K of C Ends Current Year With Awards

By Jim Carroll

At the final meeting of the fraternal year 1976-77 the Joseph Barry Council Knights of Columbus presented several awards to various individuals and organizations in the Hicksville area.

The Joseph Barry Council annual Community Achievement Award was awarded to Dr. Walter Dunbar for his dedication to the Hicksville Beautification Program over the last several years. Dr. Dunbar gratefully accepted and on behalf of his committee urged all Hicksvillians to get involved with the beautification program as it benefits all of Hicksville. Anyone interested in donating time or money should contact Dr. Dunbar.

The council also made its annual $500 scholarship award to Miss Patricia Kenny, daughter of Frank Kenny, who is pursuing a career in nursing. Also the Knight of the year award went to Bob DeLorenzo PGK, for his dedication and tireless efforts on behalf of the Council.

A special presentation was made to the Hicksville Fire Dept. to aid them in setting up a continuous cardio-pulmonary resuscitation training program for the Hicksville community. This award consisted of three CPR mannequins necessary for this vital training program. The mannequins or resuscitators, valued at $900, will enable the HFD to train as many residents of Hicksville as are interested. In this light 35 members and wives of Joseph Barry Council were awarded their CPR trained personnel certificates after successfully completing the course at the Council chambers. The Fire Dept. in return presented Joseph Barry Council with a resuscitator for use at the council hall for emergency life support in cases of need since the council regularly has a large group of people using its facilities.

Finally the council presented $500 checks to each of the following organizations to aid them in continuing their programs. The Association for the Help of Retarded Children (AHRC); the Maryhaven School; The St. Ignatius' Exceptional Childrens Program. These funds are a result of the Councils C & B fund-raising program.

The night ended with a buffet, coffee and cake and a "well-done-and-good-luck" to the Knights for their new fraternal years 1977-78.

Hicksville Community Council Presents Bus Transportation

By Carol Wolf

The cost of the entire transportation system was brought up in the meeting with Martin Gach, Director of Public Transportation in Nassau County. A question was asked as to whether we could save money by eliminating the standard size buses and replacing them with smaller ones. Mr. Gach responded with the fact that a larger bus costs $70,000 while a smaller one would range in the $40,000 to $45,000 bracket. Smaller buses do not have the durability of the larger ones, and since the state mandates that buses must remain on the lines 12 to 15 years, the larger buses are the better buy. It still costs $5.37 an hour for a driver, whether he drives a small or large bus. And maintenance costs are the same for both.

At the present time, the Nassau County Bus System is running 5 million in the red. And a reason why this so is because the system is not being properly utilized. Different Communities are being analyzed to see if their needs are being met. For within a Community like Hicksville, there are a large number of commuters and a large amount of industry with different starting times. The problem is, "How to arrange the routes to co-incide with the needs of the people?"

As the series is going on, you might have suggestions on what direction you would like to see the bus transportation system of Nassau take. If you would like to get them down right now, please mail to: Hicksville Community Council, P.O. Box 163, Hicksville, N.Y. 11802. There will be a form at the end of the series, though, for your convenience. Either way, please let us know how you feel. For the buses are there for you.

Programs In The Park

The soul sound of the Mallette Gospel Choral will highlight the third week of Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) programs for Oyster Bay Town residents, it was announced this week by Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby.

The Choral, which is the second in the Performing Arts Festival program, will be appearing at John J. Burns Town Park, Unqua and Merrick Roads, Massapequa, at 8:15 PM on Tuesday, July 19. In case of rain, the performance will be held in the Massapequa High School auditorium across from the park.

The Mallette Choral was formed by Rev. Dr. Mitchell Mallette, pastor of the Greater Second Baptist Church of Freeport, Long Island, and represents several singing groups of the church. The Choral recently signed a recording contract with Savoy Records.

Also for Town residents, The Little Brass Band will be appearing at Ellsworth Allen Town Park, Heisser Lane, Farmingdale, on Monday, July 18, at 8:15 PM. In case of rain, the performance will be given at the Weldon E. Howitt Junior High School, Van Cott Avenue.

Conducted by Dr. Kirby Jolly, the band's founder and himself a trumpet player, The Little Brass Band features six musicians and plays a wide range of music including Dixieland, jazz, rock, swing and Broadway tunes.

