Is Your Life Worth 30 Seconds?

By Ex-Capt. Owen Magee

SMOKE DETECTORS Can save your life. Take the time to read this.

All You Need To Know
TYPE: There are 2 type smoke detectors

(1) Battery powered.
(2) 110 V AC (House Power)
The battery powered unit installs quickly. The battery requires replacement once a year. Batteries cost from $3 to $6 approx. Be sure your detector has a warning feature to let you know when the battery needs replacing. This is a must.

The 110 volt unit must be plugged in to an outlet. Be sure the plug is fastened by a restraining device to prevent accidental disconnect. (These brackets are hard to get) A pilot lite lets you know the unit has power. If its out, the power is off.

COST: $25 to $50 ea. At local dept. stores & electrician supply houses.

APPROVAL: Be sure the unit

you buy is approved by UL (underwriters labs) or FM (factory Mutual)

STYLE: There are 2 styles Ionization and Photo Electric.

The IONIZATION style detects particles of combustion in the air. The PHOTO ELECTRIC CELL style activates when the density of smoke in the surrounding air is great enough to break a beam of light. Either one will do the job.

MAINTENANCE: The ION Chamber or cell needs cleaning during the year. Consult the instructions for your particular unit.

WEEKLY TEST: Test unit once a week by blowing smoke into the unit. Allow 15-20 seconds to take effect. Don't test with open flame.

ALARM: The alarm horn should be at least 85 decibels to warn sleepers through closed doors.

WHERE TO LOCATE: As a rule of thumb, the best place to mount the detector is in the hallway that the bedrooms are off of. Most detectors provide information on where to locate. If you sleep on the 1st & 2nd floors for example, 2 units would do the job best. Don't mount too close to the kitchen. False alarms from cooking could result. Of course the more units you have the better the protection.

DETECTORS NOT THE ONLY ANSWER

Once a smoke detector wakes you up, it won't help you if you haven't planned how to escape from the building. Plan 2 escape routes to safety from every room in the house. This combination of alerting devices and a planned escape can & has saved lives.

For some time the Hicksville F.D. has advocated the purchase of these smoke detector alarms. For your own safety - get one now. Any questions? Contact the Hicksville F.D. 20 E. Marie St. Hicksville, N.Y. 11801. We will be glad to assist.

News From Cub Pack 293

by Ray Hoesten

Our Cub Scouts and their families celebrated a very special afternoon on Sunday, February 6, as we all gathered for the annual Blue and Gold Dinner.

An old fashioned down home country style roast beef dinner was served as Joe LoCosto was installed as our new Cub Master. After dessert the Cubs of Den 8 entertained us with a Magic Show. Den 6 performed what their impressions would be on their first camping trip. Den 3's skit was "The Fonz becomes a Cub Scout."

"It's Mystery Charlie Brown was the topic of Den 4's preformance and a smart exhibition of physical exercises, wheelbarrow races and the art of knot tying was performed by our Webelos.

We are very proud to announce that Jimmy Mills and Steven Lobmeier graduated from Webelos to Boy Scout during this afternoon's festivities. Good Luck guys...

On the afternoon of February 13 all the Cubs of Pack 293 gathered at Cantiague Park to go ice skating with their families. On March 8th we will have our annual Pinewood Derby Meet and on May 14th we will visit The United States Military Academy at West Point.

Hearing On Underground Lines

A proposed amendment to the Town of Oyster Bay building code that will require developers of new subdivisions to provide underground utility lines for street lighting will be the subject of a public hearing before the Oyster Bay Town Board on Tuesday, March 15.

The installation of buried wires for street lights is a comparatively simple operation before streets, curbs, sidewalks, driveway aprons and landscaping is installed, Hogan said. However, such installations become exceedingly expensive when the above improvements must be torn up and replaced.

Urges SST Ban

Chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors Abe Seldin today joined other Long Island officials in calling upon the New York Port Authority to make the ban against SST landings at Kennedy Airport permanent.

