Oct 9 -- 10 Town To Co-Sponsor Gregory Museum Fall Festival

Artists, craftsmen, garden club members and gem and mineral hobbyists will have an opportunity to meet, exchange ideas and exhibit their creative talents at the Gregory Earth Science Museum's annual Fall Festival.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark this week announced that the festival, entitled "A Harvest of Talents," will be held on Saturday and Sunday, October 9 and 10, from 9 AM until dusk. Co-sponsored by the Town's Cultural and Performing Arts Division (CAPA) of the Department of Community Services, the festival will be held at the Museum, Heitz Place, Hicksville. Rain dates will be Saturday and Sunday, October 16 and 17.

Clark noted that the exhibit will be organized into four categories: Artists, Craftsmen, Flowers and Plants, and Gems and Minerals.

ARTISTS must enter original works in oil and acrylic, watercolor, graphics and mixed media or sculpture. Two artists may share one booth.

CRAFTSMEN must enter original hand crafted work by craftsmen. No imports, copies, antiques, manufactured items, casts or green-ware will be accepted.

FLOWERS and PLANTS is open to individuals and garden clubs who wish to exhibit fresh or dried flower creations. No artificial flowers are permitted.

GEMS and MINERALS will include fine specimens of rocks and creations crafted from gems or minerals. No synthetic gems or minerals will be allowed.

Registration forms for "A Harvest of Talent" may be obtained by calling the Gregory Museum at 822-7505. They should be returned to the Museum, along with a check for $15 to cover the registration fee, as soon as possible to insure space for the event.

Sale of exhibits will be permitted and no commission will be charged by the Museum.

Book Sale

The Friends of the Hicksville Public Library annual used book sale will be held Saturday September 11 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The sale will continue on Monday for as long as the book supply lasts.

The proceeds of this sale will be added to the "Lift for the Handicapped Fund" began by the Friends two years ago. The fund is toward the installation of equipment to make the library more accessible for those of the community that have some sort of a disability.

Included in the sale will be children's books as well as adult fiction, non-fiction, records, reference books, cookbooks, art books, travel books, how-to-do-it books, etc. The books are from our regular collection that are either a little dated in content or where the number of copies needed now is not as great as when they were bought. Also in the books for sale are the many donations we get every year that we cannot include in our collection.

Come early for the best selection and bring your own bags.

Boy Scouts Sell Harkness

The Nassau County Council, Boy Scouts of America, has sold 27 acres of property at the southeast corner of Shelter Rock and 1 U Willets Roads in North Hempstead to Pequa Investment Service Corporation for a total sale price of $2,200,000 dollars.

The Council President, Stanley M. Blauser, Jr., stated that the Council has retained 4 acres for its Headquarters and Service Center.

The money realized from the sale of the property will allow the council to pay off its debt of approximately $1,100,000 dollars.

Part of the additional monies will be allocated for the rehabilitation and further development of the Council's camp properties on Long Island and in upstate New York. The balance will be invested and the income used to make better Scouting available to more young people in Nassau County.

The Council Committee negotiating the land sale, in addition to President Blauser, consisted of Vice President and Properties Committee Chairman Harold D. Shapiro and Council Executive Charles H. Greenman.

Irish Police Choir

As a tribute to the nation's Bicentennial celebration, the Irish Police Choir, 75 men strong, under the musical direction of Maureen Reilly, will present nine concerts in the United States, with the first one set for the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum in Uniondale, on Friday, Oct. 1, at 8 p.m.

The Long Island performance is sponsored by the International Police Association (IPA), U.S. Section, Long Island Region No. 5.

The evening's program planned by the Choir who "copped" the European championship in Chester, Wales, last May, will include a wide variety of songs, spiced by solos, music by the 25-piece Traditional Irish Music Association band and the Nassau County Police Pipe Band. After being hosted overnight by members of the local IPA group, the Irish Choir will go on tour, starting with Iona College in New Rochelle and continuing to points north, south, east and west before they depart from Boston on Oct. 18.

