A LANDMARK PASSES: Another landmark business passed from the Hicksville scene last week when Tom Braun's Meat Market on Broadway closed its doors after many years of serving our town's residents.

Passerby Ann Evers and Pancho survey the now-closed market whose proprietor, Thomas Braun and his family were among the Hicksville pioneers.

We are all sorry to see this change in the Hicksville scene and wish Mr. Braun well in his future profession in Suffolk County.

Parks Referendum and Para-Medics Discussed At Community Council

By Carole Wolf

In exactly two hours, the Hicksville Community Council brought the Community up-to-date with the latest news. Tom Clark, Councilman from the Town of Oyster Bay, and John McMann and Kevin Farrol from the Hicksville Fire Department Para-Medics, were precise and informative in their presentations.

The most important plans of the Parks Task Force is the preparation of the referendum for vote. This referendum will allow Hicksvillians the opportunity to buy or refuse to buy the plans submitted. In order to have the plans submitted for vote in June it will have to be brought before the Town Board around the end of April. This will allow the Board to set a date for the Public Hearing, which is usually held three weeks previous to a vote. The plans are now in the hands of the attorneys to spell out the exact wording and dollars and cents of the proposition, and Councilman Clark hopes it is out of that office soon. If the timetable is kept, the vote will proceed as planned. There are two pieces of park property to be built on - the triangle on Old Country and New South Road which will contain an open field and a few buildings, and the Giese property on Lee Avenue, which will hold an indoor and out-purpose room and gym. The total cost to each homeowner will be somewhere between $26 to $35 a year until the bonds are paid off. There would be approximately 1 1/2 years of construction. If the referendum does not go through, the open land would still be park land, but no improvements could be made. The only extra cost would be in the actual cost of the year-round pools, and that would be a charge for the pool attendant and the chlorination. Several pros and cons were exchanged at the meeting, including that it would be a lot of money for a park to be vandalized, and that on Long Island, there are so many places to go. On the other side of the coin, it was said that the pool would be available for all the months of the year, not just in the summer, and that they would be a gym and all purpose room - not just for the young, but also for the senior citizens. Any problems can be brought up at the hearing.

While Councilman Clark was there, he told us of several problems and votes taken by the Town. During the ice and snow storms this winter, it was hard to see the sand. Now it is everywhere. Should the town take the plows off and put the sweepers to work? Or are we going to get more snow? Major roads were on the town's agenda to undergo total repair but with the sewers coming, all the town is trying to do is fill those potholes. There has been an application from Crown Gas to have a Gas Station and Car Wash on Broadway and Farm Lane (where another gas station now exists). It would be upgrading the existing facility, but would do will be a Town meeting in March concerning the petition and Mr. Clark would like some input from Hicksvillians. Let him know how you feel.

S-1 zoning, a proposal by HUD for low income and senior citizen housing, was voted on by the Town, on Tuesday the 1st. In the past, a 'turn key' method was used, whereby the federal government funded the project, and when it was completed, Town of Oyster Bay Housing Authority would run it. With the present bill, the Federal Government could give a 30 day notice and obtain control. The vote was 3 for (Saladino, Carmen, and Hogan) and 3 against (Mosca, Diamond, and Clark) with one abstention (Colby). Therefore, the bill did not pass. Mr. Clark was asked if the Town could get together with some developers and construct their own housing and he responded that he began looking into it three months ago, because people living in Hicksville for 20 years who sold their house for $30,000, would not be qualified for HUD's Low Income Housing.

Next, walking into the meeting in formation, with all their equipment, and looking as if they stepped right out of 'Emergency',

There are 40 Cardiac Arrests they had to know, of which 4 or 5 cause no breathing and heart failure. Then 4 weeks, 3 hours per week, they had to spend in the hospital - in Emergency, CCU, and Coronary. They then spent 4 weeks riding around in a police ambulance and 8 hours in Nassau County Medical Center, in Emergency Psychiatric. IV Class was 4 weeks, 4 nights a week. And on February 14, 1975 there were graduation ceremonies. Now, they carry 3 vital pieces of equipment - a Radio Pack, a Defibrillator, and a Drug Box. The Radio pack allows two way

Art Society Exhibit At Library

Currently at the Hicksville Public Library is a joint exhibit of the Independent Art Society and a one man show of one of the members, Steve Towner. The exhibit will run through April.

Mr. Towner, born in the Ukraine, came to America at the age of 10 months. His family settled in the coal mining hills of Taylor, Pennsylvania. Steve graduated from the University of Pennsylvania with a BFA in 1936. While a student there he excelled in football and baseball. A football knee injury cut short his career in pro-baseball. Entering the advertising field in New York City, he spent the next 30 years as lay-out man, art director and illustrator with ad agencies and art studios. In 1966 Mr. Towner joined the Advertising Art Faculty of SUNY at Farmingdale, where he teaches figure drawing and design. He studied illustration under Harvey Dunn; fine art with Feodor Zarharov; water color with Ed Whitney. At present he is again studying water color with John Rogers.

Included in the show is a portrait of Babe Ruth done by Towner. This large painting shows Ruth swatting a ball (labeled "The Golden Era") in the background are images of other baseball "greats." The Baseball Hall of Fame Museum in Cooperstown, N.Y., would like to have this to display in the Babe Ruth room. Mr. Towner has contracted a major league baseball owner for possible purchase of the picture, who will then put it on loan at the museum.

Be sure to come to the library this month and see the fine art of our local artists. The pictures are on view library hours.

"Busing Is Divisive," Cong. Wydler States

Declaring that "the American people are fed up with the disruption and divisiveness caused by the busing issue," Congressman John W. Wydler (R-Nassau County) has reintroduced a constitutional amendment to prohibit forced school busing for racial integration purposes.

In commenting on his action, Wydler said: "In its current Statement On Metropolitan School Desegregation, the United States Commission on Civil Rights has endorsed interdistrict school busing, such as the proposal last spring by the New York City Board of Education to bus students from Queens County to Nassau County to achieve racial balance. I totally disagree with this Report and its thrust, and strongly believe that this problem is not going to go away. It is time we face this problem squarely and lift the burdens it lays upon our children and our educators."

"I have stated many times that I consider such busing an unmitigated failure," Wydler said. "Everywhere that school busing for racial balance has been tried, it has resulted in increased segregation of the schools, increased costs of education, high absenteeism and more violence in the schools. Instead of spending money for education, school districts have found that they must spend it for buses, bus drivers, bus maintenance and school discipline.

"Year after year, the Congress has expressed itself on this issue," Wydler continued. "On no less than thirty-six separate occasions, the House of Representatives has voted for anti-busing language in legislation. Not only has the Congress repeatedly rejected such busing, but I certainly have found no parents' group in my District - be they black or white - in favor of it. Yet the courts have continued their flagrant disregard for the will of the people and of the Congress."

"In these circumstances," Wydler said, "I do not believe it realistic that the courts would uphold as constitutional a law prohibiting the courts from requiring this busing. Therefore, the only way to proceed is by adoption of a constitutional amendment which the courts would be compelled to obey."

"The people want an end to school busing for racial balance. It is time for the Congress to take a positive step in this direction by approving this constitutional amendment and submitting it to the states for ratification," Wydler concluded.

BENEFIT GAME: A thousand dollar donation to the Association for the Help of Retarded Children was made possible by a benefit game held by the New York Islanders High School Hockey League and the Town of Oyster Bay High School Hockey League. The event, which is held annually, helps the programs which AHRC sponsors for retarded children and adults.

A Task Force On Property Taxes

By Cong. Norman Lent

Nassau County taxpayers living on middle and fixed-incomes tell me they have already reached the limit of their ability to pay school and local government property taxes, heavy federal and state income taxes, increasing Social Security payments, and escalating state and municipal sales taxes, while at the same time attempting to keep up with the rise in the cost of living.

Many of my constituents are now paying more in property taxes than their entire mortgage payment-including interest, principal, and taxes-when they moved into their homes 20 or 25 years ago. This problem is not unique to Nassau, but despite the fact that our local officials strive to keep costs down, inflation and increased demand for government services have driven local taxes up to the point where property tax bills of $200 to $300 a month are not uncommon here.

Governor Hugh Carey's recently released budget for the State of New York is cause for alarm on the part of home owners in Nassau County. The $11.3 billion budget proposal will, if adopted, cost Nassau school districts some $15 million in state aid. That money would have to be made up out of local property taxes, adding still further to the burden.