Seldin sent telegrams to William J. Ronan, chairman of the Port Authority and New York Governor Hugh Carey and New Jersey Governor Brendan Byrne citing that the landing of the SST at Kennedy could "have a serious detrimental effect on the market value of property in the western section of our county."

"Such a decrease in value," stated Seldin, "would cause a negative effect on the fiscal condition of towns, villages and school districts within Nassau."

Seldin urged Ronan and the Governors to take this economic impact into consideration before rendering any decision to allow SST landings. "One need only read the daily newspaper to understand the fiscal plight faced by local governments," stated Seldin. "In addition to the noise pollution problem, SST landings could become a tax burden on our property owners."

Art Exhibit

Painters, sculptors and photographers may now register for a Spring Art Exhibition to be held between March 23 and March 27 at Sunrise Mall, Massapequa.

The juried exhibition, which is being co-sponsored by the Merchants Association of Sunrise Mall and the Town's Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Department of Community Services will have five categories: oil and acrylic, watercolor, graphics/mixed media, sculpture and photography. It is open to artists 18 and older. No velvet paintings, crafts, jewelry or imports will be accepted.

The entry fee is $45 for 12 feet of exhibition space. Spaces will be allotted on a first come, first serve basis.

Staging Flora '77

On March 5 when the ribbon is cut to mark the opening of Flora '77 a sigh of relief can be heard throughout the garden show. "We made it again!" Months of planning, preparing, prefabricating and worrying come to an end. The last three hectic days of putting it all together are over.

The closing of Flora '76 had marked the beginning of Flora '77. New floor plans were laid out by the Show Architect and spaces were allocated to the exhibitors for the Garden Show a whole year away.

By summer or early fall the exhibitors did compile their ideas and goals on paper. Plans were drawn and redrawn. The designer strives to accomplish a compromise between his dream of an ideal garden and the reality of what can be created in a drab, empty drafty hall with a cold concrete floor at a time when nature is still in its winter sleep.

Plants are carefully selected, making sure that they fit with the character of the garden. The plants have to be able and willing to be forced into the Spring growth period before their time. All of them have to be brought into greenhouses at scheduled time intervals; some need extra special attention. From this time on, the plants are in the hands of the forcing supervisor. His knowledge and judgment will decide when to coax a plant along and when to slow down a plant to have them just perfect for the show opening date.

Meanwhile, all other materials necessary for the creation of a successful garden have to be chosen and collected: Rock, fences, paving materials, furniture, planters and many other items. Over the winter many parts of the garden are prefabricated at the nursery shops. Everything looks like a wild jigsaw puzzle.

Then comes the final three days before show opening: Early the first morning columns of trucks are waiting for their turn to be guided into the Coliseum exhibit hall. The unloading begins. Quickly the entire hall comes to life: trucks dump heaps of sand and accessories, unload the prefabricated parts of the exhibits and men move things around the floor, hammer and saw and argue. After just a few hours the first gardens take on shape; the jigsaw puzzle pieces fall slowly into place (and sometimes they don't).

The plants begin to arrive that afternoon and all the next day. Each truckload is anxiously checked over by the exhibitors: How do the plants look? Did many of the fragile flowers and leaves break during the truckride from the greenhouse across Long Island? Are the plants just forced at the right state or will they beat their full beauty at the end of the show or maybe after?

After the trees and larger plants are set, reset and adjusted to fit the picture in the designer's mind, the skeleton of the garden is erected. Next, the filling in process begins. Patios and paving materials are laid, groundcovers and flowering plants are laid out and planted in moist peatmoss. All plants receive a thorough watering. The flowers are protected from dust and drafts with a silkpaper covering until all construction work is finished up.

Try to keep above all the maddening activity is the Garden Designer. His artistic sensitivity has to feel the character of an individual tree or shrub, the various colors of the flowering plants, the textures and colors of the building materials.

Commission Plans Meetings

Dorothy H. McGee, Chairman of the Town of Oyster Bay Bicentennial Commission, announced that the Commission plans to meet on March 14th at 8 P.M. at Nassau Hall. Successive meetings are to take place bi-monthly on the second Monday of the month.

