Community Council Hears From Sewer-Water Districts

By Carol Wolf

Over 100 people came downstairs at the library on Thursday, February 3rd, to hear Mr. Louis Dettloff, Supervisor of the Hicksville Water District, and Mr. Frank Merklin, Supervisor of Construction of the Nassau Department of Public Works, discuss two very important topics in our lives - water and sewers. Numerous intelligent questions were asked by concerned and worried citizens. The answers that were given were straightforward and to the point.

After the meeting was opened by Rev. Anderson of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church on Broadway, Mr. Dettloff took the floor. A resident of Hicksville for almost 50 years, Mr. Dettloff began by explaining that on December 21st, 1976, the Department of Health placed no restrictions on the wells of Hicksville with the exception of well 3-1. Well 3-1 had not been used since 1968 because of the high levels of nitrates. It is a standard shallow well, and except for the nitrates (10 parts per million), it is O.K. On January 21st, Organic Analysis was performed on 2 groups of samples from wells 3-2, 4-1 and 6-2. Based on the results, none of the wells even approached the standards set by the state.

Mr. Dettloff then gave us a little bit of background about the well controversy. In 1974, a trace of organism were found in wells in New Orleans. In August of 1976, the USEPA prohibited the use of wells containing a substantial amount of vinyl chloride. Interim guidelines set by the state allow 10 parts per billion vinyl chloride and 50 parts per billion tri-chlorethylene in water. These chemicals are found in everyday things such as stain removers, benzene, shoe polish, cesspool aids, and even detergents. Mr. Dettloff suggested that we should take a look at ourselves to see what products we pour down our drains that sift back to the water table. For example - the chemical tri-chlorethylene was found in minute quantities in 6 of Hicksville's wells - traces of 1.7 to 4.3 parts per billion. But did you know that tri-chlorethylene is also found in decaffeinated coffee products?

The Board of Commissioners of the Water District is going to have Hicksville's wells tested bi-weekly. We do not have to chlorinate the water, because we do not have bacteria. However, when the sewers arrive, this will be a common procedure. Tests are also made in individual houses when residents complain about fishy tastes and other oddities...which generally come from detergents. Standby emergency chlorination equipment is available and daily readings, including PH are taken.

Hicksville has asked for permission to drill two new wells - 650 to 750 feet in depth to keep clear of nitrates. If approved, drilling will commence early in the summer. Two of the sites on Dean Street, Newbridge Road, or Stewart Avenue will be chosen.

There are 17 wells in Hicksville, 13 of which are in operation, and any of which can be blended. Mr. Dettloff assured us that he and his family live and drink in Hicksville and that the water is safe.

Sewer Information

Mr. Merklin began by explaining that there are 17 collection districts in Nassau County in Sewer District No. 3. The primary objective, the sewerage treatment plant, has been completed. The Cedar Creek plant south of Merrick Road gives off two by-products - effluent and sludge. Effluent is fresh water that is dumped 2 1/2

From Supervisor Colby

The recent announcement by the Metropolitan Transportation Authority of its willingness to assume responsibility for the escalators at the Hicksville Railroad Station, action which I called for last year, is in keeping with the Authority's recognized responsibility for the proper maintenance and operation of commuter facilities.

Of separate but equally important significance is the fact that this action by the MTA will permit the dissolution of a special taxing district created years ago to encompass some 8,600 acres in the center of our Town. Dissolution of the district would result in elimination of the real property tax currently levied for the escalator purposes on homeowners within the district's population of 89,000 residents. When this tax was first established, the escalators served only the residents of the immediate area. As neighboring communities developed and Hicksville's attractiveness as a transportation center increased, residents from broader surroundings began to utilize the escalator facilities - thus the district has become an anachronism, and its elimination most timely.

There are about 5,100 special purpose districts throughout New York State that can be generally defined as administrative units which do not possess general governmental powers but which do provide for specific facilities and services.

Special purpose districts vary in nature and constitution. For instance: The Towns of Oyster Bay and Hempstead jointly administer a recreational facility that is situated in both municipalities; Oyster Bay maintains districts for drainage and lighting that comprise the entire unincorporated area of the Town; park districts serve specific communities; and some special districts, such as water districts, are operated by locally elected commissioners who establish policy and formulate their own budgets. When the State Legislature grants special permission, there can even be such a thing as a district-within-a-district.

Without doubt, the existence of various special districts, many of them overlapping, can be confusing to the average resident. But taken individually, each district can be recognized as the means for delivery of a necessary or desired special service in a manner that distributes accompanying tax requirements equitably.

Ambro, Lent Score House Leadership On Congressional Pay Raise

by Marcia Yeates

Congressmen Jerome Ambro (3rd C.D.) and Norman Lent (4th C.D.) expressed their strong disapproval of the maneuverings of the House leadership in allowing a 29 per cent pay increase to pass without a vote as well as insisting that they were opposed to the pay hike. Both were in favor of bringing the measure to the floor for a recorded vote on the $13,000 per yr. raise.

Through a series of parliamentary maneuvers this past week, the House Democratic leadership kept the proposal for pay increases for federal officials (including members of Congress) from coming to the floor for a vote and thereby putting each congressman on record either for or against the hefty increase in his own salary.