Little Miss Cantigugue

Like brides, all pre-kindergarten girls are beautiful, but at Cantigugue Park, the fairest of them all will be crowned. During the Little Miss Cantigugue Contest on Wednesday, July 27, children age 2 and under and age 3-5 will be judged for beauty and poise.

All contestants must wear a bathing suit and be able to walk or toddle. Mothers with a valid Leisure Pass may register their children until contest time at 1 p.m. Rain date is August 3.

Cantigugue Park, operated by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, is located on West John Street in Hicksville.

Dear Friends

We are pleased to see that HAD, one of our local organizations which is doing such a splendid job in helping so many to find their way back to constructive living, is among the 28 community programs who will share in a New York State grant to the Nassau County Dept of Drug and Alcohol Addiction for 1977-78. In a total County grant of $2,259,000, HAD will be receiving $85,250.

The Tri-Town Auxiliary for the AHRC has asked me to mention that they have scheduled a Tennis and Splash Card Party and Poolside Luncheon on Tues., July 19th. They forgot to say where, but you may phone 676-5885 for further information.

WHEN MARKING YOUR CALENDAR AHEAD, be sure to put down the 49th annual Labor Day parade and drill on Sept 5th. Our Fire Dept will be welcoming both visitors and drill teams from many towns and villages from Nassau, Suffolk and upstate communities. You won't want to miss this event.

Michael Polansky of Plainview writes to say "thank you" to all who signed his designating petitions. He is a democratic candidate for the Oyster Bay Town Board.

THAT'S ALL for this week, which was a surprising one, what with the City blackout, the humid weather, etc. But whatever the weather remember the old adage, "It's never too hot (or cold) to do a kind deed." So do one ... now.

SHEILA NOETH

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mrs. Noeth,

Last Monday was the 4th, a holiday. It was also our regular day for garbage collection which we did not get. Most of the people on our block hopefully put out their garbage Tuesday morning—to no avail. When I called the Sanitation Dept., I was told collection would be Wednesday. This same thing happened on the last Monday holiday and apparently will happen on all the other holidays, since all holidays are now on Monday.

It seems to me obviously ridiculous to give our area no service at all for six days, and then two days in succession. We certainly pay enough taxes for service to do better than that. When I called Mr. Colby's office, no one seemed to have any idea how to do better—or to care.

Aside from the annoyance and the inconvenience of it, it seems to me that to allow garbage to collect for six days in hot weather is definitely unsanitary and an invitation to disease—especially on a holiday weekend. One family told me of the trash from barbecue party. Another spoke of entrails from cleaning fish.

An Interview With Nancy Harman Hicksville's First Girl West Pointer

By Richard Evers

She was jogging when I first saw her. The long legs and sweatshirted girl in shorts looked almost out of place on West John Street. The incongruity of the pretty runner diverting passing traffic was dispelled when one recognized the family features.

"Ah, no wonder, it's the Harman girl, the kid going to West Point, and she's keeping in condition!" The girl running so effortlessly was she, Nancy Harman, Hicksville's first woman plebe, soon to take her place in the "long gray line" at West Point.

One recalled meeting so many outstanding youths from Hicksville over the years: Legion oratorical champs, top New York

Weekends are for entertainment, especially in summer, and garbage makes a real problem.

If any of your other readers are as annoyed and disgusted as I am, I invite them to write or phone the Supervisors office in the Town of Oyster Bay and see if we can't get some action.

Sincerely yours,
Harriet A. Spink.

Nancy Harman, Hicksville's first woman appointed to West Point, pauses in packing for plebe summer training with her proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Harman.

State Regents Exam scorers, artists, gifted young musicians, Legion Boys and Girls State delegates, brave airmen and soldiers—all of these, and now the community had a lass ready to pioneer for the feminists at the United States Military Academy.

An interview seemed in order. An inquiry from a mutual friend was followed by a gracious girl's invitation by phone to visit her home for an interview as she got ready to report to West Point on June 6. I wondered what a "girl cadet" would be like: some aggressive women's libber...a high school amazon...maybe a super patriot, or was the Harman girl a romanticist?

She greeted me at the door in casual summer attire to match my own: shirt, shorts and sandals. A girlish smile contended with a touch of seeming uncertainty and modest reserve in her face.

