Sewer Contract Awarded

Nassau County has awarded a $5,780,985 contract to Naclerio Contracting Co., Inc., of the Bronx for construction of a 13,650 foot-long interceptor sewer in the Hicksville-Locust Grove area. Naclerio was the lowest of seven bidders.

The contract will run from Plainview Road and Elm Street in Hicksville, north along Elm Street, East Street, Willfred Boulevard, and Miller

Place to L.I. Expressway North Service Road to a terminus at Colony Lane.

"Only four more interceptors remain to be constructed in Disposal District No. 3", Public Works Commissioner H. John Plock, Jr. said. "All will be bid and awarded by the first quarter of 1978."

Work is expected to begin in September and the contract allows 18 months for completion.

Drainage Project Started

Construction has commenced on a major storm drainage and road improvement contract in the Meade Avenue area of Hicksville. The Town Board approved the award of the $718,862.21 contract to the lowest of eight bidders, Lizza Industries, Inc. of Roslyn last month.

The area affected is bounded by Duffys Avenue on the north and Old Country Road to the south, Underhill Avenue on the east, and by Benjamin, Tinkers and Evers Streets to the west. The project includes construction of storm water gutters and catch basins, sidewalks, curbing, and rough resurfacing of the roadways.

Final resurfacing of the roads will not be done at this time because Nassau County expects to start sewer installations in the near future, which will involve ripping up the paving. "The pavement base, which is an asphalt plant mix, will be put down under this contract. Although it will be rough in appearance, this surface will be completely serviceable," TOB Councilman Thomas Clark said.

The finished resurfacing from curb to curb will be the final phase of the sewer installation contract now paid for the County.

Solar Energy Fair

The first "Solar Energy Fair" for Long Island will be held Aug. 12 and 13 at the Mid-Island Shopping Plaza in Hicksville to inform the public about federal aid for solar heating and to show the latest developments in domestic use of the sun's energy.

County Executive Ralph G. Caso will help launch the fair at 1 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 12. The fair will be open on both days from noon until 6 p.m. It is jointly sponsored by the Nassau-Suffolk Solar Energy Task Force, the Nassau County Bureau of Energy Resources and the Solar Energy Application Center of the New York Polytechnic Institute.

Property owners will be able to obtain information on the $400 grants available through U.S. Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for installation of domestic hot water heaters. The grants are available by application to those who purchase and install home heating units.

A consortium of manufacturers, energy officials, lecturers, lawyers and scientists will be on hand to provide information and advice. Display and demonstration booths will be open to explain systems, requirements and procedures.

"Here is a golden opportunity for the average homeowner to get detailed, first hand information on this valuable energy source," Caso said. "It is a chance to effect a dollar saving as well as to join in conserving fossil fuel now in diminishing, but expensive, supply."

For information on the fair or solar energy, Nassau County's Bureau of Energy Resources can be reached by phone at 535-3838.

All Trains Don't Run On Tracks

By Cong. Norman F. Lent

An old phrase in politics describes legislation passed by Congress without a chance for serious debate or argument as legislation that has been "railroaded through."

The Carter energy package "train" rumbled through the House of Representatives with as awesome a display of power as has been seen since the early years of this century. Representative Jim Delaney, the Dean of the New York congressional delegation said: "Never before have I been pushed like this by the leadership." Democrat Jim Delaney is the Chairman of the House Rules Committee, but he and other Democrats bowed to House Speaker Tip O'Neill, and rammed through the huge Carter energy package as ordered. Delaney thought the package was so big and so complicated that it was "probably something that should be taken up in several parts." But obediently, the package was wrapped in a restrictive rule forbidding any Member of Congress from offering amendments not approved by the Committee on the "instruction" of O'Neill. This effectively squelched the possibility that Republicans and Democrats could offer constructive alternatives to a vote of the entire House.