Congressman Ambro expressed his disapproval of the machinations calling the procedures "disgraceful, totally unfair to the people and self-serving." He had testified to an ad hoc committee on February 9 that he was opposed to the increase. "The increase is more than many Americans make in an entire year," he stated. "We all knew what the salary was when we ran for office. The terms of the office are, in effect, a contract with the people." In decrying the maneuvering of the leadership in allowing the increase to become effective by preventing a vote on the matter, Ambro stated "the House...has violated the first principle of democratic government."

Ambro stated he is in favor of the proposals of the Oby Task Force (chaired by Rep. David Obey of Wisconsin) calling for a strict code of ethics for Congressmen including a mandatory annual limit on outside income, a prohibition on mixing of campaign and personal funds and extending the limit on use of the frank from 28 to 60 days prior to an election. A code of ethics bill may be passed later in the session, although some measures may encounter resistance from members of Congress. Ambro spoke out in favor of tying the ethics strictures to the pay raise because it would be "the most expeditious way to get reforms", but that seems unlikely as the bill will most likely never reach the floor.

Congressman Lent called the pay raise "Outrageous" and labelled the "maneuvering of the Democratic leadership...despicable." In a television interview last week he called the entire proceeding "a bizarre Catch-22 episode." He also expressed agreement with the intent of the Oby commission but in addition called for a complete and public audit of each Congressman's accounts and the accounts of Congressional committees.

Both Ambro and Lent make annual disclosures of their financial status.

Senior Citizens Urged To Press For Exemptions

Commissioner Adelaide Attard of the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs has issued an urgent appeal for elderly homeowners to press for the passage of a New York State Assembly bill to increase the maximum allowable income which seniors can receive to qualify for property tax exemptions.

The bill - A-1229 - co-sponsored by Assemblymen Armand D'Amato and Joseph M. Reilly, will increase the maximum allowable income from $6,500 to $7,200. A companion bill which was co-sponsored by Senators John D. Caemmerer and Owen H. Johnson was passed by the Senate on February 1. Prompt Assembly passage is vital, since seniors are now filing applications to qualify for 1978 tax exemptions.

A similar bill was passed in the Senate last year, but died in the Assembly. "We urge the senior community to rally its forces to assure passage of this bill," said Commissioner Attard. "We will continue to press for a sliding scale formula in computing eligibility for property tax relief. However," the Commissioner continued, "we feel that this bill must be passed as an emergency measure, because many senior citizens are in danger of losing their property tax exemptions due to recent Social Security cost of living increases."

Spiraling property taxes are a major area of concern to older residents struggling to survive in the face of inflation. The senior community also feels that Social Security benefits should be exempt as income in computing eligibility for property tax relief. For the name and address of your assemblyman, contact the Legislative Unit of the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs at 535-4458.

Contact Water District On Pipe Problems

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby reminded homeowners in the Town of Oyster Bay that, while frozen water lines may be their own responsibility, information or assistance on handling the problem can be obtained from local water districts.

Continuing subfreezing temperatures have frozen water service lines to some homes, and many of these unfortunate homeowners have been calling the office and the Town Building for relief," Colby said. "The Town Supervisor pointed out that water districts are autonomous, governmental bodies - much the same as school districts - and have sole authority over their operations.

"I'm not trying to pass the buck," Colby emphasized, "but the Town really has no authority in these matters nor would we have the expertise of the water district."

Colby also called attention to the fact that, under the ordinances of most water districts, the homeowner is responsible for the water service line from the curb line or the water main into his house. This would include responsibility for the thawing of frozen lines.

"Some water districts do not have the equipment or manpower to thaw frozen lines," Colby said, "but I am sure they will be glad to advise you where such services can be obtained."

The following are the phone numbers of water districts in the Town of Oyster Bay:

U.N. Members Attend U.N. Session

Twelve members of the League of Women Voters of the Town of Oyster Bay were among the 1,800 members of the League attending a meeting in the General Assembly Hall at the United Nations in New York City on February 8. They were addressed by U.N. and U.S. officials on "The United States at the United Nations - A Fresh Look."

The program covered three principal areas: The State of the United Nations Today; U.S. Participation in the U.N. System; and the North-South Dialogue, which presented viewpoints of the Third World, Europe and the U.S. on differences between developed and developing economies.

Speakers included U.N. Under-Secretary General Gabriel Van Duijn; U.N. Ambassadors T.B. Koh of Singapore and Ole Algard of Norway; W. Tapley Bennett, Jr., U.S. Deputy Permanent Representative to the U.N.; and Jacob Myerson, U.S. Representative on the Economic and Social Council.

At the conclusion of the session, participants were conducted on a guided tour of the United Nations and were briefed on the various activities of U.N. agencies engaged in economic and social projects.

Attending the U.N. meeting from this area were Barbara Josepher and Leona Weiss of Syosset; Sandra Brot, Ellie Eigen, Irene Frank and Sandra Friedman of Woodbury; Mimi Hirsch of Plainville; Elinor Martin of Jericho; Joan Jones and Sylvia Weissman of Hicksville; and Klyde Hunter and Shirley Nassau of Massapequa.

Town Hikes Littering Fines

In a series of amendments to the Town's garbage, litter and waste ordinances, the Oyster Bay Town Board last week substantially increased the maximum penalties for littering and illegal scavenging as well as portions of the laws regulating municipal and private refuse collection and disposal.