Tickets to the Coliseum concert may be purchased through Ticketron or at the box office. Admission is $6 for adults and $3 for boys and girls through age 16.

How Much Does Your Car Pollute The Air?

Nassau County automobile owners and drivers may have their vehicles tested for air pollution levels - free of charge and with no obligation - during the last two weeks of September.

The tests will be given by the Nassau County Department of Health at two locations, in cooperation with the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation according to Dr. John J. Dowling, Health Department Commissioner.

"Even if your car does not emit smoke," Dr. Dowling observed, "it may be wasting precious gasoline or polluting the air." He suggested that motorists take advantage of the voluntary program.

"More than 80 per cent of the pollutants in the air are caused by motor vehicles," the Commissioner said. At least half of these can be corrected by having the vehicle properly tuned or timed. A "tune-up," he added, "would solve about 90 per cent of the air pollution problems."

A diagnostic analysis of each vehicle will be given between 10 A.M. and 4 P.M. on Sept. 14, 15 and 16 in the Times Square Shopping Center at Hempstead Turnpike and Gardiners Avenue in Levittown. The second test will be given Sept. 21, 22 and 23 in the parking facility at Brewster Street and Highland Road in Glen Cove from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M.

In addition to assisting the drivers obtain better efficiency from their vehicles, Dr. Dowling said, "it will make motorists more aware of their personal responsibility in preserving our air resources."

Old Bethpage Village To Close On Mondays

The Old Bethpage village restoration will be closed on Mondays beginning Sept. 13, with the exception of Oct. 11, the last day of the Long Island Fair.

Richard A. Fitch, Commissioner of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, made the announcement, citing budgetary reasons for the resumption of the Monday closings that were suspended during the summer months.

Old Bethpage, a restored mid-19th century working farm, is operated by the Recreation Department's Museum Division. It is located on Round Swamp Road, near Exit 43 of the Long Island Expressway. Admission is $1.75 for adults and $1.25 for children through age 17 who are Nassau County residents. Non-residents pay $2.25 and $1.50 respectively.

The Royal Lippizzan Stallion Show

Tickets are on sale at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum for the 1976 edition of "The Wonderful World of Horses" featuring the Royal Lippizzan Stallion Show for Saturday and Sunday, September 18 and 19. The performances are set at 8 p.m. on Saturday and 2:30 p.m. on Sunday.

The equine extravaganza will display over thirty horses in the two hour production which will include more than twenty Lippizzans as well as a variety of other show horses. A complete and authentic program of Lippizzan movements will be presented. Bred in the 16th century for the use of the Hapsburgs, the royal family of Austria, the Lippizzans are the world's only living testimony to the Renaissance. They have trained for 400 years in the air of the haute école.

Talented riders, traditional and colorful costumes, dramatic lighting effects, stirring music and spectacular new acts among whom are Gaylord Maynard, Edith Evans and David Jay will appeal to both adult and child alike.

The smartly mounted show that combines the dash of spectacular horsemanship with the grace of unconstrained horses exudes irresistible magnetism for all.

Producer Gary Lashinsky painstakingly emphasizes great entertainment values while maintaining the rigorous demand of dressage. THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF HORSES FEATURING THE ROYAL LIPPIZZAN STALLION SHOW is unprecedented in the world of entertainment.

Ticket prices are $7, 6, 5 & 4. Children 12 and under are half price Sunday. Group rates are available.

AAA Fall Safety Campaign

Presentation of the first "School's Open - Drive Carefully" poster to County Executive Ralph G. Caso on Wednesday, September 1st, at 10:00 a.m., marked the opening of the Automobile Club of New York's 31st annual fall traffic safety campaign in Nassau County.

The black and orange poster was presented to Mr. Caso and Police Commissioner Daniel Guido by Lewis B. Scott, vice-president of the Automobile Club in a ceremony at the County Executive Building in Mineola.

