Hicksville Fire Report BY EX-CAPT. O.W. MAGEE

Vamps And Tank Farm
As reported in the Mid Island Herald last week The Purex Corp. has applied to the Town of Oyster Bay for permission to develop a 1.86 acre piece of land on the south side of West John St. near Kuhl Ave. On this property they propose to store aircraft anti-freeze, cleaning fluids and kerosene and possibly other industrial chemicals. As would be expected in any community, there are some people who are concerned and oppose this application. The Town Board, after a hearing, has reserved decision on this application. However, the reports circulated and printed in Long Island newspapers go a bit further and quote Judith Yarsinske, who presented a petition against the Tank Farm, that the group doubted the local (Hicksville) firemen would be expert at dousing chemical blazes. A check with Hicksville vamps found that they felt this was an affront to the know-how and skills the Hicksville Fire Dept. possesses.

A check with Hicksville Fire Chief Roy Schaaf found that no one contacted his office for information on what the Fire Dept. could handle, or had knowledge of, in regards to fire control.

"The Fire Department would like to make clear that the name Volunteer is very misleading. True we do volunteer to be firemen but that's where the word Volunteer and Fire Dept. are parted. The members of the Hicksville Fire Dept. as well as other Nassau fire units train 365 days a year. The men and apparatus seen on the road day and night are out giving up their time to acquaint themselves with the properties they are sworn to protect", said Chief Schaaf.

"The Department has its own training committee and also it relies on the Nassau County Firemen's Training Center in Old Bethpage. At this school, which is open to anyone to observe, firemen fight fires in high rise towers, aircraft, stores, houses, tank trucks and tank farm type fires. And I might add many of these fires are hotter than the actual fires we get at home, but the hotter the better so they are prepared for the worst," he continued.

Also true is that a fire in a chemical plant could be a problem for firemen. New York fire fighters often have problems. But that does not mean they do not have the ability or knowledge to fight the fire. There are many other things that contribute to a serious fire. Delayed alarms, while untrained personnel try to fight the fire, improper storage and handling, lack of fire control equipment, etc.

To sum it up the "Local" Fire Department is on the job 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, rescue fire fighting its top priorities. But right behind that is training and the fire prevention programs.

"You can be sure, the Hicksville Fire Dept. is among the best trained anywhere. We do it for free. All we ask is your support," he concluded.

As we go to press - Fire Chief Roy Schaaf of Hicksville reported town officials have scheduled a meeting with local fire officials to discuss the Tank Farm application.

During the drill, the team won a 7 ft. high trophy for its 1st place win in Motor Hoss Class B. They also won 3rd place in Motor Pump and 4th place in Efficiency contest.

Farley and Chlumsky Honored In L.I. Forum

Friends and admirers of Miss Mabel Farley and Mr. Frank Chlumsky will welcome the news that their careers as educator and community leader were recently the subjects of two consecutive issues of the well known historical monthly, Long Island Forum. Entitled "They Served Hicksville", the articles were written by Dorothy Margot, a community resident, who is a long-time admirer of the subjects.

Illustrated with old community pictures and photographs of the 1975 community celebration marking the 50th Anniversary of the Hicksville Junior-Senior High School on Jerusalem Avenue, the two-part article will evoke many happy memories for older residents and graduates of the community's oldest school.

Miss Farley, legendary high school principal, and Frank Chlumsky, for many years School Board President and community leader, were the "stars" of the 1975 celebration.

The Gregory Museum's Historical Committee is pleased to announce that the May and June issues of the Long Island Forum are currently available at the Curator's Office at the Museum, which is located in the Old Heitz Place Court House. The issues are selling as a community service, for 45 cents each. Author Margot recalls in detail the careers and personalities of Mabel Farley and Frank Chlumsky, making these Forum issues a fine keepsake and community source for any Hicksvillian.

Kivans in action - another informative Wednesday luncheon held on July 14 at the Milleridge Inn. The excellent program featured Nassau County District Attorney Denis Dillon, who spoke about the workings of his office followed by a question and answer period.

Cops-Vamps Save A Life

By Ex. Capt. Owen Magee

Three 8th Pct. Policemen and the Rescue Squad of the Hicksville Fire Dept. teamed up on Monday July 19 at 3:46 PM to save a 13 year old girl from drowning.

Police officers Matthew Brady and Det. J. Ryan and Ambulance Tech. A. Mazzio arrived on the scene first at 42 Elwood Ave. Hicksville. Sandra Lamb, 13 dove into her families back yard swimming pool. She evidently struck her head on the bottom. She was removed from the pool. There the police started C.P.R. to restore her breathing, which had stopped.

Rescue Squad members and equipment arrived quickly and police and firemen worked till they revived the patient. It was reported that Sandra suffered a broken neck. She was transported to Nassau County Medical Center via police ambulance.

She is alive today, thanks to cops and vamps who wouldn't give up. Four pieces of apparatus responded along with 30 men under Asst. Chief James Huttler.

Pageantry In Brass On Sat., July 24

The St. Ignatius Girls Cadet Corps is having a truly great season. On June 18th the girls won first place in a contest in Schuylkill Haven, Pa. They then left on a 17 day trip out west. this Saturday, July 24th at 8 P.M. The price of the tickets in advance are Adults $2.50 and Children $1.50. Order them now by calling WEB-3392 and one of our girls will deliver them to your door.

