Super Drivers—Not Souped Up Cars

"It's not a race, but a test of driving and navigating skills," says Janet Guthrie, honorary chairman of the March of Dimes / MG Car Club's first Annual Auto Rally to be held on Sunday, September 11, 1977.

A CLEANER COM-
MUNITY: Even though pup can't understand what all the fuss is about, but if Governor Carey signs Assembly Bill 2391 requiring New York dog owners to clean up after their dogs, scoopers such as these might become a common sight throughout the state. Referendum Set On Public Works Project

By Linda Strongin

A resolution calling for a special referendum on a public works project was adopted by the Hicksville Board of Education at its meeting last week. The date has been set for September 15. The passing of the referendum would authorize the school district to receive and expand federal funds if forthcoming. A referendum is required by state education law for expenditure of public works funds.

Mr. Greg Guercio, associate of school attorney Joseph Campanella, informed the Board that a bill has been passed by the legislature that would no longer require a referendum on public works projects. Governor Carey, however, has not signed the bill into law. According to the governor's legal counsel, said Mr. Guercio, "we won't find out until on or about August 15 if the governor has signed the bill."

Mr. Richard Weigang, Business Manager, told the Board that there was a "99% chance of receiving the federal funds" which could amount up to $385,000. The funds are to be used, as a first priority, for the construction of a maintenance garage and, as a second priority, for the construction of a ramp at the public library.

The Board also approved the staff for the evening high school as well as adult education instructors and courses. The Board approved an increasing of fees for arts and crafts courses and a registration fee of $5 for out-of-district residents.

Two executive sessions were held by the board to discuss personnel matters. They later approved assignment and transfers for forty-seven teachers; part-time appointments for buildings and grounds; and various clerical appointments.

Also approved was the appointment of Mr. William Willner as District Treasurer at an annual fee of $2,500. Trustee Niel McCormack questioned the Board's action of appointing an out-of-district resident. Mr. Willner resides in Jericho. Also approved was the appointment of Arnold Sparr, as consultant-coordinator of the Curriculum Materials Center, with salary to be negotiated.

The Board approved the continuance of the district's remedial reading program in the public and non-public school for 1977-78. The program, is federally funded under Title I, ESEA, at a cost of $72,596.

The Board accepted the notice of retirement from Mr. Erwin Rozran, Assistant Superintendent for personnel and pupil personnel services. Trustee Iris Wolfson, who made the motion, expressed the sentiments of the Board: "We're going to miss you." Mr. Rozran, who has served the Hicksville school district for twenty years, begins his retirement on September 27.

Also approved was the hiring of Applied Data Services as transportation consultant. "The consultant" explained Mr. Richard Helfont, Assistant Business Manager, "will evaluate our existing transportation system and look at possible questions such as loading and routes." They would then prepare and submit "alternate viable schedules." The final report, which will cost $1,950, is due October 15, as required by the Board. Trustee Neil McCormack asked that all schools be placed on uniform school hours.

The Board awarded bids totaling $159,191.03 for the purchase of various music supplies and for building and maintenance supplies. The Board also approved the authorization to purchase equipment for the Special Education Department.

The next meeting of the Hicksville board of Education is scheduled for August 24, 8:15 p.m., in the conference room of the Administration Building. The public is invited to attend.

Israeli Night

Violin virtuoso Sascha Tormas, singer Sara Aviani and the Yemite Trio, the Par Parim Dancers and one of Israel's top singing stars, Ron Eliran, will entertain during Israeli Night at the Lakeside Theatre in Eisenhower Park on Monday, August 8 at 8:30 p.m.

The beautiful Miss Aviani began singing to audiences while serving in the Israeli Army and decided upon a show business career on her return to civilian life. Sabra Aviani has performed throughout Israel and the Far East as well as in New York City.

Violinist Tormas has impressed audiences from Athens to Vienna with his deft playing of light classical music. Tormas is at home with the classics and progressive jazz. His program is presented with a vigorous touch well suited to outdoor performances.

Israeli Night is the fifth program in the popular free International Hit series sponsored by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks and European American Bank. Folding chairs and blankets are suggested for viewing comfort. If weather is doubtful, call 292-4173 after 7 p.m. on August 8 for confirmation of performance.

Presto.