The federal government must take the lead in developing an alternative to the crushing burden of local property taxes. I have long fought for federal revenue sharing as part of the solution. I believe additional steps are necessary.

Because patchwork legislation could cause more harm than good, I have cosponsored legislation to establish a National Task Force on the Taxation of Real Property by State and Local Governments.

The proposed Task Force would be appointed by the President, the Speaker of the House, and the Majority Leader of the Senate and be composed of federal, state, and local government officials, members of the academic community, and interest groups concerned with real property taxation. The Task Force would be required to report its recommendations within one year after appointment of its members. The study would include, but not be limited to the following areas:

- *waiver of the federal government's immunity from local taxes;
- *utilization of other forms of revenue to replace real property taxes;
- *state and local government taxation policies and ways to redistribute this tax burden;
- *reduction of property taxes through federal tax relief, property tax exemptions, and the taxation of property owned by tax exempt persons and organizations.

Perhaps the ultimate solution to the burden of property taxes lies in some other approach. However, a Task Force on Real Property Taxes is a necessary first step toward much needed relief for the strapped middle and fixed-income taxpayers.

Table Shopping Center Plans Your Opinion Requested

By Francis T. Purcell, Nassau County Bd. of Supvs.
and Pres. Supvr. Town of Hempstead

By unanimous agreement the Nassau County Board of Supervisors last week tabled a plan, proposed by County Executive Caso to lease valuable county-owned land at Mitchel Field for a Sears Shopping Center. The property, some 36 acres, is located on the south side of Hempstead Turnpike in Uniondale opposite the Nassau County Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

The decision to delay action on this controversial plan came on my motion after I met with village officials and local chambers of commerce who questioned the economic soundness of the scheme.

I was concerned that this shopping center plan would be pushed through without giving our residents ample time to study all its ramifications and express their views.

What do you think about the shopping center idea? Do you have any ideas for better use of this property? I'd like to hear from you. Please use the coupon below to express your views and mail it back to me.

Dear Friends. . .

THIS WEEK has been fraught with terror for many throughout our Country, especially in Washington, D.C. and, as one reads the pages of our daily newspapers and listens to the news over TV, it is, to say the least, a discouraging news that seldom makes the daily headlines. . . but, week by week, we do our best to bring you here in your weekly community newspaper. With a small but dedicated staff plus the cooperation of many concerned community leaders, we bring you, (along with what may at times be controversial news) a great deal of local news that helps to balance the scale of our daily world-wide news coverage. We couldn't help thinking just this while we were listening to the two young, well-trained volunteer fire dept para-medics at last Thursday's Hicksville Community Council meeting. They are just a small segment but an excellent illustration of many, young and old, who day in and day out make constructive community service a part of their lives. This is typically American . . . and very encouraging to us. May they never change, and may they continue to inspire all of us to similar action for they are part of the solution not part of the problem.

Protest Moving Of Seniors

by Marcia Yeates

Thousands and thousands of letters protesting the relocation of 53 residents of the United Presbyterian Home in Woodbury have been received by state legislators and officials of the State Dept. of Health. The elderly residents were given a March 1 deadline for re-location because of regulations which require health-care facilities such as the Presbyterian Home to house only elderly patients who require medical care. Those who can live in a less medically oriented atmosphere would be moved. As of this week, 15 people have been relocated to senior residents homes in Bohemia and Lake Ronkonkoma.

The Board of Directors at the Presbyterian Home passed a resolution on Monday which stated that they cannot accept the Health Dept. ruling requiring the removal of the residents. They asked that residents who had been in the home prior to March 1 be allowed to remain, but that future residents would comply with the new regulations.

In a letter sent out to all churches two weeks ago, the Rev. William T.P. Rambo, Executive of the Presbytery of L.I. stated: "The disruption of the lives of our people who have made the Residence their home can hardly be exaggerated. When they were admitted into our residence, they were given assurances that they would be able to remain there for life, drawing first upon their own resources and then upon those provided by government agencies. In effect, the state regulations are requiring us to break our word."

Members of 278 Presbyterian churches have deluged the offices of legislators and Health Dept. officials with letters of protest against the moves. The Board has asked for a meeting with the Health Dept. to work out a solution to the problem.

Opera And Auction

On Saturday, March 19th at 7:30 pm, the OPERA THEATRE OF LONG ISLAND will present Puccini's comic opera, GIANNI SCHICCHI (performed in English). The performance will be followed by an antique auction conducted by McKibbin & Martin Auctions, Inc.

An admission fee of $5.00 will enable you to enjoy one of Puccini's most charming operas, bid on selected fine antiques, and attend the reception which will follow. This unique and exciting event will be presented at the Children's Music Theatre of Long Island, West Hills Elementary School, Weston Street, South Huntington, N.Y. (across Route 110 from the Walt Whitman Shopping Center). The performance will begin at 7:30, but you are invited to come from 12:00 noon on to preview the antiques being put up for auction.

For tickets or additional information, please call 427-3731.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sheila,

Saturday, February 26th, was a sad day for the Town of Hicksville, another in a long line of such days. That was the day Braun's Meat Market was forced to close its doors after 81 years of doing business in the same building.

My wife and I have traded with Tom and his father Fred before him, since December 1949. In all that time we have never known Tom or his dad to have anything except the good of Hicksville and the surrounding community first and foremost in their hearts.

My wife and I have already said goodbye to Tom privately. We would like to now do it publicly.

"Tom, your closing is our s and Hicksville's great loss. You were not just a storeowner selling to a customer. You were a friend. We will all miss you. And besides, where will we get our free cup of coffee and goodies on Saturday mornings?"

Sincerely,

Fred & Mabel Hamilton
Hicksville

Dear Editor,

A battle erupted, as expected, last week over a measure that will limit the outside earnings of Congressmen and Senators. The legislation was part of a comprehensive, eight-part financial ethics reform package passed by the House.

Heated debate surrounded that portion of the bill that will prohibit Members of Congress from earning more than $8625 annually from sources other than the United States Congress, i.e. law practices, insurance or real estate firms. Although it will create problems for some Congressmen, I supported the earnings limit in the belief that the demands and responsibilities of office are such that office holders cannot devote great amounts of time to private business and still carry out their public duties.

Many of my fellow

Congressmen have substantial annual earnings from these sources, incomes in the $30,000-$40,000 range and up. If, as they claim, those outside earnings do not require the time and effort one normally associates with that level of income, then one can only conclude that generous salaries are being paid in exchange for the use of a Congressman's name and the prestige and status of his office.

Most of us recognize that a Member of Congress can help clients of an outside firm with which that Congressman is associated. There are a number of areas wherein, merely by virtue of one's Congressional office, he can influence. The appearance of impropriety alone has a decidedly negative impact on the integrity of office, something we have been trying to restore to this battered institution.

Opponents of the earnings limit criticized what they termed attempts to "professionalize" Congress. Congress, it seems to me, is desperately in need of more, not fewer, professionals. Congressmen who vote in the national interest vs. vested interest.

With no income but my Congressional salary, all of that is, of course, easy for me to say.

Other provisions in the financial ethics reform package included: restrictions on gifts, unofficial office accounts or "slush funds," foreign travel and use of the free mailing privilege; a prohibition on mixing personal and campaign funds, and a requirement for annual financial disclosure, something which I co-sponsored in the last Congress, and was the first to require of all officials on the local level.

The financial disclosure provisions are not as tough as those in the bill I supported in the past, nor as complete as the voluntary public disclosure I make each year. It is, however, an improvement and once enacted can always be tightened up through amendment.

Jerome Ambro,
Member of Congress

To The Editor:

The vote of the Town Board last week on a zoning amendment to permit consideration of senior housing construction under terms of a relatively new and untested federal program reflects the deep and abiding concern of every member of the Board regarding the ability of Oyster Bay's older residents to live in dignity and comfort.

The 593 senior citizen units constructed and occupied throughout our Town under the formerly available "Turnkey" program have proven to be tremendously successful in fulfilling a recognized need. This success, virtually a model for other municipalities throughout the nation, is made possible largely through the fact that these units, after their construction by private enterprise, were turned over to the Town Housing Authority, which owns the units and manages them with complete local control over all maintenance and administrative functions.

The requirements of the new federal housing program, called "Section 8," mandate a direct involvement by the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development that is too permanent and too powerful.