This same "railroad" pattern had been followed earlier when Speaker O'Neill's handpicked Ad Hoc Committee on Energy had slapped together the whole package in one frantic week. The Democratic railroad crushed all alternatives in that committee too, often ignoring the votes of majorities in other committees which had previously worked weeks on separate aspects of the program. The Ad Hoc Committee even added a 4 cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline to the already top-heavy tax burden laid on those who drive cars. However, this was one of the few parts of the energy package on which House Members got a chance to register an opinion. I voted against the added tax, and I am happy that a majority of the House, with many Democrats voting with Republicans, defeated the tax. The vote showed why we all should have been given the chance to vote for other alternatives to the package.

That victory was a small one, however, when the impact of all the heavy new taxes still in the package is considered. They will not reduce consumption of foreign oil, but they will certainly cause big increases in gasoline, fuel oil, and utility price paid by consumers. Those new taxes, estimated at $1,000 per family over the next four years will do nothing to stimulate new domestic exploration and development of the oil and natural gas we so desperately need, nor the development of the badly needed alternate sources of energy.

The tax burden in this package is heavy, indeed, upon all of us taxpayers. After careful study, the "Wall Street Journal" estimates the new taxes in this package will drain $500 BILLION from American taxpayers during the next eight years.

It is tragic that Speaker O'Neill railroaded his package over these arguments and warnings, without a chance for discussion or votes on many worthwhile and less costly alternatives. Long Island residents may suffer greatly from this misuse of majority rule.

Theatre For Senior Citizens

In a unique program made possible by federal funding under the new Comprehensive Education and Training Act, the Nassau Stage Company, Inc., a professional, non-profit theatre company, will tour Nassau County senior citizens' groups, from September through June 1978, bringing them a repertory of one-act and full-length plays. Performances will be given in senior citizens' centers, adult homes, hospitals, and health-related facilities throughout Nassau County. Additional funding is being provided by the Nassau County Office of Cultural Development and private sponsors.

Opening the tour in early September, the company will present an original production, entitled "A Little Tour of the 1930's," focusing on the struggles and fantasies of Americans during that decade through popular songs and dances, and scenes from the works of John Steinbeck and Clifford Odets. As the year continues the repertory will include works by Chekov, Shaw, Brecht, and contemporary American playwrights.

This is the first time in recent years that federal funds have been used to support a theatre program of this scope, and the project involves the largest commitment of CETA funds to a single arts group in this region.

"We are, in effect, a modern counterpart of the Federal Theatre Project of the 1930's," declared the company's artistic director, Herbert Coston. "The salaries of our actors and staff are paid by the federal government, and our purpose like that of, say, the famous Group Theatre of the '30's is to do professional theatre work as a public service."

The Nassau Stage Company was founded in 1973 by Mr. Coston, a professor of theatre at C.W. Post College, L.I. For the past four years the company has received support from the Nassau County Office of Cultural Development to perform in local high school classrooms. That program will be continued this year in addition to the senior citizens' tour.

"THE LAST REMAKE OF BEAU GESTE" is a PG rated Universal release.

Dear Friends ...

GOOD IDEA. TOB Supervisor Joseph Colby appealed to all Town residents to help stop visual pollution by removing "garage sale" signs at the conclusion of the sale.

"In addition," he told us, "nails used to post signs on trees penetrate the tree's outer sheath leaving it open for a parasitic invasion which will ultimately kill the tree." Mr. Colby suggested that those nailing signs to trees should treat the tree with an appropriate spray or dressing upon removal of the sign, to eliminate this source of damage to our trees. He noted that the Town currently has no restrictions on the posting of "garage sale" signs, but if abuses continued, the Town Board would be impelled to take action to prevent such visual pollution and destruction of trees in the future.

CONGRATULATIONS to Medard Ofenloch of the Hicksville Fire Department, who has been named the Honorary Chairman of the Annual Fire Dept. Labor Day Parade and Drill. He certainly deserves this honor. The Parade will begin at 9 am sharp on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5th in front of the Hicksville Fire Dept. Headquarters on East Marie Street and we hope to have the parade route and more details about the drill for you in the near future. Mark your calendars...you won't want to miss this gala event.