Come on out and give them the support that all their hard work and dedication deserves. Help send them to Massachusetts so they can bring the "World Open" championship back to Hicksville for the fourth year in a row.

See you on Saturday, July 24th at 8 p.m.!

Little League

Minor League

By Sae Jankowski

H.A.L. defeated by H.A.L.

On Saturday, July 17 at Abe Levitt Field the American League, Minor All Stars soundly defeated the B.B.A. All Stars by a score of 8-5. This was the finals of the annual Round Robin Tournament. Excellent fielding was a big factor in the victory for the H.A.L., highlighted by a double play beginning with a great snag of a grounder by shortstop John McAleese and a big league pivot by Gil Negron, who threw to John Autolino to complete the D.P. Brian Rankel turned in an excellent pitching performance for five innings and Ron Colleuri completed the game after he turned in a superb catching effort for five innings.

The H.A.L. Hitting attack was led by John McAleese and Gil Negron who each had three hits and Brian Rankel and George Tamborello teamed up for two hits apiece. John Autolino and Steve Rokito with one hit each ran the total to 12 hits.

This was big victory for the American League and is certainly an indication of what can be expected next year in the Major Division Little League Tournament.

Picture makes her a 58 lb. loser.

One thing's for sure. You never see yourself as others do. At least, Sandy Vargo didn't. Before she was 16, her eating had pushed her over 180 pounds. Her dad teased her about her weight, hoping she'd lose. "You'll never get a boyfriend," he'd say. But as long as she could curl up with a good book and a bag of potato chips, Sandy didn't care—until she saw that fat picture of herself in horizontal stripes.

She decided right then that she needed to slim down. So she bought a box of Ayds® Reducing Plan Candy. Taken as directed, Ayds helps curb your appetite, so you eat less and lose weight. Sandy Vargo lost 58 pounds on the Ayds plan. Now she's thinking about buying a bikini. Try Ayds. Four delicious flavors.

Volunteers For Carter

Nassau Democratic leader Stanley Harwood returned to his Mineola Headquarters last Friday after spending four days at the Democratic National Convention in New York City to find the phones buzzing with calls from people who had watched the nomination of Jimmy Carter on television and wanted to work for him.

The morning after Carter's acceptance speech we received an average of 20 calls an hour from people who had never been involved in a campaign before, but wanted to work for the Democratic ticket. "It's amazing," Harwood said. "I've been active in Democratic politics in this county a long time, and I don't recall ever getting this kind of response from the public."

According to Harwood, the calls are coming from people in all walks of life. "We've heard from several unemployed construction workers, two college professors, and many homemakers and students. One husband and wife said they had just returned from the Board of Elections where they had changed their enrollment from Republican to Democratic, and they wanted to work. Many said they planned to change enrollment. We are delighted with this development and welcome all these enthusiastic people."

Harwood said the Carter-Mondale campaign in Nassau would be closely coordinated with those of local legislative candidates. He said that he and Carter's Nassau coordinator, Tom Slater of Port Washington, would set up a central campaign headquarters in Nassau for the Carter-Mondale team soon and that the presidential ticket would also share space with local candidates wherever possible.

Harwood expects both Carter and Mondale in Nassau during the campaign. All those interested in volunteering or obtaining literature can contact Nassau Democratic Headquarters, 240 Mineola Boulevard, Mineola 11501. (516) 747-7400.

Ballroom dancing will be held on July 23, 30 and August 6 and 13 from 8 to 10 P.M.

Dear Friends ...

As you will note in the PLAINVIEW School Board story, this Board has voted 5 to 2 to resubmit their budget on August 2nd. This budget which is $47,996 higher than the budget defeated in June by 387 votes, still carries a lower increase in this district's tax rate, because of a surplus of $145,000 which was only recently discovered. The new budget of $25,759,027, carries with it a tax rate of $18.98. The new budget, if approved by the voters on Aug. 2nd, will restore about a dozen district positions that had previously been eliminated, while approximately 30 jobs will remain cut. The public hearing on this budget is set for 9 p.m. on Monday, July 26th at the Jamaica Avenue Elementary School.

As we go to press, the word comes from Albany that it was State Environmental Conservation Commissioner Peter Berle will review the entire Plainview landfill project, to which a large group of Plainview residents are objecting (see story on Page One of The Herald's Plainview edition). More on this as the situation develops.

Best wishes to Mr. William A. Granville who has been appointed to the position of elementary school principal, effective Sept. 1, 1978, by the Hicksville Board of Education on the recommendation of Hicksville School Superintendent Frederick W. Hill, at the July 14th Board meeting. The Board has not yet decided which school Mr. Granville will be assigned to.

LOCAL ROAD REPAIRS entailing the renovation of concrete curbing and aprons where needed, as well as the placement of sidewalk ramps for the handicapped at intersections are being planned in the following local areas:

HICKSVILLE: Aire Lane running north to its intersection with Arrow Lane; Abbot Lane, Abode Lane; all streets between Aire Lane and Abbot Lane, bounded on the east by Levittown Parkway; the Oyster Bay Town portion of East Cabot Lane. Also: Manor Street between Old Country Road and a point just north of its intersection with Wood Road.