For our talk and easy note taking, I opted for the convenience of the kitchen and its table in her parents' well kept home.

The sequence and thrust of my questions were routine, but the new West Pointer's replies not nearly as expected. "What made you select the Military Academy of all places, why not some civilian college?" "The service has always interested me. The way my brother talked of his life in the army—the travel, leadership...." her voice had the ring of sincerity. We talked a bit of this brother, a Major in the regular army. I recalled hearing of his distinguished record as a helicopter and reconnaissance plane pilot in two tours of Vietnam duty. The years slid away momentarily, and I tried to recall the times young Bob Harman and I were together studying New York State history in my 7th grade class in the 'fifties.

"I started to really think about becoming an officer in the 10th grade...R.O.T.C. training seemed like a way to do it, but then last year they let girls enter the service academies and that had to be it."

Nancy's academic background turned out to be enough for Senator Jacob Javits to appoint her to the Academy without qualifying examination. Her scholastic achievement rests lightly on her modest shoulders—she ranked twelfth in a senior class of over 950. She hardly seems likely to become the type of person the cynics see as

BIDE-A-WEE AWARD

Harris, hovered over the frigid water, Zwerling leaned out, grabbed the dog, and pulled it to safety.

More dead than alive, the dog was brought to shore where a waiting police radio car driven by Addeo rushed it to Bid-A-Wee's Wantagh clinic.

Zwerling managed to revive the animal by giving it external heart massage enroute and once at the Bid-A-Wee clinic a team of veterinarians worked on the dog and by the next day it was well on its way to recovery. The dog, Fonzie, was subsequently reunited with its owner, Gary Panasuk of Merrick.

Mr. Arthur A. Amundsen, a member of Bid-A-Wee's Board of Directors and a resident of Valley Stream, presented the awards to the officers.

Bid-A-Wee, a non-profit animal welfare organization whose main function is to find new homes for dogs and cats that can no longer be kept by their owners, has shelters and veterinary clinics, open to the public, in Manhattan, Wantagh, and Westhampton. Bid-A-Wee never destroys an animal in its care unless incurably ill; once accepted into a Bid-A-Wee shelter an animal will be cared for until a suitable home can be found for it. In 1976 Bid-A-Wee found new homes for over 14,000 dogs, cats, puppies and kittens.

Nancy Harman

Her favorite subjects in recent years were an unlikely duo: "chemistry and philosophy." "How did Neil O'Doherty (philosophy mentor at the Hicksville high) react to your appointment?" She smiled in reflection: "He was behind me as a person but in a class discussion seemed to prefer a non-military career for women; he sort of idealized women and their role."

"Well, do you think the system at West Point will feminize you? Some of the 'drop-outs' among the first girls at the academy complained of 'not wanting to be built into men'?" "I don't think of being feminized. I get the impression that West Point is concerned with individuals much more so than larger universities where classes are huge. At the Point they pay attention more to individual scholastic and athletic needs. They want to develop your potential."

"Are you going up there as a woman's libber, to score some points for the feminists?" Nancy did not think so. She seems to have been well accepted by boys as a competitor in sports and scholastics. "I like challenge whether its from girls or fellowers."

"How do you think you'll react to the constant discipline, the regimentation of the Corps of Cadets?" The question brought not a blanch to her face, not even a touch of grimace before the reply: "I don't think it will be too much for me. I like being organized... There's going to be time for a variety of activity: study, sports, duties, new experiences. I could be at home, I think, in either a civilian school or at West Point." She agreed she likes "structure" in life. "We'll be two girls in a room in mixed barracks, with all sorts of uniforms, but I understand from women already up there that the girls prefer to avoid the issue skirts. They don't want to stand out from the men cadets."

I recalled seeing her jogging a week or so ago. "Will you have to do any particular distance and time at The Point?" "We're supposed to run three miles in 25 minutes." Nancy's time is 24 minutes. "Can you do pushups?" "Yes, fifteen or twenty but no pull-ups." "Right." I laughed, "unfeminine to say the least."

"What seems to you to be the chief physical hurdle you'll face at West Point?" "None if other women can do it, I can do it!" She thought she has the mental stability for such brutal training as judo and bayonet drill. "But we will not be able to choose a commission in the combat forces for our five years obligatory service after West Point." We talked briefly of war. "It's here, a reality," she seemed to feel.

