Building Fire Injures 4 Vamps

Four Hicksville firefighters were injured, two seriously, when the roof they were working on, at a building fire off Walter Ave., collapsed without warning. Injured were firefighter Nick Caruso of Eng. Co. 7-A, broken back, Capt. Gilbert Cusick, Ladder Co. 6 - broken wrist and serious injury to his lungs, Lt. Mike Krummanacker, Ladder Co. 1 - sprained ankle, firefighter John Hanifan Jr. of Hose Co. 4 - sprained ankle. Also injured was firefighter Edward Keighron of Ladder Co. 1 - smoke inhalation. The aided were taken to Central General Hospital via Hicksville and Plainview F.D. Ambulances. The Jericho F.D. sent 1 rescue unit to stand-by and handled 1 rescue call while on stand-by. The Bethpage F.D. provided a utility truck to help with the snow.

50'x100' building was total at $50,000.00. It was to have been the new church of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church.

One vamp Lt. Ray Fuchs of Ladder 6 plunged into the fire area but managed to crawl back up the roof beams and escaped injury. 60 vamps, 9 pieces of apparatus responded under Chief William Ferber. The fire was termed suspicious and the marshals office is investigating.

Hicksville chiefs praised the dedication of the members, many of which either stayed on at the 3 fire stations in shifts or walked to the fire house to answer alarms. Most firefighters were snowed in by unplowed streets. Similar problems were reported in Plainview, Jericho and Bethpage. Hicksville firefighters request people to refrain from parking on Gebhardt Plaza opposite fire headquarters. Apparatus has been unable to respond due to cars parked. They also request that calls for the ambulance be kept to emergency types only, no transportation. The squad has been overwhelmed during the past few weeks with calls. Calls range from cardiac to miscarriage to kidney patients in need of treatment to broken bone calls.

During the period Jan. 16 thru 21 there were 51 alarms, 1 false alarm, 26 rescue calls, 24 fire calls.

HYDRANT NEAR YOUR HOUSE?

Hicksville vamps ask that you clear the snow from the hydrants by or near your house. It will save precious time looking and digging. Thank you.

Hicksville firefighters wish to thank the Healey's of Walter Ave. for the hot coffee at the fire on Jan. 21. Your thoughtfulness is appreciated.

CUMMINGS 'N GOINGS By Jim Cummings

DID 'YA KNOW: that white Town Department of Public Works forces battled the worst storm in a decade to hit our environment, another disturbance of significant importance was developing in Washington, D.C., as the Long Island Congressional delegation discussed ways to mobilize Congressional opposition to the Carter-Administration's plans to cut back on purchases of the F-14 fighter plane built at nearby Grumman Corporation in Bethpage...The F-14 "Tomcat" the best combination fighter-interceptor in the world today, can take on six hostile planes at one time, and hit them all simultaneously, with its missile power. Over Navy objections, President Carter has ordered a $250 million slash for the "Tomcat". Can you imagine what a harsh blow this will be to Long Island's economy, which has already taken its toll of unemployed - this threatens the jobs of thousands of Grumman workers, many of whom reside in our Township...The input here is that while we can always "weather a storm" there is deep concern when a major employer the size of Grumman's is threatened with the possibility of an alarming cut-back of its employees; if Carter has his way, -an F-18 is being proposed instead by Tip O'Neil, Speaker of the House and two Senators Kennedy system is the request of hundreds using this busy intersection daily and personally observed by the writer... The former Kollsman plant on Jericho Turnpike in Syosset about to get new tenants. Traffic hazards continue at the west of North Broadway & Nevada Street as residents continue fight for change to permit turn on red light egress to North Broadway, this would surely ease traffic pattern and back-ups daily...Several volunteer firemen injured in a recent collapse of a Hicksville building during storm - so remember when you hear a siren or see that flashing roof light on a car, move over quickly for these volunteers. Despite weather conditions last Sunday, the Hicksville Hibernians installed their Officers for the fraternal year, 1978: John Campbell of Loretta Lane, Hicksville as Division President and Mrs. Katherine Roemer, as Ladies Auxiliary President - the Division is celebrating its 20th year of service to the Order and the community.

