These projects would be basically Propositions 2 and 3 of the Referendum that citizens will be voting upon on December 15th.

In commenting upon these applications, Dr. Hill stated, "While these applications may not be approved, either locally or Federally, Hicksville citizens cannot receive the funding benefits unless the papers are filed. Hence the effort may be very worthwhile in the long run."

Hicksville Public Library Is Fifty Years Old

By Kenneth S. Barnes, Library Director

The Hicksville Public Library observed its 50th anniversary with a two day program November 19th and 21st. The program featured a slide presentation of "Old Hicksville", a concert by Frank Warner and appearances by County Executive Ralph Caso and Oyster Bay Councilman Thomas Clark. Citations were presented to the library by Supervisor Caso and Mr. Clark congratulating the library on its development since 1926. Hundreds of community residents attended one or both of the programs, and we were especially pleased to see so many long-time residents, many of whom had been interviewed for the library oral history program. Copies of the taped interviews with residents who knew Hicksville "when" were presented to the participants and are also available in the library for research use.

A popular feature of the program was reminiscences by Mr. Frank Chlumsky, Mr. Leon J. Galloway and Mr. Henry Schnepf.

A public institution that celebrates its 50th anniversary should be able to point to accomplishments. We feel the Hicksville Public Library has grown sufficiently to support community needs. The quality of the book collection and the variety of services offered are comparable with any library in New York State in a similar population range. Obviously there could have been little progress made without community support and the efforts of the Library Board. Building referenda were proposed and approved at critical times of need and budgets supported. Presently the library is costing most homeowners less than $25.00 per annum. We feel this is consistent with our goal of efficiency and economy.

On December 15th the library will request permission of the taxpayers to apply for a federal grant under the recently enacted Public Works Employment Act of 1976. We are requesting $150,000.00 from the government for the removal of architectural barriers to insure our handicapped citizens complete accessibility to their library. The proposal calls for modification of the building including the installation of elevators and ramps so that the handicapped can reach the children's library, the periodical room and the auditorium which are located in the lower level. Toilet facilities and the public telephone will be modified so that those in wheelchairs can use them. More about this proposal later, but we do wish to point out that it is estimated by most service groups that as many as 10 percent of the population is handicapped. At long last federal and state governments politicians and administrators are recognizing not only the needs but the claims of our taxpaying citizens who are handicapped. We hope for public support on this issue.

HAD Says "Thank You"

Help-Aid-Direction (HAD), a Hicksville-based youth and family counseling, drug and alcohol abuse prevention and treatment center is deeply grateful for the support of local residents, businessmen, and community-minded organizations. Financial support from the community is especially important to H.A.D. now since its state funding appropriations were cut several months ago by more than $11,000 (approximately 15 per cent of its budget.)

H.A.D. has just recently completed its most up-to-date pamphlet describing its present counseling services. This flyer will be commercially printed because of a very generous group of educators have made it possible for H.A.D. to print up 10,000 flyers which will eventually be distributed to have their support.

Help-Aid-Direction is also sincerely thankful to the Hicksville Lions Club. These generous Hicksville businessmen recently responded to H.A.D.'s appeal for financial support necessary to cover the cost of sending its updated flyer by mail to homes throughout the Hicksville area. Their kindness and generosity will insure that more local residents and services available at the H.A.D. center.

organization has been approaching various banks and local businessmen requesting permission to sell an assortment of giant story coloring books at their place of business on its behalf. Many of these businesses have already agreed to allow H.A.D. volunteers to set up a table and sell these fund-raising items to their customers.

Help-Aid-Direction also wants to thank Mr. Fred Hilker, owner of Jason's Hair Designers, 394 Woodbury Road, Hicksville, and several of his employees for an extra special effort on its behalf. Not only has Mr. Hilker permitted these coloring books to be displayed in his beauty salon for

ON THE CARPET: When the weather cools, enthusiasm for lawn bowling does not, so Nassau County's Department of Recreation and Parks obligingly moves the sport indoors to the East Terrace Ballroom of Nassau Beach Park in Lido. County residents age 16 and up are invited to try their skill on Saturdays and Sundays from 1 to 4 p.m. Senior citizens who have been enjoying this form of bocce will be happy to introduce and instruct neophytes in learning the game at no charge. While the program runs through Sunday, Dec. 19, it is advisable to call 889-5661 before coming, since the ballroom is also used for other activities sponsored by the Recreation Department.

