Calls for Task Force

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond asked the New York State Department of Transportation (DOT) to appoint a local task force to work with the department in developing a comprehensive traffic rehabilitation project for Route 106-107 (North Broadway) in the HICKSVILLE and JERICHO areas.

"Anyone who has to travel this stretch of road, particularly during morning or evening peak commuting hours, is aware of the monumental traffic problems that exist along this route," Diamond said. "It is also important that local economic, social, and environmental considerations be included in a project of this scope and nature," he added, "and the best source of this information is the community involved."

Diamond serves on a similar task force that was appointed by the State Commissioner of Transportation in 1974 to solve traffic problems on the portion of Route 107 north of Jericho Turnpike (Route 25). "This task force has been instrumental in developing recommendations for corrective measures at ten locations to improve traffic flow and safety while meeting the goals of the affected communities," Diamond said.

Councilman Thomas L. Clark, a Hicksville resident, has joined Diamond in recommending that the task force be composed of local officials, representatives of local business and civic organizations, and concerned citizens to work with the DOT throughout the design phases of the project.

"I would welcome the opportunity to serve on such a task force and would be glad to suggest the names of other concerned individuals and organizations that could make a meaningful contribution to the rehabilitation plan," Diamond said.

By Lou Palladino

At our last meeting two more new members were entered in our Post. Dan Clancy a war horse from WWII and Howard Bergeron a young tiger from Viet Nam theater, welcome comrades, and help us to help others.

Mike Znack reported the House turned down benefits for all Vets. with less than an Honorable Discharge, even upgraded discharges don't qualify for benefits. It must be Honorable. If you have any questions to ask, then Mike is the guy who will give you the answers. And when Mike gives answers you can bet on it.

A fishing trip is scheduled for Aug. 7th. this is another of Mike Montellone's babies, with a strong assistance from Ray Darnowski. All these affairs go through our Cmdr. Vinnei Edwards' hands, with his blessings. If you received the flyer you know it starts at 8:00 AM. sharp, and will be over by 3:00PM. There is a limit so if you are interested, get hold of Mike.

Now for some gossip. Our town at heart is still a small town and news gets around fast. The Joint was raided! But we don't have a joint we have a very nice building, and we are all proud of it. We weren't exactly raided. A very courteous policeman came and asked us to stop our games. We were having a Poker and Blackjack night, the date was

July 9th. and at 9:05p.m. the law entered, and things had to stop. As a matter of fact not many people had come yet. The Officer answered a complaint that we were having a Las Vegas Night, which we weren't. He saw what was going on, and was very nice about it all. We complied very reluctantly. We certainly don't want to be law breakers, nor do we appreciate the scandalous action taken against us. Here we are a group of dedicated Vets. trying in every way we know how to drum up money, so we can help the Disabled Vets, widows, and orphans. Another prime project is to help our Community, and the Children in it. This all takes time, and money. We made a big joke of it. but down deep we were very hurt, and most of all Vinnei Edwards, our new Cmdr. his venture, and a thing like this happens. He was trying to earn a few bucks for the Post and a thing like this ends in disaster. It also cost us money to buy and prepare for the event, and so the outcome was a total loss of revenue. We hope the person who filed the complaint doesn't have a child who will be affected by this loss.

During all this heat our Northport visit still goes on. Ray Darnowski our new Chaplain is in charge of the project. They just went again for the month of July, and had a very nice turn out. Our Ladies Auxiliary, bless them, are

BOCES Study Results

More than half of the graduates of the Nassau BOCES special education program go on to college or find competitive jobs, according to a new study.

They enter colleges such as C.W. Post, Adelphi, Nassau Community, and Farmingdale, or they take jobs as security guards, gas station attendants, school custodians, landscapers, bartenders, truck drivers, assemblers, laborers, auto mechanics, mail sorters, kitchen helpers, stock clerks, nursing aides, printers, and painters.

And while the group's unemployment rate is above 20%, it is low considering that all are handicapped, says Dr. Henry V. Colella, assistant superintendent for special education at the Nassau Board of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES), where the graduates received most of their formal schooling.

The data demonstrates clearly, said Colella, that "the handicapped can realize their potential if society provides them with equal educational opportunity and equal employment opportunity."

The newly-completed study covered 165 young adults who left BOCES in 1975-76, having been schooled in one of six special programs for students who are mentally retarded, cerebral palsied, hearing impaired, vision impaired, learning disabled, or emotionally disturbed.