Hempstead Village Calls For Memorial Day Store Closing

The Hempstead Village Board has adopted a resolution calling on local, State and Federal legislators to enact legislation directing that all business, with the exception of the sale of necessities and necessary services, cease on Memorial Day, a day set aside by order of the U.S. Congress more than 100 years ago to honor those who made the Supreme sacrifice in the military service of our Country.

Until recently this holiday has been designated as May 30, but it has recently been changed to the last Monday in May - May 29, 1978.

Mayor Dalton R. Miller pointed out that recent law changes have made normal shopping, for the most part, possible 7 days a week throughout the year, including the most important national and religious holidays. While objecting to the increasing practice of "business as usual" by retail stores when schools, government services, financial institutions and others are closed in observance of important holidays, he said that the Village Board is strenuously unanimous in the feeling that such general conduct of business on Memorial Day is an affront to the memory of the men and women who have given their lives in the service of our Country.

He said that "Memorial Day is a very special day for all of us here to pay special tribute and thanks to those who gave their all in order that we might enjoy the benefits of these greatest of nations. It should be a day of special meaning to each of us, to all of us, regardless of our national or ethnic background - for many, a salute to a relative, friend or loved one."

Mayor Miller said that copies of the resolution with notes urging their support would go to all veterans organizations, Town and County legislators and our representatives in Albany and Washington.

Seminar For School Board Members, School Officials At Hofstra

A one-day seminar for school board members and school officials on "How to Win Friends and Influence People Through Effective Communications," is being held Feb. 10 at Hofstra University, Hempstead, N.Y. The seminar, which includes representatives of newspapers, television and government agencies as speakers and workshop leaders, is being sponsored by Educational Management Institute, subsidiary of Management Functions, Inc. of Glen Cove, N.Y.

The program brings together experts, some of whom are nationally recognized, experienced in all facets of school public relations, television and newspaper reporting and provides fresh insight for school board members and administrators faced with communications problems.

The afternoon session features all aspects of school public relations in no-holds barred workshops led by school board members, administrators and journalists. Workshop leaders include Robert Finley, superintendent of Glen Cove Schools; Jerome Kovalick, assistant superintendent for public affairs, New York City Schools; Richard Ornaner, president, Nassau-Suffolk School Boards Assoc. and the Nassau County Board of Cooperative Educational Services and a member of the Merrick Board of Education; John Regan, assistant to the superintendent, Farmingdale Public Schools; and Otto Erbar, editor of the weekly newspaper, the Glen Cove Record-Pilot.

The morning session is devoted to factual presentations and question and answer periods with school public relations and media people: Arnold Bloom, public information director, New York State Education Department;

Bernard Cohen, producer of The ABC Evening News with Harry Reasoner and Barbara Walters, and John Hildebrand, education writer for Newsday.

The Communications Division of EMI is sponsoring the Feb. 10 seminar at Hofstra University. For details, contact Educational Management Institute, subsidiary of Management Functions, Inc., P.O. Box 809, Glen Cove, N.Y. 11542.

EMI, newly formed subsidiary of Management Functions, Inc., was organized "in a move to apply the best practices of business and industry to education," according to its president, Robert E. Mitchell, and to provide a wide range of services to school board members and school administrators and to officials of other public and private institutions. Mitchell, with 25 years of corporate experience, saw that business practices could be translated into educational terms for reduced costs and more effective operation. He enlisted corporate executives, management and data processing specialists, research analysts, educators, school and university administrators, and communications specialists, many of whom have national reputations in their fields, to serve as advisors as EMI was organized late last year. This major resource pool is available to educators. Divisions now being blueprinted include language arts, educational television, business administration, labor relations, energy conservation and food services.

"Inside Nassau"

A Column by Michael Bux

After that blizzard last week officials throughout the county were telling the news media that Long Islanders have to be patient when we get over a foot of snow.

"Everyone wants their block to be the first one plowed," Joseph Colby, the supervisor of the town of Oyster Bay told news reporters this week.

That comment made me wonder. Whose street is the first one plowed. We can assume, I guess we can assume that the Department of Public Works clears the streets where hospitals are located. There is then a list of priorities of other public related facilities like schools that draw the immediate attention of snow crews.

