Community Council Plans Exciting Dec. 1 Meeting

On Thurs., Dec. 1, at 8:30 pm the Hicksville Community Council will hold its December meeting downstairs at the Library on Jerusalem Avenue.

On the agenda will be some holiday entertainment... the Holy Family Players directed by Tom O'Connor will perform. These fine singers have entertained the Council members on several occasions and it will be a pleasure to hear them again.

Then, Professor Arthur Peterino will present two of his architectural students who will describe, with plans and renderings, what could be done to improve downtown Hicksville.

As is customary, this meeting will also include a report from TOB Councilman Thomas Clark of Hicksville.

There will also be a part of this meeting given over to announcements, complaints, praise and suggestions, in the manner of a New England Town meeting.

Holiday desserts and tea, coffee and Decaf, follow each meeting, along with good fellowship.

"So, come on down and join the concerned and interested people of Hicksville, as we prepare to explore the happy possibilities of how to work together.... "for a better Hicksville" You are all welcome." urged a spokesperson for the Council.

Gigantic Christmas Bazaar

Venerable Anthony Montforte of the Galileo Galilei Lodge No. 253 in Hicksville has organized a gigantic bazaar along with the efforts of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Calling it GIGANTIC CHRISTMAS SHOPPING DAYS, it will consist of all new merchandise and take place on November 26th, 27th and 28th at 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville, from 10 A.M. to 10 P.M. Such items as dolls, bikes, TVs, radios, games, sportsgoods will be featured at low discount prices.

The bar and kitchen will be open for shoppers convenience and fun.

There will be lots of free door prizes and all members of the community are welcome.

A percentage of the proceeds of this gala pre-Christmas shopping spree will benefit St. Francis Hospital Heart Fund.

This Lodge also contributes to many more charitable causes, in the course of its yearly activities.

ACCEPTS CHALLENGE: A four-year-old child - Mark Kopper, Poster Child for the March of Dimes - has challenged all Long Island clubs and organizations to help him in the March of Dimes battle against birth defects, by joining the 10th annual Bread Sale: "THE CLUB CHALLENGE," scheduled to take place across the Island the week-end before Christmas - Saturday, December 17th and Sunday, December 18th. Accepting the challenge on behalf of the Hicksville J.H. MOD Youth Action Club is Artie Grieshaber (pictured above), who promises little Mark the full support of his organization.

Club members will be offering loaves of fresh, unsliced, white bread to neighbors, which may be used as holiday turkey stuffing, in exchange for a $1.00 donation.

Special trophies will be awarded to top-selling groups, and plaques will be presented to all participating clubs.

Community, fraternal, and school organizations, as well as individuals, are urged to step forward to accept the March of Dimes "CLUB CHALLENGE."

Convention

Delegates debated into the morning hours on proposed resolutions submitted by PTA units from throughout the state. These resolutions covered many areas such as finance, health, safety, juvenile protection, and curriculum. The delegate body passed an emergency resolution concerning the $700,000 state surplus. PTA urged Gov. Carey to earmark a substantial amount of this surplus for education.

Hicksville delegates participated in skill workshops covering the areas of juvenile protection, legislation, public relations, special education and school finance. They also attended action clinic workshops dealing with collective bargaining; positive parent-teacher relationships; alternate family patterns and educational needs of children with handicapped conditions.

Mrs. Carol Kimmel, past president, National PTA, delivered a warm and friendly address, speaking about PTA's history; its role in education; school finance; and collective bargaining.

Also addressing the delegates was Dr. John Blessington, Headmaster, Berkshire School, Sheffield Mass., who suggested that parents were asking too much from education and suggested that "homework be replaced with homelife."

Hicksville delegates to the PTA convention hope to share the knowledge obtained with members of their respective units.

Hicksville Community Council

By Carole Wolf

Part 3 Of A 3-Part Series

The meeting then moved to a very important topic that influences us all - insurance. We, at the Hicksville Community Council, were fortunate enough to have two very knowledgeable men, Mr. Frank Ludwig from Seamann and Eiseman and Mr. Charlie Montana, from Montana Agency, come and discuss "Why Have Our Insurance Rates Grown?" Both Homeowners and automobile insurance were discussed in detail and, we at the Council, were given some new insights into the insurance business.

Mr. Montana opened the discussion with a fact that we all know - the rates have risen dramatically over the last two or three years. In his discussion of homeowners insurance he stated 3 facts that caused the rise in premiums: inflation, construction costs, and jury awards.

Inflation has its effect on everyone, from our basic needs to medical expenses. 95% of payments from insurance companies comes from repetitive things. We do not realize that our homeowner's policy often covers medical and hospitalization costs under the liability clause. And when someone is hurt, an individual does not shop around for treatment, but will go to the nearest hospital, even though it might be the most expensive.

Construction costs are a major problem area of coverage. The replacement costs are often much higher than the actual construction of a new house. The construction costs of repairing existing residences have passed market costs by leaps and bounds.

Many jury awards are made from children's accidents - they fall off swings and fences and get bit by dogs. Today's jury awards are not built into today's rates, but are picked up in the future increases.

The lead coverage on a dwelling is Fire Insurance. If the house is covered for $40,000, its contents will be insured for $20,000 and the perflrial appendages (garage), will cover a percentage of the $40,000. The insurance companies are now tying costs into a government computer, trying to keep the insured current with today's prices.

The biggest losses in an insurance company dealing in homeowners insurance comes from the number of minor claims. It costs a lot to settle. In a major loss, the insurance pays for the cost of the additional living expenses and even for pumping out the basement. In Hicksville, a total loss is quite remote, but partial losses have happened. In a partial loss, even carpets and clothing in a closet have to be drycleaned because of the smoke.

For the major 20 carriers, 99% of the premiums taken in were paid right out. All together, they made a profit of $5,000,000.

Thefts and burglaries have gotten completely out of hand, especially when people are not at home. Out of the bedroom windows and living room door come stereos, televisions, jewelry and money. Homeowners never get completely compensated for their loss. They must prove they own the article and when they bought it.

