HHS Alumni To Honor Grace Fippinger

The Hicksville High School Alumni Association is sponsoring its 20th Annual Homecoming Dance on Friday, October 22, at the Old Country Manor, Old Country Road, Hicksville from 9 PM to 2 PM.

This year we are honoring Ms. Grace Fippinger, a graduate of Hicksville High School and a life time resident of Hicksville.

Ms. Fippinger joined the New York Telephone Company in 1948, she became the first woman officer in the Bell System when she was elected Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer on July 1, 1974.

Ms. Fippinger is a director for Pfizer, Inc., Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., The Greater New York Fund, The American Cancer Society (L.I.Div.) and a member-at-large of the Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. of Greater New York. Ms. Fippinger is also listed in Who's Who in America.

Tickets are $15. and can be purchased at Holden's Stationery Store on Broadway, Hicksville and at the Long Island National Bank, Main Office, Broadway, Hicksville from Mr. James Fyfe.

The evening includes a Cocktail Hour from 9 PM to 10 PM, Open Bar, Hot and Cold Buffet and continuous music for your dancing pleasure. Tickets are limited and should be purchased early.

Marino's Aid Bill OK'd

Governor Carey has signed into law a special bill authorizing release of $500,000 in transportation aid to the Hicksville Union Free School District.

The bill was sponsored by State Senator Ralph J. Marino (R-Syosset) as a means of heading off a threatened cutoff of Hicksville's 1976-77 school transportation funds.

The aid was jeopardized by the late arrival of Hicksville's transportation application to the Department of Education in Albany. Underdepartment regulations, late applications are not honored.

Marino requested the Governor to approve the bill authorizing the State Commissioner of Education to waive the due date requirement, assuring Hicksville will receive the state aid required to transport children to and from its schools.

Legion Scholarship Won By James Pino

The winner of the Hicksville American Legion's Charles Wagner Memorial Scholarship this year is James Pino, son of Mrs. Millie Pino and the late James J. Pino. The award recipient and his mother were guests of the Charles Wagner Post at its recent meeting.

Commander Palmer Walsh presented James with $300 scholarship and introduced him to post members. The Legion scholarship is an annual youth award which was initiated by the Post 421 members to honor the memory of Charles Wagner, Hicksville resident who died of wounds received in action in France, during World War I.

The award honors James Pino as "a deserving graduate who intends to pursue a course of advanced education." James stood 91 in a class of 910 graduates. He has been active for several years in coaching Little League sports.

He will attend the Polytechnical School at Farmingdale where he will engage in electrical engineering for two years and then major in computer engineering.

Local Film Gets Govt. Contract

Demac Corp of Hicksville has been awarded a $259,500 government contract to manufacture chaff countermeasures to confuse radar by Warner Robins Air Force Base, Georgia. The announcement was made by Woodie G. Williams, New York District Director of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

"This contract award was made under Small Business Set Aside Program which reserves suitable Federal contracts for award to small firms", Mr. Williams said. "There are many opportunities available in government contracting to small manufacturers and service firms. I strongly advise business owners to look into the possibilities of doing business with the Federal Government."

Demac is headed by Charles De Santo, President, and Walter Mody, Vice President. Demac employs 125 people.

FREDERICK STANWISE has been elected President of the Hicksville Rotary Club for the 1976-1977 Rotary year. Outdoor Show At Gregory Museum

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark announced the Town Board's approval for use of the municipal parking field located northwest of the Gregory Museum, Long Island Earth Science Center, for an outdoor show to be sponsored by the Museum this fall.

Co-sponsored by the Division of Cultural and Performing Arts of the Town's Department of Community Services, the show will feature such attractions as displays of arts and crafts and gems and minerals as well as the efforts of local garden clubs and their members.

Councilman Clark, a resident of Hicksville, stated that the two-day show will be conducted during the daylight hours of Saturday, October 9th and Sunday, October 10th. Use of the parking field, bordered on the south by Heitz Place on the east by Bay Avenue, is being made possible through the cooperation of George Kunz, the Town's Superintendent of Highways.

Rain dates for the show are Saturday, October 16th and Sunday, October 17th.

A GOOD TIME WAS HAD BY ALL: (From left) District Court Judge Warren M. Doolittle, Hicksville Fire Chief Roy Schaaf, Oyster Bay Town Supervisor John W. Burke and Councilman Thomas L. Help Line Service

In Nassau County, H E L P is spelled I.R.R.S.

Those four initials, representing Information Resource and Referral Service, identify the program in the Nassau County Department of Social Services, which links people who have problems with community resources offering possible resolutions.

IRRS is a "help line" service, available to all Nassau County residents, without regard to income, according to Social Services Commissioner Joseph A. D'Elia.

Emphasizing that IRRS is not a financial assistance program, D'Elia conceded that many of the questions received relate to financial difficulties. Housing, employment, job training, family counseling, drug and alcohol abuse, and health services are among many other subjects handled by IRRS staff.

IRRS is a mandated service of the Department, under Title XX of the federal Social Security Act. Simply put, it means that people who have problems should receive assistance in getting to the appropriate resource for answers, D'Elia explained. In the County's proposed plan for delivery of services, submitted to New York State for the coming year, the Department estimates 30,000 Nassau County residents will be serviced by IRRS. Currently, an average of 1500 inquiries monthly are referred to appropriate community agencies.