Dear Friends...

As we told you last week, on Monday, Feb. 28th, the Nassau County Board of Supervisors will be discussing the $158-million sewer project for our areas. This project covers Hicksville, Plainview, Old Bethpage, Jericho, Syosset, Bethpage and parts of Westbury. It is Sewer District No. 3, which involves the area from the Meadowbrook Parkway to the Suffolk line, south of the Long Island Expressway. Next week we will have the details of this hearing for you, if you are unable to attend the Supervisor's meeting.

And speaking of this Supervisor's meeting, the Board will also be voting on plans for a $20-million shopping center, proposed by County Exec Ralph Caso, to be located in the vicinity of the Nassau County Coliseum on Hempstead Tpke. in Uniondale. Opposition to this proposal is growing, led by several nearby Chambers of Commerce and Merchants Association. Their representatives will undoubtedly be present at this Supervisor's meeting, as well as those who are in favor of this multi-million dollar project. We carry details of this proposition on this page, with more to come next week.

A nice lady from Hicksville phoned to say that the Jamaica High School January and June 1947 classes are planning a 30-year class reunion. If you belong to this group and want further information phone Terri Haggerty at 931-6026.

This week we also heard from an active Hicksvillian regarding the tragic conditions which the State of New York seem to be imposing upon some of the elderly residents of the Presbyterian Home in Woodbury. Some of these Senior Citizens who have sold all that they owned many years ago and paid to be accepted by this home FOR LIFE, are now being told that they must move to other homes. We are looking into the details of such cruel, inhuman treatment for we feel that whatever new rules and regulations may be necessary, they should only apply to future applicants...not to those who have been living there, expecting to make it their home for life. We cannot suggest any action until we have more details, but hope to be able to let you know about this in the near future.

It's best wishes on the occasion of their first anniversary to Hicksville's Irish Pub, the Stack 'O Barley. May you have many more, gentlemen.

That's all for this week. Stay well.

Oppose $20-Million Mall

Several local Chambers of Commerce and Merchants Associations have come out in opposition to the $20-Million Mall proposed on 36 acres along Hempstead Tpke. in Uniondale, near the Nassau Coliseum.

The East Meadow Chamber of Commerce has sent the following letters to all County and Town of Hempstead officials as follows:

Gentlemen:
At a meeting of the East Meadow Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors we discussed the planned shopping center on Hempstead Tpke. west of Meadowbrook Pky.

It was the general consensus of opinion that another shopping center in an area saturated with shopping centers will only detract business from the local merchants and cause the closing of more business establishments in the community. Any gain in employment would only be of a temporary nature.

After the general discussion a motion was made and passed unanimously as follows: "Be it resolved that the East Meadow Chamber of Commerce is opposed to another shopping plaza being erected in an already over-saturated general area such as Hempstead Tpke—running from the Village of Hempstead to Levittown (through Uniondale and East Meadow) that this resolution be presented to be proper authorities." (signed) Erwin Stuart, President East Meadow Chamber of Commerce.

At press time it was ascertained that a meeting was being set up for later in the week at which representatives of the Levittown Chamber of Commerce, the Village of Hempstead, the East Meadow Chamber of Commerce and the Roosevelt Field Shopping Center, would meet to plan a joint strategy although at press time it was not certain if all invited groups were opposed to this new $20 Million mall being built.

Representatives of the Chambers involved in the 1974 fight to prevent a shopping center being built on the Oberle property on the borderline of East Meadow and North Bellmore, recalled that at that time the Nassau County Planning Commission had issued a report which stated that there was an overabundance of shopping malls and plazas in Nassau County.

Mr. Owen T. Smith, present Chairman of the Nassau County Planning Commission, stated in an address before the Long Island Association on Nov. 30, 1976 that the vacancy factor in retail stores in Nassau County has increased from 1.4 percent in 1972 to 6.0 percent at present.