Frank Ludwig, an insurance man for over 25 years, then came to the podium to talk about the auto insurance industry. Insurance is a spread of risk. Many people buy into policies in order to pay for the losses of a few.

We, in Nassau County, are faced with a peculiar problem. We have 295 square miles in Nassau with 4,550 miles of road. There are 1800 lights and approximately 18,000 traffic devices (stop, yield signs etc.). 800,000 registered private passenger cars are driven by 825,000 licensed drivers. Rates are made by the accidents of a few drivers, whether it be in Nassau, Alabama, or Utah, New York State has imposed compulsory insurance by the New York Motor Vehicle Indemnification Act (No Fault.) The object of the law is fine and it is a form of Social Legislation since it provides excel in promoting community programs that involve their membership of over 800 year round. A recent "first" was the CPR program coordinated with the Hicksville Volunteer Fire Department and held at the Council's chambers for 8 weeks to aid and assist possible heart attack victims. A current drive by the Council will aid needy families in Hicksville at Thanksgiving.

Just think about it for a moment. How do these gigantic elephants, ferocious tigers and tall giraffes ever find their way into the Nassau Coliseum every year to put on the Ringling Bros., and Barum and Bailey Circus. It is by two 38 car trains that carry them all over the United States, and not only do they have their own railroad cars but they lease track rights so they can be assured their trip will not be delayed by other rail traffic.

For eleven and a half months out of each year, 350 performers and animals travel hundreds of thousands of miles and their rail car is their permanent home. The exception to this are the shows toppers.

"They have their own trailers," says Ken Paulin, a representative for the Gamut Agency in Hempstead, the public relations firm for the circus, and they live in them near wherever they're performing."

This year they arrived by rail at Mitchel Field on the night of November 22 after travelling from Chicago for two days. That evening they unloaded the tigers, pumas and leopards to make certain they are comfortable. Later in the evening they set up equipment such as the trapeze bars that are used for the ten days they are performing here.

Then on Wednesday the 23rd the circus put on its traditional animal walk as its parades all of its hoof animals from the rail depot at Mitchell Field across the campus of Nassau Community College.

Each evening the performers return to the trains and when they need groceries they stroll over to the "pie car" where they can buy their food at reduced prices.

This is the sixth year the circus has been at the Coliseum and as long European countries like Poland and Bulgaria continue to sponsor schools for circus performers we will have a circus like Ringling Bros.

"Our producers travel around the world four times a year searching for new acts to add to the show," said Mr. Pauline, "and if it weren't for those school circuses around the world would probably have folded a long time ago."

In 1968 the Ringling Bros. circus which is owned by the Mattel Toy Company decided that the American clown which has traditionally been a part of all circuses would never die. So they started a clown college in Venice, Florida that every year graduates 50 clowns.

"They have gotten about 25,000 application over their nine years history," says Mr. Paulin, "but we are only about to accommodate a small number each year."

When the clowns graduate they audition for the Ringling Bros. circus which according to Mr. Paulin is the only three ring circus left in America. There are about thirty smaller, one ring circuses left but they perform in tents around America, never making appearance in halls, like the Nassau Coliseum.

"Our circus was as a result of a merger of smaller circuses," says Mr. Paulin. "We were once divided into three circuses, Ringling Bros., P.T. Barnum and Bailey. We fought each other for acts, and ways of putting on shows that outdid each other until we decided it was economically better for us to join than continue to fight."

Ladies Fair At Noon Inn

For those out of the ordinary "stocking stuffers" you'd like to find but don't know where to look, try the Holiday Bazaar at the OLD BETHPAGE village restoration.

The ballroom of the Noon Inn will be the scene of a typical mid-19th century Ladies' Fair, co-sponsored by the Friends of the Nassau County Museum and the County's Department of Recreation and Parks, on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 10, 11, 17 and 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

On these weekends, costumed village ladies will recreate the hustle and bustle of a social and fund-raising affair commonly held by women's organizations on Long Island during the 1850's.

Items to be offered for sale to visitors are those typical of that time period and are reasonably priced. Among them will be simple toys and dolls, patchwork potholders, embroidered aprons, doodads for the needlewoman's workbasket and baked goods fresh from the brick ovens. Most of the articles have been handmade during craft demonstrations at the village and are reproductions of objects in the museum collection.

Proceeds will help defray some of the costs of the Candlelight Evenings traditionally held at the restoration between Christmas and New Year's.

Old Bethpage is operated and maintained by the Museum Division of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks. It is located on Round Swamp Road, just south of Long Island Expressway Exit No. 48. Admission is $2.25 for adults and $1.50 for children through age 17. County Leisure Pass holders pay $1.75 and $1.25 respectively, and youngsters under five are welcome free.

For further information, call 516-420-5289.

Professional Artists Guild

On December 14th at 7:00 P.M. the Professional Artists Guild will continue the series of media presentations open to the general public in the Firehouse Gallery of Nassau Community College, Stewart Avenue, Garden City, New York, presenting the outstanding film, "The New York School."

Artists forming the New York School in the 1940's and 50's revolted against traditional methods and attitudes about art to create new imagery. Expanding the size of their paintings and sculpture, they worked in a variety of styles which they discuss and demonstrate in the film. Dr. Russell, Chairman of the Art Department at Nassau will be there to review the presentation and answer questions from the floor in this third program of the series held every second Wednesday of the month.

The public is invited to all programs, without charge. For further information, call Anne Orling, President of the Professional Artists Guild 821-4792 or Barbara Sirna, Art News Coordinator at the College 222-7000.

Ballet Star To Give Master Class In Syosset

On Nov. 28 Dance students on Long Island will have an opportunity to take a master class with Jacques d'Amboise, principal dancer with the New York City Ballet Company, at the BOCES Cultural Arts Center in SYOSSET.

d'Amboise, an internationally acclaimed dancer and choreographer, has been a frequent guest artist with the Metropolitan Opera, at leading European opera houses, at a variety of international and regional music festivals, and with ballet companies and symphony orchestras from coast to coast. For the last twenty-five years, he has been a principal dancer with the New York City Ballet Company, which makes its home at the State Theater in Lincoln Center.

