Hicksville Resident Judges 1977 Christmas Seal Design

The American Lung Association of Nassau-Suffolk is still receiving contributions to its 1977 Christmas Seal Campaign, but the process of picking a seal for 1977 has already begun. (And the seals for 1976 are being readied for printing.)

ARTISTS JUDGE SEALS: Art Educator Patricia Mannheim of Hicksville and Long Island Press Arts Critic Byron Bell helped over 200 children's paintings to select the 1977 New York State Christmas Seal.

The Christmas Seal Campaign is the annual fund raising appeal of the American Lung Association of Nassau-Suffolk.

The pictures were prepared by youngsters in grades kindergarten through three. The judges looked at the hundreds of snowmen, Santa Clauses, candles and carolers to determine which paintings would be most suitable for reproduction. As was done for the 1975 seals, the sheets of seals will contain 54 seals, representing each state plus U.S. territories.

The Christmas Seal campaign is the annual fund-raising appeal of the American Lung Association affiliates throughout the country. Lung Associations fight such breath-robbing diseases as emphysema, asthma, chronic bronchitis and tuberculosis. Major program areas include public health education, professional education, and research.

Many beautiful prizes will be awarded the Queen and her 2 runners-up; as well as all 100 participants will receive tickets to the Broadway Show "Me & Bessie". Dear Friends. . .

WE PAY FOR EVERYTHING WE GET
Several months ago THE READERS DIGEST, one of our favorite magazines, printed the following article prepared by their editors and presented by THE BUSINESS UNWONTABLE as an advertisement.

The city of New York awoke from a disastrous dream last spring. For decades it had lived beyond its means. Many of its citizens had come to believe they could get something without paying for it—free college educations, huge welfare benefits, wage increases for city employees double and triple those in the federal government; extravagant, fiscally unrealistic pensions.

Result: The city found itself $750 million short of meeting its current operating expenses, and was forced to pay close to $2 billion yearly on its past debts. "No other city in the United States has provided such a range of free services and diversions," reported one news magazine.

The only problem was, those "services and diversions" were not free at all. In fact, the most elementary economic truth is: Few things are really free. We must always pay the piper when the dance is over.

In our personal lives, this pay-the-piper principle seems so logical, so matter-of-fact, that we seldom question it. Whether we're offering a child piano lessons, buying an air conditioner or choosing steak over hamburger, we weigh the benefits to be derived, and we expect to pay the price.

But somehow we seem to abandon this logic when we venture upon "social goals" from poverty programs to health care to aid to education. The two most common signs of public departure from economic reality are the statements, "Let the government pay for it," and the currently popular "Tax the big corporations—let them pay for it." But who really does pay? Let's examine just one case.

The Union Carbide plant at Alloy, W. Va., which produces ferroalloys for the steel and aluminum industries, used to be known as "the world's smokiest factory." It poured out 91,900 tons of particles a year, more than that emitted by all of New York City. In 1971, Union Carbide began to take steps to meet a clean-up schedule developed with state environmental officials and today the air is clear over Alloy. Thanks to a vast complex of environmental equipment that requires almost as much room as the plant itself, emissions have been reduced by 97 percent.

What has the Alloy clean-up cost? Union Carbide spent $33 million for the elaborate anti-pollution devices. Operation and maintenance of the system cost more than $3 million a year. As a result, plant operating costs have risen more than 10 percent. Who will pay this cost? The company initially, certainly. But ultimately the clean-up has to be reflected in the prices of alloys for high-strength and specialty purposes, and for aluminum products. Eventually, all of us, in buying goods made from steel and aluminum, will feel the economic impact. Most would agree that the clean air was worth the cost. Yet in setting each new social goal, we, as the people who ultimately pay, must ask ourselves: Are the benefits worth the costs?

Such decisions are easily resolved at the personal level. (Is the extra room on the new house, the tape-deck for your car, worth the extra dollar outlay to you?) But when it comes to social goals, we may not be fully aware of the facts, mainly because the decision-making is in the hands of our surrogates—Congressmen and regulatory-agency officials.

Whether the decisions they make for us are wise or unwise is ultimately decided by the voters, although it may take a long time. But whether these decisions will cost us money has already been immutably decided by economic reality. Americans, for instance, have spent an estimated $2.4 billion extra on their automobiles since 1972 to accommodate various government-mandated combinations of wires, lights and buzzers to force them to buckle their seat belts. Ordered "on behalf of" the public, these devices proved to be overwhelmingly unpopular, and the law requiring them was finally rescinded by Congress as a "social goal" not worth the cost.

As you read this, other bills for social goals—many of which we may find admirable—are being totted up. We will pay for what we get, so we must be sure that as a nation we want, need and can afford them.