At rest, the Magician will entertain youngsters during Fun Fair I at Eisenhower Park on Wednesday, August 10, beginning 2 p.m. But Presto won't be the only dispenser of magic. The Eisenhower staff has put together a magical array of games guaranteed to involve most children between the ages of 6 and 12 in friendly competition. Beginning 1 p.m. at the playground near parking field No. 2, children will be engaged in potato sack races, lollipop in the haystack hunts and other action-packed games.

Balloons will be given youngsters as the supply lasts. Fun Fair Day, conducted by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, is sponsored by the Seamen's Bank for Savings. Rain date is the following day. For further information, call 292-4153.

"Blondes Prefer Gentlemen"

On August 10, the Nassau County Department of Recreation & Parks will present an original musical comedy entitled, "BLONDES PREFER GENTLEMEN" at the Lakeside Theatre in Eisenhower Park at 8:30 P.M.

The show, which will be performed by the newly organized Nassau County Amateur Theatre Players, was successfully produced in May at the East Terrace Auditorium in the County's Nassau Beach Park in Lido Beach. It was written and directed by Francis J. O'Connell of Garden City. Arthur Gartner is co-director and Clarence Wolbe is Musical Director. The Lakeside Theatre is Nassau County's outdoor theatre and is located by the lake in Eisenhower Park. A rain date has been set for August 25. Communities represented in the cast include Wantagh, New Hyde Park, Elmont, Oceanside, Jericho, Uniondale, Baldwin, Mineola, Levittown, Franklin Square, Hicksville, North Bellmore, Massapequa Park and Hempstead.

The public is cordially invited to see this new two-act musical comedy and to hear its original music and lyrics. ADMISSION IS FREE.

Senator Ralph Marino Joins Purcell Camp

Saying that it's difficult not to support an incumbent county executive for re-election, "but I must," State Senator Ralph J. Marino today accepted the honorary chairmanship of the People for Francis T. Purcell for County Executive campaign.

"The self-serving attitude of the present county executive is not the image of the future that the Republican Party must portray if the party is to be successful in the years ahead," Marino said.

"The present county executive is indifferent to the real needs of the average county homeowner. He takes credit for opposing pay raises for local policemen and municipal employees, but fails to remember that his administration earlier negotiated the contracts with these service groups granting them the huge pay increases they were entitled to.

"In Oyster Bay Town, as well as the other two towns and cities here in Nassau, the present county executive has incurred a great negative job performance rating. Too many indicators point to the fact that the people want an alternative to him.

"As for State Senator John R. Dunne, my colleague in Albany, who is also seeking the party's designation, I must also oppose his candidacy, as he personifies the liberal policies of John Lindsay, the former Mayor of New York City.

"State Senator Dunne is very much of a liberal like John Lindsay, and his liberal attitude wouldn't be acceptable to the majority of conservative-minded, middle-income residents of this great county.

"Finally, Senator Dunne's mishandling of the no-fault insurance legislation which is costing individuals higher car insurance payments, makes his candidacy fragile at best.

"My alternative and the only alternative that I believe the people of this county can choose, is Francis T. Purcell, a former businessman with a fiscal conservative philosophy of administering government.

"A vote for Senator Dunne would be a wasted vote and could only prevent our party from selecting an alternative to Ralph Caso," Marino said.

"In my opinion, Fran Purcell is well-qualified to be county executive. He's honest and has done a good job for the people. He's capable of restoring honesty and trust to government. He's the only alternative to Ralph Caso - the decision is clear.

"Fran Purcell was overwhelmingly selected by the commitment of the party to be their candidate for county executive. The vote was 1,697 for Purcell, 90 for Caso, and 16 for Dunne.

"I believe that there must be an alternative to Ralph Caso and when selecting that alternative, the choice is clear - Francis T. Purcell," Marino concluded.

Advisor On Energy Conservation Named

Francis E. O'Connor of Locust Valley, who was the top energy administrator in Nassau County government during six years as head of the Department of General Services, was named today as Energy Advisor to the Nassau Board of Supervisors.

O'Connor's appointment to the non-salaried post will be formally approved by the Board at its meeting on Monday, August 8th, according to Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell, who said:

"The Board recognizes that there are serious problems facing county residents relative to critical fuel and energy shortages. There have also been many changes in legislation he created the Bureau of Energy

Resources which instituted a broad-based and successful program of energy conservation at all county buildings and facilities.