But then, what about the rest of us who live in Levittown or East Meadow, on a street that is not considered a high priority area? Well, up until Sunday night Route 107 was a disgrace to any road maintenance operation. The street is a major north-south artery in the county and by 9:00 P.M. it looked as if the snow had fallen hours before instead of two days ago.

The question that continued to plague me is where were the snow removal crews working that prevented them from clearing their vital roadway.

I stopped a county policeman after I had helped push a motorist out of a snow bank and asked him that same question. He threw his hands in the air and told me they were plowing the town parking lot.

I know these road maintenance crews don't haul an easy job, especially when there are residents who see them more as an enemy at this time of the year, rather than a friend. I feel certain that they weren't in some coffee shop warming their insides with hot java, but the conditions of Route 106 was still inexcusable.

The Town of Hempstead is reporting that the weatherman said at least 14 inches of snow fell across the town's 1700 miles of streets, and it took 220 pieces of equipment, including payloaders and dump trucks over 60 hours to remove 415 million cubic feet of snow.

Snow clearing operations are continuing in Hempstead while the Town Highway Commissioner Harold Hoff directs his men to clear away snow from storm drains to prevent flooding. The crews will also push the snow further back off the street and sand ice patches left over from last week's ice storm.

The Cross And The Switchblade

The Christian Fellowship of Molloy College will sponsor a showing of the movie "The Cross and the Switchblade" on Sunday, February 5, at 7 p.m. in the Anselma Room of Kellenberg Hall.

The film, which is based on the book written by David Wilkerson, presents the true story of a minister's crusade to reach out and touch the lives of ghetto youths in the street gangs of New York City with the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The public is invited. Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

The Board of Supervisors announced Monday that it plans to start a series of public meetings on Monday, February 6th that will look into the "problems associated with private, proprietary adult homes in Nassau."

The announcement was made by Presiding Supervisor Alfonso M. D'Amato of Hempstead.

"It isn't a witch hunt," the presiding supervisor said, but part of an overall look into many of the problems the new administration plans to tackle.

Mr. D'Amato refused to say the investigation has been prompted by Long Beach's long history as a dumping ground for patients released from mental institutions.

"It's a problem, throughout the

At The Supervisors Meeting

Nassau County News Service By Michael Bux

county," said Mr. D'Amato.

The first meeting plans to serve as a source of information which could lead to legislation and give the county more control over the state's placement of mental patients in the county.

Nassau residents have been complaining for the last half dozen years that there is an undue concentration of mental patients in the county, and Mr. D'Amato says this was the impetus for the investigation.

He said his panel would not have subpoena power but he hopes all those invited, which include State officials will attend.

"The state created this problem," noted Supervisor Hannah Komanoff of the City of Long Beach.

It is the Board's wish that the power to place mental patients be put in the hands of the county.

The Board will address itself to alleged violations of bad dietary care, fire, and sanitary codes in some of the homes and hostel which care for the mental patients. It also wants to determine whether there are adequate after-care programs for these patients.

The Board is inviting the public to attend the meetings which will be held in the County Executive Building in Mineola.

If the Board gathers information which feels warrants legislation they will proceed to enact the appropriate laws.

Anyone wishing to submit written testimony to the Board on any problem associated with privately owned facilities should write to them at 1 West St., Mineola, N.Y. 11501.

A Message From Our County Executive Francis Purcell

Some of the most spectacular winter scenery that I have ever seen was on Long Island last week. The trees, sheathed in ice, shimmered in the morning sun, their branches tracing a glistening lacework that arched like a sparkling canopy over our village streets. It was a beautiful sight, one that Long Islanders took time to enjoy, and even to photograph, as they wrestled with the problems that the ice brought.

Long Island bore the brunt of the ice storm that knocked out power to 300,000 homes and businesses, brought down telephone lines and marooned thousands of travelers.

But the ice storm made something else happen, too - something that should make us all very proud.

Amid all the disruption, Long Islanders showed what they are made of. Neighbor helped neighbor, strangers were sheltered, whole communities pitched in to sort things out. And the men and women on whom we depend for essential services - and whom we take for granted most of the time - went to work to bring our lives back to normal.