In the steel industry, for example, we must be prepared

Plainview Doctor Named ABFP Diplomate

Dr. Turner of Plainview has been named a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) as a result of passing a certification examination offered by the ABFP. He is now certified in the specialty of family practice.

The intensive 2-day written examination taken by Dr. Turner is designed to prove his ability in the areas of internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and community medicine.

To qualify for the examination a physician must have completed either a 3-year family practice residency or have been in family practice a minimum of six years and successfully completed 300 hours of continuing medical education approved by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

ABFP diplomates also must continue to show proof of competency in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being recertified every six years. No other medical specialty requires diplomates to prove competence on a continuing basis.

The latest group of diplomates brings the total number to more than 8,700. Most are members of the Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. In addition to being the only national M.D. group to require members to take continuing medical study, the Academy was chiefly responsible for securing specialty status for family practice.

PJC Sisterhood

for the possibility that new, stiffer government anti-pollution standards will cause steel-industry costs to increase by $25 to $30 a ton over the next eight years. Other costs—energy, raw materials and labor—will also drive prices up. The companies will bear the brunt initially, but we consumers will finally pay. (Steel men don't print their own money; they make it by selling their products.) Part of the increased cost of a new car or refrigerator will go toward clearing the air over Chicago, Baltimore, Pittsburgh or Birmingham—wherever steel is made.

Or consider, for instance, the effect of a proposed federal regulation to require tire manufacturers to mold coded information regarding traction qualities, tread resistance, and resistance to generation of heat into the side of each new tire. Some companies estimate that this regulation will add at least 75 cents to the retail cost of each tire. In other words, according to the manufacturers, if you buy four tires, you will pay $1 for both symbols you can't understand and additional testing that will add nothing to the safety already required by previous regulations. Presumably, astute consumers will bone up on traction, wear and heat-generation information before they buy their tires. We must ask ourselves: Is this regulation really worth the cost?

Another example: flammability standards for upholstered furniture suggested by the Consumer Product Safety Commission. The regulations, aimed principally at cigarette-caused fires, are expected to increase prices of upholstered sofas and armchairs by up to 25 percent. The furniture industry fears that the standards could eliminate about 70 percent of fabrics now made for upholstery. If we, through our surrogates, decide that it is correct for the government to impose such flammability standards, then we must be prepared to pay the cost the next time we buy a couch. And we may not like the feel or look of the newer, nonflammable fabrics.

What all this means is that we, as part of a complex and interrelated economy, cannot merely wish for or advocate some benefit for a "remote" part of our society. We must also be prepared to accept a part of the financial burden. Are we prepared to pay higher electric bills when we ask a utility in our area to provide more generating capacity with less harm to our environment? Are we committed to reducing auto emissions and increasing auto safety to the extent that it may add as much as $1000 to the price of our cars?

Only when we realize our fundamental financial role in the laws passed and regulations promulgated by our public officials will we be sure to set wise and realistic goals.

If you wish reprints write: Reprint Editor, The Reader's Digest, Pleasantville, NY 10570. Prices 10-75 cents; 50-$2.50; 100-$4; 500-$15; 1000-$25.

There is much food for thought in this message. One important point it brings to mind is that when propositions such as bond issues are presented for us to vote on, they should be accompanied with at least estimated costs so that we can cast an intelligent vote on whatever the proposition may be. Our legislators and other elected officials should also be given this kind of cost estimate with each bill they are asked to vote upon. This is to guide us all in making intelligent decisions—not always a 90 vote, but one that will take into consideration the costs as well as the purpose. One more step we would add is accountability to the voters, so that, if they do decide to vote Yes on a given proposition, those who administer the project, should be accountable in all aspects. These two steps would add greatly to efficient government. Among the latest laws affecting the loaning of money, is one that makes it necessary for the lender to state clearly the amount of interest and the rate of interest he is charging. Why shouldn't our government do the same? We think it should.

AN ERROR occurred last week in THE HERALD. In the article commending all those dedicated HAD volunteers the name of Mrs. Aune E. Maniec was inadvertently omitted. Mrs. Maniec of James St. Hicksville gave 100 hours or 20 weeks volunteer service.

NEGOTIATIONS are still in progress between the Hicksville Fire District and Tom Braun, property owner and local merchant, regarding the driveway onto East Marie St., which gives rear egress and access to several local stores and apartments in the Hicksville downtown area. More on this as it develops.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and, if you are planning to participate in the Hicksville Beautification Committee's plans this Spring, send in your donation now, to Hicksville Beautification Committee, c/o Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, 358-B Mid Island Plaza, Hicksville, New York, 11801. Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

Despite the efforts of ecologists and conservationists, the American people continue to be a wasteful society, and we in the Town of Oyster Bay are no exception.