THE WORLD-RENOWN Long Island Mummies String Band has several openings for musicians, especially reed and string instruments. For information call Tony Bee at 661-0161.

WE HEAR THAT THE ROTARY CLUB OF HICKSVILLE has scheduled their Annual Scholarship Awards at their August 18th luncheon. On this date Chairman Chris Mazur tells us that fifteen young people will be receiving such recognition.

GOOD NEWS... the Hicksville Public Library Bookmobile is now back in full service, after extensive repairs. "We're sorry for any inconvenience to our borrowers," a Library spokesperson told us.

CONDOLENCES to the family of Hicksville's Bob Jackson who passed away last week. He will be missed by many in our town, but the memory of all that he has done to help make Hicksville a better place in which to live, will be an inspiration to all who knew this vital, friendly Hicksvillian.

NEWS FROM THE DEMS... Youth for Landes Committee has scheduled a registration drive for Sat., Aug. 13 in the Chairty Booth at Roosevelt Field and Sat., Aug. 20 at the Mid-Island Plaza between the hours of 9 am to 5 pm. Assemblyman Landes, who will be opposed by David Peizer in the Democratic Primary on Sept. 8th, for the privilege of running for County Executive, will visit the Roosevelt Field booth between 11 and 11:30 and the Mid-Island booth between 11:30 and noon to greet those registering at that time.

Congressman Norman Lent sharply criticized the Carter Administration plan to delay payment of full Social Security benefits until the age of 68. "If a person wants to work beyond 65, he should be allowed to do so without penalty," he told us, "but even to consider a proposal to extend the working life of all those covered by Social Security until 68, would bind hundreds of thousands of persons into an economic yoke in order for them to receive full benefits." We certainly do agree.

GOOD NEWS... beginning on Sept. 1, the Sales Tax will drop to seven cents on the dollar, with three cents to go to the County and four cents to the State. Now, how about trying for a drop to 6 cents?

ENDORSEMENTS come in large numbers at this time of the year we note that the president of the Nassau County Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, Danny Greenwald has endorsed Mr. Purcell on the Conservative line, while Mr. Purcell also received the endorsements of the Fraternal Order of Police, the NY State Parole Officers Association, the American Federation of Police, the Columbia Association and the Barzel Society, the Nassau Police Conference representing police officers in 22 Village, City and Special District Police Depts. In Nassau County, some prominent lawyers have formed an "Attorneys for Purcell" committee to work for Mr. Purcell's nomination in the Sept. 8th Primary, while Cong. Norman Lent adds his enthusiastic endorsement to those named above.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and enjoy this warm summer on beautiful Long Island

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

I read with interest the guest editorial by Harriet Spink on the subject of bicycle safety which appeared in the August 4 issue of the HERALD, and I concur that much work needs to be done in the area of safety education for our youngsters. As a mother of three young boys, myself a motorist, and a PTA-involved parent, it grieves me to witness how some children take unnecessary risks while riding their bikes, and seem totally unaware of the rules of the road.

I recently received a packet of samples of brochures and posters from the Automobile Club of New York, which is made available to our schools for the asking. AAA also provides speakers and films for assembly programs on the subjects of bicycle safety and pedestrian safety upon the request of a school principal. The array of materials is quite extensive, and reaches preschoolers right through high-schoolers. Additionally, the AAA makes available a teacher's guide with activities and projects for classroom use.

For further information, I would suggest writing Mr. Frank B. Hynes, Traffic Safety Service, Automobile Club of New York, Inc., 28 East 78 Street, New York, NY 10021. This is a free service provided by AAA of which every school, in cooperation with its parent teacher organization, should avail itself.

Sincerely,

To The Editor:

A few weeks ago I commented, with caution, that the prospective addition of a Nassau-Suffolk representative to the Tri-State Regional Planning Commission could be a step in the right direction because some, albeit limited, suburban representation on this body would be better than none at all.