"Nassau County is fortunate," D'Elia stressed, "in its wealth of community agencies able to help people with emergencies and ready to offer counsel in dealing with everyday problems. The Social Services IRRS Section is able to provide linkage to these agencies."

The Department has recently relocated the IRRS unit next to the front door in the main floor lobby of the Social Services Administration building on County Seat Drive in Mineola.

"We want people to be able to come in and see a worker easily and quickly," D'Elia said.

IRRS welcomes telephone inquiries, D'Elia emphasized. The IRRS "hot line" is 535-4817.

Department workers are also available on appointment in two "outposts": the Long Beach EOC office, 212 West Park Avenue, Long Beach, telephone 889-7200; and the Inwood Community Center, 270 Lawrence Avenue, Inwood, telephone 239-6244.

Reappointed To Planning Adv. Board

On July 27 Town Supervisor John W. Burke appointed Alfred Germaine Chairman of Oyster Bay's Planning Advisory Board.

Mr. Germaine, who was appointed to the Planning Advisory Board in April of 1975, succeeds Perry DeLalio as Chairman. DeLalio resigned from the Board for personal business reasons.

A member of the American Society of Professional Estimators, Mr. Germaine is a contractor employed by a Roslyn Firm. He holds a degree in Construction Technology from the State University at Farmingdale, and he lives with his wife, Bette, and their two boys at 17 Narcissus Drive, Syosset.

Also reappointed to the Planning Advisory Board for three year terms expiring June 30, 1979 are Commission members Paul DeCicco of 117 Grace Street, Plainview, and Clarence F. Michalis, Bayville Road, Locust Valley.

"The Planning Advisory Board assists the Town Board on planning matter and makes recommendations regarding aesthetic and other considerations relevant to comprehensive planning. The members of the Board serve without compensation."

Dear Friends ...

On Monday, August 2nd, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the Jamaica Ave., Joyce Road and Old Bethpage Schools, Plainview residents will vote on a proposed school budget for the second time. The first budget was defeated in June mostly because many education-oriented residents felt that it did not do enough. The new budget seems to have corrected this in some areas, while, at the same time, due to a recently discovered surplus of $145,000.00, the increase in the tax rate which would have taken place if the June budget had been approved, is now reduced by 4 1/2%. We are glad to know about this surplus, and even more pleased to hear of the areas in which Plainview-Old Bethpage students will receive a better education with this budget. We hope you all remember to vote on August 2.

So much for school news...now, as to recreation available for your summer pleasure, there is much to please you, both in the public and the private sector:

At the UA Theatre in Syosset, beginning today, "Swashbuckler" will be playing. This adventurous pirate film stars Robert Shaw, fresh from his triumph in "The Sting", while at the UA Cinema 150 Theatre also in Syosset, "The Return of a Man Called Horse", started yesterday. This is a stirring western epic starring Richard Harris and Gale Sondergaard.

The Bijou Vaudeville Review, August segment starts on Sat., Aug. 7th at 8:30 p.m. at Eisenhower Park's Lakeside Theatre. This old fashioned show will feature a unicyclist, a singer, tap dancers, a banjo-guitar player plus a four-dog routine billed as Cordy's Canines. There is no charge, but bring either beach chairs or blankets to this outdoor theatre.

Also at Eisenhower Park's Lakeside Theatre, but on Mon. night, Aug. 9th starting at 8:30, Israeli Night will honor America's 200th birthday and feature a variety show of ethnic entertainment.

At Old Westbury Gardens, Peter Duchin and his orchestra will perform at the Twilight Picnic Pops on Wed. evening, Aug. 4th. (no rain date), while on Wed., evening Aug. 11th (rain date Aug. 12th) Old Westbury Gardens will present Hal Hoffman and his All-Style Dance Band playing tunes of the '40s and '50s. On concert evenings gates open at 6 p.m. and the music is on from 7 until 9. Bring your picnic supper and blanket. Come early and stroll through the gardens which will be ablaze with hollyhocks, salvia, aster, helenium and many other annuals and perennials. We'd also recommend a visit to the children's playhouse with its charming bicentennial display.

"Magical Music for a Summer Evening" a pops concert will be performed by Eleanor Steber, the noted soprano and former Met Opera star and the National Choral Union Martin Jisman on Sat., July 31st at the Hofstra Playhouse. Tickets are $4 each. The Hofstra Playhouse is on the south campus of Hofstra on Hempstead Tpke.

The King and His Court Foursome takes on a celebrity team dominated by hockey players in a softball game on Wed., Aug. 4 at 8:30 p.m. in Eisenhower Park. This game will be preceded by an outstanding women's slo-pitch softball game between the Hicksville Motor Lodge A's and the Hill and Tree 76's, while musical entertainment will be provided by the Nassau County Police Dept's "Dixie Cops". Sounds great.

Dick Fitch, Commissioner of our County Department of Recreation and Parks, tells us that the Department's Special Recreation Activities Unit has been honored for its creation and implementation of the only community program of its kind in New York State to be selected as a model for a new nation-wide training program aimed at servicing America's disabled citizens. A total of 50 programs throughout the nation have been designated, with Nassau's cited as one of the most outstanding.