"There was 14 million square feet of retail stores within shopping centers in 1972," Mr. Smith stated, "and presently there is 16 million square feet, but the vacancy factor has gone up considerably, due mostly to the bankruptcy of W.T. Grants, the closing of Great Eastern, the closing of some Bohack's and some A & P stores, and, of course, the closings at Bar Harbor in Massapequa."

"Throughout the County at present there are 2,564 retail shops in 151 shopping centers, and there are 185 vacancies within these centers. There is a total of 1 million square feet of vacant commercial properties throughout Nassau County."

Mr. Smith also told those present that it is important that each builder "have tenants before building more shopping malls in this county."

"We must be careful to avoid overbuilding so that we do not rob Peter to pay Paul," Mr. Smith said. "However, this does not seem to be the case in this proposed $20 million mall. Mr. Breslin, the realtor involved, has already signed up Sears, and several other tenants who will not in any way duplicate any in the area. We do not feel that the local small merchant will be hurt. On the contrary, because more traffic will be generated, they will do more business," he concluded.

"We must have tenants signed up before we build more," said Mr. Smith, "and they must be tenants new to the area rather than stripping an existing shopping area of tenants. We have been assured by Mr. Breslin that this will not happen in this proposed mall."

Leases on two parcels of land totalling 36 acres on the south side of Hempstead Tpke. in Uniondale will be on the Board of Supervisors' calendar this Monday, Feb. 28th. If approved, a hearing will be set by the Town Board of the Town of Hempstead for the rezoning necessary for construction to take place from residential to business.

Nassau Commerce and Industry Commissioner James Wells has been working out the lease arrangements. Mr. Wells said the completion of the necessary internal roadway is critical to the development plan.

"The extension of the roadway from the bridge over the Meadowbrook Pky. to the point where Peter's Gate intersects Merrick Avenue is just about ready for approval to go out for bid," Mr. Wells said. "According to the timetable, that road should be completed right about the time the center construction is completed."

Mail Fraud Loss In Millions

"American consumers lost an estimated $514 million last year as a result of mail fraud and misrepresentation - by - mail schemes," according to postmaster SC manager, Anthony M. Murello of Hicksville.

Accounting for most of the loss were schemes involving stocks and land investments, credit misrepresentation, and false claims against insurance companies.

"In a concerted effort to assist consumers, postmaster general Benjamin F. Bailor has designated February 21-26 as the second annual postal consumer protection week. This week is designed to alert the public to mail-order schemes and serves to emphasize the consumer protection activities of the postal service," postmaster Murello said. "The postal service has been helping consumers since enactment in 1872 of the mail fraud statute."

Investment schemes ranked first in dollar value, with a loss to the public of $59 million. Failure to furnish merchandise ranked first in the number of complaints received, with more than 19,000, valued at $2.6 million.

Postmaster Murello stressed that the overwhelming majority of those companies making up the $60 billion mail-order industry are honest and seek to satisfy their customers. But, as in other industries, there are a few disreputable ones that cause problems.

"In conjunction with consumer protection week, we are re-emphasizing the consumer service card program, to remind consumers of our continuing interest in their mail-service and related problems," Postmaster Murello said.

"If you have any problems, complete and mail a consumer service card for mail service assistance. Talk with my office or a postal inspector concerning possible false advertising-by-mail or mail fraud. Let's work together," Postmaster Murello added.

For the independence of an island bank and the resources of a world bank visit a pyramid in Long Island.

The Pyramid is the symbol of Bankers Trust in Long Island. And, incidentally, of Bankers Trust Company in New York City.

But, although we share the same symbol, we're set up to be independent.

That's why we've established separate areas throughout Long Island. From Eastern Queens to Suffolk.

And assigned the decision making in these areas to Long Islanders, familiar with the Long Island business community. Like James C. McBride, vice president and head of our Long Island Region; Robert E. Davis, Commercial Business Development officer in Eastern Queens and Nassau and Frederick C. Braun III, Commercial Business Development officer in Suffolk.

So when you need a loan, we don't have to check with New York before giving you an answer.