It appears now that this possibility, still not a reality as of this writing, may be too little, too late. The appointive regional Tri-State, dominated by urban interests, has quietly proposed a plan that threatens to drastically alter and possibly destroy the suburban way of life we in Oyster Bay and others throughout Nassau enjoy today.

Funded in part by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Tri-State has proposed a plan that HUD can't wait to get its hands on - the construction of approximately 50,000 low-income housing units throughout the County in the next 25 years. Tri-State, which can approve or disapprove applications made by local governments for federal and state funds, has threatened to render its recommendations on all aid applications based on whether or not local governments are submitting themselves to the low-income housing demand.

A third proposal, the most insidious and far reaching, is the Tri-State recommendation that the State create a super-agency, such as the UDC, that will have the power to overturn local zoning ordinances if Nassau's Towns, Villages and Cities are not building low-income housing at a rate of 1,300 per year, and also that Tri-State itself exercise the power to recommend to the super-agency which parcels of land should be rezoned for the housing.

After discussing this frontal assault on local governments with Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purell, I convened a meeting of representatives of Nassau's Towns and the City of Glen Cove, all of them share the deep concern I and Supervisor Purell have regarding the destructive plans of the non-representative, non-responsive Tri-State.

An ad hoc committee was created, which I have been designated to chair, to develop unified opposition to the Tri-State proposal. Formal declarations of opposition by local legislative bodies are one step in our plan. Another is the scheduling of an August 19th meeting to brief Village officials and to request that Nassau's State and Congressional representatives join us in the fight to kill the multi-pronged attack on local governments before it proceeds any further.

I believe that Tri-State has exceeded its authority, and I'll be asking State representatives to make this determination and stop Tri-State from assuming the powers which it is trying to grab for itself. Action on the part of Congressional representatives is also mandated in that Tri-State and HUD are apparently working hand-in-glove to force the construction of so much low-income housing in our County that Nassau would turn into another New York City in just a matter of years.

Officials at all levels of government must unite in this fight. I intend to bring so much pressure to bear that Tri-State will have to back down, and our suburban communities will be permitted to remain intact.

To The Editor:

Here we go again. Hicksville School Board boondoggles - defeated by taxpayer votes in the December 1976 referendum - have been resurrected and will be put to another vote on September 15th - if Governor Carey doesn't allow the board to apply for the "free money" despite the negative note in the December 1976 referendum. If the vote takes place on September 15th, taxpayers must vote "NO" on both propositions as they did in the December referendum, with the hope the "NO" vote will be large enough to convince the school board not to attempt another resurrection and referendum at taxpayer expense.

The lure of "free money" should not dull taxpayer senses to the fact that absolutely no justification for approving either proposition has ever been presented to the voters - and that whatever is built (buildings or elevators) must be heated and/or maintained at one hundred percent taxpayer expense, which of course means higher taxes.

Consider Proposition One which is basically the same as the December defeated proposition 2 except the community swimming pool has been eliminated. The

At The Town Board Meeting by Gerry Kahn

The first item on the agenda at the Town Board Meeting held on Tuesday, August 9th, was to be continued in an evening session. The attorney for the petitioner, Herbert Ballin, requested and was granted, an adjournment until September 27th. The request for adjournment was sanctioned by the community opposed to the granting and its represented civic association.

The petitioner, Monterey Development Co., is requesting a special use permit to operate, conduct and maintain the business of selling soft beverages in Massapequa.

Items 2 thru 4 were proposed amendments to the Code of Ordinances, T.O.B., relative to in the order of their appearance on the calendar, Bingo games permitted on Sunday, Amendment to Chapt. 3, Amusements, litter receptacles in shopping centers, Amend Art. 5, Chapt. 11 and Amendment to Chapt. 17, Motor Vehicles and Traffic

John Gihl, Michael Polansky, Carol Fishman, Gladys Nelson and Burt Johnson were among the several members of the audience who spoke in favor of the hearing relative to litter and receptacles in shopping areas.

Supervisor Colby explained that Town personnel have been working on the project to establish the most viable formula for receptacles in shopping centers since January.