"Section 8" housing would remain in the ownership of private developers. After prolonged negotiation, HUD indicated that it would approve an agreement to allow the Housing Authority to manage proposed projects for five-year periods with options for renewal up to twenty years. This means that HUD would maintain a permanent interest in and power over such housing. It means that everyone - the Town government, residents of the complexes, communication with Cardiac base. The Defibrillator, used when the patient's heart is beating like a bowl of jello, is charged to 400 watts and pressed to the front and side of the chest. Some people make it and some don't. It's sad to see heart attack victims at the age of 20, 22, 25, 27 and 32. If the patient is in arrest more than 4 minutes, there is irreversible brain damage. Paramedics are not allowed to pronounce a patient dead. The equipment, worth $10,000, is available to those who need it. In case of chest pains, an aching down the left arm, pain in the jaw, and nausea call WE 1-0026.

"Don Juan"

Friday, March 11 at 8:00 P.M. the Hicksville Public Library will present: "Don Juan" on film, starring a modern day "Don Juan" John Barrymore. Also appearing in this old silent romantic adventure is Myrna Loy, Mary Astor, Montague Love, Warner Oland, Estelle Taylor and Hedda Hopper.

Movie history's most famous duel between Montague Love and John Barrymore is seen. This film is a 'must' for movie buffs and full of nostalgia for those who remember seeing (or hearing their parents talk of) this movie classic.

All library films are shown free to the community in the library auditorium.

Do not call 911, for it takes at least 4 minutes for the call to get back to Hicksville, and for an attack victim, time is precious. All firemen must know basic and they can begin mouth-to-mouth resuscitation until the paramedics arrive. The first thing a paramedic does is insert an IV, a waterway to the heart. The IV is used to replace fluids, and into it can be placed any needed drug. If the heart is beating more than 150 beats a minute, Xylocaine is injected into the hub of the bag to slow the heart and reduce muscle strain. If the heart is too slow, Atropine Sulfate is injected into the hub. In an IV, it takes the medication 3 seconds to reach the heart; in an IM (inter muscular) it takes from 4 to 7 minutes. If there is no heart action, Epinephrine (Adrenaline) is used to promote electrical activity and then the defibrillator is put into service. All these drugs will not kill you. The IV is 5 percent dextrose and is no problem to diabetics.

After all this discussion, John demonstrated by giving Kevin an IV. Then they volunteered Murray Margolis' heart for a cardiogram. During the demonstration, we could see that they work with three leads - one on the arm and two on the legs. They can even tell if a person has a pacemaker through the cardiogram.

Many people abuse the ambulance (it cannot be used for broken legs). It can be used in only severe cases or when the doctor prescribes it. There are 64,000 people in Hicksville, and if the ambulance is out, Rescue is there, and if rescue is out, Police or Jericho will respond. The average call is 15 to 20 minutes. IF YOU ARE HAVING SEVERE CHEST PAINS, DON'T WAIT TO CALL A DOCTOR. CALL WE 1-0026. It does not cost the heart attack victim one cent to be transported to the hospital.

The para-medics will speak before any group 12 years of age or older in Hicksville. For information, write to John McGann, c/o The Hicksville Fire Department, East Marie Street, Hicksville, NY 11801.

Turning to the Hicksville portion of the meeting, Sheila Noeth explained several maps which divided Hicksville into colorful sewer districts and gave dates for all work.

The Woodmen are holding an oedology clinic at the Jones' Institute and they are having a St. Patrick's Dance on March 14th.

On Sunday, March 20th at 2 P.M. in Plainview, Cancer Victims and their Friends are having a talk on the Natural Way of Living. At the Manetto Hill Jewish Center, there is a lecture on food additives. All are welcome.

The next Hicksville Community Council Meeting will be held on April 7th at 8:30 P.M. downstairs at the Library. Our new Town Supervisor, Joseph Colby, will be on hand to answer any questions and to introduce himself to the people of Hicksville. Also on the agenda, Mr. Ken Barnes, Director of the Library, will give the first Public Presentation of the Library Budget. Candidates for the Library Board will also be on hand to introduce themselves.

Operation "Save HAD" Begins March 21

Beginning on Monday afternoon, March 21, and continuing through Sunday, March 27, a massive door-to-door, fundraising campaign will be undertaken and carried out throughout the Hicksville area. This extensive effort will utilize the volunteer efforts of H.A.D. board members, staff, as well as past and present clients of the H.A.D. counseling agency and numerous friends and supporters too.

These volunteers will knock on every home and business in the community, hand out pamphlets describing H.A.D.'s excellent counseling services, and ask for donations to aid this non-profit, tax-exempt charity in surviving newly imposed state funding cuts. Effective April 1, 1977, Help-Aid-Direction (H.A.D.) faces a 20 per cent reduction in its state funding levels. This reduction along with at 15 per cent one last year means that H.A.D. has lost approximately 35 per cent of its funds in the past two years.

Help-Aid-Direction, a Hicksville-based youth and family counseling, drug and alcohol abuse prevention and treatment center is currently in serious financial difficulty. It must raise at least $4,000 in the next few months or severely curtail present high quality counseling services and lay off several competent, skilled counselors.

Presently, H.A.D. works with approximately 50 teenagers and young adults and 15 parents. These clients reside mainly in the communities of Hicksville, Jericho, Plainview, Bethpage, Syosset, Levittown, East Meadow, and Westbury. They all receive confidential, free-of-charge counseling services from professionally trained counselors.

To prevent program-service curtailment and potential permanent closing, "Operation:

Save H.A.D. has been formulated. It is the intention of these volunteers to reach every resident and businessman and convince them that H.A.D. deserves to survive.

The schedule for this fund-raising campaign is the following: Monday, March 21st through Thursday, March 24th, volunteers will knock on doors between 4 pm and 8 pm. On Friday, March 25th, volunteers will work from 3 pm to 8 pm. Finally, they will knock on doors from 12 noon to 6 pm on both Saturday, March 26th, and Sunday, March 27th.

H.A.D. hopes that the community will respond positively to its campaign and give generously. Additional volunteers for this endeavor can be certainly utilized. If you have a few hours to spare during this particular week, please call the H.A.D. agency (WE5-4858) and leave your name, phone number, and days/hours available.

Do a good turn for H.A.D. It desperately needs your help if it is going to survive.

Those individuals who would like to help H.A.D. financially, may mail their donations to H.A.D. directly. Its office is located at 268 North Broadway, Hicksville, one block north of the Mid-Island Shopping Plaza and directly opposite a bowling alley. All contributions are tax-deductible.

Colby Sees Saving

Spurred by prospect of an annual savings of about $200,000 and the initiation of a long-range modernization program of the Town's street lighting system, Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby announced that the Town is opening negotiations with the Long Island Lighting Company for a change in the current system.

Colby said that under authorization of the Town Board, the Department of Public Works will begin negotiations with LILCO for a contract calling, solely for the utility to rent the existing fixtures and provide energy for the system.

Under the present arrangement, the Town pays an annual charge of about $1,620,000 to LILCO which provides the fixtures, power and maintenance for the 19,000 lights on the more than 700 miles of Town roads and municipal parking fields.

Under the proposed change, the Town would rent the existing fixtures from LILCO and pay for the energy consumed, but the Town would assume responsibility for maintenance and incidental construction.

"Our engineers estimate that this arrangement will result in a savings of about $200,000 a year," Colby reported. Maintenance would be carried out by an outside contractor or by Town forces.

"These maps will also be used in developing a long-range modernization program of our street lighting system," Colby said. This will include the replacement of existing lights with sodium vapor lamps that produce better light at about half of the energy consumption.

"The Dynamics Of Love"

On Tuesday, March 15th, the Woodland Avenue PTA will hold a general meeting at 8:15 pm in the All-Purpose Room of Woodland Avenue School. The chairlady of the Nominating Committee will present the slate of officers for the 1977-78 school year. Nominations from the floor will be accepted.

Following the business portion of the meeting, Mr. David L. Jaffe, Speech Clinician at Woodland, will present a talk and video tape on "The Dynamics of Human Love". Some Hicksville residents will recall that Mr. Jaffe taught an Adult Education course (winter 1975 and spring 1976) of the same title. Mr. Jaffe is currently conducting research on the phenomenon of love as it affects children's learning ability. Mr. Jaffe is also Adjunct Associate Professor at Nassau Community College and the Co-Director of the Brookhaven Center for Communication Disorders in Selden, New York. The PTA is honored once again to have Mr. Jaffe as its guest and extends a cordial invitation to interested community members to attend what promises to be a most exciting evening.