PLAINVIEW: Debora Drive and Dorothea Street; Eleanor and Alma Lanes; Halcourt and Clover Mill Drives; Lean Lane and Dolores Place; Burton Avenue; Diane and Annette Courts.

OLD BETHPAGE: Colonial Road; Piper Place; Sheridan Street; Belaire Drive; Belaire and Fams Courts; Maggio Lane; Lark Avenue and Lark Court; Sherman Road; Lee Place, Haven Lane and Marc Court; East Park Court.

These contracts were recently awarded by the Town of Oyster Bay Board, to DeGore Construction, Inc. the lowest of five bidders.

BUSINESS NEWS: The Board of Directors of Hempstead Bank declared at its regular meeting on July 15th, their 228th consecutive dividend, a regular quarterly dividend of 25c per share payable Aug. 10th to shareholders of record at 3 p.m. on July 30th ... and our Savings Banks, through their Association, report record sales results for the first six months of 1976 by Savings Banks Life Insurance (SBLI) with 22,484 new individual policies issued totaling $299 million, a 16 per cent gain over the same period in 1975, another pace-setting year.

A Congressional investigation of ocean dumping called for by Congressman Norman F. Lent will begin with field hearings at the Hempstead Town Hall this Sat., July 24 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Many officials will be called to testify, Congressman Lent told us. "I called for these hearings in hopes of determining possible solutions and preventing future incidents of sludge washing ashore. To make the most out of the on-site hearings, we must hear from a broad spectrum of local opinion on the problem," he added. Should be an interesting and productive hearing.

That's all for this week. Stay well and enjoy this summer on beautiful Long Island. SHEILA NOETH

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

On July 16, 1976, the Nassau Board of Supervisors approved a local law to increase the county's portion of the sales tax by one cent on the dollar.

The approval by the State Legislature of a bill to allow this action by Nassau County came in the fading moments of the recently completed legislative session, after more than six months of partisan wrangling by five Democratic Assemblymen who refused to listen to facts on why this sales tax increase was vitally important.

What are the facts?

Inflation, unemployment and mandated federal and state programs - including, for example, a state-mandated transportation subsidy passed after the county had adopted its 1975 budget - had combined to put the county into a serious fiscal crisis. The cost of the state and federally mandated welfare and Medicaid programs alone exceeded the amount of county budgeted in 1975 by $18.3 million.

Critics have charged that the county failed to curb spending in 1976. They say that cutting expenditures would have made the penny increase in the sales tax unnecessary. Let's examine the facts they didn't want to hear:

The 1975 general fund budget was $530.1 million. Departmental spending requests for 1976 totaled $634.4 million. I cut those requests $40 million and submitted a 1976 budget that was $64.4 million over the previous year's level. What caused the increase?

The budget for the state-mandated welfare program had to be raised $30.5 million. We had to make up the $17.9 million dollar deficit from 1975 that was caused by welfare cost overruns; the state-mandated transportation subsidy; higher costs for utility, food and building supplies and higher borrowing costs. The state retirement system cost us an additional $7.2 million this year. The transportation subsidy was another $3.2 million and contractual salary increases amounted to $6.9 million.

In 1976, I cut deeper into the already tight budget, abolishing one department and merging others; reducing aid for tuition at the city university of New York and the aid for chaplain services. These and a number of other economies produced an $8.3 million reduction in costs and a $1.2 million increase in revenues.

A key ingredient in the program of economizing has been a job freeze. Since I imposed the freeze in 1975, the number of full-time county employees has been reduced by more than 600.

And finally, the bi-partisan Board of Supervisors meticulously examined my proposed 1976 budget and cut an additional $3.5 million.

The need for a sales tax increase is obvious to those who want to examine the facts and not view it as a partisan issue to exploit in an election year. I applaud the legislators in Albany who voted for the sales tax bill and Governor Carey who signed it for having the courage to do what was necessary and not what was politically attractive.

The money gap could have been filled in either of two ways. By a property tax increase of well over a dollar or a penny increase in the sales tax.

MIDGETS FINISH

In their final league game of the season, the Joseph Barry Knights of Columbus Midget Red team beat Glen Cove 5-0 to register their 8th shutout in 12 league games this year while compiling an overall 10-2 record & a 2nd place finish. In league competition, "Mitchell's Marvels" scored 35 goals while giving up 8. The boys also compiled a 2-2 record in the Regional & Long Island Cup competitions scoring 6 goals while allowing 5 and attended several outdoor tournaments bringing home the Championship in our own Hicksville International Bicentennial Tournament. Coaches John Mitchell & Jack McCann applaud the young men and thank them for a fine season: brothers Mike & Bobby Andrus, Pat Bedell, Don Barcavage, Kevin Cahalan, Anthony Coiro, Steve Dolan, Tom Fletcher, Mike Jung, John McCann, John Mitchell, Adrian Pepi, Bob Stenborg, Ed Thompson, Glen Zakian and Robby Zaretsky.