State Teachers Union Opposes Proposed Tax Changes

The Board of Regents have proposed a major change in state aid-to-education which would result in cutting state aid to a great many districts in Nassau, allegedly for the purpose of giving more aid to New York City.

John O'Leary, Nassau Regional Coordinator for the New York State United Teachers, today condemned the Regents for their "rob Peter to pay Paul" proposals. O'Leary said, "they have abdicated their responsibility to education in this state."

"It is absolutely true that New York City needs more money for educational purposes, but we can't take the money from other school districts. The State will have to contribute more money to New York City schools. The State has been guilty of gross negligence in its support of education in all school districts. The State's share of the costs of education has actually been declining over the past several years. The Regents should be advocating more state aid, not less," O'Leary stated.

Last spring, the Governor attempted to cut state aid to education by cutting the dollar save-harmless provisions in the state aid to education laws. NYSUT led the successful fight to restore the 116 million dollars in save-harmless aid. The Regents' new proposals are another attempt to eliminate the dollar save-harmless provisions from the state aid law.

"We were successful in restoring the cut last spring and we will be successful in beating back this proposal too," P'Leary said. "We will be fighting to increase state aid to all school districts this year just as we have in past years."

The Regents' proposal is definitely not a more equitable distribution of funds. Some of the Nassau school districts that would lose the greatest amount of money, under the Regents' proposal, are among the poorest and highest taxed school districts in the County. For example: under the Regents' proposal Farmingdale would lose 27 percent of its state aid, and Island Trees, East Meadow, Plainview and Long Beach would all lose more than 14 percent of their state aid. State aid is determined by the Legislature not by the Regents. The Regents have no authority whatsoever to determine state aid.

The dollar save-harmless provision that is at the heart of the Regents' proposal and was a bone of contention last spring is a provision in the law that requires the State to give each school district at least as many money as the school district received the year before, even if the district is entitled to less under the formula as a result of declining enrollment. The school districts and the union both contend that this is not a giveaway because the save-harmless provision merely permits the district to keep even because of inflation. The vast majority of school districts in Nassau now receive save-harmless funds because their enrollments have been declining in the past two or three years.

Urge Early Renewal Of Pistol License

The Nassau County Police Department is requesting county residents who hold a Nassau County pistol license expiring December 31, 1976, to file their applications for renewal early.

Deputy Inspector James Kinney, Commanding Officer, Records Bureau, said, "1977 renewals have been slow coming in so we are urging prompt filing to avoid delay and inconvenience due to heavy holiday mails." Kinney also noted that licensees should be aware that the failure to file renewal application prior to their expiration is cause for revocation of the pistol license.

For additional information or assistance, call the Police Records Bureau at 535-5163.

My Dialogue With The Oil Companies Opens

By Ralph Caso
Nassau County Executive

Last week, top representatives of Exxon, Mobil, Shell, Texaco, Gulf and Continental - the nation's major oil companies and principal bidders for leases in the Atlantic Ocean's Baltimore Canyon - traveled from Houston, New Orleans, Tulsa, Washington and New York to meet with me in my office in Mineola. The meeting marked the beginning of an extraordinary dialogue, and it bore immediate fruit. All the companies pledged that if and when oil drilling starts in the Atlantic, they will cooperate fully with local government officials in minimizing environmental hazards and in maximizing potential economic benefits for Long Island.

Nassau County is still a party to the lawsuit seeking to block offshore drilling, and I made it clear that I did not intend to withdraw from the suit as Governor Carey has done. But I also recognize reality. Governor Carey's decision to withdraw New York State's decision to withdraw New York State's overturning a lower court's injunction against lease sales, raises very serious doubts about our ability to win in court. Add to that the failure of Congress to enact a national energy policy, and our growing national dependence on foreign oil, and you have some of the reasons that prompted me to invite the oil companies to a meeting to work out a kind of detente, a way of living together, if they become our neighbors. Back in 1973, when the Arabs imposed their oil embargo, we were importing 38 percent of all the oil we used, and 11 percent of that was coming from Arab countries. Today, we are importing 44 percent of our oil, and 22 percent of our imports are from Arab countries. So not only is the nation's energy dependency worsening, but we are twice as dependent on Arab oil today as we were three years ago, and twice as vulnerable to another embargo.