We hope that these severer penalties will serve as a deterrent to the thoughtless priority that is responsible for littered roadways and to those who ignore our conservation efforts in waste disposal," Town Councilman Joseph J. Saladino, chairman of the Town Board's standing committee on sanitation, commented.

For example property owners or occupants who fail to place garbage or rubbish in proper receptacles are now subject to a fine of up to $500 and/or 15 days imprisonment. Previously, the maximum was a $50 fine and/or 10 days imprisonment.

Similar increases in penalties were adopted for littering, failure to separate newspaper from other waste for recycling, illegal scavenging of newspapers, unlawful dumping and failure of private carters to maintain the proper operating permits.

Board Meeting Cancelled

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby issued a reminder that the regular Town Board meeting scheduled for Tuesday, February 22, has been cancelled.

"This action was taken to give Town officials the opportunity to attend the seminars and conferences being held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Association of Towns in New York City next week," Colby said.

Regular meetings of the Town Board will resume on Tuesday, March 1, at 10 A.M. in the hearing room, Town Hall East building.

Copy of Car Registration Needed For Parking Sticker

Oyster Bay Town Clerk Ann R. Ocker said this week that Town residents who have not received their 1977 parking permits probably did not include a copy of their car registration with the application.

"My office has received countless calls from residents complaining that they have not received their new parking permits," Ocker explained. "Upon checking their applications, it was discovered they had not sent in a photostat of their car registration as the application required."

Ocker stated that those who did not enclose a copy of their car registration with the application should send it to: Hicksville Annex, 65 Broadway, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801, as soon as possible. No additional application is required as the Annex has the original on file.

Garbage Collection On Feb. 21

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Joseph J. Saladino reminded residents that although Town facilities will be closed for the Washington birthday observance on Monday, February 21st, there will be sanitation collection made on that day for the residents who have this Town service.

Saladino, Chairman of the Town Board's Standing Committee on Sanitation, explained that the sanitation collection holiday schedule instituted last spring set aside only five holidays which would cancel a collection and require a special pickup on another day.

Dear Friends

WE NOTICED in a legal notice in Newsday last week that a hearing is set for Monday, February 28th at 11 a.m. in the meeting room of the Board of Supervisors, Nassau County Executive Building, 1 West St., Mineola concerning "a general plan of the sanitary sewer facilities proposed to be established, acquired, constructed, reconstructed, enlarged, extended or otherwise improved, in a proposed sewage collection district to be known as 'Bethpage Collection District of Nassau County' to serve the general area of which the westerly boundary is the westerly right-of-way line of the Port Jefferson Branch of the Long Island Railroad; the northerly boundary is the center line of the Long Island Expressway; the easterly boundary is the easterly right-of-way line of the Seaford-Oyster Bay Expressway, the southerly right-of-way line of Old Country Road, various property lines west of Grohman Lane, various property lines east of Farmers Avenue and the center line of Stewart Avenue; the southerly boundary is various property lines north of Sycamore Avenue, the westerly right-of-way line of 11 St., the northerly right-of-way line at Thomas Avenue, the southerly right-of-way line of the Long Island Railroad, various property lines west of South Oyster Bay Road, the center line of Old Country Road, and the Long Island Railroad, and also an estimate of the cost of constructing such sewer facilities and a report describing the areas deemed benefited thereby in such manner as to identify the lots and parcels of land included in such areas" and then this legal sets the time and place of this hearing as we have mentioned above.

It goes on to state: "The areas deemed benefited by such sewer facility as described on said reports is the territory having the following boundaries:

"All property lines mentioned refer to the boundary descriptions as contained in Appendix L of the above-mentioned design report for the Bethpage (B) Collection District dated Nov. 1976. The general area is that of which the westerly boundary is the westerly right-of-way line of the Port Jefferson Branch of the Long Island Railroad; the northerly boundary is the center line of the Long Island Expressway; the easterly boundary is the easterly right-of-way line of the Seaford-Oyster Bay Expressway, the southerly right-of-way line of Old Country Road, various property lines north of Sycamore Avenue, the westerly right-of-way line of Thomas Avenue, the southerly right-of-way line of the Long Island Railroad, various property lines west of South Oyster Bay Road, the center line of South Oyster Bay Road, the center line of Old Country Road and the Long Island Railroad."

Repeating most of the legal for you may sound repetitious, but we do want you to be aware that the sewers are rapidly approaching and in what areas they will be worked on first. If you read the Hicksville Community Council story on page one our Hicksville edition you will be able to understand to some degree, the procedures and when they are planned, as Mr. Frank Merklin, Supervisor of Construction of the Nassau County Dept. of Public Works was one of the speakers at the February meeting of this Council.

Perhaps you will be able to attend the Feb. 28th hearing in Mineola. If not, THE HERALD will be covering for you, in order to keep you as informed as possible on whatever information is available.

Associate Editor's Marcia Yeates' story on Congressional Pay raises (on page 3) should be of interest to you. We find, unfortunately, that these raises have already become a reality, which leads us to wonder if the time hasn't arrived when there should be a nationwide Taxpayers Lobby...when will we have any voice whatsoever in helping to save our nation from such over-spending that we are rapidly going down the road that England has followed, with the results to this FORMER world power staring us right in the eye.