Coffee and cake will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Film-Discussion Program

A series of five film, discussions on art will be presented this spring by two local libraries in cooperation with the Nassau County Museum of Fine Arts. The program, entitled "The Foundations of Modern Painting: France 1852-1920," will be held at 8:00 p.m. starting Tuesday, March 22 at the Bryant Library in Roslyn. The same program will be repeated starting Wednesday, March 23 at the Peninsula Library in Lawrence. The speaker for both programs will be William P. Miller Jr., art historian and former Chief of Public Programs at the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

"The Foundations of Modern Painting" focuses on France, where such major innovations as Impressionism and Cubism took place. Among the artists whose work will be discussed are Degas, Monet, Cezanne, Gauguin, Matisse and Picasso. A group of high-quality films are combined with illustrated lectures and informal discussions.

The program at the Bryant Library, located on Paper Mill Road in Roslyn, will be seen on March 22, 29 and April 5, 12 and 19. The Peninsula Library, at 280 Central Avenue in Lawrence, has scheduled the program for March 23, 30 and April 6, 11, and 20. Admission is free.

Piano Series

Friday evening, March 18 at 8:15 P.M. the Hicksville Library will present a program of piano music performed by five local young artists. This will be the first of the Young Artists Series for the Spring season.

The pianists will be Jeffrey Biegel, Isabelle Erdita, James Montalbano, Steven Pane and Sarah Sakamoto.

The next program in the Friday evening series will be a violin recital by Peter Matzka, a Hicksville resident, on March 25.

All library music programs are presented to the community with the help of a grant from Nassau County Office of Cultural Development, Ralph G. Caso, County Executive, John W. Maerhofer, Director.

DEVOTIONS

Trinity Lutheran Church
Dial-A-Devotion 931-2221

By Vicar Ronald M. Klose

THE CROSS

The cross best proclaims the indisputable fact that we worship a caring God. It is the most popular of all Christian symbols. There is no Christianity without the cross.

The cross shouts God's words of love to each of us. It is His proclamation of possibility beyond the present. In it is hope for the hopeless, love for the loveless, encouragement for the depressed, and the pronouncement of life beyond death for those who grieve the loss of a friend or contemplate their own demise. Its importance to our faith cannot be over-emphasized. Its proclamation must be subdued. It trumpets, "God Cares." That's music to our ears—the best news we could ever hear.

As I look at the cross, I cannot help but think of a movie I saw years ago. Few movies in my life have had the impact of Ben Hur. Many scenes made an indelible impression—the great sea battle, the exciting chariot race, the repugnant leprosy colony. Yet, none hit harder than the crucifixion of our Lord. The sound of hammer on nail rings through the air, the cross rises until it suddenly thumps into place. Slowly Jesus' blood begins to flow—one drop, then another—a puddle forms beneath the cross. It begins to rain. Water mixes with more blood, and together they begin to trickle down the hillside. The trickle becomes a stream as the blood washes over God's creation. We are reminded that the blood of Jesus cleanses us from all sin.

At Calvary God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself. The blood of Christ pouring down the cross restored our relationship with the Father. We cannot fully understand the mystery of God's plan to recapture a creation gone astray. We only know that all who come to cross in simple, trusting faith are cleansed by His blood and find peace with the Father.

By His death Jesus has unchained us. Unchained, there is no better word for it. He has set us free from the wages of our sins that only pay dividends in Hell and has set us on the positive pathway of a life with God. Our eyes need no longer be downcast; our head has no reason to be between our knees. We are no longer oppressed with our weighty sins, for we have been touched by none other than God. He has cared not just a little but powerfully. His power encountered our sin, and it was no more. His incredible desire to rescue us in spite of everything dispels even the worst sin. But we must be wise enough to permit ourselves and our sins to be encountered by that desire.

Obituary

DR. JOHN J. CARBOY JR.

Dr. John J. Carboy Jr. of Hicksville died on March 2. He was the son of Helen and John Sr.; brother of Irene Schley, Ronald and Dennis Carboy.

Dr. Carboy, 47, held degrees in psychology from Manhattan College, Fordham University, and St. John's University, where he was an associate professor of psychology. During the 1950's, he taught English and History at St. Dominic's High School, Oyster Bay. He was also on the staff of Catholic Charities. In 1965, he was named chief psychologist for the Huntington school system.

He resided at the Thomas F. Dalton Funeral Home.

These children took part in a "Giving Day" project on Thurs., March 3 when, along with other students of the Hebrew Mid Island Elementary School, they visited the Central Island Home in Plainview, bringing gifts in memory of Purim.

Hydroponic Program

A Hydroponic Program will be presented on Sunday, March 27th, at The Gregory Museum, Long Island Earth Science Center, Heitz Place, Hicksville, by Gardiner E. Gregory, Director of the Museum. There will be two illustrated lectures with color slides and actual plants growing without soil; the first lecture will begin at 1:00 PM and the second at 3:00 PM.

Have you ever thought of raising vegetables and flowers without soil? Wouldn't it be interesting to grow your own plants in chemical solutions of the very nutrients these plants would normally take from the earth. There are many advantages to this method of gardening.

Set this day aside for an educational experience at the museum and learn how this is done. Free admission for Members of The Gregory Museum; others, Adults $1.00, Students 50 cents. For additional information call 822-7505.

Budget Committee

The next meeting of the BUDGET COMMITTEE of the Hicksville Board of Education will be held on Monday, March 14, in Cafeteria A at the Hicksville Senior High School on Division Avenue.

The agenda will include a review of the Code 5000-District Transportation.

The public is invited to join this committee.

Troop 158 Has Two New Eagle Scouts

Hicksville Troop 158 marked its 22nd year in vigorous scouting with an Eagle Court of Honor this past Friday evening, at the Holiday Manor. Steven Meltzer, son of Scoutmaster Saul Meltzer, and Jon McAllister, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McAllister, received their rare and hard-won "Eagle pins" at a ceremony marked with symbolic and spoken expressions of idealism and service.

Among those honoring the outstanding youths were Principal Robert Whearty of Dutch Lane School, Troop 158 sponsor, former teachers of the new Eagle Scouts and Scouting officials. Richard Evers, representing the Charles Wagner Post, presented the Eagle Scouts with the American Legion's Citizenship Award for their "study and exemplification of good citizenship." Mr. Evers, in making the Legion award, referred to Steven Meltzer, his one-time 8th grade student, and to Jon McAllister and all Eagle Scouts as "Rallying points for all of us in the near future. Those of us who man the parapets in Junior High Schools well know that the barbarians are already at the gates. Eagles are typical of the youth we must look to for future leadership and sound values."

Also honored at Troop 158's Court of Honor was Roger Cohen who advanced to the rank of Life Scout. Star Scout awards went to Jeff Meltzer, Brian McAllister, Peter Rubins and Panos Sofianes. Jeff Rait and Joe Weiss advanced to the rank of First Class Scout while those achieving Second Class Rank were: George Herrmann, Steven Algeier, John Purtil and Don Mercado. Becoming Tenderfoot Scouts were: Richard Solomon, Julian Jimenez, Paolo Jimenez, Sean Drudy and Richard Groblewski. A total of 80 Merit Badges were earned by Troop 158 members honored at this Court of Honor.

Willowbrook scandals.

Mrs. Myra Giansante, Chairlady of the drive in this area, appeals to the generosity of the community in supporting this all-out drive for funds. "We are faced with a critical need for expansion of all our programs and the need for money is greater than it has ever been," she said. She makes a special appeal, as well, for teenage volunteers. Those wishing to help may call her at 935-4680.

Winner

Stephanie Chimenti, a music major at the Plainview-Old Bethpage High School was recently named scholarship winner in the contest sponsored by the Mineola Choral Society.

Stephanie's prize consists of $100, an engraved plaque, and an invitation to perform as a guest soloist at the June 4th concert of the Mineola Choral Society, when she will sing four selections by herself. Ms. Chimenti competed against over 50 other singers in this important contest, and was named first-prize winner by Jonathan Fey, music director of the Mineola Choral Society. In addition to her top prize, three other lesser awards were made at the same time.

Public announcement of her victory was made at a recent concert of the Mineola Choral Society.

In addition to preparing the songs she will sing at the Choral Society Concert, Stephanie is now busily getting ready for her starring role as the Mother Abbess in the forthcoming Drama Cadet production of "Sound of Music" to be given at the Plainview-Old Bethpage High School in the spring.