GIRLS HOLD ON

The under 26 girls were involved in a nail-bitin' contest for 2nd place this week-end in Massapequa. The winner of this final league game of the season would take sole possession of 2nd place. Hicksville came out all fired up & took a 2-0 lead in the first half on scores by Patty Conway & Karen Kolovich. These two girls have worked extremely well together all year with their ball control, passing, give-and-go plays & crossing the ball to their striker teammates Patty Decker, Karen Jung, Sharon Humphreys & Cathy Eichler. Mid-field control, the most important area in a well-balanced attack, was dominated by the halfback line consisting of Mary Flynn, Michelle Brill, Karen Dolan, Shauna Lendle & Lori Daley. In the 2nd half, Massapequa tried valiantly to catch our girls but the strong defense of Susan Stafford, Kathy Dolan, Jeanne O'Shea & goalkeeper Theresa Dolan held on to the lead by working hard under constant pressure. Final score 2-1. Mary Jannete had to sit this one out due to an ankle injury but was on hand to support her teammates. In all, the girls provided their Hicksville Elks sponsor & coaches Camara & Conway with a strong winning season compiling a 8-1 record with 40 goals for and 9 against. Congratulations to the young ladies on a fine season.

The Little Red Bantam Team That Beat The World.

By Eddie Cooper

The following poem was written by a gentleman who loves children and watches all the teams play. He wrote this poem for the Hicksville Bantam Team that won the 10 year old division of Hicksville International Bicentennial Tournament.

My greatest Bicentennial moment of memory.
Are a group of boys and from A to Z.
As their names are unfurled,
You will meet 'The Red Bantam Team that Beat The World.'
A good player I can tell, is David 'Bearcat' Bell.
Defense as hard as a rock, has Billy 'Cougar' Cheslock.
Best against man to man, is Billy 'Crickett' Cresham.

He never tires or gives in, does Sean 'Scooter' Devlin,
To him I take off my hat, to Chris 'Husky' Habersaat,
Great praises should be sung, about Kevin 'Jaguar' Jung,
He always plays clean and hard, does Lewis, call him 'Tuffy' Todd,
He'll play on and never tire, will John 'Mighty' Maguire,
His one goal is only wins, the great goalie John 'The Rock' Rubins.
A player of great rank, is 'Frisky' Schnur, first name Frank.

A good little team beater, is 'Snoopy' Schnur, first name Peter.
As good as you and me is Michael 'Skippy' Sini.
The greatest player day or night, is David 'Superstar' Smyth.
Good competition he will not avoid, will 'Scrappy' Sneddon, first name Lloyd.

He is smart and tricky, is Larry 'The Lion' Ziembecki.
So now you have been told, about the team of gold.
And as the victory banner is unfurled,
We salute 'The Little Red Bantam Team That Beat The World.'

Hicksville American Soccer

The Pee Wee Red Team sponsored by the Municipal Beef Corporation which recently won the under 8 Division of the Long Island Junior Soccer League and the Long Island Cup in the under 8 Division, travelled to Toronto, Canada, to compete in the Robbie Tournament, July 1st to 4th. Sixteen teams were entered in the Squirt Division.

The opening game opponent for Hicksville was Cedarbrae from Toronto. The Cedarbrae club billeted the Hicksville boys for the tournament but the guests from Hicksville defeated their hosts by a 2-0 score with inside right Luis Mejia scoring both goals. Hicksville's second opponent was the Spartan Soccer Club, also from Toronto. Halfback Doug Donsky scored two penalty kicks and forward Chris Bentley scored another goal as Hicksville triumphed by a 3-0 score.

In the third game, Hicksville faced the Ajax Club and again emerged victorious. This time by a score of 2-1. Goal scorers were wing Keith McCann and forward Chris Bentley. Rich Markey played well in goal in each of the Hicksville victories. Hicksville's opponent in the semi-finals was the Guildwood Soccer Club from Toronto. The first half of this game was the best half of soccer played by Hicksville during the Tournament but at the half Guildwood led by a 1-0 score. Several scoring opportunities were thwarted by the muddy field conditions and the excellent play of the Guildwood goalie. After Guildwood scored again early in the second half, the game turned in their favor and the fatigue of playing 4 games in two days in the mud and rain 600 miles from home caught up with the Hicksville boys. The final was 4-0. Guildwood went on to defeat Mexico in the finals for the championship of the Squirt Division. Coaches Jim Morrisroe and Rich Humann and the parents who accompanied the team to Toronto were proud of the performance of our boys and everyone enjoyed the tournament.

During the past season, this team compiled an enviable record of 24 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie in league and tournament play. The members of the Hicksville American Soccer Club Pee Wee Red team: Chris Bentley, Alex Brill, Doug Donsky, Keith McCann, Richard Youngs, Greg Skupinsky, Scott Hertz, Luis Mejia, Phil Ziembecki, Rich Markey, Dennis O'Leary, Darren Fisher, Richard Humann and Peter Masiello.

DEVOTIONS

MEDITATION

It is hard to read the newspaper or a magazine without finding an advertisement or an article extolling Transcendental Meditation. T.M. as it's called has become the "in" thing to do. Its proponents make great claims of life-changing benefits through practicing its principles. Because of the interest in this and similar movements, I decided to make "Meditation" the subject of today's devotion.