A recent study of the Town's solid waste collection and disposal systems show that the Town must dispose of an average of more than one thousand tons of waste per day.

Ongoing studies of the problem have included the examination and evaluation of a broad range of solid waste disposal techniques and programs, some of which have already been implemented. As the result of a pilot program, Oyster Bay Town homeowners are now required to segregate newspapers from other wastes for special collection and recycling. Revenue derived from the sale of this newspaper is used to offset the costs of the program.

Recognizing the necessity of conserving and extending the useful life of landfill sites and the need for greater efficiency, the Town has planned to add a compactor - baler facility to its present system of solid waste disposal. Last week the Town Board authorized the advertising for bids to construct a refuse compactor building to contain the compactor - baler machinery authorized by the Town Board. This facility will be located at the site of, and integrated with, the present incinerator facilities.

Solid waste brought to the facility will be segregated on a tipping room floor with burnable materials going to the incinerator and non-burnables carried by conveyor to the compactor. The solid refuse will be compressed and baled into three-foot square by four-foot long cubes weighing about three thousand pounds each. The bales emerging from the machine are loaded onto flat bed trucks, covered, and carried to the Plainview landfill site. Here the bales will be neatly stacked for maximum density in the landfill and covered with earth fill at the end of each days operation.

John W. Burke
Supervisor, TOB

Dear Editor:

Taxpayers of Oyster Bay, here we go again.

Scene 1...The February 10 Town of Oyster Bay calendar, mailed to libraries and available at Town Hall annexes on February 4, lists Resolution No. 96, 97, 98 relating to amending the 1976 capital budget; land acquisition and serial bonds in the sum of $80,000 for something called "landfill property at Bethpage, N.Y."

Scene 2 - February 10 Town Board meeting, whereby the visitor finds out the "landfill property" is in fact not Bethpage, but Old Bethpage. 7 acres of a brickyard that adjoins the present landfill site. This visitor asks, since the agenda was misleading, and that the people from the Plainview-Old Bethpage area are not aware of another parcel of land being obtained for "landfill", couldn't this matter be held over for one more week, and the proper notification be given. "oh, no" says the Town Supervisor. "it is urgent that we act on it now."

Honest mistake, deceitful????? Call it by what you wish. But the fact of the matter is, the Town of Oyster Bay taxpayer is paying $5 million dollars, plus interest, plus preparation costs that are running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, for 65 acres of "landfill" property that in 2 years and 4 months since a bond referendum allowed the town of purchase said property has yet to see an ash buried.

Why is it we see the Town of Hempstead, three Suffolk towns, Islip, Babylon and Huntington, sign an agreement to pool their garbage that will include a plant for metal recovery and production of steam and electricity. And on the very same day that the Town of Oyster Bay is spending $80,000 plus and not getting anything in return for its garbage, the Town of North Hempstead announces it will seek an $8 million dollar federal grant to help in its plan to use garbage to generate electricity.

Why are our fathers so archaic in their thoughts? Why do we the taxpayers in the Town of Oyster Bay always give, give and give. To get what in return?

Carole Fishman,
Plainview

Dear Mrs. Noeth:

School budget time is at hand. As a member of the school budget advisory committee, it was my hope to participate in a budgetary process that would result in a budget reflecting the reality of the personal fiscal crunch faced by most taxpayers. I had hoped that under the direction of a fiscally responsible school board, the school administration would submit to the budget advisory committee, a listing of options and alternatives along with the background and implementation effect of each option or alternative. Then after a careful study, a budget would evolve that I personally could support. However all that the committee received was a "fait accompli" budget, upon which very little surgery - much less amputation can be accomplished. Mrs. Noeth: this "flash budget" is incredible not only from what it says - but also from what it does not say.

FIRST, what it says:

1. Expenses are increased by

1.192 million dollars over this year's budget. ($1,192,000) It is a business-as-usual budget which just reflects the increased costs of doing the same business as last year.

2. Inflationary costs, though know for utilities and school supplies, have been ignored. This of course keeps expenditures for next years utilities and supplies the same as this year - or does it? (They are throwing the responsibility to the school board for raising the budget to pay for the increases. After all - lights, heat, and supplies are needed for the kiddies aren't they?)

SECOND, what it doesn't say:

1. The Hicksville School District has a contingency liability to the State of New York for $750,000 for money paid by the state to the district for busing children living closer to the school than the distance specified by the state. (Claims made against other districts have been upheld and have been or are being paid.)

The amount of state aid to the Hicksville - school district will average about 1.25 million dollars under the amount received this year.