Baseball Registration

The Hicksville American Little and Senior Baseball Assoc. is offering a last chance for registration on Sat., March 12, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Burns Ave. School. This is for children ages 7½ to 15 years old. The registration fee is $15 per person, or $25 per family. They are offering new uniforms, new equipment, and new playing fields, plus a special baseball clinic for all with instructions in hitting, fielding, pitching, and base running. This will be followed by a 1975 world series film of Cincinnati versus the Red Sox.

Our Armed Forces

A 1976 graduate of Hicksville High School, he joined the Coast Guard in June 1976.

Lawrence F. Dochana, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dochana, 640 Irving Street, WESTBURY, entered the U.S. Air Force today.

Airman Dochana graduated from Holy Trinity High School, Hicksville, last year. He will be trained in the mechanical aptitude area following completion of basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas.

Arthur Lau, who resides in Harness Lane in LEVITTOWN, has entered the United States Air Force. Delayed Enlistment Program according to Sergeant Rick Sempron, the local Air Force Representative. Airman Lau will be in the Air Force Reserve until he enters active duty on June 28. At that time Airman Lau will begin six weeks of basic orientation at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas.

Marine Corporal Colin J. Yorke, son of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Yorke of Kramer St. in HICKSVILLE, has been selected as the NCO of the Quarter for the Marine Barracks, Keflavik, Iceland.

Yorke was chosen from among all the enlisted personnel assigned to the command, and was cited for his outstanding performance of duty, proficiency, leadership, initiative and military bearing during the fourth quarter of 1976.

A 1974 graduate of Hicksville High School, he joined the Marine Corps in July 1974.

Hicksville Kiwanis Club President Harvey Kolin (R) presents Gardner Gregory (L), founder and director of the Gregory Museum, with a check for $200 to be used for the purchase of a typewriter. The Gregory Museum is only one of the many worthwhile organizations supported by Kiwanis.

Volunteers Needed

More than 250 local young people of junior and senior high school age will be participating in the 9th annual door-to-door drive being held during the month of April as part of a county-wide effort to raise funds for the Nassau Chapter of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children (AHRC).

AHRC maintains a full range of services for the mentally retarded of all ages in Nassau County and offers enlightened parents the alternative of keeping their child at home rather than placing him in an institution. In addition to the growing numbers of children looking to AHRC for services, AHRC has opened its programs to many residents of State institutions who have returned to their homes since the

AFW Boys

The Hicksville American Boys Red team, sponsored by the FFW, traveled to Oceanside to compete in their indoor tournament on Feb. 26 & 27. On Saturday, the boys won 3 games and tied 1. This record made them eligible to be one of the eight teams to return on Sunday for the play-offs. In the quarter finals, Hicksville defeated Deer Park 3-1 and in the semi finals they defeated the German-Hungarians 5-1. In a thrilling final game, Hicksville lost to Oceanside 4-3, ending in second place. The team representatives were: Thomas Solaski, John Kerth, Michael Jung, Robert Kunimann, Thomas Fletcher, Peter Jannette, Timmy Bell, Jon Borthwick, Michael Andrus and Martin Conway. Peter Jannette won individual honors as the Most Valuable Player of the Tournament.

On March 5th and 6th, the Boys competed in the Hicksville Indoor Tournament held at Lutheran High. Again the Boys Red did well and were included in the top ten who would return on Sunday. At the end of the quarter finals Hicksville was in 2nd place having defeated Northport, Island Trees, Plainview - Old Bethpage and losing only to Massapequa. In the semi finals Hicksville was pitted against Oceanside once again, and unfortunately lost 2-1 in a very exciting game. Oceanside eventually took the Tournament and Hicksville ended in third place.

Boys Blue Team

What excitement the Hicksville Boys Blue team provided, playing only against "A" teams. Coach Ken Groves can be proud of these boys who gave more than their best. The first game saw Hicksville Hamilton N.J. 2-2 with goals by Ken Smith and Bob Stenborg. Ed Thompson was excellent in goal. Game No. 2 against Garden City (who ended second in the Tournament) was a real thriller, tied 2-2 with goals by Tony Coiro & Tom Sullivan until Donald Barcavage scored with seconds to go. It was a tremendous shot and Hicksville won 3-2. Game No. 3 saw Hicksville Blue pitted against Hicksville Red. Hicksville Blue rolled over Hicksville Red 3-1. Goals were by Bob Stenborg, Tony Coiro and Donald Barcavage. In game No. 4, the Blues met a strong Fairfax, Va. team and defeated them 2-0. Game No. 5 was against Westport, Conn. and was tied 1-1 with a beautiful goal by John Anglin. The excellent defense work of the Blue team must be mentioned. The combination of offensive and defensive team work saw Hicksville Blue in first place at the end of the qualifying rounds.

The first game on Sunday pitted the Blue against Island Trees. Hicksville won 4-0 but lost the next one to Plainview 2-1. Game No. 3 saw Blue overpowered by the later champion Oceanside. Goalie Ed Thompson was injured and dazed but the boys came back in the 4th game to defeat a strong Northport team 2-1. Their final standing after the quarter finals was place No. 6, not bad in a field of 20 "A" teams. Congratulations Boys. This hustling Blue team was picked to plan an exhibition game against the N.Y. Apollo's before the final game. It was great fun for both players and spectators. Donald Barcavage received the Sportsmanship Award, the most important trophy of a Tournament. The team roster consists of Ed Thompson, Jeff Tomlinson, Bob Stenborg, Stephen Stafford, Don Barcavage, John Anglin, Ken Smith, Tom Sullivan, Tony Coiro. Coach Ken Groves.

Pee Wee Soccer

This week the Hicksville American Pee Wee Soccer team coached by Al Boccafola and sponsored by the Municipal Beef Company, played their spring seasons opener. The under 8 year olds played against Auburndale at Grumman field. The defense was superbly played by Roger Smith and Jimmy Reardon - off as handled admirably by Kevin Burke. Despite these good performance the team lost by a score of 1-0.

Bantam Team

Sunday marked the beginning of the Hicksville, American Bantam teams spring season. The team coached by Ben Brutschin and sponsored by Harris Aluminum met the Massapequa team at Grumman field. Both teams played well and as usual it was a hard fought and suspenseful game. Lloyd Sneddon played great defense and the game at half-time was scoreless. In the second half Massapequa scored and the Hicksville team came back with a goal by Mike Masters. The final result - a 1-1 tie.

Hawkins Heroes

Opening day proved to be a great day for "Hawkins Hero's". The girls U-12 beat West Babylon 3-1. At the start of the game all the girls were reaved up. It took five minutes for them to score. It was shortly after when West Babylon decided to take their turn on the scoreboard. The girls came back onto the playing field and on a beautiful pass from half-back Jackie Saccio up to the front line in it went. The girls had a strong wind against them but, they proved their skills by not allowing the ball to get behind the full-backs Tanya Pfeffer, Nancy Steffen and Risa Bershad. Maureen Collins Center half certainly played a fine game. Maureen was responsible for placing the ball on the foot of the front line for another score for Hawkins Hero's. Final score 3-1. It was the result of a total team involvement. Our congratulations goes to each and every player for the tremendous work. Goals scored by: Patrice Kenny, Denise Hawkins and Kathy Conway. Good Luck next game.

Kathy Willis representing Hicksville High School will be one of ten gymnasts representing Nassau County at the New York State High School Meet. These ten winners of the competition held last weekend at Bellmore-Kennedy High School will leave for Syracuse on Friday morning to compete in the State Finals on Friday and Saturday.

Judo Program

The Hicksville Youth Council in coordination with the PBC has been running a Judo Program for the past 8 months. A few weeks ago some of the participants attended a tournament after only 24 hours of instruction. The following is a list of the boys and their placement in each class.

First Place: Chris Barrow,

Eric Von Mol, and Richard Varecha.

Second Place: Lorenzo Lewis.

Third Place: Mike Lewis and Roy Trapasso.

"We would like to congratulate these boys on their achievement," said an adult connected with the project.

BILL BURKE, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Burke of Parkview Street in PLAINVIEW, will be swimming with the Potsdam State College team at the State University College of New York Athletic Conference Championships at Cortland State on March 3, 4, and 5. The Bears are seeking the team title after placing second the last two years.

Bill, a pre-law political science major, concentrates on the breast-stroke events and has competed in the 200-yard individual medley and with the 400-yard medley relay team.