Were you aware that Christians have practiced meditation for centuries? In the book of Psalms we read, "I will meditate on all Thy work, and muse on Thy mighty deeds." In an effort to clear the mind of distractions during meditation, monks focused on a crucifix. Other forms of meditation tell you to focus on the tip of your nose, or contemplate your navel. And others will tell you to use a chant or a mantra.

Since Yoga and Transcendental Meditation have their bases in the non-Christian religion Hinduism, Christians must be careful that we are not offending the name of the Triune God by practicing them. Better to do Christian Meditation and achieve all the physical and psychological benefits of worshipping the Triune God.

Most people who practice meditation are seeking peace in a confused world. But listen-Jesus Christ is unequalled as a personage who produces peace at a very deep level. Therefore it makes great sense to meditate on Him and the mighty acts of God. All other forms are second best. The psalmist has it together when he says, "I will call to mind the deeds of the Lord, yea I will remember Thy wonders of old. I will meditate on all Thy work and muse on Thy mighty deeds."

Meditation has always been a form of prayer practiced by God's people. Therefore each of us should consider Christian Meditation as a means of encountering God and being blessed by Him. Let me suggest several steps that might help you get into Christian Meditation. First, find a time and a place where you can be alone with God. Maybe you'll have to get up fifteen minutes earlier to do it. Be patient as you begin, you will get better at it with practice. Decide you'll try it for a month before deciding if it is a helpful prayer form for you. Take several deep breaths and relax as you begin. Think, "I am alone with God, all is well." Next, cleanse your mind of any sins that may be separating you from God. Believe He is anxious to forgive you. Then confess them. Thank Him for His forgiveness. Then think of God's greatness and love. Now put your self-will in gear and say, "God, I'm ready to hear anything you want to say to me." Then listen. Dialogue with Him about your life and work! For one of the purposes of meditation is to help you make your life and the world you influence a more beautiful place.

Christian Meditation really works. I commend it to you, for it

At Old Westbury Gardens

Old Westbury Gardens presents music of the Jazz Age on Wednesday evening, July 28th (rain date, the 29th). The Speakeasy Jazz Babies are actually direct descendants of Woody Allen's Band, the New Orleans Funeral and Ragtime Orchestra, which has been playing at Michael's Pub in New York City for more than four years. As John Wilson of the New York Times puts it, "The band is one of the most polished groups performing in New York today, playing a New Orleans repertory when Woody is there, and the Twenties style when he is not."

The band was featured on the soundtrack of the movie "Sleeper", and also performed at the World Jazz Championship in Indianapolis in August, 1975. As a result of its double life, the band's repertory ranges from pre-World War I times to those of early Depression days. Included are creates a mind-set where God can send His signals through to you. Be in touch with your Maker every day this week-you'll have a better week-perhaps one of the best.

County Tax Experts Confer

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso conferred recently with assessment and bonding experts to develop plans to deal with a court decision upsetting county assessment procedures.

In a two-hour meeting with Abe Seldin, chairman of the Board of Assessors, and county Treasurer John Scaduto, Caso emphasized that the county hopes to mount a successful appeal to the State Court of Appeals but said that prudence dictates that a plan be formulated to deal with the crisis should the legal move prove unsuccessful.

The Appellate Division decided Monday that the county must assess property using the state equalization rate, an act that would expose Nassau County to claims for repayment of taxes, mostly from commercial property owners.

"It has been estimated that the maximum county susceptibility for repayment of taxes is $127 million but I have been informed that actual payouts would fall short of that figure," Caso said. "Still we have to consider the possibility of a major refund in the event that our appeal is unsuccessful."

Caso said Scaduto informed him that any major repayment of taxes could be amortized over a 10, 20 or even 30-year period, depending on the advice of the county's bond counsel.

In anticipation of Monday's decision Seldin has been working with an in-government committee for the last two years to develop other approaches to the question of county assessments.

In consultation with that committee Seldin submitted bills in the 1976 session of the State Legislature to minimize the impact of a change in assessment procedure on the individual homeowner. A so-called circuit breaker bill would give relief to a family through a system of state tax credits and rebates when property tax payments exceed a set percentage of the family's income.

A homestead exemption would allow the first few thousand dollars of residential property value to be exempt from property taxes.

Caso indicated he was "dismayed" at the decision of the five judge appellate tribunal in reaching a decision which "fails to reflect the county taxpayers ability to underwrite enormous payouts of property tax refunds."

"Hopefully," he said, "the Court of Appeals will weigh this issue against the larger question of the county's fiscal situation and the ability of homeowners to absorb additional taxes."

Fairchild Gets Contract

Fairchild Space and Defense Systems of Syosset has been awarded a $1.2 million contract to build three cameras for the Navy, Congressman Norman F. Lent announced today.

The contract, from the Naval Air Development Center in Norristown, Pennsylvania, is for modification, fabrication, testing, and delivery of three panoramic cameras which will be used in the Navy's Interim Tactical Reconnaissance System. The three complex and highly sophisticated camera systems will be delivered to the Navy at one month intervals, 13, 14, and 15 months from now.

"Fairchild has a richly deserved world-wide reputation for its fine aerial cameras," Lent said. "It's good to know that these carefully crafted local products will soon be helping to make the Navy's job a little easier."

Harry Drum Promoted

Harry Drum has been promoted to Corporate Training Manager for Korvettes. This is a newly created position in the Personnel Department.