One sight remains vividly etched in my mind, and sums up everything. One night, at the height of the storm, with the roads covered with ice and sleet falling, I saw a lone policeman standing in the middle of a busy intersection. The nearby buildings were dark, the street lights were out, and he stood in a circle made by highway flares. He was barely visible through windshields crusted with ice. But he was there doing his job so that the rest of us could get home safely.

Thousands of other workers were on the job, too. While most of us were home snug and warm, they were out on LILCO trucks putting up downed wires; manning the plows and sanders that cleared the highways; driving down icy roads on firetrucks to answer calls for help.

Every once and a while, something happens that makes us especially proud of our community and the people who live in it. The ice storm disrupted our daily lives - but it costed our community in an eerie wintry beauty and it brought out the best in people. Long Islanders, responded to an emergency by pulling together. And that's what being a community is all about.

"Come" In Syosset

Starting Wednesday, February 1st, the UA Cinema 150 Theatre in Syosset will present "COMA," a riveting and ingenious medical detective story by Robin Cook.

Dear Friends . . .

On page 3 we carry the story on the Village of Hempstead calling for legislation to prevent any businesses, except those providing "necessary services" from opening on Memorial Day. We couldn't agree more with this suggested legislation. Memorial Day is set aside to honor those who gave their lives so that we can enjoy the privileges and responsibilities offered under the government of our Country. Is one day too much to ask as a Memorial for those who sacrificed their lives for us?

At press time the worst of the past two winter disasters seems to be over. However, there is much to be learned because of what happened, so that the efficiency of our snow removal may be improved. We have printed some of your letters and take into consideration all the phone calls over the past two weeks, for much that happened must not be repeated.

We realize that our elected officials know as well as we do that improvement must be made in this area particularly on the Town level. Those of you who have constructive suggestions really should send them in to the Town of Oyster Bay so that they may be considered. We may not be able to afford all that major storms need for immediate alleviation of heavy ice, snow or flood conditions, but a sensible study of improvements along with what these improvements will do and what they will cost should be made. Then, before hasty action makes costly action which may be over-reactive by our elected officials, I do feel that a series of public hearings, or at least a series of news releases which go into all particulars, including costs, of all alternatives for improvement, should be sent out so that all residents may make their feelings known to those in authority before large expenditures. Also, and we think that this is most important, some improvements may be instituted which do not actually cost anything, but will simply be made up of a needed clarification of each Town departments duties and a new set of rules be instituted so that fair treatment as to street plowing town-wide be made up AND FOLLOWED.

Also we do suggest that all these facts be made known not only to all Town residents, but to all Town Departments and their employees, so that it is as clear to them as to those in authority. Town Departments and their employees could give meaningful input into these suggested improvements before conclusions are reached. This may seem elementary, but it is our belief that in many cases it is the elementary misunderstanding of what to do that caused a large percentage of the problems during the past two weeks of storms and floods.

Most of all, let us do all of this in the spirit of needed improvements and with clear understanding by all. No one makes mistakes deliberately. Let us work together to correct and improve.

CONGRATULATIONS to the Lee Avenue School. . . they celebrated their 25th anniversary on January 12. As part of this school's anniversary celebration the PTA brought Mr. Jiggs, the world-famous chimpanzee to school for a special entertainment program for the students. Ice cream was served at lunchtime, and the anniversary day was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Volunteers over 18 years of age to assist in various programs at Hoch-Northeast Nassau Psychiatric Center located in West Brentwood, and at Mental Health Day Centers in Glen Cove, Hicksville and Hempstead. If you have some spare time and like working with people, call Paula, at 231-5111 ext. 228.

THAT'S ALL FOR this week. Stay well and remember the saying by Peter Marshall: "Lord, when we are wrong, make us willing to change. And when we are right, make us easy to live with."

For the bad that needs assistance
For the future in the distance

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
I would like to share with you and your readers some research recently initiated by the National Safety Council which shows how to make controlled stopping or sharp turning on ice infinitely safer. This procedure has also been approved by several police departments and other safety organizations.

Some of the worst problems of driving on icy winter streets occur when trying to make a controlled stop or a slow sharp turn. For example, it is almost impossible to come out of an icy driveway, stop, and then enter the street under full control. If you are driving with a cold motor, it is especially bad.