Over this weekend, more than 4,000 posters were placed on utility and street poles in Nassau County by police and school officials. The posters, reminding motorists to use added caution during the school reopening period, will remain on display at major street intersections and school crossings during September and October.

An additional reminder to motorists in the New York metropolitan area will be provided by the AAA in the form of more than 140,000 bumper strips bearing the safety message. With the help of local Boy Scouts, they will be distributed for use on buses, trucks, official cars and passenger vehicles.

Starting with the first day of school, members of the AAA sponsored School Safety Patrols will report for duty at school crossings to insure the safety of local school children by assisting police and school crossing guards.

The AAA campaign was begun in 1946. Since then, traffic fatalities among children of elementary school age have been sharply reduced. During the same period, motor vehicle registrations have increased greatly and there also has been a large increase in the school enrollment.

ENERGY: Commissioner Francis E. O'Connor of the Nassau County Department of General Services, left, takes a spin on a bike outfitted with a battery pack called "Pedalpower", an invention that allows a cyclist to cruise at 18 miles an hour without pedalling. Riding with O'Connor is Richard Rocchio, Director of the department's Bureau of Energy Resources. Pedalpower manufactured by General Engines Co. of New Jersey, can last 25 miles without a recharge.

It will be on display at Nassau County's "Energy Expo '76" from September 30 to October 3, at Nassau Beach in Lido. The show, which will include more than 40 exhibits in the energy field, will be open to the public free of charge.

Dear Friends...

If you had any damage due to Hurricane Belle and have any questions regarding how these expenses should be handled you may phone 212-989-3871. You may call collect. Those who are at this number ready to answer your questions are representatives of the IRS, the Small Business Administration, and the American Insurance Association.

Tuesday, Sept 14 is Primary Election day, from noon until 9 p.m. at your local polling place. Don't forget this important duty of each citizen who is registered as a member of a political party.

And, speaking of the coming elections...if you aren't registered, why not do so now in Mineola? Or, if you want to wait until registration comes to your local polling place, the dates are Sat., Oct. 2nd, from 1 to 9 p.m. and Tues., Oct. 5 from noon to 9 p.m. This is one country in this crazy mixed-up world, where we still have power to change things. If every American who has this right would only register and then take the trouble to vote, what an inspiring happening this would be...not only that, it would prove once and for all that the power is still where it belongs...with the voters.

One of the most serious forms of arthritis is primarily a disease of women, reports the New York Arthritis Foundation. Four out of five victims of a form of arthritis called systemic lupus erythematosus or SLE are women, usually stricken in the prime of life.

Lupus is a form of arthritis that attacks the connective tissue. It can inflame, change and damage organs throughout the body, notably the kidneys, heart and lungs. In addition, most patients suffer from inflammation and pain in the joints.

Once considered fatal at worst or a chronic, lifetime disease at best, lupus patients are now getting new hope from a combination of drugs and close monitoring of patients with modern laboratory methods.

Those interested in additional information about the disease may write for a free copy of "SLE." This pamphlet is available from the Long Island Arthritis Foundation, 200 Garden City Plaza, Garden City, N.Y. 11530, telephone 747-1811.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Remember to drive carefully, for our school children are once more traveling to and from that "not so little and probably not red" schoolhouse.

Sincerely,
SHEILA

Caso On Committee

Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso has been appointed to serve on a Medicaid Task Force being set up by the National Association of Counties (NACo) to work for reform of the present system.

Caso, a vocal critic of the federal and state mandated Medicaid program, called it "one of the most important challenges that will face the new Congress next year."

He pointed out that Medicaid expenditures nationwide rose from $4.9 billion in 1970 to $14.7 billion today.

"We already know that the present system is on the verge of bankrupting county governments that are forced to pay part of the bill out of property tax revenues," he declared. "At the rate expenditures are growing, it won't be long before the states and even the federal government will run out of money."