3. The tax liability of about $200,000 created by the inability of the district to earn that amount. Since the money was contained as revenue, decreasing the tax liability for this year's budget, it, having not been covered means the tax liability must be paid this year. (I am against the district investing taxpayer dollars for a number of reasons which will be discussed in a later letter.)

4. Finally the tax liability will be increased an amount, indeterminate at this time, because of decreased state reimbursement of busing costs.

From what you have read so far, you can see the increased tax liability for the Hicksville taxpayer totals about 3.4 million dollars ($3,400,000), about a three dollar - ($3.00) per hundred increase in the tax rate.

I have told you this now because of the inability of the school board and the school administration to understand that another steep increase in taxes is to be avoided. They do not understand, nor do they care, that a huge tax increase is inevitable. How can there not be if the school board directs preparation of a business-as-usual school budget in spite of the tremendously increased tax liability shown above.

If the Hicksville taxpayers do not want a business-as-usual budget; if they do not want a 3.4 million dollar increase in the tax liability; if they do not want control of Hicksville's school system wrested from their hands, then the taxpayers are beseeched to make their views known to the school board such as I did at their meeting on February 11th. If they do not, that business-as-usual budget with its $3.00 per hundred tax rate increase will be rammed down their throats.

If the state does not reduce our state aid below that received this year, then we will only have a business-as-usual budget with a 2.2 million dollar increase in the tax liability and a $2.00 per hundred tax rate increase rammed down our throats.

Sincerely yours,
Frank H. Willard,
Hicksville

Hicksville Soccer Club News

The Midget Red Team, sponsored by The Knights of Columbus Joseph Harry Council, soared into first place this past weekend in the preliminary rounds of the Oceanside Indoor Tournament. Under the guidance of John Mitchell & Jack McCann, the boys led the field of 16 teams and won all their games. Falling to Hicksville were: Glen Cove (2-0), Garden City (2-0), Brentwood (2-1), and Hota Bavarian (3-0).

The defensive units of Glen Zakian - Steve Dolan and Tommy Fletcher - Michael Andrus in front of goalkeeper Eddie Thompson allowed only one goal the entire day. They consistently stopped the attacking team and sent sharp, accurate passes up to the front line.

A well balanced attack was in evidence as all strikers put the ball in the net. Anthony Coiro and Adrian Pepi led the scoring followed closely by Michael Jung and the Bobbys - Andrus and Stenborg.

Several of the boys left their "flu" beds to play in the tournament and routing from his sick bed was Johnny Mitchell. Many friends and followers of the team were routing in the stands including teammates Kevin Cahalan and John McCann.

Harris Aluminum's Bantam Red Team qualified for the semi-final game at the Oceanside Indoor Tournament on Saturday, February 7th. The entire team, coached by Bill Cresham, displayed their eagerness to win by defeating Rockville Center 2-1, Bay Side 4-0, Hota-Bavarian 1-0, and Eintracht 3-0. The forward line led by D. Smyth at center forward alternating with P. Schmur, M. Sini and C. Habersaat at left wing, J. McGuire, S. Devlin at right wing, was able to score repeatedly because of the fine defensive playing of B. Cresham, S. Schmur and T. Lewis. Goalkeeper J. Rubins kept goals scored against at only 1. Their undefeated record placed them in second place for the playoff which will take place at Oceanside on February 15th. Determination and team spirit prevailed more so during this tournament because last weekend at the North Shore tournament, the boys finished in second place after defeating such powerhouse teams as Glen Cove and Deer Park only to lose in the final game to Massapequa.

Girls' Athletics Tops At Holy Trinity

In the era of "Women's Lib," it is fitting to promote the success of female activities. At Holy Trinity High School, Hicksville, such success has been a constant phenomenon since the school's inception ten years ago.

Perhaps no other school department can claim so many championships in such a short existence. Once entering league competition, the Holy Trinity girls athletic teams and their coaches were determined to put Trinity on the map. And so they did. Entering league competition in the Nassau - Suffolk Private High School girls' Athletic Association in the fall of 1971 a league of approximately sixteen private high schools, Trinity girls took first place in the following competitions:

- Varsity Gymnastics - 1971, 72, 73, 74
- Swimming (GHSAA) - 1970, 71, 72, 73, 74, (NSPHS/GAA) - 1975
- Varsity Volleyball - 1973
- J.V. Volleyball - 1973, 74, 75
- Varsity Softball - 1970, 72
- J.V. Softball - 1973, 75
- J.V. Basketball 1974

This year Trinity girls will enter a sixth area of competition - badminton. Credit must also be given to the tremendous performances of the cheering squads and kickliners.

It is the immediate hope of the Trinity female coaches to produce scholarship material. They certainly have the potential as evidenced by the above number of championships. With the added support they received this past year from the parents' Titan Club, the girls' future in athletics at Holy Trinity looks "Olympian."

