Ballyhooed as "5,000 pounds of love", Bolivar, a 14-year-old Indian Elephant, will be one of the featured attractions of the Long Island Fair, Oct. 7 through 10, at the Old Bethpage village restoration.

Adventurers of all ages are welcome to mount the gaily decorated howdah on the mighty back of this majestic pachyderm for 50¢ a ride.

Bolivar, who was named after the famous liberator of South America, has been touring this country with a children's animal show since 1969 when he was acquired from a Hindu Maharajah's court. Huge though he may be, his gentleness has delighted youngsters wherever he has appeared, most recently in Brooklyn, and is expected to do the same at the Long Island Fair.

National College Fair

The largest gathering of college representatives, students, and parents in the Nation will take place at the Nassau Veterans' Memorial Coliseum, Uniondale, on Tuesday and Wednesday October 11th and 12th.

The Fourth National College Fair will include representatives from four year private and public colleges, junior colleges, community colleges, military colleges, trade, technical, and vocational schools, ROTC, and military service branches. Sponsored by the National Association of College Admission Counselors, a non-profit organization of 1,900 high schools, colleges, and universities, the fair is open, free of charge, to anyone seeking information concerning post-secondary education. The Fair functions as a full-service information center designed to help students choose from among the many post-secondary institutions in the United States. The Fair offers general college information, one-to-one counseling, financial aid information, veterans assistance, and admissions testing information. The free National College Fair Directory lists the institutions represented at the Fair and gives basic information such as enrollment figures, required tests, application deadlines, college costs, and principal undergraduate majors. Admissions representatives from participating colleges will be on hand to provide first hand information and answer specific questions concerning programs and facilities.

A special feature of the Fair is the Individual Counseling and Career Information Center where visitors can sit down and talk with a counselor or admissions or financial aid officer on a one-to-one basis. These professionals from local schools and colleges will provide information about college planning, entrance procedures, costs, programs, testing, financial aid and scholarships. Information for veterans and adults wishing to continue their education will also be available.

The Fair will be open to the public between the hours of 9:00 AM and 2:00 PM, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 11th and 12th and again in the evening from 6:00 PM. School buses from area high schools may enter the parking area without charge while private automobiles will be charged the regular Nassau County Coliseum parking fee.

Over 400 schools and colleges from across the Nation will be represented at the Fourth National College Fair. This is by far the largest gathering of college representatives ever assembled for such a purpose. Interested persons from the Long Island area can meet with and speak to representatives with the latest information on admissions procedures. Virtually every area of post-secondary education will be represented. Schools and colleges of all descriptions and program offerings have agreed to send representatives.

Transfer students and veterans will have an opportunity to speak to counselors and admissions officers about advanced standing for education and training at community and junior colleges as well as military service.

In addition to the 400 booths staffed by institutional representatives, group sessions on financial aid will be held at regular intervals. A question and answer period will follow each session. Scholarship information will be available from the individual school representatives.

This event, which drew 41,000 persons to the Nassau Coliseum last year, is one of 17 such Fairs held in large metropolitan areas of the United States each year. The National College Fair Program is now in its 4th year and over 435,000 persons have participated to date.

To Honor Congressman Lent

Top New York Congressional figures, as well as Long Island business, communal, and religious notables, will pay their respects to U.S. Representative Norman F. Lent at a State of Israel Bond dinner in his honor on Thursday, October 27 at the Crest Hollow Country Club in Woodbury.

Announcement of the event was made by Larry Austin of Dix Hills, president of the Austin Travel Corporation, who will serve as dinner chairman.

Mr. Austin, in making his announcement, said the dinner for Congressman Lent "will be a high point in a major and timely international effort to mobilize Israel Bond investment capital at a time when peace negotiations and meetings are gathering worldwide attention."

"This helps us focus our own attention," Mr. Austin said, "on Israel's primary need - a strong economy to enable her to engage in these meetings with a firm sense of security - to be armed, in effect, with the knowledge that she has widespread support among the American people and peoples throughout the free world."