Of the 165 graduates, 43 were found to be holding so-called competitive jobs-jobs normally held, and sought by, the nonhandicapped. Another 20 had obtained competitive jobs from which they subsequently were laid off, and at the time of the study were seeking work.

Five graduates were working in "semi-independent, supervised" situations, which are comparable to competitive jobs, except that the worker needs and receives additional support as required.

Three other graduates were working part time, and 30 were employed in sheltered workshops.

Of the graduates not working, 20 were enrolled in colleges. Fourteen were receiving further training, in most cases through the state Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, which was evaluating 10 others for possible further training.

One graduate had been institutionalized, apparently to become eligible for acceptance to a sheltered workshop. And six were unemployed and living at home in what the researchers called "poor adjustment," a term indicating that the graduates' prospects for an independent adulthood seemed slim.

Of the 43 graduates holding competitive jobs, 30 had attended the Career Development Center in Syosset, the BOCES high school for the learning disabled and emotionally disturbed.

Of the 70 enrolled in colleges, four had attended the Career Development Center, and none others were visually impaired.

CONGRATULATIONS: Nassau County Clerk, Harold W. McConnell was elected President of the New York State Association of County Clerks at their 56th annual meeting and seminar held at Cooperstown, New York.

The meeting at Cooperstown concerned itself with changes affecting the administrative and fiscal operations of the court caused by laws passed at the special session of the 1977 Legislature. That session concerned itself with the take-over by the State of New York of all of the Courts in New York State. The County Clerk is constitutionally the Clerk of both the County Court and the Supreme Court.

A long time resident of Nassau County, Mr. McConnell has been associated with the County Clerk's Office for over 33 years. In 1967, he was elected to his first three year term as County Clerk and was reelected in 1970, 1973 and again in 1976.

County Clerk McConnell resides in Bellmore with his wife Kay and two of their 3 children, Michael and Erin. Another daughter Mrs. James Sullivan resides in Massachusetts.

Mr. McConnell is shown being congratulated by New York State Supreme Court Justice Paul J. Widditz, the Administrative Judge of all Courts in Nassau County.

A Warning!

The first two cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever believed to have been contracted in Nassau County in 1977 were reported recently, said Dr. Thomas Abruzzo, epidemiologist for the Nassau County Department of Health.

The two patients, a 12 year old Bethpage girl and an 18 year old Farmingdale girl, are under treatment and recovering from the disease.

The Bethpage girl had a tick removed in mid-June and developed a fever, headache and rash in six days. The Farmingdale girl had picnicked in Bethpage State Park in mid-June. Two weeks later when an imbedded tick was removed, she had already experienced fever and headache for five days, and rash for two days.

Only a small percentage of ticks carry the Rickettsia (the family of disease organisms which includes the agent which causes Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever.) In addition not all people who are bitten by ticks harboring the Rickettsia contract the disease. The tick must be attached for a long time with extensive salivary interchange at the wound.

During the next few weeks the ticks will be taking their final meal before preparing for reproduction. Nassau County residents are urged to exercise special caution. Anyone who develops fever or illness following a tick bite should immediately consult their physician or hospital emergency room. Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever can be cured if treated early. If untreated it can be fatal.

The percentage of ticks in Nassau County which harbor the Rickettsia appears to have increased. The County Health Department is involved in a tick surveillance program to ascertain the extent of the problem. The sources of ticks involved in the Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever cases are under further investigation.

If you must work or play in tick infested areas: use an insect repellent, wear tightly closed clothing, tuck pants inside boots,

Assigned

To the Editor

Although the Tri-State Regional Planning Commission was initially created to deal with regional transportation matters in the New York-New Jersey-Connecticut metropolitan area, it has since assumed greater powers and is now recognized by the federal government as the official regional planning body of the above-noted area, which includes all of Long Island. Among other official functions, it develops its own perception of housing needs, even though Towns and Villages are responsible for planning and zoning within their respective boundaries.

The Commission is responsible for the flow of billions of dollars of federal aid per year into the tri-state area. The serious specific criticisms that Long Island suburban governments have had regarding Commission policy and decisions stem primarily from the fact that the regional agency is dominated by urban interests and that there is no suburban representation on that body.

After years of effort to secure suburban representation on the Tri-State Planning Commission, it now appears that Governor Carey will sign a bill authorizing voting seats for a representative from Long Island as well as from one other suburban area falling within the Commission's sphere of influence. The Long Island representative is to be appointed by the Governor upon recommendations of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors and the Suffolk County Legislature.