The BOCES Cultural Arts Center, where d'Amboise will give the master class next week, is a school for teenagers who expect to pursue professional careers in the arts. It is operated by the Nassau Board of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES) and is open to public high school pupils who are recommended by their guidance counselors and who successfully complete auditions in dance, drama, instrumental or vocal music, or fine art.

The master class, which d'Amboise will give, will be held November 28 from 3 to 5 p.m. at the BOCES Cultural Arts Center, Ketchams Road, Syosset. The cost is $5 per student. Attendance is limited to ninety on a first-come, first-served basis.

A master class is a class conducted by an outstanding professional in a field demonstrating the work for which he is recognized as an expert.

For reservations and further information, call 681-9090.

Letters To Santa

When Nassau's boys and girls get through making their lists and checking them twice, the County's Department of Recreation and Parks has arranged for a direct line to Kris Kringle, starting Friday, Nov. 25.

Red or green Santa's Mailboxes will be ready at all major County parks to receive children's letters until Christmas Eve. The Recreation Department's obliging "Santa" will "forward" them to the North Pole, postage free, and see to it that each youngster through age 10 receives a cheery, pre-printed reply (containing no rash promises) from the Jolly Old Elf Himself, to any letter deposited by Friday, Dec. 16, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily. The only requirement is that return addresses be legible.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS.... Jason Brown Daquino, 3, of East Meadow, double checks his letter to Santa, while his brother, Stephen, 4, has obviously made up his mind. All Nassau youngsters through age 10 are invited to post their letters in one of Santa's Mailboxes in any major County park, beginning Friday, Nov. 25, daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nassau's Department of Recreation and Parks "Santa" will answer each letter that bears a legible return address. To get a reply in time for Christmas, letters should be mailed by Friday, Dec. 16, but all letters received by Dec. 24 will be answered.

Participating parks are: Bay Park, East Rockaway; Cantiague Park, Hicksville; Cedar Creek Park, Seaford; Christopher Morley Park, Roslyn-North Hills; Cow Meadow Park, Freeport; Eisenhower Park, East Meadow; Grant Park, Hewlett; Hempstead Harbor Beach Park, Port Washington; Inwood Park, Nassau County

Arena, Long Beach; North Woodmere Park; Roosevelt Park; Wantagh Park; and Whitney Pond Park, Manhasset.

Holiday Dance For Seniors

Holiday cheer will fill the air at the East Terrace Ballroom in Nassau Beach Park when the Senior Citizens' Holiday Evening Dance gets under way at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, December 14.

seniors with other ideas on suitable beverages for the holidays are welcome to bring their own refreshments.

Reservations for the free event, sponsored by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, are a must. Call the Senior Citizens' Unit at 292-4247 for individual and group reservations.

Nassau Beach Park is located on Lido Boulevard in Lido.

Pre-Ski Clinic In Merrick

As the first flurries of snow fall from the sky, the thoughts of many Hempstead Town residents turn to powered slopes and the sport of skiing.

That's why the Town of Hempstead Department of Parks and Recreation will offer a "Pre-ski Clinic" for residents interested in learning the fundamentals as well as some of the finer points of downhill skiing. The clinic will feature a series of exercises which are designed to aid the skier in attaining and maintaining a degree of physical conditioning for the coming season.

Offered on Wednesday, November 30 and Wednesday, December 7 the two-day course will be taught by an expert ski instructor. Classes will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Merrick Road Park Golf Course Clubhouse in Merrick.

For further information, please call 489-1269.

Global Hunger

Lili Hahn, a League of Women Voters member will address the Unitarian-Universalist Church on Nov. 27.

Lili Hahn is an accredited observer at the United Nations Office of Public Information and the United States Mission to the United Nations.

"Depressing headlines about global hunger need not leave us helpless." Probing beyond the headlines we can find ways to pull up hunger by the roots and at the same time gain better understanding of our complex world."

The public is invited. The Service begins at 11:00 A.M. The church is at Stewart Avenue and Nassau Blvd., Garden City.

Guest Editor

Francis T. Purocell, Nassau County Executive

Very little gets done in this world unless a few individuals work at something and exercise the leadership that it takes to accomplish things. The national holiday we are now celebrating, Thanksgiving Day, is a prime example.

The first official Thanksgiving was first celebrated in 1623 because of a decree from Massachusetts Governor William Bradford, but there was no national observance of a day of thanks to God until 240 years later when President Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday in November as a national holiday.

Lincoln's proclamation was a direct result of a campaign conducted by Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale. She was editor of a magazine called Godey's Lady's Book. Mrs. Hale worked for many years to promote the idea of a national Thanksgiving Day, and Lincoln eventually gave in to the political and public pressure.

In the years since, Thanksgiving has moved only slightly from the end of November. President Franklin Roosevelt moved it a week earlier in 1939 to help business by lengthening the shopping period before Christmas during the Depression, but in 1941 Congress established the day we now celebrate: the fourth Thursday in November.

As with many of our holidays we seem to get caught up more in the trappings than in the significance. May I suggest that you pause for a few moments this Thanksgiving. Forget the turkey and the feast long enough to give thanks to God for the great benefits of being an American in the exciting 20th century. It would even be a good idea to take the family to God's house for a prayer or two before going back to your house for Thanksgiving dinner.

Local Sledding and Ice Skating

With Old Man Winter right around the corner, facilities operated by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks are all set for sledding and natural ice-skating whenever weather conditions permit.

Sled hills will be open any day there's snow from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Cantiague Park in Hicksville; Eisenhower Park in East Meadow, near parking field no. 1; and Roosevelt Park.

When the ice is thick enough, there will be natural ice-skating beginning Dec. 1 on weekdays from 4 to 10 p.m. and Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. except as indicated below at the following locations: Loft Pond, Baldwin; Mt. Pond, Bellmore; Eisenhower Park and Hall's Pond, West Hempstead.

To verify either sledding or skating conditions, call the nearest park.