Originally from Long Island, he began working for the company at their Douglass Store. During his nine years with the retailer, he has held various positions including that of Training Coordinator and Assistant Personnel Manager at Douglass. Since 1972, he has been Personnel Manager at their Fulton Street Store.

A graduate of Queens College, Mr. Drum is currently attending St. John's University for a Master's degree in Executive Management. He and his wife Janice reside in Plainview, New York.

Who is Bringing Back Vaudeville?

The Bijou Vaudeville Review will be staged at Eisenhower Park's Lakeside Theatre on Saturday, August 7 at 8:30 p.m. launching the August segment of the American Musical Heritage Nights. Sponsored by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, the old-fashioned show will feature a unicyclist, singer, tap dancer, banjo-guitar player plus a four-dog routine, billed as Cordy's Canines.

Nassau County residents and their guests are invited to the free entertainment, and it is suggested that they bring beach chairs or blankets to the outdoor theatre.

School Board Sets Proposed Budget

By Morey Solomon

A budget figure was finally arrived at last Thursday night at the Plainview-Old Bethpage School Board meeting.

The figure of $25,759,027 was approved, 5 to 2 as the proposed budget for the oncoming school term. However, depending on future reactions from the community, it is subject to change.

Board member Alvin Delman wanted a supplementary budget of $230,786. He said, "There is an unequal opportunity for the children in our district because of insufficient funds." Delman then gave a list of twenty items that this added money would provide. He described the allotment of this money going to such things as legal fees, snow removal, vehicle operations, and transportation.

Vice president Miller said, "I reviewed the budget and most of these items are new ones—such as legal fees. If 'X' number of dollars is needed, switch to somewhere else. It is the district's right under the law to make a settlement. If we keep adding and adding there is no end."

Board member Ben Taubenfeld proposed an additional $40,000 for security and another $40,000 for burglary. School board Treasurer Bergrin said that there was approximately $7,000 in vandalism last year. This proposal was thus voted down 4 to 2.

After no more amendments were proposed, President Laub revealed the proposed figure to be $25,759,027. This amount will cover such new additions as: four elementary school teachers, two half-time employed phys-ed teachers, (serving Mattlin and the middle school), the nine period day and four additional teachers at Plainview High School, one psychologist for the secondary schools, one guidance counselor at Mattlin and one half-time attendance counselor.

With regard to the money the three empty schools will bring into the district, Laub remarked, "There has been no sale of property. If we sell some property not a nickel will go into this year's budget, but into next year's budget."

Another outcome of this meeting was the rewording of the open campus policy to state: "All students in grades other than senior high school must be picked up by the parent." The open campus is the right of students of the senior high to leave the building during their free periods.

During public participation former board member Natter said, "The ninth grade at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Senior High will be involved with the open campus and my child at Mattlin won't." Mr. Laub answered, "Thank you Mr. Natter," and then went on to the next comment.

The next school board meeting will be on July 26 at the Jamaica Ave. school, where a public hearing will convene at 9 o'clock P.M. to discuss the proposed budget figure, with the community.

Hicksville Firms Awarded Contracts

The Defense Electronics Supply Center procures, manages and supplies common electronic parts used by the armed services and various other government agencies.

A Big Band Concert

The sounds of the big bands, but with a contemporary twist, will echo at Eisenhower Park's Lakeside Theatre when Lee Castle and fabulous "new" Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra offers a free performance sponsored by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks on Saturday, July 24 at 8:30 p.m.

As with all of the Saturday night American Musical Heritage Series, the performances will go rain or shine.

Nassau Doctors Make Cancer Breakthrough

Page 13 - MID-ISLAND PLAINVIEW HERALD - Thursday, July 22, 1976

Two physicians at Nassau Hospital in Mineola have apparently made a breakthrough in the treatment of patients with cancer of the colon and rectum. Dr. Stuart Ross, a prominent surgeon from Garden City, and Dr. Min C. Li of Old Westbury, a chemotherapist who directed Nassau's cancer research program for a number of years, significantly improved the survival rate of patients with this disease by using a new method of administering a drug which has been available for years.

The results of their five year study, which involved over 200 patients, were recently published in the Journal of the American Medical Association. Until their research, survival rates for patients with cancer of the colon and rectum had not improved substantially in two decades.

A leading form of cancer in American men and women, cancer of the colon and rectum is expected to strike almost 100,000 new victims this year.

The two physicians utilized a drug called fluorouracil to kill cancer cells that escaped the surgeon's scalpel and spread to other parts of the body. The drug has been primarily used in the past on patients who for one reason or another could not be operated on, Dr. Ross explained. "It was basically considered a last resort to prolong life."

The drug was also formerly used on patients during and shortly following surgery on an experimental basis with few good results. "We think that the drug was administered too early in these cases," Dr. Ross explained, referring to the earlier efforts.

"The cancer cells may be dormant at that time. You must wait a month to catch the cells when they are in their growing stage. That appears to be the secret."

The results of the five year study are impressive. Formerly, only 24 percent of patients who only underwent surgery for cancer that had already spread to the lymph nodes survived for at least five years. Using the drug via the new method, the survival rate jumped to 58 percent for these patients.