The people of Oyster Bay and Long Island have some cause to hope that this development will help to create a more realistic vision of suburban needs within the Commission, and will help to focus federal attention on these real and practical needs. Personally, my enthusiasm is somewhat restrained. Having one representative for all of Long Island on the tri-State Planning Commission is only one of a number of options that have been previously discussed. Another approach would be to have direct Town representation.

Whoever is ultimately appointed by the Governor to the single position must have a broad and detailed knowledge of the needs of Long Island communities and will have to be forceful in articulating these needs as he sits with urban representatives in Tri-State sessions.

Having some suburban representation on the Commission will be better than having none. However, Oyster Bay and other suburban Towns still have cause to be wary of the Tri-State Planning Commission.

Public Hearing On Town Signs, Sept. 6

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan, Jr. announced that the Town Board will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, September 6, to consider proposed amendments to the Town's sign ordinance which controls all signs advertising and public informational devices and displays.

Hogan, who is chairman of the Town Board Committee on Codes and Ordinances, noted that the existing ordinance was outdated and that it contained a number of inconsistencies and contradictions as a result of piecemeal amending over the years.

"The proliferation of signs over the years, particularly in retail of San Francisco, California. She is a 1974 graduate of Hunter College, Bellevue School of Nursing in New York City.

Lieutenant Prew was a civilian staff nurse at Bellevue Hospital Center in New York. She entered the service in 1976, and was given a direct commission in the Army Nurses Corps.

business areas, has created a visual nightmare with each new business trying to put up a bigger and more colorful sign than his neighbors," Hogan said.

The proposed revised ordinance defines the types of signs permitted in any zoning district without a permit, those that require a permit from the Building Division, and those restricted to business and industrial districts and requiring a permit.

Sizes, number, heights, locations, lighting, and other specifications are detailed for each category of sign. Particular attention is paid to signage on gasoline stations and real estate for-sale and rental signs. Particular types of signs, such as flashing or revolving, are prohibited in all zoning districts.

Non-conforming signs, those in existence without permit prior to the adoption of the amendment, must be altered to comply with all provisions of the ordinance or removed within a period of two years of the ordinance's adoption.

Looking on are Richard's parents, Cubmaster and Mrs. John Okulski, along with Cub Scout Eric Oldmixon and his parents Assistant Cubmaster and Mrs. Robert Oldmixon.

Richard and Eric are the first Cub Scouts in Nassau County to earn this award, and were special guests of the Nassau County Protestant Scouting Committee at its Fourth Annual Awards Breakfast this Spring at the First Presbyterian Church of Freeport. They both addressed the assembled group, numbering over 100, of Nassau County Council B.S.A. Dinger, Director, Department of National Youth Agency Relationships, Lutheran Council in the U.S.A., Mr. Syd Schwartz, Chairman of the Jewish Committee, all accompanied by their spouses, on the subject, "What the Religious Award Means To Me". As can be seen by the accumulation of decorations on the boy's uniforms, they are hard working Cub Scouts.

Richard and Eric are members of Cub Pack 489 sponsored by the New Hyde Park Road School P.T.A., and received their Religious Awards from Gloria Dei Lutheran Church in New Hyde Park.

The Keynote Address at the Breakfast Meeting was given by the Rev. Albert Miller of the Hicksville United Methodist Church on the topic, "Scouting and Youth Ministry - One Pastor's Personal Response".

Mr. Warner Lansing of Syosset, spoke on, "Our Committee and Its Challenges" informing the group of the committee's responsibilities to provide Protestant Chaplains at Nassau County Boy Scout Camps, maintain the chapels, and encourage Scouts to work for their respective Religious Awards.

Mr. Sieg Widder addressed the group with a brief discussion of, "The Religious Awards Programs and Recognition of Recipients" and emphasized the new "God and Family" Religious Award, a Christian Growth Program for 9 and 10 year old boys and girls who are: Cub Scouts, Camp Fire Adventurers, Junior Girl Scouts, and 4-H Members. (Mr. Widder will gladly answer questions from any adult leaders of these organizations who may be interested in this program. Call 931-0853 for details.)

Mr. Claude Isaac of Freeport was Master of Ceremonies. The facilities of the First Presbyterian Church of Freeport were provided by its Pastor, the Rev. Timothy C. Peternana. Troop 454 prepared and served the breakfast which was delicious and plentiful.