The purpose of the amendment, stated Councilman Diamond, is to hold to a minimum rubbish that might appear on the sidewalks, curbing, and in the parking areas.

On the local scene, a resolution directing the Consulting Engineers to perform additional engineering services in connection with the storm water recharge basin at the Syosset R.R. Station was passed, a resolution relative to the pool refund at the Syosset Woodbury Community Park was passed and approval of a resolution for improvements to the Animal Shelter Complex in Syosset all met with unanimous vote.

Borley Declares Candidacy

Harry Borley has declared his candidacy for re-election to the Board of Water Commissioners, Hicksville Water District. The Election is to be held, Tuesday, August 30, 1977, between the hours of 7:00 P.M. and 10:00 P.M. at the Hicksville Fire Department on Marie Street. Mr. Borley is an experienced candidate and is presently serving the Board as its Chairman.

The candidate has been continuously identified as serving in the best interests of the water district and its taxpayers. At the present time all bonded indebtedness has been paid and in the past several years extensive and necessary improvements to the existing plant have been paid for, without need for financing. Included in this program has been the Alicia Street Plant (which involved two wells, three booster pumps, a two-million gallon storage tank, and necessary appurtenances to treat the water); currently the District has under construction one additional well and extensive improvements to the Dean Street Plant, and a second well and improvements at the Stewart

Avenue Plant.

Mr. Borley is a past-chairman of the Long Island Water Conference and is at the present time serving on the Comprehensive Planning Committee of the Conference which is deeply concerned with matters relating to the future water supply for our area.

During his service on the Board of Water Commissioners Mr. Borley was the prime mover in developing the Fireman's Training Course and Drill Site at the Water District property on Bethpage Road. He has been an active member of the Hicksville Fire Department since 1925 and has had an abiding interest in firematic affairs for over 52 years. At the present time Harry is the Treasurer of Emergency Company No. 5 of which he was an organizer and had been Chief of the Department 1937-1938. He is also a delegate to the 9th Battalion District and a Past President of both the Nassau County Firemen's Association and the Nassau County Fire Chief's Council.

As a result of his interest and concern the Hicksville Water District has been in the forefront of all the Water Districts in the County with regard to the testing and chemical analysis of its potable water supply as relates to the recent findings of trace organics in our area as implemented by the studies of the Federal Government's 208 Program. His continued interest in this and other matters in our area is certain to maintain a quality controlled water supply.

Seldin Praises Legislature On Adoption Of Revolution And Bills

"Terming it an important first step," Abe Seldin, chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors, praised the state legislature's passage of three revaluation aid bills, which will greatly benefit the court-ordered revaluation of Nassau County and has dispatched a letter to Albany urging the Governor to sign the bills into law.

"I am particularly gratified that a portion of the county's taxpayer assistance program has been incorporated into this legislation," stated Seldin, "however, we still have a long way to go."

The bills were the product of a bi-partisan effort by State Senator Ralph Marino and State Assemblyman Irwin Landes. Major support for the legislative package came from the Nassau County Board of Supervisors headed by Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Francis T. Purcell and from County Executive Ralph G. Caso.

Specifically the bills refer to three main issues relating to Nassau County:

1) Assessment Moratorium - Nassau County is under court order to revalue all property at 1% per cent of full market value by 1980. The bill will extend the time for the actual implementation of the revaluation until the 1982 assessment roll. Nassau County is still under court mandate, however, to proceed with the revaluation.

2) Financial Assistance - The state will provide ten dollars per parcel to aid in the cost of revaluation. In total Nassau County would receive over $4 million or approximately 40 per cent of the total cost of the revaluation project.

3) Equity in Defense of Court Actions - The bills would amend Section 720 of the New York State Real Property Tax Law regarding the use of state equalization rates in determining assessments in court actions. The new section would permit the use of equalization rates for the major classes of property as established by the

Comedy At Arena

The Arena Players Repertory Company, in keeping with their tradition of new and exciting theatre, is preparing the Long Island premiere of Tom Eyan's Off-Broadway success, "Why Hanna's Skirt Won't Stay Down."