BUS INFORMATION: Metropolitan Suburban Bus Authority's Information Agent, Sophie Ryba, answers a passenger's call on MSBA's new Automatic Call Director System. Dear Friends:

GOOD NEWS: Count Dracula, Frankenstein and the rest of their fiendish friends are now at rest. Their ghoulish antics at the recent March of Dimes "Haunted House" at Mid Island Plaza, helped raise over $18,000 to be used in the fight against birth defects. But their rest is only temporary, for we are told that there is not a ghost of a chance that they will not be brought to life again next year for this worthy cause.

Alliteration was certainly present on Oct. 1st, which was officially proclaimed "Hicksville Hohner Harmonica Day" by Town officials when they so honored the M. Hohner Company of Hicksville, the largest manufacturer of harmonicas in the world. Congratulations.

We had occasion to telephone the Hicksville Post Office this week and were greeted by a cheerful voice saying, "Hicksville Post Office, Happy Thanksgiving"...how very pleasant it was. Cheerful greetings are small but special blessings in our "hurry-up" world.

A REMINDER. Thursday, Dec. 1 at 8:30 pm downstairs at the Hicksville Library on Jerusalem, the Hicksville Community Council has an exciting December meeting planned for you...so, come on down.

If you read the legals this week, you will notice that early in December an election for Fire District Commissioners will be held. More on this next week.

Congressman Ambro's article on "Bureaucracy - The Hydra-Headed Monster", seems to suggest that both Congress and the President of this country are more or less in the grip of our non-elected federal bureaucracy. This is worrisome, to say the least...but there must be some way to change such a situation even if it does take time and effort. How do you feel about it? We'd like to hear from you with constructive suggestions on this serious national problem.

THIS WEEK we received an interesting postcard from a William R. Sullivan of Vale, Oregon, as follows: "Violence on TV is there because the viewer buys the sponsors product. One way to get them off is to stop buying the product. It takes only a very small percentage of people to make their sales fall off." Sounds like a good idea. Also, we take off our hats to Mr. Sullivan, for he believes enough in his idea, to send, postcards throughout our country to all the weeklies.

BY THE TIME that you read this, your Thanksgiving observances will be over. We hope that they were happy and that you are now "on-the-firing-line" along with thousands of other Long Islanders, ready to do your holiday shopping. We wish you good luck...but remember, your local merchant serves you each day of the year. Why not give him the opportunity to help you complete your holiday shopping successfully. You will be in for a pleasant surprise.

SMALL BEGINNINGS
Everything about Thanksgiving and the Pilgrim Fathers can be listed under the heading, "Small Beginnings." The Mayflower was a small boat just 113 by 26 feet. There was a total passenger list of 102 men, women, and children. Plymouth Rock is a very small stone.

Our great country had a very small beginning. But God has a special way of handling the little, the small, the insignificant, the minute. He turns them into great things. The Child becomes the Savior of mankind. The mustard seed represents a tremendous faith. The Twelve Disciples multiplied themselves into an endless line of followers.

To say our country is blessed is to repeat a statement that has been said again and again. One can almost see the yawns of boredom beginning. But it is we had better not become too smug about it. We don't really deserve to have it so good. I can't remember the last time I've read of an American dying from hunger. Our country has been blessed by God even greater than it deserves.

From a humble beginning we have become a land that excels in blessings. Gratitude is our only acceptable response. Sure food is higher this year, but we are still eating three "squares" a day. Life may not be as good as it was five years ago, but it is still plenty good.

On Thanksgiving Day with the turkey, football games, and parades, take time to count your blessings. It will take you at least a half-hour just to list them all. Take another thirty minutes to thank and praise the God who produced so much for us. From some very small and humble beginnings we have grown into a nation that should find a Thanksgiving Day most appropriate.

STANLEY E. HORTON Sr.
Stanley E. Horton Sr. of Hicksville died on Nov. 11. Mr. Horton was an ex-Capt. of the Hempstead Fire Dept. and was a member of America Legion Post No. 390. He was the husband of Theresa, father of Terrie Lynne and Stanley E. Horton Jr., son of Louise Horton, brother of Catherine Wagner, Rowland and Robert Horton. He is also survived by one granddaughter.

Religious services were held on Tues., Nov. 15 at the Vernon C. Wagner Funeral Home, Old Country Rd., Hicksville. Rev. David Corey officiated. Interment was held in L.I. National Cemetery.

LILLIAN A. FORSTCHEN
Lillian A. Forstchen of Hicksville died on Nov. 10. She was the wife of the late Fred L.; mother of June A. Strick and Frederick M. Forstchen, sister of Evelyn Block and Melvin Foltz. She is also survived by eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Church service was Mon., Nov. 14 at Trinity Lutheran Church, Nicholas St., Hicksville. Interment followed in Pinelawn Memorial Park. Arrangements were by the Vernon C. Wagner Funeral Home, Inc., Hicksville.

When she was young Charlotte Louise Brauer, who died Sunday after a long illness brought on by a stroke, was active in church social work. One time she was helping to escort a group of Lutheran Sunday school children to a picnic and excursion trip around New York harbor. At the last minute she remembered that she had forgotten her lunch, excused herself from her companions, and ran home to get it. When she returned to the dock, however, she found that the boat had sailed without her and she crept home sad and discouraged.

But later that evening she thanked God for the misfortune because the date was June 15, 1904 and the excursion boat was the General Slocum which caught fire and burned completely, killing 1,021 children and adults, one of the worst marine disasters in history.

Charlotte Louise Fromann was born on April 30, 1881 and raised in Manhattan. When she came of age she worked as a bookkeeper in her father's feed and grain store. Later she met and married John Brauer who drove a horse and wagon for the City Sanitation Department. They had nine children.

One day in late November 1926 while driving his wagon John saw his horse slip on some ice and fall into the East River. John dove in after him, rescued the animal, but caught pneumonia and died shortly thereafter.

Thus, Charlotte became a widow at the age of 45. After her children had grown and married she lived by herself in Manhattan until she moved to Hicksville 18 years ago to live with her daughter and son-in-law Dorothy and Frank Polosa.

Over the years she saw her family grow to 115 descendants including nine children, 21 grand children, 62 great grand children, and 23 great great grandchildren.

To all her relatives and friends she was known affectionately as "grandma". She enjoyed children and they in turn loved to listen to her stories about the old days in New York City, including the Great Blizzard of 1888, the first Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1918, the Roaring '20s, the momentous Stock Market Crash of 1929, the Great Depression of the 1930s, and other major historical events.