Over 4,000 children and adults visited The Gregory Museum's exhibits and lectures at the Science Exposition held recently at Dowling College.

The museum had exhibits of rocks, minerals, gems, fossils, butterflies, moths and hydroponics. The museum also presented several continuous slide programs on the earth and natural sciences.

Of great interest was the demonstration of cabochon making by Deborah Duffy and the demonstrations of hydroponics (growing plants without soil) by Kenneth Bruder, both museum volunteers.

Janet Kempinski, Curator, and Deborah Gul, Assistant Curator of the Museum were a great help in setting up the exhibits which were the most extensive at the exposition.

Information concerning museum programs and exhibits can be secured by calling 516-822-7505.

Task Force On Housing

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby has appointed a special task force to undertake an in-depth study of the housing needs of young married couples in the Town of Oyster Bay.

"The housing needs of this (young marrieds) age group have been somewhat overshadowed by those of our senior citizens," Colby said. "Most of these kids were born and grew up in our Town, but now that they are starting out on their own, they are forced to look elsewhere for housing that meets their needs and is within reach of their incomes."

Appointed to the task force are Frederick Ippolito, Deputy Commissioner of General Services who will serve as chairman; John Bogut, Town Attorney; Anthony Maurino, director of Legislative Affairs; Stephen McDonough, Budget Officer; Solomon Newborn, Receiver of Taxes; and Francis O'Connor, Commissioner of Planning and Development.

"These people comprise a pool of special talents and knowledge that are needed to study a problem that has many conflicting and competing interests surrounding it," Colby said.

The supervisor charged the task force to "explore all considerations."

Laud Efforts For Firefighters

Assemblyman Joseph M. Reilly of the 14th A.D. was publicly lauded on the floor of the Assembly by the chairman of the Subcommittee on Fire Fighters last week for his successful efforts in fighting to include increased volunteer firemen benefits in a labor-industry package which has been passed by the Legislature.

"I mounted this effort to include volunteer firemen benefits in this legislation, since it also dealt with increased Workmen's Compensation disability benefits and it was appropriate that they be acted upon together," said Assemblyman Reilly.

"The volunteers serving in our fire departments deserve the respect and gratitude of the entire community. Our volunteer firemen protect with dauntless dedication the personal safety and property of each and every resident. For this reason, I feel that we should provide as much protection as we can to the volunteers, themselves, and to their families in times of hardship," Reilly said.

Assemblyman Reilly said that under the legislative package passed by the Legislature, the following increases have been made for those suffering disability or illness during the performance of fireman duties.

"Benefits may be up to $187.50 a week. On July 1, 1978, these benefits will be increased to $180 a week with maximum combined earnings and benefits up to $270 a week. Beginning Jan. 1, 1979, these weekly benefits will be boosted to $215 a week with maximum earnings and benefits set at $322.50 a week.

"Temporary total disability will be presently raised to $125 a week with an increase to $180 a week next July and to $215 a week beginning Jan. 1, 1979.

"For 75 per cent or more partial disability, benefits are now increased to $95 a week being raised again on July 1, 1978 to $105 a week. Those suffering 50 to 74 per cent permanent disability will be raised to $63.33 a week and increased to $75 a week on Jan. 1, 1978.

"Until Jan. 1, 1978, surviving spouses will receive $57 a week with a lump sum payment of $5,928 upon remarriage. From Jan. 1, 1978 to July 1, 1979, this weekly benefit will be raised to $75 a week with a lump sum payment of $7,800 in the event of remarriage. Surviving spouses' benefits will be further increased from July 1, 1978 to Jan. 1, 1979 to $108 a week with a payment of $11,232 on remarriage.