"We have to try to prevent it by being strong, prepared."

Her class mates and friends are quite supportive of Nancy's choice of a career. Although most of them echo the observation of one: "But I could never do it!" At Hicksville School in the last months the West Point aspirant was called "sarge," a sobriquet she seems to enjoy. Nancy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Harman are a charming couple whose affirmative life-style is reflected in congenial, motivated sons and daughters.

The hour's talk with Nancy seemed such a refreshing experience to one who spends classroom hours with many under-motivated youngsters. One last question: "Was there anything making her nervous, a bit apprehensive?"

The smile reappeared, and she gave a kind of a measured answer: "I'm going in with a lot of confidence, so when they 'knock me down,' I'll still have some left."

Litter Basket Hearing On Aug. 9

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca announced that a proposed ordinance requiring the installation of litter receptacles in private parking lots will be the subject of a public hearing before the Oyster Bay Town Board on August 9.

"The proposed ordinance is intended to cut down on the unsightly and unhealthy litter that abounds in some of the parking lots of shopping centers and fast-food restaurants," Mosca said.

The law would apply to all retail establishments with parking facilities for more than 10 cars, with one receptacle required for every 10 parking spaces in lots of up to 100 cars capacity. Larger lots would have to install one additional receptacle for each 100 cars capacity or fraction thereof.

The proposal also specifies the size and type of litter receptacle, as well as the manner and location of their installation.

Violations would be punishable by a fine of up to $100 for each day the violation exists.

Cut your current Federal income tax...

and have more money for your retirement, too.

If you're working and not covered by a pension program, there may be a tax-deferred way for you to build your own retirement fund.

With a Metropolitan Individual Retirement Annuity, you can defer Federal income taxes each year on up to 15% of your earned income or $1,500, whichever is less, by putting this income to work to set up your own retirement plan.

Think about that! If you qualify, you can purchase your own retirement annuity with money you deduct on your income tax return. You won't be subject to tax on this money and the earnings on it until years from now after retirement, when your tax bracket probably will be lower. And if you qualify, Metropolitan can even make contributions to the plan for you if you should become totally disabled.

So if you're not scheduled to get a pension, call me and we'll arrange one.

One of the joys of cycling is riding double. But before you pick up a back seat rider, be sure you've mastered the basic skills of riding and feel confident in your abilities.

Kawasaki Motors Corp., U.S.A. offers the following safety suggestions to give the beginning passenger an idea of what to do:

1. Sit behind the rider. It's important not to upset the balance of the machine. Straddle the seat behind the rider with feet on the foot pegs. The bike should be equipped with two sets of foot pegs. Do not ride double on a cycle that is not designed for that purpose.

2. Wear proper clothing. Full length pants (not baggy) and hard-soled shoes are suggested. (No sandals!) A sweater or light jacket should be worn, depending on weather. Everyone who gets on a motorcycle should wear a helmet and suitable eye protection.

3. Pay attention. By watching and looking ahead, you can anticipate situations that may call for hard braking. Brace yourself so your weight doesn't

From Mid Island Kawasaki
600 So. Oyster Bay Rd.,
Hicksville

shift onto the rider, affecting his ability to control the machine.

4. Proper take-off technique. Sit as close to the rider as possible, keeping your weight centered over the rear wheel. Hold on tight when accelerating from a stop.

5. Cornering. Lean exactly as much as the rider does to maintain proper balance. If you lean too much, the bike could fall if there is loose gravel on the road.

6. Help the rider. After riding a few miles you should be confident enough to help out with signaling chores. Let the rider start making the signal, then let him know you've taken over. Even though most bikers are equipped with turn signal lights, it is wise to use hand signals, the same as used when driving cars.

Using the Kawasaki tips and a measure of common sense, riding with a friend can double your motorcycle riding pleasure.

Operation VFW

By Lou Palladino

We had our first meeting with our new Cmdr. Vinnie Edwards handling the gavel. We received four applications for membership, which were turned over to the investigating committee. Having four prospective members at Vinnie's first meeting, that's a pretty good start.

The Youth Activity Comm. have come up with plans for a fishing trip. If any one is interested, you can get in touch with Mike Monteleone, or Ray Darnowski, they are making all the arrangements with Vinnie's blessing.