Under O'Connor's direction, the county developed one of the first municipal solar energy projects in this region, designed to cut heating costs at the county's largest office building at 240 Old Country Road, Mineola. County officials are optimistic regarding federal funding of this project.

O'Connor was appointed Commissioner of Oyster Bay Town's Department of Planning and Development in April, shortly after he resigned from county government. relating to the conservation of energy, and new legislation is being proposed periodically at all levels of government.

"For this reason," Purcell declared, "the Nassau Board of Supervisors is especially fortunate to be able to call upon the professional experience and expertise of Frank O'Connor, a recognized administrative expert in the field of energy resources, energy conservation and alternate sources of energy."

O'Connor, 47, a professional engineer, is Chairman of the New York State Association of Counties Energy Committee, and is a member of the National Association of Counties Energy Steering Committee. As Commissioner of the Nassau Department of General Services,

Guest Editorial

By Harriet Spink

Two weeks ago, I read in the Herald, accounts of three children on bicycles who had been hurt that week by collision with automobiles. This has disturbed me ever since, for I think back a few months ago to a time when a child, riding on the wrong side of a divided highway ran into my car as I started to make a right turn. Fortunately, neither child nor his bike were hurt, though I felt as if I might have a heart attack. I love children and would never get over it if I hurt one. Besides that, I might have been in trouble with the law, even though the child was on the wrong side of the road. So there are two reasons to worry about children on bicycles: what it does to the child if hit by a car, and what it does to the motorist.

I have recently read that 85% of the cases the child is at fault. This seems inexcusable and that something can be done to correct or at least improve that percentage. After considerable thought and consultation with friends, several suggestions evolved. I pass them on as a possible step in the right direction. Perhaps you, the reader, may think of ways to improve or add to these beginnings. If so, I hope you will give your suggestions to the Mid Island Herald.

First, there should be a course in the schools about the 5th grade which teaches the traffic rules that pertain to bicycles. No child should be allowed to go on to the next grade who has not passed that course. I hear a friend reply, "they already know the safety rules. The police send someone every year to talk about bike safety." This I know is true, but it is not emphasized enough by the parents, the schools or the police.

If a certificate of passage were issued (a sort of unofficial preliminary license) it could be used not only as proof of having passed the course, but as the first step toward an eventual car license. It could be required for riding the current moped which is in a sort of legal limbo at present and offers the possibility of even more danger than the bicycle. This certificate could later become a help in obtaining an official driver's license—the dream of so many American kids.

Parents in the home can help tremendously if they take an active interest in the bicycle safety course and how it is applied in actual bike riding by their children.

The PTA could well afford to make bicycle safety one of their projects in co-operation with the schools. It would be an excellent thing (as well as good public relations) if the police would give the same bike safety talk to the PTA's that they gave in the schools, with a question and answer period at the end.

There is a great deal that the police can do. First of all the police should stop bike-riding children when they see violations explaining what the child has done wrong and what the results could be.

In addition, a yearly demonstration of safe riding by the police in conjunction with the schools and the PTA's would be a great help. Young children usually look up to the police with great respect, so that the Police Dept. has a fine opportunity to capitalize on that feeling and to strengthen it.

These suggestions are only a start. If the idea is good, it could perhaps spread from Hicksville to other towns, the county and even the state. But whatever is done, let it be something and soon. Let us cut down on deaths and injury to children—and trauma to motorists.

Jacobs And Polansky To Run On Yevoli Ticket

Judy Jacobs, who already has the Democratic Party endorsement for Oyster Bay Town Council, and Michael Polansky Democratic candidate for the Oyster Bay Town Council, have both announced that they will seek their respective offices on the Yevoli Independent Line.

"I feel very comfortable running on an Independent line," Mrs. Jacobs said, "as I have always maintained a strongly independent position on all civic issues no matter what politics were involved. During the last six years as President of a large civic association, I have represented home-owners of every political label. My independent viewpoint will certainly continue if I am representing all the homeowners of Oyster Bay on the town board next year."

Mrs. Jacobs has long been associated with Assemblyman Lewis J. Yevoli, who heads the ticket as its candidate for County Comptroller. Mr. Yevoli also has Democratic endorsement.