Good intentions are not enough...you know that they only pave the road to hell. So why not write to your Congressman right now and let him know exactly how you feel about these outrageous raises plus the higher pensions that naturally go with them. Do it now...it's not too late, if enough protests are received by those who represent us.

That's all for this week. We send Happy New Year wishes to all our Chinese Friends who celebrate theirs this week.

Dear Editor:

The voters were the losers once again in the 1976 election. A primary reason was the late fall primary, which threatened to overwhelm local Boards of Election and wreak havoc with the election process. It is for this reason that the League of Women Voters urges you and all of your readers to tell our legislators in Albany - if it is not too late - to support legislation for a permanent spring primary.

Additional arguments for a permanent spring primary, if more are needed than the overriding factor of voter convenience and the ultimate protection of the election process, are as follows:

1. The primary date should be every bit as permanent as Election Day itself in order to be fair to the voter. In presidential election years this date must be in the spring in order to precede the presidential nominating conventions.
2. Two primaries, as we had this past year, are an undue expense for the taxpayer.
3. More voters are available to

Letter To The Editor

sign petitions and listen to campaigns in the period before a spring primary than in the summer, before a fall primary.

4. As a rule, a fall primary benefits incumbents because of lower voter availability - although the recent successes of Governor Carey and Senator Moynihan provide two notable exceptions.

5. Candidates who fail to win a primary can run as independents if the primary is in the spring, something a calendar for a fall primary renders utterly impossible.

Certainly these are five sound reasons for a permanent spring primary. All these arguments pale, however, when viewed alongside the effect that the 1976 fall primary had on the 1976 election. The whole election process was hurt because there was so little time after the primary to handle court suits. Extreme voter confusion resulted from the on-again, off-again status of some candidates, including independents. Overload on local Boards of Election caused by the fall primary affected the mailing of absentee ballots in many cases. A spring primary would have moved the whole political calendar up, giving more time to deal with court appeals and with independent petitions, and enabling all candidates to receive a fair shake because of additional time available to deal with challenges.

For those of you who might counter that a spring primary makes the entire campaign too long and too expensive, we reply that the primary date rarely if ever marks the beginning of the campaign. The new campaign finance laws have limited spending anyway. After a spring primary campaigning tends to simmer down until after Labor Day.

Remember that primaries are held not for the convenience of political parties or candidates but rather to enable voters to participate in the nominating process. Contact your State Senators and Assemblymen immediately and ask them to support a permanent spring primary.

Yours truly
Barbara Joseph

Fire Report

By Ex-Capt. Owen Magee

In Hicksville attributed to faulty fireplaces.

If you have a fireplace that is getting on in years, it may be a good idea to get in an expert in the field to check it out for you.

In another fire, a kitchen exhaust fan shorted, starting a fire in the wiring in the wall which spread upwards to the attic before it was noticed. Damage to the home at 1A Adams St. was heavy on the 2nd floor.

A fire, believed to have started in the kitchen at 50 Walter Ave. caused considerable damage on Saturday Feb. 12 at 7:48 p.m. One vamp, Lt. Fuchs of Co. No. 6 suffered a cut hand working at this alarm. Hicksville Vamps were called on to assist Bethpage Vamps fight a fire in a printing shop on Hicksville Rd. near the Farmers Market. The alarm came in February 12 at 1:17 a.m.

SMOKE & FIRE DETECTORS
As many local residents know, the Hicksville Fire Dept. has advocated the purchase and installation of smoke & fire detectors. These small, affordable devices, used in conjunction with a home fire escape plan can and has saved many lives.

The most recent tragedy in Hollbrook where 5 children perished in a house fire evidently brought home the point as sales of smoke detectors all over the area jumped to an all time high. As we have always said, fire can hit anyone, anytime. The purchase of a smoke detector can be one very important investment. But don't forget to make up a plan how to escape after the detector alerts you. Next week we hope to have a press release out to all the media on detectors and many answers to questions on what kind to buy, where to buy, how many etc. Look for it next week.

Hicksville Kennel Fire 26 Dogs Dead

By Ex-Capt. Owen Magee

Early Tuesday February 15, a disastrous fire at the Sunny Shay Kennels 302 West John St. took the lives of 26 Prize Show Dogs, many of which were Afghans. The dogs, valued at $500.00 each, were to have been transported to a kennel show later that day.

Only the unselfish efforts of Hicksville Firemen kept the toll at 26 another 20 dogs were saved from their cages. Upon arrival, Hicksville Fire Chief Roy Schaaf said flames were coming from the basement entrance - the only one. Mostly the dead dogs were trapped in their cages in the cellar.

Firemen said the cries of the trapped dogs were pitiful and in an effort to save them vamps entered the flames under a shower of water to release and carry out the animals. So evident was the suffering many vamps were visibly upset carrying out the dead and injured animals. Attempts were made to revive all the dogs with oxygen. Some dogs survived with the treatment for others it was too late.

Firemen broke open almost every window in the old building in an effort to give some relief to the trapped animals until they could be released.

Chief Schaaf said the County Fire Marshals Office was investigating. The 6:49 AM alarm brought out 40 vamps. The Jericho F.D. was called to assist with a ladder truck. Heavy damage was reported in the cellar; Chief Schaaf praised his men for their fast knockdown of the fire and rescue efforts.