The five year survival rate for patients who had Stage II of the disease (penetration of the intestinal wall by cancer cells) increased 23 percent, from 58 percent to 81 percent, using the same method administering the drug.

Dr. Ross said that the doses have been given to patients a month after surgery and then again a month later. "We are now trying to find the optimum dosage and time factor," he concluded. We may be able to get even better results than we have thus far.

Dr. Ross is a native Long Islander originally from East Hampton who has been on Nassau's staff since 1934. During World War II, he served as a lieutenant colonel in the US Army. A well known lecturer who has been published numerous times, he has belonged to a number of professional organizations including the American Proctologic Society, which he served as president. The New York Society of Colon and Rectal Surgery, the Pan-Pacific Surgical Association, the Nassau Surgical Society and a number of others.

Dr. Li, who has served Nassau since 1961, is in Taiwan and was not available for an interview. A winner of the coveted Albert Lasker Award for Medical Research in 1972, he served Nassau as Director of Medical Research and Oncology and was in charge of the hospital's Oncological resident teaching program and fellowship training in Oncology.

Nassau Hospital was the first non-profit, voluntary hospital on Long Island and today, with its 330 beds, it is the largest. The hospital has long been a leader in the cancer field on Long Island.

Nassau was one of the first hospitals to receive Federal grants for cancer research and under the direction of Dr. Li, it has conducted a long and intensive investigation into various aspects of the disease and its treatment.

In the late 1950's, the hospital became the first on Long Island to establish a Nuclear Medicine Department and a High Energy Radiation Therapy Unit, which primarily treat patients with cancer. Today, the hospital's Radiation Therapy and Nuclear Medicine Department handles more patients per year than all but one other such unit in the entire New York area.

A Federal grant four years ago helped establish a computerized therapy treatment planning service with which the department's three physicists aid and advise 21 other hospitals from Massachusetts to New York in the treatment of their cancer cases.

In June, three of the department's staff won a prize for an exhibit at the Society of Nuclear Medicine's annual meeting in Dallas, Texas.

Almost all the equipment used for diagnosis in the hospital's Nuclear Medicine section is quite new. Manufacturers of the specialized and very expensive equipment used in the field of nuclear medicine and radiation therapy often allow their equipment to be tested at Nassau prior to releasing it for general use. For further information call Bill Edwards at 663-2234.

School Board Head Charges

'Political Deal Adds Millions To School Tax Bill'

During the last hectic days before the New York State Legislature recessed for the national conventions, two bills, considered dead only weeks before, were sneaked onto the floor of the Senate. According to Eleanor M. Smith, President of the Nassau-Suffolk School Boards Association, these bills will increase local school district contributions to the New York State Teachers Retirement System by millions of dollars per year statewide.

Mrs. Smith charged that these bills, which will increase local school taxes without improving education, were part of a political "deal" between the Governor and the New York State United Teachers. Under the terms of the alleged "deal," according to Mrs. Smith, the Governor and certain members of the Legislature would back these bills if the teacher's union would buy state bonds to help bail the State out of one of its recent financial crises.

In other words, "charged Mrs. Smith, "the Long Island homeowner and homeowners throughout the State except in New York City, are being forced to make a political payoff through increased local school taxes to support the Governor's fancy financial footwork. He may have saved the State from the consequences of its own fiscal mismanagement, but he is courting bankruptcy for our homeowners, our schools and possibly for the Teachers Retirement System itself, in the process."

The bills to which Mrs. Smith was referring will raise the public employer's (school districts) contribution to the teachers retirement fund and would permit a teacher to receive up to three years credit toward retirement for military service. They would add an estimated 1- to each school district's payroll.

Proponents of the bills suggest that they would make early retirement more attractive to older, presumably higher priced teachers. "The fact of the matter is," said Mrs. Smith, "early retirement by a significant number of our older teachers, most of whom are females, who can be expected to live longer than men, would cripple the teachers retirement fund as it presently exists. Then there would be a great cry for even higher contributions from the taxpayers. Politicians who were not able to resist this years ripoff would certainly not have the courage to stop another raid on the homeowner's pocketbook when faced with the potential bankruptcy of the teachers retirement fund."

Mrs. Smith recalled that the Nassau-Suffolk School Boards Association has pledged to work for the defeat in November of any member of the Legislature who voted for this "payoff." She said that "the New York State United Teachers, AFL-CIO have amassed a multi-million dollar political war chest in both cash and manpower to grab and hold control of the New York State Legislature. The teachers can and will take over unless the people of the State, those who pay the wages from which the war chest was built rise up and throw out the teacher stooges who pass laws funneling school taxes right into teacher's pockets, not into the classroom."

Museum Donations

Mr. Charles Gordon, staunch supporter of The Gregory Museum, is shown donating a mineral book "Encyclopedia of Minerals" to the museum library. Accepting the book is Mrs. Anne Gregory. Mr. Gordon has also donated numerous mineral specimens to the museum.

Air Show

Visitors to the upcoming "Spirit of '76" Nassau County Air Show will have a rare chance to hear the nationally-renowned United States Air Force Reserve Band in person.

The 40-piece ensemble based at Robins Air Force Base in Georgia, will provide the show with a flavorful background of "pop" concert music as well as medleys of America's most rousing patriotic tunes.