Doreen Lupaki, 20 Eighth Street, Hicksville, was the winner of the Mabel R. Farley Scholarship Award given every year at graduation to a deserving student of Hicksville High School, by the Hicksville High School Alumni Association.

It has been an inspiring week, watching, as much as possible the Summer Olympics. Hope you have all enjoyed this excellent TV coverage as much as we have. Stay well.

Hearing On Aug. 10

TOB To Consider Amendment For Senior Citizen Zoning

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor John W. Burke announced that the Town Board will conduct a public hearing on August 10th to consider amending its Senior Citizen Zoning Ordinance to permit filing of applications for such zoning on complexes that the Oyster Bay Housing Authority will manage, operate or lease.

Currently, the Housing Authority is the only body that can apply for the S-1 Zone and it can only do so on complexes that it will own," Burke explained. "However, due to a change in the federal program providing funding for senior citizen complexes, the Town Board will consider permitting applications to be made for the S-1 Zone on complexes where it is agreed that the Housing Authority will manage, operate or lease."

The amendment is necessitated by the elimination of the federal "turnkey" project under which all current senior citizen housing in the Town has been constructed. Under that program, the complexes were constructed with federal funds and ownership was turned over to the Housing Authority, an autonomous agency.

In place of the "turnkey" program, the federal government is now providing for construction of senior citizen housing under Section 8 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. Under this section, ownership of the complex remains in the hands of the private developer of the complex and the federal government provides rent subsidies.

While indicating that he would have preferred to see the "turnkey" program continued, since it has proven successful in providing 595 units of senior citizen housing in the Town, Burke noted that "we must deal with the reality of the new federal program if we are to consider meeting the needs of an existing waiting list of 800 senior residents of this Town."

By amending the ordinance in the manner being proposed, the Board would be able to provide for the private ownership requirements of the federal program while continuing to assure that the complexes will be properly operated by the same administering body that has proven its capabilities in the existing complexes.

The hearing on the amendment is scheduled to begin at 10 AM in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Oyster Bay.

Environmental Studies Program For Handicapped

The Oyster Bay Town Board has formally approved the continuation of an Environmental Studies Program for the handicapped at the former U.S. Army Nike Missile site in Brookville, and has authorized receipt of a proposal for future use of the Town-owned property.

Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan, Jr. explained that the program was created to give handicapped youngsters of the Town's Group Activities Program (GAP) a taste of early American living. The children are participating in many different activities including gardening, outdoor cooking, caring for small livestock, building a log cabin and camping. The program, which began in April, is scheduled to continue through the middle of August.

The project is being conducted under the auspices of the Town's Handicapped Services Division and the Professional Educators Network (P.E.N.). A non-profit organization, P.E.N. was formed by Dr. John Loret, Assistant Professor and Director of the Queens College Department of Environmental Studies, and Dr. Anthony Patti, Chairman of the Department of Secondary and Continuing Education at Herbert H. Lehman College, to foster special programs for the handicapped. Student volunteers from both Queens and Lehman are participating in the project and working with the youngsters.

Later this year Drs. Loret and Patti will submit a proposal for similar continued use of the 23.8 acre parcel which the Town received title to from the federal government in late 1973.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

To introduce myself, I am the man whose recent retirement dinner, on May 29th, and retirement on March 12th, your excellent paper ran a story about, a month ago.

Several matters in the June School District 17 Hicksville Bulletin Board could stand a further explanation, in my opinion.

Credit for the Spanish for Business Opportunities Course originated with its excellent teacher, Mrs. Kozma, and myself, before my stroke which took place in April of 1975.

Secondly, I was surprised to read that Hicksville had won the James E. Allan Award for its outstanding Foreign Language Program for the second time. I was surprised because I had not read any publicity about this in any newspaper and because I knew definitely that Hicksville had never won the James E. Allan Award previously, because I was first vice-president of the Foreign Language Associates of Chairmen and Supervisors (FLACS) of Nassau and Suffolk Counties, which covered districts giving the award. I have since learned on impeccable authority that Hicksville did not win it this year either.

I hope that this letter will help to keep the record straight.

Sincerely yours,
Samuel A. Goldberg

Dem Candidates Forum

Bella Abzug, Ramsey Clark, Daniel Patrick Moynihan and Paul O'Dwyer will participate in a candidates' forum sponsored by the Nassau Democratic County Committee on Tuesday, August 3, beginning at 8:00 P.M. at Hofstra University's Monroe Lecture Center Building, Room 142. Party Chairman Stanley Harwood announced today.

It will be the first joint appearance by the four on Long Island. Abzug, Clark, Moynihan and O'Dwyer are all seeking the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate in the September 14th Primary. New York City businessman, Abraham Hirschfeld, the fifth candidate in the primary contest, has not yet responded to the County Committee's invitation.

"We sponsor these events in order to help the candidates bring their messages to the people of Nassau," Harwood said, "and to encourage the broadest possible participation by the Democratic electorate in the candidate selection process." In December of 1975, over 500 Nassau residents attended the County Committee's Presidential candidates forum.

According to Harwood, the forum will be preceded by a small reception for the candidates at 7:00 P.M. at a location to be announced.

The forum coordinator is George Israel of Hewlett, 20th Assembly District Democratic State Committeeman. The event is open to the public.