Three specific goals were accomplished in this first meeting. First, the oil company executives agreed to support my efforts to persuade Congress to change the laws so that state and local governments can get a share of federal lease sale revenues and oil production royalties. They said that the governors of Louisiana and Texas and of Pacific coast states would support that effort, too. These states now get royalties from oil produced in their state waters but get nothing from oil produced beyond the three-mile limit in federal waters. Second, the companies supported creation of an environmental superfund - a pool of money that would be used to clean up oil spills, when the company responsible cannot be pinpointed. And, third, they agreed to have the Atlantic Offshore Committee of the American Petroleum Institute work closely with a governmental committee that I will appoint to get hard and fast answers to a series of complex questions.

Last week's meeting did not ask for answer every question. It was not intended to. It was intended to open a dialogue and to get a commitment of cooperation from the oil industry. On both counts, it succeeded.

CPES Recommends Cut-Back In Government Spending

ALBANY, N.Y.--New York paid more state and local taxes than anyone else in the country again in 1975. If every man, woman, and child in the State had paid an equal amount, the amount would have been $1,008.79. This was 13 percent ahead of California, the second most heavily burdened state, and 52 percent ahead of the national average.

"It's an old story," said John F. Van Cott, Chairman, Citizens Public Expenditure Survey (CPES) the statewide taxpayers research group.

"We've been paying more for years-but this, in itself, is not necessarily significant. What is significant," he said, "is the increasing size of the bite. Ten years ago New Yorkers were paying about 11 percent of their income in state and local taxes. That figure for 1975 represents nearly 17 percent.

"You plug this into the national picture," he continued, "and you have part of the reason for New York's deteriorating competitive position."

"The size of the tax bite nationally has increased much more slowly. Ten years ago, people across the country were paying about ten percent of their income in state and local taxes. In 1975 the size of the bite had increased only modestly by about two percent."

"This means," he pointed out, "that people who do not live in New York have more income left after taxes to buy the goods and services that must be bought to keep the economy strong."

Van Cott stressed that the size of a tax becomes significant only when related to income. "And while our expenditures-which cause the taxes-have been soaring, our income has been languishing."

He emphasized that taxes cannot be wholly blamed for the state's business woes and agreed that the northeastern governors were "right on target" in citing deteriorating transportation facilities, an unfortunate location vis-a-vis energy supplies and an archaic formula for the distribution of federal money which discriminates against this region.

"Nevertheless," he said, "in a recent survey of businessmen who were leaving the State, 'high taxes' was the reason given more often than any other for the move."

"A cut-back in spending to get ourselves in line with the rest of the country would be a good place to start on the road back to a decent competitive position," he said.

ON ICE: In a preview of scenes to come at many natural pond sites maintained and operated by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, young ice-skaters do their thing on the Eisenhower Park lake in East Meadow. In addition to Eisenhower, when the ice is deemed thick enough, there is skating at other locations from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. on weekdays, and 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays: Baxter Pond, Port Washington; Bay Park, East Rockaway; Hall's Pond, West Hempstead; Inwood and Roosevelt Parks; Loft's

Pond, Baldwin; Mifi Pond, Bellmore; Tuckapausha Pond, Seaford; and Whitney Pond Park, Manhasset.

A daily announcement as to whether the above ponds are frozen enough for skaters is taped during the winter months. Call 488-1453, twenty-four hours a day.

Dear Friends... Hicksville School Vote On Dec 15

The Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration of the Hicksville Library held during this past weekend was most enjoyable. On Friday evening those present not only heard the interesting reminiscences of Hicksville's prominent, young "old-timers", including Mr. Frank Chlumsky, Dr. Leon Galloway, Mr. Henry Brengel, Sr. and Mrs. Henry Schnepf, but also watched a new set of old-time slides of Hicksville shown and explained by Mr. Richard Evers, and worked on by Mr. Evers and Mr. Gardiner Gregory. It was a really great evening enjoyed by all. By the way, guess who is going to celebrate his 91st birthday next week? None other than the ever-active Frank Chlumsky, who is such an example for all of us, for he just never stops doing good in our community. Presently he is active on the Thanksgiving Day dinner presentations made jointly by the Hicksville Kiwanis Club and the Salvation Army...while, he is also busy with others in working on the annual Christmas celebration to be presented at the Jones Institute. God bless, and may He grant you and us, many more years of your presence, Mr. Chlumsky.