All automobiles have independent brakes on each wheel, and it is when slowing or stopping on an icy surface that we need them the most. But in automobiles with automatic transmissions, the rear wheels are not usually independent. When the car is in Drive, the rear wheels are always being driven by the motor. This is especially noticeable with a cold motor or any motor that idles fast.

Thus, when you brake very gently - as you should on ice - your front wheels brake, but your back wheels keep turning and you do not seem to slow down much. So you brake harder. This slows down your back wheels, but it overbrakes your front wheels, which stop turning and start skidding.

Skidding wheels, of course, cannot brake or steer well, and you end up frantically pumping on the brake until you come to an awkward stop.

The solution is amazingly simple and effective. When applying your brakes on ice at low speeds, simply flip your shift lever to Neutral (not Park). This provides you with truly independent four wheel braking and increases greatly your braking effectiveness and steering control.

There is an old prejudice against stopping in Neutral, left over from the ancient days of undependable brake systems. But actually, this method is always used in cars with standard shifts; they have to shift to Neutral to prevent stalling.

On ice, shifting to Neutral for a controlled stop or a sharp turn is indispensable, especially if your motor is racing. It is also very effective when slowly descending an icy hill.

Storm Rages At Town Hall

By Gerry Kahn

An audience of approximately 60, were in attendance at the Town Board Meeting held on Tuesday, January 24th.

The first item was a Hearing for a special use permit, by Lark Co., to utilize certain portions of an industrial building for office purposes. The property under consideration is the Kollsman Instruments Building on Underhill Blvd. and Jericho Tpke. in Syosset.

The petitioner was represented by Attorney John F. Coffey.

Laura Berelson spoke relative to the large number of telephone lines to the building and was concerned that if the reason was data processing, there might be a future application for a tower which would unquestionable effect T.V. transmission in the area.

Mr. Coffey reassured the Board that no tower would be required or requested in the future.

A hearing will be held on Feb. 28th on the application of Mid Island Shopping Plaza Co. for a special use permit to construct maintain and operate an addition to "Nathan's Restaurant" which will include added dining facilities and a family amusement center at Hicksville.

A resolution establishing a maximum school speed limit of 25 m.p.h. on Broadway, Bethpage was established and the Supt. of Signs directed to install and relocate all appropriate signs.

A resolution renewing rental contract between T.O.B. on behalf of the Plainview Fire Protection District and the Plainview Water District was passed.

The regular meeting concluded at 11:15.

In the informal discussion that followed, the backlash of the heaviest snow storm in many years hit the Town Board.

Rate citizens deprived of their electric power, from one to four days as a result of the severe ice storm and then deluged by the snow that left their streets undrivable in some areas for as much as 48 hours, vented their frustration on the Town Board.

Each speaker repeated the same complaints, made the same type of accusations. Intelligent people who spoke coherently before the assemblage venting their frustrations finally demanded improvements in the future and a list of desired changes.

The Supervisor stated that vehicles were parked in the streets hampering operations, people called not once, twice, but many times tying up lines that were in effect emergency lines.

"The forecast was from 5 to 8 inches of snow followed by rain, this by no means diminished the emergency snow removal procedures but the amount of snow and the vehicles stuck in the snow as a result of it, hampered operations. The time required to clean an average street with a 6" snowfall was now tripled," he explained.

Our elected officials knew this was a test and they were prepared but they didn't expect a blizzard. New York City is at a loss, the State couldn't clean Jericho Turnpike properly until Tuesday, and L.I.E. was impossible in Suffolk until Monday.

Oyster Bay was hit with more drawbacks due to the loss of power by some 3500 homes which meant diverting emergency vehicles to assist in clearing the area to permit LILCO access.

The Supervisor and Councilmen as well as every available Town employee were involved in the clean-up and spent virtually sleepless days at phones and in other ways of involvement, until the problem was in hand.

Among those who addressed the Board were: Linda Goldin, Oyster Bay; Debra Bildner, Jericho; Francine Lerner, Plainview; Arlene Rappaport, Syosset; Laurel Behrenson, Syosset; Marie Deroche, Syosset; Helen Duvous, Syosset; Gladys Nelson, Syosset; Mrs. Kardos, Syosset; Marie Bartell, Syosset; Rose Hobbins, Massapequa; and Allyson Bernant, Laurel Hollow.