But one of the virtues of being allied with a big New York bank is that we can provide the large resources that many local banks can't, for services like international financing or money market instruments.

What we're offering is the best of both worlds. Whether you want a local island bank or a world bank, a visit to the Pyramid can be a rewarding experience.

Our Lady Of Mercy Activities

Our Lady of Mercy School, always a very vibrant and active organization, has been buzzing with activity this past week in celebration of National Catholic Schools Week.

"We want the world to know what Catholic schools are all about, so as to correct many of the current myths. Our theme this year has been 'Catholic Schools—A plus for America', said a spokesperson for the school.

"In our small classes, generally about twenty-five students per class, the individual student is made aware of his own importance as a human being. While group teaching methods are also employed, individual attention is given where needed, by the classroom teacher and by our specialists, when necessary. We are fortunate in having available to us teachers, provided by the school district, who are specialists in learning disabilities, such as reading, math, and speech. We also can call upon the services of a school psychologist when necessary," she continued.

"The children not only receive a superior general education, similar in scope and content to that of the public schools in the area, but many extra activities are provided. Class trips, such as the recent sixth grade visit to the Hayden Planetarium, are common. Public service lessons, such as the recent fire prevention lectures given by local fire department, are utilized. The younger children were told about fire prevention procedures and were given safety check lists to bring home—they also each were given fire hats, which they enjoyed."

"We are very proud of our many sports teams, our twirlers, our glee club, and our many other extra-curricular activities that round out our children's educational experiences. So you see, we do all the things the public schools do, with a big plus; we do it for the love of God and the dissemination of His Holy Word," she continued.

"Yes, religion is a big plus in our lives. It is not taught instead of some subject, but in addition to all the regular studies. This past week our children have striven to demonstrate this fact by projects and activities displaying the scope and depth of Catholic Education."

"On Tuesday, February 8, our eighth graders competed in a speech contest whose topic was 'What My Catholic Education Means to Me'. Winners were: First place, Eileen Koenig, Second place, Doreen Keenan, and third place Kevin Donahue. Congratulations."

"Each class has been working hard on a wide assortment of topics. The little kindergartners drew pictures and made cardboard replicas of many of God's gifts to us, i.e., the flowers, birds, trees, etc. The fourth grade, on the other hand, has been studying the Revolutionary period and they produced a play entitled 'Betsy Ross—Maker of the First Flag'. They also made many projects on the subject of the Revolution. Our seventh and eighth graders hosted a special luncheon for our 'over 50' club. They also participated in a Math Fair, held at Walt Whitman High School in Huntington. From among the hundreds of entrants from fifty schools on Long Island—mostly public, but including a few parochial—our own Schmidman sisters, Mary Kate in seventh grade and Lucie Ann in eighth, were winners in the preliminary rounds. They will now enter another Fair, competing against other winners, on March 23. Congratulations to them too."

"The highlight of the week's activities, however, was the special Liturgy said on Wednesday night for all students, teachers, parents, and close friends and relatives from our school. The Mass was celebrated by our Pastor, Reverend James Boesel, and by Reverend Charles Gartner, Assistant Pastor. Father Boesel, in his homily, stressed our commitment to the complete education of the whole child and enumerated some of our methods of achieving this goal. After the homily, two of the parents, representing all the parents, asked the assembled teachers to renew their commitment to the school and to our children. This they did. The parents were then asked to make the same commitment, which they gladly did. Finally, the children were asked to commit themselves to the school, the teachers, their parents, and, most importantly, to themselves. They did. It was a beautiful and touching ceremony. At the end of the Mass, Eileen Koenig gave her winning speech on Catholic Education."

"Everyone was then invited to the school auditorium where refreshments were served and parents were able to view the many projects that the children have been working on recently. Altogether, it was a very meaningful and rewarding evening," she concluded.

Young Republican Leaders Endorse Purcell

Over 30 leaders of the Nassau County Young Republicans have endorsed the candidacy of Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell for Nassau County Executive.