Then, on Sunday afternoon, a lovely Open House was held by the Friends of the Library, using a most beautiful tea and coffee service, which has been presented to them recently by Mr. Goldberger of Hicksville, in memory of Mrs. Goldberger. Those present were then entertained by the well-known Frank Warner and his charming wife, Anne. The Warners are known on Long Island for yea these many years, and presently live in Brookville. Their avocation for many years has been traveling throughout our country collecting the old folks songs of each area. They have eight albums out already and you can imagine how enjoyable this concert of old folk songs was. They also had large pictures of some of the old-time folk singers who had shared their songs with the Warners, which made the program even more enjoyable. Wish you had been there.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and remember the old saying, "Without 'U', one cannot spell Church."

SHEILA NOETH.

Letter To The Editor

The New York State Board of Regents recently proposed major changes in the State aid-to-education program that could once again send suburban school taxes soaring in order to bail out the school systems of New York City and other urban areas. The proposals would result in a sharp reduction in state aid to the so-called "wealthier" districts, such as those in Nassau County, to give more funds to those in the cities.

The proposed redistribution would give New York City an additional $42.19 million for 1977-78 and, at the same time, reduce the aid to 37 of 39 school districts in Nassau by $15.7 million, according to estimates made by the State Education Department. Among the hardest hit districts would be Farmingdale, which would lose $2.10 million, and Massapequa with a $1.7 million loss.

The Regents also have proposed the elimination of the "save harmless" provision of the current aid program, which guaranteed school districts at least the same amount of aid this

Fla. score by R. Stieveling. A very exciting game, with Fla. being behind at halftime 0:2. Second half dominated by Fla. with some dangerous breakaways by Wash. R. Zaretsky. Several Fla. shots hit the posts or are saved on the line by Wash. goalie M. Hopkins.

Nov. 19 Playoff Fla. vs Vermont 5:1
Fla. leads at halftime 2:1, with goals by T. Sullivan (assist by R. Stengl) and R. Stengl. There were many dramatic scenes in front of both goals. R. Stieveling scores directly with a corner kick. R. Mahoney scores a nice goal, and just missed a second. P. Sherry puts it in to make it 5:1. Some good saves by Fla. goalie T. Berk.

Nov. 21 Championship Final
Fla. vs Wash. 1:0
A game loaded with dramatic scenes, with Fla. having a slight edge over Wash. A good number of spectators were not disappointed. Score at halftime 0:0. In the early second half a dangerous break-away by R. Zaretsky, but Fla. goalie T. Berk throws himself onto the ball in brilliant save. M. Hopkins in the Wash. goal also had a very good day. He mastered everything that the Fla. offense brought through the defense line. Then, with 9 minutes to go in the game, R. Stieveling scored for Fla. with a tremendous hand penalty shot. Even Wash. tried hard to equalize, Fla. was able to keep the ball in the Wash. half. All players on both teams deserve a round of applause. We would like to thank the parents of the Fla. players for their splendid support. We all loved it. The Fla. roster: T. Berk, W. Stenberg, L. Goldstein, W. Stuart, R. Mahoney, P. Sherry, M. Nathan, C. Holzhauer, J. Ferrado, P. Rubins, R. Stieveling, T. Sullivan, R. Bauer, R. Stengl, P. Viole. Coach: G. Stieveling.

BIG RED MACHINE STALLED

The Knights of Columbus midget red team played their best game of the season last week against a team of All Stars. Coach Bill Cresham has been waiting for this game since September and he was richly rewarded as every boy played his heart out. Although Hicksville came out on the short end of a 4-3 decision, it was undoubtedly a great moral victory. Hicksville dominated the play throughout, even in the second half with a strong wind against them. They played an excellent passing game, attacked more often than their opponent and had more shots on goal but they made a few mistakes on defense & missed two or three golden opportunities to score. This game was a total team effort against a very tough opponent and each team member deserves honorable mention: Bobby Andrus, Kevin Cahalan, Vinny Christiano, Billy Cresham, Jimmy DeMarco, Sean Devlin, Steve Dolan, Todd Lewis, John McCann, John Mitchell, Robert Pearce, Adrian Pepi, Phillip Ridgway, Patrick Schuur, David Smyth and Glen Zakian. The parents & friends, as well as the Club and all of Hicksville are quite proud of these boys for their sportsmanship & performance last Saturday.