Volunteer workers for Polansky will be circulating petitions for the Yevoli Independent Party candidacy between now and mid-August. While only 1500 signatures are needed to qualify, Polansky expects that "we should have no trouble collecting more than 3000."

Elmer F. Lux, Director

To the Editor:
Last week I received a copy of Director of the Office of Management and Budget Bert Lance's comments before the House Committee on the Budget regarding the mid-session review of the 1978 federal budget. In addition to the mind-boggling fact that every single figure in the entire 11-page statement is in billions of dollars, I was dismayed, as a taxpayer, by Mr. Lance's blithe remarks on the present and future deficits.
For example, he notes that "For 1977, our current estimates show... a deficit of $48.1 billion." And then he adds, with what seems to me a touch of pride, "These estimates are within a billion dollars of the estimate that we sent to you in April."
Imagine: to have budget

estimates vary by a billion dollars in a three-month period and be able to brag about it. I am well aware of the spiraling costs facing all levels of government and the nature of budget estimates in general, but for the federal government to accept increased deficits this year and actually plan for an even greater deficit of $61.5 billion in 1978 is difficult to comprehend.
Admittedly, we deal with much smaller numbers on the local level (our entire 1977 budget is only about one one-thousandth of the federal government's estimated 1978 deficit), but our policy has been, and will continue to be, that we will only budget for and spend what we expect in revenues. This Town is on a fiscal diet, and the budget officer is working full time on a line-by-line review of the budget with our department heads to develop an operating plan and budget for 1978 that will not produce a tax increase or a budget deficit.
I only wish this philosophy was more apparent in the present federal administration.

Legion Hears Boys Stater

By Richard Evers
The members of the Charles Wagner Post 421 of the American Legion of Hicksville were hosts at their recent meeting to the post's Boys' State Program delegate, Richard Panetta, a member of the 1978 senior class at the Hicksville High School, was welcomed by Commander Edward Leger and invited to speak on this year's Boys' State Convention at the State University, Morrisville, New York.

Panetta, who is active in school politics and a member of the Hicksville wrestling team, with a solid academic record, praised the American Legion's well known annual program. "It helps young people to better understand our American political methods." Richard enjoyed the role playing, the learning through participation in simulated political rallies, in caucuses and in the nominating and electioneering activities which are a vital part of every Boys' State Convention.

One of Suffolk County's Boys' Staters captured the coveted "Governorship of New York", but Panetta was elected as city councilman and, later, won the post of County Sheriff, a role worthy of a stalwart youth who wrestled for Hicksville in the heavy weight division of inter-school competition.
The distinguished American Legion program has been in operation for over 35 years. It annually attracts the top students from junior classes throughout the nation. Girls State delegates have also been sponsored by the Charles Wagner Post Legion Auxiliary for many years.

More On Bus Transportation

By Carole Wolf

The Nassau County Bus Transportation system has petitioned for a dial-a-bus project in the Hicksville-Bethpage area. If we would be able to obtain it, the county would be given $1,000,000 to buy 20 vehicles for our area.

Dial-A-Bus is a project that would work on the same premise as the taxi companies. After a telephone call, you would wait between 20 and 30 minutes for a mini-bus to come to your door. There would be several other people on the same bus going in the same general direction and passengers would be dropped off one at a time - "door to door" service. The mini-bus would be available in a community area only. Sounds great, doesn't it?

But now come the problems. The first day the system starts, it would be operating in the red, for it would have to build up clientele. Next, it is a system that could not be used for speed - such as a specific train. And finally, due to the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964 and 1973 any employee in any other form of Mass Transportation (such as taxi drivers) who would lose their job because of this new project would have to be guaranteed employment with the Nassau County Department of Transportation.

It looks good on paper. But is it feasible?

Next week: Bus shelters and "Park 'N' Ride".

Operation VFW

By Lou Palladino

The fishing trip was cancelled because of lack of participation. This is hard to understand. When it was suggested there seemed to be quite a stir, and when it came time to make reservations, it was a most mil.

There was a very important event that we did attend. The dedication of our Veterans Employment Agency. This is the most important thing we have attempted since our Post was organized. Sure we sent packages to our men overseas during WWII, the Korean, and Vietnam conflict which was very nice. Yet to use same men can't find employment. Then we tried to boost their morale, and let them know they weren't forgotten. In this new venture at this time we are unique. We are the only Post on Long Island, and most probably the State, and quite possibly the Country, with this type of project.