Skin-Scuba Diving Course Registration

The undersea world isn't the private domain of Jacques Cousteau. Its wonders can be enjoyed by anyone who can skin or scuba dive. Town of Oyster Bay residents will have an opportunity to become certified skin and scuba divers by registering now through March 26, for a nine-week course being offered by the Town's Department of Parks and Recreation.

Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca announced that the course, which will be held Tuesday evenings from 7 to 10 P.M., will begin April 6 at the Bethpage High School pool, Stewart Avenue. The fee will be $50 plus $15 for equipment rental.

The first seven sessions will include one hour of classroom work and two hours in the pool. A written and practical test will be given at the eighth session, and a review will be held on the final night. Those successfully completing the course, which includes an outdoor dive, will become nationally certified skin

Hicksville Wrestling

The Hicksville High School Comets are just one win away from becoming conference champions. Their win over Plainedge High School on Thursday, 11 February, boosts their record to 9 wins and 1 loss. It tightened their grip on the conference lead with only Westbury remaining. The decision will be known as you read this. ("Prediction: A win - a 10-1 record - and a conference championship")

It has been said that "an army of stags led by a lion makes a far more formidable foe than an army of lions led by a stag." "To be or not to be, that is the quest..." (with apologies to the bard). To be a winning team or not to be a winning team was the quest of Coach Steve Tomaini in looking for an assistant coach. Thus his quest resulted in attaining Mike Lendo as his assistant coach. To say that the team's leadership, now solidified, was not the major factor in the team's record would be a misstatement of the facts - an untruth. Yes, the team had a nucleus of good wrestlers, but it took leadership to turn a group of 12 wrestlers into a winning team. The Hicksville Parents Wrestling Association congratulates Coaches Steve Tomaini and Mike Lendo for their outstanding coaching efforts. The association also acknowledges the efforts of Junior High School Coach Marvin Goldberg in molding and coaching the wrestlers through their junior high years. His contributions are most certainly reflected in the Comet's conference championship. To him, Coach Steve Tomaini and the association offers congratulations. The association's congratulations to the team will be the subject of a future report. It is too long for this one.

The 35-10 win over Plainedge resulted from second period pins by Marty Byrnes and Andy Edell over their opponents, major decisions by John Leo, Nelson Castro, and Frank Cerone, wins by Bill Stepkowski, Brian Damm, and Roger Sokenis, and a two point draw by Gene Haas. Individual dual match records as of 13 February 1976 are:

	WINS	LOSSES	PINS
Pat Bennett	3	4
John Leo	6	1	2
Gene Haas (1 tie)	3	1	1
Pete Harvey	3	3	1
Neil Hardin	2	0	1
Marty Byrnes	6	3	1
Bill Stepkowski	7	3	1
Brian Damm (3 ties)	6	0
Pete Webb (1 tie)	2	4	1
Al Auffant	3	4	1
John Pacifico	1	2	1
Andy Edell	6	1	4
Nelson Castro	2	3
Mike Lorio	2	1
Roger Sokenis	6	3	3
Frank Cerone	7	1	6

On 20 and 21 February the divisional tournament gets under way. This will be followed by the North Shore Tournament on 27 and 28 February at Farmingdale High School. These tournaments lead to the County tournament in March. These tournaments are especially gratifying to the wrestlers because team member efforts are individually recognized also when a wrestler is crowned champion in his weight class. In the past several years, only one Hicksville wrestler became a North Shore Champion. He was Pete Willard, the 167 pound North Shore Champion in 1975. (There are about 28 schools represented in the North Shore tournament.) This year, many of our wrestlers have a good chance to become champions. The Hicksville Parents Wrestling Association gives its best wishes for success to all our wrestlers. Members will be there to root you on.

Parent Education Workshop

Sagamore Children's Center in Melville announces the formation of a series of educational programs for parents of hyperactive, behavior problem, and/or acting-out children. Two 10-week workshops will be offered, each stressing the teaching or parenting skills previously found to be extremely valuable by parents of similar children. Workshops employ lecture-discussion formats as well as active involvement by the parents during the course sessions at home.

Goals for this program are to give parents specific information about how they can help their children adjust more favorably at home as well as to determine which specific management techniques go furthest in helping parents reach their goals. The total cost for the program materials is $7.50.

Parents of children between the ages of 6 and 10 are encouraged to call Mr. Dennis Dubey at 427-3355, ext. 573 as soon as possible, as enrollment may be limited.

Friends Academy Student Applications

"We will celebrate our Centennial Year during our Nation's Bicentennial."