Assemblyman Yevoli had a prepared speech read that was repetitious of the other comments.

Judy Jacobs, President of the So. Woodbury Taxpayers Civic Assoc. read a list of suggestions to improve future cleanup operations and indicated that her group was naturally upset over the time involved but couldn't blame this Board on the street lay-out or width of the streets.

Volunteers Helped In Storms

The ill winds and snow that fell over Long Island last week-end brought disaster to many but it also brought out volunteers ready to help those in need.

According to Adm. Paul Foley, Jr., Chairman of the Nassau County Red Cross Disaster Committee and Harold Russell, Disaster Director, fifty Red Cross volunteers, together with members of the Ananda Margha, church women and even a soldier home on leave set up and maintained shelters. Some people came in for coffee and a respite from their cold homes several times during the day and others brought sleeping bags to augment the Red Cross supply and spent several nights.

At the Syosset and Hicksville High School shelters, over 400 came and went during the three day period and 105 spent one or more nights.

Lance Corporal William Roche, home on leave from Camp La Jeune volunteered his services and joined Ralph and Jane Saillor, Florence Lambert, Peggy Kelleher, Hope Marino, Eleanor Morrison, Jane Lambert, Nancy Rosebury, Mandy Cohen, Richard Schmidt and John Larkin, all Hicksville residents.

"Operation Freeze" stories are many. When the first Red Cross team was sent to open the Hicksville shelter, they came on an automobile accident. Since the team were all EMT's (Emergency Medical Technicians) or trained first aiders, they stopped to assist the injured. This team had been dispatched from the Chapter in Mineola where power was out and operations run by candle light in the heatless building.

Nurses are always assigned to shelters since the sick and elderly must be treated carefully and isolated from the rest of the shelter population. In stress situations, normally healthy people sometimes find themselves unable to cope and at such times, the nurse finds herself acting as psychiatrist, marriage counsellor, advisor and the Red Cross nurses at the shelters had several cases of near hysteria which had to be handled quickly

Knights Of Pythias

Because the danger of narcotics and drug addiction by teenagers is still prevalent, the Knights of Pythias is continuing to offer concerned parents a free booklet on drug habit symptoms. It was reported by Arnold Miller, Chancellor Commander of the Commuter Lodge in Hicksville.

"The sudden emergence of a new and dangerous drug fad such as 'angel dust' among adolescents shows there is yet no reason for parent complacency or for any let-up in community education efforts," Chancellor Commander Miller said.

The pamphlet contains a narcotics identification chart which details physical symptoms, behavior patterns and other signs of specific drug habits. Included are the effects of "hard drugs", amphetamines, barbiturates and hallucinogens. The booklet also alerts parents to teenage drug usage as a possible cause of changes in personality, rejection of friend and other deviations from the child's normal behavior and attitude.

A free copy of the booklet can be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Youth Guidance Narcotics Committee, Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, 164 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10010.

The Pythian drug alert program includes a traveling drugmobile exhibit, sponsorship of educational seminars, and organization of public meetings featuring government and voluntary health agency experts on drug addiction.

FEED THE BIRDS

In The City

In December the French Honor Society of Hicksville High School took the train into New York City with their advisor, Richard Gentile.

They walked along Fifth

Avenue, saw the Christmas windows and decorations and visited a few of the French book stores along the Avenue. There were many people conversing in French. They then walked into St. Patrick's Cathedral and St. Thomas Church to admire the blue stained glass windows, and browsed through Tiffany's and FAO Schwarz.

The highlight of the day was at the Museum of Modern Art where the students saw the Cezanne exhibit for almost an hour and a half, sketches still-lives and landscape painting. They also saw the Christmas tree at Rockefeller Center, walked to a French candy shop and bought "truffles" imported from Switzerland. All in all, Christa Bowen, president of the group, reports, they enjoyed their visit to New York City and were very surprised to hear so many people speaking French in the stores and along the avenues.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

A New Year is usually the chronicler of new events and new changes, and it behooves me to mention that the Galileo Lodge will soon become the beneficiary as well as the scene for such changes and events. The month of February will bring to the Galileo Lodge a new slate of officers and a new administration which is, of course, concomitant.