Internal Revenue Service Tax Supplement

Important Changes For 1976

Before you file your Federal income tax return, check out these important changes in the law made by the Tax Reform Act of 1976.

A new general tax credit that goes to almost everyone who files. It is $35 per exemption or two percent of the first $9,000 of taxable income ($4,500 for married filing separately), whichever is more. Families of six or more should use the $35 figure. Others may get more from the percentage option.

The minimum and maximum standard deductions have been increased. Minimums are $1700 for single filers, $2100 for married filing jointly and $1,050 for married filing separately. Maximums are $2400 for single people, $2800 for married filing jointly, $1,400 for married filing separately.

Child and disabled dependent care expenses are now claimed as a tax credit of 20% of eligible expenditures, with top credits of $400 for one dependent, $800 for two or more. The credit may now be claimed by married couples where one spouse works full-time and the other works part-time or is a full-time student, or where both work part-time, by divorced or separated parents who have custody of a child, and by deserted spouses who have a child, as well as by those already eligible. If certain conditions are met, payments to a relative may qualify. The $35,000 income limitation has been dropped.

Eligibility requirements for claiming the earned income credit have been eased. The claimant's total income, which must include earned income, still must be under $8,000; however, the dependency requirements have changed. Workers must now pay over half the cost of keeping up a home all year in the U.S. for themselves and their child who was under 19 years of age or a full-time student, or for their adult disabled child who qualifies as a dependent.

The retirement income credit has been revised and renamed the credit for the elderly. It has been been extended to earned income and therefore is now available to persons age 65 or over whether their income is earned or retirement income. The reduction of the credit due to earnings and the requirement that the retiree have had annual earnings of $600 for the 10 years immediately prior to claiming the credit have been eliminated. The maximum incomes on which the credit may be based have increased to $2500 for single persons and $3750 for married couples where both are over 65 and who file jointly. There are special rules for couples where one spouse is over 65 and the other is under 65. The credit phases out when the single retiree's income reaches $12,500, $17,500 for married couples filing jointly when both are over 65.

The sick pay exclusion has been eliminated for most people. Requirements for taking deductions for business use of the home and on expenses for rental of a vacation home have been tightened considerably. Read the tax return instructions carefully before trying to claim any of these.

And for 1977

Alimony will become a deduction in arriving at adjusted gross income, similar to moving expenses. This means that people who take the standard deduction will be eligible to claim their payments. For 1976, it is still an itemized deduction.

Qualified taxpayers will also be able to make contributions to an Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) for an unemployed spouse.

The maximum deduction for moving expenses will be increased to $3000 from 1976's $2500 ceiling. The distance requirements will drop from 50 miles to 35 miles.

Taxpayers over age 65 who sell their homes in 1977 will be able to exclude the entire gain from the sale when the adjusted sale price is $35,000 or less. When the adjusted sale price is over $35,000, the exclusion is prorated.

New Tax Credit Gives Break to Most Taxpayers

Almost everyone who pays Federal income tax this year has at least one tax break coming. And it doesn't matter whether the taxpayer files a long Form 1040 or short Form 1040A.

The break is the general tax credit. Effective for 1976 and 1977, the credit amounts to two percent of the first $9,000 of taxable income, or $35.00 for each regular exemption to which the taxpayer is entitled, whichever is greater.

How does the credit work? Mark and Joan Brown have taxable income of $8,000, and they file a joint return. As usual, they will count two exemptions for themselves, and one for each of their three children, for a total of five exemptions. To come up with their credit, they compare the figures: Two percent of $8000 which is $160; with $175 the total they get by multiplying $35 by their five exemptions. Since the second figure is larger, that is the credit the Browns will subtract from their tax.

For couples who file separate returns, the credit is two percent of $4,500 or $35.00 per regular exemption, whichever is greater. However, if one spouse wishes to base the credit on taxable income, the other must do likewise.

The new credit does not affect the $750 allowed for each exemption when figuring taxable income. For example, the Browns will still multiply $750 by five and subtract $3,750 from their income.

There's information on the general tax credit in the instructions for both the 1040 and 1040A returns.

Taxpayers who have questions about the tax credit or other tax matters can also contact their IRS offices. Copies of free IRS publications may be obtained by using the convenient order blank in the tax package.

Keep Records Three Years To Be Ready For Audit

When some taxpayers receive their Federal income tax refund checks, they immediately toss out their records and breathe a sigh of relief, thinking they have "escaped" a tax audit for another year.

Still others may fill their attics with cancelled checks, afraid that the Internal Revenue Service will "come calling" 20 years after the return is filed.

Which group of taxpayers has the right recordkeeping philosophy? According to the IRS, neither one. While the first group suffers from a false—and possibly, costly—sense of security, the second group worries too much.

Why? The IRS explains that receiving a tax refund means only that initial processing of the return has been completed. Because of the large number of returns processed, several months may pass before an audit takes place.

A tax return can be audited at any time before the statute of limitations expires. That usually happens three years from the time the return is due or filed.

So throwing out tax records when the refund arrives could result in a very expensive tax audit. Good, orderly records can substantiate expense of income items and back up itemized deductions. And the law requires that records be kept for at least as long as the statute of limitations is running.

But it really is not necessary to keep all those records forever, at least for tax purposes. Those that should be held are the ones that will be needed to verify items on the return past the three-year statute. For example, property records should be kept for as long as they are useful in determining the basis of the original or replacement property. Records relating to the purchase of a home certainly fall into this category.