The NACo Medicaid Task Force, which will be chaired by San Diego County Supervisor Jack Walsh, will hold its first meeting Sept. 27 at NACo headquarters, 1735 New York Ave. NW, Washington, D.C.

Free Boating Course

A free boating course given by the Jones Beach Power Squadron will begin on Sept. 13. Classes will be held at Ziegler's Restaurant, 8 Alhambra Road in Massapequa.

The 12 week comprehensive course is open to the general public and will commence at 8 P.M.

Reservations for the free course can be made by calling either 221-4148 or 221-0797.

To the Editor:
Taxes. Nobody likes paying them. Nobody likes voting for them. So why do we have them?

Like it or not, taxes are what keep the wheels turning. Taxes pay for the schools that teach our children, the policemen and firemen who protect our homes and neighborhoods, the men and equipment who pick up our garbage.

But why are taxes so high? Or are they so high?

The charge that Nassau County's taxes are the highest in the nation is an old refrain that we hear during every political campaign. If you add up all the separate property taxes that a Nassau County homeowner pays, that may be true, although I have never seen any data to prove it. But the people who hurl the charge every year fail to break the total tax bill down into its individual parts.

About 50 per cent of the average homeowner's total tax bill goes to his school district. Another quarter goes to his town, city or village. And another quarter goes to the county. Nassau County taxes—that is, the part collected by the county itself—are not the highest in the nation by any means. In fact, our county property tax rate has been reduced in four out of the past five years.

Of course, knowing who is collecting taxes doesn't make paying them any less painful. Whether it's going to your school, town village, city or county, it's all coming out of your pocket.

That is why Nassau County had tried so hard to hold down its share of your taxes. If we had the final say, they would be even lower. The trouble is that Nassau County has to take orders from the state. State laws tell us how much we must spend on programs like welfare and Medicaid, for example, which all by themselves gave us an $18.3 million deficit in 1975 and added $30.5 million to our 1976 budget.

Anyone who has taken the time to examine Nassau County's budget carefully knows that our fiscal problems do not begin in Mineola. They begin in Albany. And that is where we have to start solving them.

To the Editor:
There appears to be misunderstanding in some quarters regarding the Local Law on "Las Vegas Nights" adopted by the Town Board at its August 24th meeting.

At that time, the Board took the unusual step of acting on the proposed Local Law following a public hearing held the same day. This was done in order to meet the deadline for placing a referendum concerning the proposal on the ballot for Election Day, November 2nd.

The Town Board's action, therefore, provides the opportunity for the Town's voters to formally decide, by their vote on the referendum, whether or not to allow the operation of the so-called "Las Vegas Nights" within the Town. If approved by a majority of the voters on Election Day, the Local Law permitting certain games of chance to be conducted by qualified organizations for fund-raising purposes will go into effect on January 1, 1977.

The proposal incorporates strict regulations to safeguard the public against infringement by unscrupulous persons or organizations, assures the proper conduct of the games and specifies the disposition of net proceeds. It is patterned after a model law developed by the State as a result of legislation passed during the recent session of the Legislature and signed into law by the Governor.

A license to conduct such games would be issued by the Town Clerk to qualified organizations such as religious, charitable, veterans, educational, service organizations and volunteer fire companies. The proposed law carefully defines the types of games of chance permitted and specifically excludes slot machines, bookmaking, policy or numbers games.

Full disclosure of receipts and expenses would be made to the Town Clerk within seven days of the activity, and a fee of 5 per cent of the net proceeds would be collected by the Town Clerk to defray incurred costs. The Town would also be empowered to make on-site inspections during each licensed period, and the Town Clerk and the State Racing and Wagering Board would have the right to temporarily suspend any license issued by the Town Clerk, pending a hearing.

A copy of the proposed Local Law is available for inspection in the Town Clerk's office, Town Hall, Mondays through Fridays during regular business hours.

Urge Voters To Be Informed

Are you confused about the Presidential election?