The new slate of officers, headed by a new Venerable, realize the tasks they face and the challenges they meet head-on. They realize the magnitude of the jobs they must perform if the organization is to prosper.

As for the present slate of officers, who are about to enter the membership ranks once again, admired and not forgotten, Venerable Tony Monteforte wishes to take this moment to extend his thanks to all officers, trustees and committee men for performances that have made his stay in office a rewarding one. Many of these officers have been written about in this column, I am referring to such names as Ralph Vestuti, Anthony Previte, Walter Monteforte, Tom Pasquarella, Joe Suigna, Pete Masstello, Joe Ianotti, Joe Giordano, John Monteforte, Al Frigente, Sam Cristiani, Vinnie Mannino, etc.

Venerable Tony Monteforte, in a short but spirited message, states that he is certain that the new slate of officers and trustees will keep the Lodge a well-oiled machine. He also wishes to cite many other members of the Galileo Lodge who were instrumental in making his role of

Real Estate At The Community Council

By Carole Wolf

The February 2nd meeting of the Hicksville Community Council will be devoted to Real Estate, both Residential and Commercial. Mr. Charles Montana, Jr. will be present to answer such questions as "How do residents outprice their homes on the current market," "What is the average selling price of a home in Hicksville today?" and "What are prospective buyers looking for in a house?"

Architect and Teacher, Arthur Petherino, will be present with graduate student Gary Bruno. Gary will present his final thesis on the conclusions drawn from the examination of Hicksville's G-1 zone.

Finally, Postmaster Anthony Muriello will discuss the prospects of finding sufficient land in the Hicksville area to build a depot for the Postal Authority equipment.

Time for questions and answers will be allotted after each presentation.

The Hicksville Community Council meeting will conclude with the 'Hicksville Town Meeting,' at which Councilman Tom Clark will bring us up-to-date on Town matters, and especially with the latest information on the nearing Park Vote.

All Hicksville residents are urged to attend the meeting which will be held on Thursday, February 2nd, at 8:30 P.M. in the large auditorium of the Hicksville Public Library

Obesity

On Tuesday, Jan. 31, at 8:00 P.M. in the Lee Ave. School, the Hicksville Council of PTA will be sponsoring a meeting on this extremely important subject. Dr. Collipp, Chief Pediatrician, of Nassau County Medical Center, will talk on Child Obesity, its dangers and the need to develop a Child Obesity program in our schools today. The program however, will not be limited to this area alone for when one thinks of overweight, one can't help but think in terms of food, cholesterol content, diets and nutrition in general. Consequently, we have tried to put together what we considered some of the most current and interesting topics facing us today. Diets, for example certainly falls into this category. It is a subject everyone is concerned about - and so to discuss "How to Lose Weight Effectively and Healthfully" we have invited a speaker from our local Weight Loss Center.

To talk about food additives and their related dangers will be a qualified expert from the Feingold Institute.

Last but not of the least importance is the possibility of obtaining a speaker from the Cooperative Extension Service to talk on the legal aspects of Consumer Protection.

A question and answer period will follow the discussions.

Refreshments will be served and to the lucky person a worthwhile door prize.

Remember to be Healthy is to be Happy. See you at Lee Avenue School, Jan. 31, at 8:00 P.M.

INVEST IN PRECIOUS METAL

TEN DAY HOME TRAIL

One of the smartest places to invest your hard earned dollars these days is in one of the blue chip economy cars such as Volkswagen, Datsun, or Toyota, and we have a good selection of all three makes.

First of all, if you so desire, we will pay your mechanic $20 to thoroughly check the car of your choice. If he says no, there is no further obligation.

Second, if within 10 days or 500 miles, whichever sooner occurs, you're not satisfied, return it! We're so confident you will like our car, we will give you a written money back guarantee which includes state and local taxes, registration fees, and if you finance the car through us, we will absorb any finance cancellation charges.

Thirdly, if you keep the car, our no-nonsense limited 30 day warranty simply states that the Engine, Transmission, Rear Axle, Front Axle Assembly, Brake System, and Electrical Equipment shall be in good operating condition or we will make repairs or replacement at no cost to you.

You won't find a fairer deal anywhere, even on a brand new car!