Services were held Wednesday at 10 a.m. in Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Hicksville. Interment took place in Lutheran Cemetery, Middle Village, Queens.

Friday, Nov. 18 at Our Lady of Mercy R.C. Church Interment followed in St. Charles Cemetery.

The Bureaucracy A Hydra-Headed Monster

By Cong. Jerome A. Ambro

In the three years that I have served in the Congress, it has become increasingly and disturbingly clear to me that the most powerful branch of this government is neither the President — elected by the entire nation — nor the Congress — elected from the various states and districts — nor even the Supreme Court — but rather those thousands of men and women serving in the middle management levels of the various federal agencies and departments who are elected by no one and who seem to be responsible to no one; the bureaucracy. What we might call the fourth branch of government was never included in the Constitution, and indeed, the only possible allusion to the hydra-headed monster that has become the modern Executive agency structure is contained in Article II, Section 2 of the Constitution in the form of these innocuous sounding words: "The President may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices..."

My major quarrel, however, is not necessarily with the resultant departments and agencies, or even with their proliferation over the years (a condition I deplore), but rather with the fact that the modern legislative process results in the enactment of laws that are skeletal in form along with a mandate to the appropriate departments and agencies to fill in the details. As a result, the term "regulations" — "regs" — strikes terror in the hearts of state and local governments, businessmen, large and small, and everyone who has dealings with the federal government. In effect, all of us. While the very extent of regulations and their attendant paperwork is regrettable in and of itself, it is the content of these bureaucratically-crafted "laws," that is the most onerous. By means of their authority to flesh out the laws with guidelines, those middle-management appointed agency people often distort and indeed change the law to suit their own or their department's conception of how programs should work and for whom. Because of this, one gets HUD area offices refusing to grant funds to our local communities for senior citizens housing unless they also agree to build large numbers of apartments for low income families, many from New York City; or one gets, for example, an HEW office declaring that father-son-mother-daughter nights violate the laws against sex discrimination.

Every day, in my office, and in others in Capitol Hill, we are faced with the somewhat tyrannical and often irrational and just plain stupid effects of bureaucratic regulations. Recently, we have sought to come to grips with this problem by requesting the agencies to submit their draft regulations to us for study and public hearing before they are finally promulgated. Our early experiences with this procedure have been disillusioning in that we have found that while the agencies listen very politely to our comments and criticisms, they then turn around and do just as we had planned in the first place. The next step, it seems to me will have to be Congressional veto over proposed regulations and the so-called sunset or "self-destruct" laws — of which I was an early co-sponsor — which require all of our federal agencies to periodically justify their right to exist.

GEORGE BLEKAS of Plainview, right, and Abel Marglin of Huntington, second from right, prize and gift co-chairmen of the American Cancer Society, Long Island Division's golf tournament, prepare to hand out the prizes to the winners at the dinner following the tournament. Joining them are dinner chairman Leonard Sherman, V.M.D., of Bay Shore, and general chairman James Hume of Islip. The tournament netted more than $25,000 for cancer research, services for cancer patients, and cancer prevention and detection programs for all Long Islanders.

"Inside Nassau"

Nassau County Press Service
By Michael Bux

Communities throughout Nassau are all reacting differently to how a $3.2 million grant will help the unemployed youths in their areas.

In Hicksville, Clive Chilton, the director to the Action Council of Central Nassau says his community will be greatly affected by the grant because his area has one of the largest youth population in Nassau.

Hicksville one of the target areas in the county. Historically young people from homes with an average of four members and an income of $5,100 have always needed part-time work in order for their families to survive. Over the last five years as the economic situation has worsened the need for work among disadvantaged people has become greater. However there is apprehension in the poor neighborhoods of Nassau that the agencies which will oversee the distribution of the funds will be funneled to those who are in a better economic position.

Until the passage of the Community Employment and Training Act last month there has been no real provision in Nassau for the creation of jobs for people in the 16-21 age bracket. In the past youths had to be members of a family where the income is below the poverty level in order to qualify for a job. However the $3.2 million can be used for those in the lower middle income Bracket.

The money will be dispensed by both the County Youth Board and the County Office of Employment and Training.

The Community Action Program which I have discussed the matter with say there is not enough emphasis being placed on the hard core poverty areas where the funds are needed most. While those in the more affluent areas say they are as much in need as those who are below the poverty line.

The latter feel they have been paying part of the bill for welfare programs and that it is about time that they begin to reap some of the benefits.

Representatives of the black and hispanic communities now feel money that was suppose to help them in their neighborhoods where incidents of crime are the highest, will be detoured away to benefit the children of families whom they feel are in a better financial situation than themselves.

The drop out and unemployment figures are highest in the poorer poorer areas and leaders in those communities want the new money the county has acquired to be used to create jobs for these youths.

Currently the plan is to use $2.6 million to create jobs for high school students, in such areas as community development, and parks. Additionally it plans to spend money to employ and train young people who have dropped out of high school.

The remaining $600,000 will be used to hire youths between the ages of 16 and 19 in 150 public service positions.

Still poverty area leaders contend that the critical financial needs of the poverty neighborhoods of Nassau should get first priority when it comes time to appropriate money for the needy. They cite health and transportation needs throughout the county as areas not remedied due to a lack of funds.

Yet many people above the poverty line contend they are being discriminated against because they are not as poor as their neighbors. They insist their problems are severe also and that the county should pay attention to their situation. That attitude is part of a reaction to the affirmative action programs going on throughout the country and many Nassau residents feel their time has come to be recognized.

compensation for loss of jobs and proper medical care. No-Fault is one small facet of the auto insurance business. Under this law, a $50,000 protection payment towards any injury cost (1974) carried a base payment of $13. Today, it is $19. This 100% increase is very small indeed, compared to the rise in collision rates. Property is not covered by No-Fault.

Fire and Theft and Collision (deductible) protects the car. Federal and State committees have investigated why costs are escalating. A 1973 Chevy, $5200 new, now costs $22,347 to rebuild in a collision shop. The Committees are also investigating the monopolistic tendencies of the manufacturers.