"Campaign rhetoric makes it difficult for many of us to clearly understand many of the major issues of a national election," said Nathan E. Bernstein, president of the Long Island Board of Realtors.

"The only way a citizen can make a meaningful decision is to become fully involved in the political system. That means he or she should read the daily newspaper accounts, watch the televised speeches, listen to the expert analysis on radio programs, read the detailed interpretations by the national news publications, and personally attend political rallies. Only by being completely informed on the issues and the candidates' positions on issues, can a citizen eliminate some of the unnecessary confusion prevalent in a presidential election year.

"Too many voters make a decision in the voting booth on election day," he said, "on the basis of inadequate or faulty information about a candidate and what the candidate stands for."

"The 500,000 members of the National Association of Realtors know how confusing a Presidential election, and other elections, can be," he said. "We have launched a Political Affairs Month for September during which we encourage every member of the Association and his or her family to become politically involved on an on-going basis."

"That is the historic American heritage, the freedom to vote for a candidate based on our awareness of what that candidate stands for. We want to protect that priceless right to vote in free election," concluded President Bernstein.

September Garden Chores

1. Spray with a miticide to control mites on hemlock and spruce.
 2. Continue spraying roses on a weekly basis for insect and disease control.
 3. Now is a good time to fertilize your lawn.
 4. Sow grass seed on a soil bed that was prepared and fumigated in August.
 5. Dig gladiolus corms when they have sufficiently matured. Allow to dry and remove foliage. Store over winter in bags with free air circulation.
 6. Divide and plant many early-blooming perennials this month, especially if separation has not been done in 3-5 years.
 7. If your soil has not been tested for pH in the last three years, do so now.
 8. Bring in your houseplants that have been outdoors all summer, check for insects and prune. Repot as necessary.
 9. Plant spring-flowering bulbs now through November.
 10. As leaves start falling, put them on a compost pile. The resulting leafmold is excellent for soil improvement and potting.
 11. Plant or transplant evergreens (narrow-leaved and broad-leaved) this month. Soak immediately after planting.
 12. Mulch newly planted evergreens.

Tips On Jade Plant

Jade plant is a particular favorite with house plant gardeners because it responds well when the growing conditions are right: full sun, sandy soil and just enough water ... but when the jade plant does not grow indoors successfully, the major fault is watering, overdoing it. Another fault could be not enough sun. Let the soil dry out completely between waterings. Gradually increase water, September through February. Decrease water starting in March.

CBS News Charged

On Sept. 8, The American Security Council Education Foundation filed a complaint before the Federal Communications Commission charging CBS-TV News with massive and continuing violations of the FCC's Fairness Doctrine in reporting national security viewpoints.

The complaint was based on the findings of a study covering thirty-seven months of CBS-TV News Programming.

This continuing study found that CBS-TV had almost totally blanketed out the most important national security views of a majority of the American people.

For example, it found that the viewpoint that the United States should be militarily superior to the Soviet Union was almost totally ignored - only one mention was found in all the programs analyzed, although substantial coverage was given to other viewpoints.

Yet, in 1975 the Opinion Research Corporation found that over three-fourths of the American people (76 percent) were for U.S. military superiority over the Soviet Union.

Hearings Set On County Budget

Nassau County will hold departmental budget hearings, open to the public, on Sept. 14, 15, 16 and 17, County Executive Ralph G. Caso announced today.

"In an effort to make the general public more aware of the complex process of budget preparation, we have decided to open these meetings for public observation," Caso said.

Historically, these sessions, which are preliminary to the county executive's final budget submission in November, have been conducted solely between county budget officials and department heads.

"With this new procedure the public will be able to observe the manner in which each department presents its budget request and justifies proposed expenditures. Members of the public who attend the sessions will not take part in the dialogue but will be encouraged to submit appropriate questions, comments and recommendations in writing," Caso said.