ALL IN THE FAMILY: Assemblyman Lewis J. Yeveloff (left) had the pleasure of being visited in Albany by three of his most ardent supporters. They are (from right to left) his wife Carole, and their sons Richard, and Steven, who journeyed to the State Capitol last week and watched the legislative process at work.

At The Town Board Meeting

By Gerry Kahn

The interest in the first two items on the calendar at the Town Board Meeting held Tuesday, July 27th, stimulated a larger than normal audience.

Item No. 1 was a petition of 5983 Corporation for modification of Resolution adopted November 9, 1971, which granted a special use permit to maintain a private club (K of C Meeting Hall) at Massapequa.

The petitioner was represented by Mr. Gagliardo who presented the case before the board and public. He indicated a desperate requirement for the additional space asked for under the petition.

Forty-five homeowners were notified of the hearing by mail and forty-three (those who were available) responded negatively. In addition personal appearances before the board by the following indicated a definite negative reaction to the petition: Mrs. Joyce Gotard, Cecelia Gunderson, Robert Brown, Prudence Cosco, Roasanne Pierra and Carol J. Magraham. A Mr. Joe Falcone spoke in favor of the granting.

The 2nd item was a petition by John and Madeline Kle for a change of zone from Res. C to Bus. F. Glen Head.

Mr. Kle, an attorney, represented himself, and presented a plea to utilize a residence as a professional building for his own practice and a maximum of (2) tenants either lawyers, accountants or similar professionals.

His petition met with negative response from Sal Manceri, Francis L. Lunsen, Mr. Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. H. Davis Ackerly, Mr. and Mrs. Peter De Filippi, and Marilyn Riccardi.

The main objection appeared to be the fear that this granting led rise to the domino theory of similar grantings in the future.

Item No. 3 and 4 on the calendar were Hearings relative to proposed amendments to the Code of Ordinances.

In item No. 4 Councilman Clark included in the proposed amendment to the Motor Vehicle Traffic Rules of the Code of Ordinances, Stop Signs, at the North and South intersections of Miller Road with Twin Lawn Ave. and similar signs at the intersection at Ronald Ave. in Hicksville.

Appearing in support of Councilman Clark were William Thomas, James Lee, Francine Heffernan and Jean Kaminek. The balance of the 27 item program was swiftly dispatched.

Item No. 25, resolution relating to the withdrawal of proposed amendment in connection with the protection of Purchaser Deposit Security required of builders contracting for the construction of homes on lands not owned by the contract purchaser.

The board voted for the withdrawal with the exception of Councilman Diamond who voted against withdrawal. He stated that the purchase of a home was probably one of the largest and most important expenditures most people make in their lifetimes and they should be afforded this additional safeguard.

The meeting was adjourned at 1:30.

Becomes Law

A proposal requiring that government bodies at all levels hold their meetings in public was signed into law on Tuesday, July 20.

The new law, sponsored by State Senator Ralph J. Marino will put an end to the practice of governmental panels holding secret sessions to discuss issues that should properly be aired in public. The law goes into effect January 1, 1977.

Closed or executive sessions will still be permitted, but only for the discussion of a limited number of topics. These include matters that would imperil the public safety or law enforcement.

Air Show To Stress Safety

"Safety First" will be a key phrase at the Nassau County "Spirit of '76" Air Show.

Every precaution is being taken to insure that participants and visitors will be no more than seconds away from professional help should the need arise.

Two Red Cross first aid stations will be set up to handle minor injury cases such as scratches and bruises. The 77th Army Reserve Command, Fort Totten, will set up a field hospital for similar cases.

The show will be held in and around the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum in Uniondale from July 30 to August 1 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Admission is free.

As further safety measures, four county ambulances, a county helicopter and emergency rescue apparatus from the Uniondale Fire Department will be on standby for the duration of the show.

A foam truck from the Grumman Aerospace Corporation will be stationed near the air corridor in which the aerial part of the show will take place.

"Spirit of '76," one of the major air shows in the country this year, is sponsored jointly by Nassau County and the Friends of the Nassau County Museum.

Aerial performances will include skydiving, hot air balloon races, antique aircraft flights, a simulated air-sea rescue, sky typing, glider demonstrations and others.

In the Exhibition Hall, there will be scores of displays spanning the history of flight...from a replica of the Wright Brothers Cycle Shop to a full-scale mockup of the Lunar Module.

Monday Movie Fun

Three movies for children are scheduled at the Hicksville Public Library on Monday afternoon, August 2nd, at 2 o'clock: Laughing Gravy, Winter Of The Witch, and Baby In The Tree.

The Hicksville American Soccer Club coach, Frank Schnur, was also present at the Hicksville Kiwanis Club meeting and read a letter to this club from the Zwickel Sports Club of West Germany. The club had the members of the Zwickel Soccer Club as guests for lunch on April 21, when they were on tour in the United States. They sent with the letter a banner from their club, to show their friendship and appreciation, and also a clipping from their German newspaper as well as a "happy dollar" for the club.