The bitter-sweet comedy tells the story of Hanna O'Brien, one of life's misfits, who spends her time in a Coney Island fun-house where reality, fantasy and old Warner Brothers movies merge into a comic portrait of love and survival in a world gone quietly mad. The presentation of this unusual and barely seen play is just one example of the Arena Players continuous growth and development. A development indicative of one of the area's most successful theatre companies.

"Why Hanna's Skirt Won't Stay Down" premieres August 11 at The Arena Players Theatre, 296 Farmingdale Road (Route 109) in East Farmingdale.

Cut your current Federal income tax...

and have more money for your retirement, too.

If you're working and not covered by a pension program, there may be a tax-deferred way for you to build your own retirement fund.

With a Metropolitan Individual Retirement Annuity, you can defer Federal income taxes each year on up to 15% of your earned income or $1,500, whichever is less, by putting this income to work to set up your own retirement plan.

Think about that! If you qualify, you can purchase your own retirement annuity with money you deduct on your income tax return. You won't be subject to tax on this money and the earnings on it until years from now after retirement, when your tax bracket probably will be lower. And if you qualify, Metropolitan can even make contributions to the plan for you if you should become totally disabled.

So if you're not scheduled to get a pension, call me and we'll arrange one.

CUMMINGS 'N GOINGS

By Jim Cummings

WE HEAR THAT: children of the (AHRIC) of Brookville were given a special treat by the members of the 40 and 8 of the Nassau County American Legion and the Police Boys Club - youngsters enjoyed rides on the locomotive and other surprises - by the way Bob (Daily News) Waterson of our community is a member of the 40 and 8 plus quite active, through his youngsters, Philip, in the Singing Boys of Long Island who will resume sessions in September at the Hicksville Junior High School... a new timepiece and temperature report is given courtesy of the Hamburg Savings Bank at North Bway & Nevada Street... Father Karvelis is enjoying a well earned vacation - he is the assistant pastor of St. Ignatius Church, Hicksville... John Murphy, Sue and children are back home after a wonderful Catskill and East Durham scenic trip... Brian Finnegan of Hicksville, recovering from recent hospitalization due to injury on his upstate - his dad, John, and the writer go back 25 years to the good ole days of Rock' way and upper Manhattan.

in at Dublin's unique National Gallery Restaurant - the gallery originally opened in 1840, houses one of the finest art collections in the world, all schools are exhibited - we'll point this up to the Hicksville AOH committee as they make plans to book a plane for the National Convention next summer in and along the Lakes of Killarney...

WITH SADNESS: we report the passing of Robert Jackson, president of the Ernest F. Francke Republican Club of Hicksville last Friday, in the prime of life, an employee of the New York Telephone Company for year - to his family, our deepest sympathy upon their great loss... Last weekend during a lightning storm, John O'Hara, of Jericho was struck and killed - he was the Grand Knight of the St. Paul the Apostle Council, Knights of Columbus - Steve Ryan of the Joseph Barry Council and a contingent of its membership paid their respect to their fallen brother and friend... George Sorenson, of Bethpage, a career employee with the Town of Oyster Bay also passed away over the weekend.

Francis J. Donovan, former District Court Justice and his son have opened their law offices on Newbridge Road - we chanced to meet Frank this week at the Post Office - he's looking well - best of luck from your Brother Knights and Hibernians, Frank! Conservatively speaking, good news is anticipated in our community with reference to proposed salute to the St. Ignatius Cadet Corps. Hicksville Volunteer Fire Department preparing for their annual tourney on Labor Day - we are most fortunate to have such dedicated individuals - what's this we hear Sam & Kitty Weiss of Bay Avenue celebrated their 48th year of wedded bliss - congratulations to two wonderful people... A Grecian festival is planned later this month on Bway, Hicksville. The Bway-Marie Street area is a bee-hive of business activity these days, while the east side of the street continues to blossom with flowers, thanks to Dr. Walter Danbar, Mr. Ed Johnson and their community assistants.