Serving as Chairperson of the group, which is forming a "Youth for Purcell" Committee, is Caren I. Biberman, a resident of Merrick and Third Vice President of the County Young Republicans. Stated as Campaign Coordinator is Michael Thomas of Muttontown. Treasurer is Nicholas Caruso of Hicksville.

In announcing the formation of the Committee, Miss Biberman noted that in determining their choice for County Executive, most YR leaders had set two criteria: Who could win, and who could do the job.

"We looked at the broad support Supervisor Purcell has enjoyed in the past, looked at his record of caring about people and their needs, considered his performance and that of his opponents, and found that there really was only one person for the job and that was Francis T. Purcell," she said.

She also noted that they hoped to make the youth committee more than just an informal association. "We intend to ask Supervisor Purcell to authorize us to raise funds on his behalf, so that we can start mobilizing the hundreds of young people who stand ready to work for him," she added.

Among the YR leaders endorsing Purcell are Chris Braunlich, President of the Nassau County Council of Young Republicans, and Lawrence Nedelka, President of the Garden City Young Republican Club.

Braunlich cautioned that the endorsements were strictly personal ones. "Up until February 16, Young Republican Clubs were constitutionally prohibited from endorsing a candidate," he said. He also noted that several other YR leaders have indicated a preference for Purcell but were prohibited from publicly endorsing him at this time due to clauses in their Club Constitution.

The Youth Committee is expected to name other officers soon.

The Young Republican leaders endorsing Purcell are as follows: Christian N. Braunlich of Wantagh, President of the County YRs; Gary A. Maffei of Oceanside, First Vice President of the County YRs; Janet Knipping of Williston Park, Second Vice President of the County YRs; Caren Biberman of Merrick, Third Vice President of the County YRs; Robert Grella of Mineola, Treasurer of the County YRs; Barbara Walsh of Uniondale, Corresponding Secretary of the County YRs; Christine Maffei of Oceanside, Recording Secretary of the County YRs; Thomas Simmons of Baldwin, Chairman of the Nassau County Teen-Age Republican Committee; Nick Caruso of Hicksville, Chairman of the Oyster Bay YR Committee; James Drohan of East Rockaway, Vice Chairman of the County YR Issues and Resolutions Committee.

Also Marie Ford of Westbury, President of the Carle Place-Old Westbury YR Club; Jeffrey DeLuca of Mineola, President of the C.W. Post College Republicans; Larry Rothkranz, President of the Freeport

Young Republican Club; Larry Nedelka, President of the Garden City Young Republican Club; Tom Gariepy, Vice President of the Hempstead Young Republican Club; Kevin Paddberg, President of the Levittown North Young Republican Club; Robert Maziaski, President of the Malverne Young Republican Club; Bruce Rubin, Co-President of the Baldwin Teen-Age Republican Club; Michael Spae, President of the Mineola Young Republican Club; Michael Thomas of Muttontown, President of the East Norwich-Muttontown Young Republican Club.

Also, Peter Dwyer of Floral Park, President of the Nassau Community College Republican Club; Robert Courtney, President of the New Hyde Park Young Republican Club; Randy Bartha of Sea Cliff, President of the North Shore YR Club; Michael Lanzello, President of the North Valley Stream YR Club; Kendall Lampkin, Past President of the Roosevelt YR Club and a member of the Roosevelt Library Board of Trustees; Richard DeVivo, President of the Uniondale Young Republican Club; John DeGrace, President of the Valley Stream Young Republican Club; Anthony B. Golio, President of the Wantagh Teen-Age Republican Club; Kevin J. Braunlich, President of the Wantagh Young Republican Club, and Arthur Saitta, President of the Williston Young Republican Club.

ALL STATES EASE TAXES OF ELDERLY

All 50 states now have adopted some form of property-tax relief for senior citizens, but according to the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants, studies indicate that the availability of such relief, averaging about $200 per beneficiary, doesn't seem to have much effect on the decision by the elderly to stay put or sell.