"WHO'S ON FIRST?" may well be the question when the fabulous "King and His Court" foursome takes on a celebrity team dominated by hockey players in a softball game to be held on Wednesday, Aug. 4, at 8:30 p.m. in Eisenhower Park, East Meadow. The usual antics by the famed "King", Eddie

Feigner, and his original team when they face the Celebrity All-Stars, will be preceded by an Outstanding Women's Softball Game between the Hicksville Motor Lodge A's and the Hill and Tree 76'ers, and musical entertainment will be provided by the Nassau County Police Department's "Dixie

Hicksville Couple Tells of Olympic Thrills In Montreal

By Martin A. Bursten

(Graphic Features Syndicate)

MONTREAL (GFS)—A Long Island couple, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kramer of Hicksville, interviewed by the press during the half-time intermission of a basketball game between Russia and Czechoslovakia, said that the "Olympic thrills surpass" anything they had ever experienced.

The Kramers said they "never dreamt" of reaching Canada for the 21st Olympiad but were suddenly catapulted into the quadrennial excitement when they won a Bicentennial Observance prize (a trip for two to Montreal and the games) from the Long Island National Bank.

A radiantly happy Lynn Kramer and her equally exuberant husband, detailed the "small miracle" that brought them to the Olympics, adding that a combination of fortuitous events "fell into place" for them.

With the airplane, hotel and Olympic events tickets in their hands they still needed time off from Mr. Kramer's job as a margin clerk in a New York brokerage firm, and someone to watch their two young daughters. When Mr. Kramer's employer gave them the green light and both grandmothers said they would move into the Kramer home to care for the children, they began to pack.

What was their greatest Olympic thrill?

"The performance of Roumania's gymnast Nadia Comaneci, who got five perfect scores and a gold medal!"

A press interviewer asked the Kramers how they compared Nadia's artistry with that of America's Jennifer Chandler who won the springboard diving gold medal.

The French-speaking Kramers (he is Belgian and she a former resident of France) agreed that both girls were "par excellence". However, the Kramers bubbled over with effervescent praise for 14-year-old Nadia's prowess, especially her breathtaking performance on the precarious four-inch-wide balance beam.

AT OLYMPICS: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kramer of Hicksville who, during the U.S. Bicentennial celebration at the Long Island National Bank last May won a trip to Montreal and the Olympic Games, receive a U.S.Olympic patch as a souvenir of their trip, from Sam Sloan (right) Executive Director of the N.Y. State Olympic Committee. They met on the basketball court following a game between Russia and Czechoslovakia. (Graphic News Photo).

The swimming-oriented Kramers had praise for America's John Naber (6-foot-six inches) who won four gold medals in the pool and shattered the two-minute barrier in the 200-meter backstroke event.

Mitch Kupchak, high-scoring basketballer from Brentwood; and the hard-hitting boxing lightweight Howard Davis from Glen Cove were their special interests, but they couldn't stay for the entire two weeks to learn the final results—which were indeed promising.

The fate of Soviet fencer Boris Onischenko, who was thrown out of the Olympic Village and Canada for using an electrically-wired epee, disturbed the Kramers, because "it proved the extent to which some athletes would go for a gold medal."

Would the Kramers go to the 1980 Olympic games in Moscow? "Definitely—if we can swing it financially," said Mrs. Kramer. Then, as an afterthought, she added: "Or if we win a prize again."

Program To Reform Real Property Tax System

by William D. Siegel

Ed. Note: Mr. Siegel, a Jericho resident, is a member of Koeppel, Sommer, Lesnick and Martone, P.C. Minerva attorneys who recently won a landmark real property tax assessment case against the County of Nassau requiring commercial property to be assessed at the same ratio as residential property. This article will appear in the Long Island section of the New York Times, Sunday, August 1.

The Nassau County property tax system is no worse — and perhaps better — than most in the State. As with all the systems, it is riddled with inequities, of which the following from the latest (1973) survey by the State Board of Equalization are but a few:

- homes in Westbury are assessed by the County Board of Assessors at an average of 12 percent of full market value, as compared to 23 percent for homes in Hewlett Bay Park

- the average home in the County is assessed at about 16 percent of full value, but some homes are assessed as low as 6.19 percent, and others as high as 36.07 percent

- commercial property in Lynbrook is assessed at an average rate of 33 percent, as compared to 11 percent in Bayville

- the average non-residential property in the County is assessed at 28 percent of full value with a range from five to 98 percent

Other glaring inequities also exist:

- the Levittown School District has almost no commercial property and a school tax rate of $20, while Manhasset with the Miracle Mile shopping area, has a $11.91 tax rate, and Glenwood Landing, with a $200,000,000 Lileco plant, has a $10.60 tax rate

- a tenant in an apartment with a rent of $300 per month, of which $100 is paid by his landlord for local property taxes, receives no income tax deduction for his indirect tax payment

This chaotic system gradually developed over 200 years. State law since 1788 has required that assessments be at 100 percent of full value and that assessors sign an oath that they assess at full value. But Judge Sol Wachtler of the State Court of Appeals stated in Hellerstein v. Town of Islip that this requirement "has been almost universally disregarded." Assessments, instead, are fixed at some — usually non-uniform — fraction of full value. This practice, he further wrote, "has been tolerated by the Legislature, criticized by the commentators and found by our own Court to involve a flagrant violation of the statute. Nevertheless, the practice has become so widespread and been so consistently followed that it has acquired an aura of assumed legality."