Prominent political office holders who are members of the Norman F. Lent Testimonial Committee include U.S. Senators Jacob K. Javits and Daniel P. Moynihan and Congressmen Jerome A. Ambro, Thomas J. Downey, Otis G. Pike, Lester Wolf and John W. Wylder.

Congressman Lent, who will receive the Israel Prim Minister's Medal, the nation's highest civilians service award, will be cited for his public service and for his long-time support of Israel and the Jewish people.

Franklin H. Ornstein, president of the Central Federal Savings and Loan Association is chairman of the Special Events Committee of the Nassau and Suffolk Divisions of State of Israel Bonds, sponsors of the country club dinner.

Mr. Austin paid tribute in his announcement to Mr. Ornstein "for an unflinching demonstration of the kind of support Israel has gained in the past few years from business and banking friends who understand the nation's vital role as a free and independent democracy in the Middle East."

A life-time resident of Nassau County, Congressman Lent lives at 48 Plymouth Road, East Rockaway. He represents the 4th Congressional District and is currently serving a fourth consecutive term.

Republican colleagues in the House of Representatives have chosen him for vice chairman of the Republican National Congressional Committee.

Calls For Redefinition Of "Senior Citizen Housing"

Testifying before a public hearing on housing for senior citizens held by the New York State Senate Standing Committee on Housing and Community Development in Suffolk on Sept. 15, Commissioner Adelaide Attard of the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs called for a re-definition of "senior citizen housing" in HUD programs.

Presently, senior citizen housing is defined within the broad context of housing criteria for low income housing. "The result," said the Commissioner, "is senior citizen housing which lacks the physical characteristics necessary to accommodate elderly tenants in their struggle for longevity and independence."

The Department of Senior Citizen Affairs has developed a housing criteria check-list to be used by developers who request federal assistance for senior citizen housing projects. The list includes recommendations for barrier-free ramp entrances to accommodate handicapped elderly, community rooms with kitchens, clinic areas where health screenings can be provided, libraries, chapels and conference rooms for the use of social workers and counselors.

There are nearly 200,000 people in Nassau County Executive Ralph G. Caso, middle income housing for senior citizens is desperately needed. Elderly who live in privately owned apartment buildings live in constant fear of exorbitant rents, especially since many landlords will grant only 1 year leases to older renters.

About three-quarters of Nassau's seniors are homeowners, many of whom are struggling to maintain their homes in the face of spiraling property taxes, home repair and utility costs.

In her testimony, Commissioner Attard urged the Committee to bring its influence to bear to increase housing subsidies for seniors under Section 8 of the HUD programs, and to assist in implementation of innovative programs like shared housing, the conversion of unused school buildings and dormitories to senior citizen housing facilities, congregate living programs and day care centers.

"The need for suitable housing for older persons in our nation has now reached critical proportions," said the Commissioner. "Hundreds of thousands of America's older people are forced to live in environments which are substandard, too expensive, too difficult to maintain and inadequate for their needs. All levels of government, as well as local service agencies, share the responsibility for responding to an entire range of shelter and service needs in a rapidly changing social situation," she concluded.

Appointed Bank Manager

Rexford E. Thompkins, President and Chief Executive Officer of Dry Dock, has recently appointed Edward R. Cronin Manager of the bank's new Hicksville office.

Cronin, who has been working for Dry Dock for twenty-seven years, was an Assistant Vice President in Dry Dock's main office. "I'm very excited about the move to Long Island," said Cronin. "It's a practical move for one thing. My family and I have been Long Island residents for a long time. It will be very rewarding to be working in my own community, serving the people I know and am concerned about."

"I'm lucky to have such a competent staff who are really aware of the needs of the community," remarked Cronin. "I am sure we'll work well together as a team. We're already working on some projects and have some definite ideas lined up as to what we, acting as representatives of Dry Dock, can do to werve the local community and its people."

Edward Cronin has had a solid career with Dry Dock Savings Bank and will continue competently serving the community as Manager of the new Hicksville office.