Headmaster F. B. Withington of Friends Academy (Locust Valley-Glen Cove) concluded his announcement on Academy registrations for the 1976-77 school year with the above. Applications are now being received and accepted for all grades from Pre-kindergarten through the 12th grade - Lower, Middle and Upper Schools - for the coming school year which opens on September 13, 1976.

The Academy - a Quaker-affiliated, co-educational, country-day school encourages the enrollment of students from all cultural and religious backgrounds.

Withington also announced that as in each of the last six years the Friends Academy Community Scholarship Program will be available to outstanding scholars of limited means who show high potential for future community leadership through academic qualifications and potentials in The Arts and Athletics, plus high personality talents and motivation.

Over 100 students have qualified for grants ranging from $300 to $2500 in the last six years making possible a stimulating and rewarding education to students who could not otherwise afford to attend Friends.

Headmaster Withington closed his announcement by stating that he is interested in talking with potential students and their parents now and throughout the Spring. He may be reached by telephone by calling (516) 676-0393 or by mail at Friends Academy, Locust Valley, N. Y. 11560.

WINTER IN THE SOUTH: Jeannette Wade's kindergarteners at Dutch Lane School have just completed a study of Winter in the South. They studied the difference in occupations, houses, clothing and weather from that in the north. To wrap up their unit they went South of the Border and had a Mexican fiesta complete with their own home-made maracas, sarapes, and a large, beautifully decorated pinata. The fiesta was a lively celebration of dancing, singing and eating their own cookies. Each child made his own papermache pinata to take home. Several parents came in to supervise the cookie baking and pinata making. The parents who came to the fiesta thoroughly enjoyed their introduction to our Southern neighbors' ways.

Individualized Instruction Committee To Meet

The Hicksville School Board's Individualized Instruction Committee will meet on February 24, at 8:00 P.M. in the Administration Building.

Chairman Thomas Nagle advises everyone that Mrs. Rosemary Barrow, Willet Avenue Library Media Specialist, will explain the philosophy and objectives of the Media Center as it relates to (a) maximum utilization of print and audio-visual resources available in both the school and the community, (b) re-enforcement and enrichment of the curriculum, emphasizing cooperative planning with other faculty members, and attention to the needs of individual students.

Also, Mrs. Jane Speiselman and Mrs. Ruth Silverman, of the Burns Avenue staff, will discuss some of the techniques of individualizing the instruction of children in the regular classroom.

It is expected that there will also be a discussion of the problems facing the Woodland Avenue School in continuing its individualized program in the face of lower enrollments, teacher cuts, and the state of the economy.

Each week the group of participants gets larger. The committee invites everyone to join them in learning "What's New in the Hicksville Schools."

East Street School

One of the many activities taking place at East Street School in observance of America's Bicentennial is a six foot crossword puzzle based upon Americana and consisting of 1857 entries. In addition to being a fun challenge, the puzzle requires the children's use of a wide array of reference tools such as the atlas, almanac, biographical and geographical dictionaries, etc.

Located in the media center, it is accessible to all students to participate at any time during the school day when permitted by their classroom teachers.

Picture here trying to decipher some of the clues are Dawn Bologna and Ellen Walsh.

Woodland Ave Fourth Grade News

In keeping with the Bicentennial Year theme, Ms. Giannelli's fourth grade class at Woodland Avenue is taking advantage of the exhibits and events nearby.

The class made an interesting visit to Raynham Hall in Oyster Bay. There they saw the cupboard where Sally Townsend discovered the note that told about Major Andre.

Learning the past at Taynham Hall, they then visited the present by going to the Town Hall. They sat in the hearing room and had the position of town councilman and supervisor explained to them. A member of the Town of Oyster Bay staff also explained the type of business that is transacted in this room.

On the way back to Hicksville, a stop was made at the railroad station where the last "turnabout" on Long Island is still used. The children saw how the turnabout works.

The children learned a lot of past and present history on that outing. Ms. Giannelli also took her class to Eisenhower Park where the museum has been re-named Bicentennial House. The staff here has gathered articles and pictures about the colonial and revolutionary periods occurring here in Nassau. After staff members talked about the articles, the children were allowed to touch and handle them.

The class is developing a time insight into our nation's great beginning and especially how Nassau County, our town and our village was a part of that history. We are indeed fortunate to have such rich historical bicentennial material in our midst.

at Lee Avenue

Mr. Zieln's 5th Grade class at Lee Avenue School had their customary International Dinner in their class, on December 12, 1975. Featured this year were two dance routines performed by Joyce Bento, Laura Mantooth, Diane Sullivan, and a solo by Maureen Clancy.

In addition, two French Christmas carols were sung by foreign language students in Mr. Zieln's class.

Tim Mulligan did an excellent job as Master of Ceremonies. The sight of students dressed in their ancestral costumes, plus the diversity of delicious foods, made the event once more, an enjoyable time.