Fractional assessment is particularly insidious because it masks inequities. An owner of a $50,000 property with a $20,000 assessment does not complain because he thinks he is getting a break. But that break is illusory if, on the average, all other property in the assessing unit is assessed at a lower ratio of full value. Fractional assessment also encourages the prevalent practice of assessing commercial property at higher ratios than residential property. Industry is thus driven out of such especially high tax areas as Nassau County.

Nassau County was last reassessed in 1938. Current assessments ignore recent market trends and are based on 1939 construction costs. Small homes in general thus tend to be underassessed, while larger homes in low value areas such as Long Beach and Hempstead are overassessed.

Nassau County has three towns, two cities, 64 villages, 54 school districts and over 200 special districts, each of which levy taxes. In days long gone, tax rates were low and the vast majority of properties were residential. Few problems arose from this multitude of districts. But now regional facilities such as shopping centers and utility plants servicing vast areas pay most of their property taxes only to the small taxing units in which they are located. Other taxing units are bedroom communities with many children to educate and little commercial property to defray school expenses.

The Federal tax system creates additional inequities. Homeowners deduct property taxes which they directly pay, but tenants who indirectly pay such taxes cannot. These indirect taxes may total over 40 percent of their rents. Moreover, the deduction of property taxes is obviously more valuable to a high income taxpayer than to one in a lower bracket or one who takes the standard deduction.

Given a free hand to reform the property tax system, I would:

- cut it down to size by eliminating large expenses it was never designed to carry such as welfare, which is properly a Federal and State responsibility. The State should also dramatically increase school aid as required by recent high court decisions in New Jersey and California.

- eliminate fractional assessment by reassessing all property at full value as required by statute and the recent Court of Appeals decision in the Islip case. If nothing else is done, this will Florida and elsewhere, would increase the average homeowner's tax burden by about 15 percent.

- provide a homestead exemption of $10,000 for homeowners. Such an exemption, similar to those in effect in provide necessary tax relief in a non-regressive manner. A $40,000 home properly assessed at full value would receive a 25 percent exemption; a $100,000 home would only receive a 10 percent exemption.

- create a county-wide pool whereby taxes from regional facilities requiring few local government services are distributed to school districts on a weighted formula based on assessed valuation per student. The pool could consist of 75 percent of assessments of non-residential properties in excess of $1,000,000. Tax revenues from a Lileco plant or a major shopping center or the commercial facilities to be constructed in

Mitchel Field would thus benefit all County residents rather than those few fortunate enough to reside in school districts where these facilities accidentally located themselves.

- allow tenants to deduct from their taxable income either all of their pro-rata share of property taxes paid by their landlord or a flat 25 percent of their rent.

- eliminate the deduction system entirely for residential property owners and, instead, allow all taxpayers to take a tax credit of, say, 25 percent of property taxes paid.

Bicentennial

For a week, beginning May 17th, Dutch Lane School, Levittown Parkway, Hicksville, was transformed to Ye Olde Dutch Lane School in celebration of our country's Bicentennial birthday. It's principal, Robert E. Whearty became the Head Master. Children and teachers wore Early American costumes, and visitors were privileged to view a multitude of projects and crafts typical of Early America.

The week began with a flag-raising ceremony, the burial of a time capsule to be opened in the year 2026, and the planting of a tree dedicated to Mr. Henry Capuano, a teacher of Dutch Lane who passed away this year.

The week was filled with a great many activities, including an art show and a concert. Typical projects included an Early American Museum, a bicentennial play about Paul Revere, choral speaking, typical games played by colonial children, food made from authentic colonial recipes, folk dancing, apple dolls, samplers, 18th century inventions, all made by the children.

The culmination of the week's activities was Grandparents' Day, an annual event which was combined this year with Bicentennial Week. Certificates were presented to the oldest grandparent, the youngest, and the grandparent who traveled the greatest distance. What better way can children learn about people and their country's past?

Woodland's Trip

One hundred and thirty-two children in the fourth and fifth grades at Woodland Avenue School, accompanied by six teachers and 67 adult volunteers, took 5 buses to Philadelphia. Mr. Donald Skupinsky, Mr. Charles Buckel, Mr. Harry Mandel, fifth grade teachers; Miss Ruth Gloger, Mrs. Marjorie Giannelli and Mrs. Marion Starnes, 4th grade teachers, accompanied their classes and left Hicksville at 6:30 a.m., arriving in Philadelphia at 10:00 a.m.

They took a three-hour tour of Philadelphia sights including the Liberty Bell, Independence Hall, U.S. Mint, Betsy Ross House, Carpenter's Hall, etc. They soaked up our country's early history in the city that was the cradle of our country's independence.

After lunch they toured the world renowned Franklin Institute, a science and industry museum. The children enjoyed such activities as walking through a two-story "heart" and watching man make lightning and radio waves and many other wonderful exhibits.

Three buses left for Hicksville at 4:00 p.m., weary but elated from a delightful day of history and adventure.

SHRINER PARADE: (Left to right) District Court Judge Warren Doolittle, Oyster Bay Town Supervisor John W. Burke and Assistant to the Supervisor

Donald McLean take their place in the line of march of the Kismet Temple Bicentennial parade, which took place over the weekend in Hicksville. Town and community leaders paraded with Shriners from throughout Long Island, and later attended official ceremonies in honor of the Imperial Potentate, W.W. Bennett.