Hockey Hopes High

The daily training sessions for the 1976-77 ice hockey teams feature an aura into which teamwork, dedication and confidence are carefully blended.

Coach Lou De Luca's charges are most proud of their 1975-76 Long Island Championship and also of the fact that they hold a enviable record which now shows 18 straight games without a defeat as they enter the new season and are hopeful that this will be extended when the new schedule starts.

The exact makeup of the Long Island Hockey League for secondary schools is still indefinite - league teams and individual team strengths plus the prevailing playing rules will be determining considerations for the Quakers' success during the new season.

Coach De Luca is a proponent for the adoption of NCAA Hockey rules instead of those of the National Hockey League which were used last season.

In non-league play during 1976-77, the Friends Academy schedule will probably be upgraded to include teams such as Princeton (NJ) Day School Junior Varsity, Brunswick (Conn) School, Rye Country Day (NY) and Lawrenceville (NJ) Junior Varsity.

Three players from last year's championship squad graduated last June including All-Long Island All-Star Pete Blivin (Huntington) - now at New England College, Jay Andrea (Old Brookville) - at Villanova University, and Don Shea (Glen Head) - now at Choate School.

In discussing the coming season Coach De Luca (Medford) summarized - "It is a question as to whether or not we will be as strong as last year, but we will be a winning team. The boys know how to execute offensively and defensively as a team using carefully designed and coached plays and patterns. They know how important passing to the open man can be and their skill in so doing is progressing - quality teamwork makes good players."

"This year's team will count heavily on Jim Allen, a Junior from Syosset. Jim is a stalwart on defense with a strong potential on offense. Sophomore Bill Nichols (Glen Head) was most effective on defense last year. Laurel Hollow's Matt Belman, a freshman, is a small but very quick center with an excellent potential. Goalie Mike Teitel of Port Washington and a Senior is the real key to the team's success - an improvement in his consistency is hoped for. Two sophomore, Doug Schneider (Glen Head) and Bart Walker

Wrestling Day

The 4th Annual Wrestling Day will be held at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum, Uniondale, on Sunday, Dec. 5, beginning at 9 a.m. A three-way invitational tournament between nationally university teams will highlight the many events.

Squaring off at 2 p.m. on the main floor for the 1976 meet will be grapplers from Iowa University, the 1975 National Collegiate Athletic Association champions; Kentucky University, last year's Southeastern Conference champs; and Hofstra University, the 1975 East Coast Conference winners.

Prior to the collegiate event, elementary school students will compete from 10 a.m. until 12 noon, and high school wrestlers take to the mats from 12 noon until 2 p.m.

In the Coliseum's Exhibition Hall, at 10 a.m., Junior high school boys are set for a take-down tournament. Also from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., in the same location, cultural exhibits such as karate and judo will be presented for interested spectators. Included are Police Wrist Wrestling, Professional Wrestling, Olympic films, and female self-defense techniques. Other relevant displays and college information will be among the attractions in the Lobby.

Already set for the karate exhibition is Master Teruyuki Higa, a 6th Degree Black Belt and native of Okinawa, who is well-known through his many demonstrations all over the world as well as his television appearances. Higa is presently a karate instructor at Nassau Community College.

The prestigious Wrestling Day is presented by Nassau's Department of Recreation and Parks in cooperation with the Nassau County Wrestling Coaches Association. Tickets are $4 at the gate or $3 pre-paid.

For further information, call 799-8614.

Women's Volleyball

Registration is now open for teams of Nassau women age 18 and over who would like to compete in the County's 2nd Annual Women's Open Volleyball Tournament.

The holiday event, which is co-sponsored by Nassau's Department of Recreation and Parks and Chase Manhattan Bank, will be held from Tuesday, Dec. 28 through Thursday, Dec. 30 in the Nassau Community College gymnasium, Building "J", from 7 to 10 p.m. Spectators are welcome.

Awards will be presented to teams that finish 1st and 2d in the single elimination competition, as well as to the 12 individual 1st place winners.

Teams are invited to sign up any time until Monday, Dec. 13, on a first-come, first-served basis. To register, or for further information, call 292-4284 or 292-4285.

(Huntington) will be valuable squad members.

The Friends pucksters will practice four or five days each week using the facilities of Twin Rinks, Skateland and Racquet & Rink.

Their 1976-77 Schedule opened on November 21st with the Quakers playing Chaminade at Racquet and Rink in Farmingdale.