Irish Night

There will be more than just a green lawn at Eisenhower Park's Lakeside Theatre when Irish Night is presented by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks on Monday, August 2 at 8:00 p.m. (rain date, August 3).

Irish dances, songs and band music will create the theme for this popular annual ethnic evening

The band, which has performed on many nationwide television shows and provided the welcoming music for the returning astronauts in the Apollo moon flight series, will appear on the first two days of the three-day aviation spectacular at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum, Uniondale, N.Y.

The air show, presented free of charge by Nassau County and the Friends of the Nassau County Museum, will be held Friday through Sunday, July 30, 31, and August 1, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

The band will play in concert on Friday and Saturday at 10 a.m. and again each day at 2 p.m. In between, it will provide the ceremonial music for the dais formalities.

At 3:30 p.m. each day, the band's newest addition, an eight-piece rock ensemble called "Power to Spare," will bring the sound of today's top recording artists to the show.

"Spirit of '76" Air Show will include breathtaking aerial performances in the skies over the Coliseum as well as a panorama of entertaining and educational exhibits in the Exhibition Hall.

There will be sky diving performances, hot air balloon races, antique aircraft displays, military fly-bys, simulated air-sea rescue demonstrations and much more.

Indoor displays will include a full-scale mockup of the Lunar Module, Charles Lindbergh's first plane, a nine-foot working model of a commercial jet, a mammoth kite collection, a replica of the Wright Brothers Cycle Shop, missiles, a World War I fighter plane and others.

The more I see of other countries the more I love my own.

I urged the penny increase in the sales tax be passed so we could close this county's current fiscal gap and continue with the fiscal plan to reduce the real property tax rate.

There are the facts that our residents must know.

Sincerely,
Ralph G. Caso
Nassau County
Executive

Dear Mrs. Noeth:

The Hicksville Bicentennial "Old-Time Fair" Committee is most appreciative of the help received in defraying the expenses of the Fair. With the approval of the Hicksville Bicentennial Committee, our parent organization, the Fair Committee undertook a modest solicitation of funds from among the community's attorneys, banking establishments and funeral chapels.

The "Old-Time Fair" expenses which were met thereby through the patriotism and community spirit of our donors were such costs as: insurance premiums, state incorporation fees, decorations, prize ribbons and advertising.

Making possible a splendid Bicentennial tribute to our nation on the Glorious Fourth were the following individuals, organizations or business firms: Peter T. Affatato, Jules Bender, John P. Salerno, David H. Yodelman, Hicksville Fire Department, Ancient Order of Hibernians, Galileo Galilei Lodge Sons of Italy, Hicksville Republican Club, Hicksville Council of PTAs, Dutch Lane PTA, East Street PTA, Fork Lane PTA, St. Ignatius Loyola School, Trinity Lutheran Church, Hicksville Jewish Center, Central Federal and Savings Bank, Bank of North America, Dollar Savings Bank, Lincoln Savings Bank,

Long Island National Bank, Dalton Funeral Home, Stock Funeral Home, Wagner Funeral Home, International House of Pancakes, and Wallace and O'Hare.

Sincerely,
Richard Evers,
Co-chairman,
Millie Pino, Treasurer.

Welfare

In New York State, more than $6,000,000,000 is spent annually on welfare programs. While most of it is expended in a commendable manner, a significantly large portion is "wasted" through fraud, mismanagement and other abuses.

Richard V. Horan, the State Welfare Inspector General, has estimated the waste at about $1,000,000,000 a year. These are taxpayers' dollars. If you believe an individual is receiving welfare assistance by fraud, or a Medicaid provider is overcharging for goods and services, or an agency is engaging in practices which result in welfare waste—

Write to The Office of Welfare Inspector General, 270 Broadway, New York 10007, or call (212) 488-4711. All complaints are treated confidentially and investigated thoroughly.

Computer System To Aid In Emergencies

A unique computer system designed to speed emergency assistance to the scenes of fires and accidents has been put into operation by Nassau County, it was announced today by County Executive Ralph G. Caso.

The "Primary Street Locator System," the only one of its kind in the country serving volunteer fire departments, was designed and implemented by the Division of Management Information of the Department of General Services with the help of the Nassau County Fire Commission and the Fire Marshall's office. It will be operated by the Fire Commission.

The system, integrated into the county's fire communications network, will be servicing all 71 volunteer fire departments in Nassau County.

Prior to its implementation, dispatchers at central communications headquarters in Mineola had to hunt manually through huge street indexes in order to pinpoint the location of emergency calls.

Part of the problem, according to fire officials, is that many people become hysterical in emergency situations and are unable to give coherent information on the phone. Also, many callers are not totally familiar with fire district boundaries.

Under the new system, dispatchers take the name of the street, even if only partially correct, and type it into a computer terminal. In less than five seconds a readout on the terminal screen shows the community and fire district.

The system, which took six months to set up, cost approximately $80,000.

"We are certain that it will more than pay for itself in the lives and property it will save," Caso said.

Further sophistication of the system will come later this year when Phase II goes into effect.

At that time, cross streets, shopping centers, churches, and other major buildings and complexes will be added to the computer, further reducing the time it takes to precisely pinpoint the site of an emergency.