We are urged to talk to our legislators to get the laws modified. Costs will only go down.

was required. He was proud and happy to receive this beautiful award, and we were happy for him. This whetted our appetites to find out what award will be given, if we get the full 100 percent before the year ends. The other award received by a member of our Post II is Nat. Aide DeCamp to our Past Post County Commander Harry Wurth. This honor was recommended once again by Don Vulpe and acknowledged. To you it may not seem like much but to those who know, it takes a lot of hard work and time, especially time to win these awards. Both proud and rightly so for being recognized by the State and the National V.F.W. Brass.

I was fortunate enough to be present at the 77th Division Association reunion a few weeks back. The reason for mentioning this is, there must be quite a few Veterans in our area who were in the 77th Div. and don't know of the reunion. This was the third consecutive year they met at the Downingtown Inn. The Association makes reservations if we can reduce losses. And, in order to reduce losses, we must obey traffic laws and drive prudently. A policy is rated in many ways.

Final premiums depend on use of the vehicle, age of the drivers, and whether it's driven to work.

And, also it is important to consider how long is it prudent to carry collision? And how long is it comfortable to afford collision?

Town Portion of The Meeting

At this meeting, Dr. Dunbar spoke and urged all to attend the School Board meeting of Nov. 30 which will be held at 8:15 p.m. At the time, he will discuss "Children and School Responsibility." Dr. Dunbar also discussed the beautification project of downtown Hicksville, and the need for support, especially in fund raising.

which includes two meals a day. It starts from Fri. to Sun. This is a reunion where old acquaintances meet. It would take up too much time and space to enumerate all the things that went on. This is a New York Div. but I met people from all over the Country. The Chaplain was there also a man called Mons. Donnelly. It seemed everybody looked forward to seeing him and speaking to him. They thought so highly that they gave him the honor of placing the American Flag on the first captured Island in the Pacific. There is no way of knowing whether or not you are interested, but if you are you will be notified of the time and place. To those of you from the 77th it will be something you won't soon forget.

Two more new members were entered in our roll, the first an old war horse from W.W. 11 Ray Salvatto, and the other is a transfer and a young tiger from the Viet Nam conflict Jim Wheeler. Comrades welcome to our Post happy to have you as one of us.

Barclay's Sweepstakes

On November 12, Cosmos Soccer Star Shep Messing, who was appearing at Barclays conducted the drawing. He is shown in the photo with Mr. Michael J. Squillace, Vice President and Manager of the Jericho Office. Shep announced the following winners: Mrs. A. MacKinnon of North Tarrytown, Ruth Rosenblatt of Jericho, Laurette Abrams of Jericho and Betty Franklin of Jericho.

An enthusiastic crowd drew together for each of the two sweepstakes which have been held at the new Jericho Office of Barclays Bank of New York. People awaited anxiously to hear the winners' names. Among the prizes given away at each of the drawings were a toaster oven, a smoke alarm, a tape recorder and a clock radio. The lucky winners for the November 5 drawing included: Mollie Carbel of Jericho, Harvey Zitron of Roslyn Heights, Philip Hess of Hicksville and Edith Sugarman of Jericho.

Barclays will conduct two more drawings as part of their opening celebration on November 19 and November 26. The winner of the grand prize to be chosen on November 26 will receive a $500 travel voucher redeemable at Jericho Travel.

In conjunction with their month-long opening celebration, Barclays is sponsoring many other exciting activities including a special soccer contest. The winning team will have their uniforms paid for by Barclays and will be coached for a day by a leading soccer champion.

The opening of Barclays' first Long Island Office in Jericho has already made and will continue to make considerable impact. A full service commercial bank, Barclays is anxious to provide the community with the best banking services. At Barclays you can bank on more than free gifts.

Letter To The Editor

Mr Thomas F. Nagle, Pres. Hicksville Board of Education Dear Mr. Nagle: On Wednesday, October 5, 1977 at a meeting of the Hicksville Council of PTA's it was unanimously agreed by those present (the Administrators in attendance abstaining from the vote) that PTA strongly urge all parties concerned to come to a speedy and amicable settlement in the instance of the Administrators Contract. In the interest of the parties involved who have continued to give devoted and uninterrupted service during a more than reasonable length of time and also for the concern of the educational process of the community we feel it vital that an early conclusion to the negotiations be realized.

PTA would again like to reiterate its intention to continue to support policies and procedures that have positive effects on education in Hicksville and to this end feel that a fair and just Administrators Contract must be implemented.

Very truly yours,
 Lorraine V. Lusche,
 President
 HICKSVILLE COUNCIL OF PTA'S

Kawasaki Motors Unveils the Z1-R, The Ultimate Performance 1015cc Bike

One of the most exciting motorcycles to hit the market this fall is Kawasaki's Z1-R, a high performance 1015cc street bike with a European racing design.

Riders looking for the ultimate in high performance street motorcycles should check out Kawasaki's new Z1-R, unveiled recently at dealerships across the country.

Billed as one of the fastest street motorcycles ever built, the Z1-R combines slick road racing configuration with an erredible performance on the street or the open road.

Z1-R riders will be noticed. The Z1-R is highly stylized, featuring low rise European handle bars, a quarter fairing and a long, low slung gas tank that provides a freedom of choice in riding positions. Dressed in a rich "stardust-silver" color, this machine commands attention.

Kawasaki's new road machine was designed to maintain Kawasaki's big bike leadership. The Z1-R has a five-speed double-overhead cam engine and numerous luxury features: full instrumentation, a quartz-halogen headlight, highly distinguishing position lights and a positive neutral which shifts from low to neutral only when the Z1-R is stopped.

Taking all these features into consideration, most observers consider this bike the "state of the art" in the 1000cc category. It's a bike for a rider that wants both comfort and control at flat-out speeds.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

by Will Bernard

Unfinished Theft

In the book section of a department store, Pete slipped a slim volume into the inner pocket of his topcoat. Then he hurried past the checkout counter without paying.

Next stop: the toy section. But at that point a store detective caught up with him and placed him under arrest.