AT THE CONVENTION: TOB Supervisor John W. Burke (in the upper picture) extends his greetings to Nassau county American Legionnaires at the opening day ceremonies which took place over the weekend at the Host Post, Hicksville's Charles Wagner American Legion Post 421.

In the lower picture at the same Convention, Congressman Norman F. Lent praised the American Legion for preserving patriotism and pride in America. Lent spoke to the Legionnaires about the need to maintain an adequate defense, as a safeguard for world peace.

On Stage Bicentennial

The true spirit of '76 was never more expertly portrayed than by the trio on the stage of Woodland Avenue School on June 15th. Here students, parents and teachers were treated to "The American Triumph," a dramatic presentation of highlights from American History through use of skits, props and pantomime by Woodland Avenue students under the astute direction of Miss Marion Starnes.

The exciting and informative production featured scenes from true historical incidents such as the Boston Massacre, the Signing of the Declaration of Independence, the Boston Tea Party, the Story of Molly Pitcher, the Bill of Rights, Lincoln Pennies and a musical salute to the States and the Spirit of '76. Between scenes, entertainment was provided by four young ladies colorfully dressed in red, white and blue as "Pom Pom girls" doing patriotic cheers.

Thanks for this fine realistic production go to Mrs. Marjorie Giannelli, Mr. Don Skupinsky and a host of other participating teachers who combined their efforts and ideas to help the students exercise their creative talents.

Mr. Skupinsky's I.T. class arrived at 6:00 p.m. in Washington, D.C. They stayed overnight at a motel.

Bright and early the next morning they left to see our nation's capitol's wonders. They saw the Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial and the fifth grade class of Hicksville, N.Y. laid a special wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

These children had worked many months to earn the monies necessary for this trip. They thoroughly enjoyed the fruits of their labor.

Most Heart Attacks Can Be Prevented

A heart attack rarely is really "sudden" and without warning, states Stephen J. Gulotta, M.D., President of the American Heart Association-Nassau Chapter. It just may seem that way to the patient and members of the family. In all likelihood, coronary disease has been building over the years, helped along by the patient who has ignored the risk factors and failed to heed warning signs.

Risk factors are habits, physical conditions — are hereditary aspects which have been identified by research investigators as contributing to an increased risk of heart attack and stroke, explains Dr. Gulotta. Some of these factors — heredity, sex, age, race — cannot be changed. But people can help themselves by changing some of the other risk factors: by not smoking cigarettes, by controlling high blood pressure, eating foods low in saturated fats and cholesterol, controlling weight, getting regular daily exercise, and having regular medical checkups. The greatest improvements can result from simultaneously modifying all possible factors.

The Nassau Chapter of the American Heart Association, which services this County, is attempting to make everyone aware of these risk factors in order that they can protect themselves and their family. The Chapter stresses that good health habits begun in early childhood can help avert heart attack in later years.

The development of coronary artery disease, which can lead to heart attack, is best diagnosed through a physical examination that detects the various risks factors. While everyone should have an annual checkup, research studies suggest cardiac related examinations are particularly important for people with a family tendency toward heart disease.

Although a heart attack itself is sudden, it usually is the result of a slowly developing disease process of the coronary arteries. In the process, call atherosclerosis, the passageway through the arteries becomes roughened and narrowed by fatty deposits. When this happens, a blood clot may form and block the flow of blood to the part of the heart muscle supplied by the artery. The result is a heart attack.

There usually are warning signs of an impending heart attack. Recognizing these signs and acting promptly can mean the difference between life and death, Dr. Gulotta adds.

The usual warnings of heart attack are a prolonged, oppressive pain or unusual discomfort in the center of the chest, behind the breastbone. Pain may radiate to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw. Sweating may accompany the pain or discomfort. Nausea, vomiting and shortness of breath also may occur. Sometimes the symptoms may subside, then return. If you experience these warning signs of heart attack, seek emergency help at once. Others who are present should be trained to act promptly, and to make a victim more comfortable until help arrives.

For details about the risk factors in heart attack and the early warning signs, contact the Nassau Chapter of the American Heart Association at 365 Willis Avenue, Mineola, N.Y. 11501.

Urges Caution At Poolside

Seconds of inattention at the side of a swimming pool can be fatal for a young child, Harry Berglund, chairman of water safety of the Nassau County Red Cross Chapter, cautioned today.

Lack of adequate adult supervision and of fences and locked gates at pools were called the twin causes of deaths of young children in the water. The majority fell in or went in on purpose while adults were not looking on.

News accounts of the drownings of children in the four years-old and under category indicate that there is a disproportionate number in this age group in the total of water fatalities, some 7,000 or more a year, Mr. Berglund said.

A study of swimming pool deaths nationwide by the National Safety Council showed that 114 out of a total of 301 were in the under-five age group. Most of these were in home pools.

The remaining casualties occurred with either no fence, access through a space in the fence or under it, or an unlocked gate. Careful adult supervision could have forestalled many if not most of these deaths.

"The great increase in numbers of backyard pools nationwide and here in Nassau County is ample reason to make us aware of their hazards," Berglund said. He recommended that pool owners take a water safety course offered by the Red Cross Chapter. "Call 747-3500 for details," he said.