While the law does not specify the types of records taxpayers should keep, the IRS suggests that receipts, cancelled checks, bills and other written documents are helpful. Retaining copies of the returns themselves also may prove beneficial.

People who want to know more about recordkeeping requirements should get free Publication 552, "Recordkeeping Requirements and a Guide to Tax Publications", from the IRS. It's easy to order by using the handy coupon in the tax package.

Medical, Dental Bills May Be Deductible

Taxpayers may be able to ease the pain of paying medical and dental expenses by including these items as an itemized deduction on their Federal income tax return, the IRS says.

Keep in mind, however, that medical and dental expenses are deductible only to the extent that they exceed three percent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income (AGI). And for medicine and drugs to be included, their costs must exceed one percent of the AGI. Also, there is no deduction allowed where payment for services has been reimbursed by medical insurance.

Deductions can be taken for payments for services aimed at the diagnosis, care, treatment, or prevention of disease for the taxpayer and his or her dependents. These expenses can, for example, include payments to doctors, dentists, and optometrists; for eyeglasses, artificial limbs and teeth; the cost of transportation essential to medical care; and for food and beverages prescribed solely for treatment of an illness, among others.

Here's how the medical and dental deductions work: A taxpayer whose AGI is $10,000 can only show medical and dental expenses to the extent they exceed $300, and can include medicine and drugs if they exceeded $100. If the taxpayer spent $220 on medicine and drugs and $450 on medical and dental payments, the total deduction would come to $270. It would be computed as follows:

Medicine & Drugs	$220.00
Less 1% of AGI	100.00
Balance	$120.00
Plus Medical & Dental Payments	450.00
Total	$570.00
Less 3% of AGI	300.00
Deduction	$270.00

One-half the cost of medical insurance, to a maximum of $150, can be deducted outright by every taxpayer who itemizes deductions. On a joint return, the amount still is $150, but if the couple files separate returns, each can claim one-half up to $150. The remaining half, or anything over $150, may be included with expenses subject to the three percent limitation.

Not all medical expenses are deductible, however. Be careful not to, for example, include the cost of vitamins for general health, toiletries, funeral and burial expenses, toothpaste and maternity clothes.

To find out more about deducting medical and dental expenses, check the tax instructions in the tax package and, if more information is required, use the handy order blank in the package to request the free IRS Publication 502, "Deduction for Medical and Dental Expenses."

Political Contributions May Qualify For Deduction or Tax Credit

Taxpayers who contributed to a political candidate or campaign committee during 1976 may be able to take a deduction or tax credit for the donations, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

Qualifying political contributions may be claimed either as an itemized deduction of up to $100 ($200 on a joint return) or as a credit that will reduce the tax bill by one-half the contribution, to a maximum of $25 ($50 on a joint return).

A taxpayer may claim the tax credit even when taking the standard deduction. To take the deduction, however, the taxpayer must itemize.

Tickets to some political dinners, parties, and other events, as well as cash paid directly to a candidate or to a political committee, may count towards the deduction or credit.

To qualify, an event must be primarily political in nature, with the major portion of time devoted to political speeches or discussion. A dinner or party must be a fund-raising event on behalf of an announced political candidate. If it is, tickets to this type of event may be deducted or taken as a credit equal to the full ticket cost.

Total Eye Experience For Plainview

Starting Friday, February 25th, Plainview and Syosset residents will celebrate the grand opening of Vision Shoppes, a new and complete eye center located in the Morton Village Shopping Center at 1004 Old Country Road. Vision Shoppes Plainview, billed as The Total Eye Experience, is one of the many complete eye centers this company has planned for the Long Island area.

Dr. Richard Bohn, one of the Optometrists who head the company, is best known for his developmental and perceptual training of children with learning disabilities. "We're trying to combine the solid experience we've all had with the large optical firms and bring it down to the community level", he said, "and I think Vision Shoppes is a dream come true."

Each of the staff members has had extensive experience with large optical firms in the Metropolitan area but desire more interaction with local families. Vision Shoppes will staff its Plainview location with an Optometrist, one Optician and two customer service personnel. The shop will offer a large selection of eyewear, a free fitting service for those who'd finally like to take advantage of the newest in Contact Lens technology and a one-hour service on most prescriptions. You never need an appointment for a complete eye examination, nor will you need an appointment to celebrate the grand opening of Vision Shoppes, now in Plainview.

BOWIE CAPTURES GIRLS INDOOR

The Hicksville Americans Soccer Club held its 7th Annual Indoor Tournament for the under 16 girls this weekend. There were 10 teams competing including visitors from Bowie, Maryland and Fairfax, Virginia.

The qualifying 5 rounds were spaced with 3 games on Saturday and 2 on Sunday. At the end of these rounds, the four teams advanced to the semi-finals. Hicksville was outstanding scoring shutout victories over all five of their opponents: Ocean-side (2-0), Island Trees (3-0), Massapequa (2-0), Bowie (1-0), and Brentwood (3-0). Hicksville's great defense was led by goalie Theresa Dolan and backs Karen Jung, Karen Dolan, Bev Zaza and Fran Panetta. The front line of Karen Kolovich, Carol McCausland, Tricia Valle and Donna DeStefano was also outstanding.