"Not guilty," Pete pleaded in court. "I was still inside the store, on their premises, so I had not yet committed any crime."

But the court said he had indeed, at the moment he passed the checkout counter. While he had not yet committed a theft, said the court, he had committed an "attempt."

Our legal system does not punish anyone for having an evil intention. But when the intention is followed by an "overt act" toward carrying it out, that does add up to a criminal attempt.

Does it matter if the person has a change of heart midway through the process? In another case a would-be pickpocket was seen twice slipping his fingers into a woman's purse. Both times he withdrew without taking anything.

Arrested for attempted theft, he insisted he was innocent, because he had backed away on his own initiative. But again the court found him guilty. The court said the attempt—that is, intent plus overt act—was complete, regardless of what happened afterward.

However, mere preliminary preparation for the crime does not amount to an overt act. Thus, another man was found not guilty of an attempt to rob a market, after the police—tipped off about his plan—picked him up before he even got there.

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes once put it this way:

"As the aim of the law is not to punish sins but to prevent certain results, the act must come pretty near to accomplishing that result before the law will notice it."

Inflation-Fighting TRAVEL IDEAS

TIPS TO HELP YOU

Back in the 18th century, when Samuel Johnson said "A man who is tired of London is tired of life," he could have had no idea of the scores of attractions that would keep the millions of visitors to the British capital today so busy. Or, how many of these attractions would be free of charge.

Many of the most exciting things to do and see in London don't cost a thing. The changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace, the speaker's corner in Hyde Park, the magnificent collections at major museums, such as the National Gallery and British Museum, all can be visited without charge.

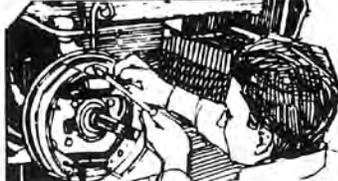

To get the most for your money all the way when visiting London, taking an airline package is the way smart travelers go. For instance, Air India's one- and two-week London Theatre and Fly/Drive Holidays include much more than airfare and hotel rooms. There are restaurant and shopping discounts, free maps and guidebooks, discounts at discotheques, free membership in private clubs, and many other extras.

Included in all the London Theatre Holidays is a 15-minute tour through Britain's ultra-modern National Theatre—followed by a performance there that might star one of the greats of the English theatre like John Gielgud, Paul Scofield or Albert Finney. For further details on any of these exciting packages see Island Trees Travel, Broadway, Hicksville, or write: Theatre Tours, Air India, 315 Park Avenue, New York 10022.

The Creative Chef

BYE BYE BIRDIE

The best part about turkey is the leftovers. Just think of all the wonderful things that come with the end of the bird—turkey tetrazzini, turkey pie, turkey a la king. Some people buy a big enough bird so that they have planned leftovers for terrific dishes like these.

Today you don't have to wait for the holidays to have turkey. It is available all year around. You can even buy fresh or frozen turkey cut up into breasts or drumsticks for smaller households. And gravy need not be a problem. You can make perfect poultry gravy and sauces with an exciting new product just introduced by The Creative Kitchens of Blue Bonnet Margarine. The problem-solver is Smooth & Easy Sauce and Gravy Maker. Smooth & Easy is a roux, a mixture of margarine oils and flour combined and cooked with seasonings, then formed into refrigerated bars. You simply slice the bar directly into any boiling liquid, stir for about thirty seconds until it thickens and boils. It comes in three flavors: Brown Gravy, Chicken Gravy and White Sauce. You can find it in the refrigerated case of your supermarket near the margarine.

A real time-saver, this product helps you make a delicious turkey pie from start to finish in about 20 minutes. For other sensational recipes that can be made in minutes, write for your free 24-page recipe booklet. Send your name and address to:

TURKEY PIE

- 1/2 cup canned peas
- Water
- 1 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons (1/4 bar) Smooth & Easy Chicken Gravy Maker
- 1 tablespoon Smooth & Easy Brown Sauce Maker
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 2 cups cooked cubed turkey
- Topping:
- 2 cups buttermilk baking (biscuit) mix
- 1/2 cups water
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon chopped chives

Drain peas, saving liquid. Combine 1/2 cup liquid with water to equal 1 cup; mix with milk in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a boil. Slice in Chicken Gravy Maker and Brown Sauce Maker. Stir with a spoon or wire whisk until dissolved. Boil for 30 seconds. Fold in peas, salt, pimiento and turkey. Heat through. Pour into an 8-inch square baking dish. Set aside.

Stir water into biscuit mix until thoroughly moistened. Mix in onion and chives. Stretch dough over top of turkey mixture in a thin layer. Bake at 450° F. for 10-12 minutes until topping is golden brown. Slice and serve.

Makes 6-8 servings.

Galileo Lodge News

Portrait Of An Ex-Venerable

By Joe Lorenzo

The Galileo Lodge, struggling for its existence during its infancy, was beset with many growing pains which might easily obstructed the growth of this organization.

But there was a man who rose to the occasion—Joe Giordano, the first Venerable of the Galileo Lodge. He persevered and faced up to the challenges attached to his position. Without a doubt his efforts, dedication and loyalty enabled the Galileo Lodge to become the second largest Lodge in New York State.

Joe Giordano is a lawyer, a product of New York University and New York University Law School. He received his Law degree (LLB) in 1943 and was admitted to practice the same year. Joe's legal expertise was the finely-honed instrument that helped to shape the destiny and future of The Galileo Lodge. He was responsible for all the legal work involved in the purchase of the building and property of the Lodge, in all other matters where legal technicalities existed and had to be ironed out.

In Lodge matters Joe Giordano's legal knowledge served as the liaison between the Police Department, the D.A.'s office, the Fire Department and many other business, social, civic and political agencies where matters of law would become a vital necessity to the operation of the Lodge. Joe Giordano was a Venerable totally dedicated to the idea that any organization affiliated with the Order of Sons of Italy in America would cement relations between the Italian-Americans and their community. Joe Giordano's dynamism put it all together and made it work.