It made quite a stir in the National V.F.W. Our leaders in government found it important enough to accept our invitation. Our Congressman Norman Lent came. County Executive Ralph Case, Our own Town Supervisor Joe Colby, Our State Assemblyman Lou Yevoli, Town Councilman Tom Clark, and last but not least Our Lovely Town Clerk Ann Ocker. That's a pretty good group of leaders in all phases of government. Our congratulations to our Commander Vinnie Edwards, and his committee, headed by Joe Normandy, Joe Gilligan, and Vinnie Moraldo. Vinnie and Joe Normandy really work hard in and on this project.

Reschedule Beverly Sills Concert

Robert Bernstein, president of Island Concert Hall, announces that the cut-short Beverly Sills concert last June 4 will be made up and re-scheduled for Wednesday Eve., October 12, 1977 at its original location, the Calderone Concert Hall, Hempstead, N.Y. At the time of the Sills postponement, Dr. Frank A. Calderone had promised that the Sills make-up recital would enjoy the use of Calderone Concert Hall. The price for all reserved seats is the same: $11.50 per reserved ticket.

Bernstein says that all subscribers will be informed by direct mail of the re-scheduled date and those eligible for replacement tickets will receive the make-up tickets in the mail during late August and early September.

A final chance will be given to ticket-purchasers who have previously request refunds. Based on a first-come-first-served policy, good only while the tickets last, Island Concert Hall will take calls from those who previously asked for refunds at 516-621-4444, permitting such people a crack at the re-scheduled Sills date, Wed. Eve. Oct. 12th. When all the available tickets have been sold out, this replacement ticket offer will be withdrawn. Repeat: this opportunity will be afforded only those who have previously requested refunds, provided they contact Island Concert Hall by phone.

The Craftmobile from the Nassau County Dept. of Parks and Recreation, will visit the Library with indoor craft projects for all children in Hicksville in grades 1-6.

LOOK OUT, MISS AMERICA. These pretty little ladies topped all comers at the recent Little Miss Cantigue contest for the three to five-year old set. The competition was co-sponsored at Cantigue Park in Hicksville by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks and "The New Small Fry" in Westbury. The fetching trio, from l. to r., are: a Massapequa Miss, Christine Steinhauer, who won top honors; Anna Lisa Luzzo of Hicksville, who placed 2nd; and Juann Horn of Levittown who was 3rd. Lending moral support are hostesses Sue McCann (far l.) and Anna Maria Nicola.

Fair To Celebrate Queens Jubilee

Anglo-American friendship and shared traditions will come to mind this weekend in Hicksville as two local business establishments celebrate Queen Elizabeth's Jubilee Year. The Jolly Swagman, in conjunction with British International Motors of Hicksville, will sponsor a British-Australian Fair and Flea Market this Sunday, August 7th, from noon to dusk.

Win and Laura, genial proprietors of the well known Australian-oriented Jolly Swagman Inn, which is located in the historic former Curtis House at 100 West Nicholas Street, invite their friends, customers and the general public to an afternoon of good fellowship, bargain hunting and music at the Inn and British International Motors' adjoining grounds.

Master of Ceremonies for this Anglo-American celebration marking twenty-five years of Queen Elizabeth's reign and expressing the nations' deep friendship and common heritage will be Ray Heatherton, well known radio and television personality. Visitors to the Fair will be entertained in the British fashion with the stirring music of the pipers from Long Island outstanding Amityville American Legion band.

The historically-minded and older residents of Hicksville will have an opportunity to visit the historic home now comprising the Jolly Swagman Inn. Here, Dr. Elwood and Mrs. Anna Curtis, Hicksville civic and social leaders for over thirty-five years, lived and were loved and admired by the community.

The Fair will be open to all, free of charge, and the public is also invited to bring personal objects for sale in the Flea Market for which no entry fee is required.

Hicksville Artist Wins Top Prize At Danbury Fair

JOHN GONZALES, since March of this year, has won awards in six out of the eight shows he has entered, and has had his pictures hung in National Arts Club, 15 Gramercy Park, N.Y.C., as well as Springfield Museum of Art, Springfield, Massachusetts. This past week-end he was awarded "First in Oil" at the Danbury Fair, Danbury, Connecticut.