The top four teams at the end of the qualifying rounds and their point totals were as follows: 1st Hicksville (10), 2nd Fairfax (8), 3rd Bowie (7), and 4th Northport (7). Bowie was awarded third place since they had defeated Northport 2-0 in head to head competition in round two.

The first semi-final pitted Hicksville against Northport. Hicksville led 1-0 at the half and seemed on their way to another shutout. Northport came out on fire in the second half and took a 2-1 lead which held up till the final buzzer with Hicksville gamely trying to even the game.

The other semi-final pitted Fairfax and Bowie, two outdoor Washington area soccer rivals. The game sawsawed back and forth and ended in a 1-1 tie. During the third overtime period Bowie took a high shot that got behind the Fairfax goalie and moved Bowie into the finals against Northport. Kim Alfriend, the Fairfax goalie, was heartbroken, but she played outstanding goal in the tournament and long with the Hicksville, Bowie and Northport goalies was a prime reason for her team reaching the finals. It should also be noted that Bowie and Fairfax had never played indoor before yet both teams were outstanding.

Before the final game, eight & V Apollo soccer players put on a demonstration for the girls and the fans present. The Apollo also donated season tickets to the coach and players of the winning team.

The final game was also a dithanger with both teams matching goal for goal and ending in a 2-2 tie. In the first sudden death, Bowie put the ball past the Northport goalie to take first place and the perpetual trophy which Hicksville had won last year. Joe Lucie, the Bowie coach, expressed his joy at winning and also how much he and his girls enjoyed indoor soccer. Mr. Lucie also presented the Apollo season tickets to Mr. Dolan, the Hicksville coach, for his girls who had billeted the girls from Bowie. All the girls enjoyed their weekend and their new found friends.

The first and second place trophies for the tournament were donated by the Galileo Lodge, B.P.O. Elks and their Exalted Ruler, John Mulligan. The Elks are also the sponsor of the Hicksville under 16 team. Mr. Mulligan attended the tournament Saturday and was on hand Sunday to present the trophies. Unfortunately the tournament ran later than expected and he had to leave for work.

The final awards of the tournament, also donated by the Elks Club, were won by the following girls:

MVP Laura Beier (Massapequa)
GOALIE Laura Pence (Bowie)
Sportsmanship Karen Jung (Hicksville)

This was the second year in a row that Laura Beier and Karen Jung have won these awards. Congratulations girls.

Bantam Blue Team

The Hicksville Americans Bantam Blue Team, sponsored by the Mid-Island Bowl, travelled to the 3rd Annual North Shore Soccer Club Indoor Tournament on the weekend of February 5, 6, 1977. On Saturday the team played 6 games winning 2 and tying 4. Sunday brought six more rounds of preliminary games with the Blue team winning two, losing three and tying one. At the end of preliminary play, Hicksville was tied for second place in Division 1 with 4 wins, 3 losses and 5 ties. Quarter final opponent was St. Elizabeth's, Huntington, the Division 2 leader, whose preliminary round record was 9 wins and 1 loss. Hicksville's Phil Ziemicki opened the scoring midway through the first half. At the half the score was tied 1-1. The second half was scoreless. The first 5 minute sudden death overtime period failed to break the deadlock. In the first minute of the second overtime period, P. Ziemicki drove home the winning goal with a high shot just under the crossbar. Final score 2-1. Hicksville in semi-final play Hicksville met North Shore. North Shore had defeated Hicksville twice during preliminary action. Tremendous defensive play by both teams kept the game scoreless through the fourteen minutes of regulation play. The score remained deadlocked 0-0 after two 5 minute sudden-death overtime periods. Early in the third overtime period, left wing Daren Fisher drove a low shot past the North Shore goalie for the game winner. Final score 1-0. Hicksville.

In the finals Hicksville opposed Massapequa. The double and triple overtime victories in the quarter and semi-finals had taken its toll on the Hicksville players. They bowed to Massapequa 5-2. Fullback Scott Hertz scored both Hicksville goals in the final game. The determined play of the Hicksville team earned the players a standing ovation from the crowd as they were introduced for their second place trophies. The players who competed in this tournament were: Goalie Richard Markey, fullbacks Scott Hertz, Martin Jaycard, Richard Humann and forwards Luis Mejia, Phil Ziemicki, Daren Fisher, Brian McKenna and Joseph Dougherty.

stood 60 pounds of pressure, which wasn't necessary. Since it was being tested at 25 PSI, double the amount recommended. Milwaukee has a very good sewage treatment plant, but they have breweries that make very good fertilizer. There has been a grant approved to work on charging the water. We now have 3 feet of frost in the ground and construction has ground to a halt.

Approximate dates for the sewer lines will be: Jan. 1, 1978 for the area east of Jerusalem Avenue, south of Old Country Road and north of the Town Line; July 1978, for the triangular area between Jerusalem Avenue and Newbridge Road, from Old Country Road to the Town Line; December 1979 for the area bordered by Newbridge Road, Wadsworth Pkwy., Old Country Road and the Town Line; March 1980 for Main Hicksville and the Matine Park Area; April 1978, from East Street; and July 1977, between Northern State and the F.F. We are currently below the injection today.