Kindergarten Harvest Dinner

After two days of peeling, washing, cooking, seasoning and straining, the Kindergarten class at Old Country Road School took a half hour to eat their Harvest Thanksgiving Luncheon on Thursday, November 18th.

Vegetable soup, school made; butter (made by the children) for homemade bread; applesauce and popcorn were on the menu. The children ate in the lunch-room, with help of mothers eager to share the food and experiences.

Skills in classifying, sorting and describing were presented, as well as watching solid foods become soft when they were put in water at a high temperature. We all tasted the food at least three times, and most of us found it delicious.

Here is a story dictated by one of the Children, for Thanksgiving.

"On the first Thanksgiving, the pilgrims said thank you for houses, trees, animals, friends and sunshine because they wanted it to be nice and warm; and they didn't want to be lonely.

For my Thanksgiving, I say thank you for things I need, like all the food, my friends, my clothes and my house, the trees and the sunshine to keep you warm and if you don't have any food, you'll die, and without sunshine you'll get even colder.

I say Thank You for things I like -- my toys, apples and bananas, my friends and sugarless gum. I say Thank you for these because if you don't have toys and friends, you wouldn't be able to play -- you would just sit and watch TV."

National Children's Book Week

In celebration of National Children's Book Week, the Children's Department of the Hicksville Public Library sponsored a special program, "The Liberty Land Express," a Bicentennial adventure in acting. Accompanying Shelly Pazer as she zoomed down the decades, and acted out past historical happenings were some of the children in the audience. All who attended thoroughly enjoyed the program. ## News of The Knights

This Thanksgiving approximately 40 local families will be the recipients of the Joseph Barry Council Knights of Columbus recently concluded food drive.

For the last eight weeks a committee headed by Dennis McLaughlin has collected enough food of all varieties to make this a Thanksgiving to remember for Hicksville residents who would not otherwise have the traditional feast.

This idea born of idle chatter at the council chambers became a reality thanks to the hard and persistent work of these true Knights of Columbus. Many thanks from the committee to those who were so generous especially Mr. John Greenfield of Foodtown supermarket located at Woodbury & So. Oyster Bay Roads.

The baskets will be delivered to each family by the committee whose members are D. McLaughlin, F. Szymanski, C. Barhold Jr., P. O'Reilly Jr., V.

DiSanto, K. Hynes and E. Gillespie.

Grand Knight Paul Dunn and Chaplain Rev. Hugh Cannon have said these members deserve all the plaudits the community can muster for their hard and dedicated work. However the community response to the appeal and the fine people the committee has been in contact with is thanks enough according to a committee spokesman.

Last Saturday this very active council tended a "Polish Polka Nite" and Chairman Larry Trubinski and his committee are to be commended for their excellent job. A good time was had by all, and the proceeds will be used to help the Joseph Barry Council continue their unheralded charity.

G.K. Dunn just recently handed a check for $500 to the St. Ignatius Girls Cadet Corps to help them defray expenses in representing Hicksville all over the country.

CUMMINGS 'N GOINGS

ROUND-THE-TOWN

by Jim Cummings

QUITE A HISTORY: The Hicksville Public Library celebrated its 50th Anniversary recently as reported in the HERALD - we were most impressed with the brochure prepared and distributed by Bernice Neufeld, Public Relations Director to all residents, citing by photo and copy the numerous changes in our library system and the talented librarians and dedicated staff, including the Bookmobile, that serves our community so well year-round.

DID'YA KNOW THAT: Stores will be erected at the Northeast corner of West John Street and Newbridge Road - approximately 4200 sq. ft. - by Jerry Spiegel Associates, interested? - phone 938-6240 - Jerry, a long-time member of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce has been most active in the Hicksville community these past twenty-five years as its most prominent builder - he will be a guest on NBC-TV's "NOT FOR WOMEN ONLY" at 9 A.M. on Tuesday, November 30th with co-hosts Polly Bergen and Frank Field - tune in...Central Federal Savings and Loan Association has expanded their parking field at West John St., in our community - excellent move...Foodtown supermarket in Plainview was one of the units which gave permission to the Joseph Barry Council, Knights of Columbus to collect canned foods for needy families for Thanksgiving - we salute their community spirit.

ROUND THE TOWN: The Ballard Sessions of traditional Irish music sponsored by the Hicksville AOH was SRO - according to President-elect Pat

Singing Boys of L.I.