proposition still provides for about $200,000 worth of unnecessary construction - merely because a new District Maintenance Facility and spectator restrooms are "nice to have". Consider Proposition 2 which is basically identical to the December defeated proposition 3. Despite news stories to the contrary, the proposition still provides for installation of elevators in the Hicksville Public Library. However, the justification has been expanded to provide benefits to the elderly along with the handicapped. Nevertheless, the question still is whether the benefits provided add the number of elderly and

The board has not presented one shred of evidence to justify the installation of elevators relative to the cost benefit ratio. New construction, renovation, alteration, and installation should not be made simply because an educator or a librarian says it is needed. Justification is mandatory - and the constructions provided in Proposition 1 and 2 have never been justified. VOTE NO TO BOTH PROPOSITIONS ON SEPTEMBER 15th.

Maternity Tours Begin At Hospital

Syosset Hospital has expanded its service to the community by initiating a series of tours for prospective parents through the maternity unit of the hospital.

Volunteers from the Mother's Center, a Hicksville-based organization for women, serve as guides for the tours, which are arranged through the Volunteer Office. The guides are trained by hospital staff members. Since many women who have their babies at Syosset Hospital use the Lamaze method of natural childbirth, in which husbands remain with their wives through labor, delivery and recovery, husbands are invited to take part in the tours.

The tours began last week with an unexpected twist. Four couples were greeted in the hospital's medical library by volunteer guides Kathy McNally of Baldwin, Susan Berkowitz of Hicksville and Joyce Merzbacher of Farmingdale. As they awaited the arrival of the fifth couple in the group, Mrs. Merzbacher showed a floor plan of the labor and delivery rooms and described some of the other projects in which the Mother's Center is involved, such as workshops and study groups for pre and post-natal education.

After the short briefing session, the group decided not to wait for the fifth couple and proceeded upstairs to the maternity unit. There, looking in on their newborn daughter, Adina Caryn, were Jo and Alan Kay of East Meadow, who were to have been the fifth couple in the group. The arrival of Adina changed their plans. But Jo promptly assumed the role of tour guide and gave the parents-to-be her personal impressions of having a baby at Syosset Hospital. The four couples, all of whom are expecting their first babies, had many questions about the facilities and procedures at the hospital.

Because of its reputation as a pioneer in modern maternity care, Syosset Hospital draws patients from all over the island. The four couples on the first tour were from Roosevelt, Levittown, Oyster Bay and Syosset. They were anxious to find out about the unique features at the hospital, including the accommodations for fathers in labor and delivery rooms; rooming-in, which allows mothers to keep their newborns with them for most of their stay; the new sibling visitation program and the Lamaze classes conducted at the hospital.

Tours of the 29-bed unit are being planned on a monthly basis. Any prospective parents interested in touring the maternity facilities may make an appointment by calling the Volunteer Office at 921-7000.

Hicksville Community Council Presents "Bus Transportation"

By Carol Wolf

The Nassau County Department of Transportation has received a 6 Million Dollar grant to build bus shelters in the county. Do you know of any wet corners?

Do you work in a company that has over 100 employees? Well, you can get a computerized Park 'N' Ride. The space for a Park 'N' Ride could be built along the Long Island Expressway and a bus route could be run from there to the Railroad.

Fares along the bus routes are 50 cents a person and 25 cents for the Senior Citizen and the handicapped. Travel between zones is higher. In many cases, free transfers are given upon request. To save up to 50 percent on your bus fare, if you are a commuter, buy a unicket at the Railroad station. The weekly sticker costs $2.50 and a monthly is $10.

If you are interested in chartering a bus for school, club or organization, call 294-8393. The bus transportation's information center can be contacted by calling 628-3000.

We hope that you are getting to know the bus transportation service a little better. With car insurance jumping almost 100 percent, with gas prices skyrocketing, and with the government thinking about taxing our large "gas guzzlers" that we drive, a cheaper and better way might be the bus.

Next week: Are the existing lines suitable for our needs?