At the March 3rd Community Council Meeting, we will have our own Hicksville Para-Medics who will give an actual demonstration with full equipment and a "view" from the audience. These volunteers, who give so much of their time for the welfare of our community, will show us how to react in an emergency. We will also have a short presentation from the Hicksville Parks Task Force regarding its current status and up-coming vote.

In April, we are planning to have Supervisor Colby discuss plans for Hicksville, and Ken Arnes, Library Director, present the Library Budget.

Concert

Paul Doktor, internationally famous violinist, will perform at the Hicksville Public Library on Sunday afternoon, February 20 with James Gemmell, pianist. Mr. Doktor has long been known as one of the few great performers on the Viola and has earned his reputation not only as an outstanding artist, but also as a pioneer for the Viola as a virtuoso solo instrument. Son of Karl Doktor, violinist with the "Busch Quartet," he began his studies with his father and later received his diploma from the Vienna State Academy of Music. When he was unanimously awarded the First Prize at the International Music Competition in Geneva, he was the first violinist ever to achieve that high honor.

Mr. Doktor has made his home in the United States, concertizing and teaching, since 1947. In addition to his solo career, he is also known as the founder of the Hecoco Ensemble, the New York String Sextet and the New String Trio. He is also well known for his contributions to the viola literature, with many editions to his credit and several compositions written for or dedicated to him. Mr. Doktor teaches at Juilliard, Mannes College and New York University and has recorded for Westminster-ABC, Telefunken, Odyssey, BASF and Mirrosonic labels. The recital on Sunday, February 20 will begin at 3:00 pm and admission is free.

The Hicksville Library Sunday Music Series is made possible with a grant from the Nassau County Office of Cultural Development, Ralph G. Caso, county executive, John W. Maerhofer, director.

To Honor Washington

In honor of George Washington's Birthday the Hicksville Library has a special display in the lobby show case through the month of February. Included in the display is a facsimile of a letter written in 1789 by Washington to John Langdon accepting his call to the presidency. This important document of American history is from the Leon Galloway collection Mr. Galloway recently donated to the Library.

On Tuesday February 22 at 2:00 p.m., a slide show "Little Known Events of the American Revolution" will be presented by Gardner Gregory. This tape narrated slide set is a recent production of the Gregory Museum.

An 8mm film of Mount Vernon will be shown Thursday and Friday February 24 and 25, every half hour from 2 to 4 p.m. This film will be added to the library's circulating 8mm film collection after the week of celebration.

Recital

Robert Schubert formerly of Plainview, is a graduate of Hartt College of Music and the Manhattan School of Music where he studied violin with Raphael Bronstein and Ariana Broome. Mr. Schubert began his musical career while in High School.

Sunday February 27th at 3 P.M. Free admission but tickets are required and will be available at the Library starting February 21.

miles out to sea in an 84 inch pipe East of Jones Beach Parking Field No. 9. At the end of the pipe, 50 feet down, is a T diffuser 1/2 mile long. The sludge is transported to East Rockaway where it is placed on barges and shipped 12 miles out. This dumping ground will be discontinued by 1980-81. Within 3 years, they hope to have recharged water from the Cedar Creek Plant.

The Interceptor Sewer Lines, like the veins of a leaf, are large. From 2 feet wide at the L.I.E. they gradually increase until they are 108 inches going into the plant. About 70 miles of interceptor will be built and it is 80 percent completed. We are now paying 73 cents per hundred assessment on the interceptor lines.

Hicksville is a merger of three collection districts with 4 to 6 contract areas. Construction in Hicksville will begin next year and continue until the end of 1982. As construction increases, so will our assessment increase, until it reaches the peak and then tapers off. Thirty year bonds will be issued. We will be fortunate, though, to take advantage of Federal Aid. Projected tax rate if we had no aid would be $3 to $4 of assessed valuation. With aid, that figure might well be cut in half.

Two interceptors will be dug in Hicksville by the end of this year. They will be deep disruptions of construction right in the streets 6 to 10 weeks. The western interceptor will begin on Levittown Parkway to Arrow to Arcadia across Old Country Road to Charlotte to west John in back of Police Hut to Kuhl to Georgia to Garner across Northern State to Rockland to Fulton to Orange to Richmond, to Sullivan to Essex and it will stop at the L.I.E. The Eastern Interceptor will begin on New South Road to Plainview Road to East Street to Miller Road to Ronald Avenue and then head north.

Lateral lines are shallow lines (10 to 14 feet deep) to be dug on all our streets. The construction company will do 100 to 200 feet in one day, using the cut and cover method. It will take one week on the average to complete a Hicksville Street and the construction company will leave us with a backfilled trench. They will then come back to make house connections from the main to our curb line. Then it is the homeowners job to connect. Mr. Merklin suggested to group together to get a plumber for it will be cheaper that way. If there is any question about his previous work, call the Consumer Affairs office at IV 9-5000. They will be glad to notify you of any complaints concerning that company.

Patience and cooperation is needed. All the work will be supervised. In a Field Office Trailer, there will be a resident engineer to handle all problems. Whatever is in their power, they will do. The construction company will try to take weddings and the seriously ill into consideration when they do a block.

Within 30 days after the last pipe is laid, the road condition will hopefully return to normal.

In answering questions, Mr. Merklin touched on many topics. The "cheapest" sewer connection from house to curb with filling in the cesspool should cost $400, barring any complications. The pipe laid in the Atlantic Ocean