Representational American Art Today.

The following are a list of the additional prizes won this year: Flushing Art League; Island Art Guild; White Plains Outdoor Art Festival; Greater Westbury Arts Council; and National Art League.

John has been doing out-door shows rather than sell exclusively from his galleries, in an effort to meet the people for which he is painting. This has been an extremely stimulating experience for John and reflects in the dynamics of his work. He has been able to meet a vast cross section of the public and has created a dialogue between his purific and the beauty-blessed countryside which he paints.

Fiesta Italiana

It's a Fiesta Italiana, but all Nassau adults, whatever their heritage, are invited to join the fun at Nassau Beach Park in Lido on Friday, August 19, at 6:30 p.m. The program is geared for the handicapped.

The Fiesta, conducted by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, will include dance music and Italian songs, both old and new, played by Angelo DePipo and his 7-piece band. DePipo will play tarantellas and other folk dance numbers.

With the cooperation of the Hofstra University Italian Department, slides of Italian art, posters and films of historic Italy will be shown. Add to all this, bocci games and free Italian snacks, and the ingredients for a lively evening under the stars are assembled for the enjoyment of a limited number of participants.

Necessary advance reservations for Fiesta Italiana may be made by individuals or groups applying through health-related agencies. Applications, which will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis by the Special Recreation Activities Unit, can be obtained at Nassau Beach Park or the Special Activities Center in Eisenhower Park (292-4254).

Special provision for the handicapped will be provided during the party at the park's East Terrace. There are ample picnic tables and grills nearby for party-goers who wish to bring dinner. In the event of rain the Fiesta will be held indoors.

Canoeists Marathon

One of the oldest environmental organizations in the U.S., The Lake George Association (founded in 1885), is lending its support to the First Annual Northeastern Regional Amateur Canoe Rally, to be held on Saturday and Sunday, August 27th and 28th.

The purpose of this first Canoeists Walk-A-Thon-On-Water is to encourage better physical fitness and lend support to The Easter Seal Society's year-round programs serving the handicapped. Minimum sponsorship donations of $25 per participant will be made in lieu of entry fees.

The following are some of the major prizes that will be awarded to the individuals who bring in the most sponsorship money: Mad River Canoe, Hyperform Kayak, Mohawk Canoe, Grumman Canoe, Sawyer Canoe, Timberline 2-Man Tent, Cross Country Ski Outfit by Skilom, Weekend for Two at Garnet Hill Ski Lodge, Coleman Stove.

The Rally, to be held on Lake George at Bolton Landing, will feature a Marathon Endurance Race over a 14-mile course on Northwest Bay and the Narrows. In addition to first prize trophies for standard and aluminum classes, the Presidential Sports Award will be presented to all canoe and kayak enthusiasts who accumulate either 200 miles or 50 hours of paddling throughout the summer, the last 14 miles on Lake George during the Canoe Rally weekend. (A certificate signed by President Jimmy Carter, an emblem and pin constitute the Sports award.)

For the entry registration form and additional information write to NERAC-RALLY, P.O. Box 756, Bolton Landing, New York 12814 or call the local Easter Seal Society, 747-3553. Anyone interested in assisting at the events, which also include War Canoe Races, Canoe Sailing Competition and Obstacle Course, should call 518-644-9815 in Bolton Landing.

Advice For Boaters

Nassau County Police Department has issued an advisory to boat owners urging them to follow safe boating procedures and to insure the security of their boats and equipment.

In a move to promote safety on the water and to curtail potential larcenies and thefts, the department's Marine and Air Bureaus will be combining their efforts with intensive patrols.

These patrols are designed to render assistance to those in distress and prevent criminal activity. Boat owners should be alert to potential larcenies and vandalism as the season progresses and are advised to secure their property and be able to identify it properly.

They should also be aware of safety guidelines issued by the Marine Bureau which constantly monitors AM and FM international distress frequencies. For AM the frequency is 16 and for FM 2182. The guidelines include:

1. Leave word with someone where you expect to be boating and include registration numbers and estimated time of return.
2. Observe speed limits.
3. Use lights if out at night.
4. Keep up maintenance on boats and equipment.
5. Observe fire precautions.
6. Do not overload.
7. Have sufficient life preservers.