The Bears' dual meet record was 9-2 this year; they were undefeated in SUNYAC competition. They will be hoping to qualify as many swimmers as possible for the NCAA Division III National Championships to be held at Oberlin, Ohio, on March 17, 18 and 19.

At Woodland Avenue

David L. Jaffe, Speech Clinician at Woodland Avenue will present a 3 hour demonstration of the Precision Fluency Shaping Program: Reconstruction of Speech for Stutterers to the Southern Tier Speech and Hearing Association on Saturday, March 26, 1977 in Owego, New York. During the spring and summer of 1975 Mr. Jaffe spent 3 weeks of intensive study and clinical training at the Hollins Communication Research Institute in Roanoke, Virginia.

The Precision Fluency Shaping

Program provides a procedure for correcting stuttering based on findings that the specific, observable speech behaviors of stutterers can be reconstructed in a manner which produces from markedly improved fluency to normal, fluent speech.

During the fall of 1975 Mr. Jaffe and his partner Mrs. Joyce E. Carter established the Brookhaven Center for Communication Disorders in Selden, New York, the first specialty center on Long Island to treat stuttering disorders.

Tree Maintenance

Monday, March 14 at 1:00 p.m. the Hicksville Public Library will present an illustrated lecture on Tree and Shrub Maintenance by an agent from the Agricultural Division of Cooperative Extension in Nassau County. Supplemental literature will be available. The question and answer period after the lecture will be ample for individuals to get answers to their specific problems.

This program is presented with the cooperation of the Nassau Library System as well as the Nassau County Cooperative Extension. All the community is welcome to attend.

DAR Honors Local Students

It was with great pride that the Oyster Bay Chapter D.A.R. presented their annual Good Citizen Awards to the 99th, 100th, and 101st winners from this area on Monday, February 27th at Raynham Hall.

Miss Suzanne Sosa, daughter of the Arthur Sosas of Clarissa Lane, was the winner from the Hicksville High School. Other winners were Miss Jane Runge, of Roslyn, senior at the Lutheran High School in Brookville, and Mr. Bert Green, senior at the Oyster Bay High School.

Each of the young people gave a short speech on what their particular thoughts are on the future of America and Americans. It is significant that all stressed the keynote of TOGETHER. They all see that the only way America can again become a country of peace and tranquility is by each individual give his all in aid and support, and to work harmoniously in a team-spirit with all other Americans to overcome our failures and to insure our progress.

Mrs. Mainard L. Chittenden, of Muttontown, chairman of the GOOD CITIZEN committee presented each winner with a gold medal and certificate, and Mrs. Nancy Gundrey, presiding Regent, presented each with a gift from the chapter. Guests at the ceremonies included parents, relatives and friends of each winner. Following the presentations, a delightful tea was held in the dining room at Raynham Hall. The hostesses were Mrs. Gundrey and Mrs. John Gregusky of Oyster Bay.

Bd. of Ed. Meeting

The next regular meeting of the Hicksville Board of Education will be held on Wednesday, March 16, at 8:15 P.M., in the Board Room of the Administration Building on Division Avenue in Hicksville.

The public is invited to attend.

"Lil Abner"

The Hicksville Junior High School proudly presents "Lil Abner" on Thursday, March 17th, Friday, March 18th and on Saturday, March 19th.

To Confirm 310 In Holy Family

The Most Rev. John R. McGann, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Rockville Centre, will administer the sacrament of confirmation to approximately 310 youngsters in Holy Family Church, Hicksville, on Saturday, March 12.

Rev. Bernard J. McGrath is pastor of Holy Family parish.

Old Country Road PTA

The Old Country Road School is having its next general meeting on Tuesday, March 15th, at 8:00 P.M.

We are happy to announce a return engagement of the Hicksville Fire Department Para-Medics, who will show us the latest in rescue equipment, and will give us a "Live" demonstration of that equipment," said a PTA spokesperson.

"We are inviting all parents and children in our community to this important meeting, as knowledge of this important service can save your life," she concluded.

Refreshments will be served.

4-H Mother-Daughter Dinner

A demonstration in making "Flaming Orange Crepes" by Wendy Andrews of Hicksville was the highlight of the Mother-Daughter Dinner given by the Mid-Island 4-H Senior Girls Club.

French cooking was one of the 4-H Heritage Food courses taught to the members and the girls really showed off their culinary skills. Among the many dishes served were Onion Soup, Chicken in Wine and Mushroom Sauce, Carottes Poulette, Quiche Lorraine, Walnut Cake, Creme Puffs, and Petite Fours.

Slide pictures taken in France by Michele Fleckenstein were shown to complete the French atmosphere of the evening.

A gala time was had by all

Country Music At The Plaza

Thirty bands. Nine hours of country music. Seven hundred and fifty dollars ($750.00) in prize money. And it's free. No wonder almost 12,000 people attended last year's event. This year's is even bigger. It's the second annual Long Island Country Music Band Contest, at the Mid-Island Shopping Plaza. The date is March 26.

Long Island will be well represented in the contest. Among the bands who have already confirmed their appearance in the contest are "GROUNDSPED," from Bethpage; "THE YANKEE REBELS," last year's winners as "Best Bluegrass Band," "MUDGRASS," "THE FLY-BY-NIGHT STRING BAND," "OUT BEHIND THE BARN," and others. "There will be bands from New Jersey, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, upstate New York and elsewhere, also," notes DOUG TUCHMAN, show producer.

The contest runs from 1-10pm and is in two parts. The afternoon part, from 1-3pm, is the Elimination Round. All of the competing groups will perform. The highest scoring bands play in the Championship Round, which runs from 7-10pm.

Spring Into Fashion

Dutch Lane PTA is holding a Fashion Show on March 22, at 8:00 PM in the school's All Purpose Room. There will be refreshments, door prizes and complimentary gifts as well as dozens of new spring and summer fashions to thrill you. This promises to be our most gala event of the year.

Tickets of $3.00 can be purchased at the door.

"A String Of Pearls"

The annual Hicksville High School production of "A String of Pearls", with music of the "swing era" by the school's Stage Band, will be presented on Saturday, March 19 at 8:30 P.M. in the Boy's Gymnasium.

There is limited seating and tickets are now available at $5.00 per couple.

For more information, contact Mr. J. David Abt of the Music Department at 733-2146.

Square Dance

As part of the celebration of East Street School's 50th Anniversary, the P.T.A. will hold a Square Dance on Friday evening, May 20th.

Mark the date on your calendar as it is sure to be a fun evening and an occasion to be long Remembered.

Hypertension Screening

Screenings for hypertension (high blood pressure) will be held at the Nassau County Department of Health Clinic in Plainview, 1535 Old Country Road, Plainview, on Wednesday, March 16, from 1 to 4 P.M.

Health Department nurses will take the blood pressures. Counseling, referral and follow-up are available when needed.

Having your blood pressure checked can be a life saver," Dr. John J. Dowling, Commissioner of the Nassau County Department of Health, said. "It probably was such for 50 of the people screened this past year by the Nassau County Seek and Treat Program.

"These people - including white, black, oriental and hispanic men and women, ranging in age from their 20's to their 50's - had blood pressures so high, they were on the verge of a stroke. From the screening session, they were taken for emergency treatment to the nearest hospital."

High blood pressure, even when not at emergency levels, shortens peoples lives, Dr. Dowling explained. It also often contributes to strokes, heart failure and kidney disorders. But high blood pressure can be controlled.

The Nassau County Hypertension Seek and Treat Program has screened over 40,000 people. Over 17 per cent of them were found to have high blood pressure. Close to half of these - 44 per cent - had no prior knowledge of having the problem.

Internal Revenue Service Tax Supplement

Workers Without Pensions Can Start Their Own

More and more people are becoming interested in developing pension plans to finance their retirements.

According to the Internal Revenue Service, one relatively new way for many workers not previously covered by company pension plans to set up retirement programs and receive a tax break at the same time is through an individual retirement arrangement, or IRA for short.

As a result of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, workers are eligible to start an IRA as long as they did not participate in any pension program. Social Security is not considered to be a pension plan, the IRS explains. There are five ways to set up an IRA: Through a bank or other financial institution in an individual retirement account; annuities offered by insurance companies; by purchasing certain securities on the stock market; by purchasing U.S. Individual Retirement Bonds from the Treasury Department's Bureau of the Public Debt or the Federal Reserve Bank; or via trust accounts available through employers and employee associations.