On each of the four days of hearings there will be a morning session running from 9:30 a.m. to noon and an afternoon session running from 1 to 4:30 p.m. The hearings will be held in the County Attorney's Conference Room on the second floor of the County Executive Building, 1 West St., Mineola.

County Assessment Roll Released

The 1977 Nassau County Assessment Roll figures released today indicate an increase in the county's taxable assessed valuation of $16,920,192 from $3,444,352,533 last year to $3,461,472,725 reflecting a 0.49 per cent rise according to Abe Seldin, chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors.

"This minimal increase in the taxable assessed valuation is a result of the maturation of the county and a slowed construction industry," stated Seldin. "We are, however, optimistic for the future since there has been an increase in the number of building permits issued within the county in the past five months."

The negative factors affecting the 1977 county assessment roll are identical to those which affected the 1976-77 school assessment roll released last month.

1) Court ordered decreases in assessment coupled with reductions due to past economic conditions. 2) A minimal amount of construction in new buildings or improvements. 3) Loss of special franchise assessments caused by a decrease in the State

Equalization Rate (the ratio of assessed valuation to market value). Franchise assessments, determined by the State of New York, are those levied upon property and equipment of public utilities, such as poles and wires, which utilize public roads, right-of-ways, and cross public property.

The following is a summary of the data contained in the 1977 county assessment roll:

The taxable valuation of Hempstead Town for 1977 is $1,730,572,517 reflecting an increase over last year of $5,077,253 or 0.29 per cent; North Hempstead Town valuation is $761,245,695 an increase of $5,013,803 or 0.66 per cent; Oyster Bay Town valuation is $829,532,767 an increase of $7,287,202 or 0.89 per cent; the City of Glen Cove valuation is $63,955,495 an increase of $267,321 or 0.42 per cent. Only the City of Long Beach registered a decrease in taxable valuation for a total assessment of $76,166,251. The reduction amounted to $725,387 or -0.94 per cent.

Veterans Exemptions - Under New York State Law veterans are eligible for a property tax exemption providing they meet certain qualifications. The exemption is based on the amount of benefit funds received by a veteran and used to purchase or improve real property up to a maximum of $5,000. It applies to state, county, town and highway taxes but not to special or school district levies.

The total number of veterans receiving a property tax exemption increased 894 for the 1977 assessment roll for a total of 83,991. 3,214 new exemptions were granted while 2,320 exemptions were removed from the roll due to sales of property. Supplemental applications, increasing individual exemptions, totaled 3,126. In total assessed valuation, veterans exemptions increased $3,065,930 or 1.93 per cent for a total of $161,676,145. Last year (1976 roll) there was a total increase of 782 veterans for an increase in assessed valuation of $3,090,635 or 1.96 per cent.

The Assessment Department's Taxpayer Information Bureau will make available to the public copies of the 27 page assessment summary through the research-reference sections of local libraries throughout the county.

Town Report On Revenue

In compliance with the State and Local Assistance Act of 1972, Oyster Bay Town Supervisor John W. Burke will file a report with the Office of Revenue Sharing indicating the actual use of federal revenue sharing funds received by the Town for the period July 1, 1975 - June 30, 1976.

State School Boards Association

"Action is needed to protect the real property tax", said John J. Woods, president of the New York State School Boards Association. "The reform of the present method of financing of the welfare system is needed to forestall continued drastic real property tax increases. New York State counties are rapidly being driven to the brink of their constitutional tax limits and could ultimately be bankrupted by state-mandated programs", Mr. Woods said.

President Woods, at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the NYSSBA in Albany this week, called upon all school boards in the state to take action on this critical matter. "We must urge the Governor and the Legislature to protect the real property tax base which presently provides nearly 60 percent of all public school costs", he said.

"Because of the gravity of this situation", Mr. Woods noted, "the directors of the New York State School Boards Association moved to adopt the following resolution":

"RESOLVED, that the New York State School Boards Association call upon the Governor and the Legislature to take action to institute reform of the present method of financing of the welfare system to forestall drastic real property tax increases that are having and will have an increasing deleterious effect on the financing of all local governments, including school districts."