YOUTH FOR PURCELL: Town of Hempstead Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell talking with TOB Young Republican Chairman Nicholas Caruso of Hicksville at a recent meeting. Mr. Purcell is running for the Republican nomination for Nassau County Executive. Mr. Caruso has been elected treasurer of the recently-formed Youth For Purcell Organization.

jacent properties but is dispersed on the premises by natural absorption or by the installation of customarily acceptable drainage or retention facilities. Such rules and regulations shall not conflict with the jurisdiction of any State or Nassau County agency."

"(d) The Superintendent of the Division of Building shall have the authority to waive the requirements of this section whenever the construction or alteration of a building is so insubstantial that the application of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to this section would serve no public purposes. In such cases the stamp of approval of the Town Engineer shall not be required."

"(f) Each applicant for a building permit or certificate of occupancy shall comply with all drainage, grading, elevation, underground utility lines, and landscaping requirements established pursuant to this section."

ADD a new subsection (i) to Section 6-32 of Article II of Chapter 6 to read as follows:

Cable under driveways and in roadways shall be contained in conduit. Street lighting cable shall be not less than eighteen (18) inches below grade and not less than twenty-four (24) inches below grade when contained in conduit."

All persons interested shall have an opportunity to be heard upon the said proposed amendments at the time and place aforementioned.

The ordinance is on file in the office of the Town Clerk and may be examined during regular business hours by any and all interested persons.

Big Brothers/ Sisters Need You!

"Big Brothers Sisters of Nassau County is making a concerted effort to recruit 50 new volunteer Big Brothers and Sisters during Big Brothers of America week February 20-26," Jim Boyle, Director of the program announced today.

"Right now, we have 130 boys eagerly waiting for their Big Brothers. Only through the recruitment of more volunteers can each of these young boys have the Big Brother he needs and wants."

The 1977 Big Brothers Week will be observed in more than 200 communities in the United States to stimulate the recruitment of volunteers.

"The Big Brothers Sisters program's purpose is to provide appropriate adult companions for single-parent children on a one-to-one basis. It has proven to be one of the most effective methods for the prevention of delinquency in the community," Mr. Boyle explained. The important concept of the program is one of a healthy friendship between a responsible adult with a child who needs the guidance and care the volunteer provides.

The continued success of the one-to-one approach, depends directly on the number of new volunteers recruited. "Seventy-four years of experience have proven that the Big Brother concept works," commented Mr. Boyle.

People wishing to volunteer as "Bigs" should call one of the following numbers: Westbury-333-3990, Levittown - 796-6633, Hicksville 822-7594, Freeport 378-2442, Great Neck 466-9677, Farmingdale CH 9-2923. If you don't live in any of the above communities call the main office at 627-1177.

People can learn to swim easily because the average human body is slightly lighter than fresh water, and much lighter than salt water.

ZORBA: The latest production at the Thanos Dinner-Theater is "Zorba," a stage adaptation of the Nikos Kazantzakis bestseller, "Zorba the Greek." The musical stars Ken Butler as the free-spirited Greek. The show is based on Kazantzakis, the famous book by Vikos. The Thanos Dinner-Theater, located at the Hempstead Holiday Inn, is featuring a special Greek course in addition to its standard fare for this engagement.

"Zorba" plays Wednesday through Sunday evenings, with a matinee on Wednesdays. The show will run through April 17. Prices range from $9.95 to $12.95.

IT'S FREE, BABY

Indeed, to say that we have peace with God is hardly more than to say that we have been justified, since justification puts an end to the legal strife between the judge (God) and the accused (us). We, the accused, have been justified, put into a new relationship to the judge. This has all been done only by and through Christ crucified and risen. Nothing in our case before the judge hangs on what we ourselves hopelessly attempt to do. Our hope lies in Christ. This new relationship that we have with God our Father is one of love and understanding. Can you just imagine our Creator looking down on us? All He would see is mass confusion and frustration. God says in Christ, "Hey, hold on, you just can't make it on your own. You never could and you never will, I'll just have to do things myself." So He sent His only Son, Christ Jesus, a true sign of His love for us. It is Christ who justifies us. No more than justification is "peace" an experience of this new relationship in which we find ourselves, and the great thing about it is that "It's Free, Baby." You can't even buy it. Now I ask you, how many things can you get today for free?