In establishing an individual retirement arrangement, a taxpayer can annually contribute up to 15% of total earnings, to a maximum of $1,500. (Beginning in 1977, qualified taxpayers will also be able to make contributions for an unemployed spouse. For additional information, obtain free IRS Publication 590, "Tax Information on Individual Retirement Savings Programs.") No tax is due on the contribution or on interest or dividends that might accrue until the money is withdrawn at age 59½ or later. At that time the tax could be less because you likely would be in a lower tax bracket. That means that, while working, a taxpayer who earns $10,000 could deduct the full $1,500 from earnings, which would lower his or her income to $8,500 while contributing.

In certain circumstances, taxpayers can take advantage of a roll-over provision: a worker who leaves a job that had a pension plan can take a lump-sum payment from that program and use it to start an individual retirement program. Details on how to make a transfer and the amount that may be rolled over are contained in Publication 590.

Also, funds from one fund may be transferred to another without incurring a penalty or paying taxes on the money. That means a taxpayer can switch from a conservative plan to one with more risk without tax penalty.

IRAs are reported on Form 5329, "Return for Individual Savings Arrangement", which is attached to Form 1040. Contributions cannot be deducted unless the Form is filed. Once an IRA is established, the Form must be filed each year, even in those years in which no contribution is made. Failure to file the Form carries a penalty of $10 per day ($5,000 maximum).

On a joint return where both spouses qualify for the deduction, two Forms must be attached, one for each spouse.

There are some restrictions, however. First, the maximum contributions may not be exceeded. If they are, there is a tax on the excess contribution. Second, funds may neither be withdrawn prematurely, borrowed, nor used as security for a loan. A ten percent penalty is assessed on any amount withdrawn early. Furthermore, the money must be listed as part of the person's taxable income for the year in which it is withdrawn. Third, no contribution may be made after age 70½. And taxpayers must begin withdrawals within the year they reach that age.

Institutions offering individuals retirement programs or the Internal Revenue Service can provide more information.

Use Label and Envelope To Speed Refund

Five Tests for Claiming Dependents

Whom can you claim as a dependent on your Federal tax return? Your son in college? Mother? What about your newly married daughter? There are five tests prospective dependents must pass to qualify for the $750 dependency exemption.

The first one is the "support" test. To meet this requirement, you must provide over half your dependent's total support for the year. Support can include food, shelter, clothing, education, medical and dental care, transportation, other necessities, and even the cost of the child's wedding. If lodging is provided, the fair rental value (what a stranger would pay), can be included.

An important point to remember is that cost, not the time over which support was provided, is the key. In other words, support is determined by comparing your contributions with those from all other sources, including the dependent's own funds.

So even if a baby is born on December 31st, the last day of the tax year, the full $750 exemption is granted. The same goes for the person who provides over one-half the support for an aged parent. Even if the parent dies at mid-year, the taxpayer still gets $750.

When more than one person contributes to the support of a mutual dependent, and no one contributes over half, the rules change. In some cases, two or more contributors might be able to claim the dependent, were it not for the support test, since together they put in more than half.

When this happens, any one, but only one, of the group contributing over 10 percent may claim the exemption. The others provide the person who gets the exemption with a written waiver. The statements are filed with the return.

Let's say that you, your brother, and your sister furnished the entire support last year for your mother, with your contribution at 45 percent, your sister's at 45 percent, and your brother's at 10 percent. Either you or your sister may take the exemption as long as the other provides a written statement on Form 2120, "Multiple Support Declaration", saying he or she will not claim your mother as

Casualty, Theft Losses May Be Deductible

Losses to personal property due to casualties or theft are deductible on Federal income tax returns, according to the Internal Revenue Service. However, deductions for such losses are limited to the amount over $100 for each casualty unless they are business connected.

The IRS defines a casualty loss as the complete or partial destruction of property resulting from an identifiable event that is "sudden, unexpected or unusual" in nature. Such losses can stem from hurricane, tornado, flood, storm, shipwreck, automobile or other accidents, mine cave-ins, sonic boom damage from jet aircraft, or acts of vandalism. Damage to ornamental trees and shrubs may be deductible if there has been a decrease in the total value of the property.

Not deductible are losses from the breakage of china or glassware, diseases such as those involving trees or shrubs, expenses incident to casualty such as the care of personal injuries, and termite or moth damage.

A theft, for tax purposes, is the unlawful taking and removing of your money or property with the intent to deprive you of it. Theft includes, but is not limited to, larceny, robbery, and embezzlement. Extortion, kidnapping for ransom, threats, or blackmail may be thefts. A taxpayer, in claiming a theft loss, must be able to show that the taking of the property was illegal under the law of the state where it occurred, and was done with criminal intent.

To take a casualty or theft deduction, the taxpayer must be able to prove that a loss actually occurred and that it is deductible. Supporting evidence means being able to show: (1) the type of casualty or theft and when it occurred; (2) that the loss was a direct result of the casualty or theft; (3) that the taxpayer owned or was contractually liable for the property; (4) the cost or other basis of the property; (5) depreciation allowed or allowable if any; (6) value before and after the casualty (photos are a good idea). The amount of insurance or other compensation received to offset the loss, including the value of repairs and cleanup provided without cost, must be deducted from the gross amount of the loss.

If, for example, a person is involved in an automobile accident resulting in $300 damage to the car, and has an insurance policy with a $100 deductible, there is no loss for tax purposes. The $200 the individual gets from the insurance company will reduce the loss to $100 and each casualty loss is only deductible to the extent that it exceeds $100.

Taxpayers who need more information on theft and casualty should consult IRS Publication 547, "Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses, and Thefts," and the "Workbook for Determining Your Disaster Loss" (Publication 584). Both are free and may be obtained by using the order blank at the back of the tax package.

Tax Forms Due for Farming, Fishing

While April 15th is the filing deadline for most people, farmers and people engaged in commercial fishing must file by March 1st if they did not submit a declaration of estimated tax for the final quarter of 1976. The declaration of estimated tax was due January 15, 1977.

The IRS points out that taxpayers subject to the above requirements are those who earned two-thirds of their gross income through farming or fishing.

Taxpayers who may be affected by these special filing requirements can obtain more information by ordering free Publications 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," 595, "Tax Guide for Commercial Fishermen," and 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax, from the IRS.

USE TAPE OFF LABEL BY HOLDING EXTENSION
IT SPEEDS PROCESSING A YOUR REFUND.

Choose Preparer Carefully

Taxpayers who hire someone to prepare their tax return should shop carefully, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

Choosing a tax returns preparer is important, according to the IRS, because responsibility for the accuracy of the return remains with the taxpayer—no matter who prepares it.

While most preparers are honest and competent, a small number are not. The IRS warns taxpayers to stay away from the person who: asks them to sign a blank return or one completed in pencil as it could be changed later; asks to have any refund sent to him or her rather than the taxpayer; refuses to sign the return and show address and social security or employer identification number.

Also to be avoided is the preparer who guarantees a refund, "knows all the angles," or claims to have a special relationship with the Government.

year in which your tax year begins.

There is one more dependency test, the "joint return" test. You may not claim an exemption for a dependent who files a joint return, unless the dependent and his or her spouse are not required to file but do so only to receive a refund.

Special rules apply to separated or divorced parents. Generally, the parent with custody of the children for the greater part of the year gets the exemption. However, there are exceptions to this rule, depending on the terms of the decree and the amount contributed to the child's support by the parent who does not have custody.

If you have questions about claiming exemptions for dependents, there's a free IRS publication that can help. "Your Exemptions and Exemptions for Dependents", Publication 501, can be ordered by using the handy form at the back of the tax package.

a dependent. Because your brother contributed only 10 percent, it is unnecessary for him to file a waiver.

Test number two is the "gross income" test. Usually, if the dependent had at least $750 gross income, he or she may not be claimed. Gross income is all income in the form of money, property, and services not expressly exempt from tax. If the child is under age 19 or a full-time student, this test does not apply as long as the other four tests are met.

The "member of the household or relationship requirement" is the third test. If your dependent is related to you in one of the following ways, he or she need not live with you to meet this test: children, grandchildren, stepchildren, brothers, sisters, half brothers and sisters, step brothers and sisters, parents and grandparents, etc.