DEVOTIONS

Trinity Lutheran Church
Dial-A-Devotion 931-2221

By The Rev. John H. Krahn

JOHANN SEBASTIAN BACH SOLI DEO GLORIA

We thank God for gifted musicians like Johann Sebastian Bach. Bach was born in 1685 in Thuringia, a state in central Germany that only 200 years earlier had given the world Martin Luther. Bach was Lutheran. This was fortunate, for among the reformers it was Luther who had the warmest place in his heart for music. We might have lost Bach's musical genius had he been born elsewhere. Sebastian Bach was first and foremost a church musician. Most of the work he produced was designed to enhance the worship of Almighty God. He lived but to worship God and to write music. At the age of twenty-three, he could state his life purpose, producing church music in honor of God. Worship for Bach was a collective response made by the people of God to his redeeming action in Jesus Christ. Music was not an end in itself but existed to assist men in making their response to God. Bach was something of an exegete and theologian in his own right, on Scripture he had to sense what those Scriptures mean. Perhaps the greatest impression we have of Sebastian Bach was his profound personal faith in God. As a Lutheran he did not sentimentalize God. He was convinced of God's love not because of what he felt in his heart, but because of what God had done in Jesus Christ. He would have subscribed heartily to Luther's answer to the question, "How do you know you are a Christian?" When Luther replied, "Because I've been Baptized." If one of the Pietists of his day would have asked Bach when and where he had been saved, he would have answered, "At Golgotha on Good Friday, between twelve and three in the afternoon." Yet Bach's faith was deeply personal too. It is well known that at the beginning of his scores he wrote the letters "J.J." - Jesu Juva, Jesus help. His music is so great that we are sure Jesus answered his prayer personally. And at the end of every one of his pieces he wrote, "Soli Deo Gloria," To God Alone Be all Glory. A statement that showed his humility.

Our worship as well as our personal lives feed well express Jesu Juva and Soli Deo Gloria. As Christians we have a great heritage of which Bach is only one important part. Although Bach was born two centuries after Luther, like Luther his music did not shy away from using every musical form available to bring glory to the Almighty. For to be Christian is to be contemporary - as contemporary as the psalmist who saw every inch of creation praising the Lord.

Today and every day we join with the sound of the wind, the cry of a baby, a Bach cantata, an organ fugue, the smell of sizzling bacon, Luther's majestic Reformation hymn, a beautiful sunset, and we lift up our voices and our very lives in praise of the Almighty.

Summer Hospital Volunteers Begin Work

Syosset Hospital has revitalized its Volunteer Program with an enthusiastic corps of some seventy young people and twenty-five adults who have recently begun their duties in all the units of this busy hospital.

From a near dormant state earlier this year, the Volunteer Program, under the direction of Mrs. Babette Kolack, has begun an intensive recruitment program. It initiated its summer Volunteer Program this month with students from schools in the communities surrounding the hospital. "We sent letters to all the schools in the area," explained Mrs. Kolack, "put notices in the local papers, and the response was terrific." About 25 adults were also recruited from various sources.

The preliminary interviews of prospective candy-strippers and cadets involve both the student and at least one of their parents. "It is important that the parents understand the commitment that these youngsters are making," said Mrs. Kolack. "They (the parents) will probably be called upon to provide transportation or to arrange car pools. A certain expense is also involved since the volunteers must purchase their own uniforms and wear special shoes and shirts they might not otherwise own."

The Volunteers, themselves, are reminded of their responsibility in their work. "We explain to them that whatever their job is, the staff depends on them and their slot is not filled if they fail to show up without notice," Mrs. Kolack continued. The Volunteers are also cautioned that whatever happens on their tour of duty is confidential. They sign a pledge which re-enforces their commitment to the duties of Hospital Volunteers.

Complete Physical examinations are required for each Volunteer. These must be updated each year in accordance with State regulations.

Prospective Volunteers then begin an intensive training session. They see films and become familiar with a checklist of tasks. They learn how to operate wheelchairs and to transport patients. They assist in making beds and perform various clerical tasks. They also get on-the-job training as individual situations arise. All Hospital personnel are familiar with the duties which Volunteers may perform.

When training is complete, the Volunteers are ready to assume their duties and become an important asset to the Hospital.

Miniature Golf

A contest for Nassau residents of all ages will be sponsored by the County's Department of Recreation and Parks at Hempstead Harbor Beach Park, Port Washington, on Sunday, Aug. 7 (raindate, Aug. 14). Hours for the event are from 12 to 3 p.m.

The tournament for foursomes will be determined by the score for 18 holes, with all ties to be decided by a "sudden death" playoff. Awards will be presented to 1st, 2d and 3d place winners.

"In the fall we'll concentrate on increasing our Adult Volunteer lists and maintaining our student groups," Mrs. Kolack stated with obvious anticipation for the work ahead.

Fire Report

By Ex-Capt. Owen Magee

The Hicksville Fire Dept. reports there were 142 alarm answered during the period June 14 to July 16. To date 94 malicious false alarms have been received in 1977. During the 4 week period there were 72 fire calls, 57 rescue calls and 13 false alarms.