"We are coordinating our efforts with the New York State Association of Counties, as well as the Association of Towns and Conference of Mayors. We urge all units of local government to work together to solve this serious common problem", said Mr. Woods.

Labor Day Weekend At The Plaza

Mid Island Plaza's customers and neighbors launched Labor Day celebrations with a fun-filled weekend, beginning on Thursday.

Alan Milberg, author of "Street Games", published by McGraw-Hill, entertained youngsters and adults on Thursday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. playing everything from Skip Rope and Hopscotch to Tug-of-War and Card Flipping.

For the baseball enthusiasts, the mall invited sports writer, Norman MacLean, author of the book "Casey Stengel", published by Drake Publishing Co.

On Thursday night, the Gregory Museum joined the mall and Sheriff Michael P. Senuk of Nassau County in honoring George Savalas, Kojak's TV sidekick, Sgt. Stavros, Mr. Mineola; his brother Ted now resides in Hicksville; and his mother lives in Garden City. In George Savalas' honor, a Greek night was held on the mall with Greek wine tasting, dancing by the Nikitakis dance team and dancer Ayesha. Mr. Savalas introduced his new Greek record album and the program was climaxed when Sheriff Senuk made Sgt. Stavros an honorary Deputy Sheriff of Nassau County.

Friday's events on the mall included WMCA's Sports Director, John Sterling interviewing N.Y. Nets Coach, Kevin Loughery. On Saturday there were more "Street Games" and WNBC-TV's Oscar Brand, gave a concert of folk songs in keeping with the Spirit of '76.

The mall officially inaugurated its Sunday opening and the stores conducted their Labor Day sales through Monday.

New Credit Account At European-American

European-American Bank has just introduced a new consumer service, "The Credit Account," which is a pure line of credit for up to $10,000, much like the credit lines businessmen maintain with banks.

"The Credit Account," which costs nothing until used, is cheaper than most installment loans. Its annual percentage rate of 12.66 is lower than most personal loan and credit card rates and includes life insurance.

Also, while personal loans call for a new application with each loan, consumers apply for "The Credit Account" only once. After that, they can write checks against their established credit at any time.

Consumers can apply for "The Credit Account" at European-American Bank branches throughout the Long Island - New York City area, or by calling (516) 248-7020 or (212) 895-3404.

Young Mothers Groups Meet At No. Shore

For the fifth consecutive year, North Shore Child Guidance Center will offer a 10-Week discussion group directed at young mothers with infants (birth to three years). Mrs. Ruth Blank, Coordinator of Group Services, stated that due to the overwhelming demand, two groups will be formed this fall.

While mothers are in the group session discussing such concerns as the developmental tasks of the infant, as well as their role as women, wife and mother, the infants will be in the nursery next door attended to by a staff member as well as a group of volunteers.

The first group will begin on Thursday morning, October 7, 1978 from 10:00 A.M. to 11:30

A.M. The meetings will be held at the Church of Our Saviour, Lutheran, 1901 Northern Boulevard, Manhasset (opposite B. Altman & Co.).

The second group is slated to start on Tuesday morning, October 26th from 10:00 A.M. to 11:30 A.M. in Westbury. Fees are moderate so no one need be excluded.

Early registration is recommended since groups are limited in size. This particular program has proved to be one of the most popular groups offered by North Shore Child Guidance Center, so plan on registering early. For registration or further information, please contact Mrs. Mollie Oliphant, Registrar, at 627-6671.

Builders Training Course

The 30th session of the Builders Training Course sponsored by the Long Island Builders Institute will get under way Tuesday, October 12.