In this heat a Committee was picked for our Post Christmas party, and one for the Children. Also for the New Years Eve party.

One important thing was brought up by the Ways and Means Committee which Joe Normandy is chairing. He gave the dates for all the activities for the coming year, right through to the end of June 1978. With the Comm. and the Cmdr. working hand in hand, it's still a big job. Available dates have to be selected with enough interval between activities. They finally worked out a schedule. The first event is on July 9th, a "Poker and Black Jack" night.

Another important Committee which Joe Normandy is also chairing is the Veterans Employment Agency. To date we are the only Veterans Post in the country to attempt a project of this magnitude. We will have our official dedication Sunday, July 24th, at 2:00 P.M. We will have some dignitaries present to help with the Grand Opening. These Comrades who are giving so much of their time are doing it to help the unemployed Vet. We are quite proud of these endeavors, and proud to be recognized, not County or State wide but Nationally also.

A point of information, did you know the different national Veterans organizations including our own, are pushing for, and will be getting a cabinet member for Vets. He will be known as Secretary of Veterans Affairs.

Art Fuelling who is again bingo chairman gave his first report it was summed up in one word, "HELP."

Our lucky rattle winner was Abe Feldman, he went out as Cmdr. a winner and is still winning.

DEVOTIONS

Trinity Lutheran Church
Dial-A-Devotion 931-2221

By The Rev. John H. Krahn

One of the slang phrases we used several years ago to describe a "cool dude" or someone "who knows where it's at," was to say that he was the "living end." Jesus Christ was the living end. The Bible refers to Him as the beginning and the end. Any way you say it, Jesus has always been where it's at.

The Son of God was even there at the beginning of all things. He was the One who gave us our belly button. As we, His creation, came out of the oven, having been baked to perfection, He poked His finger in everyone's belly and said, "You're done...you're done...you're done." That's one explanation of how we got our belly button.

Even children know that Jesus is Alpha, the beginning of everything. Two small children were arguing over who could remember back further. One child said, "I remember when I was only a few days old and my mother brought me home from the hospital." "Oh, that's nothing," the other replied, "I remember before I was born, when God said, 'Cindy, turn over. I want to put your eyes in.'"

Jesus is the Alpha. Alpha is the first letter in the Greek alphabet comparable to our letter A. Omega is the last, comparable to our letter Z. As Alpha, the Son of God participated in creation and therefore holds supreme power over the heaven and the earth. It is His, with the Father and the Holy Spirit. God's world, God's universe. From beginning to end. First to last. We own nothing, not even ourselves, but live in the context of His creation. We're privileged to participate in His world...having been gifted even with life itself.

Jesus is also the Omega, the end, the last of all things. Because only He knows the end of all things, only He is capable of telling us what is yet to be. We need not worry what will happen to us when we are no more. Jesus will be there at the end as he was at the beginning.

To get the most out of life, Jesus must also be our personal Alpha and Omega. He must be the first and the last of our lives. Each morning before we rise our heart and day to His direction...discussing it with Him, making plans together. Then we get out of bed with some bounce in our step. With His help we can spend the day making our way into God's world, encountering Him and being encountered by Him along the way. Don't compartmentalize God to any one day of the week or any hour of the day, for He is the Alpha and Omega of each day...every hour. Amen.

In Science Research Program

Bonnie S. Koreff of Lincoln Road East in Plainview is participating in the 24th summer "Research Participation program in Science" at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, the New York State Department of Health's comprehensive cancer center in Buffalo, New York, and the first and one of the largest cancer research centers in the world.

Dr. Edwin A. Mirand, Associate Institute Director and Science Program Director said that Bonnie is one of 117 students who were selected from more than 1200 throughout the United States on the basis of demonstrable aptitudes in science, and an imagination and discipline in methods of scientific investigation.

The eight-week session which began on June 20 exposes the student to an atmosphere of intensive research by combining actual laboratory research experience under staff supervision, with lectures, seminars and scientific films.

A Senior at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y. Bonnie is concentrating on experimental therapeutics and high pressure liquid chromatography research at the Institute and is looking forward to applying this knowledge in furthering her career as a medical doctor.

Bonnie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Koreff of Plainview.