A general alarm was sounded for a house fire on June 24 at 12:32 am upon arrival it was found to be a mattress fire. The occupants were lucky to have been aroused from their sleep in the nic of time. They had no smoke detector. We wonder how many people in Hicksville gamble the lives of their family and themselves by not investing in an affordable smoke detector.

On June 29 a garage was destroyed by fire. The alarm came in 10:16 am. Vamps prevented the fire from spreading to the nearby dwellings. Another general alarm was reported on June 30 at 2 am when a car crashed into a building at 550 West John St. The gas main was severed and the building was filled with natural gas. Hicksville vamps under Chief Schaaf stretched in hose lines and prepared for the worst as other vamps quickly ventilated the building. The Dept. was again successful in preventing a major fire.

On June 30 the Syosset F.D. requested mutual aid assistance and Ladder Company No. 1 was sent to a serious house fire up near the L.I.E. Meanwhile, back in Hicksville things got busy for firefighters and the Westbury F.D. stood by as Hicksvilles volunteers handled several alarms.

In other news the N.Y Daily News award for 2nd place was awarded to Hicksville Vamps for their work at the overturned gasoline tanker in May. At the Plainview Parade on June 18 Hicksville Firemen placed first as best appearing unit. The Ladies Auxiliary also won first Pl. The Jr. firemen placed second in their category. The Hicksville PBC Band which led Hicksville Vamps took a third place in the Musical Division. In the Hempstead Parade on July 2 the Ladies Auxiliary of the Hicksville F.D. won second place, best appearing unit.

Welfare Reform

The taxpayers of New York may still see some important reform of the state's costly welfare system this year, according to Citizens Public Expenditure Survey (CPES).

CPES, the statewide taxpayer research organization, notes that a bill identical to the one Governor Carey introduced as part of his proposed budget in January has passed the Senate and is now before the Assembly. If passed by the Assembly, the welfare reforms would save both the state and localities an estimated $44 million a year by reducing grants in several welfare programs categories.

"New York's welfare payments," said CPES President Joseph P. Halwachs, "are an astounding 60 per cent higher than the national average, and significantly ahead of states with similar living costs."

"This is a very dubious distinction, and one that our crushing tax burden proves we must afford. The Legislature must take immediate action to relieve the mess we've gotten into."

The Gregory Museum, Heltz Place, Hicksville, has on display a most unique and unusual Exhibit of Astrological Minerals and Signs called Minerals Of The Zodiac.

Ancient people believed that some minerals held certain powers - depending upon the date of one's birth, a mineral was designated according to their astrologic sign. Carried or worn by an individual, they were thought to bring good fortune, health, and happiness.

Some of the zodiac signs and their minerals are Cancer (June 22-July 22)- Chalcopyrite; Pisces (February 19-March 20)- Herkimer Diamond; Scorpio (October 23-November 21)- Topaz; and so on.

Come on down to the museum and find Your Astrological Mineral! For information call 822-7505. (Photo by Ed Bady).

Salvation Army Canteens Aid In Blackout

Salvation Army emergency-disaster canteens from the Greater New York division served from Wednesday night until the restoration of electrical power approximately 25 hours later during the blackout that crippled New York City.

It was announced by William K. Johnke, Chairman of the Nassau County Advisory Board that volunteers under the direction of Ken Williams, emergency-disaster coordinator, served at sites chosen by the Fire or Police departments, where the need was the greatest. At various times, they were assigned to the Bronx, Manhattan, Brooklyn, and Staten Island. Salvation Army canteens from neighboring divisions were on standby alert if needed.

One canteen was assigned to Bellevue Hospital for several hours where the canteen's generator helped supply the hospital's need for power. Several Salvation Army buildings were made available for emergency use. One canteen's generator helped supply power to Fire Department apparatus at the Empire State Building.

Lieutenant Harvey Robinson, newly assigned to the Bushwick Corps, served with his team in an area that was described as a "war zone - absolute chaos".

Gasoline was not available because the pumps were not working. One canteen had to go to New Jersey to get gas, another to Staten Island.

The canteen's two-way radios did not function during the power failure because they depend on a repeater which was knocked out. The emergency-disaster coordinator kept in touch with the Fire Department through a Fire Department radio, and each unit could hear the calls over a scanner, and get their instructions to go where they were most needed.

The Salvation Army is a participating member of the United Way of Nassau-Suffolk.

According to experts at The Hartford Insurance Group, children should be taught to leave the house immediately in case of fire, and call for help from a neighbor's house.