The Builders Training Course is a comprehensive lecture series for laymen, builders, contractors, appraisers, architects, engineers, estimators, bankers, real estate brokers, attorneys, fire adjusters, etc. Described as "the only program of its kind" and "structured to provide detailed information on every phase of the residential building industry," the Course encompasses 35 sessions of 3 hours each, for a total of 105 hours, plus a field trip. The sessions are held Tuesday and Thursday evenings, starting October 12, 1976 and continuing until March, 1977.

Assuming the directorship of the course for the 19th consecutive year is Leslie L. Lowey, P.E., a custom builder and a housing consultant.

The course carries a fee of $175.

with an approximate additional charge of $40 for textbooks and other material retained by the students. The registration fee also includes a "student membership" in the Institute, entitling registrants to receive the LIBI monthly magazine, newsletters, bulletins and other information available to members.

The fee for the course is accepted as an income tax deduction allowable for expenses of education "undertaken to maintain and improve professional skills."

Brochures, which include a complete outline of the course and a list of participating lecturers, all of whom are either building-developers or recognized experts in a wide variety of activities collateral to the building industry, are available upon request by writing to LIBI, 425 Broad Hollow Road, Melville, New York 11746 or calling 694-7810.

Sunrise Semester Resumes

"Sunrise Semester" begins its 19th year this fall with two new televised college credit courses, the first exploring the impact of the media and other communications technology on modern society and the second analyzing the pervasive influence of contemporary French novelists and dramatists on Western literature.

Produced by New York University, in association with WCBS-TV (Channel 2) in New York City, this Emmy-Award winning series is telecast nationally by the CBS Television Network. The University's participation is supported, in part, by the William Randolph Hearst Foundation. Each episode can be seen in the greater New York Tri-State area on WCBS-TV from 6:30 to 7:00 A.M. Viewers in other parts of the country should consult their local CBS Television Network station for correct times.

"Sunrise Semester" is produced for NYU under the supervision of Myron Price and co-produced Hope Chasin, and is directed for WCBS-TV by Roy Allen. Tuition for each 15-week course is $250. Qualified applicants can receive three points of graduate credit for "Communication: The Invisible Environment" (E 38.2025) and four credits toward an undergraduate degree for "The Novel and Theater of Contemporary France" (V 45.0834). Students living in the greater New York area can register at New York University for both courses. Others should contact their local college to find out if that institution has established a credit system for "Sunrise Semester." Only the undergraduate course is available outside New York University.

A repeat radio presentation of the entire series with the title "Sunset Semester" is broadcast that same evening in the New York City area from 7:30 to 8:00 P.M. weekdays by WNYU-FM (89.1 MHz) Stereo. (The Saturday morning television session airs on radio Mondays from 8 to 8:30

Prisoner Reform Bill OK'd

A bill striking down over 125 legal restrictions prohibiting reformed convicts from engaging in a cross section of job fields has been signed into law.

The bill's sponsor, State Senator Ralph J. Marino, Chairman of the Committee on Crime and Correction, hailed the new law as "the most important step ever taken to free reformed ex-offenders from life-long punishment. Without this law, the state's purported goal of rehabilitation has been a mockery. Over $200 million is invested in rehabilitation programs every year. Now we can put our money and ideals into action by giving offenders the chance to meet the goals we have set for them."

Under the law which takes effect January 1, 1977, ex-offenders cannot be denied a job or a license if it has been more than five years since they were released from penal supervision for a serious felony conviction, including imprisonment, probation and parole. For lesser felonies, the waiting period is three years, and for misdemeanors one year.

At the end of the period, the Board of Parole may issue a certificate of good conduct after being satisfied by evidence of the candidate's reform and integrity. The certificate will bestow protections against discrimination from public and private employment or licensing rights.

Restrictions spelled out in the law include a lifetime prohibition against bearing weapons, working in law enforcement agencies, where there is a direct relationship between the previous crime and the employment sought, or an unreasonable risk to property or public safety.

The Board may initially grant partial relief, advancing the candidate to full relief as it is satisfied with the ex-offenders performance.