CUMMINGS 'N GOINGS

By Jim Cummings

ROUND MOMENT: As the thrilling news flashed across the Hicksville community last Sunday afternoon that the St. Ignace all-girl cadet corps had won first place in the World-Open competition at Manning Bowl, in Lynn, Massachusetts—residents were busy preparing for an unhealed homecoming welcome which included an escort by the Nassau County Police Department, Hicksville Fire Department and hundreds of anxious parents proud of the accomplishments of this 110 piece all-girl unit—especially proud was its executive director Larry Wallace and the corps former director Tom Costa. Supervisor Joseph Colby and Town Councilman Tom Clark were on hand to extend the warm wishes of the Town Board and thousands who shared this special occasion. A presentation of the unit in full dress (taped earlier this week) will be seen on Cablevision Channel 10, Friday evening, August 5, between 7 and 8 PM and again that evening following the late movies—be sure to watch this special—showing the precision and skills of our all-girl cadet corps—if it rains schedule will be altered to later date.

DID YOU KNOW: that Jerry Spiegel Associates of 270 North Broadway, Hicksville were excavating for 4,000 square feet of business property at the northeast corner of Newbridge Road & West John Street at press time? Reverend Matthew O'Emma of Nigeria, Africa, is in situation at St. Ignace for the next month—stop by and say hello—the Hicksville Hibernians Ladies Auxiliary have continued their charitable endeavors to his work in this distant mission. Michael Squillante, popular proprietor of Mike & Al's Lucheonette, West John Street, in our community, is intensive care unit of Deborah Center, in New Jersey, recovering from heart surgery this past Monday—a warm wish from your host of friends and customers for a speedy and healthful recovery. The week of September 14-21 is Square Dance Week on Long Island—we didn't... George Finn of the Parks & Recreation Department of our Township and Supervisor Colby discussed programs and plans of this Department—that serves for all seasons on Cablevision this week. Peter McMahon, Sr., celebrated his 69th birthday with family recenter—Peter, and his son, Peter, Jr., are most active in the Hicksville AOH—Mrs. Madge McMahon serves with the Ladies Auxiliary.

WE HEAR: the Peter O'Reilly's of Mayflower Place, Hicksville enjoyed a vacation trip up to East Burham, in the Catskills—Pete and his wife, Terry, visited with Pat Roper, top Irish entertainer—Peter is house commander of the Edward J. Flynn Club of Hicksville, a time-consuming effort year-round—huddled in a most professional manner...competition entries received for Nassau AOH Feis to be held Sunday, September 16, at the Nassau County Office complex in Plainville, are at an all-time high according to John B. Jones, Chairman—plan to attend this event...According to Washington D.C., Thomas O'Neill, Speaker of the House of Representatives had met with Secretary of State Cyrus Vance last week re the situation in Northern Ireland, and in the end all agreed that the United States should not become directly involved...Mr. O'Neill said he spoke on behalf of Senator Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts, Senator Daniel Moynihan of New York and Governor Carey of New York—there are quite a few in Irish circles who express differences on this subject we heard like update on vacation recently. Mrs. Anne Staton, a resident of Hicksville and Adjutant of Charles Wagner American Legion Post No. 421 returned from a summer vacation in Europe. She visited France, England, Switzerland, Holland and Italy. The highlight of her tour was in Italy where she visited relatives and friends she had not seen in forty-seven years.

ROUND OUR TOWN: Following their World-Open 5th consecutive win the St. Ignace all-girl cadet corps travels this weekend to Chicago, Wisconsin, Iowa, Canada—then to Boulder, Colorado for the DCI (Drum Corps International)—quite a bit of mileage and dollars—our best to Larry Wallace executive director, the girls, and chaperones for a big win and a healthy, safe journey...the girls are planning an alumni association, according to Mr. Wallace, who told us that one of their best baritone horn players was the former Peggy Halcott, now Mrs. Owen Purcell, of Irvington, New York—special organizational credits to Agnes Minihan and her late beloved husband, William...we note that Sportsline Soccer is discounting warm-up sweaters for groups and soccer clubs—interested we met M. Hallsted Christ, Nassau County Comptroller a member of the Irish-American Society of Nassau, Suffolk at their Mineola headquarters last week—until next week.
