of Long Islanders vividly remember her hurtling down the steel tracks, whistle screaming, trailing the familiar plume of smoke to mark her passing.

engine is now on exhibit near Bicenennial House in Eisenhower Park, East Meadow. [Photo by Frank Zahn]

THE FAMILY LAWYER
by Will Bernard

Entrapment

With skid row robberies on the rise, Officer Jenkins was assigned to play the role of a decoy drunk. Dressed in tatters, he slumped against the wall of a downtown alley to await developments.

Sure enough, a man came along and went through his pockets. But when Jenkins placed him under arrest, the man called it foul play.

Afterward, in the courtroom, he accused the police of "entrapment." However, the court rejected this defense and found him guilty. The court said the original intent-to-steal was already in his mind before he ever saw his supposed victim.

Entrapment is not a valid defense to a criminal charge merely because the defendant happened to be caught by a trick.

"Artifice and stratagem," the United States Supreme Court has said, "may be employed to catch those engaged in criminal enterprises."

Law enforcement officers may not only "play possum," as Jenkins did, but also take affirmative action in gathering their evidence. For example:

A postal inspector sent in a request for obscene pictures that had been advertised for sale. Again, in the trial that followed, the court held that the seller could not escape punishment on grounds of entrapment.

The inspector had given him the opportunity to commit the offense, said the court, but had not suggested the idea in the first place.

On the other hand, the law does object if the police plant the seed of criminality in an innocent mind. Suppose that a careless driver, halted by an officer, is told he can buy his way out with a $20 bill. If he hands over the money and is then arrested for bribery, he could indeed invoke the defense of entrapment.

As one judge observed, in deploring the misuse of temptation: "Human nature is frail enough at best."

Be A Better Shopper

Consumers who are looking for ways to fight high food bills can send for a pamphlet entitled "The Case of the Disappearing Food Dollar," now available from the Nassau County Office of Consumer Affairs.

The leaflet offers consumers twelve tips to sharpen up their supermarket shopping skills, such as figuring the price per serving or resisting the big display, according to Consumer Affairs Commissioner James E. Picken.

"Faced with a choice of 8,000 items at constantly changing prices, the consumer can use all the help she can get," said

Picken. "Following the guidelines in this pamphlet can help her develop supermarket strategies to save both time and money."

Food laws relating to labeling, packaging, and nutrition are also listed. Knowing these laws, as well as making use of a shopping list and the customer scale, can be first aids in recovering the disappearing dollar, suggested Picken.

Copies of "The Case of the Disappearing Food Dollar" may be obtained by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Office of Consumer Affairs, 160 Old Country Rd., Mineola, N.Y. 11501.

Lambrew, M.D. (East Meadow), President of the American Heart Association, Nassau Chapter, as he proudly presents their awards. Mrs. Ernst received the Distinguished Achievement Award in behalf of her efforts in promoting the Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) program of the Heart Association. A member of the Board of Directors, in addition to co-chairing the CPR Committee, she has worked diligently in the training of Instructor Trainers, Instructors and Rescuers. Mr. Bjork received a Special Recognition Award for his efforts in constructing, assembling, and painting all displays for the Heart Fund Ball. Over 300 members and guests of the Association joined in this tribute to the volunteers who have given unstintingly of their time and talents throughout the year to further the Heart Cause.

Holiday Jobs May Affect Social Security

Earnings from holiday jobs can affect the monthly payments of students, housewives, and other people getting social security benefits, according to Sydney Savrin, Social Security District Manager in Mineola.

The amount people earn from holiday jobs will cause a reduction in their social security checks if their total earnings for 1975 are over $2,520.

"For every $2 you earn over $2,520, $1 in social security benefits is withheld," Savrin said. "But no matter how much you earn for the year, you can get your full social security payment for any month in which you neither earn over $210 nor do substantial work in your own business."

People planning to take holiday jobs should notify social security as soon as possible if they know their earnings for this year will go over $2,520, according to Savrin.

"Refunding overpayments to social security could cause hardship," he said.

"How To Start Your Own Business" Workshop

"How to Start Your Own Business," a workshop for the entrepreneur, will be held in the Interfaith Chapel Lounge of C.W. Post Center of Long Island University on Saturday, December 6, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Milton Elis, Director of C.W. Post's Small Business Institute, will speak on a variety of topics including: initial starting procedures for a small business, forming the sole proprietorship, establishing a partnership and the partnership agreement, how to set up a corporation, the buy and sell agreement, securing sales tax exemptions, the resale number, and obtaining an employer identification number. A question and answer session will follow.

The registration fee of $10 includes materials and refreshments.

For more information contact Mr. Milton Elis, Director, Small Business Institute, C.W. Post Center of Long Island University, Greenvale, N.Y. 11548, 299-2431.

Little Known Facts About The American Revolution

By Gardiner Gregory

"In these days when the American Flag stands as a symbol of freedom and liberty throughout the world, we of Long Island are reminded that at the headquarters of the Suffolk County Historical Society in Riverhead is preserved and displayed what is claimed to be the first stars and stripes ever used by this country's armed forces. This flag was discovered in 1927, wrapped around a roster of Captain Hulbert's Company of the 3rd New York Regiment of the Continental Army.

The flag is in good condition considering its age, and is said to antedate the more famous Betsy Ross flag by at least some months and perhaps more than a year. It was made at Bridgehampton prior to September of 1775 when Captain John Hulbert's Company carried it on a march from Bridgehampton to Ticonderoga. Later this same company, comprising Long Islanders, took the flag to Philadelphia where it was viewed by members of the Continental Congress in November 1775.

It was not until June 1777 that Congress adopted the stars and stripes design for the national flag, using the one made by Betsy Ross in the summer of 1776, nearly a year after the John Hulbert flag was used by his Long Island company.

The Hubert flag has six-pointed stars, arranged in the form of the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, while the Betsy Ross flag had five-pointed stars arranged in a circle. Nevertheless, the two designs are similar enough to warrant the belief that the immortal Betsy may have fashioned her creation from Long Island's first Old Glory."

The above information was sent to me by Mr. Cyril Lewis, noted Long Island artist, and appeared in a 1950 Long Island Lighting publication. Historians disagree on what factors influenced the design of the American flag adopted by the Continental Congress in June 1777. They also disagree on who designed it.

Betsy Ross Flag At Gregory Museum

The Gregory Museum now has on display the Betsy Ross Flag done in fluorescent minerals by Mrs. Eva Phillips of South Plainfield, New Jersey. Come to the Museum and see this colorless flag suddenly light up with the red, white, and blue colors when exposed to the broad-wave ultra violet light. This was our first official flag adopted by Continental Congress in June 1777.

Mrs. Phillips used red fluorescent calcite from Franklin, New Jersey for the seven red stripes, white fluorescent fluorite from Clay Center, Ohio for the six white stripes and 13 stars, and blue fluorescent fluorite from Arizona for the blue field containing the stars.

Gilbert and Sullivan players of Long Island performing from The Mikado, and a study of time-lapse photography in Biology are in the works.

Speaking on the program's novel approach to get-away night Solberg said, "It's not in any way the thing you would find in a singles' bar. No one has to perform."

The fee for the spring semester is $35. For more information contact Charles Solberg, Continuing Education Coordinator, C.W. Post Center of Long Island University, Greenvale, N.Y. 11548, (516) 299-2431.