Fire Dept. Report

By Ex-Capt. Owen Magee

OVERTURNED OIL TRUCK
Hicksville Fire Fighters were kept busy on Monday Feb. 16 when a medium sized fuel oil truck skidded out of control, rolled over into a gas station and sheared off a utility pole. The alarm came in at 7:47 am. 20 Hicksville firemen, 8 pieces of apparatus responded under chief Roy Schaaf. Firemen were on the scene for over two hours. The accident scene was covered with chemical foam to prevent fire. Firemen were lucky that the cargo was fuel and not gas, and that the high voltage overhead wires did not fall. The driver was also lucky and walked away. The trucks brakes locked up on No Broadway at the main entrance to the Mid Island Plaza, skidded and rolled over, into the mobile gas station. A gas station, high voltage wires, an out of control tank truck, normally a very deadly combination but late spared Hicksville Vamps a very dangerous situation. 2nd Pct. County Police aided Vamps at the scene. I.H.C.'s crews shut down power as the truck was righted. Over 100 gallons of foam was used on the spill.

calls, 14 fire calls and 2 false alarms.

Hicksville F.D. Year End Report
The Hicksville Fire Dept. under Chief Mario Misturini during 1975 responded to 1,362 alarms. Other totals were: Sounded Alarm - 562; Silent Alarms - 448; Amb. Rescue Calls - 425; False Alarms - 263; Mutual Aid Calls - 8; Working Fires - 21; Total damage est. - $189,000.00; Line of duty injuries - 57 members injured; Civilian fatalities - 2; and Total fire inspections - 115.

AWARDS

Hicksville Firemen were awarded 4 2nd place awards in the N.Y. Daily News Awards contests for meritorious fire fighting.

Parades - the Hicksville men won 4 1st place awards, 3 2nd place awards, 1 3rd place award for best appearing department.

The Ladies Aux. won 1 1st place, 3 2nd place, 2 3rd place awards best appearing Aux.

The Jr. firemen won 3 best appearance awards.

The Hicks Drill Team won 15 trophies, in fire tournaments in Nassau, Suffolk and upstate.

Firemen of the Year

This year the Chiefs and Officers of the Department selected these two men to receive the Schaefer Award and the Levittown Exchange Club award for an act of bravery which they performed when they arrived at the scene of a roaring house fire before the arrival of the trucks and pulled an unconscious man out of the building, without the aid of any protective clothing or breathing equipment. This act we feel exemplifies the spirit of the volunteer fire service and we congratulate these two men on receiving these awards.

Schaefer Award

Thomas Ofenloch

Thomas Ofenloch is a fourth generation Hicksville Fireman.

He joined the Department in 1971 and has been very active not only in his Company, Protection Hook and Ladder Company No. 1 but also as a member of the Rescue Squad and the Drill Team. We wish him every success as he continues to serve our Department.

Exchange Club Award

Robert Colvell

Robert Colvell joined the Department in 1973, passed his probation in 1974. He was forced by outside pressures to take a leave of absence and just recently to resign from our department, however, we know that the qualities which made him join the fire service and this heroic deed will stay with him in whatever he chooses to do in life, and we wish him good luck in every way.

Special Award

Walter Kenny Brady

This year a special award is being presented to Ken Brady in recognition of an act of bravery performed by him, in rescuing an elderly man from a smoke filled second floor apartment on November 1st. Kenny who was passing the house, saw the smoke, stopped his car and entered the building when he was told by the downstairs tenant that there was an elderly invalid man upstairs. He located the man in the heavy smoke, dragged him to the stairs and carried him to safety with the help of arriving firemen.

Kenny entered the Department in 1962 and this year was elected captain of Chemical Co. No. 3. He is also a member of the rescue squad and is a qualified E.M.T. and A.M.T.

Elected Director Emeritus Of Suburbia Federal

What can you say about a woman who continues to be far ahead of her time? A woman who was the first woman banking president in Long Island's financial institutions' history. A woman who led the way in the advancement of women in financial careers?

Veronica I. Dolan is such a woman. Recently, she was elected a Director Emeritus of Suburbia Federal Savings and Loan Association, retiring from her position as a Director.

Well-known for her innovations in financial matters, Mrs. Dolan's banking career has spanned well over five decades. She began as a bookkeeper and came into public contact as a teller with experience in various Long Island financial institutions.

Impressed with her ability J. Arthur Stein, (now Board Chairman) and D. Herbert Levison (now Director Emeritus) of Suburbia's Board of Directors, offered her a job as Assistant Secretary, when she joined Suburbia in 1948.

The rest is history. Her advancement with Suburbia Federal was meteoric. Mrs. Dolan was elected Executive Vice President in 1950, a Director in 1953, and in 1958, became President.