To meet test four, the dependent must be a U.S. citizen, resident, or national, or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Panama Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama for some part of the calendar

Junior Hi PTSA News

A Night of Fun Bowling
On Saturday, March 12, at 8 p.m., the Hicksville Junior High PTSA will present a Fun Bowling Evening at Mid Island Bowl. Tickets are $15 per couple, $7.50 for singles. ## Winners

Four Oyster Bay Town residents played their way to first place in their respective age categories in the Parks and Recreation Department Annual Chess Tournament, it was announced this week by Town Councilman Joseph J. Saladino.

In the 10-to-12 age group, Donald Cornell (12) of Massapequa took first place and Brian Feldman (12) of Woodbury came in second.

Rodney Robissa (15) of Oyster Bay was first in the 13-to-15 age category and Mark Januszewski (13) of Farmingdale took second place.

First place in the 16-to-17 age group was won by Roland Korotkin (17) of Massapequa Park and second place went to Ronald Isaac (17) of Syosset.

In the adult category (18 and over), Harold Watkin of Plainview took first place and Keith Manceri of Syosset won second place.

About 60 people participated in the February 27 tournament which was held at Marjorie R. Post Community Park Center, Massapequa. Trophies were awarded for first and second place in each age category.

CORE Program At HHS

An academic program has been developed at the Sr. High to help under-achievers to work up to their capabilities. At its general meeting on March 17 the PTA will explain this program to interested parents. The venture, named the Core Program, makes use of team teaching, individualized instruction, and many other educational concepts to help the under-achieving student.

The Sr. High PTA cordially invites parents and other community members to find out more about this adventure in education. There will be teachers present to answer questions. The meeting begins at 8:15 P.M.

CEAD MILE FAIRTE: Yes, "One Hundred Thousand Welcomes", to that special celebration of Saint Patrick's Day, by the multitudes of Irish-Americans in Hicksville, Plainview and round our Town and all our readers. The 19th Annual Ball of the Hicksville Hibernians is sold-out according to Jack Campbell, Dance Chairman and for those attending, the ladies will receive each a shamrock flower in from Shannon Airport, Dublin, Ireland, just twenty-four hours prior to the start of the Irish & American Music of Brendon O'Connor and his Dublinaires at 9:30 P.M. plus delicious corned beef n' cabbage dinner, refreshments throughout the evening till 1:30 A.M.-prizes and surprises galore for ticket holders and special drawings will be held. Early Sunday AM the members and auxiliary will assemble at 12 Noon for ceremonies changing Heitz Place at Bay Avenue to SAINT PATRICK'S BLVD to salute the patron Saint of Ireland. The Hicksville Division will be led in Garden City by the Holy Name of Mary Elementary School Band, 100 piece band with cheerleader, twirlers, etc., from Valley Stream-A very special thank you from the writer to Dan Hennessey, Parade Chairman for this excellent marching unit. We will be led by the Charles Wagner Post No. 421, American Legion Colour Guard and will carry the American Flag that flew over the Capitol in Washington D.C., last week (presentation of the flag was made to the Division this week by our Congressman Norman F. Lent - see photo in this edition).

ST. PATRICK'S DAY: On Thursday, March 17, next week the members and Ladies Auxiliary of the Hicksville AOH will board a chartered bus to New York - assembly time is 12

Noon...at the Knights of Columbus. Please wear your berets and sashes - Be early - our unit will be led in New York by the 130 piece Hicksville High School Marching Band under the direction of Charles Gouse watch for us over WPIX - CHANNEL ELEVEN hosted by Jack McCarthy after 2:30 P.M.-we have not missed a year on Channel Eleven - to date - this is quite an accomplishment for our proud contingent of Brother and Sister Hibernians who serve the community year round...We especially hope that Brother Francis J. Donovan, Eugene Ziegler and Eugene Donovan will be watching for us they view from home - speedy recovery gentlemen. By the way, the initial story in the Irish Echo March 12th about President Carter coming to the New York St. Patrick's Day Parade was true up till press time - but conflicts have come up and we understand he may not appear - or now may sent a representative.

Madge McMahon, is the Hicksville chairlady for tickets to the Nassau County Ladies Auxiliary, AOH Communion Breakfast on Sunday, April 17, at the Plattentische Restaurant, Franklin Square - contact Mrs. McMahon at 796-6288, tickets are $5.25 per person - as the Hicksville AOH Auxiliary commences its spring events which we hear also include a penny and a half sale and cocktail party.

WE HEAR THAT: our good friend Buce Morrow of Channel 4 will tape a live luncheon session of traditional Irish music by Noel Kingston and Paddy Farrell on Tuesday, March 15th for showing on March 17th at the Stack O' Barley pub in Hicksville, "cousin" Bruce, formerly of ABC-TV and the writer worked many promos at Mid Island Plaza in the early 60's - so enjoy luncheon, hear and other interested citizens of Oyster Bay - would have to rely on the fact that HUD would continue to supply rent subsidies for up to twenty years and would not seek to force change of any provisions agreed to at the time of construction.

The federal government's deep involvement in "Section 8" and the fact that a refunding of the "Turnkey" program is anticipated were weighed most carefully and were determining factors in a decision by the Town Board that prevents Oyster Bay from being exposed to the many uncertainties regarding the policies and possible changes of policy of HUD with respect to "Section 8."

While members of the Town Board split in their voting, all members are firm in their continued commitment to the construction of housing for Oyster Bay's seniors. If anything, our desire to assure the proper development of new, totally successful senior housing complexes in a manner that assures protection of their inhabitants and the neighborhoods which surround them is greater than ever before.

To Amend Dog Ordinance

The Oyster Bay Town Board this week set a hearing date of March 29 to consider a proposed amendment to the Town's dog ordinance that would make it unlawful for a dog owner to permit the dog to defecate or urinate on public or private property other than his own.

The proposed amendment was recommended by the Town's Environmental Control Commission, a citizens advisory group to the Town Board on environmental matters. In its report, the Commission said that many municipalities consider dog excrement to be "a serious threat to the health of the population."

The Commission listed several diseases transmitted through dog feces and noted that feces provide a breeding place for flies that also can spread disease. Animal wastes that are deposited in streets and carried by storm water runoff into sumps or bays.

AAUW To Meet

Wood Sculpture

Starting May 9, the Nassau County Museum of Fine Arts will present WOOD, an exhibition of contemporary outdoor wood sculpture. Thirteen works will be on view, including nine pieces designed specifically for this 175-acre former Frick Estate in Roslyn.

Artists in the show are Alice Adams, Carl Andre, Tom Doyle, Herbert George, James Hagan, Roelof Louw, Winifred Lutz, Michael Norton, Patsy Norvell, Arden Scott, Ursula von Rydingsvard, David von Schlegell, and Glen Zwegardt. The exhibition closes July 25, 1977.

Concurrently with the outdoor show, two Nassau County artists will be showing good sculpture in the East Gallery. Jerome Zimmerman will exhibit laminated plywood environments from May 1 - May 29. Caroline Gassner Kaplowitz will exhibit carved wood pieces from June 5 - July 3.

Town Seeks Federal Aid

The Town of Oyster Bay has applied for Federal disaster assistance in the amount of $773,000 to repair the ravages incurred during one of the most severe winters experienced in the Town's history.

"Town roads were the areas that suffered the most damage," Town Supervisor Joseph Colby reported, "a fact that I'm sure is evident to everyone using a car these days. There are literally thousands of potholes in the more than 700 miles of Town roads that must be repaired as soon as weather permits." Of the funds being sought, more than half a million dollars are for roadway damage.

"Federal funds are desperately needed to carry out this work," Colby said.

The application for aid was sent to the Nassau County Office of Federal and State Aid for forwarding to New York State.

For the independence of an island bank and the resources of a world bank visit a pyramid in Long Island.

The Pyramid is the symbol of Bankers Trust in Long Island. And, incidentally, of Bankers Trust Company in New York City.

But, although we share the same symbol, we're set up to be independent.

That's why we've established separate areas throughout Long Island. From Eastern Queens to Suffolk.

And assigned the decision making in these areas to Long Islanders, familiar with the Long Island business community. Like James C. McBride, vice president and head of our Long Island Region; Robert E. Davis, Commercial Business Development officer in Eastern Queens and Nassau and Frederick C. Braun III, Commercial Business Development officer in Suffolk.

So when you need a loan, we don't have to check with New York before giving you an answer.

But one of the virtues of being allied with a big New York bank is that we can provide the large resources that many local banks can't, for services like international financing or money market instruments.

What we're offering is the best of both worlds. Whether you want a local island bank or a world bank, a visit to the Pyramid can be a rewarding experience.