UNDER-TEN BOYS RED

By J. Morrisroe

The Hicksville Americans Under-10 Boys Red Team sponsored by the Mid-Island Bowl opened its season away on Sept. 10 with a 1-1 tie against the Huntington Boys Club. Chris Bentley scored the Hicksville goal and the goal-keeping was shared by Phil Ziembicki and Gary Tyranski.

The home opener Sept. 17th saw Hicksville victorious over Deer Park by a 3-1 count. After a scoreless first half, Doug Donsky converted a penalty kick to open the scoring. Moments later Rich Youngs lofted a corner kick in front of the Deer Park goal where Mike Boccafolo headed it past the keeper. Hicksville continued to apply offensive pressure and right wing Keith McCann banged home the final Hicksville tally. Gary Tyranski went all the way in goal supported by the strong play of fullbacks Alex Brill and Martin Jaycard. The team is looking forward to K.I.M. Tournament beginning next weekend at Cantiague Park and expects to make a strong showing.

"REDS"

By Ann Masters

Saturday, Sept. 17 found the Hicksville "Reds" coached by Ben Brutschin, travelling to Deer Park to play their second season game. Deer Park scored first on a high kick which goalie Jeffrey Knuth had no chance to save. Coming from behind Hicksville scored 2 quick goals - the first by Ronnie Brutschin on a long high kick from almost the center line; the second by Peter Schnur on a pass to the center from Anthony Sgaraglio. Deer Park tied the game at 2-2 at half time. Kenny Kugler played great defense seeming to be everywhere. The second half found the Hicksville team still fighting and never giving up. Goals were scored by Larry Ziembicki (2), Michael Masters and John Carroll. The boys on the team play very unselfishly and think of the team. The score reflects this standard: Hicksville 6, Deer Park 2.

 democratic principals of free and independent thought.
 Chetkof, on the other hand, sought to oppose those who disagreed with him and oust some Democrats who saw fit to support Irwin Landes at the Democratic designating convention, contrary to Chetkof's desire. It was only after Landes became the designee that our "leader" apparently saw fit to follow the bandwagon.
 Chetkof would also have you believe that his opposition was rebuffed. Does he bury his head in the sand? The record reveals that in spite of an artfully disorted eleventh hour preliminary letter, directed against his opponents, containing a fabrication here and a half truth there, those who opposed him won seats in the largest contested districts and came within several votes of defeating his candidates in other districts. The article boasts that this writer placed fourth in his race. It does not reveal, that in spite of the intervention of Chetkof's cronies, and the submission of the aforesaid letter, the undersigned lost the election by a mere five votes.
 Chetkof's political tactics only breeds nourishment in those who oppose him and swells its ranks.
 Very truly yours,
AARON BRITVAN

ternational" winners in Boulder, Colorado.

Every time someone approaches a new position or situation, he feels some type of fear or uncertainty. Our thirty new girls felt this uncertainty when they entered the field of competition for their first show this year. Mr. Lawrence Wallace, our new director, Mr. Raymond Guckenberger, our new business manager, and Miss Kathy Anglin, our first year majorette all had similar feelings. All were afraid of making mistakes, of appearing inadequate in the eyes of others. However, we find with effort we are equal to the task or goal set before us.

Therefore, we the parents extend our affection and admiration to all of our corps members, for you are all truly champions. We also extend our thanks to the so many supporters and friends of our girls.

You know a beautiful bargain when you see it. That's why you'll love Eastern's Free & Easy Checking Account.

You'll love it because it's free. There's no charge for checks. And no monthly maintenance charge either. Result: you may save as much as $69.00 a year.

You'll also love it because it's easy. All that's required is that you have a savings account at Eastern Savings Bank.

This means you'll enjoy the convenience of having a checking account that's free at the same bank where you have a savings account that pays the highest interest rates allowed by law.

Bounceless Checking.

That's right. If you qualify, Eastern will give you a cash reserve of up to $1,000 for your checking account. It lets you write a check for more than your balance. And automatically activates a low-cost loan to cover the amount.

Now, isn't it great to have a bargain that's both Free and Easy?

And you'll find it at the one bank that helps you enjoy life in the Eastern area—Eastern Savings Bank.

It's great to be an Easterner.