To experience this freedom is to know that we depend totally on Christ crucified and risen. It's knowing that God our Father realizes that we all have our shortcomings and failures but still loves and forgives us. He wants us to put all our hopes and fears on the shoulders of Christ. We experience this feeling of peace only when we realize that we are justified only on the basis of our faith and hope in Jesus Christ. This peace, which everyone is looking for, comes to us when we see that we just cannot achieve perfection, but rather trust in the love and understanding of Jesus.

As Paul says in Romans 5, "It is moreover through Him (Jesus Christ) that we have gained our access to this grace (free gift) in which we stand." It is through Christ that we can look to the future and find peace in His forgiveness and love.

Prayer Service

The United Methodist Women of the Hicksville United Methodist Church will hold a service of prayer, communion and praise, "Life Up Your Heart", in the Social Hall of the church, Old Country Road, on Wednesday evening, March 2, at 8 P.M.

All are welcome.
This is a good way to start the Lenten Season.

Facts & Fancies

Few of us realize it but flowers existed long before there were people to enjoy them. In fact, roses have been blooming in North America for at least 32 million years!

The Romans were literally knee-deep in roses; not only were they grown everywhere, but floors of palaces were often strewn with rose petals many inches deep.

Plaza Plans Solar Heating For Mall

What's new under the Long Island sun? The warmth of the enclosed mall at Mid-Island Plaza will be, if a federal grant for a solar heating system is approved.

Franklin L. Frank, executive partner with Mid-Island Shopping Plaza Co., announced today that Mid-Island Plaza, Hicksville, New York, has applied to the federal Energy Research & Development Administration (ERDA) for the grant. If approved, the solar heating system would reportedly be the first in the nation for a major regional shopping center complex and the first for a large facility on Long Island.

The project would serve as a prototype for future commercial and industrial installations where energy conservation in large building areas has become increasingly important throughout the country.

The energy conservation solar energy heating system, developed by the Energy Systems Division of the Long Island-based Grumman Corporation, would use 370 three-foot-wide by nine-foot-long copper collector panels, comprising about 10,000 square feet, mounted on the roof of the 2,000-foot-long mall. Operating in a conventional manner, the system would provide hot water directly into existing heating units mounted on the mall ceiling directly below the collectors. Thus, it will supplement the mall's existing climate control operations.

Other major shopping centers around the country, faced with similar rising fuel bills to heat their large facilities, will be watching closely for the results if Mid-Island's grant is approved and they may eventually follow its lead.

In addition to plans for solar heating, the shopping center's multi-million dollar renovation and expansion program, now underway, includes maximum use of interior materials with insulative qualities for the mall's conversion. The new floor will be essentially of natural wood and carpeting, a new acoustical tile ceiling is being installed, and there will be styrofoam wall insulation on clerestory window areas in conjunction with reduction of window openings in order to reduce heat gain and heat loss.

What A Record!!!

by A. Player

Dig, set and spike might not be household words for every home on Long Island, but for the parents and friends of the Hicksville Girls' Varsity Volleyball team, I'm sure many of them were saying these words in their sleep as well as counting volleyballs going over the net.

The girls had a very rewarding season with a record of 21-1. Their accomplishments included: Winner of the Uniondale Winter Invitational Tournament, League III Champion--No. 2 in Nassau County, and--No. 3 on Long Island (113 teams involved).

Looking back, those girls had three outstanding years as volleyball players. As sophomores (J.V.), they had a league record of 9-0 with a chance to play for the League Championship. Last year as juniors, their record was 19-1 including winner of the Section VIII Winter Tournament sponsored by the Nassau County Recreation and Parks Department, League III

Champion and 2nd in the County. Combining these three years the girls' overall statistics state 49 wins and 3 losses which is quite a record.