What was Mrs. Dolan's key to success? In her words, she "always had the urge to learn the job ahead of her." She always gave concerned and special attention to all of Suburbia's customers. Her open door policy extended to employees as well as to customers.

Mrs. Dolan was the first woman elected a Director of the Savings Association League of New York. She was named "Woman of the Year" by Long Island University, the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, and the New York Metropolitan area press. She was appointed by then Governor Rockefeller to the New York State Women's Council for furthering opportunities for women in business. She was President of the Long Island Group of Savings and Loan Associations.

Her list of memberships is endless. Some include the Senior Advisory Council of the American Savings and Loan Institute, Mortgage Bankers Association, Savings Association Manager's Club of New York, Mortgage and Finance Committee of the Long Island Real Estate Board, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation Laws Committee of the United States Savings and Loan League, Long Island Home Builders Institute, and National League of Insured Savings Associations.

The always community-minded Mrs. Dolan also found time to serve as Honorary Chairman of the Girl Scouts of America, Co-Chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and Fund Chairman of the American Red Cross. She also served the Long Island Better Business Bureau, and was a Director of both the Garden City and Lynbrook Chambers of Commerce.

In 1971, Mrs. Dolan moved to Florida and became Founder, President, and Director of Skylake State Bank, located in North Miami Beach. Presently, she is Chairman of the Board of Skylake State Bank.

Property Tax Exemption Applications Available

Applications are presently being accepted by the Nassau County Board of Assessors for both senior citizen and veteran property tax exemptions according to Board Chairman Abe Seldin.

"Property owners applying during this filing period, which ends May 1st, will be eligible to receive reductions on their 1976-77 school and 1977 county and town taxes," stated Seldin. "In many cases these exemptions can mean sizeable savings in tax dollars." Under guidelines established by the state legislature and adopted by Nassau County, its three towns and 62 school districts, senior citizens who have owned their home for two years or more, have an income of $6,500 or less (including social security) and satisfy other basic requirements are eligible to receive a 50 percent reduction in their county, town and school taxes but not those levied by special district. Application for the exemption must be made each year. However, the department of assessment automatically mails renewal forms to previously qualified seniors. 11,615 senior citizen exemptions were granted for the 1976 tax year.

The veterans program, first enacted after the Spanish American War, provides an exemption of up to $5,000 of assessment applicable against county, town and highway tax levies. The veteran must verify that he received monies from the federal or state government as a result of military service. Application forms list which benefit funds are eligible under the program and where veterans can write to obtain the necessary verification statements. The exemption is mandatory on all municipalities under state law and is permanent until the property is sold. In 1975 there were 63,290 veterans receiving an exemption.

Application to the County Board of Assessors will not provide senior citizens or veterans exemptions on either city or village taxes. Residents are urged to contact these local municipalities for filing information.

Little Known Facts About The American Revolution The American Citizen Army

By Gardiner Gregory

The American Citizen Army began with the Pilgrims who hired Captain Miles Standish (ancestor of the writer) to train them in the use of arms. The obligation of every male between the ages of 17 and 60 years of age was borrowed from early Saxon days of English history.

A father was responsible for providing arms for his sons until they reached the age of 21. Only doctors, clergymen, public officials and school teachers, and those with "defects of mind, failing senses or impotence of limbs" were exempt from military service.

Any man refusing to bear arms was punished. If a man failed to appear for drills, he was fined. Grievances or complaints were considered mutiny. If a soldier raised his hand against an officer, he might have his hand cut off. If he raised his gun, the penalty was death.

As the Commonwealth of Massachusetts expanded, every town and village raised its own militia unit of from 60-200 men. Other colonies followed their example. Units trained as often as once a week.

Many of these units participated in fighting the Indians. To keep the Indians from recovering their spent arrows, certain militiamen were assigned to pick them up.

The citizen soldier served throughout the French and Indian Wars and gained experience that would serve him during the American Revolution. He learned to fight like an Indian, hiding behind trees or any available cover. The terrain in the colonies favored such tactics.

From the beginning at Plymouth in 1620, the minuteman of Concord and Lexington was born. By the time of the American Revolution, there were thousands of citizen soldiers with many generations of experience behind them. A French army officer wrote in 1777 "American Soldiers can fire a fusillade a hundred times more deeply than that of any other troops in the world... even when retreating or pretending to retreat... because every shot is taken deliberately and all of them, officers and men, fire only when they have picked out their target, and they rarely miss." The British learned this to be true at the Battle of Breed's Hill.

Even though the United States has had a nucleus of a professional army, its wars have been fought and won largely due to the efforts of its citizen armies. Our National Guard of to-day is made up of citizen soldiers.