The Singing Boys of Long Island are a group of young men between the ages of 9 and 18, who comes from many communities on Long Island. They carry on the tradition of the almost lost and mystical beauty of the past - the boys choir.

A Singing Boy creates beauty, gives his talent through performing and develops his talents. He achieves this by hard work, self-discipline and loyalty.

The Singing Boys are internationally renowned for their appearances abroad and at home. They have distinguished themselves in England, Italy, Germany, Austria, Spain, Czechoslovakia, Morocco, Holland, Belgium and France. They received a bronze medal from Pope Paul VI for their magnificent Papal Concert with a Papal audience of 40,000 in St. Peter's Basilica.

Their apt director, Gerald Baker, has done advanced work in the Opera School at the Vienna Academy of Music and completed extensive work in perfecting his vocal technique under the guidance of Professor Ferdinand Grossman, the director of the Vienna Choir Boys.

Any boy between the ages of 9 and 18, who can carry a tune, loves to sing, and wants to perform is eligible to join the choir. No previous choral experience is required.

Rehearsals for the Preparatory Choir (the beginning choir) meets on Tues. afternoons, from 4 to 6 in Dix Hills or Wed. afternoons from 4 to 6 in Hicksville. There are two semesters corresponding with those of the school year.

For an audition or further information, please write: The Singing Boys of Long Island, P.O. Box 205, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801, or call, (516-681-0492).

Committee Backs Colby For Town Supervisor

Sen. Ralph J. Marino, chairman of the Oyster Bay Town Republican Committee, has announced the executive committee's unanimous recommendation for the appointment of Joseph Colby to fill the unexpired term of Town Supervisor John W. Burke.

"Names of many prominent community leaders were placed before this executive committee for consideration," Marino said. "Each was carefully examined. And, with full agreement, it was felt that Joe Colby is clearly the best person to recommend to the Town Board for this important position. He not only has a background of community concern, involvement and leadership but the responsible aggressiveness he has demonstrated during his two years as Town Attorney clearly shows his capabilities in making town government work for the people of Oyster Bay." As an example, Marino cited Colby's success in preventing the state from attempting to unjustly double the toll for town residents using Jones Beach bridges to reach their town beaches.

"He is also an individual in whom the people have already expressed their confidence. He ran for Nassau County Legislator while advocating defeat of that expensive form of government and the people supported him and his position on that issue," Marino recalled.

In addition to serving as Town Attorney and successfully running for 11th District County Legislator, Marino noted that Colby's past years of experience in State, County and local governments also made him a strong candidate for the party's over a month but he has allowed several of his employees to actively sell these books to his customers.

With the active participation of Mrs. Rose Vafier, Mrs. Sue Leacock, and Mrs. Effie Werner, a large number of coloring books have already been sold greatly benefitting the H.A.D. organization. These fine ladies are to be commended for their tireless energies and their concern for the welfare of this local counseling program.

Mr. Hilker is to be congratulated for his interest and commitment to the Hicksville community. To permit his employees to sell coloring books during busy store hours is really something to admire. The display and sale of these books must consume a reasonable amount of time on the part of his employees. Even with this apparent interruption of his business atmosphere, Mr. Hilker has set no time limit on when these books must be removed from his beauty salon. He has indicated that they may remain through the upcoming Hanukkah and Christmas holidays.

H.A.D. is very fortunate to have the support of such fine groups as the Hicksville Congress of Teachers, Hicksville Lions Club, and individual businessmen like Mr. Fred Hilker.

H.A.D. is very fortunate to have the support of such fine groups as the Hicksville Congress of Teachers, Hicksville Lions Club, and individual businessmen like Mr. Fred Hilker.

As a result of the constant financial and moral support of such individuals and organizations as described earlier, Help-Aid-Direction has been able to provide free-of-charge confidential counseling services to thousands of troubled teenagers, adults, and families since it was established in November 1969.

If you know of someone who could utilize the services available from H.A.D., have that person either call the center at WE-5-6858 or drop in at its 268 North Broadway, Hicksville facility. H.A.D.'s present hours are: Monday, 12 noon to 8 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, 12 noon to 10 p.m.; Friday, 12 noon to 6 p.m.; and Saturday, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For further information, contact John Maniec, H.A.D. Executive Director, at 935-6858.