Joe Giordano has an amazing list of credits on his record of public service, ranging from legal participation in State Rent Commission, Federal Housing and Home Finance, Urban Renewal, Office of Local Government and the Office of Community Development to being recently elected to Grand Trustee in the higher echelons of the Order of Sons of Italy in America.

Joe Giordano and his wife Grace, both residents of Hicksville, have two daughters, Allison and Rosemary, who are school teachers. Joe was an officer in the U.S. Navy during World War 2.

Mr. Wesley R. Villazon, left, President of the Hicksville Lions Club and Mr. Gardiner Gregory, Director of The Gregory Museum admire one of the three signs donated by the Hicksville Lions Club.

Two of the signs most recently donated announce the fact that the building housing the Museum is a National Historic Place. The only such building so designated in Hicksville.

In conclusion Joe Giordano established the mood and tempo of the Galileo Lodge. He gave the principle and dignity needed for future growth. He set the pace that others now follow in the growth of our Lodge.

There will be no monthly visit to Northport in Dec. reports Ray Darnowski. Instead the patients will come to our Post Tuesday the 13th of Dec. The hours will be from six to nine P.M. We are going to feed them and will be happy for any help we can get.

Max Bergsohn wishes to remind all you comrades of our raffle. The night of the drawing will be on Feb. the 18th at our Charter night Dinner.

You should have received letters from the childrens Christmas party by this time, those of you who have children or grandchildren you wish to bring, please notify the committee of the age and sex of the child. And for those interested in the Post

Christmas Party get in touch with Bob Obermeyer or Artie Fueling for tickets, they're going fast.

More good news Lou Klein and Al Kreigle are out of the hospital, and slowly recuperating. Mike Znack is still in Central General Hospital, we hope he gets out soon. Let him hear from you.

The lucky winner of the Post raffle was Angelo Petrina Oh well maybe I'll get it next time, be patient boy your time will come (I think).

There will be no meeting Dec. 26th that's the day after Christmas and most of us will not be working. However our next meeting will be Mon. Nov. 28th hope to see you then.

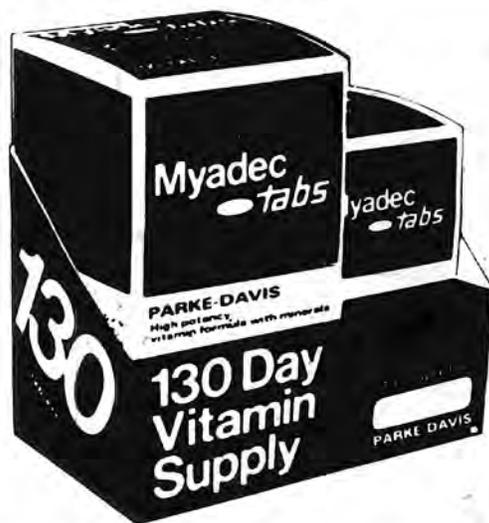

We have a few nice things to say this week, on top of the list our Commander Vinnie Edwards received a lapel pin from Dept. Commander Dom Volpe for having a higher percentage than

Thanksgiving Greeting From HAD

By John Maniec, Executive Director
 Help-Aid-Direction (H.A.D.) wishes to express its most gratitude to the residents, businessmen and youngsters who have supported its counseling center for the past eight Thanksgivings.

It seems only yesterday that various concerned citizens, community leaders, and representatives of Hicksville area churches, temples, fraternal and civic groups, met on a cold, crisp November night in 1969 in the basement of Pastor

James Benson's United Methodist Church to establish the H.A.D. organization.

In the past eight years, H.A.D. has grown into a very viable youth and family counseling, job development and drug abuse prevention and treatment center. Its present counseling facility is located at 268 North Broadway, Hicksville, and provides numerous services to adolescents, young adults, and families for more than six hours weekly, with the agency open every day of the week except Sunday.

More than fifty-five Hicksville area residents, businessmen, and community leaders, have faithfully served H.A.D. as dedicated volunteer board members. They have in the last eight years donated thousands of hours of time and creative energies aiding H.A.D. in its service to the community. There is no doubt in my mind that without these community-minded, empathetic individuals guiding and leading H.A.D. through many financial crises and difficulties, the H.A.D. organization would have gone out of existence many years ago.

The following people have served, or are serving the H.A.D. agency as Board of Directors. They deserve to be recognized for their selflessness, their compassion, and their concern for helping H.A.D. help troubled youngsters and their families. May God bless them and their loved ones. Help-Aid-Direction is truly thankful for their association and their support.

79 Alarms For Vamps

By Ex-Capt. Owen Magee
 Hicksville Volunteers responded to 79 alarms during the period Nov. 2 through Nov. 19. There were 9 malicious false alarms, 29 fire calls and 41 rescue calls.

On November 15 at 10:50 P.M. a fire was reported by personnel in the LIRR switch tower near the railroad station. The one hitch was they couldn't identify the building. At about the same time Jericho Vamps were out on an alarm when they noticed fire on the roof of the 5 story Gertz building. A general alarm was transmitted and a request for another 85' tower ladder was requested from Plainview F.D. The fire was found to be in a pile of roofing material. The roof was being re-finished. The spectacular blaze was confined to the roof.

The cause of the Gertz blaze was blamed on the spontaneous ignition of a mop used to apply the hot tar. The building suffered no damage.

ORT News

The Levittown Chapter of Women's American ORT, is having a "Night at the Theatre". It will be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 30 at Theatre

Tonight, on Newbridge Rd., East Meadow, where they will see "Apple Tree". Admission is $5 per person. If interested, call 796-0868.

Girl Scout News

On October 26th, Junior Girl Scout Troop No. 3117 held its rededication program. The troop, under the leadership of Pat Dwyer and Nancy Gatto, had only recently been re-activated and is at present the only Girl Scout troop meeting at Woodland Avenue School. For every girl scout, a rededication is a special time for remembering the ideals of Scouting, which are manifested in the Promise and Laws.

The following girls participated: Michelle and Monica Branciforti, Chrissy Dordomy, Faith Gilman, Nancy Hughes, Jennifer Lange, Susie McCarron, Celeste McMichael, Audrey Wenner, and Marie Maresco. The girls served refreshments to all the families present.