THE EEL THAT DIDN'T GET AWAY: and was caught last Sat., around noon, by Dolores Bauman of John St., in Plainview. The eel weighed 2 and 3/4 pounds, was 33 inches long and around its stomach measured 7 1/2 inches! It seems to have inherited the title of "the biggest eel ever caught in Oyster Bay Roosevelt Memorial Park."

The Coochie Row Boat and Bait Store in Oyster Bay told Miss Bauman that they had never seen a larger eel caught in these waters. Miss Bauman is an inspector for the James D. Chester Security Company of Port Washington. Her post is at the Mid Island Plaza. She is also the Mall Supervisor at the Mid Island Shopping Center and has been there for six years. She is also a member of the Jericho Auxiliary Police. She lives in Plainview with her aunt and her niece and nephew.

Hicksville Fire Report

BY EX-CAPT. O. W. MAGEE

During the period of July 20 thru 26 Hicksville Firemen answered 16 alarms. There were 6 fire class, 6 rescue calls and 3 malicious false alarms. The M. F. A.'s were sounded from:

Cliff Drive and Church St.
Cedar St. and Chestnut St.
Shady La. & Walnut La.

A faulty interior alarm caused a false alarm at the office building at 100 Duffy Ave.

Vamps Get 1st Hand Look into the Future

Hicksville Firemen, this past Sunday witnessed a demonstration by the Grumman Corp. on a new fire nozzle designed to let the firefighter on the end of the hose line have direct control of the water he needs to extinguish a fire. At present a good system of communication must be set up between the pump operator and the nozzleman. Sometimes this is difficult at a very big fire.

Part of the nozzle is a transmitter with a small antenna. By simply moving the transmitter setting the nozzleman can automatically start the flow of water after he is in position and shut it off when he is finished. Less water is trapped in the hose line, enabling the fireman to move easier through a burning building.

The unit can be installed on any pumper as can be expected. This device is very expensive approx $12,000.00. While no decision has been made on the purchase of this equipment local firemen requested the demonstration to keep up with the latest advances in fire fighting. Hicksville firemen have always kept alert for new equipment to help provide residents with the best protection.

The new Grumman fire nozzle called an Automated Flow Control Device is shown here on running board.

A RETIRED N.Y. City Pumper has been fitted out to house the latest advance in water pressure control. Hicksville Vamps. Shown here are being briefed on its operation.

Just recently the rescue squad, with its brand new resuscitator, saved a 13 year old girl from drowning. The new device is far superior to anything else on the market. Vamps are hoping all the present resuscitators in use can be converted to this type. Each of the 6 Engine Companies plus the rescue units and chiefs cars are equipped with resuscitators to better serve the district.

Vamp Charged In False Alarm

By Ex-Capt. Owen Magee

An eye witness provided firemen and police with information that led to the arrest of two Hicksville youths on a charge of turning in a malicious false alarm in Hicksville on July 18. One of the youths caught is a probationary fireman with the Hicksville Fire Department.

Robert A. Rodecker, 19 of Hicksville and William J. Murphy 16, also of Hicksville were allegedly observed by a passing motorist around 10:30 PM Sunday July 18 at a fire alarm box at Border St. and McAllister St. The witness saw the youths get into a red Nova, turn on a blue dome light and proceed to fire station

No. one on Marie St. The witness followed and notified a Fire Dept. Lieutenant.

Three pieces of apparatus and 30 men, Rodecker among them, responded to the alarm. No fire was found upon arrival. The County Police Dept. was notified. Det. Anthony Tropicand of the Police Arson Squad, with the help of Fire Inspector James Hall made the arrest. Both youths were arraigned in District Court in Mineola.

Rodecker, would have completed his probation period in September. Firemen interviewed, were, of course sorry to see a fireman arrested but praised the witness for getting involved to help firemen. Just recently another witness helped police catch an arson suspect. The Vamps feel there are enough alarms in Hicksville now without having fires set on purpose or false alarms sounded. For years now, the false alarm problem has gotten worse as each year passed. Already this year there have been over 100 malicious false alarms. False alarms are your problem too. If you see anyone suspicious by a fire alarm box please notify the Police - you could save a citizen or a Fireman's life.

Israeli Night

With song, dance, singing comedy and even the violin, Israeli Night will honor America's 200th birthday and feature a variety show of ethnic entertainment at Eisenhower Park's Lakeside Theatre on Monday night, August 9th at 8:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, the revue includes actor-singer Bruce Adler; singers Norman Atkins, Gail Malmuth and Mary Wakefield; the Ayalons, a quartet of singing pranksters; violinist Sascha Tormas and an Israeli Folk Dance Ensemble.

JULY 4TH BLOCK PARTY: July 4, 1976, will not only be the date remembered for celebrating our country's 200th year of freedom and independence, but, for the families of East Gate in Plainview, it will also be remembered for it's first annual day-long block party.

Organized by the Agostina and Ancona families, the party, which ran from 11:00 A.M. until 11:00 P.M., featured a bicentennial play put on by East Gate's younger residents. Relay races, tug of war, shuffle board, sack races, ping pong and other games were enjoyed throughout the day as well as the seemingly endless supply of food!

As these pictures show, a great time was had by all! (Photographs by Robert Berkowitz).
